JURY ACQUITS WOMAN WHO SLEW HER FATHER-IN-LAW

After Deliberating for Two Hours, the Jury at London Finds West Nissouri Woman Not Guilty—Reeve of Township Presses Purse Into Her Hand.

London, Jan. 14—Mrs. Martha Scott, charged with the murder of her father-in-law, Harvey Scott, was acquitted by the jury at 6 o'clock last night. They were out exactly two hours, and a crowded court room patiently waited their return.

Mrs. Scott immediately after acquittal was surrounded by friends, and through the crowd came John McFarlane, reeve of Nissouri, who, without more ceremony than a handshake, pressed a purse into her hands.

"We took this up at the gate of the Thorndale fair," he said, "and we want you to take it, just to show that our feelings are all right."

The West Nissouri woman, bewildered almost to the point of speechlessness, was taken to a little restaurant on the market square, to have her first meal in freedom in more than four months. She was accompanied by her husband and little daughter, Clare.

"Tell the people that I am thankful for their sympathy and help," she said to a reporter, "I have never felt that I committed a crime. I fired the shot that killed Harvey Scott to save my life."

The taking of evidence came to a conclusion shortly after two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Meredith, for the defence, made an hour's appeal to the sympathy of the jury. Mr. Reade asked for a conviction on the evidence. Sir William Meredith said he did not think the evidence warranted a verdict of murder, but it must be manslaughter or acquittal.

"The jury has taken a merciful view of the case," his lordship said in discharging the prisoner. "You have had an extremely narrow escape. I hope it will be a lesson to you, and that the verdict of the jury will not encourage people to keep firearms in their homes and use them to take life, as you have taken life. No doubt you suffered persecution at the hands of Harvey Scott.

"The jury has taken the merciful view coming to the conclusion that there was provocation or danger that warranted the extreme act of shooting the father of your husband."

On Sept. 13 last, Harvey Scott, an aged man, was shot and killed by Mrs. Scott, who claimed that he frequently came to the house to abuse her, and that she was in terror of him.

On a previous trial the jury disagreed.

DAIRYMEN'S CONVENTION IS CONCLUDED

St. Thomas, Jan. 14.—The Western Ontario Dairymen's 43rd annual convention was ended last night.

In announcing the judging results, Robert Johnson of Woodstock, stated that nowhere on the continent was the quality so fine all the way through.

I. F. Steinhoff, another judge, said this was the first exhibit he had been proud of. In the afternoon, Prof. Dean of the O. A. C., and J. A. Ruddick, crossed swords, the former holding that dairying was not profitable, but that its importance was constantly increasing. Secretary Hearn reported 73 creameries in operation, with 32,393 patrons, or 2,653 more than last year.

Officers were elected as follows: President, J. H. Scott, Exeter; first vice-president, W. Waddell, Kirwood; second vice-president, D. A. Dempsey, Stratford; third vice-president, S. R. Wallace, Bargeasville; directors, J. N. Paget, Canboro; W. S. Stocks, Britton; J. B. Smith, Alton; Geo. McKenzie, Ingersoll; G. E. Facey, Harrittaville; J. J. Parsons, Jarvis; J. A. Nelles, London; J. C. Hegler, Ingersoll; I. W. Steinhoff, Stratford, and R. Johnston, Woodstock.

OTTAWA PASTOR IN WARM WATER

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—Trouble seems to be looming up at Erskine Presbyterian Church, whose pastor, Rev. C. W. Nicol, has not long left Sherbrooke, Que. As a protest against certain statements made at the annual meeting of Erskine church by the minister, Rev. C. W. Nicol, and his alleged unfairness in the conduct of the meeting of which he was chairman, certain members of the congregation of the church have signified their intention of making an appeal to the presbytery of Ottawa at its next session in March.

Rev. C. W. Nicol asked that the congregation support the motion of the presbytery to grant him six months' leave of absence. This was agreed to.

EXPENDITURE ON NAVAL DEFENCE

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—According to a return tabled yesterday, at the request of F. D. Monk, the total expenditure, so far incurred in connection with the naval defence program is $5,470, including $3,524 for salaries and $1,719 for traveling expenses. Four experts and technical officers have so far been engaged, being Rear-Admiral Charles Kingsmill $3,150, Commander J. D. D. Stewart, technical adviser, $3,500; Lt. R. M. T. Stephens, gunnery expert, $2,500; Staff Paymaster P. J. Ling, adviser on matters connected with stores, $2,500. The last three officers have been loaned to Canada by the royal navy for two years.

HYDROPHOBIA SCARES CONTINUE

Galt, Jan. 14.—The Townships of South Dumfries and Waterloo have a hydrophobia scare. Cattle and dogs bitten have been destroyed, but it is feared cases may develop later on. Reeves Township has published an official notice forbidding dogs at large.

The date set for the recount of votes cast for the local option bylaw is Monday, Jan. 24, before Judge Chisholm.

Valentines Will Be Scarce.

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 14.—About 450 persons are out of employment as a result of the burning of the George G. Whitney Valentine Co.'s factory here Wednesday night. The plant was the largest of this character in the United States. Loss $200,000.

THE WORK OF THE MOUNTED POLICEMEN

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—The Northwest Mounted Police annual report states that on Sept. 30 last the strength stood 51 officers, 600 non-coms. and constables, and 568 horses, a gain of two constables.

Commissioner Perry points out that villages, railway stations and isolated settlements are increasing so rapidly that the strength of the force would have to be doubled to meet all the demands made upon it.

During eleven months of 1908-9, 5,849 cases were entered, as against 6,377 during the previous twelve months. Excessive drinking was directly responsible for 1,561 convictions; 13,326 prisoners were taken into custody during the year.

PEARSON AFTER ROCK ISLAND

New York, Jan. 14.—Powerful foreign interests, headed by Dr. F. S. Pearson, a London banker, owner of Mexican properties, with strong Montreal and other Canadian connections, recently has acquired in the open market large blocks of Rock Island common and preferred stocks. The exact amount is not disclosed, but probably represent about one-fifth of the whole.

Some time ago Dr. Pearson attracted the attention of Wall street by organizing a $40,000,000 syndicate which took over extensive Mexican properties owned by Col. Wm. C. Greene, and also the uncompleted Chihuahua and Pacific Railroad Co. This railroad, it is said, the Pearson interests will extend not only to the Pacific, but northward to El Paso, Texas, where it would fit in with the Rock Island.

Official announcement was made yesterday of the resignation of Richard A. Jackson as president and director of the Rock Island Co. and of the election of Robert S. Walker, formerly assistant general counsel, as his successor.

BOY PREVENTS A TRAIN WRECK

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 14.—Carl Wascher, 13 years old, yesterday stopped a Baltimore & Ohio train within ten feet of a burning bridge, west of Wellsboro, Ind., by signalling the engineer with a red handkerchief. Passengers in the four crowded coaches made up a purse of $100 for Wascher.

THE MIDDLEMEN ARE MAKING THE MONEY

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 14.—That the middleman is becoming a millionaire and the farmer a bankrupt was the general opinion of up-state producers of milk, who testified yesterday, under examination by Special Deputy-Attorney-General Coleman, regarding the alleged milk dealers' combine and the high price of milk.

German Tailors In Bad Fix.

Winnipeg, Jan. 14.—Six young German tailors from Toronto have asked the provincial immigration office to send them back to Ontario. They say they were brought here and then were refused work. They are without funds.

Hon. A. R. Angers Ill.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—Hon. A. R. Angers, formerly Lieutenant-Governor of the province, and one of the great figures in the political history of Quebec, is dangerously ill.

Grain Exchange to Build.

Calgary, Jan. 14.—At a cost of $35,000, Calgary Grain Exchange has secured four lots with a view to later erecting permanent home of their own.

BUDGET DEBATE

Canada's Finances are Discussed in the Commons at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—Yesterday's sittings of the House of Commons was extremely dull. The budget debate was resumed and gave a few more members an opportunity to get their views into Hansard. A mere handful of members were in the House.

R. L. Borden asked if any progress had been made with the waterways treaty. The Premier said secret negotiations were still going on.

Mr. Borden enquired of reported difficulties regarding ratification of the French treaty. Mr. Fielding said he assumed the treaty would be ratified in due course.

Mr. Borden asked if there was any truth in a speech by Sir William White, in England, describing as deplorable the way in which the navy yards at Halifax and Esquimalt are kept. Sir Frederick Borden said he would enquire.

Resuming the budget debate, Malcolm S. Schell (South Oxford) dwelt upon the value to Canada in a monetary sense of immigration from the States and Europe. He claimed that there had been a reduction in the tariff by the addition to the free list which he estimated at $7,168,279 in 12 years, showing that the policy of the Government was more in the direction of free trade than was their predecessors. The more rapid development of the home market than the export trade was a proof of national growth.

Dr. Chisholm (East Huron) condemned the bookkeeping methods of the Government, whereby deficits were made to appear as surpluses.

Other speakers were T. A. Low (South Renfrew) and J. A. Sexsmith (East Peterboro).

COAL STRIKE NEARING END

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 14.—It now looks as if the bitter struggle between the Dominion Coal Co. and the United Mine Workers is at an end.

Your correspondent was informed last night that President Plummer intends to recognise all the miners, irrespective of what organization they belong to, and that the strikers are willing to go back to the pits.

The soldiers who have been in the colliery districts, since early in July are to return to Halifax next week.

The strike has cost the company and strikers hundreds of thousands of dollars. Recognition of the United Mine Workers of America, as against the Provincial Workmen's Association, was the big issue.

THIS WAS VERY QUIET WEDDING

Windsor, Jan. 14.—Miss Florence Reaume, daughter of Hon. J. O. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, was married yesterday afternoon at St. John's Anglican Church, Sandwich, by Rev. D. H. Hind, to Allan K. Prince, son of A. K. Prince. The marriage was a surprise to the parents of both the bride and groom.

"We were unable to marry any other way, so we took matters into our own hands," said the groom. Both families are socially prominent in Windsor and Detroit. The groom is employed in the offices of the Great Lakes Engineering Works, Detroit.

RAY LAMPHERE HAS CONFESSED

St. Louis, Jan. 14.—Ray Lamphere, who died recently in the Indiana Penitentiary at Michigan City, while serving a term for setting fire to the home of Mrs. Bella Gunness, near Laporte, Ind., left a confession that he had assisted the arch-murderess in disposing of the bodies of three men.

Mrs. Gunness' method of killing her victims, Lamphere said, was first to chloroform them as they slept and then, if the drug did not itself kill, to cut off the heads with an axe.

YOUNG WOMAN HAS CONFESSED

Brockville, Jan. 14.—At Newboro, a small village forty miles from here, Mary Mulford, was arrested yesterday in connection with the finding of the body of a newly-born infant near the Ontario Hotel, where she worked.

It is reported that she has confessed that the baby was thrown from the window of her bedroom to the street, where it was found unmarked in a snowbank.

Dynamite Failed to Explode.

Youngstown, Ohio, Jan. 14.—Twenty-four sticks of dynamite were found Wednesday night in the doorway of John Shaffet's store in Struthers, where two dynamiting outrages have occurred in a few months. The caps had exploded, but the dynamite was frozen and failed to go off. Strikebreakers have been living above the store.

TRY A REVIEW WANT AD.

THIRTY PERSONS ARE DROWNED

When Ship is Wrecked in the Pacific Ocean

Marshfield, Ore, Jan. 14.—Harry Kentnell, first assistant engineer, is the sole survivor of the wreck of the iron steamer Czarina, which Wednesday drove on the north spit of the Goose Bay Bar, with a loss of thirty lives.

A tremendous sea smashed over the ship and Kentnell and his companions were washed from their places in the rigging. Kentnell was swept toward land time and again, but always was carried back out to sea by shifting currents. Finally he got hold of a piece of timber and was slowly drifted shoreward.

When dawn broke yesterday six forms in the rigging of the only remaining mast were to be seen, and hope was entertained for their rescue. The gale of Wednesday did not abate, however. At last one of the six men dropped into the sea. A little later the watchers on shore saw through the glasses the last three men, as if by agreement, shed their heavier clothing and spring into the boiling waters.

The Czarina left Marshfield Wednesday in the face of a storm, for San Francisco. Suddenly a series of big seas struck the vessel, putting her about, but she continued to fight her way on toward the open sea. Then, apparently, the rudder broke. The vessel appeared to stop. Soon after a sea struck her and she began to drift rapidly toward the ugly north spit, which she struck.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

L. D. Taylor, editor of The World, was yesterday elected mayor of Vancouver by a large majority.

The statement was made last night at Montreal that David Pottinger might succeed J. Butler as Deputy Minister and chairman of the I. C. R. Commission.

Mrs. T. H. Jacques, 256 Cambridge street, Ottawa, a working woman with four children, has received $10,000 from the estate of Alfred Hough, who owned Cobalt and Renfrew property.

Mayor Hopewell of Ottawa will investigate the truth of affidavits secured by an Italian workman to support his charges that some minor civic officials levy a toll from laborers they hire. The Italian says he paid $15 to get a city job for a relative.

STRANGLED BY BURGLARS

Millbrook, N.Y., Jan. 14.—Sarah Breymer, a nurse in the employment of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes Compton, was strangled to death by burglars yesterday in her bed in the Compton mansion here. The house was robbed of a quantity of silverware. Mr. and Mrs. Compton were in New York City.

Servants in another part of the house were awakened by the burglars, but were unable to offer any opposition.

BAD WEATHER FOR SAILORS

Plymouth, Eng., Jan. 14.—Captains of steamships arriving from the westward report the severest weather during the past week that has been experienced in a trans-Atlantic voyage for a long time.

The Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, which arrived yesterday from New York, bore pronounced evidence of the struggle. Wednesday a veritable mountain of water swept the upper promenade deck, tore away the port rail and knocked down twenty passengers.

WILLED PAPER HIS PHOTOGRAPH

Montreal, Jan. 14.—N. Wilenburg of Winnipeg, committed suicide with carbolic acid in his room at the Queen's Hotel Wednesday night, his body being found yesterday afternoon.

Letters stated that he had a wife and two children in Winnipeg and that he had committed suicide for certain reasons. He also asked that a Winnipeg paper be notified and given a copy of his photograph. Nothing was said about notifying his wife.

PERJURY CHARGE IS NOT PROVEN

St. Catharines, Jan. 14.—The charge of perjury against Howard Lowery, of St. David's, in connection with the taking of the oath at the recent elections in Niagara township, came before the justice of the peace, Aikens, at Niagara-on-the-Lake yesterday afternoon. Lowrey testified that he was a little hard of hearing and did not understand all that was said to him. The charge was dismissed.

Henry S. Graves is Gifford Pinchot's successor as head of the U.S. forest service.

Alonzo C. Pickard, a leading criminal lawyer, of Western New York, is dead at Jamestown.

CHAMBERLAIN'S MANIFESTO ON EVE OF THE ELECTIONS

The Aged Imperialist Says That Britain is Losing in the Industrial Race and Must Put up Her Tariff Walls to Catch Up.

London, Jan. 14.—From his Birmingham retreat on the very eve of the elections, Joseph Chamberlain has made a final effort to rally his countrymen in favor of his cherished policy, colonial preference.

The invalid statesman, who is unable to write and was obliged to dictate his statement to a secretary, has issued a manifesto addressed to the electors of the whole country. In it he reiterates the warnings which he has so often given to them of the gravity of the commercial situation.

"I address you," says Mr. Chamberlain, "as Britons, as patriots, and I tell you that it is not well with British industry."

Pointing out that Great Britain is loosing in the international race by her persistence in free trade, he continues:

"This is a critical and creative time. You cannot play fast and loose with your destiny. You have an opportunity. You will never have it again. Victories in politics are like victories in war. They are won by enthusiasm, lost by timidity. A mistake in imperial policy is irretrievable."

Continuing at some length in a similar strain, he warns the nation that if the ties of sympathy binding the country to the children who are soon to become great nations across the seas, should be weakened or destroyed, England would sink to a fifth rate nation, existing on sufferance.

"We will not have it," he declares. "Let us provide against it; the remedy is at hand."

Explaining that the remedy is colonial preference, Mr. Chamberlain concludes: "By a commercial union we can pave the way for federation. I see constantly before me as a practical object of aspiration that federation of free nations which will enable us to prolong in the ages yet to come all the glorious traditions of the British race. Never yet in our history has the great democracy been unpatriotic, and we know that the fruition of our hopes is certain."

This manifesto is hailed by the Unionist papers as a trumpet call to the country.

Premier Asquith, at Bradford, making reference to Mr. Balfour's last speech concerning tariff reform, said: "The oracle has spoken. What is its message? Not Delphi or Dodona in the palmiest days of Sacerdotal ambiguity ever gave forth a more uncertain sound."

Mr. Asquith contended that the Opposition leader had definitely committed himself to a moderate duty on food.

Chancellor Lloyd-George, Winston Spencer Churchill, John Burns and other Government leaders, are still campaigning with unabated energy. Both sides are equally confident.

The Unionist whip last night predicts a gain of twenty seats for the Unionists on Saturday's polling alone.

The first four members of the new Parliament will be returned Friday by a no-opposition election. They are Joseph Chamberlain, for Birmingham West; Lord Hugh Cecil and Sir Wm. Ramsom, for Oxford University, and John Waller Mills, for Durham. All are Unionists.

ANOTHER NEWSPAPER AT MONTREAL

Montreal, Jan. 14.—G. Langlois, M.P.P. for St. Louis, and till quite recently the managing director of Le Canada, has returned to his first love, the old Rouge party, a representative of that school of thought being now ready for publication in this city on Saturday next, in fact "Le Pays" will make its bow to the public, as the mouth piece of the old party of Doute Dorion, and also of the Licensed Victuallers' Association, to oppose the Cartier early closing bylaw.

This paper was to have been started a year ago, when relations between Mr. Langlois and a section of the Liberal party were strained, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Lomer Gouin and others patched up a truce.

There was another rupture on the eve of the St. James' bye-election, when Sir Wilfrid came down and sent for Sir Lomer and Mr. Langlois, and the three had it out in frank fashion. The result was that Langlois and his helpers probably won the election for Ald. Robilliard. The Cote, funeral, however, came as a last straw.

Le Pays will be conducted on old Liberal lines. Le Pays was the Liberal organ here which gave way to La Patrie, founded by the late H. Beaugrand.

AUTO FIRE ENGINE FOR DETROIT DEPT.

Detroit, Jan. 14.—Detroit is to have an 800 gallon a minute auto fire engine of 90 horse power propulsion and that will also carry 1,200 feet of 2 1-2-inch hose and eight men. It can run at a mile a minute. An auto hose wagon will also be bought.

The auto engine will make a separate hose tender unnecessary, and will do away with five horses and two drivers.

Fire Commissioner Moran predicts that the time is fast coming when there will be no horses in the department, and Commissioner Moore intimates that if only auto apparatus were used there would be an annual saving of nearly $200,000 in wages alone.

A high pressure system is again being advocated.

Port Colborne Grain Elevator.

Welland, Jan. 14.—The report of the million-dollar Government elevator at Port Colborne shows that from Sept. 28 to the season's close 250,000 bushels of grain were received for export, 970,000 bushels for Montreal and 730,000 for consumption at nearby points. About 250,000 bushels are still in the elevator.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Accused of Arson.

Morden, Man. Jan. 14.—Magistrate McCorquodale is conducting the preliminary hearing of Isadore Nickel, charged with setting fire to the residence of William Jocklin on New Year's night. The evidence shows the prisoner had taken a sleighload of goods from the house, clothes, plateware, trinkets, etc., all neatly packed in a trunk and bundles, which, it is alleged, he could not have done in the short time after the fire broke out before the house was destroyed.

Peace In Buffalo Building Trades.

Buffalo, Jan. 14.—Peace in the building trades for the next two years is assured by contracts just signed. Wages of bricklayers are increased from 55c. to 60c. an hour. Carpenters will receive 40 cents an hour until May 1, then 45 cents.

Stole a Cent; Eighteen Months.

Elizabeth, N.J., Jan. 14.—For stealing one cent from a slot machine James Green, a negro, was sentenced to 18 months in state prison in the Union County Court. He had previously been convicted of larceny.

MacKay to Stay In West.

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—It is reported here that Hon. R. G. MacKay will give up his post as Ontario Liberal leader, and will settle permanently in the west as legal representative of the Canadian Northern Railway.

Strathcona Gives $5,000.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—Lord Strathcona will subscribe $5,000 toward the Roman Catholic Eucharistic Conference to be held here in September. The Duke of Norfolk may attend.

New Senators From Nova Scotia.

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—Hon. Edward Farrell of Liverpool, N.S., Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, and William Roche, ex-M.P. for Halifax, have been appointed Senators.

Shot Pedlar In the Eye.

Woodstock, Jan. 14.—Thos. Stalker was out shooting rabbits on the 12th line yesterday when a bullet from his rifle hit Oscar Maldover, junk pedlar in the eye, destroying the sight. Stalker gave himself up. He will be charged with shooting on the public highway.

Taxicabs for Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Jan. 14.—A local company has placed an order for ten taxicabs for delivery here next month. A representative of the Toronto company is also here arranging for a service.

Black Hand In Montreal.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—F. D. Shallow, publisher of The Monitor of Commerce of this city, has received a Black Hand letter demanding payment of $500 at a place designated. Failure to comply carries with it a threat of murder for him or some member of his family.

Boston Y.M.C.A. Burned.

Boston, Jan. 14.—The Boston Y. M. C.A. building in Boyl and M streets, was destroyed by fire yesterday. When erected in 1868 it was the finest in America, with fine gymnasium, law library and chemical laboratory. Loss $200,000.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Sarnia, Jan. 14.—Prompt action by two young men, Charles Hoskins and Wm. Bartlett, saved three children from being burned to death and the residence of David Kerr from destruction Wednesday night.

Girls Accuse Father.

Huntsville, Jan. 14.—Serious charges have been laid against Jeremiah Clayton of Dorset, by his two daughters Ella May, aged 17 years, and Bertha Annie, aged 15. Clayton is held without bail.

THE SPIRIT OF REBELLION

Sir Wilfrid Laurier laid it down as clearly as his most ardent enemy could wish, that the empire as a practical working-out and development of Canadian sentiment shall never be permitted to affect Canada. The first shock to Great Britain, he says, developed when a tariff was levied against British goods. The second—Well! The second comes now. But the "first shock" was but the necessary development of our industrial system which Great Britain even now is preparing to imitate. She sees the necessity of Protection for herself, and we do not grumble. That "first shock" in no sense affected the the unity of empire except in a favorable way. Now, however, Sir Wilfrid plainly says that Canada will not enter or be a part of any empire. He says so in so many words, and his deeds do not belie his words. Of course, he continues to talk platitudes about his affection for the empire, but why does he decline to have anything to do with it? Did he come out straight for the defence of the empire—did he grow eloquent upon the principle of imperial union at Toronto? Not he. He is slowly, gradually and surely playing us right into the hands of those who are against uniting as Australia, South African and New Zealand have done, for the defence of a common empire. The speech was a warning of what is coming at the resumption of the session. It was to notify the Liberals of Ontario what was expected of them. But can we not appeal to the Liberals of Ontario to stand fast to the flag? Let the French, Conservative and Liberal, unite as they are doing, but let us do the same. The time HAS come.

A NEW REGIMENT

A regiment prepared to carry out any project which His Lordship the Bishop of Montreal may think in the interests of the community, is what the Federation of Churchmen proposes to be. It is a (new Anglican organization. The first annual banquet was held last night, at the Canada Club. Mr. A. F. Gault, presided and with him at the table of honor were Bishop Farthing, Lieut.-Col. Hibbard, Lieut.-Col. Burland, the Rev. Dr. Paterson-Smyth, Mr. Lansing Lewis, the Rev. Dr. Symonds, vicar of Christ Church Cathedral, and Mr. A. K. Fisk.

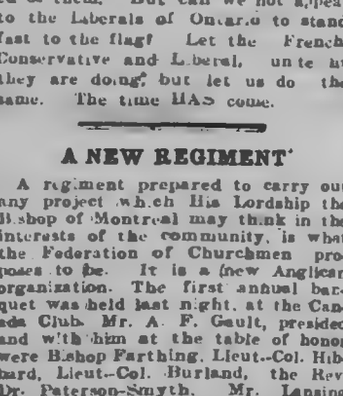
Mr. A. F. Gault proposed the toast to the Church. In replying to it, Lieut.-Col. Hibbard said that one thing they, as churchmen, might do, was to use their influence to rescue Montreal from the hands of the grafter. Friendships might have to be sacrificed, but it must be done.

Bishop Farthing spoke of the democratic character of the Church of England of Canada. He was glad, he said, that the church afforded room for men of different shades of thought. He had no wish to see this comprehensiveness narrowed, for he doubted whether any other body was exercising such an influence as the church of England to-day.

Lieut.-Col. Burland also spoke.—Montreal Witness.

Peterborough needs a league to combat lying. We are not aware that graft flourishes in Peterborough but certainly lying does. It is impossible to go anywhere outside of the city without being twitted with being a citizen of Lie-town. From one end of this country to the other West Peterborough is a byword. What we fail to do here others, however, are doing for us elsewhere.

Are we, as the apostle says, citizens "of no mean city?" Scarcely. The brazen cheek of some people is their only substitute for brains otherwise it is probable that an enraged public would execute a more summary vengeance.



THE GLOBE ON THE NAVY

The Globe.

The Canadian navy will remain in time of peace under the control of the department, with its director and its Navy Board, but in time of war, invasion, or insurrection, real or apprehended, it may be summoned to "active service" by order of the Governor in Council, subject to the approval of Parliament, which must be called together if it is not at the time in session. This provision is in strict harmony with the pledge already given to the people of Canada by the Government. UNDER IT THERE IS NOT THE SLIGHTEST CHANCE OF THE FLEET BEING CALLED TO TAKE PART IN ANY WAR WITHOUT THE ENDORSATION OF CANADIAN PUBLIC OPINION.—(Review's capitals.)

SO THE SUN "DO MOVE"

"Canadians farmers have cause for more than a mere sentimental interest in the British elections. They have reason for a very direct concern as well.

The Conservative Opposition in Britain has frankly declared its intention, if given power, of placing an import duty not only on imported manufactured goods, but on imported food stuffs as well. This proposal is not limited to imports from foreign sources but is intended to apply to imports from the colonies also. True the scale of duties spoken of is comparatively moderate, and a lower rate is to be levied on colonial than on foreign foodstuffs, but the itendency there, if the policy of protection is once adopted, will be as it has been elsewhere, to increase the rates all around and to bring the two scales nearer and nearer together.

In any case, a duty, small or great, must tend to that extent to restrict the market for Canadian foodstuffs in the British market. If the duty falls on the consumer it will lessen the British consumer's purchasing power; if it falls on the Canadian producer it will reduce the producer's profit. No matter how it works out a British tariff on Canadian cheese, bacon, beef and wheat must prove an injury to the producers of these commodities."—The Weekly Sun.

Who will now be so fatuous as to deny that Protection protects?

EDITORIAL NOTES

In default of a desire to back up the Old Land, Liberal papers are now condemning the "peril-mongers." Such are the vagaries of the party press.

The last number of the Catholic Register says Sir Mackenzie Bowell when Minister (and Premier, was fair to Irish Catholics in the distribution of patronage and generally also.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Naval Bill has but one merit. It is better than was first intended, and that fact is due to the violence of Conservative protests.

The new elevators at Fort William to hold 20 million bushels of grain are built of reinforced cement and yet some thought it too uncertain for the Smith street bridge. But knowledge spreads.

The Globe's especial correspondent in Britain says that the manufacturers are against Protection? How is this? We thought that the Globe maintained that Protection was a device to enable the manufacturer to fleece the people.

Peterborough Examiner.

Col. Chinn, representative of Mercer County, Kentucky, proposes a law making it a misdemeanour for a preacher to discuss politics in the pulpit. Without such a law it is a mistake.

Especially if the said politics won't bear discussing. Eh? What?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was obliged at the recent opening of Parliament to appear in conventional civil dress, instead of the usual uniform of State, inasmuch as the latter had been sent to England for alterations and repairs, and had not returned in time, and the Canadian Courier is thus inspired:—

Alas for bold Sir Wilfrid!
His gladdest rags are fled,
And he, in sombre civil garb,
Would hide his humble head.

The rest are gay in scarlet
And bright with lace of gold,
But he in simple evening suit
Must stand in garments old.

Alas for brave Sir Wilfrid!
The ladies pause and sigh:
"He used to look so splendid—
It almost makes us cry."

Across the briny ocean
Those happy rags do roam;
Sir Wilfrid says in pensive mood
"I wish those clothes were home."

THE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT

J. S. CAMPBELL, in Outdoor Canada

Less than two years ago Lieut.-Gen. Baden-Powell, of the British Army, the defender of Mafeking during the late war in South Africa, and an experienced scout, conceived the idea of organizing troops and patrols of boy scouts in Great Britain. Probably there is no one living to-day who knows the British boy better than Gen. Baden-Powell. He knows exactly how to appeal to him, and how to get the best out of him. The movement was a success from the very start, and to-day there are over 200,000 Boy Scouts in Great Britain.

The movement was not confined to any one class, duke's sons and cook's sons are equally enthusiastic, and many of the lads who never had an opportunity of doing anything useful in their lives before, have developed into fine healthy lads, every one of them with hopes and ambitions derived from intercourse with nature and the guiding hand of the Scoutmasters. These boys did not know they were being reclaimed, the whole thing was so skillfully accomplished that the lads only knew that they were being asked to take part in some interesting games, and in a short time they found so much to interest them in scouting that the street corners knew them no more. They were told that scouts did not smoke, as the smell of the smoke revealed them to the enemy, and in a short time scouting came first and the deadly cigarette was abandoned without regret.

The character of the work can not but appeal to the boys. There is something that savors of adventure about it, and what boy is not fond of adventure? At the same time, there is nothing taught that will not be of use in after life, and there is so much to learn that the work is not interesting for a month or a year, but for a lifetime. Anyone who will read Gen. Baden-Powell's excellent books, "Aids to Scouting," and "Scouting for Boys," cannot help but be impressed with the useful lessons mapped out for the Scouts.

THE SCOUT'S OATH.

Before being enrolled every boy must take the scout's oath, that is he must promise on his honor three things, viz.:

To do his duty to God and the King.

To help other people at all times.

To obey the Scout's law.

The Scout's motto is "Be prepared," which means that he must always be in a state of readiness in mind and body to do his duty. Be prepared in mind, by having thought out beforehand any accident or situation that might occur, so that he will know the right thing to do at the right moment. The boy is thus taught from the very start to think and act for himself, and to make his way in life without assistance. He is taught to rely on himself and to use his own initiative in cases of emergency.

He must be prepared in body by making himself strong and active. This is brought about by the excellent games and exercises the boys are recommended to indulge in, and which forms part of their training as scouts.

THE SCOUT'S LAW.

1. A Scout's honor is to be trusted. If a Scout says "On my honor it is so," that means that it is just as if he had taken a most solemn oath. "I trust you on your honor to do it," the Scout is bound to carry out the order to the very best of his ability, and let nothing interfere with his doing so.

If a scout were to break his honor by telling a lie, or by not carrying out an order exactly when trusted on his honor to do so, he may be directed to hand over the Scout's badge, and never to wear it again. He may also be directed to cease to be a Scout.

2. A Scout is loyal to the King, and to his officers, and to his parents, his country and his employers. He must stick to them through everything against anyone who is their enemy or who even talks bodily of them.

3. A Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others, and he is to do his duty before everything else, even though he gives up his own pleasure, or comfort, or safety to do it. When in difficulty to know which of two things to do, he must ask himself, "which is my duty?" that is, "which is best for other people?" and do that one. He must be prepared at any time to save life, or to help injured persons, and he must try his best to do a good turn to somebody every day.

4. A Scout is a friend to all, and a brother to every Scout, no matter to what social class the other belongs.

Thus, if a scout meets another Scout, even though a stranger to him, he must speak to him, and help him in any way that he can, either to carry out the duty he is then doing, or by giving him food, or, as far as possible anything that he may be in want of.

A Scout must never be a snob, who looks down upon another because he is poorer, or who is poor and resents another because he is rich. A Scout accepts the other man as he finds him and makes the best of him.

5. A Scout is courteous; that is, he is polite to all, but especially to women and children and old people, invalids, cripples, etc., and must not take any reward for being helpful or courteous.

6. A Scout is a friend to animals. He should save them as far as possible from pain, and should not kill any animal unnecessarily. Killing an animal for food is allowable.

7. A Scout obeys his parents, patrol leader or scoutmaster without question. Even if he gets an order he does not like he must do as soldiers and sailors do, he must carry it out all the same, because it is his duty; and after he has done it he can come and state any reasons against it, but he must carry out the order at once. This is discipline.

8. A Scout whistles and smiles under all circumstances. When he gets an order he should obey it cheerily and readily, and not in a sow hang dog sort of way. Scouts never grumble at hardships, nor whine at each other, nor swear when put out.

A Scout goes about with a smile on or whistling. It cheers him and cheers other people, especially in time of danger, for he keeps it up also in the scene. The punishment for swearing or using bad language is for each offence a mug of cold water to be poured down the offender's sleeve by the other Scouts. It was the punishment invented by the old British Scout, John Smith, three hundred years ago.

9. A Scout is thrifty, that is, he saves every penny he can, and puts it into the bank, so that he can have money to keep himself when out of work, and thus not make himself a burden to others, or that he may have money to give away to others when they need it.

ORGANIZATION

The organization of troops and patrols can be carried out by the boys themselves just as easily as the formation of football and cricket clubs. As a matter of fact, it might be just as well to let the boys do all the work themselves, although in order to get the movement under way the assistance and co-operation of parents and others might be employed with the assistance and co-operation of parents and others might be employed with beneficial results.

A great deal depends on the selection of suitable boys for Scoutmasters and patrol leaders. The Scoutmaster must be over eighteen years of age, and the influence these officers will have on the boys should cause local committees to be very careful in making appointments.

Following is the complete organization in each county or large city:

Scout Councils.—Composed of leading gentlemen, Scoutmasters, and others interested in the movement, and representatives of other organizations for boys in the area. To advise local committees with scout commissioner appointed by Chief Scout, and council as Hon. Secretary of Scout Council, Inspector, and responsible to headquarters for the movement in his area.

Local Committees.—In each town or vicinity or group of villages. Composed of Scoutmasters and others interested in work among boys in the district. To assist Scoutmasters and develop the movement, with local secretary to keep register and report to Scout Commissioner.

Troops.—Containing three or more patrols.

Patrols—Containing six to eight scouts. A Scout Commissioner is an official authorized to organize branches, to inspect troops, and generally to help Scoutmasters.

A Scoutmaster is an officer who has charge of a troop. A troop consists of three or more patrols. Scouts address the Scoutmaster as "Sir."

An Adjutant is an assistant Scoutmaster.

A Chaplain is a clergyman or priest appointed to develop the religious training of a troop.

A Patrol Leader is a scout appointed by a Scoutmaster or by a vote of the patrol to command a patrol for one year. A patrol consists of six or eight scouts. Any patrol leader who learns scouting from General Baden-Powell's book can train his boys to be scouts.

A Corporal is a Scout selected by the patrol leaders to be his assistant, and to take command of the patrol when he himself is away.

Scouts, who must be between the ages of twelve and eighteen, are of three kinds—first-class, second-class and tenderfoot. A first-class scout is one who has passed certain tests to show that he is able to scout.

A second-class scout is one who has passed certain easy tests in scouting.

A tenderfoot is a boy who has joined the Boy Scouts, but has not yet passed his tests for second-class scout.

A Court of Honor is formed of the Scoutmaster and two patrol leaders, or in case of a single patrol, by the patrol leader and the corporal. It decides rewards, punishment, and other questions.

Power of Scoutmaster—A Scoutmaster has power to enroll scouts, and to recommend them to the local committees for badges and medals. He also has power to release a Scout from his oath, and to withdraw his badges and discharge him. A Scout who considers himself unjustly treated may appeal to the local committee; their decision will be final.

A Scout discharged for misconduct, or who deserts from his troop or patrol, is no longer entitled to wear the uniform or badges of the Boy Scouts. Scoutmasters will not accept as recruits boys from other organizations unless by desire of their officer.

Before taking the oath Boy Scouts must pass in the following points:—

Know the Scout's law and sign, and salute.

Know the composition of the Union Jack and the right way to fly it.

Tie four knots, for instance, reef, sheet bend, clove hitch and bow line.

He then takes the Scout's oath and is enrolled as a tenderfoot.

Badges of merit are issued for ambulance work, stalking, pioneering, signalling, cycling, seamanship, marksmanship, etc.

Medals are awarded by the Chief Scout for meritorious deeds, such as life saving, assisting police, helping at fires, stopping runaway horses, etc.

The uniform consists of Stetson hat, khaki shirt, breeches, neckerchief, long stockings, garters, and shoulder knot. The equipment consists of staff, clasp knife, with lanyard, belt, haversack and water bottle. These can be had for about $4.00, and the boys are encouraged to earn the money to pay for their uniform and equipment. The Chief Scout does not believe in begging, but holds that the boys should be independent and self-sustaining from the start.

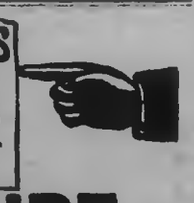
What the boys are taught: To be patriotic, to be clean and neat in their habits, to leave liquor and tobacco alone, first aid and bandaging, semaphone and Morse signalling, telegraphy, tracking, cooking, the points of the compass, swimming, rowing, saving life in cases of drowning, fire, runaway horses, gas, ice breaking, etc., map reading and sketching, use of tools, judging distance, and many other things.

In my humble opinion the time is opportune for the launching of this great movement in Canada. There are parents in every city and town in the Dominion who are asking themselves the question, "What can we do to keep our boys off the street corners and away from bad companions and evil influences?" The Boy Scout movement provides the answer. There is a wonderful field for the scheme, and organization work should be commenced at once. The object of the movement is not to make soldiers out of lads, but to train them to become useful citizens of the Empire. They will not be soldiers in any sense of the word.

The Missions and Y.M.C.A.'s are doing a noble work amongst the boys, but the Boy Scout movement I believe can do more. It reaches the boys of every class. There is no distinction. The millionaire's son has no better chance to reach the top of the ladder as a Scout than a newsboy or shoeblack. The knowledge that all have an equal start in the race is bound to appeal to the latter class and wean them away from the street the street corners, the alleys, and the haunts of vice, and take them to the parks and the country, where they may breathe God's pure air, and, assisted by Scoutmasters, become strong, reliant and patriotic citizens, ready and able to take their places in the firing line should the country require their services.

They will be taught the Scout's motto, "Be Prepared," and I am confident that if this movement is introduced amongst our lads, in a very short time the British Empire will be able to say, "We are prepared."

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

LIKED WIT OF ARTEMUS WARD

Londoners for a Wonder Appreciated Work of Great American Humorist.

On the occasion of Artemus Ward's professional visit to London, which occurred not long before his death, J. E. Preston Muddock says in his book, "Pages from an Adventurous Life," that the American humorist's advertisements of his "show" were as full of funny surprises as the lectures themselves. One that tickled the general public was this:

Artemus Ward Delivered Lectures Before All the Crowned Heads of Europe Ever Thought of Delivering Lectures.

And an excerpt from his lecture on "Drawing," is quoted by Mr. Muddock as a particularly delightful bit.

"I haven't distinguished myself as an artist," Ward said, in his inimitable way, "but have always been mixed up in art. I have an uncle who takes photographs in his sane moments, and I have a servant who takes everything he can lay his hands on at any moment.

"At a very tender age I could draw on wood. When a mere child I once drew a small cart-load of raw turnips over a wooden bridge. It was a raw morning. The people of the village recognized me. They said it was a raw-turnip drawing. That shows how faithfully I had copied nature. I drew their attention to it, so you see there was a lot of drawing in it.

"The villagers, with wonderful discernment peculiar to villagers, said I had a future before me. As I was walking backward when I made my drawing I replied that I thought that my future must be behind me."

CROW WORRIED THE GOLFERS

Bird of Fastidious Tastes Would Swoop Down and Steal Only the New Balls.

The crow seems to be attracted to golf balls in a way wholly peculiar from the rest of the bird species. In parks where the rook and the crow abound one can notice them sitting in the trees or hopping about the putting greens in the distance watching the ball with a direct or sidelong glance expressive of the keenest interest and curiosity, which is soon translated into a desire to carry it off to the roost in the neighboring wood.

The Kew gardens adjoin the Mid-Surrey course, and in the royal preserve there used to be a fairly large colony of crows nesting among the trees. Of this colony there was one particular crow who found his greatest amusement in mingling among the golfers and in disconcerting their play by indulging in repeated predatory campaigns against their golf balls.

His policy was to hover in attendance on those players who used new white balls only. Those on which the paint had been chipped or which had been used in play for several rounds by an economical player were always rejected by this particular bird as being beneath his fastidious attention.—From the Field.

Madman's Wild Course.

According to advices from Valladolid, Spain, a dangerous lunatic, who was about to be confined to an asylum, succeeded the other day in eluding the vigilance of his friends and rushed into the street. Here he fell upon a policeman, and wresting his sword from him, killed him with it. The lunatic then took possession of the man's revolver, and continued upon his wild career through the city, firing right and left as he ran. A number of police and gendarmes started in pursuit, emptying their rifles and revolvers at the maniac, who was eventually shot down, but not until he had seriously wounded three persons. The noise of the firing caused a panic, and the doors of houses and shops were hastily shut. The excitement did not subside for some hours.

What He Saved.

A prominent Democratic politician, who lived at Allentown, was appointed to the position of naval officer at Philadelphia during the second Cleveland administration. While in the city he made a host of friends and all of his waking hours, when he was not engaged in official duties, were spent with these gentlemen, attending various interesting and costly entertainments. At the expiration of his term of office he returned home, and his good mother, who was an old-fashioned German woman, said to him, curiously:

"John, what did you save during the four years you were in office?"

"Mother," he said, with a smile lighting up his countenance, "I accomplished wonders—I saved my life."

At the Museum.

"On this platform, ladies and gents," said the lecturer, "you see Sig. Pankey, the legless wonder, or human stump, who was reduced to the condition in which you behold him by a shark in the Indian ocean 14 years ago. Sig. Pankey, as you see, has no legs whatever, and his principal and only occupation nowadays, ladies and gents, is eating his head off. Proceeding to the next platform, I call your attention to the Egyptian mummy, supposed to be that of Rameses the Great."

There Are Others.

"Bings is afraid that he may be prosecuted for polygamy."

"Why, he is married to only one person, ain't he?"

"That is what he thought for a while, but now it appears that he married her whole family, and there are seven of them."

St. Thomas Council has appointed a civic light and power committee.

GIPSY HAWKINS'S LIFE STORY

Well Known Evangelist Will Relate the Circumstances of His Conversion and Evangelistic Career

The closing evangelistic service in connection with Gipsy Hawkins' mission (in Park street Baptist church was held last night. It was a meeting of power and blessing. A number decided for Christ, and conviction was carried deep into the hearts of many as Mr. Hawkins in a sermon of eloquence and thought told the reasons why Christ could save others, but could not save himself.

In one sense the statement was true but in another sense it was not. Had Christ merely suggested that he was anxious to come down from the cross, ten thousand times ten thousand angels would have rushed with hurrying steps to His assistance. The words "He cannot save Himself," contain the very philosophy of God's plan of the sinner's eternal salvation. Christ abstained to save Himself, in order that he might save us.

He was God-man.

He was truly, properly, really, man. He was truly properly, really God.

He made a fine atonment for all sin." Christ's blood has power, value, healing, pardon, cleansing for every lost and guilty sinner.

God cannot see our sins through the blood of Jesus.

To-night at eight o'clock Gipsy Hawkins, will tell the thrilling story of his life, which will be full of humor, pathos, profitable thought, entitled "From Gipsy Tent to Pulpit."

All should come and hear this glowing account of God's dealings with a poor gupsy boy. Kindly come and bring your thank-offering for blessings received.

Rev. J. R. Webb was present and assisted in the services.

Everybody welcome.

THE LATE MARION CRAWFORD'S IDEA OF "THE WHITE SISTER"

"The White Sister," the new play which Miss Viola Allen brings to the Grand next Thursday, Jan. 20, will be the third drama with the scenes laid in Italy in which the actress has appeared in six years, the two previous ones being "In the Palace of the King," and "The Eternal City," written by F. Marion Crawford and Hall Caine, respectively. In each of these Miss Allen found more than the ordinary quota of success, and by those who are entitled to express an opinion, "The White Sister' is full of possibilities for the actress that neither of the other two held.

"The story of the play," said Mr. Crawford shortly before his death, to an American acquaintance he met at Sorrento, "deals with a subject which was brought to my attention but four years ago. In this respect it was much like 'The Cardinal,' played by E. S. Willard, and which was written by Mr. Louis N. Parker. Both these plays had their origin in a bit of real life; both were told by a village priest, and both have become plays. I imagine Italy is full of such things as these, and yet they crop out to the surface very seldom. In the cast of "The White Sister,' which Miss Allen is playing, the situation is, I think, one which should appeal strongly to women—all women—for it deals with a girl who, while engaged to be married, feels it her duty when her fiance is ordered to the front in pursuance with his duty, as an officer of the Italian army, to let him go without protest.

When she discovers from the list of the killed that he among that sad totality, she enters a convent. Unfortunately for her, the report of the young officer's death was erroneous, and he returns to find her behind the convent walls. To me it is a very pretty problem for womankind; in fact, I have often wondered what the average woman would do with such a situation as that, supposing she was placed in it. Of course, I know what the real woman did in the story that was told to me, and which is the thing she does in the play; but when we deal with ideals upon the stage, and perhaps the ideal woman is not a safe hazard in a matter such as this."

Liebler & Company are the managers and producers of "The White Sister,' and they have provided a very sumptuous and artistic production. Special music has been written for the performance by William Furst, the well known composer, and the incidental score, played by the orchestra provides every part, and in sentiment is made to fit every situation. This splendid auxiliary greatly heightens the dramatic effect of the chorus, which is carried by the company in the convent chapel scene.

Miss Allen is surrounded by a brilliant cast of players, including James O'Neill, William Farnum, Minna Gale, Richie Ling, Dwight Dana, Joseph Whiting, Joseph Carducci, Fanny Addison Pitt and Belle Chippendale Warner.

IS THIS A FACT?

In a very thoughtful editorial entitled "Pull Together," the Examiner of Thursday criticises the tendency in Peterborough to sacrifice the general good to individual interests. In the course of the leading editorial the following serious charge is laid at the door of the local Canadian Club. Knowing that the officers of that club are of the same political persuasion as the Examiner is supposed to be, many are entirely at a loss to understand the meaning of the Examiner's words. "Are we not to ascribe the conditions of inactivity if not decadence of the local club to this cause?"

The portion of the article referred to is as follows:

"If not to neglect of these essentials, to what are we to ascribe the non-success, to employ no more forcible term, of a great many otherwise laudable undertakings. We swung off the Canadian Club with considerable success and with considerable promise of a future of usefulness. What is its condition to-day, and why is it in this conditon? Its condition may be pretty well illustrated by comparison with other places. St. Thomas, with a population of about 2,000 fewer than Peterborough, has a flourishing Canadian Club. Last Friday on the occasion of the address of Mr. J. W. Tyrell, the Arctic explorer, "exactly 110 persons sat down at the banquet" as reported in the St. Thomas Journal, an indication that the Canadian Club of St. Thomas takes itself seriously and does not permit its aims to be diverted by side issues, and at the same time an example to the local club. This club was organized with one of the conditions that its deliberations, addresses and management were to be entirely removed from party politics. Has this condition been observed? If it has been disregarded, are we not to ascribe the condition of inactivity if not decadence of the local club to this cause? When we cease to pull together, when we permit the invasion of side issues, entirely irrelevant to the main object, we are sure to encounter more or less complete failure."

Here, it will be observed, is an attack upon the civic patriotism of the members and officers of local club and the citizens of the town from whom the Examiner expected better things. It is in no spirit of common inquiry that we ask for an explanation. If, all things considered, the "persons indicated" have been guilty of wrecking the club and the broad and general, if delicate, interests involved, it is news to us. The executive officiate of the club is in our opinion, unimpeachable from whatever point of view. It does not see eye to eye with the Conservative party and is not enrolled under the Tory banner, hence we are more at a loss than ever to account for the attack although it is necessary for the Review to refer to it lest the impression should be left that the "hated Tory" had got in his deadly work somewhere. Since therefore, the cause causans, if it exists at all, remains hidden from the view of most people, and since an explanation is conveyed that lays the editorial axe at the very root of the self-respect and high standing of those pointed at by the Examiner's editorial finger, citizens at large are expecting further light lest many undeserving are yet proven to "love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil."

The question is on every lip, "What is it? Who are they?" Let the Examiner explain.

An outbreak of rabies is reported from Scotland village in Brant.

STORM IS COMING

Western Ontario in Throes of a Blizzard--Trains are Late

Special to Review.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—A blizzard struck Ontario from the west late last night and as a result railway trains to-day are everywhere behind time. The Michigan Central train which left St. Thomas at 9 o'clock last night for London is reported stuck in a snow bank near Westminster with a gang of men at work with shovels trying to dig it out. The Southwestern traction lines are completely tied up and connection between St. Thomas and London is consequently discontinued for the present. All trains arriving here from the west are from one to four hours behind time.

WEDDING BELLS

POWERS — BROOKFIELD

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's rectory last evening by Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, the contracting parties being Miss Edythe Brookfield of this city and Mr. Thomas Bowers of Millbrook. They were unattended and after the ceremony the happy couple left for Millbrook where they will reside.

BLIND PIGS ROUNDED UP

Special to Review.

Cobalt, Jan. 14.—Provincial officers rounded up blind pigs early this morning and arrested fourteen alleged keepers. A sleighload of whiskey and and gin was seised at North Cobalt. Fines of one hundred and two hundred dollars were imposed and imprisonment in some cases.

FAST HORSES FOR THE RACES

OBITUARY

MRS. ROBT. TOUCHBURN.

There passed away last evening at her late residence, 478 Patterson st., Isabella Gillies, wife of Mr. Robert Touchburn. The deceased, who was 72 years of age, had been a sufferer from paralysis.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery. Rev. H. J. Keith will conduct the service at the house at 2.30 o'clock.

PRESENTATION TO MR. R. J. McCAMUS

By His Sunday School Pupils at Keene, Accompanied by Address

Mrs. W. Campbell entertained the members of Mr. R. J. McCamus' Sunday school class at her home the other evening. During the evening the class presented their teacher with a beautiful pair of solid gold cuff links, and the following address:—

Mr. R. J. McCamus:

Dear Teacher,—It becomes our pleasant duty, as members of your class assembled here to-night, to remind you that we are not forgetful of your untiring efforts in our behalf. For years you have served the church in different spheres of usefulness, but we wish particularly to draw your attention to the many pleasant hours spent together as teacher and class.

As a slight tangible expression of those faithful services, we ask you to accept these cuff links, and trust that they may ever remind you of our esteem and good-will as a class.

In conclusion, we sincerely hope that this festive season may bring you God's blessing, and that yours may be a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

AUBURNS WON FROM THE CANOE BUILDERS BY 2-1

Thursday must be the Jonah day of the Auburn Mercantile League team for while the Canoe Builders at the Brock street rink last night by 2—1, with any kind of luck they should have scored fifty goals. Hayes between the nets for the losers, was kept over-heated dodging the puck. The Auburn team were wild as hawks with their shooting, whether from the side or in front of the nets. For three-quarters of the game they had the rubber in the vicinity of their opponents' goal, but nevertheless the contest was interesting to the small number of redbirds present. Ferguson drew first blood for the Canoe Builders after the game had gone ten minutes. Trotter evened matters up seven minutes later. Just before half time was called Kendry and O'Dette had a misunderstanding and spent the first three minutes of the second half with the timekeepers. Lillie and Shaw scored what proved to be the winning counter on a pass from the side by Russell. Leo Derocher handled the ball, and the teams were as follows:

Auburns		Canoe Builders

THE DESIRE TO LIFT CUP IS WHAT PROMPTED THE TRIP

Says Fred Whitcroft — Thinks Edmonton's Chances are Good—Walter Miller Should Develop into Fast Player is Whitty's Opinion.

"It was an unfortunate thing that we were not able to make connections for the practice here Wednesday night," said Fred Whitcroft to the Review this morning, "but the train was delayed away past scheduled time at St. Paul and Chicago. Instead of arriving in Toronto on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock we didn't reach there till 9.30 the following morning owing to the long delays. It was out intention had we reached Toronto at 3 o'clock as expected, Wednesday to come through to Peterborough on the C.P.R. local that evening."

Whitty and "Hay" Miller came to the city from Toronto yesterday afternoon. Both of them say the Edmonton seven will go on the ice in excellent condition, and think the western septette has an even chance with the champions.

"The members of the team are not getting a cent for their services," Whitcroft stated. "We simply think our chances to lift the cup are good, and every man is going on the ice with a determination to do so. Its the proper spirit, and the desire to land the trophy was the cause of taking the trip. If expenses are covered, that will probably be all."

Whitcroft speaks very highly of the team, both from the standpoint of their personal qualities and their abilities as puck-chasers. He thinks Edmonton has the fastest forward line in Canada and play the best combination. The defence is also an excellent one, and he thinks it will be able to hold its own all right.

Whitty speaks well of Walter Miller, who is accompanying the team as spare man. He shows good form on the ice, and Fred says with a little more experience in fast company he should develop into an effective and resourceful player.

The Edmonton team will line up as follows:—

Goal—Winchester.
Point—Field.
Cover—Ross.
Rover—Whitcroft.
Centre—Deeton.
Right—Miller.
Left—Bolton.

PETERBORO' MEN TAKEN FOR HOCKEY PLAYERS AT MARMORA

Men are often taken for bears and deer in the woods, but not every day in the week are they taken for hockey players especially in these days when a hockey player can get more money for a season than a good many people have ever seen. There was a hockey match at Marmora on Wednesday night of this week, the opposing teams being Marmora and Madoc. They have been rivals in the hockey arena for years, and a good deal of money is usually bet on the games between them. At Marmora on Wednesday evening there also took place the annual installation of the officers of the I.O.O.F. Lodge. The following Peterborough officers went to Marmora to take part in the installation:—R. J. Matchett, E. H. Sills, N. T. Brecken-ridge and Col. J. W. Miller. They arrived in the village in the afternoon, and their presence caused a good deal of comment. A boy who was around the hotel where they registered, became possessed of a bright thought. He was convinced that the guests were hockey players from Peterborough, who were going to play for Madoc—"ringers" such players are commonly called. The news spread quickly around the town and was the one topic of interest. Those who had placed their money on the home team trembled like Dr. Cook did when he stood at the North Pole. The appearance of the "ringers" caused them to rue their rashness. The Peterborough visitors became acquainted with the stories that were going around, and took no steps to rectify the wrong impression. In the afternoon they went and had a look at the rink, and after that there was no doubt as to who they were. Going to the rink Col. Miller wore a sweater and he was at once referred to by the villagers as the trainer of the visiting players, who attracted more attention than the prize pumpkin at the county fair.

It was not until the teams lined up in the evening that the Marmora people saw that they had been mistaken.

FOR AULD LANG SYNE, WHAT THE CURLERS ARE DOING IN SCOTIA

Interesting Letter From Scotland—Reminiscenses of the Canadian Tour — Plenty of Ice This Year.

The Review is indebted to Mr. R. M. Waddell, one of the Canadian curlers, who went to Britain last year for the following:

27th December, 1909.

Dear Mr. Waddell,—There's kindness in remembrance and I value "The Globe" and other beautiful enclosures received to-day from you very highly indeed. Thanks for the very kind though: that prompted you to send me them.

How the time passes, it seems but yesterday when we had all the Canadian curlers here, your visit afforded everyone great pleasure and your victories demonstrated that the younger nations of the empire were strong and able to represent all that was manliest and best of the old race. My song is, therefore, "All hail Canada," the rising star of the British race." I am delighted to read of your abounding harvest, which is the first source of wealth, will bring peace and plenty to the Dominion and help to supply us with food. All classes here were delighted with your visit and vied with each other to make your visit a pleasant one. Many happy memories cling around your sojourn in Bathgate and that may be taken as an index of the feeling which permeated the dwellers in other districts. I trust that you and yours are quite well and that every happiness and prosperity may attend you in the coming year.

This season we have had much frost and a great deal of curling on open ponds, something we so much desired you should experience, to give all classes in every district a fuller opportunity to heartily welcome you.

Now that you have found it so easy to come to Scotland, may I be permitted to utter the Jacobite air, or rather the words of Prince Charlie.

"Will ye no come back again."

With season's greetings and kindest regards.

Yours sincerely,
D. R. GORDON.

Bathgate, Scotland.

The following account of the curling supper as from the Hamilton Clydesdale) Advertiser;—

"Our Canadian Friends," was proposed by Mr. W. F. Ballantyne, who said:—"The recent return visit of a team of Canadian curlers to this country served to bring into great prominence the enthusiasm which characterizes all devotees of the grand old game of curling, and the strong band of union which it forms among players wherever situated and however far apart. As an echo of that visit and many memorable incidents connected with it, I have great pleasure in submitting to this meeting of ardent and experienced curlers the toast of "Our Canadian Friends," confident that it will command your most cordial and enthusiastic support. During their all too brief visit to this country, our Canadian friends earned the esteem and respect of all, with whom they came in contact, not only as gentlemen, whom it was a pleasure to meet, but also as true sportsmen and skilful and successful exponents of our favorite and national game. To all curlers in this locality it was a matter of great regret that we had no opportunity of meeting the Canadians on our pond here, but when we did not meet them on the ice rink we had the satisfaction of making a more than creditable appearance. Although the toast I have to propose refers primarily to the Canadian curlers, there is a wider sense in which it may be understood and in which it will be, I am sure, equally welcome to this meeting. In this sense it includes all Canadians who, I believe, are all our friends, and at the time when imperial questions are engaging so much attention among out kin beyond the seas, this is an aspect worthy of our most serious consideration. Our Canadian friends, in this wider sense, have a magnificent, an extensive, almost a boundless country, with a great future before it. From Belle Isle to Esquimault, it embraces almost every variety of climate and scenery, with immense natural resources calculated to attract all classes within its borders. The climate of Canada is frequently and unjustly deprecated, and although it has extremes, both of heat and cold, there is nothing in either which need deter anyone from settling there, while to those unable or unwilling to face these extremes there is the genial and equable mildness of the Pacific Coast. In regard to scenery, it is difficult to mention the most striking features, where all is on so grand a scale, for although in approaching Canada by the Straits of Belle Isle, the coast of Labrador gives one the impression of a lowly sterile and desolate country, yet this is soon left behind and the broad waters of the River St. Lawrence are entered upon, with its beautiful and picturesque Thousand Islands leading up to the imposing and world-famous Falls of Niagara. Proceeding westwards through the fruitful fields and smiling orchards of the Central Provinces, you reach the magnificent and awe-inspiring Rocky Mountains, and the rugged grandeur of the Kicking Horse Pass and the Grand Canon of the Fraser River, on to the fertile valleys of British Columbia, with their immense forests of gigantic trees. It is, I think, our duty and privilege, and should be our pleasure, to do all in our power to knit closer the ties which binds the Dominion to the Mother Country, and we, as curlers, under the happy inspiration of those who originated and organized these visits, have been able to do something towards these visits. Such visits tend to a more thorough understanding between the two peoples, who, although of one blood, are yet so diverse in customs and environment. In the hope that intercourse of this nature might be fostered and extended with all the beneficial results which might be expected to follow, he gave "Our Canadian Friends."

Mr. Davidson Smith replied to the toast, saying that they all had the greatest pleasure in hearing Mr. Ballantyne's remarks. Their men going over to Canada had done more to raise good feeling and strengthen their bonds with each other.

At this point, "The Maple Leaf" was sung by Mr. Alex. Ritchie, the company rising to their feet during the singing of the chorus."

WILL PRACTISE WITH LOCALS

It will seem like the palmy days of the intermediates to see Fred Whitcroft out to practice at the Brock street rink to-night. Whitty says he feels in need of a good workout, and will disport himself at to-night's practice, which will be held from 7 to 8.

OTTAWA HAD EASY VICTORY

Defeated Montreal by Score of 15-5—Redpath's Work a Feature

Montreal, Jan. 13.—The expected happened when Ottawa defeated All-Montreal this evening in the Canadian League game at The Arena, but no one imagined that the score would be what it was—15 to 5.

The first half was a rattling good game, with the score 4 to 3 in favor of Ottawa, but in the second half Montreal went to pieces, and Ottawa put in six straight goals before Montreal got another. After that the interest was gone out of the struggle.

Soon after the start of the game Marks, of Montreal, had his nose broken, and Roberts was taken off to even up. He returned to the ice later, and played better than ever.

As an example of the play, in the eleventh game Ridpath pulled out the whole Montreal defence, including Moran, and scored. Ottawa scored two more short goals in quick succession. After that Montreal scored again, and play showed up and developed into a burlesque. Ottawa netted the last four goals in succession, giving Montreal not a look-in. The work of the visitors was snappy all through. They scored four times in 30 seconds a shot; several other goals were of one minute, and none were over five minutes. It was a strong team pitted against a weak one, and the Montrealers are looking to the Shamrocks to turn the tables in Ottawa Saturday night. The line-up was as follows:

Referee—Duncan Campbell.

SHOTS ON GOAL

Peterborough hockey players will get their share of the hockey game next week. The list of games follow:

Monday—Junior O.H.A., Colts vs. Collegiates.

Wednesday—City League, Keene vs. T. A. S.; West Ends vs. Strathconas.

Thursday—Church League, Knox vs. George St.; All Saints vs. St. Andrew's.

Thursday—Mercantile League, Canoe Builders vs. C. G. E.

Friday—Intermediate O. H. A., Peterborough at Lindsay.

As each year comes and goes, the outlook for a championship hockey team for Peterborough becomes better. The Intermediate and Junior teams are much stronger this year than last, and while much success is looked for this season, the fans who are in touch with the hockey situation, and know just what is going on regarding the development of the younger players feel that it will not be long before this city is represented by a championship team.

The West End-Strathcona game next Wednesday night will be the game of the City League season.

It is understood that three of the teams in the Mercantile league are against allowing Hefferman and Pratt of the Quakers to again perform in the league. Each has played one Junior O. H. A. game and the former was in the T. A. S. line-up on Wednesday.

Whitby and Port Perry Juniors plyed ten minutes extra time last night. The honors went to Whitby by 6—5.

Berlin defeated Chuck Tyner's professionals last night by 11—4.

The All-Montreal team went to pieces in the second half of their game with Ottawa last night and were defeated 15—5.

Millbrook and Lethany hockey teams met on the latter's ice yesterday. Millbrook won 3—1.

Walter Miller's explanation of that affair at Prince Albert is that he was promised a situation by the promoters of the hockey club in that place, but the "job" turned out to be a position in a hotel, which "Jiddy," as would be expected, refused.

CURLING

RINK AT HASTINGS

The curling club is almost ready for business at last, as the rink has been completed and good ice for sport. The roof and sides were finished last Saturday.

A cargo of stones arrived on Friday for the members and if a number of good housewives are shy of their pet brooms during the next few days we would recommend them to take a look in at the curling rink.—Hastings Star.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

THE CANADIAN NAVY

What are our leaders doing now—the men we set to rule!
Think they that we, the Common Folk, are but a party's tool?
We will not tamely suffer long the trickster or the knave.—
And if the Pact be broken, shall recall the power we gave.
We wait in watchful silence, o'er the prairie and the farm;
Our mould have heard, and answered back Great Britain's strong alarm.
From depths of lonely forests—in the avenue of trade,
In grim and breathless stillness we survey the men we made.
Not from the mouths of Suckling Babes heard we this danger call "Behold, the Foeman at the door! He names the Seaward Wall!"
But from the lips of Greybeards, men whose characters and years, Whose ripened judgment well forbids all jesting at their fears;

* * * *

We watch a Veiled Ambition stand, puffed up with power and place,
And give our Honour for a price—its secret pride of race.
What do they know of Honour who can thus estime its worth—
A thing to sell and barter in the markets of the earth!
This Scheme—this Skilled Suggestion—this appeal to new-born pride,
To round our young Dominion out from ocean tide to tide—
Obscures the fact at issue, while it bids the nation bow
Before a mighty Destiny—and shirk its Duty now!
Beware! O, True Canadians! They bid ye cry "All hail!"
And raise the Golden Image, but—ye bow the knee to Baal!
Take ye no glittering Future, with Dishonour as its base—
False to your best Traditions, to your Duty and your Race.
They offer rosy fruitage, with the canker at its heart—
No ingrate race shall flourish; it will rot to stand apart
And watch the Mother meet the grim emergency alone—
It writes its own Death Sentence; it shall reap as it has sown;
Weighed in God's awful Balance—found wanting in that Day,
The soul already being dead, the body shall decay!
Of Gratitude and Loyalty, and Love that puts self past
To bind a growing nation, most divinely to its Past—
Formed by a thousand Hero-deeds wrought out by land and sea,
Where Englishmen have fought and died that all men might be Free.
Thus would they build a Navy up—cut off from all the things
That nerve the feeble arm to fight and give the spirit wings—
Forbid by Word of Law to go where Britain's flag is borne!
"A Navy!" Give the mark! to men a Mockery and Scorn!
What use is all our strength of life—the learning of our schools—
If we can breed us but a race of Ingrates—or of Fools!
Ingrates! because we owe our life to Britain's fostering hand—
That through the growing years has kept and guarded all our land;
To Her we owe our splendid strength, our Freedom and our Laws—
Who failed us not at hours of need, when fools would give us pause!
Why could we walk our peaceful way, or sit at home in ease!
Each English cottage bore the Tax, and Britain held the Seas!
They set the Tax on man and beast to send the ships to sea—
They did it uncomplainingly that Britain's might be free!
Now! Shall we keep the money back—when British fleets have need.
And fill our gaping coffers up to satisfy our greed!
Give aid to swell a thousand schemes to hold a Horde in fee—
Yet grudge our gold to that great Fleet that keeps our country free!
And, Brothers of another Tongue, who deem our urgence vain—
How would ye bear the galling chains that bind Alsace—Lorraine!
Can we behold Great Britain's need, without an answering thrill—
Or feel the Menace in the air and bid our hearts be still!

* * * *

Almighty God! Who from Heaven doth give each race its Day—
Thou hast the nations in Thy Hand, to bound their power and sway!
At Thy command they rise from dust—Thine Arm doth lift them higher
Thou move'st the Golden Candlesticks, and lo! their lights expire!
Give Thou this Nation grace to see its Duty and its Way—
To read the Writing on the Wall while yet it is its Day.

MR. WHITELAW REID'S LETTER

What the United States Ambassador Wrote to Mr. Donald MacMaster

London, Jan. 12.—The letter of Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, which has been used in the present campaign, and suggested the charge that he was meddling in British politics, is as follows;

American Embassy.
London, Dec. 8th, 1908.

Dear Mr. MacMaster,—On coming up a statement that we have between three and four million men out of work. One of my secretaries told me that he had already talked with you over the telephone on the subject and explained my absence.

I gathered from him that he had answered substantially as I should have done if I had been present when the letter came. While the Embassy has no definite figures as to unemployment in the United States, I have no doubt that the statement you quote about their numbering between three and four millions of men is a gross exaggeration. All of our recent news tends to confirm the belief that unemployment now is far less than it was six months ago, but I have an idea that even at the worst it approached those figures.

It is also certain that suffering while unemployment lasted was less than under similar circumstances elsewhere since the prevailing rate of wages were so high that practically every workman who cared to lay up something for an emergency had ample means to do so. Yours sincerely,

WHITELAW REID.

WOMEN'S WOES

Peterborough Women are Finding Relief at Last

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. John Wallace, of 325 Water street Peterborough, Ont., says;—"I had suffered with many painful and annoying symptoms of kidney trouble for over two years, and could find nothing that would benefit my condition. My back was weak, and a dull, heavy pain settled across the small of it, extending into my sides and shoulders. I could not sleep at night as the kidney secretions were so frequent and irregular that I would have to leave my bed a number of times. I was dizzy and weak and would usually awake with a dull headache. Booth's Kidney Pills, produced at Mr. William Madill's Drug Store, cured me when all else failed. I am stronger, and feel better generally. I can conscientiously recommend Booth's Kidney Pills and would not be without a box in the house."

Y.M.C.A. DOINGS

On Friday night the Employed Boys class are to meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 7.30 p.m., and from there the crowd will take the car for Jackson Park, where they will spend the evening and have a class in how to enjoy life instead of how to use gymnasium apparatus. All will be out for a good time and every fellow that has attended the class should be Johnie on the spot, and have a jolly good time. The physical director, who is a southern boy, will be there, too, and if the others don't enjoy it he will, for it is new to him as in the South that is nothing there of that sort for a fellow to enjoy himself. When the summer comes around he will show all some good speed swimming and some fancy diving. He has won many contests in the events mentioned.

Train Knocks Negroes' Victim to to One Side

Macon, Ga., Jan. 12.—Because Daniel J. Matthews, a young fireman of the Central of Georgia Railway, refused to give four armed negroes a switch key, he was tied face downward on the main line of the Central road.

Matthews now lies in a critical condition at a local hospital, having been knocked from his perilous position by an eastbound passenger train a few minutes after he was attacked. The negroes were plotting to wreck a passenger train.

Five members of the House of Commons will enquire into charges against N.T.R. engineers.

WINDMILL MADE INTO CHURCH

Novel House of God That Serves for Small Congregation in England.

Twelve years ago, when the villagers living off the border of Reigate heath, Surrey, England, had no place of worship nearer than the parish church, a service was held in a schoolroom close by and was so well attended that the authorities looked around for a suitable permanent building.

The erection of a church was out of the question, but there stood on the heath the remains of an old mill, a picturesque feature in a beautiful bit of landscape. Inspection showed that once the rats were got rid of a comparatively small outlay would furnish and render the mill fit for public worship, and soon it was opened as the Chapel of the Holy Cross.

The interior of the chapel arouses interest. Four buttresses, four feet thick by six feet in height, serve as rests for two massive beams which cross each other in the center and support an upright shaft cracked with age and strongly bound with iron bands. The buttresses make four natural alcoves. The entrance door stands in one, and immediately opposite is the altar; the harmonium is placed in a third, and the bellringer sits close beside it and rings his bell; the fourth is occupied by the congregation. The rent of this novel church is only 25 cents a year.

ANTIQUITIES MADE TO ORDER.

Switzerland Proves Itself in No Way Behind the Rest of the World in This Connection.

Switzerland will have an additional attraction this season for the tourists. "The one hundredth anniversary of the struggle for independence will be celebrated, and the thrifty inhabitants of the little republic," says an American tourist, "always watchful for the coin, are making great preparations for the various celebrations. Aside from the pageant and other civic festivities, they are laying in a stock of historic souvenirs, for which they know there will be a ready market. An Innsbruck paper says that one of the popular manufactured antiquities is the Swiss flag of a hundred years ago. A new one is made to resemble a centenarian by a process which includes fading the colors in the sun, bespattering it with tallow and laying it in the granary, where the mice soon give it the necessary tattered appearance. Finally it is subjected again to the rays of Father Sun, is mounted on a worm-eaten, broken staff, and is then ready for the English or American tourist in search of centennial trophies."

Saving an Ancient Fresco.

It is not only in this country that church restorers are allowed to do much as they like. An interesting story comes from Hal. The church is under restoration, and the workmen came across traces of a fresco. Its existence had been unknown, and according to the plats the plaster was to come away. Fortunately a townsman knew a process by which the plaster could be taken off intact on canvas. He obtained permission to make the experiment, and it has been carried out with success. He is said to be now the possessor of a valuable fifteenth-century painting. The Brussels museum authorities have learned of the existence of the painting, and they are endeavoring to prevent the alienation of this interesting work of the middle ages.—London Globe.

Robins' Curious Nesting Places.

The two robins which have built their nest in the cover of a meter at the Market Drayton Electric Light works have many precedents in the choice of unconventional nesting places. A year or two ago a robin's nest was built on a book shelf in a night nursery at Chiselhurst which was occupied without interruption by a nurse and child. Four eggs were laid, and two young birds were hatched out. Two other robins built their nest on the axle of a colliery wagon in daily use at Seghill, in Northumberland. Among other curious recent nesting places have been the breast pocket of a scarecrow at Ashbourne, a mail box in a village forge, the skeleton of a crow, and the rifle range butts at Ticehurst, Sussex.—Westminster Gazette.

Buried Treasures in Morocco.

In Morocco it is customary for a man to bury most of his riches in a place known only to himself. This custom is practiced by all Moors, for they cannot trust their own family, who would murder them directly it was known where the money was.

At the death of the head of a family in Morocco digging operations commence at once, but seldom is the money discovered. There must be many fortunes buried away in odd corners of the country. An instance came under the writer's notice at one of the coast towns. During the demolition of a house a considerable sum of money was found built into the wall.

Population of H——H.

Because the News and Courier stated the obvious conclusion, from the fact that water pipes do not freeze in hades, that there are no plumbers in that region, some of our contemporaries are vilifying it in their narrow, partisan way. In spite of this, we now declare that the amount of gas constantly escaping from hades shows that what plumbers who may be there are apprentices.—Charleston News and Courier.

LIGHT SET FIRE TO BOY'S BED

Havelock Boy Had Dangerous Bedfellow

Master Willie Holdcroft achieved the bright idea of taking an electric light to bed with him, thereby helping William to rest more warmly between the coverlets. But alas! Master William was awakened one morning this week about three o'clock to find that his bedfellow had rebelled against the situation and in resentment therefor had set fire to the bed clothing, destroying the sheets, comforters, mattress and pillow, and poor William's night shirt, or at least the nether portion of it, also burning him slightly on the leg. We understand that a number of people in town are in the habit of taking lights to bed with them, but this incident should prove an effective warning.—Havelock Standard.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THE JANUARY ROD AND GUN

With the advent of another year, Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., is to the front with a fine issue for January. Running through all the stories—and there are many of them—is that pleasant out-door tone which always proves a healthful tonic, the plentiful supply of which, in stories and pictures, has given the magazine an assured position. Fishing and hunting experiences are interspersed with camping stories. Indian legends, prospecting tales of the far Queen Charlotte Islands and strange happenings in the backwoods, all appealing in some of their many sidedness to sportsmen of varied tastes and inclinations. In reading such delightful stories, everyone redolent of the actual, one lives over again some of one's own pleasures, thus obtaining a double measure from the outing which yielded so much enjoyment at the time. To begin the New Year well and continue throughout in the same good way, the companionship of Rod and Gun should be secured. If he adopts this course the sportsman will have continual reminders through out the year of his own outings and additions to the bright anticipations with which he looks forward to future joys. Of these reminiscences and anticipations no one can rob him, and Rod and Gun adds to both and makes the year one continual pleasure, no part of which the sportsman will lose if he secures its companionship for the ensuing twelve months.

PLAYWRIGHT LOSES SUIT

Author of "Billy" Failed in Action Against the Shuberts

Justice McCall this afternoon denied the application of Gladys Rankin Drew (George Cameron) for an injunction restraining Jacob Shubert, of Shubert Brothers, from producing her play, "Billy," in which her husband (Sidney Drew) formerly appeared in the title role. William Klein attorney for the Shuberts, shows that the only grounds under which the contract could be abrogated was a failure on the part of the Shuberts to pay royalties. These have been paid.

Mr. Klein told Justice McCall that Miss Cameron had been satisfied with her royalties for two seasons, but last fall, while playing in a western town, Mr. Drew and the leading woman had a tiff and Mr. Drew quit. Edgar Atchison Ely was engaged to take his place and Mrs. Drew brought the action.

A recount of the local option vote at Orangeville will take place.

SAW HALLEY'S COMET IN 1835; AN AGED PRIEST TELLS OF IT

Winnipeg, Jan. 12. — Rev. Father Dandurand, the aged priest in the Archbishop's Palace, St. Boneface, is one of the few survivors who recollect the visit of Halley's comet. Asked to tell his story of the memorable event, he said:

"I was a little boy then and I am nearly ninety-two now. I was born in March, 1818, and the comet came in 1835. I was studying in Montreal, where I was under special professors, having nearly completed my classical studies and being near the end of the course in philosophy, as I had begun very young. I saw the comet and was impressed by it. It remained visible for many weeks. When it reached its perfection it was very beautiful. It nearly reached the zenith and its tail swept the horizon, being million on millions of miles in length. One could see through the tail: it seemed to be a fluid or gaseous substance. It is all foolishness to talk of danger to the earth from the comet. I remember that many people used to go out to see it, as it was a very beautiful sight."

Father Dandurand wondered whether the heavenly visitor would show itself this time in the same magnificent proportions. He seemed to think that in the course of seventy-four years it might have lost some of its brilliancy. He remembered also the comet of 1858, but said it was much inferior in splendor to Halley's comet of 1835. As he is still active and vigorous he is looking forward with interest to the reappearance of the marvellous spectacle which caused so much wonder in his boyhood days.

WILL ASK FOR REDUCTION TO EIGHT HOTEL AND TWO SHOP LICENSES

A reduction in the number of hotel licenses from eighteen to eight and in the number of shop licenses from four to two will be asked for by the deputation from the Temperance and and Moral Reform League, which will wait on the City Council on Monday night next. It is understood that a section of the league was in favor of asking for a greater reduction, but after going into the matter thoroughly and securing information regarding the accommodation provided by the different hotels it was decided to request the Council to reduce the number of hotel licenses to eight, and the shop licenses to two.

PROMINENT OFFICERS AT THE COURT CHEMONG INSTALLATION

A Very Successful Function — Interesting Toast List — Bright Programme of Musical Numbers.

The installation of Court Chemong I.O.F. last night was a most enjoyable and successful affair. The evening was opened by a short business meeting, durin gwhich six new members were initiated. A large assembly was featured by the presence of J. C. Morgan, superintendent of I. O. F. Orphans; W. H. Lowrie, H.C.R., Rosell, Ont.; G. L. Dickenson, H.S., Manotick; J. Simmons, H.P., Frankford; U. E. Brown, D.H.C.R., Belleville; James Glendenning, D.S.C.R., Sunderland.

The officers of Court Chemong were installed by the High Court officers.

Afterwards the members, with their wives and daughters, sat down to a sumptuous banquet, prepared by Bro. E.P.C. Clarke. The decorations were pretty and tasteful, the flowers being loaned by Jordan Bros.

When justice had been done the good things the toast list was duly honored, an dthe different addresses were interspersed with attractive musical numbers. Bro. Wm. Madill fulfilled the duties of chairman and toastmaster in a most satisfactory manner. The first toast was that of "The King," proposed by Bro. Madill and honored in the usual way.

"Canada" was proposed by Bro. W. G. McKee, P.C.R., and was honored by the singing of "The Maple Leaf."

"Sister Societies" was proposed by Bro. D. Wallace, C.D., and responded to by Bro. Dr. Carmichael, C.P.

"Visiting Brethren" was proposed by Bro. A. Bradshaw, D.S.C.R., and responded to by Bro. Sills.

"Our Organizers" was proposed by Bro. J. W. Buyers, R.S., and was responded to by Bro. G. N. Brown and Bro. Jas. Glendenning.

"The Supreme Court" was proposed by Bro. G. W. Powell, and responded to by Bro. J. C. Morgan.

"The High Court" was proposed by Bro. A. Alison, D.H.C.R., and responded to by Bro. W. S. Lowrie and Bro. Dr. Simmons.

"Court Chemong" was proposed by Bro. G. L. Dickenson and responded to by Bro. F. C. Rouke, C.R.

"The Ladies" was proposed by Bro. Jno. R. Brownlee and responded to by Bro. W. Madill.

The musical numbers were as follows:—

Piano Solo—Mr. A. G. Graham.
Piano Solo—Miss Cora Peters.
Piano Duet—Misses Smith.
Quartette—Messrs. Throop, Davenport, Dickson and Donaldson.
Vocal Solo—Bro. J. C. Morgan.

The accompanists for the different numbers were Miss L. Chiles, Miss Buyers, Bro. J. C. Morgan and Bro. A. G. Graham.

The different addresses and musical offerings were greatly appreciated and generously applauded. The evening was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the King."

Special to the Review.

Belleville, Jan. 14.—Mrs. George Pearce, who has been advertised as missing all over Ontario, has turned up. She said she had been in Trenton all the time.

London, Jan. 14.—A sleighing party of thirty young people from All Saints' church are missing since last evening.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—Alexander Elliott, of this city, leaves for Port Arthur to-night to act as license inspector. For the first time in history of the license department, no local man could be found to take the inspectorship.

MURRAY STREET BIBLE CLASS

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. E. Elcome, of Harvey street, entertained the members of Mr. Elcome's Bible class. The evening was divided between festivity and business. Reports were read which showed the class to be in good condition.

A plan for the year 1910 was adopted by which the class will serve tea each Sunday evening for the purpose of assisting new-comers to become acquainted and also to make it possible for those living at a distance to remain for the evening service.

The reports showed a good year and a financial balance to carry over.

The following officers were elected for the current year:

Teacher—E. Elcome.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. A. Wray.
Chairman of Lookout Com. — John Riddell.
Reception Com.—Mr. R. Matthews, Mr. W. Pillsworth, Mrs. H. P. Ellis.
Refreshment Com.—Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Elcome, Mrs. Browett.
Music Com.—Mrs. G. B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt.

SECRET SKIN SORES

Have you on some part of your body a sore, or eruption, or ulcer, or eczema patch, which, hidden from sight, yet causes you hours and hours of pain and inconvenience? Many persons suffer agonies in secret from such sores! Perhaps you have tried this and that and the other remedy, but all in vain, and are feeling disheartened and discouraged? If so, try Zam-Buk, the great herbal healer!

Zam-Buk is strongly antiseptic — more so than crude carbolic acid; yet it causes no pain. On the contrary, it soothes pain, reduces inflammation, and heals. No matter how obstinate the sore, Zam-Buk in the end will be found a cure. Many cases supporting this. For eczema, ulcers, eruptions, pustules, blemishes, fistula and piles it is without equal. Also heals cold sores, cracks, chapped hands, cuts, barbed wire scratches, etc. All druggists and stores at 50c. a box, or post free in plain wrapper from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.

INTOXICATED WHILE ON DUTY

Locomotive Engineer Fined $100 and Costs—Pleaded Guilty

Mr. M. McGlade, C. P. R. locomotive engineer of town, pleaded guilty on Friday last before the Police Magistrate of Perth, to being intoxicated while on duty in charge of a freight train. Mr. E. G. Malloch, K. C., Crown Attorney, prosecuted and Mr. Angus McMurchy, who appeared for the C. P. R. Co., stated the facts of the case at the request of the Crown, but did not press for severe punishment. Mr. C. J. Foy appeared for the accused, and pleaded for a lenient sentence.

The Magistrate referred to the serious nature of the offence, and imposed a fine of $100.00 and costs or six months' imprisonment.

The maximum penalty under section 413 of the railway act, is $400 fine or five years' imprisonment or both.—Havelock Standard.

MR. SEXSMITH MAKES SPEECH ON BUDGET

Strong speeches were made in the budget debate by Dr. Chisholm (E. Huron), who analysed and exposed the deceptive bookkeeping methods used in the various departments, and by Mr. Sexsmith (E. Peterborough), who delivered a carefully prepared argument in favor of adequate protection for the wool grower and the woollen industry. Replying to an interruption by Mr. Low (S. Renfrew), who claimed that Great Britain had established her supremacy in the woollen trade under free trade, Mr. Sexsmith cited various statutes passed by the Parliament of England since the days of Edward III., which showed that the industry has been fostered for centuries by a high protective tariff and that at one time the penalty of death has been imposed upon those who exported wool from the Kingdom.

* * * *

Mr. Sexsmith (East Peterborough), speaking as a farmer, complained of the scant consideration given to the farming industry by the Laurier Government. The importance of the woollen industry was cleverly and forcibly emphasized by Mr. Sexsmith, who pointed out that one-ninth of the population of Great Britain was directly employed in the textile industry. "The most absolute protection ever afforded in any country," he declared, "was the protection formerly afforded to the woollen industry in Great Britain. That industry has done as much to enrich the British Empire as any other."

He enlarged upon the importance which the United States and other countries attached to this particular industry, and urged the Government to do something to stimulate and build it up. "This industry," he concluded, "has not received fair treatment at the hands of the Government. I contend it is the greatest industry in any part of the civilized world, and that adequate protection from the producer to the manufacturer would have a good result and mean millions of dollars to the farmers of Canada." The debate will be resumed to-morrow.

Mrs. Auld Wilson Dead.

Winnipeg, Jan. 14.—The death occurred yesterday morning of Mrs. Mary Shaw Auld Wilson, aged 71 years, wife of John E. Wilson. For over 20 years she was a resident of Galt, Ont., and the Muskoka Lakes, and also lived for three years in Toronto.

Farmer Committed Suicide.

Petrolea, Jan. 14.—The inquest held yesterday into the death of James Grey, found dead in the stall of his barn Wednesday, ended with a verdict that he committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. He leaves a wife and five children, the oldest fourteen years old.

NOTES OF THE DAY

O. H. Phillips, chief engineer of the steamer Strathcona, took his life at Port Colborne.

An explosion believed to be that of gas, wrecked Tuson's floral establishment in Windsor.

No poison was found in the stomach of the child found buried in a soap box at Port Hope.

Emily West, a domestic in the employ of C. Larke, of Colborne, was found dead in bed.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, of Wardsville, Ont., have celebrated their golden wedding.

THE GREAT BRITISH BUDGET FIGHT STARTED THIS MORNING

Chamberlain, Hills and Guinness Went in Yesterday by Acclamation and To-day Voting in Big Industrial Centres Began.

London, Jan. 15.—Last night witnessed the close of the Parliamentary election campaign. It has been fought on an issue entirely novel to the people of these times—an issue that has not been raised before in 300 years; and it has been fought with an intensity of conviction, energy and bitterness unparalleled in Great Britain in the present generation. Even the Gladstonian home rule campaign, which came near destroying the Liberal party, failed to arouse the political factions to anything like their present vehemence.

The conflict that opened the ballot boxes yesterday for the first general election since 1906 is a death struggle between the two great political parties in the state—the aristocrats and the democrats. "Vote to protect the vote" is the exhortation addressed to the people last night by the leading Liberal organ, and it then succinctly portrays how the conflict presents itself to the Liberals. On the opposing side is ranged every possible influence in support of the privilege classes.

Proof that the struggle is concentrated in the demand of the House of Commons for a limitation of the powers of the peers may be found in the fact that all attempts to make home rule and the danger of the dissolution of the union a factor in the contest have proved unavailable. The British elector, so far as at present may be judged, declines to concern himself greatly with home rule, and its alleged dangers.

The Weekly Spectator, a free trade organ, representative of moderate men of both parties, makes a last despairing appeal last night to the Unionist free traders to vote against the Government and risk a return of the protectionist party, rather than to endanger the integrity of the kingdom, which, it says, is in far greater peril than ever before, owing to the apathy the country displays toward the Irish question.

Balfour has not given the slightest indication of the details of his intended tariff, except that he committed himself to the assurance that no duty would be placed on raw cotton.

The campaign has been notable for the enormous use of picture posters and similar devices. The tariff reformers even opened shops in different district in order to display samples of foreign imports "dumped" into England. This led to amusing incidents—the discovery of one case that an alleged American chair really had been made in London.

The question of the cost of food in the United States and Germany also was illustrated in a similar manner. There were displays of British and German bread as object lessons, and there was much trouble over the Liberal allegations that the German poor subsisted on unpalatable black bread and horseflesh. Then a German baker in London came forward to testify that the alleged black rye bread was a luxury, and that he had a contract to supply it regularly to Buckingham Palace.

The Liberals tried hard to avoid one of their greatest dangers, triangular contests due to the intrusion of Laborites; but despite their efforts, there still are fifty seats where there is a possibility of the Liberal constituencies returning in Unionist members through this cause.

The House of Commons consists of 670 members. Three candidates were returned unopposed yesterday by the Unionists, leaving 667 seats to be filled during the general election. Of those England will return 462, Wales 30, Scotland 72, and Ireland 103. When Parliament was dissolved last Monday, the composition of the House was as follows:

Ministerialists: Liberals, 365; Labor, 53; Nationalists, 81; Socialist, 1. Total 500.

Unionists, 168.

Ministerial majority 332.

Three to nothing in favor of the Unionists is the tally at the end of the first day of the elections.

Joseph Chamberlain, for Birmingham West, the high priest of tariff reform, was the first man entitled by this voting to append the letters "M.P." to his name, though, because of failing health, he never will be able to take his seat in the House. The other two successful ones were John Waller Hills for Durham City, and Hon. Walter Guinness for Bury St. Edmunds.

The first real test of strength is on to-day, when a dozen London constituencies and such industrial centres as Manchester, Birmingham, Bolton and Wolverhampton are voting.

Should Lancashire, heretofore, regarded as an impregnable free trade fortress, give a notable measure of support of tariff reform, the candidates of the present party of protection will be entitled to regard victory as within their grasp. The Unionist agents actually claim that they will gain fourteen seats in Lancashire.

Lord Lansdowne is now credited with the worst bunder yet made by the Conservatives by declaring in a speech last night, in reply to a question concerning the Conservatives' attitude toward the old-age pensions, that he did not "suppose" anyone claimed that future administrations would not be entitled to modify the conditions under which these pensions are awarded."

The Liberals are scattering the statement broadcast, declaring that it means that the Conservatives favor decreasing future old-age pensions. The effect has been to infuriate the workingmen, and many think that the blunder will change 500,000 votes.

The cotton spinners of the Lancashire districts employing approximately 1,000,000 men, raised their voice against the adoption of a protective policy.

LITTLE ONES HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN TORONTO SCHOOL

Pluck of Woman Teacher Saves Children From Death—Afraid She Could Not Get Out With Her Charges Miss Stanbury Dropped Them One by One Out a Window.

Toronto, Jan. 15.—The much-boasted fire drill of Toronto school children met with only partial success in a small but terrifying blaze which broke out in the front hall of the St. Clair avenue school at 9.25 yesterday morning. Breaking out through a cold air flue by reason of a defect in the hot-air furnace piping, the fire threw a roaring blaze across the path of those who sought exit by the front door.

Three of five who jumped or were lowered from a side window on the first floor were slightly injured, while all but 15, led by Miss Stanbury, their plucky teacher, made their way to safety past the roaring blaze, which looked more terrible than it really was. The remaining 10, who turned back, were safe when the flames had been extinguished by the janitress and several of the larger boys working with the fire-extinguishers provided. The resulting damage was but $250 and the school will be re-opened on Monday morning.

The pupils at the rear of the line which Miss Stanbury was leading past the flames to the door lost their nerve and turned screaming back to their class room on the first floor. The teacher having seen all of her charges safely past the flames who would go, turned back herself and went to quell the panic. Not knowing how rapidly the flames might make headway, she was reduced to heroic measures, and, opening one of the windows, she proceeded to drop the little tots out of the windows into eager arms outstretched to receive them. In this way four were dropped and all but one were caught.

Clayton Patterson was missed by those below and his spine was so severely injured that he had to be carried to his home nearby, and Harold Taylor, whose ankle was wrenched as he was caught, was also taken home. Sva Patterson was also shaken up, as was Kenneth Taylor. Tom Majury, who jumped into a snowdrift, escaped uninjured.

By this time the little force of volunteer firemen had put out the blaze and those who remained within were able to walk quietly out.

Principal Gray with Jack Kitchen, a boy in his room on the ground floor who discovered the blaze, sounded the alarm. The school is a two-storey structure, at which 140 children attend. These are taught in four rooms, two on each floor, and the smaller children, under Miss Stanbury and Miss Sloan, occupy those on the upper floor. The very smallest of the primary grade are on the ground floor, with the oldest class under Principal Gray. These little tots were able to get out through a rear door near which their room is situated.

The fire protection is of the poorest. All the houses on the street are supplied from a two-inch pipe and the nearest fire alarm is over 400 yards distant. There are no fire-escapes and the stairs are of wood.

WESTERN LIBERAL DISCUSSES FREE TRADE IN THE HOUSE

Long-Forgotten Grit Plank is Brought to Light by Mr Clark of Red Deer, Alta.—He Sharply Criticizes Mr. Fielding and Generally Does Things.

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—That rara avis, an undiluted Liberal free trader, cropped up in Parliament yesterday afternoon in the person of Michael Clark of Red Deer, Alberta, an Englishman, who settled in the west nine years ago. It led him into an uncompromising disagreement with the Minister of Finances upon the question of bounties. Mr. Fielding, in the budget speech, drew analogies between bounties to iron and steel, and bounties or subsidies to railways. Dr. Clark repudiated this analogy, pointing out that giving bounties to iron and steel was giving bounties to articles which could be imported, whereas ready-made railroads could not be imported.

T. W. Crothers, West Elgin, suggested that Dr. Clark should hold a series of revival meetings and get his Liberal friends back to the principles of 1896, from which they had departed. If the people had accepted the principles of the Liberal party, Canada would have been an annex of the United States to-day, politically as well as commercially.

Mr. Crothers disputed the claim of the Government members that the prosperity of Canada was due to the political sagacity of the present administration, and contended that every great project for the development of the country had been conceived and executed by the Conservative party.

Another excellent speech which was much appreciated was that of Mr. Congdon, member for the Yukon, who dealt with the situation in that Territory in a more illuminative way than it has ever been handled before. The Yukon, he declared, far from being played out as a gold producer, was only on the threshold of development, and, speaking with the knowledge of one who has studied the subject, he predicted that within 25 years Canada would be first among the mineral-producing countries.

C. A. Magrath, Medicine Hat, with reference to Mr. Fielding's announcement of the surplus from the post-office department, challenged the policy of the administration. The late Conservative Government had been criticized for having a deficit, but he considered that no intelligent Government would turn the shekels of the postoffice into other departments. He did not believe in the attempt to make the postoffice a money-making business. The profits should be spent in the development of postal facilities.

Talking of the outside civil service, he thought something should be done to make these men more independent. Occasionally he visited the public accounts committee, and he saw some things that were not agreeable to him as a citizen of this country. For instance, he believed that as a witness an outside civil servant had juggled with the truth. He was at the mercy of the Minister gazing into his face. The whole system was wrong.

Mr. Paquet (L'Islet) hoped that a French-Canadian would be appointed to the I.C.R. board of management, and Mr. Turcotte (Nicolet) approved of the Government's naval policy.

John Best (Dufferin) and Mr. Sharpe of Lisgar also spoke, the former making his maiden speech.

SHIPYARD AT MONTREAL?

Rumor That Warships Will be Built in That City.

Montreal, Jan. 15.—There is a growing belief that the two shipbuilding points in Canada will be in Montreal and on the Dartmouth side of Halifax harbor, where Swan & Hunter purchased a site some time ago. It is said in Montreal that the Government will not subsidize any steel shipbuilding plant, but will ask for tenders for the construction of war vessels both here and in the old country, believing that if the work can be done in the Dominion, even for 25 per cent. more than abroad, the people would justify the additional expenditure.

The announced arrival of the leading shipbuilder of Glasgow in this city to-day would appear to indicate that Montreal has been fixed upon as one of the great shipbuilding centres of the country. Then it is stated that Swan & Hunter will spend a million on the proposed Dartmouth plant, and that in a year's time they will be able to construct first-class cruisers as well as merchant ships.

It is also understood that the Dominion Iron & Steel Co. will add a plate mill to their establishment at Sydney, the product to enter into the construction of war vessels at both Montreal and Halifax harbor.

Then another important announcement is made to the effect that Maxim, Son & Co. will build an establishment here, as well as the proposed dock, and that they expect to be in a position to carry on all kinds of steel work, besides steel vessels and war ships, on the St. Lawrence in the east end of Montreal.

JUDGE HAS PASSED AWAY

His Honor Judge Hodgins Died at Toronto Yesterday.

Toronto, Jan. 15.—His Honor Thomas Hodgins, M.A., LL.D., judge of the Admiralty Division of the Exchequer Court, and Master in Ordinary of the Supreme Court of Ontario, died suddenly at his home, 23 Bloor street west, yesterday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock, while endeavoring to answer the telephone. He had been ill with stomach trouble and in bed for some days, but got up to speak to someone who had called him up, but fell in a faint owing to heart failure, and passed away without regaining consciousness.

Judge Hodgins was the son of William Hodgins and Frances Doyle, and was born in Dublin in 1838. In 1842 he emigrated to Canada.

His education was obtained in Bristol, Eng., and in the University of Toronto, in which he won the university scholarship in civil polity and history, and from which he was graduated in 1856 as a bachelor of arts with first-class honors. He was granted the degree of bachelor of laws in 1858, that of master of arts in 1860, and that of doctor of laws, honoris causa, in 1906. He was called to the Bar in 1858, was appointed Queen's counsel for the Dominion in 1873, and for Ontario in 1876. In 1874 he was elected a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada. In 1876 and again in 1893 he was chosen a member of the senate of the University of Toronto.

The affiliation of the University of Toronto with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge was arraigned by Dr. Hodgins. He was the one also who investigated the claims of the University of Toronto against the Government, as a result of which there was added to the university's endowment 150,000 acres of land and to its income $7,000 a year.

In 1878, he was engaged as counsel, in association with Sir Oliver Mowat, in the arbitration proceedings over the matter of the boundary of Ontario. He entered the Ontario Legislature as member for West Elgin in 1871, and held his seat till 1878, in which year he contested West Toronto for the Dominion House of Commons in the Liberal interest, and he ran for West York in a similar way in 1882.

ENGLISH ARROGANCE IS VERY UNPOPULAR

London, Jan. 15.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—In connection with the proposed public School League of the Empire, Field Marshal Lord Roberts has written a meeting of headmasters at the Guildhall to the effect that while in Canada, attending the Tercentenary in 1908, he noticed with painful surprise that the Canadian did not always view the Englishman with unalloyed satisfaction.

"It must be remembered," wrote the observant Bobs, "that Canadians cannot put up with the arrogance shown in the English belief that young men with colonial ways are not so good as the English."

YALE CHAIR WILL HONOR EDITOR LAFFAN

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 15.—A gift of $100,000 from J. Pierpont Morgan for the establishment of the William M. Laffan professorship of Assyriology and Babylonian literature at Yale University was received by the Yale corporation at its meeting yesterday and and accepted. The gift is a memorial to Mr. Laffan, editor of The New York Sun, who died recently.

Five Perish In Fire.

Saskatoon, Sask., Jan. 15.—As the result of a fire which broke out yesterday morning shortly after seven o'clock in the shack of a homesteader named Henderson, situated on the west side of the town, his wife and her two children, together with the two children of a man named Alexander Reid, are dead. Reid is probably fatally burned.

CANADIAN CREAM GOES TO STATES

Chatham, Jan. 15.—At the inaugural meeting of the water board Chairman Westman gave notice of a motion to abolish the minimum rate to house holders of $1.15 a month, putting the meter system into immediate force. The other members agreed.

Cream and butter have gone up to prices that are almost prohibitive in this, the biggest market in Western Ontario. Butter is now 28c a pound. It is due to enormous recent shipments of cream to the States.

JOHN PETTIGREW BRAKEMAN ON G.T.R. KILLED

Owen Sound, Jan. 15.—John Pettigrew, aged about 27 years, was killed at Hanover yesterday morning while shunting a Grand Trunk train. He was a passenger brakeman, running between Owen Sound and Stratford, and was only married last July. The remains were taken to Holstein.

Mr. Baker Seriously Ill.

London, Jan. 15.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Archer Baker of the C.P.R., is seriously ill with pneumonia, and yesterday was reported as very weak. He was only recently married.

Broker Expelled for Fraud.

New York, Jan. 15.—K. K. Jenkins, a stock broker on the Consolidated Exchange since 1883, was yesterday expelled from the exchange on the charge of fraud.

WIDOW SAYS MONTREAL MAN SWINDLED HER

Windsor, Jan. 15.—A part in proceedings brought by Mrs. Victoria C. Dray, a handsome young widow of this city, against J. D. Kuppenheimer of Montreal, now charged with swindling her out of $2,000.

She met Kuppenheimer in Montreal, when he said he owned an island in the St. Lawrence, near Montreal, and he was its ruling prince. He afterwards introduced a woman as his wife, and the princess of the island. He wanted Mrs. Dray to invest money in the Draper Co., Limited, of Montreal, with offices in Toronto and Detroit. Among Toronto names he gave as members of company were: Dr A. H. Garratt, Peter Altink, Messrs. Derrick and Ballinger. Mrs. Dray invested $2,000, and was given a position as traveling saleslady at $40 weekly.

Drapers, Limited, was organized under the laws of Canada in February, 1909, with a capital of $100,000. A. W. Draper of Toronto was president and general manager. He claimed to have discovered an indestructible ink. The entire stock of the company was under his name, with the exception of one share, held by Kuppenheimer.

The firm recently opened a branch factory in Detroit, and since then creditors of company it is charged have found that there has been shrinkage in stock, with $12,000 unaccounted for.

FREIGHT THIEVES RECEIVE SENTENCE

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 15.—Magistrate Fraser yesterday passed sentence on the freight car thieves arrested last week.

R. R. Bentley, married, with four children, first offence, was allowed suspended sentence. Ben Warren got a year in the Central; Wm. Leach, for receiving stolen goods, six months, and Clarence Stevens, the ringleader, three years in penitentiary.

Joseph Quaglarcello, an Italian, brought back from Pittsburg for passing forged notes, was sentenced to nine months. F. W. Griffith, his counsel, pleaded that he had been a victim of Jack Flynn's gambling den on the New York side and suggested that, as his client said Flynn had committed the forgeries, he should be extradited on that charge, and then held for his alleged part in the big express robbery.

WOULD MURDER THE HEIRS OF A RICH MAN

Kansas City, Jan. 15.—"An arrest probably will be made in a few days," said John H. Atwood, an attorney for the Swope family yesterday, regarding the investigation of the death of Col. Thomas H. Swope, an aged philanthropist.

Col. Swope's death on Oct. 3, was at first attributed to apoplexy, but a quick succession of deaths and illness among heirs of the Swope estate led to an investigation, culminating in the exhuming of the body of Col. Swope, and the submitting of his stomach to chemical analysis.

The alleged murder plot has for its supposed end the extermination of all the Swope heirs.

It is stated that shortly before Christian Swope's death, which occurred Dec. 2, a man visited the office of a well-known bacteriologist in Kansas City, and procured some typhoid fever germs. With these it is asserted the man hoped to inoculate members of the Swope family.

During December, six members of the Swope household became ill with typhoid fever.

EARLY CLOSING BY-LAW FIGHT

Montreal, Jan. 15.—The liquor people are fighting the early closing bylaw with the greatest possible energy.

Yesterday they succeeded in having the city attorneys declare the bylaw illegal, consequently it could not be brought before the council as expected. There is no doubt that the majority would have voted in favor of the measure.

Then, Manager Weldon of the Windsor, has taken proceedings against all the aldermen who voted the second reading of the Carter measure. W. J. White, K.C., being his counsel. The claim is made that the measure is a direct attack against a business in which millions of capital is engaged, and which means the ruin of many citizens.

Found Frozen to Death.

Elora, Jan. 15.—James Ferguson, a retired farmer, about 65 years of age, was found yesterday afternoon in a field on the Ewing's farm, near Salem, frozen to death.

It is supposed that on his way home Thursday night he took the wrong turn and was overcome by the storm.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

New York is to have a new post-office to cost $3,500,000.

A free dispensory for tuberculosis patients will be opened at St. John, N.B.

Victoria, B.C., ratepayers defeated a bylaw to grant a civic site to a private theatre company.

It is officially recorded that Paulhan, in his aeroplane flight at Los Angeles, ascended 4,165 feet.

William Bradley will be tried for the murder of George Bulman at Merritton at the Spring Assizes.

The adoption of the 58-hours-a-week law has caused a number of minor strikes in Massachusetts' print and cotton mills.

Five hundred thousand dollars damage was done by fire in the drapery shops of Evans & Co., High road, London, Eng.

A one-pound shell, a relic of the Spanish war, exploded in a house near the naval hospital at Portsmouth, Va., wrecking a house and injuring three people.

The owner of a Chinese restaurant at Kingston stands accused of allowing liquor to be drunk on his premises by men at lunch. The diners brought beer in with them.

James Farrell of Streetsville was fined $50 and costs for selling liquor without a license on Dec. 22. A second charge of selling on New Year's Day is to be opened.

The banking and commerce committee of the Commons yesterday passed the bill of the Union Life Assurance Co., which increases the capital of the company to $100,000 and gives the company power to appoint advisory boards.

TRY A REVIEW WANT AD.

WAS FREED ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 15.—James Weir, alias Jack Kenward, who came here from the vicinity of Cornwall, Ont., where he deserted a wife and child, and married a Detroit girl, and who was shot by a local detective while trying to escape after having been arrested on a charge of bigamy preferred by his second wife, was discharged from custody yesterday. The complainant, Miss Meikle, failed to appear to prosecute. At the time Weir was shot, it was believed that he could not recover. Miss Mejkle went to the hospital and they became friendly again.

INSURANCE BILL IN THE SENATE

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—The Senate committee yesterday passed clause 1 of the Insurance Bill. It deals with interpretation of terms only. There was a long discussion as to whether the bill should be divided into fire and life sections. Senator G. W. Ross strongly advocating it. The matter was left in abeyance till Wednesday.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

"Reformer" Files Burned.

Galt, Jan. 15.—Inspector Stark of the provincial board of health is in the adjacent township to make enquiry into hydrophobia outbreak.

Fire in The Reformer office destroyed the files of the newspaper for the past 40 years.

300 Miners' Lucky Escape.

Trinidad, Colo., Jan. 15.—An explosion followed by fire occurred yesterday in the Dermind Mine, 18 miles from here. It is said 300 men were in the mine, but the fire was quickly extinguished with no fatalities.

Canadians Came High.

Boston, Jan. 15.—The state yesterday enforced the contract labor law against Amede Bellaire and Aime Richaud, employes of the Manchaug Cotton Mills of Manchaug, Worcester County, who paid $5,000 each for bringing five aliens from Riviere de Loup, Quebec, to work in the mills two years ago.

Fire Chief Was Justified.

Montreal, Jan. 15.—Sub-Chief Briere of the fire department, who knocked down an ambulance driver at a fire recently was acquitted of a charge of assault yesterday on the ground that two drivers were pulling at an injured fireman, and that he was justified in protecting his men.

To Get Men for Missions.

St. John, N.B., Jan. 15.—Bishop Richardson will probably visit England this year in order to secure more men for mission work in the Anglican dioceses of New Brunswick. The Home Mission Board favors this action.

To Advertise Alberta.

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 15.—The Provincial Government has arranged to maintain a publicity office at the Union Depot in Toronto as one feature of a publicity campaign in which they will probably expend $25,000 in an effort to bring the population of the province up to 400,000.

Traveler Loses His Samples.

Belleville, Jan. 15.—A commercial traveler, who is on the road for a Hamilton firm, lost a grip here and $200 worth of costly silverware. The grip was lost at the local station, and the loss was not discovered till the traveler reached Port Hope. It is still missing.

Three Die In New York Storm.

New York, Jan. 15.—A fall of 12 inches of snow occurred yesterday. Three persons died in the storm from exposure and lack of nourishment.

A threatened strike among the laborers of the street cleaning department was averted.

Publicity For Guelph.

Guelph, Jan. 15.—The railway and manufacturers' committee of the city council yesterday afternoon discussed the employment of a publicity commissioner and the establishment of a publicity bureau.

Railway Mail Clerks Ask Increase.

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—H. B. McGiverin, M.P., introduced, and many members accompanied a deputation of railway mail clerks, which waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux yesterday. They asked that the maximum be increased from $1,200 to $1,500, and that a flat increase of $150 be granted all ground.

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA

The yearly statement of this institution will be found in another columns. That this old and prosperous Bank should have so small a "notes and bills overdue" item as $2,230.50 is remarkable. It shows the care with which the bank's business is conducted. The special bonus to clerks and junior managers is another and gratifying indication of the bank's prosperity. In Peterborough Mr. J. Ferguson, the popular and capable manager of the local branch, reports a steady and satisfactory progress.

Mr. McLeod, the general manager, has the distinction of seeing his pamphlet on government inspection of bankingogo to a 4th edition. Most people are aware now at least that Mr. McLeod has been the advocate of a safeguarding of the interests of the people and of the banks they do business with by government inspection. It is better to inspect before than after the wreck. This is brief is his idea, and, needless to say, it is a good one.

THE CHURCH AND THE MASSES

As a rule, parsons object to any criticism of the church, taking it often as mere ignorant comment, and quite as often as bumptious impertinence. The Westminster, however, is not in accord with this view of the clergy, evidently, for it has an excellent article in its January number on "The Church and the Masses" by Frederick Urry. Mr. Urry says: "For that she (the Church) practically fails in her mission is obvious to all impartial students of our times, and no question could be discussed to greater advantage by Christian men than the question before us." He declares that the Church fails, where she does fail, because she fails to realize the full glory and privilege of her mission. Feuds and persecutions and the spectacle of a "divided, mutilated Church has thus presented to the masses an object of scorn" The division of forces has told heavily against the churches, but denominational pride, together with creed and church government are apparently more to be desired and gratified than unity and effectiveness. "Paul rebuked the Corinthians because some cried 'I am of Paul' and others I am of Apollos.' It is a case, then, often, of the blind trying to lead the blind. But the need of a united testimony is great. There are not different schools in astronomy, in the desire for the good or in the computation of time. Nor is there any more reason for a full-fledged equipment for the propagation of diverse ideas of God and His Son. Mr. Urry contends that the masses are passing by the rivalry of the churches and leaving them to fight it out, while they address themselves to more important issues.

AN ISSUE SIDE-STEPPED

It will be noted that Sir Wilfrid has been most careful to assure some members of his party that his Naval Bill has no reference to the (hated) fleet-unit, a unit being part of a unity—of empire. To put on record the policy of unity of empire would defeat the cherished aims and plans of a large and controlling portion of the Canadian electorate. The proverbial child can see that every time Borden or Asquith brought the Laurier horse to this barrier it balked and refused to take it, since if once over there is not getting back. Our safety lies in the unity of empire for defensive purposes. It is a plan like that of the federation of the U. S., many on one and one in many. It is compatible with the largest local freedom and the most general purposes of defence. It is the one plan that provides a cheap, since united, system of resistance. What would be thought of Indiana or Pennsylvania insisting on an independent fleet?

WHAT N. E. CANADA IS AND IS LIKE

It has remained a matter largely of mystery or ignorance in the Canadian mind what the topographical and geological features of North-eastern and Arctic Canada really are, notwithstanding the reports of our explorers, notably Mr. A. P. Low, F.R.G.S., who in the Neptune in 1903-4 devoted himself so successfully to this task. The general appearance of the country may be summed up in the words "desolation" and "loneliness," the former word giving an idea of the appearance of the country, and the latter of the life of the people. Incidentally it may be remarked that whales are chiefly killed by being driven up the river months at full tide, and kept there until the tide ebbs, when the mammals become stranded and are easily dispatched. Shores everywhere are bold, picturesque and rocky. The tide is high in Hudson Straits, and in its ebb and flow produces many dangerous currents. The great Southampton Island is largely limestone. Deep bays and high promontories are characteristic of both north and east. Baffin Land and Ellesmere Island present the usual characteristics. Granite and limestone are the characteristic rocks. The country inland is flat or slightly rolling and barren. The value of the sub-arctics consists in their fisheries and fur-bearing animals. To sum up geologically it may be said that glacial and post-glacial deposits rest upon archaean and tertiary strata. The striations are very fresh in appearance and the rock surface, as a consequence, is quite bare.

MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

The annual statement of the Royal Bank of Canada, out to-day, makes a very interesting exhibit, and should prove very satisfactory to the shareholders of the Bank.

This year the statements of all the leading financial industries have been attracting more than the usual interest, owing to the fact that as the money rates were, for a great part of the year, very low, as compared with previous years many of the banks found it difficult to make anything like as good a showing as they had in the past.

The Royal Bank figures indicate that the bank must have been particularly fortunate in the class of business it handled during the year, as the net profits which amounted to $838,306, showed an increase of close to $100,000, as compared with the previous year. This was equal to 18.08 per cent. on the average paid up capital of the bank for the year, of $24,636,000.

As indicating the rapid progress the bank is making throughout the country, very large increases are shown in all classes of deposits, those bearing interest here increased during the year by over $11,000,000, from $24,300,725 to $33,456,628, while the deposits not bearing interest advanced from $13,090,264 to $16,955,930, making an increase for the year in the total deposits of over $14,000,000.

A very strong feature, as indicated by the statement, is that notwithstanding this large increase in deposits, there was also a marked increase in the percentage of quick assets, these now being equal to over 50 per cent., as compared with 52.62 per cent. at the close of the last fiscal year. This large increase in the deposits naturally resulted in very substantial gains, not only in the current, but more especially in the call loans. These call and short loans on stocks and bonds at the close of the present fiscal year, amounted to $9,638,309.62, as compared with $3,286,141.29, an increase of over $6,000,000 for the year, while the current loans now stand at $33,644,705.10 as against $26,736,164.99 at the close of the last fiscal year.

An issue of stock made with a very substantial premium during the year, has resulted in an increase in both the paid up capital and reserve fund, the paid up capital now standing at $5,000,000 and the reserve fund at $5,700,000, an increase for the year of $1,100,000.

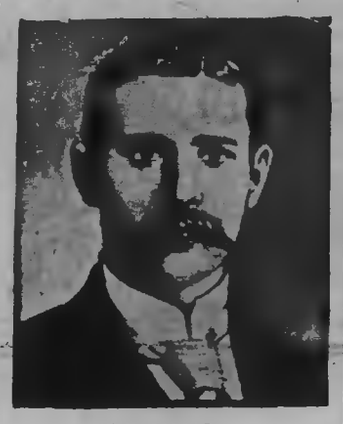
Recommended As An Ideal Remedy



W. S. BOND, Esq.

Lloydtown, Ont., March 19th, 1909.

"For some years I have been greatly troubled with headaches and indigestion, brought on by stomach disorders, constipation and biliousness. I had tried many remedies with only indifferent success, until "Fruit-a-tives" came to my notice. Being a general storekeeper, I was selling a good many "Fruit-a-tives" to my customers and, remarking how pleased they were with the results obtained from using "Fruit-a-tives," I decided to try them and, I might say, the effects were almost magical. Headaches and biliousness disappeared and to-day I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to my customers as 'An ideal remedy.'

"I might also add that about three years ago I was laid up with LUMBAGO AND SCIATICA—couldn't get out of bed or lift one foot over the other. A good treatment of "Fruit-a-tives" cured me of these pains and banished the Sciatica and Lumbago so that to-day I am as well as ever and can lift anything necessary."

EDITORIAL NOTES

The House of Lords has been very largely recruited from the Radicals during the last four years.

The advent of large sums of (borrowed) money has increased the cost of living accordingly. Grit schemes of finance are beyond compare.

France is in a state of open war against the Catholic church. The public school question has precipitated the crisis.

Mr. Sexsmith, M.P., is making a name for himself as a debater of strength and knowledge of his subject.

The News' editorials are to our mind equal to anything journalistic on this continent. The writer has the knack of quietly getting at the "seat of the trouble," and laying it bare to his readers.

Its amusing to read the remarks of some journals on the "high note" which Sir Wilfrid Laurier strikes in his speeches. It alternates between chivalry and duty. The journals of which speak seem never to have read or heard of these things before.

It is a curious phase of human nature that some people like to keep before the public their affection for their dead. This is the meaning of much of the 'In Memoriam' poetry that fills the obituary columns of the newspapers. Parading grief to keep it warm is a form of hysteria.

We are informed by a westerner that the true intent and meaning of the American invasion of the west is a speculative desire to possess the good cheap lands of the Canadian west, after which the American shows a tendency to go home again and wait for the Canadian railway building jackass to put his shoulder to the wheel and boost prices again. The westerner is connected with the administration of law, and his regretful declaration that things out west are not by any means as depicted in the newspapers, is a warning to our people to let well enough alone and to stay at home.

La Patrie, while grumbling over the expense of a Canadian Navy, does not conceal its satisfaction with the Laurier Navy compromise. It is no doubt the parliamentary string that pleases it. Of the French people we cannot speak too highly, but they are not brothers either by blood or adoption. It is not our fault. They will not admit that we are Canadians. They alone deserve the name, they think. Else why do they so ardently desire to maintain the Frech type? If its the hated English language that stands in the way, let it be understood that we are not strictly chargeable with speaking good English, if that is any consolation to them.

BRODEUR GONE, AYLESWORTH GOING AND BELAND AND GUTHRIE IN THE CABINET

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—It was stated to the correspondent of the World authoratively this evening that Hon. L. P. Brodeur has seen the last of public life. Just as soon as his condition will permit, he will be removed south, and will spend a few months or longer in the West Indies.

Mr. Brodeur's retiral from parliament will be followed almost immediately by the retiral of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, whose hearing is gradually growing worse.

The Minister of Justice is now seldom in the House, and the World is informed to-night that he will resign before the fisheries case comes befor the Hague Tribunal.

Thus some important changes will be made very shortly in the Dominion Cabinet.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, postmaster-general, will become Minister of Marine and Fisheries in succession to Mr. Brodeur.

Hon. Charles Murphy, Secretary of State, will become Minister of Justice.

Hon. Wm. Templeman, Minister of Inland Revenue, will become Postmaster-General, and his successor as head of the Inland Revenue Department willbe Dr. H. S. Beland, of Beauce, a young French-Canadian member, who has shown some judgment and ability.

Hugh Guthrie, of South Wellington, will very probably become Secretary of State, in succession to Mr. Murphy.

He has the definite promise that he will be given the first Ontario vacancy in the Cabinet, which should make the position a certainty for him. There is no man of greater ability amongst the younger generation of Liberals.

Mr. M. McBlade, a C.P.R. locomotive engineer, of town, pleaded guilty on Friday last before the police magistrate of Perth to being intoxicated while on duty, in charge of a freight train. Mr. E. G. Mallock, K.C., Crown Attorney, prosecuted, and Mr. Angus McMurchy, who appeared for the C.P.R. Co., stated the facts of the case at the request of the Crown, but did not press for severe punishment. Mr. C. J. Foy appeared for the accused and pleaded for a lenient sentence. The magistrate referred to the serious nature of the offence, and imposed a fine of $100 and costs or six months imprisonment.

VETERANS' TRIBUTE TO LEE.

Most Impressive Scene of the Civil War Was That After Surrender of Appomattox.

Men who saw the defeated general when he came forth from the chamber where he had signed the articles of capitulation say that he paused a moment as his eyes rested once more on the Virginia hills; smote his hands together as though in some excess of inward agony, then mounted his gray horse, Traveler, and rode calmly away.

If that was the very Gethsemane of his trials, yet he must have had then one moment of supreme, if chastened, joy. As he rode quietly down the lane leading from the scene of capitulation, he passed into view of his men—of such as remained of them. The news of the surrender had got abroad and they were waiting, grief-stricken and dejected, upon the hillsides, when they caught sight of their commander on the gray horse. Then ensued one of the most notable scenes of the history of the war. In an instant they were about him, bareheaded, with tear-wet eyes; thronging him, kissing his hand his boots, his saddle; weeping; cheering him amid their tears; shouting his name to the very skies. He said: "Men, we have fought through the war together; I have done my best for you; my heart is too full to say more."—From "Robert E. Lee, the Southerner," by Thomas Nelson Page, published by Scribner's.

WANTED HIS FAVORITE ALIVE.

Peculiar Order Placed by Small Devotee of Popular "Alice in Wonderland."

The son and heir is seven years old—old enough to spell out, with helps over the hard words, "Alice in Wonderland," and to enjoy it hugely, especially the memorable duet between the Mock Turtle and Griffin. Recently, as a great treat, he was permitted to accompany his pretty young aunt to luncheon at one of New York's famous restaurants, and, as a crowning joy, invited to select his own delicacies. Long and earnestly he pondered over the bill of fare; then his eyes grew big and his face illumined as he laboriously read the list of soups.

"Yes, thank you, I've precided what I want," he said with nervous gaiety; then with an impressive knitting of his brows he addressed the attentive waiter: "I'll have one very, very small mock turtle, but don't make it into soup—just bring it along alive and kicking."—Lilian Dynevor Rice in Woman's Home Companion.

Literature and Dreams.

Robert Louis Stevenson owed much of his inspiration to dreams. In one passage he attributed some of his finest work to the "brownies" who tenanted his brain during moments of unconsciousness. "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" owes its origin to a dream. "I had long been trying to write a story on this subject," writes Stevenson, "to find a body, a vehicle, for that strong sense of man's double being which must at times come in upon and overwhelm the mind of every thinking creature.

For two days I went about racking my brains for a plot of any sort; and on the second night I dreamed the scene at the window, and a scene afterward split in two, in which Hyde, pursued for some crime, took the powder and underwent the change in the presence of his pursuers. All the rest was made awake and consciously, although I think I can trace in much of it the manner of my brownies."

Great Things in Little.

The Italians are wonderfully clever in working with the most minute things. A skillful Italian has made a beautiful little boat out of a pearl. The sail is of beaten gold studded with diamonds. A tiny ruby serves as a headlight. The rudder is an emerald, and its stand is a little slab of ivory. The boat weighs less than half an ounce, and is valued at $5,000.

Not to be outdone by a man, an ambitious Italian woman has painted on a canvas, so small that half a grain of corn hides it from view, a windmill with the miller, and a horse and cart with people in the cart.

Some of the Italian mosaic workers in Florence will take bits of stone and glass no larger than grains of mustard seed and fashion them into the most graceful flowers and other designs on shirt studs.—The Sunday Magazine.

When the Deaf Heard.

"I'm stone deaf, your honor," declared a prisoner in the dock at the police court. "I didn't hear a word the officer said about me, and I can't hear what you are saying."

Although the judge raised his voice there was nothing doing from the prisoner. He only shook his head wearily. Finally the judge turned to the officer and said, almost in a whisper: "He was drunk when arrested, wasn't he?"

"I only had one glass of beer," said the prisoner, quickly, in an injured tone, and everyone laughed.

Sustaining Life.

Mrs. Andrew Crosse in her "Reminiscences" describes an old nurse, born at Broomfield, England, who lived to be nearly 100. "All her life she had had a dew bit and breakfast, a stay and dinner, a nommet and crumpent a bit after supper,' eight meals in all. Possibly this if was her custom to mix together all [illegible] after any illness [illegible] on the road money.

Henry S. Graves is Gifford Pinchot's successor as head of the U.S. forest service.

Trade With United States.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The highest record ever made in trade between Canada and the United States was that of the last calendar year, according to official figures of the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor. Imports from Canada in 1899 aggregated $35,500,000, while in 1909 they increased to $86,000,000. In the same period the exports from the United States to Canada increased from $86,000,000 to about $130,000,000.

Canadian official statistics show that in 1909 60.4 per cent. of all Canadian imports were from the United States, compared with 46.08 per cent. in 1899.

Sees Her Babe Swallow Poison.

Buffalo, Jan. 15.—On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Frieda Buchert fell from the Lackawanna viaduct. When found three hours later her clothing was frozen to the ground and she was unconscious from exposure and the result of her injuries. Last night, while lying helpless in bed she saw her 18-months-old baby pick up a bottle of tincture of opium and drink the poison. A three-year-old child, the only other person in the house, was sent to a neighbor's to call for help. The baby will die.

To Cut a Big Melon.

New York, Jan. 15.—Another "melon" of large proportions—the distribution of $20,000,000 in common stock—is to be given the stockholders of the International Harvester Co. The announcement was made at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., yesterday afternoon.

Cohen Sent to Jail.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—After a brief hearing before a magistrate yesterday afternoon, Ferdinand Cohen, who ran away with Miss Roberta de Janon, was committed to the county prison without bail for a further hearing two weeks from to-day on a charge of kidnapping.

Preyed on Women.

New York, Jan. 15.—The Hoboken police asserted yesterday that "Baron" Emil Karl Von Mueller, just arrested in Los Angeles on a bigamy charge, has victimized no less than fifty women between here and California during the last ten years.

Hurt In a Runaway.

Kingston Jan. 15.—In a runaway Thursday night, Miss M. Bruce of Harrowsmith was thrown against a post and had her left shoulder badly crushed and fractured. A. H. Guess of Murvale had his left hip seriously bruised and injured.

First Giraffe Born In Captivity.

Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 15.—A male giraffe, said to be the first ever born in captvity, was born at Barnum's circus winter quarters here yesterday.

OFFICERS ELECTED ST. LUKE'S A.Y.P.A.

The regular meeting of the A.Y.P.A. of St. Luke's church was held last night, and attended by a large number of members and friends. The special feature of the meeting was the lecture given by Rev. Dr. Marsh on "A Night in the Skies," illustrated by stereoptison views.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt was in the and opened the proceedings with prayer. The business of the society was first transacted. The President, Miss Ethel Pakenham, having removed from Peterborough to Toronto, required the election of a successor. The choice fell upon Mr. Charles Crane; his office of vice-president was given to Mr. Harry Moore, both elections being very heartily endorsed, as both gentlemen are great favourites in the A.Y.P.A.

The programme for next Friday is a sleigh drive to the residence of Mrs. D. Mackey, Douro, where the evening will be spent. The programme last night consisted of the following numbers;—

1. Vocal solo, Miss Quartermaine.
2. Vocal solo, Mr. Harry Moore
3. Lecture, Rev. Dr. Marsh.

The lecture was a great treat to the audience. It was given in a most pleasing manner. The subject itself, very interesting, was made wonderfully clear by the lecturer, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered him by Mr. R. B. Rogers and Mr. Frank Adams. Refreshments were then served. With the National Anthem the meeting closed.

Some Donations

In the list of donations to the House of Providence published in the Review, the following were omitted:—

Mr. McCarthy, goose.
Mr. W. J. Maher, two turkeys.
Mr. J. McKintry, bon-bons and other gifts.
Mr. J. H. McClellan, caddy of tobacco and turkey.
A Friend, two bags of flour.

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION MEANS SICKLY BABIES

The baby who suffers from indigestion is simply starving to death. If it takes food it does the child no good and it is cross, restless and sleepless, and the mother is worn out caring for it. Baby's Own Tablets always cure indigestion, and give the little one healthy, natural sleep. Mrs. A. P. Daigle, Lower Sapin, N. B., says:—"For severe cases of indigestion I think Baby's Own Tablets are worth their weight in gold. My little one suffered terribly from the trouble and the Tablets was the only thing that removed the trouble." REPORT SPEAKS HIGHLY OF THE WORK BEING DONE

In Manual Training and Household Science Departments — Board of Education Advised to Consider the Question of Evening Classes.

The report given below, was received by the secretary of the Board of Education from Mr. H. Q. Colquhoun, Deputy Minister of Education, and read at last night's special meeting of the Board. It is the report of Inspector A. H. Leake, who visited this city for the purpose of learning what progress was being made in these departments.

The report is a high compliment to those in charge.

Mr. D. W. Dumble made a few remarks on the subject of evening classes. He was of the opinion that they would be of great benefit to many young boys.

The report follows:

MANUAL TRAINING.

Mr. Scarrow is doing excellent work. The equipment is in good condition. Accurate records are kept and the room is tidy and neat. The boys are enthusiastic in their work. Although a desirable foundation is being laid for a desirable extension of the work to elementary metal processes. Now that the subject is well established, it would be advisable for the Board to consider the question of evening classes for apprentices and artizans in workshop arithmetic, mechanical drawing and practical bench work.

HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE.

The work here is highly commendable. The equipment is in good condition and carefully looked after. The room requires more frequent scrubbing, and the attention of the caretaker should be called to the necessity of scrupulous cleanliness in the kitchen.

On motion, the report was referred to the Property Committee and the secretary notified to send a copy to the Public School Inspector. The clause pertaining to evening classes to be referred to the Supervision Committee.

THE BEST REASONS WE'VE EVER OFFERED FOR BUYING FURS IN JANUARY

Here are some facts of an astounding nature that every thoughtful person will appreciate and see that it's to their advantage to make an investment in Furs for present and future use.

To-Day Raw Fur Prices are Higher Than They've Been in the History of This Old World of Ours

The increasing demand for Furs all over the world owing to the general betterment of the financial condition of the people, taken with the ever lessening supply of all kinds of Fur-bearing animals, has advanced the prices this year from 15 to 130 per cent. over last year's prices. Some furs will become almost prohibitive to the great mass of people in a very short time, owing to the great advances. Alaska Sable, Mink, Musk, Muskrat, Seal, Fox, Lynx Oppossum, Coon, Badger, Persian Lamb, and Otter are the skins which have made the most radical advances this year.

Last year we purchased extra quantities of Raw Furs at the lowest prices then prevailing, and we are therefore able to give our customers The Best Furs at prices that any wholesale manufacturer would be willing to give for them to-day.

On all Made-up Furs in Stock we will also give during January a speceial discount of from 10 to 25 per cent. off our regular prices.

The discount taken with the advance in prices on Raw Furs for this year will mean

A Saving on Some Furs of Over Half of Next Season's Prices.

Now is the time to buy as stock is well assorted and the selections are "A 1."

To Messrs Tooley and Snowden—Dr. Young's Account Sent Back to Board of Health

The Finance Committee, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, decided to grant the request of Messrs. M. Tooley and Wm. Snowden, who asked to be allowed to take out a pawn broker's license. The statute fixes the fee at $60 per year. There were present, Ald. Bradburn, chairman; Ald. Hicks, Ald. Phelan and Mayor Morrow. While none of those present had any objection to the granting of a license, they were a little dubious as to whether it would be a good thing for the city. Ald. Turner moved that the request be granted, but there was no seconder. Until after the chairman remarked that the motion would be lost without one. Ald. Phelan then seconded the motion.

The membership in the Ontario Municipal Association was renewed.

Ald. Hicks thought a grant of $25 for the Hospital for Sick Children was for a worthy cause, and the mayor seconded his motion that the grant be paid.

The subscription to the Municipal World was renewed.

The chairman brought up the question of dogs running at large. His opinion was that it would be to the best interests of the city if the practice was stopped. No action was taken.

Dr. Young's account of $400 for services rendered the city during the month of May and April last year, was referred back to the Board of Health. The committee would not deal with the account, because the council did not engage Dr. Young. Dr. Bingham made the arrangements with Dr. Young.

UNIONISTS BY ACCLAMATION

John Burns Return in Battersea Regarded as Doubtful

London, Jan. 15.—Seven more unionists, elected by acclamation to-day, from Universities of Oxford, Cambridge and Dublin and the Speaker for Penrith, Patrick O'Brien, a Nationalist, unopposed for Kilkenny, heavy voting being polled. John Burns' return in Battersea is regarded as doubtful.

SOME DONATIONS TO HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE

Through an error in publishing the list of prize winners at the Wimpter Poultry Show, held last week, the name of Jas. Baptie was given as having received first prize for the best dressed turkey. It was Mrs. Wm. Scott, of Smith, who secured this honor, and she is to be congratulated on her success.

DO WE STAND FOR THIS?

The following is part of the leading editorial of Le Canada upon the Laurier Navy Bill:—"The Canadian navy will be under the direct and effective control of the Canadian government, exercised by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, under whose orders will be placed a Director of Naval Affairs who will be a rear-admiral or a captain.

In case of necessity, that is to say, in case of war, invasion, or insurrection, existing or threatening, the governor-general is empowered to put it at the disposition of the Admiralty Board.

* * *

Thus, scrupulously conforming to the terms of the resolution of March 29 the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier proposes to create a squadron of a Canadian navy which will be under the direct control of the Canadian government; in case of necessity CANADA WILL ONLY BE ABLE TO PUT THIS FLEET AT THE DISPOSITION OF THE ENGLISH ADMIRALTY BY RESOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT. (Review Capitals).

It has been pretended that the officers and equipment of the Canadian navy because of the oath of fealty to the King, will be, by that, under the direct orders of the English admiralty.

The plan presented to parliament yesterday REDUCES THIS PRETENTION TO NOTHING.

Canada will do its duty to the empire but it will do it when it sees fit and it will keep absolute control of its navy."

* * *

WHAT IS WRONG?

It is to be feared, says the Mail and Empire, that we are not improving as a people. The criminal statistics show that while in 1899 there were 38,710 convictions in Canada, the number in 1908 reached 88,633. Here is an increase of 50,000 in round figures. There must be something wrong or the growth of crime would not be so considerable.—The Examiner.

Our worthy contemporary surely must know the answer to this alarming question. It knows, but hesitates to face the blame where it truely lies although we must give it full credit for noticing that condition at all. The fact is our immigration has been largely made up of the scum of Europe. Just the other day we quoted from the Globe an editorial warning that the contemplated wholesale invasion of Italians in the spring should be looked to. Montreal is suffering from an epidemic of murderous assaults by foreigners. A condition of terror will shortly possess this country as it does some American states. The truth is the population Canada is becoming infected and degraded. Life is becoming, as Ralph Connor puts it, in his Foreigner, a vile and rotten thing from this same cause. It is high time that we set to work to remedy a state of things that has gone much too far already.

THE EXAMINER'S ATTACK

The Examiner's attack upon the Canadian Club for its supposed laxity and tendency to decay has provoked considerable resentment. The Examiner's article might well have been headed "Pulling to Pieces" instead of "Pulling Together."

But what are the facts? Last year and the year before a large number of addresses were given under the club's auspices to large audiences by such men as John Ewart, K.C.; A. B. Morine, K.C.; Prof. Kylie, Inspector Archibald, etc. It is not possible for any society to be "on tap" or at its best on every occasion, but a careful review of the record of the local club shows that that record is distinctly good and high class. The officers of the club have been alert and painstaking to a degree, and as a complete refutation of the Examiner's heading, it may be stated that they have pulled together, even without a hitch.

Taking a round out of public bodies and local institutions is a favourite pastime of our contemporary, but it does not show that civic patriotism and desire to help, so necessary as a "first aid."

Men will be deterred from attempting to carry on these works of light and leading, if, in case of somebody's choosing to think them a fair butt for caustic criticism, the arduous work of years is to recoil upon the heads of the workers in the form of an attack upon their "inactivity" and supposed stup dity.

It will be found, also, that those who do most criticizing attend least. If they "took a hand" in these works of love to a greater extent they might be prepared—to say less.

The attack was perhaps not the less extraordinary when it is realized that in the same issue was the announcement that no less a man than Dr. J. A. Macdonald, editor-in-chief of the Globe, and one of the finest orators of the day, will speak here in a few weeks under the auspices of the club. Surely this fitting climax might be taken as an assurance of activity rather than a sign of "decadence and inactivity" with a lot of insinuations thrown in for further good measure. If institutions of this sort fail to materialize hereafter, the reason may be found in journalistic lack of sympathy and consideration.

COLTS LOOKING FOR A WIN FROM COLLEGIATES

The second game of the Junior O.H.A. series for this district will be played on Monday night when the Peterborough Colts and Collegiates meet again. The fans who attended the first game were given a great treat, but better hockey may be expected on Monday night. The forwards of the Colts have been practicing together and are working nicely. The team is confident of winning.

The Collegiate line-up will be changed. Richardson is billed to guard the nets, Halpany will perform at right wing. The contest is sure to be a well played one and there is no danger of any fan being disappointed.

The teams will line-up as follows;

Colts		Collegiates.

RENFREW CLUB AFTER DEETON AND JACK MILLER

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—The Edmonton hockey team arrived in Ottawa this morning and had a great workout in the Arena in the afternoon. They showed real class in the line of hockey, and are conceded a splendid chance to win the Cup in the matches with Ottawa on Tuesday and Thursday of next week. The Edmonton defence looks good, and their forwards are very fast. The Ottawas are not up to last year's standard, and the Edmonton boys expect to win both games.

The Renfrew club is already after Miller and Deeton, while Ottawa could find room for Ross.

None of the Edmonton men will stay in the east, according to Jack Winchester.

HOCKEY

The Toronto News says:—Contrary to reports, the Edmonton hockey team, challengers for the Stanley Cup, stayed over in Toronto last night, and a practice was held at the Mutual st. rink this morning. They will not leave until ten o'clock to-night and this afternoon they are enjoying the sights. The players are by no means lonely, as there are no less than 22 in the party, the extra hands being enthusiastic supporters of the team. Edmonton fully believes that the team will lift the cup this time and are just as excited as they were last year, when the team went to Montreal to play the Wanderers.

The trip was arranged in a hurry, but nevertheless the eight players who make up the team are happy and confident that they will come out on top. The team had practically disbanded, as it was thought that all chances of getting games on with Ottawa were off. The Patricks left, but Deeton, the Galt player, and "Deacon" White, got together and reorganized the club, with the result that they are on their way to Ottawa. A subscription was taken up in Edmonton and the expenses for eight players to Ottawa and return were paid. The subscriptions amounted to $1,500. The eight players will divide Edmonton's share of the gate receipts, which is all they will receive. The games will take place next Tuesday and Thursday, and it is probable that an exhibition will be arranged with Renfrew on the following Saturday.

The party spent a day in Winnipeg, St. Paul and Chicago. The team only practiced at Winnipeg, however.

The boys were at the Mutual street rink early to-day, but they did not get down to work until twelve o'clock, as their "coffin" did not arrive until 11.30. With the exception of one or two players, they are all acquainted with the rink here, as they ave participated in games here at one time or another. "Edmonton rink," they explain, is narrower than the Mutual but longer, and the Edmonton crew say they will not be lost on the Ottawa Arena.

MAY ENTER THE COMPETITION

The Madrigal Club of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music will probably take part in the musical competition to be held in connection with the Earl Grey trophy competition at the Royal Alexandra, Toronto, during the week of April 4th, 1909. Fuller particulars are being withheld until Monday's issue.

City Council

A special meeting of the City Council will be held on Monday evening. License reduction will likely be the hot question, although there are several other important matters on the order paper.

Good News

It is understood that at the meeting of the City Council on Monday night a proposition will be submitted regarding the extensive expansion of a local industry. It is said that a new building will be erected and the capacity doubled.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, of Wardsville, Ont., have celebrated their golden wedding.

George Armstrong was fatally injured and Paul Somerville hurt by the upsetting of a crane at Niagara Falls.

Emily West, a domestic in the employ of C. Larke, of Colborne, was found dead in bed.

PUTS BABIES ON DEFENSIVE

Writer Calls on Them to Give Reasons for Their Admission to the Country.

We desire to call attention to a flagrant violation of one of our most important statutes.

Under our immigration laws, no alien can land in this country who has no money and no capacity. If he comes from a foreign store, he must be identified and duly passed upon.

What is really happening? Every day, nay, almost every minute, in this country babies are being born who really have no right to enter our domain. Not only this, but they are calmly allowed to be here and not the slightest protest is made against them.

It is true that recently some effort has been made to discourage their presence. But this is by private individuals, and not by the authorities.

Every baby comes here from a foreign shore. He is a vagrant. Why, he hasn't even clothes on his back. In a large percentage of cases he is sickly, and ought to be kept out by quarantine authorities, if by no one else.

These intruders ought to be guaranteed under the pure infant act, or else they should be promptly shipped back to the sender, with instructions to at least provide them with the necessities of life before they land among a free people.—Lippincott's.

GOOD JOKE ON THE OFFICERS.

Long and Stern Chase of College Students That Ended in Something of a Fiasco.

Once, in a college town, the rumor that students were carrying concealed weapons reached the ears of the local police. Their chief at once issued stringent orders that the heinous practice should be stopped.

In this particular college town the students were no different from students the world over; in other words, they dearly loved to bother the police to the best of their ability. So one day a group of them nonchalantly passed a policeman, and one of the students, in so doing, put his hand to his hip pocket. Then, as if recollecting himself in time, he hastily withdrew it and looked sheepishly at the policeman.

"What have you in that pocket?" the latter asked sternly.

Instead of answering, the student and all his companions, as if panic-stricken, started to run. Immediately the policeman blew his whistle, summoned several of his companions, and started after the group. After a considerable chase in the course of which the policemen were badly winded and roused to a great pitch of anger, all the students were cornered, and summarily ordered to deliver up whatever they had in their hip pockets.

Meekly they obeyed. Each one carried a corncob. The remarks of the policemen cannot possibly be recorded.

The American Voice.

I think myself that what, as much as anything else, laid the foundation of the American voice was the nervous ill-health, lasting over three or four generations, of the American woman. Up to the middle of the nineteenth century, and even beyond, foreigners were surprised when they came across a healthy looking woman. The isolation of frontier life, the general tension of the American climate, malaria, bad diet and worse sanitation, combined to turn one-half the nation into semi-invalids; and the thin, sharp, slovenly, staccato tones of the American women were as often as not the result of physical and nervous depression. I do not say that ill-health was the sole cause, but it is undoubtedly the fact that as the health of Americans has improved so have their voices.—London Chronicle.

The Erudite Barber.

"I don't see," said the erudite barber as he stropped his razor, "why our customers complain that men of our profession are exceedingly loquacious. All who enter the modern barber's place of business should know what to expect. Every barber shop is a 'tonsorial parlor' nowadays. The word 'parlor' literally means 'talking room,' just as 'parliament' means an assembly of talkers. Parlor and parliament have the same root as the French 'parlez,' which means to talk, and then there is the English 'parley,' to exchange words. Moreover—"

"Moreover," gasped the victim in the chair, "I am in a very parlous position."

The Crimean Crime.

Kinglake was all for war. "He used to say," says Mme. Novikoff, "that peace would emasculate the world. 'Besides,' he continued, 'population when too dense is not at its best.'" He did not like Bright. Mme. Novikoff told Kinglake one day that Bright had made a curious remark about the Crimean statue in Pall Mall. "The inscription," he had said, "should be altered. The 'a' should be put before the word 'crime,' and not at the end!" —London Chronicle.

Why Church Bells Any More?

Every once in a while a discussion arises as to the use of church bells. Their utility was long ago given up. Their beauty is still defended by some. But in the end the discussion comes back to the question of location. In the country, where distances are long and sounds are softened, a church bell is still enjoyable. But in a city street, where hundreds and thousands are close by, the sound is to most of them a noisy clangor.

ABOVE ALL ON EARTH IS MAN

Supreme Because of Gift of Half Ounce of Phosphorus in His Brain.

Man has no wings, and yet he can soar above the clouds; he is not swift of foot and yet he can outspeed the fleetest hound or horse; he has but feeble weapons in his organization, and yet he can slay or master all the great beasts; his eye is not so sharp as that of the eagle or the vulture, and yet he can see into the farthest depths of sidereal space; he has only very feeble occult powers of communication with his fellows, and yet he can talk around the world and send his voice across mountains and deserts; his hands are weak things beside a lion's paw or an elephant's trunk, and yet he can move mountains and stay rivers and set bounds to the wildest seas. His dog can outsmell him and outrun him, and yet his dog looks up to him as to a god. He has erring reason in place of unerring instinct, and yet he has changed the face of the planet.

Without the specialization of the lower animals—their wonderful adaptation to particular ends—their tools, their weapons, their strength, their speed, man yet makes them all his servants. His brain is more than a match for all the special advantages nature has given them. The one gift of reason makes him supreme in the world.—John Burrough, in Atlantic.

GATHERING IN THE SHEKELS.

All Were Fish That Came to Scotsman, Winner in Golf Tournament.

Scotsmen are noted for their canniness, and a story told by a Lancashire commercial traveler, who was up in Aberdeen a few days ago, shows that the men beyond the Tweed are still worthily upholding their reputation. The traveler in question was asked by a prospective buyer to subscribe to the prize fund for the local golf tournament. He parted with five shillings, and as he was interested in golf he remarked that he would like to be kept informed of the progress of the tournament so that he could look out for the result.

"O," said the customer, as he picked up the five shillings and placed it securely in his pocket, "ye needna dae that. The tournament was held last Saturday." This was rather a staggerer for the latest contributor to the prize fund, but he retained curiosity enough to inquire who had proved the happy winner. The guileless solicitor for subscriptions was quite undaunted, however. "The winner?" he said, coyly, "O, just mesel.' "—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

The Tooth Came Back.

She was going to the poultry yard to give the chicks their supper. She was a disciple of deep breathing and never lost an opportunity to inhale and exhale vigorously when she was out in the fresh air. On this occasion one of her porcelain teeth flew from its bridge and a long search failed to bring it to light. She lived far from a dentist and was in despair, but on the very day on which she had decided to go to the city to have her tooth replaced she prepared a fat hen for dinner to have in readiness when she should return, hungry and with her full complement of teeth. When she opened the crop her surprise and delight were unbounded—for there was her white porcelain tooth with its two tiny pivots uninjured and its porcelain none the worse for its sojourn in the interior regions of a chicken. She tells it only to a few intimate friends, for every one does not know that her gleaming white teeth are partly porcelain.

Don't Know When to Stop.

No person will deny that every man ought to have a work to do, something to which he can devote his best energies and abilities. In this country, however, we do not seem to have reached that point where we know when to stop. The mistaken notion seems to prevail that the man who accomplishes his aims must die in the harness; that, like the captain, he must stick to the ship till the last.

And when this spirit is applied to the mere amassing of millions, the purpose, too, becomes sordid and unnatural. It were far better for such persons as have gained a competence, and a great deal more, to retire from the commercial battlefield and give over their remaining years to rational enjoyment of life—to going about and doing good for others, if you please.

Caught a Baby Whale.

The smallest specimen of a baby whale ever caught by a British trawler was landed at Grimsby the other day by the King James. It was brought up in the trawl net in the North sea, and was so small—18 inches long and three pounds three ounces in weight—that the fishermen could not realize that it was a whale until an expert certified the fact.

The local officer for the board of fisheries secured this specimen, which could not have been caught more than three or four days, and immediately dispatched it to the laboratories of the fisheries department in London.—London Standard.

A Necessity.

He had just been accepted.

"And do you really think you can be happier with me than with anybody else in the world?" he asked.

"No," replied the girl, "but if these 30-inch skirts are to be fashionable I must get a husband quick and get him in practice."

AUDITORS' REPORT.

We hereby certify that we have personally checked the cash on hand at Halifax, Toronto and Montreal. We have also verified the securities held as investments, personally examining those held by the Canadian branches of the Bank, and procuring certificates by responsible business men, not in the employ of the Bank, certifying to the existence of the remainder of these securities.

We have further to report that we have obtained all the information required by us and that, having examined the foregoing Balance Sheet and having compared the same with the books of the Head Office and the certified returns from the branches, we are of the opinion that it is a full and fair Balance Sheet, exhibiting a true and correct view of the Bank's affairs as at 31st December, 1909.

R. R. to Apsley

To the Editor of the Review.
January 14, 1910

Dear Sir.—I was much interested in the letter in to-day's issue signed "Apsley." Having travelled over the country referred to on business for over twenty years, I have often wondered why the northern portion of Peterborough County was allowed to remain so long cut off from the County seat. If anyone interested were to come down as I have often done on the morning train on the Haliburton Division and notice the number of people on their way to Lindsay to do their marketing and other business, most of them coming from a flourishing and productive district which should naturally be tributary to Peterborough, their county town, one could not help thinking that some one had neglected their duty in not providing proper communication with these people.

I can remember when I was a boy and learning my business in Peterborough, that whole lines of teams would stand in front of the business places on George street loading up supplies to be driven as far north as Haliburton; but Lindsay by the far-sightedness of their citizens succeeded in diverting the trade of that whole section by promoting and bonusing the old Victoria Ry., now the Haliburton Division of the G. T. R., and while they incurred a heavy liability in doing it, and increased their taxes, it was a paying investment and the trade from that section is one of the best Lindsay has to-day.

Even Bobcaygeon and Harvey townships which are naturally ours have lately been diverted by Lindsay bonusing and pushing through the Bobcaygeon & Pontypool railway, now a division of the C. P. R., another good paying investment for Lindsay. Now, our new mayor and aldermen seem anxious to begin a campaign to "Build up Peterborough," and perhaps if instead of going so far afield to look for ways and means of doing it they would look nearer home and start an investigation to find out what effect a railway running directly to the "Hinterland" of our own county would have in bringing the trade of that section and holding it where it properly belongs—the city of Peterborough.

When in the north country about the end of the year I heard on good authority that the Canadian Northern had secured control of the Irondale, Bancroft & Ottawa, and intended extending it westerly to connect with their Sudbury line at or near Beaverton and easterly to Hawkesbury to meet a line running there from Montreal. Now, a glance at the map will show that it should be a comparatively simple matter to run a line north from Peterborough to strike this road somewhere between Kinmount and Bancroft and give us connection with what will be a transcontinental line, giving us a new competitor for our freights and opening to us the trade of a large section "rich in forest, field and mine," and making a market here for their produce and there for the products of our factories and the wares of our merchants.

We hear of publicity commissioners and other schemes to advance the city but let us make sure that we are not neglecting golden opportunities which nature has placed at our doors and which only need intelligent handling to make Peterborough what she should be, the "Hub of Central Ontario."

I remain,

Yours truly,

TRAVELLER.

$3.50 Recipe Cures Weak Kidneys, Free

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

Stop Pain in the Bladdder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say good-bye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back of the aches; the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath, sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K. 1811, Leck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As soon as you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better use what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

OF THE

Canada Cement Company, Limited

SECURITY

These bonds are secured by a First Mortgage on the properties of the Canada Cement Company, Limited. They represent an actual investment in the property of practically three times the amount of the present outstanding bonds. The mills owned or controlled by this Company are among the best established and most efficiently equipped on the continent, with a capacity in excess of 4,500,000 barrels per annum. They include

The Lakefield Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Montreal, P.Q.
The Lakefield Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Lakefield, Ont.
The Owen Sound Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Shallow Lake, Ont.
The Alberta Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Calgary, Alta.
The Belleville Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Belleville, Ont.
The International Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Hull, P.Q.
The Vulcan Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Montreal, P.Q.
The Lehigh Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Belleville, Ont.
The Canadian Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Marlbank and Port Colborne, Ont.

Arrangements have also been made to acquire a controlling interest in the following companies:

The Western Canada Cement and Coal Co., Ltd., Exshaw, Alta.
The Eastern Canada Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Quebec.

EARNINGS

The net earnings in 1908 by seven of the constituent Companies, representing less than fifty per cent. of the capacity of the new Company, amounted to twice the present bond interest charge.

Estimated yearly net earnings, $1,400,000, based on the sales of the Companies comprised in the Merger and the cost of manufacture under existing conditions, together with the restoration of normal prices.

Proper and successful management is assured by an efficient board of directors and capable executive.

Strategic position of the plants of the Canada Cement Company enables it to serve the trade in all parts of Canada.

INCOME TO INVESTORS

After careful investigation, we believe this bond issue to be well secured, and the bonds should form an attractive investment at par and accrued interest yielding six per cent.

GIPSY HAWKINS' LIFE STORY; FROM CARAVAN TO PULPIT

Gifted Evangelist Tells of His Humble Beginning With the Traders of the Road—A Waif in London Selling Papers and Following Occupation of Shoe Black —A Picturesque History.

The great interest taken in Gipsy Hawkins' subject last night, and the enthusiasm he has aroused by his meetings here was convincingly indicated at the Park street Baptist church, when an audience that the auditorium proper was unable to accomodate assembled to hear the evangelist tell the story of his life. The people were seated in the aisles in chairs and at the rear of the church outside the inner entrance doors and the intensely interesting address was followed with marked attention.

To begin with the speaker said that a preacher without a text was like a ship without a helm, and the text announced by him was from Psalms 126, 3: "The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad." He expressed his intention of making the text a personal reference to himself. The speaker said he would speak on the story of his life—"From Gipsy Boy to Preacher."

Thirty-eight years ago Gipsy Hawkins made his first appearance in the world in either a gipsy tent or a gipsy caravan. He was not certain as to his birthplace, but from what he gleaned from the conversations of his father and mother, he thought he was born in Peebleshire, Scotland. If that were true he was a Celt.

But while he couldn't be sure where he came from he knew where he was going to. As a sinner washed in Jesus blood he was going to the promised land beyond, and he would like every one of his listeners to go with him. The majority of the people, on the contrary, knew where they came from, but they didn't know where they were going. If you ask them they could not give the answer.

The first ten and a half years of the speaker's life were not spent in the city, and the squalor and temptation, but in the open air, amid singing birds and babbling brooks, and in the refreshing environment of nature.

He remembered when he was between ten and eleven years of age, when the gipsy caravan he was with, in company with his parents, was on its way to London. He didn't know then, as he knew now, that gipsy caravans made to their way to the big cities to replenish their stores. The caravan had travelled as far as Richmond Hill on its London-ward trip. On the top of the hill there was a public house, opposite which the caravan stopped, and the gipsy boy's father went in. The father was a man who, when he went into a public house, there was no telling when he would come out. In connection with the visit to the public house what the speaker had to say was a very painful matter for him. He wished to preface the relating of the incident, which had been of such significance to him, by saying that the gipsies were as kind and considerate to their families as any other people. His father was kind enough when he was sober, but when he was under the influence of strong drink he was irritable, ill-tempered and easily annoyed. While the father was in the inn the boy took a horse to get a drink at a nearby stream, and the animal being spirited, began to rear and prance, and finally broke away. When the father came out of the inn he was (three-quarters drunk and gave the boy a blow that knocked him to the ground, and then went to look for the horse, saying he would break the boy's neck when he returned, and the little fellow had to take several lashes with no provocation. A terror, a dread seized him, and he made up his mind he would not run the risk of having his neck broken, and with two shillings in his pocket he ran to Richmond Hill station, and asked for a ticket to London. He got one to Waterloo Station, London.

When he reached that city, the largest in the world, for the first time in his life, a great feeling of loneliness crept over him, and while there were thousands passing him by there was not one friend in all the passing throngs.

Gipsy Hawkins' first commercial activities were in selling London newspapers. He met a little waif on Westminster bridge, and the two of them became the warmest of pals. The little gipsy boy was handicapped to a great extent in the work of selling papers, for he had not been to school a day in his life. He got others to read the headline announcements for him, however, and also listened to what the other boys called, and so he managed to get along.

But he often thought of his parents and longed for his lost gipsy mother. "From the hour I left the gipsy caravan on Richmond Hill to this day," he said, "I have never been able to get a clue as to the whereabouts of my father or mother. From that day to this they have been lost to me, and I have been lost to them."

The speaker kept his audience interested with his relating of his various experiences in London, and his trials for an honest existence as a juvenile candidate for a living in the big metropolis, made a story full of pathos, and with not a few rays of humor, which brightened the highly entertaining account. After selling papers the gipsy boy and his little chum were taken in hand by the philanthropic institution that has done so much for the waifs of London—the South London Refuge and Shoe Black Brigade Society. There he was given a start with a bootblack's equipment, and plied his trade on the streets of London. After a year at this work he took up his apprenticeship as a shoemaker and worked three years as a journeyman at that trade before his conversion and his adoption of his career as evangelist.

It was a coincidence of great interest that Mrs. Smith, a lady who sat in the congregation only a few feet from the speaker, was a daughter of a gentleman who for three years had been superintendent at the home to which Gipsy Hawkins had been admitted.

The story of the able evangelist's struggle from early life to manhood and of the wonderful blessing the gospel had been to him, and of the privilege he had in conveying it to his fellow-men, proved one well worth hearing in every respect. In an evangelistic sense it was also a vitally important and very profitable discourse.

GOOD WIVES AT PRAYER MEETING

The Ballroom Not the Place to Choose them From Says Gipsy Hawkins

Gipsy Hawkins' attitude towards the ballroom is apparently one of unqualified condemnation. In his address at the Park street Baptist church last night he spoke on the great blessing of a man having a good wife. Sam Jones had said, "If he wanted to flirt he would go to the ball room, but if he wanted a wife he would go to the prayer meeting."

The prayer meeting was where the good wives could be chosen from, said the speaker and the ballroom was not the place he chose his wife from, and he did not think it wise that anybody else should chose his life's partner from the ballroom.

LICENCE BOARD FOR YEAR 1910

Special to Review.

Toronto, Jan. 15. — Both license boards of Peterborough have been reappointed for the year 1910. In the East, Joshua Smithson, Jno. Rose and Walter Wilde, and in the West, M. A. Morrison, James Kendry and Henry Lebrun. In West Victoria, John Carew of Lindsay succeeded Jno. H. Southeran.

APPOINTED TO DOURO PARISH

Rev. Father McGuire of Wooler and Brighton Succeeds the Late Father Keilty—Appointment for Father Kelly

Rev. Michael McGuire, of Wooler and Brighton, has been appointed to the charge of the parish of Douro, succeeding the late Father Keilty. Rev. Patrick Kelly, who has been attached to the staff of St. Peter's, cathedral here has been appointed to the parish of Wooler and Brighton. The changes go into effect about the 13th of this month.

Rev. Father McGuire is a native of Havelock and has been in charge of the Wooler and Brighton parish for the past twelve years. Rev. Father Kelly, who goes to Wooler and Brighton, is a native of this city and is held in high esteem by the citizens, irrespective of creed.

THIS WELL-KNOWN ADVOCATE STATES

His Doctor Advised Him to Take Dodd's Kidney Pills

And He Found Them to be All They Were Advertised—How and Why Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 14.—(Special).—"Dodd's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by our family physician, and I must say they have proved to be what they were advertised."

This statement, made by L. J. R. Hubert, the well-known advocate of 214 James street, is a double tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills. It shows that they are recognised by reputable medical men as a peerless remedy for diseases of the Kidneys and also that they are now looked upon as a standard medicine by the best people in Canada.

And the reason of this is that they do just what they are advertised to do. They cure diseased Kidneys and put them in condition to clear all impurities out of the blood. They cure Bright's Disease, Diabetes and Backache, because these are Kidney diseases. They cure Rheumatism, Lumbago and Heart Disease, because these are caused by impurities in the blood that the Kidneys would strain out of the blood if they were in good working order. If you haven't used them yourself, ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

ROUTINE BUSINESS

Transacted at Meeting of Board of Education-No Allowance for Teachers.

At a meeting last night the Board of Education decided not to accede to a request from Mr. J. C. Smith, formerly a master in the Central School, who asked that he be given a retiring allowance. He stated that he had served the Board for nineteen years. Mr. W. H. Hill drew the attention of the members to a previous case where a lady teacher had made a similar case. He stated that it was illegal to give any allowance to teachers who had served less than twenty years.

A communication was received from Miss Ellen Perry. She applies for the situation of Librarian or assistant of the new Public Library.

As the Library Board is not organized yet the secretary was notified to acknowledge the receipt of the communication and to explain the situation.

OBITUARY

MRS. WM. O'BRIEN.

On Tuesday evening at seven o'clock the death occurred at the family residence, Downeyville, of Mrs. William O'Brien, at the age of 57 years. The deceased had been ill for some time, but every hope was entertained for her recovery until a few days ago, when she took a change for the worse.

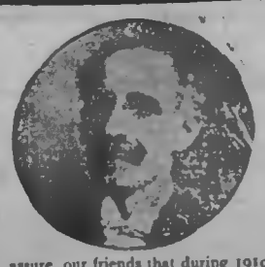
The deceased was well and widely known throughout the entire township, and much sympathy is felt for the members of the family.

She leaves to mourn her death, besides a sorrowing husband, one son, Fergus, of Montreal, and three daughters, Mrs. M. Garvey, Ennismore; Gertie, Port Hope, and Florence, attending St. Joseph's Academy, Lindsay.

The funeral took place Thursday morning from her late residence to St. Luke's church, Downeyville, where requiem mass was chanted by Rev. Father McGuire. The funeral was largely attended and the sincere regret is expressed on all sides on the death of one who possessed so many amiable and noble qualities.

MRS. THOMAS GORDON

Inkefield, Jan. 15.—The citizens of the village were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Thomas Gordon, which occurred on Sunday morning last, the cause of death being heart failure. The deceased lady had retired Saturday night seemingly in her usual good health, and about 3 o'clock Sunday morning without any warning whatever suddenlyy passed away. The late Mrs. Gordon, whose maiden name was Sarah Sophia Down, was well known throughout this section, and was very highly respected. She was a consistent member of the Baptist church, and her faithful work in that congregation will be greatly missed. Deceased, who was born in Smith township, was 61 years of age, and 44 years ago she was united in marriage to Mr. Thos. Gordon. There are left to mourn her loss a husband and ten children, seven daughters and three sons, as follows:—Miss Eva, Toronto; Mrs. Wm. Baker, Lakefield; Mrs. A. W. Record, Toronto; Mrs. Chas. Pentz, Morris, Man.; Mrs. J. Blewett, Summerland, B.C.; Miss Nellie, Griswold, Man.; Miss Beatrice, Lakefield; Gilbert G., Bobcaygeon; William R. and Charles, of Lakefield. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. H. Down, who resides in Peterborough and three sisters and one brother;—Mrs. William Yelland, Mrs. E. Stubbs and Mrs E Mann, all of Peterborough, and Mr. W. H. Down, of Douro. The remains were interred in the Lakefield cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, the funeral being very largely attended.



WE THANK YOU

No matter what the price, we should feel unrepaid if our patrons were not fully satisfied. We therefore ask that if you are pleased tell your friends, if not tell us. We appreciate very fully the business of 1909, and the many who have come to us upon the recommendation of friends, as well as the kind words of satisfaction, which we have had by letter, and word of mouth. We assure our friends that during 1910 we shall seek to further merit their confidence. Wishing you all a prosperous New Year.

W.B. KELLY COMPANY HAVE SOLD LIMITS

Lakefield, Jan. 15.—The W. B. Kelly Lumber Co., of Bridgenorth, have sold their fine timber limits in Harvey township, to a number of gentlemen who are also interested in the Cavendish Lumber Company. The limits consists of some 27 square miles, and comprise nearly all the pine in Harvey township. The Kelly Lumber Co. disposed of their limits for the reason that they were unable to get the logs to their mills at Bridgenorth without a great amount of trouble, having to lock them through at Bucknorth. The limits are tributary to the waters that run below Buckhorn lock, and are tributary to the mills at Lakefield, where the logs will altogether likely be cut into lumber.

HOW REDUCTION OF LICENSES MAY BE MADE BY CITY COUNCIL

The License Act—Provisions for Reduction of Licenses by Council and Recommendation to License Commissioners—The Proper Course.

The following is the course of procedure set out in the statute for the reduction of licenses:—

20. (1) The council of every city, town, village or township may, by by-law to be passed before the first day of March in any year, limit the number of tavern licenses to be issued therein for the then ensuing license year, beginning on the first day of May, or for any future license year until such by-law is altered or repealed, provided such limit is within the limit imposed by this Act.

(2) The council shall cause a certified copy of such by-law to be sent immediately after the passing thereof to the License Commissioners of the district in which the municipality is situate.

32. (1) The council of every city, town, village or township may, by by-law to be passed before the first day of April in any year, limit the number of shop licenses to be granted therein for the then ensuing license year, beginning on the first day of May, and by such by-law or any other by-law passed before the first day of April, may impose any restrictions upon the mode of carrying on such traffic as the council may think fit; and such last mentioned by-law may be made to come into force on the first day of May then next ensuing, or on the first day of May of the succeeding year, and any such by-law so passed shall not be repealed during the three years next after the year in which the same comes into force.

(2) It shall be the duty of the clerk immediately after the passing of such by-law, to send a certified copy thereof to the License Commissioners within whose license district the municipality is situate, and such by-law shall be binding upon the License Commissioners, and any shop license to be issued shall conform to the provisions thereof; and such by-law shall remain in force for any future year until repealed. Any clerk who neglects, omits or refuses to send such certified copy shall incur a penalty of not less than $40 nor more than $100.

(3) All the provisions regarding the closing of licensed taverns and regarding sales and evidences of sales therein during prohibited hours shall apply to shops licensed in any municipality after the by-law secondly provided for in sub-section 1 has come into force.

Sermon on Marriage

Canon Davidson will continue to-morrow evening at St. John's, his course of sermons on religion, as applied in the different spheres of practical life. His subject to-morrow evening will be "Religion in the Home; the Making and Marring of Marriage." In the morning the subject will be "The Importance of Meditation in Modern Life."

Returns of the British Elections

The polls in the British elections remain open until 8 o'clock and results in those places which will vote to-day will be made known about midnight, English time, but as our time is five hours later the figures will be available here this evening. The Review will be glad to answer telephone inquiries, as a bulletin service has been arranged.

To-day's results, it is expected, will be significant of the final result, though it has occurred in some previous elections that polling in the rural districts on the later days has overturned the effect of the earlier voting.

OPPORTUNITY TO RE-ENLIST

Will be Given Time — Expired Members of the 57th Regiment

As the privileges of the armories are granted to only regularly enlisted members of the various branches of the service, comprising the local garrison, an opportunity will be given to all time-expired members of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, to re-enlist at eight o'clock on Monday evening, January 17th, at the orderly room at the armories.

PRESENTATION TO CHOIR MEMBER

As an appreciation of her useful membership of St. Luke's choir, the members of the choir presented Miss Electa Strong with a hymn and prayer book set, the presentation taking place at the residence of Mrs. Pakenham, Manning Avenue. Ald. Turner, on behalf of the choir, made the presentation, accompanying it with an appropriate verbal address.

Miss Strong, who occupied a position as stenographer with the Peter Hamilton Company, has gone to Toronto to reside.

ANNUAL TEA AND ENTERTAINMENT

Of St. Paul's Sunday School Was Very Successful--Many Scholars Received Prizes

The annual tea and entertainment of St. Paul's Sunday school was held last night. The attendance of officers, teachers and scholars was large, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The superintendent, Mr. Wm. Madill, acted as chairman during the rendering of a fine programme of vocal numbers, recitations, etc. About seventy-five received prizes, and the names of the successful scholars will be given in Monday's issue.

Three men were killed and stem of horses blown to pieces at Franklin, Pa., by the explosion of a nitro-glycerine magazine.

ECZEMA CURED THROUGH THE BLOOD

By the Aid of Dr. William's Pink Pills—The Wonderful Tonic Medicine

Eczema or salt rheum is a disease of the skin which shows itself in small, red, watery blisters — these blisters break and leave a scale which may be rubbed off by the hand. The affected parts are intensely itchy and the victim cannot bear the touch of any article of clothing over the parts.

The disease is caused by bad blood and must be cured through the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many cases of eczema simply because they are the one medicine that acts wholly on the blood—the seat of the trouble. Among those cured by these Pills is Mrs. Chas. Davidson, of Amherst, N.S., who says: "I suffered greatly from salt rheum or eczema and my hands were badly cracked. I tried several ointments, but they did me no good whatever. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and had only used them for a few weeks when the trouble disappeared and my hands were entirely healed. I am very grateful for what the Pills have done for me and would advise other sufferers from this trouble to try them."

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for Mrs. Davidson they have done for many others—not only in cases of eczema and salt rheum, but for eruptions and pimples, chronic erysipelas, scrofula and all other maladies which arise from poor blood. They banish these troubles simply because they clear the blood of all impurities and leave it rich, red and health-giving. The Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or direct by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hon. E. M. Farrell, of Liverpool, N.S., and William Roche, ex-M.P. for Halifax, have been appointed to the Senate.

Backache, Headache Internal Pains.

"If every suffering woman would take Peruna, they would soon know its value and never be without it."

MRS. JOSEPH LACELLE, 124 Bronson St., Ottawa East, Ontario, Canada, writes:

"I suffered with backache, headache and dragging pains for over nine months, and nothing relieved me until I took Peruna. This medicine is by far better than any other medicine for these troubles. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable half-dead, half-alive condition.

"I am now in good health, have neither ache nor pain, nor have I had any for the past year.

"If every suffering woman would take Peruna, they would soon know its value and never be without it."

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Mde. Joseph Beaudoin, 59 Rue St. Olivier, Quebec, P. Q. Can., writes:

"Peruna is wonderful for indigestion. I eat whatever I want and no longer feel any oppression. Having had dyspepsia for a long time and having tried various other remedies, I decided to try Peruna and with the fourth bottle of it it was perfectly cured.

"For this reason I recommend it to all those who are suffering with that terrible malady, dyspepsia. I hope that all who are afflicted in this way will take Peruna and Manalin as I did."

Chronic Nasal Catarrh.

Mr. Chas. H. Stevens, 122 Sixteenth St., Detroit, Mich., writes:

"It affords me great pleasure to testify to the merits of Peruna as a remedy for catarrh.

"I suffered for some time with chronic nasal catarrh, but after five months treatment during which time I used seven bottles of Peruna I am pleased to say that I am entirely well, there not being the slightest trace of catarrh left.

"Peruna is without a doubt, in my mind, the greatest remedy known for catarrh."

Weak, Tired Feeling.

Miss Marie A. Lesser, 928 W. 34th St., Chicago, Ill., Worthy Secretary I. O. G. T., writes:

"I am glad to give a good word for Peruna, and I hope that all who see this who are troubled with systemic catarrh as I was for years, will profit by it.

"I had tried many remedies, but none did more than give me temporary relief, and some did not even do that.

"I took Peruna at the suggestion of a friend, and was more than pleased and surprised at the results.

"I am now perfectly well and strong. That weak, tired feeling has left me, and I feel like a different person entirely."

The Slavery of Disease.

It is wonderful how many women in Canada and the United States have been practically made new again by the use of Peruna.

Not the victims of any organic disease, but just a half-dead and half-alive, condition.

Miserable, dragging pains that keep a woman always from doing her best work, from being her best self. Cross and petulent, perhaps. Maybe even a slattern in her household, just because her health is continually below par. She never feels quite right. She gets the reputation of being sullen, or morbid, or ill tempered.

Her trouble is not a moral one at all, it is simply a physical one. Make such a woman well and she immediately becomes transformed into a new being mentally.

This is exactly what Peruna has done in a multitude of cases.

AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

Special Correspondence of Peterborough Review

The Christmas season has come and gone once more and we are settled down again to another term's steady work. Most of the faces which had become familiar before the holiday can be seen around the halls again but a few strange ones can be detected also. This is a thing that is ever happening but this year the new students since the holiday seem more in number than ever before. By means of the extra-mural course many are enabled to pursue a course in the higher realm of learning. Every year some of these find their way to the halls and all of those who came in after Christmas have been working murally during the fall term. This season there is a very large extra-mural registration, no doubt due to the fact that this is the last year that students can take their whole course in this way.

A glance at the registration for this year will show how cosmopolitan the institution is. Although she has a connection with the Presbyterian church, yet she is giving of her life to those of every creed. Our registration this year has reached the mark of 1553 as compared with 1409 of last. There are always some who are taking work in two faculties, such as Arts and Medicine. Last year there were 58 such registrations; this year there are only 36. The total number of students taking classes last year were 1351, while this year there are 1517. Last year there was an increase over the year before of 100, while the increase this year over last is 168, largest increase in one year in the history of the institution. The registration in the different faculties of last year as compared with this are as follows; Last year intra-mural undergraduates in Arts, 439; this year, 475; post-graduates in Arts last year 19; this, 30; last year extra-mural under-graduates in Arts, 318; this year, 410; last year post-graduates in Arts, 21; this year, 28; last year in the B. Paed. and D. Paed. post-graduate courses in Education were 25; this this year 14; last year students in theology 29; this year 25; last year students in practical science 292; this year, 310; students in medicine last year 210; this year, 218; students in faculty and education last year 56; this year, 43.

These 1517 students represent nearly all creeds, which can be seen from their religious census. They are as follows; Presbyterian, 712; Methodist, 373; Roman Catholic, 175; Anglican, 162; Baptist 41; Congregationalist, 16; Jewish, 7; Lutheran, 5; Mennonites, 2; Disciples, 3; Plymouth Brethren, 3; Church of Christ, 1; Christian Scientists, 3; Reformed Episcopal, 1; Friends 1; Christian Brethren, 1; Universalist, 1; Latter Day Saints, 1; Hindu, 1; Buddhist, 1; unclassified, 7.

Last October Mr. M. J. Patton, M. A., a last spring's graduate, was appointed to the Fellowship in History. During the summer previous to his coming back to take up the Fellowship work he was engaged in the Archives at Ottawa. Before his work in the Archives Mr. Patton had been for some time working on the Brantford Expositor. During the Christmas vacation he received an appointment which takes him back to Ottawa and away from his Alma Mater, his new trial of labor is as editor and assistant secretary to the Commission of Natural Resources. The Secretary of this department of Government work is Mr. J. W. White, formerly Dominion Geologist.

In the first session of this term the first round of debates were held. In this round Ottawa College and Queen's were successful. The final debate for the year is to be held in Ottawa on January 21st between these two. The subject for debate in this round is "Resolved that the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquor should be carried on exclusively by the Government." Queen's is to be represented on the negative side of this debate by Mr. R. B. Mills and Mr. N. Macdonald.

The problem of hockey is yet very uncertain. The team is working systematically and hopes to give a fair account of itself before the season closes. The back division of last year is not to hand but with W. Dobson moved back from forward there is hope that the team will continue to advance in efficiency as it has in the past week.

From December 30th, 1909, to January 2nd, 1910, the sixth convened at Rochester, N. Y. The convention asked for eight delegates to be sent, seven of whom reported in five minute speeches at the Missionary Society meeting on Saturday morning at eleven o'clock. Miss D. Robertson spoke first on the Volunteer Movement, its aims and purposes. At this convention there were 3840 student delegates from American and Canadian Universities with many from over the seas as returned missionaries, teachers and doctors. Its aim and purpose is to evangelize the world in this generation, a living problem for a living people. The second speaker was Mr. Anderson on the World Crisis. The heathen world is in a state of unrest as well as the Christian world, so great events must happen in this generation. The third speaker was Miss Girdler on the Moslem world. Caird turns out more missionaries alone than the whole Christian world. The fourth speaker was Mr. Robinson on Latin America. It is nominally cared for but the clergy are very inert and moral life is very much neglected. The next who spoke was Miss Hudson on Asia and the east. She pointed out that the east must be helped through its own efforts and we can aid by teaching their teachers and by influencing their students who come to us. The sixth speaker was Mr. R. M. MacTavish, on the Home Base. Missionary work can be done if the home country is sound at heart. The last speaker, Miss Wilson, brought the message of the Rochester Convention to Queen's. Though time would not allow for a full discussion of the problem yet one can see that the problem was as one of the speakers said, like trying to put the moon in your vest pocket.

On Monday evening the regular meeting of the Philosophical society was held. The address was given by Prof Dyde on the Philosophy of Shakespeare. There was, as usual, a large audience to listen to this lecture and the lecturer showed that he was quite at home with his subject. He began with the opening of Shakespeare's play-writing and showed his criticisms of life as a young man. Then as he grew in years his criticisms became more constructive and finally the last group of four of his plays shows a wide sympathy and a deep insight into life and the affairs of life.

NIGHT CLASSES FOR WORKING LADS AT COLLEGIATE

The Education Department of the Ontario Government has advised the local Board of School Trustees that it will, in the near future, organize a system of night classes for boys and young men desirous of taking advantage of the Public school and Collegiate Institute for educating themselves. This plan is the logical work-out of the plan of giving all the people an opportunity to acquire that degree of education so particularly necessary nowadays. The expense involved will, it is hoped, be borne chiefly by the government. When the programme is ready for publication in full, a further notice of it will be published.

Installed Officers

On Thursday evening of last week the officers of Lakefield Lodge, No. 356, I.O.O.F., were installed for the coming term. The officers were installed by the following Peterborough brethren:—Bro. M. T. Breckenridge, assisted by Past Grands Wm. Hill, R. J. Matchett, F. Reesom, R. F. Morrow, W. S. Robinson, G. F. Cairns, W. Freeburn, and T. H. Sills.—Lakefield News.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

NAM AND ITAL IN THE CAPITAL OF THE AZTECS

WHAT THEY SAW WHEN THE INDIANS ROSE AGAINST THE SPANIARDS

BY ACTON ARCHER

(Copyright, 1909, by the New York Herald Co. All Rights Reserved.)

CORTES, the Spaniard, conqueror of Mexico, first entered the capital of the Emperor Montezuma without striking a blow. He did this under pretense that he came as a friend to bring greetings from his master, the King of Spain, but when once he was in, with his cannon and his soldiers, the Aztecs could not get rid of him. Indeed he even forced Montezuma himself to come to visit the Spaniards in the great palace where they had been lodged, and after that he held that Indian monarch captive, though Montezuma was too proud to let his people know his miserable condition and pretended that he remained with the strangers because he chose to do so.

But Cortes was compelled to leave the city on an expedition and in his absence his lieutenant in command killed some of the Aztec nobles. This was more than the warlike Aztecs could stand and they closed their markets so that the Spaniards could get no more food. As the beautiful city had been built on an island in the Lake of Texcoco, the city market was the only place from which food could be had.

Cortes was in a great rage when he came back and learned what had happened. The timid Emperor, fearful of some harm to himself, hastened to send two of his pages to ask permission to see Cortes so that he might explain to him that the action of his people was not his fault. The pages whom he sent were two boys. One of them, Nam, was lame and thoughtful, and the other, Ital, was strong and straight as an arrow and fond of the exercises of war. They found the Spanish commander walking up and down his chamber.

"What do you want?" he demanded roughly when he saw the pages.

"Our master, the Emperor Montezuma, sends us to ask you to receive him," Nam replied.

"What have I to do with your dog of an Emperor who allows us to starve before his eyes?" Cortes thundered, and then, turning to his captains, he added:—"Seize them and shut them up in the strong room. Let them have neither a drop of water nor a mouthful of food until the market has been opened."

Ital drew himself up indignantly. "We are only boys," he said, "but we are messengers of the Emperor and if you lay a hand upon us you will pay dearly for it!"

Cortes paid no attention, and the captains, glad that his wrath had fallen upon some one besides themselves, seized the boys and hurried them to the strong room, where they thrust them in and bolted the massive door upon them.

In this strong room the golden treasure of Montezuma's father had been kept. The Spaniards had taken the treasure, leaving the room empty. It was well suited for a prison, for its floor and walls were of stone, and it had no windows or any other door than the one by which the boys had entered. As soon as this was closed they found themselves in darkness as black as ink. Ital began to laugh.

"What is it that amuses you?" Nam asked in surprise.

"That we should have been through so many dangers together safely, only to starve to death in this hole," Ital replied.

"I'm not so certain that we shall starve here," Nam replied. "They may open the market, and then we shall get out—that is, if the Spaniards happen to remember us."

"There's not much chance of that," Ital said.

"True," Nam admitted, "and that is all the more reason why we should see whether this place is as strong as it is said to be."

They set to work in the darkness, feeling their way first all around the walls of the room, which was circular in shape. For a second time they made the search, hoping to discover some loose stone that they might remove, but the wall everywhere was solid. Hours were devoted to this examination and both boys were beginning to be overcome by weariness. Not a sound reached them in their dungeon.

Having satisfied themselves that there was no escape through the wall, they began to try the stone floor. At last Ital's fingers felt what seemed to be a bar of metal sunk in the pavement. He called Nam and together they sought to get it out of the groove in which it lay.

Ital managed to force his fingers under one end of the bar, and putting forth all his strength he tugged upward. Slowly the bar yielded.

"Out!" cried Nam suddenly in the darkness. "I'm going!"

Nam had been kneeling on a broad slab of stone that formed part of the floor. As Ital raised the bar this slab tilted as though it had been set on a pivot, as in fact it was, and Nam slipped down through the floor into the opening beneath. He did not fall far. A flight of stone steps had been built under the slab. Upon these he landed.

"Where are you?" Ital called with fear, for he could see nothing.

"Safe!" Nam replied, and he explained what had happened.

"Hold down the edge of the slab and I join you," Ital said.

Nam pressed his weight upon the lower edge of the slab, and in an instant Ital came sliding down upon him. The boys rolled together down the steps, and they heard the great stone swing back into place over their heads.

"Maybe we are worse off now than we were before," Ital said. "Where does this passage lead?"

"I don't know," Nam answered. "I never heard any one speak of it, and I don't believe that they knew it was here. We shall have to find out for ourselves."

"Come on, then" cried Ital. "I only hope that we shall find some water."

They clasped hands and began their advance through the passage, each feeling the wall nearest to him with the hand that was free. They thought that in this way they would run less risk of stumbling into some pit in the darkness. For a time the passage ran straight ahead, then it turned abruptly, first to the right and then to the left. The fine dust on the floor showed that it had not been used for a great many years. Once they reached a place where a branch led off, and they followed this only to find that it ended in a solid wall. They returned to the passage they had left, taking care not to turn back in the direction from which they had come before reaching the branch. In this way they continued for a long time, until finally they found themselves climbing many flights of steps, one after another, each flight leading upward in a direction different from the last.

This greatly puzzled them, for they knew that they must have climbed far higher than the roof of the palace. They had no idea where they were, but there was nothing for them to do except to keep on. They were beginning to suffer intensely from thirst, which was made worse by the dust stirred by their feet.

"We can't go much further," Nam said, after they had climbed twenty or thirty flights of steps.

"We shall not have to. Look there!" Ital replied.

He pointed upward at a faint ray of light that shone at the top of the stairway they had reached.

They sprang up the stairs with renewed hope. The light came through a narrow space between the stones that blocked the end of the passage, but they could see through it the blue sky and hear the voices of men.

"They are Aztecs!" Ital said. "We are saved!" and placing his lips close to the crack he shouted for help.

It seemed at first that whoever was outside could not determine where the cry came from, but Ital continued to shout and soon the boys could see faces and moving forms.

"They are priests," said Nam. "We are on the temple."

This turned out to be the case. The temple of the War God of the Aztecs was a towering mound of earth and stone, which rose from terrace to terrace high above the palaces and houses. The passageway had led them from the old palace under the square in front of it and up the inside of the great pyramid. The priests at first were astonished to hear the voices issuing from what they believed to be the solid wall, but the boys told them who they were. One of the stones of the wall was pried out and the two prisoners were released.

Each took a deep draught of water and then, following the aged chief priest into his little cell behind the huge and dreadful image of the War God, glittering with chains of gold and ropes of jewels, they related what had taken place in the palace. The priests listened with exclamations of indignation [illegible] had ended the chief [illegible] to their feet.

"It is enough!" he cried. "We have borne too long with the strangers. Sound the drum!"

With wild shouts the priests rushed out upon the platform before the altar of the War God, dragging with them the great drum made of the skins of serpents, which could be beaten only in times of peril to the nation. It was the summons of the War God to battle.

With slow and measured strokes a stalwart priest struck the sacred drum. From its hollow issued a deep, throbbing tone, threatening as distant thunder, that rolled far across the blue lake and echoed back from the rocky sides of the mountains miles away. Well the Aztecs knew what it meant. Nam and Ital, looking down from the temple height, could see them rushing in crowds into the streets and gazing upward at the temple. A throng of priests ran down among them, tossing their arms and shouting:—"War to the white men! Death to the strangers! The Emperor is in danger!"

Warriors hastened to arm themselves and within an hour they began the attack upon the palace, while from the mainland, along the causeways which led through the lake to the city, came the caciques and great lords of the empire with their troops, plumes waving and banners tossing in the wind.

To the showers of arrows and stones rained upon them the Spaniards replied with cannon and musket shot and with whizzing bolts from their crossbows. Hundreds of the Indians were slain, but the booming of the war drums inspired them with desperate courage and they even succeeded in breaking down a part of the wall that protected the palace.

Placing His Lips Close to the Crack He Shouted for Help

THE SAGACIOUS BROTHERS
A TALE FROM BOSNIA, RETOLD BY LOUISE SOUVAN

ONCE there were three brothers who owned nothing but a good deal of sagacity and an old mare. The mare was more needful to them than all their shrewdness together, for she helped them to make a living, little as it was. One night the mare had been stolen. After hunting and searching the whole place they sat down on the high road and said to one another:—"Let us guess who could have stolen the mare." Said the eldest:—"It seems to me as though a middle sized man had done it." "If he is middle sized then he has also a blond beard," said the next one, and the youngest added:—"If he has a blond beard, then it is Mussa."

So they hunted up Mussa. They walked from village to village, many a day, but nowhere was anybody by the name of Mussa to be found. Thus they came into a large city. While loitering about in the crowded market, viewing the beautiful goods heaped up round about, they heard a merchant call somebody across the street:—"Come over, neighbor Mussa, and have a cup of coffee!"

Curiously they stopped and saw a middle sized man with a blond beard walk across the street. "Ha, that must be he!" they whispered to one another. Then they went after him. When he was seated in his friend's shop they first politely inquired after his health and then they asked him to return the stolen mare, for they needed it very badly. The man, whose name was Mussa and who was a well to do merchant, replied he knew nothing of their horse. The loud talking drew all the neighbors into the shop, who also testified that Mussa was an honest man. But the lads insisted on what they said and since Mussa kept denying it they went to the Kadi. They told their request. For a while the Kadi said nothing, but silently stroked his long beard, and finally he asked:—"How did you find out that Mussa is the thief?" They replied, "It seems so to us!" The Kadi again did some thinking, looked at the brothers scrutinizingly and said:—"Come to-night to my house and have supper with me."

So they went. All sorts of good dishes were served to them and while eating the meal with great deliberation the eldest said:—"Never have I tasted such good bread; the wheat of it has surely grown upon a field near the church."

The middle one smacked his lips and said:—"And now this roasted lamb! It is as delicious as though a pig had sucked it!" "Do you think so?" asked the youngest. "Now if it is as you say then the Kadi is the son of an Effendi."

The Kadi in the adjoining room heard every word the peasants had said and was greatly astonished. He put into one pocket of his coat a lemon and into the other an egg and went into the guests' room. He said:—"Since you are so fond of guessing, tell me what have I in my pocket." The eldest answered quickly:—"Whatever it may be it is certainly round." "If it is round," continued the middle one, "it is surely yellow." "Yellow?" asked the youngest. "Then it can be only a lemon." In a similar way they also guessed the egg in the left pocket. Now about that the Kadi was even more astonished.

Early in the morning he sent messengers to his farm to fetch the workmen. Immediately they had to tell him where the wheat had grown of which his bread was made. They said upon the field nearest the church, where the best wheat of the whole place grows. Then he inquired where the lamb had been fed which was sent to him last. Now about that the workmen seemed to be rather embarrassed, but said it was fed like the rest of them. Of course the Kadi knew at once there was something the matter with that lamb. He summoned them to tell the truth, and as they were a bit afraid of their master they finally did. Well, there was a Christian in the neighborhood of the Kadi's farm who had a herd of pigs. One day the lamb ran over to the pigs and mixed among the farrows—that's how it was.

After that the Kadi ran to his mother. "Listen," he said to her; "tell me, who was my father?" Crying, the woman replied:—"Why do you shout like that? Your father was an Effendi, my first husband, a scholar, as you are one"—"Good," the Kadi said, "but what was his name, and why didn't you tell me so before? Say it quickly!" So the frightened woman told his real name, and because she had held up the money left from her husband for his son she made him believe that her second husband was his father.

Greatly abashed the Kadi now proceeded to the merchant. In front of the shop quietly sat the three lads, waiting to see how matters were going to turn out for them. "It does not help you any," said the Kadi to Mussa; "just hand out the mare!" Then Mussa led them all into his stable, where there was standing a long row of horses, and said, downcast, "Well, then, I'll rather blush once that grow pale a hundred times. One day when driving on the high road a horse which had been grazing near by on the lawn joined us, and—why should I make many words?—we just saddled it. Here is your mare. I will return it to you, laden with goods."

And so it was. Thus the three brothers contentedly left the place. The Kadi and Mussa the merchant returned to the shop and for a long time remained silently sitting together, drinking one cup of coffee after the other, and thoughtfully stroking their long beards.

New York Server of Eviction Papers Moved by Tragedy of Which He Was Chief.

Thirty little children sat on cheap wooden benches in the second story room at 11 Suffolk street the other day. Every one of them was ragged. Most looked as though they had not had enough to eat. But they were bright eyed and alert and not for a moment did their attention stray from the white-bearded old rabbi who was teaching them Jewish prayers, although the smeary little pictures on the walls and the myriad of noises of the roaring East side street must have been a constant temptation. And then the door opened and City Marshal Lazarus stepped in, dispossess warrant in hand, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times Star. The struggling little congregation of the synagogue hadn't been able to pay the rent. Their few pennies were needed to keep their own roof trees and give their little ones a meager fare. The old teacher stood silent, with bowed head, as the poor furnishings were ripped from the place and stacked in the street below. Tears trickled down his beard. The children carried the tidings through the squalid neighborhood and in a moment the street was choked with shrieking, gesticulating, weeping men and women. They begged the marshal's men for mercy. As each bit of the poor furnishings appeared they redoubled their outcries. The rabbi, no longer erect and venerable, but a poor, old, grief-stricken man, his eyes red with tears, his hands shaking, moved among them, trying to repress their emotion. Marshal Lazarus was moved by the agony of this, perhaps the most poverty-stricken congregation in all New York. He went to the old rabbi and handed him a little money. "That's to keep you going for a few days," he said kindly.

The old man accepted it. "But it is for my people," he said proudly. "Myself, I can starve. But who will watch my little children here?"

For Nose Bleed.

For obstinate and persistent nose bleeding either put an ice pack or a cloth wrung out of ice water at the back of the neck just at the base of the brain, or drop cold water from a sponge held well above the head so that it will strike the crown of the head with considerable force.

The head should be kept well elevated; even in cases of extreme weakness do not allow the patient to lie down, and small wads of absorbent cotton wet with a weak solution of carbolic acid should be used to plug the nostrils.

If the arms are held above the head five or ten minutes the bleeding, if not severe, will usually stop.

His Business Ability.

In the Adirondacks lives a man too lazy to work, but evidently of great business ability. One winter, when he was sitting around smoking, his family came so near starving that some of his neighbors, who could ill afford to help him, took up a collection and bought for the suffering family a barrel of flour, a barrel of pork and a load of wood. They were not considerate enough to cut the wood, but the business man knew how to manage. He hired some of his neighbors, who had not contributed to his donation, to cut the wood, and paid them with half the pork and half the flour.—Lippincott's.

Shingles from a Tree 1,100 Years Old.

A lumber company at Buckley, Wash., recently sent out a number of souvenir shingles that were cut from a tree 1,100 years old.

The tree from which the shingles were cut had 350 rings, which fact denotes that it was 350 years old when it fell. The stump of a tree which grew over it has 750 rings, and as this could not have started to grow until some time after the first fell, it is practically certain that the original tree was thriving in A. D. 800, which was 700 years before the discovery of America.—Pacific Monthly.

Daily Meals of Oysters Had Begun to Pall on Palate of Tramp Printer.

An Oregon editor once got a big advertisement from a place which sold nothing but oysters. The place had just opened, and while the proprietor was willing to advertise he didn't have the cash to spend; so the newspaper man took a card which entitled him to ten dollars' worth of oysters. "A few days later a tramp printer strolled into the Gazette office and wanted a job," relates the editor. "I had nothing to offer him, but told the man he might sleep back in the composing room, and as he had no money to buy food, I gave him the meal ticket on the oyster parlor. I didn't hear from him again for more than a week. One day he came into the office looking a bit drawn and worn. 'I don't want to seem dissatisfied with what you've done for me, Mr. Carter,' he said, 'and I'm willing to admit that the luscious bivalve is a wonderfully fine bit of food; but for heaven's sake, can't you get an ad. from a ham and egg emporium?'"

Indignant at Loss of Beard.

Samuel Stiegler, a barber in that section of Brooklyn known as East New York, appeared in court the other day to explain why he cut off Morris Kreutzer's 40-year growth of whiskers without orders. Kreutzer climbed in the barber chair after instructing the barber to trim his beard and lapsed into a gentle slumber. When he awoke he screamed with rage and mortification when he saw that he was clean shaven. As he is 66 years old and his beard was the pride of his life and part of his religion, he had the barber arrested. Stiegler declared he understood Kreutzer to say he wanted a shave and as the customer slept soundly during the operation he did not learn of his error until the work was done.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

NAM AND ITAL IN THE CAPITAL OF THE AZTECS

WHAT THEY SAW WHEN THE INDIANS ROSE AGAINST THE SPANIARDS

BY ACTON ARCHER

(Copyright, 1909, by the New York Herald Co. All Rights Reserved.)

CORTES, the Spaniard, conqueror of Mexico, first entered the capital of the Emperor Montesuma without striking a blow. He did this under pretense that he came as a friend to bring greetings from his master, the King of Spain, but when once he was in, with his cannon and his soldiers, the Aztecs could not get rid of him. Indeed he even forced Montezuma himself to come to visit the Spaniards in the great palace where they had been lodged, and after that he held that Indian monarch captive, though Montezuma was too proud to let his people know his miserable condition and pretended that he remained with the strangers because he chose to do so.

This was more than the warlike Aztecs could stand and they closed their markets so that the Spaniards could get no more food. As the beautiful city had been built on an island in the Lake of Texcoco, the city market was the only place from which food could be had.

Cortes was in a great rage when he came back and learned what had happened. The pages whom he sent were two boys. One of them, Nam, was lame and thoughtful, and the other, Ital, was strong and straight as an arrow and fond of the exercises of war. They found the Spanish commander walking up and down his chamber.

"What do you want?" he demanded roughly when he saw the pages.

"Our master, the Emperor Montesuma, sends us to ask you to receive him," Nam replied.

"What have I to do with your dog of an Emperor who allows us to starve before his eyes?" Cortes thundered, and then, turning to his captains, he added:—"Seize them and shut them up in the strong room. Let them have neither a drop of water nor a mouthful of food until the market has been opened."

Cortes paid no attention, and the captains, glad that his wrath had fallen upon some one besides themselves, seized the boys and hurried them to the strong room, where they thrust them in and bolted the massive door upon them.

In this strong room the golden treasure of Montesuma's father had been kept. The Spaniards had taken the treasure, leaving the room empty. It was well suited for a prison, for its floor and walls were of stone, and it had no windows or any other door than the one by which the boys had entered. As soon as this was closed they found themselves in darkness as black as ink. Ital began to laugh.

THE SAGACIOUS BROTHERS

A TALE FROM BOSNIA, RETOLD BY LOUISE SOUVAN

After that the Kadi ran to his mother. "Listen," he said to her; "tell me, who was my father?" Crying, the woman replied:—"Why do you about like that? Your father was an Effendi, my first husband, a scholar, as you are one"—"Good," the Kadi said, "but what was his name, and why didn't you tell me so before? Say it quickly!" So the frightened woman told his real name, and because she had used up the money left from her husband for his son she made him believe that her second husband was his father.

Greatly abashed the Kadi now proceeded to the merchant. In front of the shop quietly sat the three lads, waiting to see how matters were going to turn out for them. "It does not help you any," said the Kadi to Mussa; "just hand out the mare!" Then Mussa led them all into his stable, where there was standing a long row of horses, and said, downcast. "Well, then, I'll rather blush once than grow pale a hundred times. One day when driving on the high road a horse which had been grazing near by on the lawn joined us, and—why should I make many words?—we just saddled it. Here is your mare. I will return it to you, laden with goods."

And so it was. Thus the three brothers contentedly left the place. The Kadi and Mussa the merchant returned to the shop and for a long time remained silently sitting together, drinking one cup of coffee after the other, and thoughtfully stroking their long beards.

Tell Me What I Have in My Pocket

New York Server of Eviction Papers Moved by Tragedy of Which He Was Chief.

Thirty little children sat on cheap wooden benches in the second-story room at 11 Suffolk street the other day. Every one of them was ragged. Most looked as though they had not had enough to eat. But they were bright eyed and alert and not for a moment did their attention stray from the white bearded old rabbi who was teaching them Jewish prayers, although the smeary little pictures on the walls and the myriad of noises of the roaring East side street must have been a constant temptation. And then the door opened and City Marshal Lazarus stepped in, dispossess warrant in hand, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times Star. The struggling little congregation of the synagogue hadn't been able to pay the rent. Their few pennies were needed to keep their own roof trees and give their little ones a meager fare. The old teacher stood silent, with bowed head, as the poor furnishings were ripped from the place and stacked in the street below. Tears trickled down his beard. The children carried the tidings through the squalid neighborhood and in a moment the street was choked with shrieking, gesticulating, weeping men and women. They begged the marshal's men for mercy. As each bit of the poor furnishings appeared they redoubled their outcries. The rabbi, no longer erect and venerable, but a poor, old, grief-stricken man, his eyes red with tears, his hands shaking, moved among them, trying to repress their emotion. Marshal Lazarus was moved by the agony of this, perhaps the most poverty-stricken congregation in all New York. He went to the old rabbi and handed him a little money. "That's to keep you going for a few days," he said kindly.

The old man accepted it. "But it is for my people," he said proudly. "Myself, I can starve. But who will watch my little children here?"

For Nose Bleed.

For obstinate and persistent nose bleeding either put an ice pack or a cloth wrung out of ice water at the back of the neck just at the base of the brain, or drop cold water from a sponge held well above the head so that it will strike the crown of the head with considerable force.

The head should be kept well elevated; even in cases of extreme weakness do not allow the patient to lie down, and small wads of absorbent cotton wet with a weak solution of carbolic acid should be used to plug the nostrils.

If the arms are held above the head five or ten minutes the bleeding, if not severe, will usually stop.

His Business Ability.

In the Adirondacks lives a man too lazy to work, but evidently of great business ability. One winter, when he was sitting around smoking, his family came so near starving that some of his neighbors, who could ill afford to help him, took up a collection and bought for the suffering family a barrel of flour, a barrel of pork and a load of wood. They were not considerate enough to cut the wood, but the business man knew how to manage. He hired some of his neighbors, who had not contributed to his donation, to cut the wood, and paid them with half the pork and half the flour.—Lippincott's.

Shingles from a Tree 1,100 Years Old.

A lumber company at Buckley, Wash., recently sent out a number of souvenir shingles that were cut from a tree 1,100 years old.

The tree from which the shingles were cut had 250 rings, which fact denotes that it was 250 years old when it fell. The stump of a tree which grew over it has 750 rings, and as this could not have started to grow until some time after the first fell, it practically certain that the original tree was thriving in A. D. 900, which was 700 years before the discovery of America.—Popular Mechanics.

WANTED MORE COMMON FARE

Daily Meals of Oysters Had Begun to Pall on Palate of Tramp Printer.

An Oregon editor once got a big advertisement from a place which sold nothing but oysters. The place had just opened, and while the proprietor was willing to advertise he didn't have the cash to spend; so the newspaper man took a card which entitled him to ten dollars' worth of oysters. "A few days later a tramp printer strolled into the Gazette office and wanted a job," relates the editor. "I had nothing to offer him, but told the man he might sleep back in the composing room, and as he had no money to buy food, I gave him the meal ticket on the oyster parlor. I didn't hear from him again for more than a week. One day he came into the office looking a bit drawn and worn. 'I don't want to seem dissatisfied with what you've done for me, Mr. Carter,' he said, 'and I'm willing to admit that the luscious bivalve is a wonderfully fine bit of food; but for heaven's sake, can't you get an ad. from a ham and egg emporium?'"

Indignant at Loss of Beard.

Samuel Stiegler, a barber in that section of Brooklyn known as East New York, appeared in court the other day to explain why he cut off Morris Kreutzer's 40-year growth of whiskers without orders. Kreutzer climbed in the barber chair after instructing the barber to trim his beard and lapsed into a gentle slumber. When he awoke he screamed with rage and mortification when he saw that he was clean shaven. As he is 66 years old and his beard was the pride of his life and part of his religion, he had the barber arrested. Stiegler declared he understood Kreutzer to say he wanted a shave and as the customer slept soundly during the operation he did not learn of his error until the work was done.

A TREE THAT IS WORSHIPED

Ficus Religiosa Held Sacred by Buddhists and Hindoos.

In most of the countries of southeastern Asia, the Indian Ficus religiosa, the sacred and consecrated fig tree, or peepil tree, is found. It is held pre-eminently sacred by the Buddhists, and is revered also by the Hindoos, the birth of Vishnu having occurred beneath its branches.

It is a handsome tree, growing frequently to a great height. It is an evergreen, which puts forth its flowers in April, and the bark yields freely upon incision an acrid milk containing a considerable proportion of india rubber. The leaves are heart-shaped, long, pointed and vibrate in the air like those of the aspen.

A branch of one of these trees, having a notable history, was sent to a city in the interior of Ceylon, where it was planted, and became known by the name of the bo-tree. For 200 years it received the highest reverence, and is still the chief object of worship to the pilgrims who every year flock to the ruins of the city.

Trim Your Nails.

There is a certain eminent physician who, wiser than the children of light plods his way along in an unbeaten track and has no peer as a diagnostician. He is always accompanied by an expert manicurist, instead of a white or colored valet. "The human nail, like the human hair," he said to me, "is much affected by physical conditions. Barbers will tell you that in certain seasons the beard, for instance, grows nearly twice as fast as at others. It is so with the nails. At times, according to how we feel, the free edge may be a month in growing, there is some retarding agent. At other times it may grow in a week. Sometimes the nail has transverse furrows, indicating periods of illness. At other times it bears furrows running lengthwise—a sure indication of gout. My manicurist can tell by these indications when your last sickness occurred, and I can tell what the malady was."

She Got the Letter.

The post office official put on his severest manner.

"You say you mailed the letter about half an hour ago at a window in the east corridor?" he asked.

The beautiful woman dabbled a handkerchief at her soulful eyes and at the tip of her classic nose.

"Yes, yes," she said.

"To whom was it addressed?"

She told him.

"And now you want to stop that letter?" he went on, still more sternly. "You want to get it back? Why?"

"Because," said the woman with unpremeditated frankness, "I am afraid his wife will get it."

"Oh," said the stern official.

She got the letter.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

LIGHT TO WEARY TRAVELER

Green Gardens of Damascus Rest the Eye After Long Journey Through the Desert.

The chief attractions at Damascus are the world-famed gardens which surround the city, the glimpse we get of oriental life as found in the bazars, fine streets, the shops, and last, but by no means of less interest, the famous mosque of Omeiades.

One hundred and fifty square miles of green lie in compact order round about Damascus, spread out with all the profusion of a virgin forest. Orchards and flower gardens, parks, plantations of corn and of other produce pass before the eye in rapid and changeable succession. The natives claim that there are more than 3,000 miles of shady lanes in the gardens of Damascus through which it is possible to ride. On such a ride the visitor passes orchards of figs and orchards of apricots. For hedges there is the briar rose and for a canopy the walnut. Pomegranate blossoms glow through the shade; the vine boughs trail across the briars; a little waterfall breaks on the edge of the road, and all this water and leafage are so lavish that the broken mud walls and slovenly houses have no power to vex the eye. These long gardens of Damascus form the paradise of the Arab world. Making a pilgrimage to the city after weeks and months of dreary and desolate desert life, the running water is a joy to his sight and music to his ears, and it is something to walk through shady lanes, to admire the variety of landscape and the beauty of scenery in a land where the sun beats down all day with unremitting force until the earth is like a furnace of iron beneath a sky of molten brass. —Biblical World.

WITTICISM THAT SAVED LIFE.

Frenchman's Bright Answer to Question Appealed to Revolutionary Tribunal.

The French author, Martainville, who began his career toward the close of the last century, was a royalist, and did not hesitate to attack the French revolution and its authorities. Presently, of course, he was summoned to appear before the revolutionary tribunal, with the terrible Fouquier at its head. The revolutionary tribunals at that time did not hesitate to send everybody to the guillotine who had ventured to attack them. Martainville expected to go with the rest of the victims. "What is your name?" asked the revolutionary judge. "Martainville," said the young author. "Martainville!" exclaimed the judge; "you are deceiving us and trying to hide your rank. You are an aristocrat, and your name is De Martainville." "Citizen President!" exclaimed the young man, "I am here to be shortened, not to be lengthened! Leave me my name!" A true Frenchman loves a witticism above all things, and the tribunal was so much pleased by Martainville's grim response that it spared his life.

New Fruits.

"New and strange fruits from equatorial Africa and the Amazon valley figured in a sumptuous dinner that was given to Lady Arthur Paget in New York," said a fruiterer. "Many of these fruits I saw and tasted.

"There was the star apple. It is like our apple, only in its center is a thick, white cream, that tastes like whipped cream beaten up with stewed pear juice.

"The lamrosaj looked like a peach, it smelt like a rose, and it tasted like a very sweet and luscious apricot. Lamrosaj is my alias.

"The mamo-mosho is the finest equatorial fruit. It is actually like a lemon, but its taste is a kind of commingling of grape fruit, powdered sugar and iced champagne.

"Then there were the mannah, the mo-chee and the mangosteen, all too delightful for words, and all worth, on account of the cost of shipment, from 20 cents to $4 a bite."

The Clarinet.

The clarinet has the richest, sweetest voice of all the wood-wind instruments, although its sound does not travel quite so far as that of the oboe. Whenever, as sometimes happens, there are two melodies to be played at once, the clarinet takes the lower of the two, while the violins play the upper and more important one. But in a military band, where there are no strings at all, the clarinets play the chief melody. The bass clarinet is not so smooth or so sweet as the higher ones. It has a rather choky sound, though softer then that of the bassoon.—From "The Drum of the Savage to the Great Orchestra," in St. Nicholas.

Affinity Defined.

A man who has a penchant for phrase-making and whose wife has a vivid imagination got into difficulties the other day. The lady was reading an account of the latest divorce and chanced to run across the "affinity" bromide. "Such a senseless word!" she exclaimed; then, turning to her husband, "What is an affinity, anyhow?" "Affinity? Oh, accommodation train," he defined with conscious aptness. And ever since he's been using all his cleverness in the effort to explain how he knew.

A Financial Deal.

"Why did he remarry his divorced wife?"

"For money."

"Why, where did she get it?"

"Saved her alimony."—Cleveland Leader.

ROMANCE IN SCOTCH HISTORY.

Curse Pronounced by Mother of Great Soldier Seemed to Have Adequate Fulfillment.

The widow of the great Viscount Dundee married shortly after his death William Livingston of Kilsyth, who had long been in love with her. Dundee's mother, who considered Livingston virtually her son's murderer, pronounced a curse on her daughter-in-law and her husband, praying that God would show the unworthy couple some swift token of his anger. The wedding day of Livingston and Lady Dundee was fraught with bad omens. The bridegroom gave the bride a ring inscribed, "Yours Till Death," but the ring was lost before the day was over, and the vengeful old Lady Dundee sent as her wedding gift a nightcap, a pair of white gloves and a rope, all these articles typical of a condemned murderer. In October, 1695, it seemed as though the unhappy fate so desired by Lady Dundee fell on her daughter-in-law, who died at Utrecht through a terrible accident. She, her infant son, and her maid were crushed to death through the roof falling in, her husband being rescued with great difficulty. The bodies of Lady Kilsyth and her baby were embalmed and brought to Scotland, and in the year 1800 it was the common practice of the inhabitants of Kilsyth to go to the vault and see the bodies, which were as perfect as the hour they were first placed in the coffin.

TREASURE HIDDEN IN EARTH.

Priceless Relics So Concealed Must Some Day Be Restored to the Light of Day.

The actual prosaic instances of treasure trove and the Old World ceremonial involving "crowner's quest law" to decide the legal rights are to be found in any text book on the subject. More interesting, with a certain fascination of romance, is the reflection that even in our own country, there are probably numerous buried hoards, says the London Chronicle.

One cannot always ignore tradition, and throughout the length and breadth of the land are to be found old legends of hidden treasure, sometimes guarded by a curse, sometimes by a special warder. There is probability almost amounting to certainty that valuables were hidden by the Romans, and even more probably by the Romano Britons. The treasures of the Incas and of pirates such as Kidd are still existent in theory; the buried wealth of India is among the rudimentary facts known to all students of the east.

But perhaps most startling and alluring of all is the theory that among the treasure trove to be at some time recovered from Persian sands or ruins are the Sacred Breastplate and the mysterious Urim and Thummim of the Jewish priesthood.

Some New Definitions.

Girls in a fashionable seminary not a hundred miles from town, in examination papers, recently turned out a new batch of delightful definitions. It is evident from their answers that several of them, while they may not be trained thinkers, have more or less logical processes of thought. One defined "red tape" as "the inability of any one holding a political position to do anything necessary without special orders," showing she had read her "Little Dorrit" to advantage, to say nothing of "Bleak House." Another girl, asked "Why does a ship float the right way up?" replied, "Because if it did not the people in it would tumble out." One ingenious girl suggested, "foxlet" as a noun for a young fox, which certainly is more specific than puppies. And a young person, evidently determined not to let herself be humbugged, said "B-Sc." meant "Bad science."—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

Fletcherizing.

"Yes," said the newly fledged Fletcherite, addressing his wife, "I have fully and firmly determined to turn over a new leaf and eat only two meals a day hereafter."

"Which will you omit, dear—breakfast or luncheon?" sweetly inquired his better fraction.

"Well-er-I hadn't considered that point yet. It is going to be quite a long stretch between meals, isn't it? Let me see; how shall we arrange it? Only two meals a day; we've got that point settled, but-er-yes, now I've got it! Not to have too much of an interval in between times I think I will divide the two meals up into three installments, same as at present."

Effect of Fear.

A vigorous young greengrocer, aged 27, was arrested recently on charges of drunkenness and assaulting a policeman, who was assisted in securing him a Mr. Lyons. Later, it was announced in court that Mr. Lyons was dead, and the greengrocer was remanded to see whether the coroner's jury would hold him in any responsible for the tragedy. It was found that Mr. Lyons' death was due to heart disease of long standing, but meanwhile the agonizing suspense had aged the prisoner terribly, his black hair having become completely white. —London Mail.

Looking After Business.

"I like this flat very well," she said.

"I will be very glad to rent it to you," replied the landlord.

"But we have two children?"

"They need not interfere with you and your husband having the flat. I have a house two blocks down the street, which you can rent for the children and the nurse'"

LIKED THE FIGHTING APOSTLE.

Name of St. Peter Appealed to Heart of Soldier.

It is well known that Elias Howe, the inventor of the sewing machine, not only enlisted as a common soldier in the ranks of the Seventeenth Connecticut regiment, carried a musket, and did full military duty during the war, but at a certain juncture, when national finances were at a low ebb, he paid soldiers out of his own pocket. Relative to this incident, P. T. Barnum used to tell this story:

"While Mr. Howe was counting out the money referred to, a stranger, who was a clergyman, entered the tent and said he had heard of Mr. Howe's liberality and had called to ask him to contribute toward building a church for his congregation.

"'Church, church,' said Mr. Howe without looking up from his bills he was counting; 'building churches in war times, when so much is needed to save our country! What church is it?'

"'St. Peter's church,' replied the clergyman.

"'Oh, St. Peter's,' said Mr. Howe; 'well, St. Peter was the only fighting apostle—he cut a man's ear off. I'll go $500 on St. Peter, but I am spending most of my money on saltpeter now.'"

The Psychology of the Badge.

"I've always noticed," spoke up Old Jim, "that us farmers, when we git on a biled shirt and a derby hat, feel about the same as a city feller wearin' a soft shirt and a slouch hat. We sort o' b'lieve that it's our duty to over-in-dulge. In the old days I wus one o' them kind what couldn't even pin a badge on my coat without a-feelin' that I had a license ter paint the town red."

"Yes," laughed Cal, "there hain't no sadder sight than ter see a perfectly sober man all covered with ribbins and badges."—From "Old Jim Case of South Hollow."

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Friday, January 28th.

PROPAGATION OF PLANTS

IN order to continue to raise crops from year to year we must propagate the plants in some way. There are two principal ways of doing this—by seeds and by divisions of the plant itself. The most important of these is by seeds, as it is in this way that most of the ordinary farm crops are multiplied.

In order to understand this process we must first learn how the seeds are formed. The tassel of the corn is the male flower and the silk the female. Some plants, such as certain varieties of strawberries, have only female flowers and must be planted in alternate rows with varieties which have both kinds of blossoms. In other plants the male and female flowers are combined in one. This is the case with the apple and many other fruits. In the apple the stamens, or male parts, grow in a ring around the pistil, or female part, which is in the center of the flower. The top of a stamen, which is expanded, is called the anther. This contains a yellow dust, the pollen.

The upper portion of the pistil is called the stigma. From it a tube called the style leads downward to the ovary. This ovary contains one or more egg shaped cells called ovules. Each of these ovules is capable of developing into a seed if fertilized with a pollen grain. When a grain of pollen alights on a ripe stigma it is held by a sticky substance secreted there. It soon germinates and sends a long, threadlike projection down through the style to the ovary. This slender projection enters the ovary, and the resultant union of the male and female elements causes a seed to develop. One pollen grain is required for each ovule, and each ovule develops into a separate seed. There are many thousand pollen grains produced by each stamen, and as there are several stamens for each pistil you will see that a great excess of pollen is produced. This is one of nature's methods of making reproduction more certain.

In flowers like the apple the pollen may sometimes fall directly on the stigma in the same flower. More often, however, the stamen and pistils ripen at different times. The object of this is to prevent self fertilization, which, if long continued, will weaken the vitality of the coming generations. Cross pollination—that is, the fertilization of the ovule of one flower by the pollen from another plant—unites the strength of both parents and produces larger, hardier seed.

This has been proved by many experiments. If the tassels are pulled from a row of corn before they have time to shed their pollen, the silks must necessarily be fertilized by pollen from other stalks. The cross pollination will cause the detasseled rows to produce heavier and larger ears. If this process is continued from year to year the yielding power of that particular strain will be considerably increased.

In such plants as corn the wind carries the pollen for rods in every direction. The air in the cornfield is so filled with the yellow dust that there is seldom any danger that the silks will fail to catch more than plenty to fertilize each of the many ovules that are to form the future kernels.

Some plants, however, are not so fortunate in this respect. The pollen of fruit trees is carried to some extent by the wind, but not nearly so much so as that of corn. In such plants as clover the stamens are at the bottom of a slender tube, from which they cannot escape unaided. Plants of this nature are dependent on insects to transfer pollen from one flower to another. In order to attract these insects the flowers secrete a sweet nectar, which collects in the bottom of the tubes of which the flowers are composed.

Ants, flies, butterflies and bees are very fond of this nectar and in collecting it carry the pollen of one flower to the stigma of another. Bees are most important in doing this work because they gather so much more of the nectar than do the other insects. They often carry home some of the pollen, too, which can be seen sticking in yellow balls to their hind legs, but enough is always brushed off to fertilize the flowers which they visit. The blossoms of red clover are so large that the short tongues of ordinary honeybees cannot reach to the bottom. It is upon the larger bumblebees that this crop depends for its ability to produce seed.

Indeed, it is so entirely dependent upon them that the crop of clover seed is in direct proportion to the number of bumblebees in the neighborhood. It is anything but pleasant to run into a big nest of bumblebees with a mower or rake, but before you build a fire over them stop to think whether you want a crop of clover seed or not.

Some beekeepers are developing strains of honeybees with exceptionally long tongues. Some of these are able to obtain honey from second crop red clover, which has smaller blossoms than the first crop. When these strains of bees become a little better developed and more widely distributed the usefulness of the bumblebee will be over.

In the case of small grain cross fertilization is impossible, since the flower is inside of a closed hull. Two varieties of wheat may be planted in adjoining fields or even in the same field without the slightest danger of mixing. Varieties of corn, on the other hand, often mix when as much as forty rods apart.

The selection of seed corn will be taken up in the next article. The best method of selecting small grain is by means of the fanning mill. By running through three or four times as much seed as is needed all the small grains may be sieved out and the light ones blown over, leaving only the heaviest, strongest ones for planting.

Grain that is intended for seed should be stored carefully in order that it may go through the winter uninjured. The chief enemies of stored seed are moisture, insects and rats and mice. The seed should be dry when stored and kept where moisture cannot gain access to it. Dry seed will stand almost any amount of freezing without injury.

There are a number of insects that damage seed grain by burrowing into the germ. If the seed room is tight, they may be killed by fumigating with carbon disulphide used at the rate of a pound to each thousand cubic feet of space. Place this in an open dish on top of the seed, close the room as tightly as possible, and in a few hours the insects will be exterminated. Care should be taken not to go near the room with a light, as the gas is explosive. This same treatment is also fatal to rats and mice, unless they have some way of escaping from the room. If possible the seed room should be so well built that these pests cannot get into it.

The second method of plant propagation is by division—that is, by planting parts of the plant itself. Potatoes are propagated in this way almost entirely. If small willow and poplar branches are stuck into the ground, they will grow into trees. Apple and other fruit trees are propagated either by grafting or budding. Apple trees may be raised from seed, but the fruit of seedling trees is usually worthless. By taking a part of the tree and growing another from it, it will, of course, bear the same kind of fruit.

Grafting consists of joining pieces of small branches or scions of the tree which is to be propagated to pieces of roots or stocks. The roots of yearling seedlings are used for stocks. The scions, which should be about the size of a lead pencil, should be cut in the fall and packed in sand. The grafting can be done at any time during the winter. All that is necessary is to cut the lower end of the scion and the upper end of the stock at an angle, as shown in Fig. 13. These are then carefully fitted together and tied with a little common string. The essential point is to be sure to have the cambium layer of the scion join that of the stock. This cambium layer is the thin, light brown portion between the bark and the wood. It is the point where growth takes place.

The completed graft, which should be eight to ten inches long, is again packed in sand. In the spring the grafts are planted in a row in the garden and left until they are two or three years old, when they may be transplanted to their permanent place in the orchard.

HER MOMENT OF COMPLETE JOY.

When Grandmother Reads First Letter from Her Grandchild.

You may talk about great state papers, of presidents' messages, of royal exchanges of salutations, and all that sort of thing, but when you want to strike a chord that beats in harmony with the human heart, just see that grandmother reading that first letter from her grandchild. All time and space, and things created and uncreated, are concreted into the bliss of the moment, when the dear woman drinks in the meaning of those awkward, hesitating, incongruous lines, which with all their crudities, still seem stately and dignified under the emotion of a first great effort.

There is nothing like it. Shakespeare never matched it. Dante reads like an almanac by the side of it. It is a revelation that makes St. John's seem insipid and pale. The good woman reads it over and over, and thinks away back when she was a little girl, and when the child's mother was a little girl, and then of this little boy, just starting to open a path into the mystery of life; and she reads another passage of the sweet, blundering letter, which closes with the very formality of affection—"Your loving friend"—and then her thoughts rush out of the window into the gray skies, but after a while they come back, bringing her the assurance from somewhere, that of all the blessings of life, one of the sweetest has come to her—that of getting the first epistle from her first grandchild.—Columbus (O.) State Journal.

FIRST AND LAST APPEARANCE.

Only Occasion on Which Casey Was Admitted to Parlor.

An old Irishman named Casey made a lot of money as a contractor and built a fine house for his children.

The sons and daughters were much ashamed of the plebeian father, and Casey was always kept in the rear of the house when they had a party or a reception. One day Casey died, and there was a great to-do about it. The children had a fine coffin, with plenty of flowers, and Casey was laid in state in the parlor.

That evening an old Irish woman, who had known Casey when he was a laborer, came and asked to see the face of her dead friend. They conducted her to the parlor.

She walked up to the coffin, took a long look, and said:

"Faith, Casey, an' they've let ye into th' parlor at lasht."

Grizzlies Eat Violets.

In one locality the grizzly of the Rockies is found eating the fresh sprig of the dog-tooth violet and the green leaves of the spring beauties, says Fur News, while a few hundred miles further on, to the north or south as the case may be, the grizzly doesn't touch them.

Instead he may be discovered munching at the young shoots of the shooting star, down in the Bitter Root mountain country, for instance, among the towering peaks of the higher Rockies. Upon this question of locality which is often overlooked or even ignored by nature writers, lies the solution of many warmly disputed points between those who tell the public at large all about nature and its animals.

First Freedman in the Army.

The first muster of freedmen into the United States army occurred on November 7, 1862, at Gen. Saxton's headquarters in Beaufort, S. C. It was on the first anniversary of the capture of Port Royal and at the time of the organization of the department of the south.

Capt. James had his men drawn up in line and as he read their names from the roll each man answered "Here." Then with uncovered heads and right hands raised the men took the usual oath of allegiance, which was administered by Gen. Saxton. This simple ceremony over, the newly made soldiers marched back to their camp.—Southern Workman.

When Lent Commenced.

Lent is said to have been instituted by Pope Telesphorus. In early days Lent commenced on Sunday, now known as the first Sunday in Lent, but in 487 the four days preceding were added by Pope Felix III. (483-492), thus increasing the number of fast days to 40. It was first observed in England in 640. Previous to 1543 the use of meat was prohibited during this season, but in that year Henry VII. (1509-1547) of England issued a proclamation permitting the use of white meat. The use of meat was wholly forbidden by James I. and again by Charles I.

Making a Record.

"I remember one time I was drivin' a particular good lookin' hoss that appeared ter be somewhat of a trotter, and a bystander who'd ben a-watchin' his movements finally stepped up ter me, and seemin' ter know who I was, sez 'Jim, jest 'bout how fast kin that hoss trot?'

"'Oh, I dunno,' sez I. 'I take 'im out and drive 'im like hell fer 'bout three minutes and call it a mile.'"—"Old Jim Case of South Hollow."

Dangerous Literature.

"Let me leave you some of our booklets," said the steamship agent; "they give illustrated descriptions of a number of our trips to the most remote parts of the world."

"Take them away," said the bank cashier fearfully; "if the directors saw 'em on my desk they would have my books overhauled sure."

The Hospital for Sick Children

TORONTO.

THIS APPEAL IS TO YOU!

REMEMBER That Every Sick Child in Ontario Whose Parents Cannot Afford to Pay for Treatment is Treated Free

The Hospital for Sick Children last year in its cots and beds 1,455 patients. Six of these were from 37 places in the Province. Sixty-five per cent were children of poor people who could not afford to pay.

Since its organization the Institution has treated 15,613 children; 11,539 of these unable to pay and were treated free.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

SENSATION IN LONDON COURT

Serious Charge Against the Reeve of Township — Counter Charge is Made.

London, Ont., Jan. 17.—A sensational charge of graft was made at the Assizes Saturday afternoon, against ex-Reeve Geo. Kimball of London Township, by Dr. Ross of Hyde Park, arising out of the smallpox outbreak in that municipality.

Kimball made a counter-charge against Ross.

Ross is suing the township for $2,875, claiming that he had an agreement with the township to receive $100 a week while he attended the cases.

In the account which he rendered to the township council, he offered to accept $1,500 in cash, settlement of this account without jeopardising his claim. The council offered him $350, in full of his claim.

Ross, on the witness stand, stated that Kimball, said to him in effect: "I can put an account for $1,200 through the council; you only want $1,000 of that."

Kimball denied this and claimed that Ross said: "If you put it through for $1,400 you can come to my mill and take that boiler you want any time."

Ross denied this charge and both stuck to their denials under cross-examination.

The case was tried without a jury by consent, and Chief Justice Meredith reserved decision, intimating that further evidence would not hurt and at the same time inclining to Ross' side.

CHICAGO HAS A GRAFT CASE

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Sixty-five per cent. or about $228,000 of the money spent for labor during 1909, in the Chicago sewer bureau, was wasted in the opinion of Benj. F. Welton, a New York expert, who spent six weeks investigating the operation of the bureau of the Merrian Commission, which is investigating alleged municipal graft.

He says that he found men, supposed to be cleaning streets, in saloons, while one was asleep at the mouth of a sewer in which he was supposed to be at work.

The explanation is given as the "political pull" of team owners whose influence at the City Hall made it impossible for city foremen to remedy the situation.

WAS BOUND TO WAKE UP

New York, Jan. 17.—For the first time in thirty years, Robert Willoughby failed to wake up at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. He had died some time during the night of Bright's disease.

Willoughby, who was 57 years of age, had been employed as a motor man by the Third Avenue Elevated Railway.

No matter what the weather was, Willoughby was never late.

Arranged round near his bed, were thirty clocks of different sizes and makes. Some were plain alarm clocks some were attached to big glass gongs, and had electric attachments. All gave the alarm at the same time.

NIGHT WATCHMAN FOUGHT A DUEL

New York, Jan. 17.—A duel of four hour's duration between night watchmen in Park & Tilford's store in Broadway resulted yesterday in the death of one of the participants. After finally running down and shooting his companion, the survivor sat down and wrote a letter to the police, telling them all about it, and then finished his night's work by cleaning up and putting the store in order.

John Ferris, who has worked for the firm for twenty-five years, is under arrest, charged with the shooting. The victim of the duel was John Woods. There had been bad blood between the two men and during the night they renewed their quarrel. Ferris told the police that Woods slapped him in the face, and that for hours they chased each other all over the store, upstairs and down.

Several shots were exchanged, but none took effect until Ferris finally caught Woods in the engine room and sent a bullet into his head.

WILL STOP POLLUTING NIAGARA

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 17.—Steps are to be taken by State Commissioner of Health E. H. Porter, to stop the pollution of the Niagara River in the City of Niagara Falls, N.Y., where it is stated garbage is thrown into the river through a chute below the falls. The attention of the State Department was called to the matter by Charles A. Hodgetts, chief health officer of Ontario, who stated that a petition from the City of Niagara Falls, Ont., asking for authority to operate a similar chute in that city, had been denied by the provincial officials, and asking that if possible steps be taken to prevent the pollution of the river on the American side.

JUDGE HAD THE CASTING VOTE

Mulmur Election Was Tie and Judge McCarthy Settled it

Orangeville, Jan. 17.—About 10.30 Friday night fire broke out in the cellar of M. E. Clark & Co.'s store. After pouring water into the cellar for some time, the firemen found flames had originated from the top of the furnace and were burning along joists and up the wall.

People dwelling over the store were almost smothered with smoke. Irvine's jewelry store, next door, was filled with smoke, damaging the stock.

On Jan. 3 John Reaburn was elected reeve of Mulmur Township, over Arch. Greer by one vote. A recount was applied for, which was granted. The ballots were counted before Judge McCarthy Saturday. The judge declared the vote a tie, 348 votes being according each. The casting vote was given to Mr. Greer, he being declared elected.

Mr. Greer is now an aspirant for the wardenship of the County of Dufferin. His most formidable opponent is Jas. Reith of Grand Valley. The County Council meets here on Tuesday, the 25th.

SALOONS TOO NEAR CHURCHES

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 17.—The Roman Catholic priests of Essex County are now commencing to wage their campaign for the abolition of hotels in the immediate vicinity of churches in the county.

A petition drawn up signed by Rev. Fr. Meunier, administrator of London diocese, and all priests in Essex County has been forwarded to Hon. Dr. J. O. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, who will turn it over to Sir James P. Whitney.

Besides asking for strict enforcement of the liquor law, it asks that license fee be raised to $500, and the licenses be issued in accordance with the population.

The petition draws attention to past disturbances occurring almost at church doors at Walkerville, Tecumseh and in North Essex.

DENVER WITHOUT ITS NEWSPAPERS

Denver, Col., Jan. 17—Denver breakfasted Saturday without its morning paper. The cause was the difficulty between the publishers and the local organization of pressmen.

The demand of the local union originally was for a seven-hour, instead of an eight-hour day, and an increase of $1 a day, the changes to date from March 1 last. These conditions were agreed to, but before final adjustment could be made, the pressmen demanded that they be granted time and a half for the extra hour they had worked under the new scale from last March. This the publishers refused

THERE MAY HAVE BEEN FOUL PLAY

Saskatoon, Sask., Jan. 17.—In connection with Friday morning's fatal fire, in which Mrs. Henderson, her two children and two children belonging to Alex Reid, a neighbor, lost their lives, and sensational rumors are afloat which may or may not be substantiated by the post-mortem examination upon the bodies, now being conducted. This is a course most unusual where death results presumably from burns or suffocation.

The sixth victim of the terrible affair passed away Saturday morning when Alex. Reid, who risked his own life for those of his children died

MOHAMMEDAN UPRISING SCARE

London, Jan. 17.—Lord Crawford, ex-president of the Astronomical Society, who has widely traveled in Africa and India, fears a general native uprising and massacre of Christians by fanatical Mohammedans when Halley's comet appears in the sky in the coming spring. Agitators, he says, will seize the opportunity to stir up the uneducated, superstitious natives, using the comet as fiery sign of Allah to drive out Christians. He has recommended the Government to issue placards with pictures explaining the phenomenon throughout north Africa, and especially in Egypt and India.

SHAUGHNESSY EXPRESSES DOUBT

London, Jan. 17.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, interviewed said he did not favor extensions Hudson Bay-wards, because of weather risks. It was absolutely impossible to set a term to Canada's impossibilities in grain production. She would produce enough to sell to England and the United States, if desired, for a longer period than any one now could see ahead.

A Federal Appointment.

Brockville, Jan. 17.—From the Department of Railways and Canals, John H. Shenwick, a Brockville G.T.R. brakeman, has received the appointment under the Railway Commission of inspector of railway equipment and appliances in the jurisdiction of Ontario. Shenwick has been railroading for twenty years.

UNIONIST BATTLE CRY HAS EFFECT, BUT NOT ENOUGH

At End of First Day's Polling the Unionists Show a Net Gain of Fifteen Seats, But They Needed Twenty-One to Get a Majority—Lloyd-George Chased by Mob—Tories Did Well in the Big Cities.

London, Jan. 17.—At the close of Saturday's voting, the standing of the various parties, including uncontested seats, was:

Unionists	43
Liberals	37
Laborites	6
Nationalists	5
Unionists gains	15
Liberal gains	3
Laborite gains over Liberals	1
No change	69

Of the twelve seats contested in London, the Liberals hold seven, and the Unionists five, three of the latter being gainst in North Lambeth, Brixton and Fulham.

In the provinces, the Unionists gained Southwest Manchester, Stalybridge, Salisbury, Rochester, Burnley, two seats in Devonport, Cambridge, Falmouth, Gloucester, Wolverhampton, West and South, Wednesbury and two seats in Bath.

The Liberals won Manchester Northwest, Darlington and Grimsby.

The Labor gain was in East Manchester.

Sunday was given a welcome respite from strenuous work at the election stations, and an opportunity for calm reflection over the prospects of both parties striving to gain control of the Government.

The greatest animation prevailed yesterday at the rendezvous of politicians and Saturday's results were discussed from all possible view points. Although both sides preserve an air of confidence, it was evident the Conservatives have at least abandoned hope that the party will form the next Government. The utmost they dare expect is that the Liberal majority will be reduced in the next Parliament as to place the Liberals at the mercy of the Nationalists.

Mr. Balfour, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, in a speech some days ago, said the great political issues now in question would not be settled by one general election, and perhaps not by two. Clearly the ex-Premier accurately measured the situation, and the hopes of tariff reformers must now be centred upon some future general action.

The pollings Saturday include 31 London constituencies and 57 provincial boroughs.

As forecasted, an unprecedented number of electors came to the polls. An average of 84 per cent. of the registered electors voted.

This increase in the voting strength seems to have been largely cast on the Unionist side. In London the twelve seats won gained an average increase of 12,845 to the Unionist vote and a slight decrease to the Liberals, while the provinces increased the Unionist vote 45,942, and the Liberal vote only 4,513.

This increase is a source of greatest satisfaction to the Unionist press, as showing the rapid growth in favor of tariff reform.

The editorials in the morning newspapers take up an attitude of temperate enthusiasm on both sides regarding Saturday's results, as a "good beginning," which should serve to provoke adherents to the respective parties to renewed energy.

Rev. C. Sylvester Horne's election in Parliament for Ipswich establishes a record. Under the law clergymen are incapacitated from sitting in Parliament, but a non-conformist minister is not recognised as a clergyman. There have been several other clergymen and retired dissenting divines in the House of Commons, but Rev. C. S. Horne is the first acting pastor to be elected to that body.

The popular vote goes strongly against the Liberals. The members of that party who hold seats won them Saturday by majorities ranging from 50 to 60 per cent. below their majorities in 1906, except in a few boroughs where special conditions figured in the campaign. The popular votes polled by the Liberals for the twelve London seats show a stronger hold on power than in the provinces. The majority of the London boroughs were labor districts. Of these the Unionists carried five, three being captured from the Liberal column, but by small margins.

Manchester and Birmingham gave heavy Unionist gains. Birmingham has been strongly Conservative, largely the result of Joseph Chamberlain's crusade for protection, and Unionists carried the city solidly by increased majorities, nearly 8,000 larger than in 1906.

In Manchester the Unionists increased their votes, for while the Liberals still have five of the six seats, the Liberal majorities were decreased nearly 9,000.

The most exciting scene of the campaign occurred at Grimsby Saturday, where a menacing crowd threatened David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, compelling him to flee from a hall where he had been speaking, under police protection, much as he was driven from a pro-Boer meeting at Birmingham during the South African war, when he escaped in a policeman's uniform.

Part of the provocation for the hostility shown toward him was caused by the Chancellor's unusual course in addressing the voters on polling day, which has never obtained before in England, and which is considered by many as unconstitutional.

The Chancellor's speech included a prediction of disaster to the German fleet if it fought the British.

Referring to the invincibility of the British navy, he declared: "If the German fleet in a moment of madness ever attacked Great Britain, it would be at the bottom of the German ocean in a very few hours."

A big crowd waited outside the hall, and when the Chancellor appeared, raised shouts of "traitor," 'pro-Boer."

The Chancellor remained within the building and a cordon of police was drawn up to keep back the crowd.

The chief constable, with an escort of police, conducted Mr. Lloyd-George out of the back door, and the party retreated a quarter of a mile along the railway, where a small station was used as a refuge.

An automobile was telephoned for, and in the meantime, the Chancellor busied himself in writing letters.

When the motor arrived, he drove into town by a circuitous route.

In London, Richard Jebb, the vigorous reform tariff candidate, furnished one of the interesting events of the day. He visited the headquarters of his rival to denounce charges against him. A fight followed and Jebb was thrown into the street.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

It is announced that the Manitoba Legislature will meet Thursday, Feb. 24.

The Northern Elevator Co.'s storage elevator at Emerson, Man., was burned Saturday. Loss $30,000.

Right Rev. Neil McNeill, Bishop of St. George's, Nfld., has been made archbishop of the Metropolitan See of Vancouver, according to advices from Rome.

Fire, which broke out last Saturday night in a tenement house in St. John, N.B., destroyed three houses and rendered nine families homeless. The loss was about $5,000, with little insurance.

A crowd of fifty Brockville and Ogdensburg cock-fighters were surprised about midnight by three constables of the local force, who swooped down upon them in a barn outside the town limits. Only one arrest was made.

Scotland is deeply aggrieved because of the Government grant of $100,000 to Capt Scott's Antarctic expedition. Scotia has an Antarctic expedition of her own, headed by Dr. W. S. Bruce, supported by the Royal Scottish Geographical Society, and equipped with Scotch money.

LONDON'S ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN DEAD

London, Ont., Jan. 17.—One of London's best known young women, Miss Emma C. Leigh, died suddenly Saturday. Miss Leigh was assistant librarian at the public library and one of the original members of the staff, being appointed at the opening of the building 14 years ago. She was at her post on Thursday, but took ill that night.

Her mother died but two weeks ago.

COMPLICATED LEGAL CASE IN LONDON COURT

London, Ont., Jan. 17.—One of the most complicated cases in the history of the local courts was decided Saturday morning in the case of Walter Barnett, a butcher, who lost both his legs in an accident in the G.T.R. yards. Barnett was going home and jumped on a Pere Marquette train going east near Waterloo street. A G.T.R. engine pulling out a switch struck the rear platform of the car on which Barnett was standing and he was crushed so badly that he lost his limbs.

The jury Friday night found that if damages were due him they should be awarded to the extent of $6,000, but the jury returned answers to questions submitted by his lordship on a matter of law, which rendered it practically incumbent on the judge to dismiss the action. The questions were: "Was the plaintiff at the time of the accident upon the train of the Pere Marquette Railway Co. by the permission of the company; was the plaintiff on the platform by permission of the Pere Marquette Railway Co.?"

To both of the questions the jury returned this answer: "No."

The points of law were argued by counsel before his lordship, the replies of the jury decided that as the defendant was unlawfully riding on the Pere Marquette train there was no recourse for him through the courts. His lordship recommended in dismissing the action that the Grand Trunk take into consideration the unfortunate condition of the plaintiff, who had lost both legs in the accident, and that they recompense him as they could see fit.

Wage Increase for Miners.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 17.—Ten per cent. increase in wages for the bituminous miners of North America probably will be the demand in annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which will open here Tuesday.

DR. J. H. RICHARDSON DEAD AT TORONTO

Well-known Toronto Professor Passes Away, Aged 87 Years

Toronto, Jan. 17.—Dr. James H. Richardson emeritus professor of anatomy of the University of Toronto, the first medical graduate of the University of Toronto, and one of Canada's grand old men, died at his residence, 36 St. Joseph street, at the age of 87, at midnight, Saturday. He was in ill-health for over a year.

Dr. Richardson was born at Presque Isle, near Brighton, Northumberland County, in 1823. His grandfather and father were shipowners and masters during, and for many years preceding, the war of 1812. In the attack on Oswego his father lost his left arm. Dr. Richardson first studied medicine in 1841, with Dr. J. Rolph, who was then an exile in Rochester on account of the part he took in the rebellion of 1837. He then attended the first course of medical lectures at King's College, Toronto. There being only one other student, who was absent most of the time. Dr. Richardson was the first graduate. In 1844 he crossed the ocean and entered Guy's Hospital, London, and was present at the first demonstration of ether in London. In 1847, having graduated, he returned to Toronto and commenced practice.

In 1850 he succeeded Dr. Sullivan as professor of anatomy in the medical department of the University of Toronto, which had only been constituted a short time before. When that faculty was discontinued in 1853 he accepted the chair in anatomy in the Toronto School of Medicine, which he held until 1887, when, the medical faculty of the university being restored, he returned to his old position. He resigned that position in 1902.

Dr. Richardson was for a long time surgeon-major of the 10th Royal Grenadiers. He had a medal for the active part he took in suppressing the Fenian raid.

BOURASSA IS ON THE WAR PATH

Montreal, Jan. 17.—Henri Bourassa is on the war path against the Government naval bill, an address from the local member for St. Hyacinthe being announced for Thursday evening at the Monument Nationale. It does not appear, however, as if the masses are to be admitted, as an entrance fee will be charged and even reserved seats are announced.

Le Nationalist states that the people must be consulted before the navy bill can become law, so it looks as if Mr. Bourassa would either demand a plebiscite or a general election.

The articles also throws the whole blame upon Earl Grey, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and R. L. Borden.

STRANGE DEATH OF A WOMAN IN PITTSBURG

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—From a speechless trance in which she had lain for three months and a half, Mrs. Kate Mendelsohn passed on to death at a hospital here yesterday. Her husband, on the night of Sept. 30, awoke to find the woman in a comatose state. Their baby lay on the floor uninjured, apparently having fallen out of bed. Mr. Mendelsohn thinks his wife must have been shocked into unconsciousness when the baby tumbled out of bed. She must, he believes, presumed that the child was killed. She had been frail, but in normal health.

NEW CUSTOMS REGULATIONS

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—Regulations recently issued by the Department of Customs relative to certificates of origin on goods entered under the British preferential tariff, and those covered by treaty or convention rates, come into force on and after Feb. 1.

Inspectors and exporters are notified that the country of origin, in respect to each article, must be specified on the margin opposite to each article, or elsewhere in the invoice, when the articles are for entry in Canada, under the British preference tariff, and that the certificate of origin must be written, printed or stamped on the face or back of all invoices, except for raw and refined sugars.

It is also provided that all goods for entry under the British preferential tariff are to be invoiced separately from other goods, and that in future the German surtax certificate can be dispensed with on British goods.

New forms are provided for goods under the British preference, and also for those covered by treaty or convention rates.

DR. COOK'S POLE STUNT PAID WELL

Copenhagen, Jan. 17.—Walter Lonsdale, former secretary of Dr. Cook was dated at a place in southern Spain on Dec. 24.

According to that letter Cook was at sea from Dec. 4 to Dec. 24, and Mr. Lonsdale figured that this was the reason why he was unacquainted with the decision of the Copenhagen University rejecting his claim of having discovered the pole. Since that time Mr. Lonsdale has not heard a word from Cook, although he had sent a number of telegrams to the doctor's last known address.

Mr. Lonsdale estimated that Dr. Cook's profits from his lectures and other revenue from newspaper articles amounted to about $50,000.

WILL CONTROL TRANSPORTATION IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 17.—Control of the Fifth avenue motor bus line and the New York Transportation Co., which operate between 500 and 600 taxicabs, has been acquired by the Interborough Transit Co. and the Metropolitan Securities Co.

There is a rumor that J. Pierpont Morgan and Theodore Shonts are the moving spirits of the merger, and that it is the initial step in securing the control of all the transportation in this city by a corporation dominated by Mr. Morgan.

AN ALLEGED HIGHWAYMAN

London, Jan. 17.—Robert Hobblethwaite, believed to be from Toronto, and who has an alias of Densmore, was arrested, with Thos. McDonald of Chicago, and will be charged with robbery with violence from boarders at the Hodgins' House. A watch was taken from a boarder, and Geo. Bains of St. Mary's had his pockets gone through and was left bruised and bleeding.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Overcome by Gas.

New York, Jan. 17.—Eight men were overcome by coal gas as they snoozed on cots in a Turkish bath establishment in Harlem yesterday morning.

Two more sturdy bathers ran from the place clad in pyjamas, and, nimbly hopping snowdrifts, summoned the police and an ambulance. Timely aid revived the eight; all will recover.

Gas fumes from a furnace in the cellar caused the trouble.

When Menelik Dies.

Rome, Jan. 17.—The Ministry of War is mobilizing two army corps at Naples and Pisa in readiness to embark to Erythrea and Benadir, on the east coast of Africa, in case of disturbances following the death, which is expected any day, of Menelik, Emperor of Abyssinia.

The present garrisons in the Italian possessions in Africa are too weak to insure quiet.

Convict Heir to a Million.

New York, Jan. 17.—J. Edward Boesch, who is serving a seven-year sentence in Sing Sing prison for a big jewelry swindle in 1907, may fall heir to more than a million dollars left by his uncle, J. C. Lounsberry of St. Paul, who died there last January in squalor.

Fell on Cable; Burned to Death.

Rochesterd, Jan. 17.—Frank Brown twenty-two years old, fell upon a live electric cable in the plant of the Rochester Railway & Light Co. early yesterday morning, which ignited his clothes and burned him to death.

Italian Miner Shot.

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 17.—An Italian miner named Charles Petrolol was perhaps fatally injured in a shooting affray at the Glace Bay mines on Saturday. Petrolol was shot while in an argument with another Italian named Banci over fares claimed to have been paid by the latter while they were coming here from Cobalt.

Social Demonstration in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Social demonstrations were made yesterday in favor of the reform of the Prussian franchise.

A heavy rain fell all through the day and there was little disorder.

Resolutions were adopted demanding universal direct and secret suffrage.

Similar demonstrations were held throughout Prussia.

Blizzard in Costa City $600,000.

New York, Jan. 17.—Nine lives were lost and six persons injured in one of the worst storms that ever visited New York City. The total snowfall was 14 1-2 inches, second only to the blizzards of 1899 and 1888.

Eighteen thousand men have been put to work clearing the streets. It is estimated that the cost of removal will exceed $800,000.

Russia Grows Most Grain.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Russia is the greatest wheat-producing country in the world. Last year it produced the remarkable harvest of 783,000,000 bushels, which constituted the largest crop ever harvested by any country.

Grand Forks, Idaho, Burned.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 17.—Grand Forks, once rated as the toughest town in Idaho, was almost destroyed by fire yesterday.

Are your hands chapped, cracked or sore? Have you "cold cracks" which open and bleed when the skin is drawn tight? Have you a cold sore, frost bite, chilblains, or a "raw" place, which at times makes it agony for you to go about your household duties? If so, Zam-Buk will give you relief, and will heal the frost-damaged skin. Anoint the sore places at night, Zam-Buk's rich healing essences will sink into the wounds, end the smarting, and will heal quickly.

Mrs. Yellen, of Portland, says: "My hands were so sore and cracked that it was agony to put them near water. When I did so they would smart and burn as if I had scalded them. I seemed quite unable to get relief from anything I put on them until I tried Zam-Buk, and it succeeded when all else had failed. It closed the big cracks, gave me ease, soothed the inflammation, and in a very short time healed my hands."

Zam-Buk also cures chafing, rashes, winter eczema, piles, ulcers, festering sores, sore heads and backs, abscesses, pimples, ring-worm, etc., cuts, burns, bruises, scalds, sprains. Of all druggists and stores, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Price 50c a box.

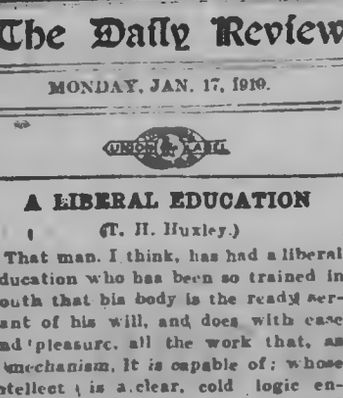
A LIBERAL EDUCATION

(T. H. Huxley.)

That man, I think, has had a liberal education who has been so trained in youth that his body is the ready servant of his will, and does with ease and pleasure, all the work that, as a mechanism, it is capable of; whose intellect is a clear, cold logic engine, with all its parts of equal strength, and in smooth working order; ready, like a steam engine, to be turned to any kind of work, and spin the gossamers as well as forge the anchors of the mind; whose mind is stored with a knowledge of the great and fundamental truths of Nature and of the laws of her operations; one who, no stunted ascetic, is full of life and fire, but whose passions are trained to come to heel by a vigorous will, the servant of a tender conscience; who has learned to love all beauty, where of Nature or of art, to hate all vileness, and to respect others as himself. Such a one and no other, I conceive, has had a liberal education; for he is, as completely as a man can be, in harmony with Nature. He will make the best of her, and she of him. They will get on together rarely; she as his ever beneficent mother; he as her mouthpiece, her conscious self, her minister and interpreter.



EDITORIAL NOTES

The melancholy days have gone. The earth is hurrying to the summer solstice, and the bright and glorious days of February are near.

As an advocate of "spade work in politics," Mr. Sexsmith, of East Peterborough, has the Old Country politicians beaten to a frazzle.—Ottawa Free Press.

Mr. Sexsmith last night, several times advised his fellow-members to go into the Library and "dig out" for themselves certain historical incidents. No doubt the Parliamentary Library will be forthwith invaded by a crowd of Conservative M.P.'s with shovels in their Hands.—Ottawa Free Press (Lib.)

It is said that Mr. Monk, the leader of the Conservative party in Quebec, has parted from Mr. Borden and that party on the navy question. Perhaps the esteemed Mr. Monk will yet be persuaded that imperial unity is as desirable as it is inevitable.

"As to the emergency contribution of which Mr. Borden spoke, we believe that the great majority of Canadians are prepared for any sacrifice should the contingency arise which Mr. Borden fears. We believe that if there were a possibility, not to say a probability, that Britain's supremacy at sea were endangered, the people of Canada would go to any lengths to help remove the uncertainty. If it were necessary even to stop important public works that would be done. It is because we cannot believe the situation calls for any desperate remedies that less sensational, but in the end for more effective means are being taken to assume Canada's fair share in the burdens of Imperial defence. While Great Britain has three fighting men on the ocean to every one of the next strongest naval power it would be foolish to adopt panicky and hysterical measures that would delay the real provision of an effective aid to Great Britain for many years."—The Globe.

What a blessing it is that the Globe knows more than the British Admiralty.

Since no attempt has been made in Canada to defray the cost of administration by direct taxation upon the people, leaving imports free, the average citizen, and more especially the Canadian farmer, may ask whether the burden of this indirect taxation is fairly distributed among the different interests of the country. When the question is applied more specifically the farmer may ask whether he should be excluded from the full benefits of protection when those benefits are accorded to other classes of the community. It will be for the reader to judge whether the record proves that the exclusion of the farmer from the advantages of this protection through the tariff laws accounts for the decline of the sheep industry of Canada, and accounts, at the same time, for the decay of the woolen industry; and, still more important, whether it explains why this country is still without a worsted industry, which forms the chief branch of the woolen trade of other great manufacturing countries, and which is peculiarly adapted to the character of Canadian wools.—Textile Journal.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Dromes Is Correct Word.

New York, Jan. 17.—Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor, has now invented a word.

"In Canada," he said, "we speak of a man droming from one point to another.

"The word aerodrome originated with a professor of Greek at Johns Hopkins University, and it means an air runner. We call our machines dromes—much simpler and more correct, too, than aeroplanes, for the fore and aft curves in the aerodromes of to-day make aeroplane a misnomer.

'I think we shall all come to calling them 'dromes'."

President's Daughter Aids Strikers.

New York, Jan. 17.—Miss Helen Taft, daughter of the President, is lending her aid to the shirtwaist strikers here. FULL TEXT OF THE SPLENDID SPEECH OF MR. SEXSMITH, M.P., IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS ON THE BUDGET DEBATE

A Cogent and Concise Deliverance in the House of Commons on the Tariff in Relation to Agriculture—The Farmer Finds a Capable and Fearless Representative—Its Effect Upon the House.

The following is the full parliamentary record (Hansard) of Mr. Sexsmith's very able speech on the Budget, with reference to the tariff and agriculture:—

"Mr. J. A. Sexsmith (East Peterborough). I have listened with considerable interest to the speech on the budget and the lengthy debate which has followed. I was surprised to hear the hon. the Minister of Finance make the statement that there would be no tariff changes this year. There are many changes which should be made and made at the earliest possible date in the interests of our agricultural population. The hon. member for South Renfrew (Mr. Low) spoke quite fluently about the woollen industry. When the hon. member for East Grey (Mr. Sproule) talked about that industry a short time ago, judging by the expression of some of the members of the opposite side of the House, it was to them an industry to be laughed at rather than discussed. I am perfectly satisfied that the hon. member for South Renfrew has never taken the trouble to study the magnitude of that industry or what it has done for other nations. Before I sit down, I hope to draw the attention of that hon. gentleman and of the House to what that industry has done and is doing for the great countries of the British empire and of America. Speaking on the subject of agriculture, I feel, as one inexperienced in making speeches and in view of the magnitude of that industry, that I shall not be able to do it justice. However, I am a farmer myself, and if there is anything in the world I am proud of it is of that fact. Not that there are not other higher callings in life, but to my mind there is no other higher calling than that of tilling the soil and producing food for the nation. According to the statistics of the government, the farmers of Canada last year, in one branch of their industry alone, added to the wealth of the nation, $432,992,100, this being the value of the field crops. I contend, I think, rightly so, that every dollar produced from the soil is a dollar added to the wealth of the country, for no part of it is taken from the natural resources of the country, but, if a proper system of cultivation be used, that production can go on and on through all time. In addition to the amount I have already stated, we may count $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 to represent the other products of the farm, bringing the sum total of the wealth produced by the farmers of Canada last year close to the billion dollar mark. Yet in the face of this, we find one of the ministers of this government, if he is correctly reported, a short time ago practically asking the people by their votes to discriminate against the farmers as representatives in this House, declaring against a candidate on the ground that he was not a trained advocate and therefore not able to represent his constituents. I think we have a right to hold the government responsible for these statements. It seems to me the reason they do not want farmers here is because the farmers, through long practice of economy in making a living, on coming here will be, as I was myself, astonished at the extravagant expenditure of the government along many lines and will go back and tell their fellow-farmers, so that it will not be well for the government. I cannot think of any other reason.

As to the woollen industry, concerning which my hon. friend (Mr. Low) has spoken so elaborately, I think that if that hon. gentleman had studied what this industry has done for other countries and how it is fostered by other countries, he would have come to the conclusion that it is well worth while to do something for that industry in Canada. The Minister of Finance (Mr. Fielding) in his budget speech the other day told us that the government had paid $13,009,000 in subsidies to the steel and iron industry That industry is not what you would call a natural industry of the country; yet we have fostered it and spent upon it millions of the hard-earned money taken from the pockets of the people of this country, while the woollen industry, which has done more for the nations of the world than any other, and which did not cost this country one dollar, has been practically throttled and put out of business.

There are three great essentials in the foundation of a nation, especially in a country with a climate like ours—food, fuel and clothing. I am glad to be able to say that we are in a position to supply food for ourselves, and I hope that in a short time we shall be able to supply food for the whole British empire. As to fuel, we have it in abundance; we have deposits of coal that are practically inexhaustible. We have also everything required to provide clothing for the people, but that industry does not seem to be regarded by hon. members opposite as worthy of consideration. In 1839, there were 270 woollen mills in Canada; in 1908 these had decreased to 197. Now, I will ask the members of the government: Can we, having the remedy in our own hands, allow this condition of affairs to continue? According to the United States census of 1905, the capital employed in the textile industry in that country was $1,343,524,605, and the value of the goods produced per annum is $1,215,038,190. The woollen industry, which is one of the textile industries, employed $477,000,000 and the annual value of its product was $517,000. Now, these are figures that, in my opinion, are well worth looking into. When we look over the great manufacturing industries of the United States, we find that the production and manufacture of food employ more capital than does the textile industry. We find that the iron and steel industry employs more capital than does the woollen industry. But if you take into account the labour employed in the manufacture of textiles into clothes in the United States, you will find that the industry gives more employment to labour in that country than do the iron and steel industry and the food industry combined. I contend that the value of a great industry to a country is to be judged by the number of people to whom it given employment. Taking that into consideration, surely every hon. member of this House will admit that the woollen industry far exceeds every other.

Now let us look at Great Britain. The textile industry in Great Britain represents a capital of $1,250,000,000. It is the greatest export industry in that country, and it employs directly and indirectly about 5,000,000 people. I would like hon. gentlemen to pay strict attention to these facts. The textile industry in Great Britain employs about one-tenth of the entire population, according to the statistics of last year. One-half of the total exports of Great Britain are textile goods They consume 657,000,000 pounds of wool, of which 100,000,000 pounds are home grown. Now we have been told that we cannot produce wool in Canada, but that we must turn our attention to something else. We find, however, that in England they are able to raise sheep on their high priced land, and to produce wool to such an extent that they have 100,000,000 pounds to consume at home, and exported besides 31,000,000 pounds.

Mr. Low. Would the hon. gentleman like this country to adopt the woollen tariff of Great Britain?

Mr. Sexsmith. I will deal with that point later on. I think I can show that it might be better to adopt the system all through. The woollen industry in England has grown up behind the most severe tariff walls that we ever read of.

Mr. Low. Is that tariff in existence to-day?

Mr. Sexsmith. It was in exisfence until the industry reached a position where it could compete with the whole world. There were produced last year in England 131,000,000 pounds of wool. I draw attention to these facts to show the great importance of the woollen industry. In France, the textile industry employs 2,800,000 people, and has an output worth 235,000,000 francs. Germany employs more people in the textile industry than in any other industry, and produces woollen goods to the value of 266,233,000 marks. It is the same with some of the smaller nations like Belgium, Holland and Switzerland. Now if the hon. gentleman will listen, I will tell him how this industry was fostered, and he will conclude that it was not by accident that it attained its present enormous proportions. I want to show the means adopted by some of the great nations to build up this industry. We will have to go back some distance in history. In the 12th century we find that under King Henry II wool was the greatest export of England. One writer says that all the nations of the world were clothed with English wool, made into cloth in Flanders. To become as rich as a Count of Flanders was to become very wealthy indeed. It was King Edward III who really created the woollen industry in England, for he sent into Flanders to introduce into England those Flemish wool workers who, at that time, were experts in the manufacture of cloth. Up to that time England hardly knew anything about the manufacture of cloth, for she exported all her wool. King Edward III introduced these wool workers, who came and settled in England, and through them the manufacturing industry was brought to the very highest point. Immediately that the King found he was in a position to manufacture the wool of Great Britain in his own country, what did he do? Sir, he imposed the death penalty on any man who exported wool out of England. Now is not that absolute protection? I would invite the hon. gentleman to delve into history a little, to go into the library and look up the history of this industry in England from the 14th century down to 1774, at which time the woollen industry had grown to such an extent that England was able to supply the world with woollen clothes. In 1774 an Act was passed to protect the machinery that had been invented for the manufacture of cloth. It forbade any one to export such machinery to any foreign country under a penalty of £200. In 1781 that Act was amended. I took the trouble to go into the library and dig up the data, and I would advise the hon. gentleman to look it up for himself, and he will find it very interesting reading. As I say, in 1781 that Act was amended, and the penalty for exporting machinery was one year in prison without the option of a fine. If any one on board a British vessel was found exporting any machinery or any utensils used in the manufacture of wool or other textiles, he was subject to a fine of £200 and a year's imprisonment. If a captain of a British ship was found guilty of this, he was disqualified for life from acting as captain. That Act, with a few amendments, continued in force until 1842, at the time the Cobden policy was adopted, or down to the reign of Queen Victoria. Now will any hon. member in this House dispute the fact that that industry was fostered in England and brought to that great pitch of prosperity by the most rigorous protection? Why, Sir, it was fostered by the most active protection ever placed on the statute-book of any country, and it attained a position in which it could defy all the nations of the world. The English manufacturers could manufacture cheaper than any one else, they were supplying the world with the finished product, and it made them wealthy, and they became millionaires. That industry did as much to enrich the British empire as any other, and even more than any other industry.

Now let us look at the history of the growth and development of this industry in the United States. In the United States, in 1812, they found themselves at war with Great Britain; and after the war had been going on for a short time they discovered that they were dependent for their clothing on the very people they were at war with. The United States government found it necessary to do something to place the nation on a solid foundation with regard to its textile industries. Some attempt was made there and in two years the woollen industry had doubled, but immediately after the declaration of peace with Great Britain we find that the superior position of Great Britain in the manufacture of goods put the United States home-made form of manufacture out of business, and in 1816, four years after the war, England was supplying the United States with $70,000,000 worth of manufactured cloth. That condition practically prevailed from 1816 until 1865, and then Congress took a hand and the patriotic spirit seems to have prevailed; they concluded that that industry should be put on a national basis and become a part of their national policy. In 1859 we see that the protective policy was brought into force. It is said in Canada that if the farmers had a protection on wool it would not make any difference because they would not raise sheep. But in 1859 a similar condition prevailed in the United States, and perhaps the opponent of the Bill in the congress there might have brought forward the same argument. But, Sir, let us look at the facts. In 1859 the wool clip of the United States amounted to 60,044,000 pounds. Now the average wool clip of the United States is over 300,000,000 lbs. and they use some 500,000,000 pounds in the woollen mills of the United States. We have different classes of wool manufacturers in this country. The policy of the government in the past in connection with the woollen industry has not been logical, they began at the tail end. Instead of beginning, as the United States did, by protecting the raw material, the government of Canada started to protect the manufactured article first. Their action was like commencing to build a house at the top storey. The manufacture of worsteds in the United States was founded on Canadian wool. In 1854, under the reciprocity tariff with Canada, the United States founded that industry. The worsted men petitioned congress at that time. In their their petition they said that the worsted industry had been built upon the wools of Canada and if these wools were prohibited it would practically destroy their trade. I wish to read an extract and partial summary of their petition and its results;

Canadian Wool Founded the United States Worsted Industry.

The manufacture of worsteds, which is just beginning to have an important development in this country, owes its existence to the reciprocity treaty, which admitted, free of duty, the wools of Canada. The farmers of Upper Canada, of English and Scotch descent, naturally prejudiced in favour of the sheep husbandry which prevails at home—as England is all called in the colonies—and having a taste for English mutton, imported sheep of the Leicestershire, Cotswold and Down races, which have thriven admirably on the naturally rich limestone soils of Upper Canada. The present production of wool from these sheep in Canada is about six million pounds. The Canadians have no fine-wooled sheep (meaning merinos). Protected by a tariff, they consume about two million pounds of their own wool in the manufacture of coarse cloths, including tweeds, which have been imported largely into the United States, notwithstanding the duty on cloths; and we use the balance of three to five millions. They added that the introduction of the finer lines of worsted goods and the unexampled development of this branch of textiles was due to the command of Canada wools, which were fully equal to the English combing wools, but there was not enough of such wools grown in the united States to keep one of the worsted mills running. They were fair enough to admit that if these combing wools were to be grown in the United States the worsted manufacturer would fall into line with the national policy, provided their industry could be protected sufficiently to hold the trade during the period of transition. Their views were met by congress, with what results will be seen in figures elsewhere quoted.

It is interesting to observe from this extract that as far back as 1854, Canada had become an exporter of cloth. Had that industry been properly fostered since that time we would to-day have an industry that would give more employment than any combination of two or three industries that we have in Canada, and taking the proportion of population of the two countries, there would be 190,000 more people employed in Canada and 1,400,000 less inhabitants in the United States owing to the existence of that great industry in this country. It seems to me that with the facts before us of what this great industry has done in other countries, it is time that the people and the Government of Canada should take a hand and see if something cannot be done to stimulate and build up that trade and let it go on as a national industry in the future. There is no reason why it should not go hand in hand with the great agricultural industry of Canada.

The first worsted industry in Canada was started in Canada in 1872. They received no assistance from the government and moved to the United States, where they have made a fortune for their stockholders, and to-day that is one of the greatest industries in the United States.

I think I have said enough to convince the hon. members of the government, as well as the hon. members of the House, that this industry has not received fair treatment at the hands of the government. It is time the government took the matter up and tackled it in earnest and continue at it until they have made it a success. We were told by the hon. member for East Grey (Mr. Sproule) the other night that the State of Montana produced 45,000,000 pounds of wool last year, while Alberta produced only 400,000 pounds. The woollen industry is among the greatest industries of civilized nations, and were it adequately protected along the whole line from the production of the wool to the finished product it would mean many million dollars more for the farmers of Canada. As has been pointed out the balance of trade against us with the United States is something to be deplored. I have here a statement of our exports to the United States and our imports from the United States, and in that table I have been careful to include only purely agricultural products which are of interest to the farmers of Canada and of which we produce an abundance in this Dominion. The first table shows as follows:—

IMPORTS FROM UNITED STATES TO CANADA, 1909.

Total breadstuffs (under duty)	$11,425,804
(free)	3,795,734
Total	$15,221,538
Green apples	224,896
Total provisions (lard, butter, cheese, &c)	3,491,939
Animals (not including animals for export)	960,584
Hay	128,738
Vegetables	795,791
Grain products (bran, flour, &c)	424,639
Total agricultural products	$21,546,125

Now, the market gardeners of the United States have a market of 80,000,000 people in their own country and the market gardeners of Canada have a population of, we will say, between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 people to supply, but the market gardeners of the United States are protected and the market gardeners of Canada are not protected and the market gardeners of the United States have been able to send to Canada vegetables to the value of $795,794. Now, I have a table showing the Canadian exports to the United States and I have taken similar articles to those mentioned in the former table of the United States exports to Canada;—

CANADA IMPORTS TO UNITED STATES.

Animals living	$1,796,992
Total breadstuffs	2,592,969
Fruits	389,870
Hay	35,008
Provisions (butter, cheese, eggs, bacon and ham)	382,118
Vegetables	507,119
Total	$ 5,695,076
Total trade, exports and imports	$285,265,717
Imports	$192,661,360
Exports	92,604,357
Difference in favor of United States	$100,067,003

It will be seen, therefore, that the Canadian farmers and market gardeners have been able to sell to the 80,000,000 population of the United States only $5,695,000 worth of these natural products, while the American farmer and market gardeners have been able to sell to the 7,000,000 or 8,000,000 Canadians, $21,546,000 worth. Thus, the farmers of Canada are to this extent forced out of their own market and obliged to pay the freight for the transportation of their products to other markets of the world. That is the kind of treatment the farmers of Canada are receiving from this government all along the line. I remember from my boyhood days hearing the Liberals when in opposition talking about capturing the markets of the United States or the Canadian farmers and having reciprocity. The Liberals are in power; have we reciprocity to-day?

Mr. Edwards—They forget all about it.

Mr Sexsmith—Yes, they forget all about it and the balance of the trade between us and the United States is to-day $98,000,000 worth in their favor, deducting the imports of bullion. I contend that the United States last year took that amount of money out of the pockets of the people of Canada, and carried it away to their country. I do not believe there is a minister in the cabinet to-day who would conduct business privately with a man who always wanted an advantage of from ten to twenty per cent., and yet, that is the system under which the people of Canada are forced to do their business with the United States. I wish it to be distinctly understood that I am not a high protectionist, but I am an adequate protectionist. I believe in fair trade, and if the United States puts up barriers against us I believe we should do likewise. Let us see how the duties on Canadian products go up to the United States compare with the duty on United States products coming into

LICENCE REDUCTION

This evening the city council will have the first opportunity of fulfilling its obligation to the electorate of reducing the number of liquor licenses. The mandate was unmistakable. A careful polling of public opinion on both the liquor and temperance sides shows conclusively also that this course is the desired and only possible one. It is agreed on all hands that some of the license holders might very well have been asked to retire years ago. It is unnecessary to particularize, but few are found to stand up and defend the course of some of those who earned their reputation in the business. They have run the risk and must take the consequences.

Improper liquor selling is not by any means the only vice that has had much to do in reforming public opinion in this connection.

Some license-holders have and have had records to be proud of in any business, and against them there is no complaint by anybody, but others, either now or in the past, have earned the opposition of the public, and it is not to be wondered at, therefore, that when the time has come the public will demand a reduction of licenses. This move must not be taken as the move of the extreme temperance people alone. It is the desire of the great, quiet and mature good sense of the whole community. We know of very many who voted against Local Option who are in favour of license reduction.

The council, therefore, will find itself acting in unison with Public Opinion generally when it so decides, and we have no doubt that there will be no attempt to evade the issue by any sleight-of-hand. The people are tired marking time and are anxious to be up and doing. The Mayor and Council are a strong body, and it is up to them to justify the high opinion now held of them.

THE WHITE SISTER A DRAMATIC TREAT

Opportunity to See This Great Play Should not be Missed

To those who love the highest form of dramatic art, the announcement that Viola Allen and her company of distinguished players will be seen at the Grand Thursday, January 20, will doubtless be received with a great deal of favor. Miss Allen's vehicle this season is F. Marion Crawford's play, "The White Sister," which was his last dramatic work before his untimely death last winter. Miss Allen has already presented this play in Baltimore, New York, Boston and Philadelphia, with unvarying success. Messrs. Liebler & Company, her managers, have surrounded the artiste with most capable support, including such players as James O'Neill, William Farnum, Minna Gale, Fanny Addison Pitt, Joseph Whiting and Richie Ling.

The Viola Allen company comes to the Grand direct from Montreal, where she delighted capacity audiences at the new Princess Theatre all last week.

The seat sale for the local engagement will open to-morrow morning at nine o'clock at the box office.

THEATRICAL

"The Royal Chef"

When Ben Jerome wrote the score for "The Royal Chef" he contributed melodies of such an original character and superior quality, that the offering may be said to be an outstanding masterpiece in the realm of comedy opera. Until the local appearance at the Grand, Saturday, three years had elapsed since Peterborough theatregoers had had the opportunity of listening to the delightful music, and following amid the picturesque surroundings of mythical Oolong, the very amusing capers of the Rajah's cook from Chicago, and of the large assisting company of resourceful and ever-busy funmakers. And on its return on Saturday the play was greeted with warm cordiality by large matinee and night audiences.

While the story of the ablest librettist written by Stoddard and Taylor follows conventional lines to some extent, all the situations are worked out coherently and without the introduction of far-fetched farcial complications, which are too commonly employed in present day musical comedy. The plot of the play is so generally understood by reason of its wide popularity and its appearance here twice, that it would, perhaps, be superfluous to outline it. Unusual chances for continuous comedy production are afforded, however, and the company took full advantage of the many brilliant comedy lines and amusing situations.

Walter A. Bohme, as Heinrich Lamphauser, the "Royal Chef," made the most of the part that was particularly generous in its wealth of fun-provoking possibilities. He takes up the role originated and played by Dave Lewis in the "Chef's" long metropolitan career, in a manner that provides a full course laugh feast from the time the table is spread to the conclusion of the thoroughly enjoyable two and a half hours' meal. His singing of "Let Me Go Back" won repeated curtain calls at the end of the first act, and "In Chicago" and "In the Morning" also were received with encore warming approval. Leona Hermanson is an admirable little actress, and played Kitty O'Reilly in a piquantly captivating way that made her a general favorite with the audience. Her rendition of "O'Reilly" was one of the of the prominent features the musical programme.

Other leading parts were filled in a most satisfactory manner by Lon Chaney, as Lord Manto, the treacherous partner, Walter B. Smith, as Admiral Noble, Byron Brunti, as the Rajah of Oolong; Ethel Balch, as Princess Teto; Chas. Vaughan, as Lieut. Parks, and H. Dudley, as Holde, a bandit.

While all the musical numbers are exceptionally attractive, the ones most effectively presented other than those mentioned above were "Wishes," in which ludicrous effects were introduced to great advantage by a comedy quartette of four pantomimists; "The Tale of the Tableau Frog," "Cannibal Love," "When Old Glory Floats from Everywhere," and "A Rajah Bold Am I."

A KNOCK-DOWN IN FIVE MINUTES

One Sided Pugilistic Encounter on Friday Night—Receipts Were $7.65

There was a real live five-minute fistic bout outside the gate of a local manufacturing concern on Friday night, and it took the two principals and six witnesses at the police court this morning to tell of the preliminary arrangements and the engagement. While there was no clean knockout, there was a knockdown, for the defeated man went down in a heap after receiving two straight blows to the face. He showed the marks when he took the stand this morning and told how the other fellow had butted in during a disagreement between him (the witness) and a fellow employee.

The magistrate figured up the gate receipts to be $7.65.

SALE TO-NIGHT OF PERIODICALS

The annual sale of papers, magazines and periodicals will take place at the public library to-night at 8 o'clock. As this sale will afford an opportunity of getting the magazines, etc., for the coming year at a low price, it is a good one to attend.

SMALL BLAZE AT THE Y.M.C.A.

The fire place in the parlor of the Y.M.C.A. became overheated last night with the result that a small blaze started in the joist, flooring and wainscoting of the adjoining room. Mr. Hazzard, the secretary, telephoned to the fire hall, and the brigade effectively extinguished the fire with chemicals. The damage is slight.

IT MIGHT HAVE ENDED MUCH WORSE

There was an exciting time at the C.P.R. station on Saturday evening, just before the C.P.R. local arrived from Toronto. One of the hotel busses was backed into a team attached to a hack, the latter outfit belonging to O'Neill, the liveryman, and driven by Geo. Fowler. The hack team made a quick start, crossed the platform and got on the tracks. The hack was upset, but fortunately the horses were not allowed to get away. The whiffletrees of the hack were smashed, and the side of the bus was also damaged. The latter belongs to the Snowden House.

BRITISH ELECTIONS

The interest with which the present elections in Britain are being followed in Peterborough was indicated on Saturday night, when scores of people rang up the newspaper offices and inquired for the results of Saturday's voting. The Review had a comprehensive bulletin service from the C.P.R. Telegraph Company and was able to supply the information asked for by those interested. The outcome of the days' voting was known here at nine o'clock—somewhat earlier than was expected.

WHITE SEPULCHRES NOT CONFINED TO CEMETERIES

Outward Appearances Sometimes Deceptive in Connection With Courtship, Says Rev. Canon Davidson—Sermon on Marriage.

As a sphere specially favorable for the operation of practical religion Rev. Canon Davidson, at St. John's church last night, took up home life, the particular subject being changed to "Christian Courtship." The address was founded on Genesis 24; v. 40: "The Lord will send His angel before thee and prosper thy way and thou shalt take a wife." Being so important a turning point in life, fraught with results of either great happiness or unspeakable misery, Marriage was not a thing to be merely laughed about or left to chance, but should be faced thoughtfully and seriously with divine help. It was the institution of God indeed for the generality of men. Probably more people were intended to marry than did so, unworthy difficulties being allowed to bar the way.

The speaker pointed out that the radical differences between men and women were divinely ordered with the object of close relationship, spiritual, mental and physical, otherwise impossible. An attractive picture was drawn of the union of two souls each developing its own side of life and character and power knit in wedlock, facing together with combined effectiveness for life's joys and difficulties. This was an earthy faint shadow of the blessed Trinity, of which the persons were distinct, yet united.

As to the obtaining of this great happiness the God who instituted this beautiful estate might be relied on to lead men to it if no human obstacles were interposed and if human operation were given. Among the obstacles instanced were frivolity (failure to develop outward and inward attractiveness and refusal to come into close and unaffected intercourse with other people.) The matter of this intercourse with its dangers and duties was then taken up and it was shown that "falling in love," was not wholly a matter of fate.

Outward appearances were often deceptive. White sepulchres with their ghastly contents were not confined to cemeteries and under an immaculate dress suit or a resplendent ball room gown might easily work unchecked selfishness, hideous moral depravity, an opposite was terrible to contemplation of a pure devout soul with such an opposite was terrible to contemplate. No wonder a divorce court judge had urged social reformers to begin at courtship instead of at the other end.

After dealing with closer and more general and open intercourse as a means to discover real character, Canon Davidson went on to consider the courtship as showing how divine direction and human wisdom and co-operation could be effectively combined.

He referred to the heroism of those who chose or cheerfully accepted a single life in order to perform family duties or some loftly mission, necessitating this. In this and other momentous matters men should ask and avail themselves of the help of God's guiding angel. That angel might not lead in the direction in which our hearts were set, but He was to be heroically followed and would inevitably lead to the happiness and usefulness intended for us by a loving God.

Rev. Canon Davidson will continue the treatment of this subject Sunday evening.

NUMBERS AND LOCATIONS OF FIRE ALARM BOXES

Fire Chief Howard has frequently been asked the numbers and location of the fire alarm boxes. For the benefit of the public the Review publishes the list to-day. Persons would do well to clip it out and preserve it.

The numbers of the boxes and the locations are as follows;—

Ward No. 1—
12—Lock and McGill.
14—Westcott and Aylmer.
15—Perry and George.
16—Perry and Bethune.
17—Park and Townsend.
18—George, at C. P. R.

Ward No. 2—
21—George and King.
22—Simcoe and Queen.
23—George and Hunter.
24—Hunter and Quaker
27—Water and McDonel.

Ward No. 3—
31—Park and Sherbrooke.
33—Charlotte and Stewart.
36—Park and Hunter
38—McDonel and Reid.

Ward No. 4—
41—Park and London.
42—George and Dublin.
45—Edinburgh and Stewart.
45—George and Smith.
48—Water and Hilliard.

Ward No. 5—
52—Burnham and James
53—Rogers and Sophia.
54—Hunter and Mark.
57—Concession and Hazlitt.
59—Auburn.

DIRECTIONS FOR SENDING IN ALARMS

A key for the alarm box will be found hanging in a small box, with glass front, adjoining the alarm box. Break the glass, remove the key, and open the box; pull the lever down, when the alarm is at once transmitted to the Fire Hall, Pumping Station, and residences of the firemen. Do not attempt to remove the key from box, as this can only be done by the use of a small relieving key.

HOW ALARMS ARE SOUNDED

The number of the Ward from which the alarm is sent in is always sounded as the bell, which also constitutes the first number of the box nearest to the fire, and when an alarm is sounded, the Ward number is given first, then a pause, and then the remaining numbers of the box.

ILLUSTRATIONS

15 is the number of the box at the corner of Perry and George streets, in No. 1 Ward; the alarm is given by sounding 1, then a pause, then sounding 5 distinct strokes. Or take box 25, at the corner of George and Hunter streets, in No. 2 Ward; the alarm would sound 2 strokes, then a pause, then 5 distinct strokes, indicating the fire to be in No. 2 Ward, and in the vicinity of box 25.

When the fire is out 2 strokes of the bell are given.

HIGH-CLASS FIELD FOR THE PETERBORO' WINTER MEET

Some of the Fastest Steppers on the Canadian Circuit Will Start—The List of Horses for the Five Events on Thursday and Friday the 20th and 21st.

A glance at the fine field of horses for the Peterborough ice races on Thursday and Friday, January 20,-21 will indicate that the public are going to have an opportunity of seeing some unusually interesting events. A big list of starters will take part in the various events, and all the classes will be represented by real classy performers.

The following includes some of the fast steppers that will furnish the programme for the two days' sport, and among them are some of the best-known ice horses in the Dominion:

Mattie Chimes.
Major Bryno.
Joe Patchen.
City Queen.
Togo.
Tom Dillard.
Wild Patchen.
Patterson.
Walter G.

Lady Gothard.

On Thursday, the opening day, the Named Race and 2.16 and 2.35 classes will be the bill, and the 2.22 and free-for-all will be held on Friday, the second day. The races on both days will begin at 2 o'clock sharp.

The secretary, Mr. F. J. A. Hall, will be at the Hotel National on Wednesday evening, for the purpose of receiving entries.

HOCKEY

The leaders in the Mercantile League, the Quakers, and C.G.E. team will meet to-night at Brock street rink at 9.30 in a league fixture. Neither team has been beaten this season, and a fast game is assured. Leo Derocher will referee.

Some of the fans have been asking if there will be a special train for the game at Lindsay Friday night. The matter has not been taken up by the executive of the hockey club, so it is hardly likely that there will be a special on this occasion.

The Grand Opera House hockey team hereby challenges the North or South End of the brass department of the C.G.E. to a game of hockey to be played on the Auditorium rink as soon as the rink can be secured.

The Prince Albert team, which Jiddy Miller jumped to come east with the Stanley Cup challengers from Edmonton, was defeated by Lumsden recently, 12—1. Jiddy apparently did well in getting away.

A very interesting hockey match took place on Saturday night at the Auditorium rink when the frozen North End of the brass department met the meek and mild South End. C.G.E. Co., The result ended in a complete victory for the Southerners, much to the surprise, dismay and disgust of the North Stars, who forgot to shine.

The line up was as follows:

SOUTH END.		NORTH END
	Goal
A Saunders		H. Sunderfold
	Point
M Watson		F. Haskell
	Cover point
G. Tovey		R. Hillier
	Rover
T. E. LeBar		E. Dormer
	Centre
W. Davidson		I. Woodcock

M. Heath		F. Merritt
	Right Wing
J. Sanderson		C. Thoney

Score 9—3.

W. McLaren officiated as referee, to the satisfaction of all.

CURLING

Six rinks are scheduled to play at the curling rink to-night. There will be no games on Tuesday night on account of the local players going to Lindsay to play in the Tankard. The rinks to-night will be—

SHOTS ON GOAL

The big crowd which is expected to witness the Colts-Collegiate game to-night will see both teams at their best. The result means considerable to Captain Shortt's crew. If the team wins to-night, it will mean even footing with the students, but should the game go against them, it will be necessary to win the remaining two games to tie up the series. Each line-up will show a slight change from last Monday's and it is claimed the teams will, as a result, be stronger. The contest will start at eight o'clock with Bill Rose on the refereeing end and that means fast clean hockey from the face-off.

THE TURF

The appearance of the fast horses here for the ice races on Thursday and Friday has created considerable additional interest in the meet. If the weather keeps favorable the patrons are sure to see some excellent sport.

AND THE DEACON PROCEEDED.

After Pastor Had Elucidated Text from Which He had Drawn His Sermon.

The colored parson had just concluded a powerful sermon on "Salvation Am Free," and was announcing that a collection would be taken for the benefit of the parson and his family. Up jumped an acutely brunette brother in the back of the church.

"Look a-yeur, pahson," he interrupted, "yo' ain't no sooner done tellin' us dat salvation am free dan yo' go askin' us fo' money. If salvation am free, what's de use in payin' fo' it? Dat's what I want to know. An' I tell yo' p'intedly dat I ain't goin' to gib yo' nothin' until I find out. Now—"

"Patience, brudder, patience," said the parson. "I'll 'lucidate: S'pose yo' was thirsty an' come to a river. Yo' could kneel right down an' drink yo' fill, couldn't yo'? An' it wouldn't cost yo' nothin' would it?"

"Oh, course not. Dat's jest what I—"

"Dat water would be free," continued the parson. "But s'posin yo' was to hab dat water piped to yo' house? Yo' have to pay, wouldn't yo'?"

"Yar, suh, but—"

"Wal, brudder, so it is wid salvation. De salvation am free, but it's de havin' it piped to yo' dat yo' got to pay fo.' Pass de hat, deacon, pass de hat."—Everybody's Magazine.

'TWIXT THEORY AND CONDITION

Where the Gifted Playwright Is Confronted with Circumstances He Cannot Control.

Consider the apprentice playwright's vision of his work. He has dreamed a dream and the people of that dream tread out their drama before his mind's eye, all flawless, perfect, just as he made them. He sees them as real people, not as actors. The scenes by moonlight are moonlight indeed to him; he can smell the roses in the garden where his heroine walks, but, sadly enough, this illusion of reality, which continues for a little while after the conclusion of his writing, is apt to be the greatest reward his work will bring him. When the play is staged and he finds that the harvest moon for his moonlight love scene must be discarded because the moon-machine is creaky and there is danger that the audience may hear the moon go up, when the heroine whom he pictured to himself with "elf-gold hair" must play her part as a brunette because elf-gold wigs do not suit her, and when his "pathetic father" has been given to a comedian who "gets a laugh" upon all of his heart-rending speeches, then it is that the playwright begins to comprehend the difference between "the dream and the business."—Booth Tarkington in Collier's.

Fear of Microbes.

Microbes are agents of disease and death. When they were discovered and when their character was exposed science made a big step forward. Microbes taught men not only how to cure disease, but how to avoid and even how to prevent it. But into life they brought a new terror! Now the question is how to guard against the terror. For all fairly healthy persons there is just one thing to do. Ignore the existence of microbes altogether! Don't even stop to think of them, save in emergencies, which, to the layman, seldom arrive. Human beings have no reason to be in continual fear of microbes. The way to be immune from their influence is by not caring a snap of the finger about them, and by observing the ordinary rules of wholesome living. Eat and sleep regularly. Take exercise. Keep in fresh air. And devote a few minutes each day to deep breathing. Microbes hate healthy people as the devil hates holy water.

Clock That Tells Much.

One of the most wonderful clocks in existence is now in the possession of Louis Desoutter, who has had the honor of taking it to Buckingham palace for inspection by the queen. Her majesty showed great interest in its beautiful mechanism.

The clock is fixed on a Louis Seize stand and has four faces. Besides marking the hours, it shows the tides at six different parts of the world, the mean time and the solar time, the age of the moon, the movements of the planets, all eclipses, and is a perpetual calendar. It was made by Janvier of Paris in 1789 for the French Academy and took 11 years to manufacture; the workmanship is magnificent.—London Evening Standard.

Built in Memory of a Dog.

Of the memories to dogs the most imposing of modern date is "Tell's Tower," a structure on the seashore near West Kirby, Cheshire, England. It is in honor of the great St. Bernard dog Tell, "ancestor of most of the rough-coated champions of England, and himself winner of every prize in the kingdom. He was majestic in appearance, noble in character and of undaunted courage." Built by the late M. J. Cumming Macdona, the tower is a sort of summer house, in the base of which is a vault containing Tell's remains, guarded by an effigy of that remarkable animal.

One Comfort.

A certain lady prides herself upon always looking at the bright side of things.

"My dear," moaned her husband one day recently, as he tossed restlessly on his bed, "it's the doctor I'm thinking of. What a bill his will be!"

"Never mind, Joseph," said his wife. "You know there's the insurance money."—Stray Stories.

MAKE ALL COMERS WELCOME.

Turkish Feast in Which Open House Is Very Literally the Order of the Day.

Every year in Turkey, in the month of Ramazan, as they term it—which is the month when the Koran was revealed, in 26 parts, to Mohammed—it was for years a general custom in Turkey for the Turks to open their houses at 12 o'clock, the Turkish sunset time, to strangers, and any one was permitted to enter and take supper, a meal the Turks call oviftar, during Ramazan.

No matter how poor or how rich the persons, and whether a complete stranger or near friend, they come just before the sunset hour, and all are seated at the truly hospitable table before 12 o'clock. Immediately after the roar of the cannons announces sunset the Turks eat either an olive or a date, it being the legend that the holy prophet did this, and those who smoke may begin as soon as the date or olive, supposed to be the fruits of paradise, disappears. Then come jellies, as it is a belief in Turkey that sweets "collect the senses," whatever that may mean. Oddly enough, soups follow the sweets, and then after that eggs cooked in butter are served, followed in turn by mution chops or roasted meat; these are succeeded by vegetables, and the vegetables by a sort of sugarless pudding, called beurek, and after this the famous baclava, or kadaif.

After all this more meat courses, fish, and the vegetables are served, and such sweets as rice milk, (gullaj sudlaj), native blanc mange (mahallebi), pilaf with bishab or junket (yaourt), and coffee.

DESIGN IN SHIFTING BUREAU

Suggestion of Sherlock Holmes Found Useful by Girl Who Likes to Be Well Dressed.

Apparently, the room was comfortable, but it had one insurmountable drawback.

"There is only one place to keep the bureau," said the tall girl; "therefore I cannot live here. I must have a room large enough to permit hauling the bureau around. Here it will have to stand always so the light from the window will strike my left side while I dress. That would be detrimental to the small share of good looks now possessed by my right side.

"Sherlock Holmes put me on to the necessity of switching my looking glass around every little while, if I wish to preserve a uniformity of good looks. He pointed out that the side of the body that the light strikes most directly while dressing will always be best groomed. The hair will be curled more artistically, the powder be laid on more smoothly, and even the clothes will be arranged more becomingly. This being so, it stands to reason that the side that gets most attention constantly is going to improve in the same ratio that the neglected side deteriorates, and that the person who dresses for months before a glass that always stands in the same position as regards the light is going to get really lopsided so far as good looks are concerned."

The top-floor girl sighed reflectively.

"I wonder," she said, "if that is the reason my hair is so much thinner on the right side. I'm going right straight home and move my bureau."

He Was No Hayseed.

Many years ago when Londoners had not the excursion facilities for getting into the country that they enjoy now, Charley, a cockney friend, was staying at a farmhouse and soon made himself at home. Charley, with his pipe, was wandering around, closely examining the tops, ends and sides of a certain trim, well-made object fenced around in a paddock. He stared at it a little while, then shook his head dubiously.

"What are you looking for, Charley?"

"Where's the door and the windows, uncle?"

"Doors and windows? Why, that's a haystack."

"No fear, uncle; you don't humbug me. Hay doesn't grow in lumps like that."—Tit Bits.

Wail from a Waiter.

The waiter spoke indignantly.

"Men go about," he said, "complaining of being mistook for waiters, but it is on the other foot really that the shoe rests. Us waiters are the complainants in these cases of mistaken identity. Our kicks are sincere. The others' ring false. For at dances, and balls, and such like crushes many a young man makes money by being mistook for a waiter. How does he make money? Why, he is tipped, and all them tips he pockets, never thinking of handing them over to their rightful owners. At every big affair we count on a loss of five per cent. on the dishonest advantage that impecunious young swells take of being mistook for waiters."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Goodness.

Goodness is a large, often a persuasive, word; like harvest, which at one stage when we talk of it lies all underground, with an indeterminate future; is the germ prospering in the darkness? At another, it has just put forth delicate green blades, and by and by the trembling blossoms are ready to be dashed off by an hour of rough wind or rain. Each stage has its peculiar blight, and may have the healthy life choked out of it by a particular action of the foul land which rears or neighbors it, or by damage brought from foulness afar.—George Eliot.

Walter Barnett, who lost his legs in the G.T.R. yards at Lednun, was awarded $6,000 damages.

MR. SALLS WITH MUTUAL LIFE

Has Accepted the General Agency for Central Ontario

The genial and well-known Midland District Manager of the Canada Life Assurance Co., Mr. S. E. Salls, has accepted the general agency for Central Ontario for the Mutual Life of Canada. Mr. Salls, who has been with the Canada Life for 19 years, has been coming to Oshawa ever since 1892, and has distinguished himself in his chosen profession by writing much insurance here for the larger amounts, some of them for $25,000, and his character as a fairdealing man has been thoroughly established in this town and neighborhood. His many friends here will congratulate him upon such a well-deserved advancement.—Ottawa Vindicator.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

OF 6% IN THE

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

OF THE

Canada Cement Company, Limited

SECURITY

These bonds are secured by a First Mortgage on the properties of the Canada Cement Company, Limited. They represent an actual investment in the property of practically three times the amount of the present outstanding bonds. The mills owned or controlled by this Company are among the best established and most efficiently equipped on the continent, with a capacity in excess of 4,500,000 barrels per annum. They include

The Lakefield Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Montreal, P.Q.
The Lakefield Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Lakefield, Ont.
The Owen Sound Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Shallow Lake, Ont.
The Alberta Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Calgary, Alta.
The Belleville Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Belleville, Ont.
The International Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Hull, P.Q.
The Vulcan Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Montreal, P.Q.
The Lehigh Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Belleville, Ont.
The Canadian Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Marlbank and Port Colborne, Ont.

Arrangements have also been made to acquire a controlling interest in the following companies:

The Western Canada Cement and Coal Co., Ltd., Exshaw, Alta.
The Eastern Canada Portland Cement Co., Ltd., Quebec.

EARNINGS

The net earnings in 1908 by seven of the constituent Companies, representing less than fifty per cent. of the capacity of the new Company, amounted to twice the present bond interest charge.

Estimated yearly net earnings, $1,400,000, based on the sales of the Companies comprised in the Merger and the cost of manufacture under existing conditions, together with the restoration of normal prices.

Proper and successful management is assured by an efficient board of directors and capable executive.

Strategic position of the plants of the Canada Cement Company enables it to serve the trade in all parts of Canada.

INCOME TO INVESTORS

After careful investigation, we believe this bond issue to be well secured, and the bonds should form an attractive investment at par and accrued interest yielding six per cent.

WHAT APSLEY PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED IN

(Special to the Review.)

Apsley, Jan. 15.—Miss Lucy Downing of Apsley, who has been in Toronto for the past few months, has returned to the parental roof. Her many friends were glad to see her home again.

Mr. William Dingman, who has been in Campbellford for the summer and fall is back at Lasswade again for the winter.

School has re-opened in S. S. No. 4, Chandos, with Miss Zella Hales, of Apsley, as teacher.

McColl Bros. are at present busily engaged sawing logs for Mr. L. L. Purdy, of Skinnerville, Ont.

Mr. John Snelgrove and wife, of Manitoba, formerly of Lasswade, Ont., are out to Chandos on a three month's visit. They have many friends and relations in this locality, who are very pleased to see them back again.

Mr. Jos. Whitmore and his brother Neil, have purchased a quantity of quantity of valuable timber from the Mrs. Hoolbrook's, of Apsley, and are busily engaged cutting and hauling same to Eels Creek, where it will be driven in spring to Peterborough, Ont., and manufactured to best advantage. Mr. F. Nesbitt, of Lasswade, is assisting them in the top notch.

We are having some very pleasant weather just now, and all hoped it may continue.

Archie's new cutter was good, is better and still improving, with two a runner, four a trotter, six down to a walk. Get up George.

Miss Grace Bound, of Lasswade, is working for Mrs. Neil Whitmore, of Apsley.

Mr. Albert Hall, of Apsley, has a position with the McColl Bros., of Lasswade.

Mr. E. Younans, of Lasswade, has recently erected an addition to his dwelling and it certainly makes a big improvement.

Methinks I hear a lady say,
An Apsley boy may cut a shine,
But a Lasswade boy he is just fine.

WEDDING BELLS

MAHOOD—RUTH

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ruth, 306 Lake street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, on Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, Jan. 12th, when their daughter, Amy, was united in marriage to Mr. B. J. Mahood, of Smith township. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Annie Deyell, cousin of the bride. The bride was prettily attired in an empire dress of cream cloth, trimmed with duchess satin and braid, and carried white carnations. Miss Irene Ruth, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, was dressed in cream batiste hand-embroidered, and carried pink carnations. Mr. Ernest Mahood, cousin of the groom, acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Charlotte street Methodist church. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a dainty wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahood left on the nine o'clock G.T.R. train for a short trip. On their return they will reside in Smith.

All Saints' Church

Monday—8 p.m., Young People's Society, programme, refreshments. Continuation of reading of Tennyson's "Idyls of the King" by the rector. All young people cordially invited.

Tuesday—2 p.m., monthly business meeting of Women's Auxiliary at Mrs. Dawson's, Bonnechord street. 4 to 6, 7 to 10 p.m., the W. A. "At Home" at the same place. 8 p.m., Men's Association Bible Class, led by the rector. "The Life of Christ."

Wednesday—8 p.m., Young Men's Club.

Thursday—8 p.m., choir practice.

Friday—4.15 p.m., Sr. Girls' Auxiliary; 7.30, Boys' Brigade.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR INDIGESTION

If you have indigestion, your food ferments in the stomach and bowels it does more; it decays, and the nutritious matter which should go to make new blood decays with it, and this leads to an impoverished condition of the blood, to nervousness, biliousness, constipation, sick headache, bad breath which disgusts your friends, and other disagreeable and unpleasant conditions.

And all this trouble is caused by the food that doesn't digest, but ferments, and ofttimes rots in the stomach.

And fermentation is caused by the stomach not being strong enough and energetic enough to thoroughly mix the food with the digestive juices.

M-I-O-N-A is responsible for tens of thousands of cures. In fact, it is such a positive cure for indigestion and all stomach troubles that it is guaranteed by Wm. Madill to cure or money back. The price of a large box of Mi-o-na Tablets is 50 cents, and they are sure to promptly relieve the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia. Try them.

Any fair minded member of this House will admit that there is nothing fair about that for the farmers of Canada. I do not think that the Government have at all taken into consideration the interest of the producer. They talk about the consumer, but the consumer, to my mind, is the banker, the speculator, those fellows that do not do anything at all, while the honest laboring man and the farmer are the producers and are the people who require protection. Speculators and wealthy men have money to live on, they have it invested in stocks, they are living upon their income and they do not want protection in order that they may be able to buy their food more cheaply. Had we a similar tariff to that which they have in the United States on these articles they would not cost the people of this country one dollar more. There is another thing in connection with the woollen business that I was grieved about last year. I noticed that the Minister of Agriculture said something about our farmers raising sheep and his remarks upon that occasion showed that he has not a very high opinion of them. He stated in the House last year that the farmers of the Dominion are a slip-shod set of people and that they lacked industry and enterprise. That will be found in 'Hansard' of March 31st, last year. That seems to be a remarkable statement for the Minister of Agriculture to make about the farmers of this country.

In conclusion I would advise the government to take a little more interest in the farmer and spend a little more upon them. This brings a thought to my mind. Technical education, which was under discussion a little while ago, was shelved as far as this parliament is concerned, perhaps for twenty years. It is a very important question. There is no reason why the Dominion Government should not have a technical school at least at every experimental farm and at any other point in the Dominion where they would deem it necessary. I had no intention at all of making any remarks on the budget, but I was compelled to do so because of the indifferent way the agriculturists and labourers of this country have been treated, and because of some of the remarks which have been made recently in regard to this matter. I would ask the government at the first opportunity to see if something cannot be done to protect the markets of the farmers and the market gardeners of Canada.

Mr. M. Clark moved the adjournment of the debate.

Motion agreed to and debate adjourned.

Mr. Fielding moved the adjournment of the House.

Mr. Hughes—What business will be taken up to-morrow?

Mr. Fielding—We will continue the debate to-morrow.

Motion agreed to, and House adjourned at 11 p.m."

LEAGUE OF THE SACRED HEART WAS ORGANIZED

The League of the Sacred Heart was formally established in the Sacred Heart parish yesterday by Rev. J. J. Connolly, P.J., of Montreal. Father Connolly spoke at both masses in the morning, and also in the evening at vespers.

In the morning he explained the object and end of the society, which is a purely spiritual one. In the evening he compared the coming of the wise men from the east to the devotion he was establishing in the parish, and having for its object the leading of its members to a broader and deeper Christian life.

The work of the organization is carried on by a certain number of promoters. In the afternoon Father Connolly explained their duties to them at a special meeting.

The officers of the society are:—

President—Miss T. Christopher.

Vice-President for city—Mrs. T. Henry.

Vice-President for country—Mrs. S. Redmond.

Treasurer—Mrs. N. E. LaPlante.

General Secretary—Miss M. Theobald.

Secretary for the country—Miss A. Crowley.

In the continuation of the work of the organization of the league devotions will be held this evening at 7.30 followed by a sermon by Father Connolly. Mass will be held to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, and devotions in the evening at 7.30.

MADRIGAL CLUB FOR THE EARL GREY COMPETITION

Peterborough will probably be most creditably represented at the Royal Alexander Theatre, Toronto, during the week of April 4th-9th. That is the week of the fourth annual competition for the trophies offered by His Excellency, the Governor-General in the "Earl Grey Musical and Dramatic Trophy Competition," which was inaugurated in 1906. These competitions have taken place in the last three years at Ottawa, Montreal, and Quebec. There is both a dramatic and musical competition, subdivided into several classes.

In the mixed voice chorus class Mr. Rupert Gliddon, director of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, will likely enter the Madrigal Club, organized and conducted by him in connection with the Conservatory. The club consists of twenty-four well-trained vocalists, and in addition it is proposed to draft the best musicians of the city to augment the membership to sixty for the competition.

There should be no difficulty in accomplishing this, for Peterborough has an abundance of good voices and good singers. It is hoped that enough of them will have the necessary public spirit and musical esprit de corps to join in an undertaking, which, in case of its success, will give a greatly added musical distinction to Peterborough, and in any event would be of much advantage by the necessary training given and the coming into contact with the other musical organizations in the competition.

The competition will include the performance of a number selected by the committee in charge in this case "The Hymn to Music," by Dudley Buck, and a number selected by the director of the competing club.

Among the "additional competitions" will be special prizes for best amateur pianists, violinists and vocalists.

It is the intention of Mr. Gliddon to enter the names of Miss Lavina Hallihan, soprano, and Miss Choate, violinists, as solo competitors for these special prizes offered by the local (Toronto) committee.

LOCAL PASTOR IS BEREAVED

Death at Winnipeg of Mother of Rev. G. W. Henderson

Word has been received in the city of the death at Winnipeg of Mrs. Catharine Henderson, mother of Rev. G. W. Henderson, pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church. Mr. Henderson received word that she was dangerously ill on Tuesday and left at once for Winnipeg, but she had passed away before he arrived. Mrs. Henderson was seventy-five years of age. The remains will be taken to Sparta, Ont., where the funeral will take place on Wednesday of this week.

CENTRALIZE LICENSING AUTHORITY

On Account of Cost of Present System Being More Than the Revenue--East Peterboro Referred to

The Globe has an article to-day dealing with the increased cost of administering the liquor license laws of Ontario under the present system of local boards, as shown by a detailed analysis of the work of the thirty-nine Boards of License Commissioners.

The Globe says in part;—"The inroads of local option have been materially reducing the work of the boards, and the fact that in many cases the cost of administration under the present system is greater that the revenue received makes the likelihood of a centralization of license authority more probable. The The cost of enforcing the law has nearly doubled.

In several license districts there is now only one license, and the maintenance of a board of commissioners and a salaried inspector is consequently out of all proportion to the revenue. West Durham, for instance, has only ione license, from which the revenue is $250, while the cost of administering the license law in this constituency, in which there are four local option municipalities, is $616.50.

There are local option municipalities in East Peterborough. The single municipality that remains wet has three licenses, which yield a revenue of $240. The cost of maintaining an inspector and commissioners for that riding is $490."

A GENEROUS OFFER

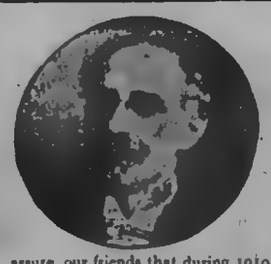
Wm. Madill Will Refund Your Money if Parisian Sage Does Not Banish Dandruff

Pretty strong talk, perhaps you'll say, but its honest talk, every word of it, because if Wm. Madill was not absolutely certain, if he did not know from actual results obtained, he could not make such a generous offer.

Parisian Sage, which can not be obtained in every town in Canada, is also guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching scalp.

It is the ideal, delightful, rejuvenating hair dressing that makes hair grow in abundance. Parisian Sage is a prime favorite with women, because it keeps the hair brilliant and fascinating, is daintily perfumed and is not sticky or greasy.

The price for a large bottle is only 50 cents at Wm. Madill's, who guarantees it. Sold everywhere, or direct, all charges prepaid, by the Canadian makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont.



WE THANK YOU

No matter what the price, we should feel unrepaid if our patrons were not fully satisfied. We therefore ask that if you are pleased tell your friends, if not tell us. We appreciate very fully the business of 1909, and the many who have come to us upon the recommendation of friends, as well as the kind words of satisfaction, which we have had by letter, and word of mouth. We assure our friends that during 1910 we shall seek to further merit their confidence. Wishing you all a prosperous New Year.

E. A. LANCASTER INTRODUCES MOTION TO ABOLISH SENATE

After a Brief Debate the House of Commons Votes Down His Motion, Eighteen Supporting it—Sir Wilfrid Says a Second Chamber is Necessary to Government.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—In the House yesterday, E. A. Lancaster moved a resolution similar to that moved by him last year, declaring that "This House is of the opinion that the Senate is no longer required, or advisable, for the properly carrying on of responsible Government in Canada * * * * and that the abolition of the Senate would greatly conduce to the welfare of the Dominion of Canada and promote the interests of the British Empire."

Mr. Lancaster urged that Senate reform had been a plank in the Liberal platform in days gone by and both parties were agreed that matters were not right. In Toronto, Sir Richard Cartwright had once said the Senate was a millstone around the necks of the Canadian people, which he prayed that providence would soon remove. When he became a Senator himself, his cries ceased.

Sir Oliver Mowat in 1893 had said: "We are agreed as to the necessity of a fundamental reform of the Senate, if for any reason it must or should be retained."

Mr. Lancaster, however, regarded the Senate as an entirely useless body, which should be abolished.

H. H. Miller, South Grey, said he would vote for the abolition of the Senate.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he regarded the Senate as a body necessary for the protection of minorities. No case where Senate intervention had to be invoked in this regard had occurred in Canada, but it might occur.

"Of course," he said, 'the wish is expressed that there should be a reform of the House of Lords, and indeed it is probable that which ever party succeeds in the present election as a consequence of the election, the House of Lords will in some way be reformed. But I am sure that there is no suggestion that the House of Lords should be abolished. I think it would be unfortunate if the second chamber were abolished. The same principle applies here."

Mr. Lancaster had said that the character of the legislation of the House had so much improved since forty years ago that there was no apprehension now of dangerous legislation passing. The Premier did not think legislation had so much improved that people would care to see the Senate removed. He was shocked and scandalized that he was compelled to defend Conservative principles against Conservative members.

Hon. John Haggart said for years he had waited in vain for the Premier to implement his promise made to the people that he would reform the Senate. He said the feeling was nearly universal that there should be not abolition, but reform.

Dr. Sproule opposed abolition, but favored reform.

On a vote being taken the motion was defeated, the following voting for Mr. Lancaster's motion:

Conservatives—Lancaster, Magrath, Lewis, Chisholm of Huron, Taylor of New Westminster, Crothers, Kidd, McCall, Currie of Simcoe, Sexsmith, Thornton, Wallace, Russell, Best, Meighen, McCarthy.

Liberals—Emmerson and Miller.

On Friday next the sub-committee of the Railway Committee of the House of Commons, to whom were referred E. A. Lancaster's three bills to amend the Railway Act, will hear the arguments of the railway companies against the proposed measures.

One bill amends section 340 of the Railway Act concerning the liability of railway companies when goods are carried at a rate lower than the standard rate, another amends the procedure in case of appeal from the Board of Railway Commissioners to the Supreme Court of Canada. Mr. Clarke, of Essex, is chairman of the sub-committee.

In the House yesterday, Sir Frederick Borden, in reference to a letter which Sir William White had written to The London Times, declaring that the naval stations at Esquimalt and Halifax were not being kept in anything like an orderly manner, said that, as the result of special enquiries made, he was informed the naval base at Halifax was believed to be in as good condition as when the Imperial authorities had charge of it, while as to the naval station at Esquimalt, it was still under the Imperial authorities.

In reply to Mr. Foster, the Minister of Railways stated that $20,000 had been spent in surveys to ascertain the most desirable route for the possible new, or enlargement of the present Welland Canal. It was estimated that $25,000 would be required to complete the surveys.

Mr. Graham also furnished the information that the cost of the Quebec bridge enquiry had been $31,765, and that of the board of engineers which had prepared the new plans had been $123,159 up to Dec. 30, 1909.

Mr. Jameson was informed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier that 117 applications had been received from persons desiring to serve in the Canadian navy.

Mr. Aylesworth stated that Chief Justice Dubuc of Manitoba Court of King's Bench, had resigned voluntarily.

In the House last night Capt. Tom Wallace (Centre York) moved for a copy of all papers, telegrams, documents, etc., concerning the postponement of the execution of Walter Blythe, and also in respect to his second trial. There had been a good deal of dissatisfaction in his constituency over the matter, and he thought the reasons for the postponement should be made public.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth said he was glad of an opportunity to explain away some of the misapprehensions which appeared to exist, but was sorry to see a motion of this kind brought forward, as it was not desirable that such papers should be made public.

After explaining the prerogative of mercy as exercised by the King through the Governor-General, Mr. Aylesworth said that the Government was responsible for the reprieve, which had been granted because the constitution provided that in capital cases His Excellency acted only upon the advice of his advisers.

PORCUPINE TOWN SITE MAY BE CLOSE TO IROQUOIS FALLS

Probable Location About Two Miles and a Half North of Milepost—Mr. Fred Dane Tells of Conditions in District.

Toronto, Jan. 18.—A spot two miles and a half north of Milepost 222 on the T. & N. O. Railway, within easy distance of the Iroquois Falls and unlimited water power, is now considered the most likely site for the establishment of the Government townsite of Porcupine. Mr. Fred Dane of the T. & N. O. Commission, who returned yesterday from a comprehensive inspection trip of the district, seems pleased with the proposed location. The Government, he said, had had the spot under consideration for some time.

"At Milepost 222," said the commissioner, "there is also a possible site. But at this place there is a siding which was laid down in connection with the development of a timber limit. The owner claims exclusive rights. The site to the north has few drawbacks. It is particularly desirable because of its proximity to Iroquois Falls, an immensely valuable water power."

Mr. Dane took with him Messrs. A. A. Cole, mining engineer; F. B. Clement, chief engineer; W. Young, general roadmaster; G. Lee, general agent, and A. H. Black, superintendent. Cole, Clement and Lee entered the Porcupine country by way of the Matheson; Mr. Dane and the others of the party went in from Milepost 222.

"The Matheson townsfolk are quite convinced that they have the best and only route into the mining district," said Mr. Dane. "They have cut a good road right through, and are willing to keep it in good repair. The citizens supplement this by mentioning the other advantages of Matheson — its hotels, freight sheds, telegraph equipment, and telephone connections. They say," remarked the commissioner, with a smile, "they are quite willing to construct a telephone line right into the camp.

"People coming out of the Porcupine district," said Mr. Dane, "seem to be quite satisfied. There is gold there, and particularly good samples of ore have been obtained in the townships of Whitney, Tisdale and Shaw. The commission will, however, soon be receiving reliable information."

LIBERALS HAVE A GREATER LEAD THAN WAS EXPECTED

Net Gain For The Tariff Reformers at End of Yesterday's Voting is Twenty-Nine Seats—Lord Charles Beresford Carries Portsmouth.

London, Jan. 18.—At the conclusion of yesterday's polling in the general elections, the parties stood as follows:

Unionists, 92.
Liberals, 77.
Laborites, 16.
Nationalists, 13.
Net gains for the Unionists, 29.

The Government fared much better yesterday than its most ardent supporters expected.

The Unionists gain 19 seats, the Liberals 4, and the Laborites 1, making a net gain for the Unionists for the day of 14, one less than they gained at the election Saturday.

The Unionists greatest gains were in Portsmouth and Preston, where two seats in each were won. Lord Charles Beresford captured Portsmouth by a great margin, carrying his running mate with him. He made the condition of the navy his campaign cry, and his election was received with remarkable enthusiasm in London.

T. HAMAR GREENWOOD, M.P.
Defeated In York by 100 Votes.

From returns so far received, the results by well-defined "districts" show:

Midlands: Unionists, 8; Liberals, 6; Unionist gains, 4.

South of England: Unionists 11, Liberals, 4; Unionist gains, 7.

London: Unionists, 12; Liberals, 9; Unionist gains, 5; Liberal gains, 1.

Lancashire, Yorkshire and North of England—Unionists, 7; Liberals, 24; Liberal gains, 3.

Scotland—Liberals, 3.

A significant feature of the polling were the losses sustained by the Labor party, half-a-dozen seats going to the Unionists and one to a Liberal candidate. Will Crooks, the prominent, was among the fallen.

John Burns of Battersea comes back to Parliament with flying colors.

Although in the great landslide of 1906 he won by 1,600 votes. His normal majority is about 200, and in yesterday's hard fought battle, he beat A Shirley Benn, the Unionist, by 555.

Among the fallen is T. Hamar Greenwood, the Canadian, who represented York and was considered a prominent candidate for high office. He is beaten by about 100, but it is expected that a seat will be found for him.

Lloyd-George, referring to the election results, said that protection was already beaten. The Liberal prediction had so far been fulfilled to the figure.

Churchill, at Dundee, said a substantial progressive majority was assured. The only question is whether its strength will be sufficient for the great and unusual labors, for the supreme trials, which he immediately before it.

McKenna, at Newport, said they had had to expose a very extended front to the enemy, but had offered only a very small face to attack. The election had gone far enough to assure a majority for the Government.

Unionist Gains—Bedford, Bromwich W., Chatham, Cheltenham, Chester, Colchester, Christchurch, Exeter, Finsbury (Central), Greenwich, Kensington, Paddington, Portsmouth (2), Preston (2), Walsall.

Liberal Gains—Blackburn (1), Gateshead, Shoreditch (Haggerston), Shoreditch (Hoxton), Stockton, Wigan.

Labor Losses—To Unionists: Chatham, Finsbury (Central), Preston (Harold Cox), Sheffield (Central), Wakefield, Woolwich (Will Crooks); to Liberals: Gateshead.

Elected Unopposed — Nationalists: P. O'Doherty, N. Donegal; J. O'Connors, N. Kildare; E. H. Burke, Tullamore, King's County; J. F. Hayden, Roscommons; J. Cullinan, S. Tipperary; J. R. Redmond, Waterford; Sir T. Esmonde, N. Wexford; J. Muldoon, E. Wicklow.

Unionist: J. B. Lonsdale, Mid-Armagh.

Laborites Elected—Blackburn, W. Bradford, Leeds, Leicester, Norwich, Stockport, West Ham, Wigan (a gain).

Canadians Elected—Sir Gilbert Parker (Unionist) re-elected for Gravesend; J. Allen Baker (Liberal) re-elected for Finsbury, E.; A. Bonar Law (Unionist) re-elected for Dulwich; Jos. Martin (Liberal), East St. Pancras.

To-day's Voting.

The constituencies which poll today are:

London Boroughs—Bethnal Green, Northeast and Southwest; Chelsea, Deptford, St. George's, Hanover Square; Southward, West, Bermondsey, Rotherhite.

Tower Hamlets, Bow and Bromley, Limehouse, Mile End, Poplar, St. George's-in-the-East, Stepney, Whitechapel.

England and Wales—Boroughs: Birkenhead, Boston, Brighton (two seats), Dewsbury, Hanley, Kidderminster.

Liverpool: Abercromby, West Toxeth, Everton, Exchange, Kirkdale, Scotland, Walton, West Derby.

Maidstone, Merthyr Tydvil, Middlesboro, Northampton (two seats).

Nottingham East, Nottingham South, Nottingham West.

Sheffield, Attercliffe, Warwick and Leamington.

County of Sussex, Northwest, Southwest, North, Mid, South, East.

Scotland—Burghs: Dundee (two seats), Edinburgh West, Central, East, South.

Ireland—Cork City.

COULD NOT FIGHT FIRE

Break in Water Mains in Montreal is Cause of Trouble.

Montreal, Jan. 18.—For six hours Sunday night the whole central district of Montreal was without water. Private houses were summarily cut off and remained so till seven yesterday morning. The break was one of the most serious in the history of Montreal, though fortunately it occurred in an auxiliary main and will not necessitate any water famine during repairs.

The break had occurred under the street, and the escaping water, making its way down the sewers, hindered workmen from finding it. So heavy was the loss from water that some of the uptown fire stations registered no pressure at all on their gauges, while the water in one of the large reservoirs was lowered three feet.

Serious loss by fire was the direct result of the water shortage about 3 o'clock yesterday morning. A blaze started in the store of Dubuc Freres, corner Wolfe and Robin streets. The fire department was soon out in force, but it was impossible to get streams playing. Finally the hose had to be laid a quarter of a mile to Sherbrooke street, and by this time the fire had spread to an adjoining tenement block, which was also gutted, being of flimsy material. The total loss was about $20,000.

ELECTION MESSAGE OF WILL CROOKS

London, Jan. 18.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Will Crooks, M.P., who arrived from Australasia on the eve of the polling at Woolwich, said that the message from workmen all over the English-speaking dominions is: "Get your budget through; limit the power of the Lords; don't believe Tory stories that loyalty is being strained. We are firm. We reject with scorn the suggestion that we need a preference which would make the lot of your toilers harder."

NOT AN ALIEN COURT SAYS

Chatham, Jan. 18.—The C. w. & L. E Railway was acquitted yesterday morning of a charge of violating the alien labor act, brought by Thomas Martin on the claim that the railway had engaged P. J. Shiels, general manager, by previous contract. It was found, however, that while Shiels came from Utica, N.Y., his parents came from Ireland, and had never been naturalized. The court therefore held that Shiels was a British subject.

HAVE STRIKE TO CUT PRICES

Cleveland, Jan. 18.—An anu-meat strike as a blow at the increased cost of living is in full swing here.

It is estimated that fully 6,000 men have signed a pledge to abstain from meat for a month in an effort to break high prices.

An effort will be made by the promoters of the plan to spread the doctrine of anti-meat to all parts of Ohio.

BUXTON'S MESSAGE TO THE DOMINION

London, Jan. 18.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Hon. Sydney Buxton, Postmaster-General, wires the Canadian Associated Press as follows: "The interest of the colonies in this important election is much appreciated. The election involves, as we Liberals believe, representative control, social reforms, equitable taxation, free trade with its unhampered and friendly industrialism and naval and military defence in which Canada gives such practical help."

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

The French war sloop Martial was wrecked in the Mediterranean.

Mr. H. S. G. Mackenzie has been sworn in as provincial treasurer of Quebec.

Gordon Lamotte, arrested at Strathroy on the charge of burglary, admitted his crime to the chief of police.

Fred. Dudenhoffer of Atherley was killed by the caving in of an embankment on the Canadian Northern line.

Congress yesterday passed a viva voce vote bill granting separate statehood to the territories of New Mexico and Arizona.

C. B. Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining Co., was arraigned at New York on a charge of conspiring to defraud the U. S. Government.

Striking milk wagon drivers in New York yesterday attacked non-union strikebreakers, who ventured out without police protection. Shots were exchanged.

Pauline Russell, an animal trainer, is dead from injuries. She was attacked by a trained leopard during a rehearsal at Huber's Museum, New York, a week ago.

Rev. James Barclay, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Montreal, the highest paid pastor in Canada, has placed his resignation in the hands of the session.

Edwin Faber, a constable of Mendota, Ill., wrote Miss Sadie Hauser of La Salle that he intended to kill her, and on Sunday entered the cafe where she was employed and shot her and himself.

NEW HUNGARIAN CABINET FORMED

Budapest, Jan. 18.—The new Cabinet formed by Count Khuen Von Hedervary is composed as follows: Premier and Minister of the Interior, Count Khuen Von Hedervary; Minister of Finance, M. George Lukacs; Minister of Justice, Warships and Education, ad interim, Dr. Szelky; Minister of Agriculture, Count Serenyi. The new Ministers will be sworn in at Vienna to-day.

BURNED WHILE TRYING TO SAVE HIS CHILDREN

Brockville, Ont., Jan. 18.—The residence of James Lee, a few miles from here, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday night, and he was probably fatally burned in rescuing his three daughters. The fire was caused by a young child upsetting a coal oil lamp. One of the daughters, aged nine years, ran to a neighbor a quarter of a mile away in a deep snow for assistance.

PALESTINE IS OPENED TO INCOMING JEWS

New York, Jan. 18.—A cable despatch says that the proclamation of the constitution in Turkey has thrown open the doors of Palestine to the incoming Jews from all parts of the world.

Thousands are escaping from Persia and find shelter and protection in the Holy Land, while every ship from Odessa carries hundreds of them.

TO SEARCH FOR MISSING LORD

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 18.—In an effort to find Lord Osborn Beauclerk of Sussex, Eng., and Warlington Pike of Victoria, B.C., whose whereabouts have been a mystery since Nov. 10, a young plainsman of Arizona, Albert Gonfaldo, accompanied by a party of five, will sail around the Lower California Peninsula.

CREW OF SHIP ARE ARRESTED

Hamburg, Jan. 18.—Thirty-eight of the stewards and waiters of Kaiser Auguste Victoria, of the Hamburg-American Line, were arrested upon the arrival of the steamer at Luxhaven yesterday.

The prisoners are accused of stealing provisions, particularly meats and preserves.

The discovery was made by three detectives who made the last westward trip on the vessel, two as steerage passengers and the other as a steward.

The detectives allege they found the existence of a system through which provisions were smuggled into the quarters of the steerage passengers by the connivance of stewards with the waiters, and sold to those in the steerage at low prices.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. D. M. GORDON

Kingston, Jan. 18.—Yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Mrs. Daniel M. Gordon were conveyed to Cataraqui Cemetery. Eleven hundred students and all the faculties of Queen's were in the cortege. President Falconer, Toronto University, and Principal Gandier of Knox College, Toronto, attended.

Howard D. Vansant, U. S. consul, will leave Saturday for Dumferline, Scotland.

FRENCH-CANADIANS ARE IN CONFERENCE

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The French-Canadian conference opened to-day. The delegates, who come entirely from within the province, will number about 800.

The main object of the gathering is to organize a French-Canadian Educational Association, but the chief work of the association when organized will be to take such steps as will improve the conditions of French-Canadian children in the schools, both public and separate. It is said a demand for the use of French in the public schools will be made.

WILL OF THE LATE D. OGDEN MILLS

New York, Jan. 18.—The will of the late D. Ogden Mills of New York divides his large estate equally between his son and daughter, Ogden Mills and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid. The Metropolitan Museum of Art, the American Museum of Natural History and the Home for Incurables in this city are bequeathed $100,000 each; $50,000 is left to the New York Botanical Gardens and the American Geographical Society and the American National Red Cross receive $25,000 each.

McQUILLAN BROS. FARM IS SECURED

Guelph, Jan. 18.—The last two hundred acres of land required for the new provincial reformatory has just been secured from McQuillan Bros. by the Government.

The McQuillan farm was the most valuable block of land of the entire 800 acres to the Government, as it has much valuable lime and building-stone and the C.P.R. runs through the quarries on the farm.

This was the only farm the Government had any difficulty in securing, and for it they paid eighty dollars an acre.

ALBERT ALLARD IS LIBERAL CANDIDATE

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—At a special Liberal convention held here yesterday evening Albert Allard was nominated to contest the bye-election. The seat was rendered vacant by the retiral of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. August Lemieux, K.C., a brother of the Postmaster-General, was accorded the unanimous nomination ten days ago, but he proved distasteful to the Premier and was forced to retire.

British Pastor Refuses Call.

Birmingham, Eng., Jan. 18.—Rev. John H. Jowett, pastor of the Carr's Lane Congregational Church, Sunday announced to his congregation his decision not to accept the call to the pastorate of the Fifth avenue Presbyterian Church, New York. He was offered $12,000 a year to go to New York.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Brilliant Lawyer's Probable Death.

Montreal, Jan. 18.—Arthur J. Hogle, a one-time brilliant young lawyer, was yesterday found dead in the basement of a cheap lodging-house on St. Paul street. Hogle was a victim of the liquor habit. He leaves a wife and two children, who were some years ago compelled to leave him.

Want to Build That Dam.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The backers of the Long Sault dam and power plan were conferring with the Government yesterday. Messrs. McGuigan, Holgate and McCarthy, K.C., discussed the project with Sir Wilfrid, Hon. Geo Graham, Messrs. Pugsley and Lemieux.

Russian Army Scandal.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—Major-Gen Artabolevsky has been arrested in connection with frauds uncovered in the quartermaster's department. The Emperor has extended the scope of the investigation to cover all departments of the army.

Pastor Suicides for Love.

Greenville, Ill., Jan. 18.—Leaving a note declaring his love, Rev. Harry Koence swallowed poison at the gate of his sweetheart's home, thrust the note in at the door, which had been opened at his summons, and fell dead.

Laurier and Landry.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—Senator Landry publishes in L'Evenement of Quebec a long letter addressed to Sir Wilfrid Laurier demanding that the question of establishing a Canadian navy be submitted to the people. The letter was written on Dec. 29. Sir Wilfrid did not answer it.

Ready to Employ McGill.

Kingston, Jan. 18.—Several concerns are said to have sought the promise of the services of Charles McGill of the late Ontario Bank when he leaves the penitentiary. His term will be up at the end of the year.

Blew Himself Up With Dynamite.

New London, Conn., Jan. 18.—Placing three sticks of dynamite in the front of his shirt, Wm. A. Bennett lighted the fuses and was blown to death. He was 28 years of age and mentally unbalanced.

Boy's Murderer Arrested.

New York, Jan. 18.—Barrow Rothman, unkept and long-haired, was arrested yesterday afternoon by officers searching for the lunatic who murdered Robt. Lomas and shot Arthur Shibley, 6-year-old boy coasters on Washington Heights, last week. The prisoner talked incoherently, but the police say, admitted he shot a boy who threw snowballs at him.

Mine-House Dynamited.

Harley, Wis., Jan. 18.—The dry house at No. 1 shaft of the Windsor Mine, operated by the Odenah Iron Co., one mile west of Harley, was dynamited early yesterday, and H Davis was killed, Henry Grover, mine boss, and Capt. Camallio seriously injured, and four Polish miners were seriously hurt.

British Consular Service.

London, Dec. 18.—Dr. Bruce Macdonald, headmaster of St. Andrew's College, Toronto, who is in London studying English educational methods, declared yesterday that the present consular system should be amended and that Englishmen should be placed in all such posts.

YOUR BLOOD IS POISONED

If You Suffer From Headaches or Neuralgia.

Frequent attacks of Headaches or Neuralgia are Nature's warnings of Blood Poisoning. The pain is due simply to the tortured nerves, inflamed by the blood being overloaded with impurities, because of inactive bowels, kidneys or skin.

There is usually chronic Constipation and the foul matter, instead of passing from the body, is absorbed by the blood. The kidneys are not as strong as they should be and fail to filter from the the blood, the necessary amount of impure matter.

Instead of the skin throwing off one and a half pounds of waste matter every day, it becomes inactive and does only half its work, leaving three quarters of a pound of this waste to poison the body. Headache powders and pain killers simply numb the nerves and have no helpful action on the organs causing this poisoning of the blood. To cure Headaches and Neuralgia, the blood must be purified, which can be done only by making the kidneys, bowels and skin healthy and active.

"Fruit-a-tives", made from concentrated and intensified fruit juice, is the greatest blood purifying medicine.

"Fruit-a-tives", or "Fruit Liver Tablets", is a scientific cure for Headaches and Neuralgia, and never fails to cure because "Fruit-a-tives" stops the cause of these troubles.

WILL BE TAKEN UP BY COUNCIL IN NEAR FUTURE

are we going to do with them when there is less hotel accommodation?" Mr. Poussette asked.

Mr. Poussette argued that it was not British fair play to take the licenses away from these men who had been granted them in a legal way. Their business had been legalized. It was not fair to take it from them.

MR. O'CONNELL.

Mr. O'Connell, who followed Mr. Poussette, said he regretted he did not have the scriptural knowledge possessed by Mr. Potter or the long experience at the bar of Mr. Poussette.

Mr. D. O'Connell made an eloquent address against reducing the number of licenses. "In this matter," he said, "we have to act as men imbued with a sense of justice and fair play, leaving aside any considerations of sentiment."

Mr. O'Connell referred to the high motives that prompted the members of the Temperance and Moral Reform League, but apparently they had not looked at the question from every side. The men who had licenses were fighting for their property, and their property was dearer and more vital to them than principle was to an ideal.

Outside of life and liberty, property was regarded as most important under British law. To take away the licenses would be doing an irreparable and serious injury to the business of these men. The assessed value of the hotel property in Peterborough was $363,000, a selling value of nearly half a million dollars. The salaries paid to hotel employees was approximately $142,000 per year. It would be a serious thing to take the livelihood of these persons away. Mr. O'Connell contended that the taking away of the licenses meant a depreciation of the value of the property and of the assets and equipment of the building where the legalized business was carried on. It would not be British fair play to take away the licenses and injure the value of property and take away a man's [illegible]. The speaker emphasized that the reduction of business did not reduce the consumption of liquor.

E. Wood, K.C., said he represented the holders of shop licenses. There was no mandate from the people in regard to shop licenses. Complaints had been made about the shops, but there was no indication that the sentiment of the community was favorable towards a reduction in the number of shop licenses. Mr. Wood therefore, did not think that the council should make any recommendation in regard to the issuing of shop licenses, as such a recommendation would be binding upon the commissioners, according to the Act.

There was some discussion in regard to this portion of the Act, and Mr. Wood read it. It was then Mr. Kendrey interrupted and addressed some words to Mr. Wood, whose statements he challenged.

"Perhaps Mr. Kendrey would like to read the statute," Mr. Wood said.

"I've already done that," Mr. Kendrey replied.

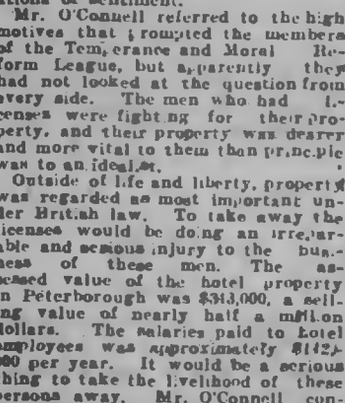
Mr. Potter replied to some of the statements made by Mr. Poussette and Mr. O'Connell. The Temperance and Moral Reform League had gone into the question fully and had looked at it from every viewpoint. He quoted figures to show that the cutting off of shop licenses did not depreciate the value of the property. This had been demonstrated in several local option towns. He was prepared to go into this phase of the question fully.

In moving to refer the question to the committee of the whole council, Ald. Buller and Ald. Bradburn said it was an important question and should be considered very carefully.

Ald. Morgan, in moving the amendment referred to at the opening of this article, stated that the aldermen had heard both sides of the question and were not like a lot of school boys. It was not necessary that they take ten years to make up their minds.

The amendment failed to carry amid applause from the "antis" in the audience.

Mayor Morrow assured the deputations that the question would be taken up in the very near future.



A TREE THAT IS WORSHIPED.

Ficus Religiosa Held Sacred by Buddhists and Hindoos.

In most of the countries of southeastern Asia, the Indian Ficus religiosa, the sacred and consecrated fig tree, or peepil tree, is found. It is held pre-eminently sacred by the Buddhists, and is revered also by the Hindoos, the birth of Vishnu having occurred beneath its branches.

It is a handsome tree, growing frequently to a great height. It is an evergreen, which puts forth its flowers in April, and the bark yields freely upon incision an acrid milk containing a considerable proportion of india rubber. The leaves are heart-shaped, long, pointed and vibrate in the air like those of the aspen.

A branch of one of these trees, having a notable history, was sent to a city in the interior of Ceylon, where it was planted, and became known by the name of the bo-tree. For 200 years it received the highest reverence, and is still the chief object of worship to the pilgrims who every year flock to the ruins of the city.

Trim Your Nails.

There is a certain eminent physician who, wiser than the children of light plods his way along in an unbeaten track and has no peer as a diagnostician. He is always accompanied by an expert manicurist, instead of a white or colored valet. "The human nail, like the human hair," he said to me, "is much affected by physical conditions. Barbers will tell you that in certain seasons the beard, for instance, grows nearly twice as fast as at others. It is so with the nails. At times, according to how we feel, the free edge may be a month in growing; there is some retarding agent. At other times it may grow in a week. Sometimes the nail has transverse furrows, indicating periods of illness. At other times it bears furrows running lengthwise—a sure indication of gout. My manicurist can tell by these indications when your last sickness occurred, and I can tell what the malady was."

She Got the Letter.

The post office official put on his severest manner.

"You say you mailed the letter about half an hour ago at a window in the east corridor?" he asked.

The beautiful woman dabbled a handkerchief at her soulful eyes and at the tip of her classic nose.

"Yes, yes," she said.

"To whom was it addressed?"

She told him.

"And now you want to stop that letter?" he went on, still more sternly. "You want to get it back? Why?"

"Because," said the woman with unpremeditated frankness, "I am afraid his wife will get it."

"Oh," said the stern official.

She got the letter.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Union Stock Yards.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Receipts at the Union Stock Yards to-day were 55 carloads, consisting of 1126 cattle, 21 hogs, 402 sheep and 22 calves. Trade was brisk at quotations same as last week, but firm. For prime, $5.50 to $5.75; good, $5.25 to $5.50; medium, $5 to $5.25; common, $4.50 to $4.90; cows, $3 to $5; sheep and lambs firm; hogs steady at last Thursday's quotations, $6.50 f.o.b. cars at country points.

Wesley Dunn bought 250 lambs at $7.50 per cwt.; 100 sheep at $4.80 per cwt.; 10 calves at $6.50.

Zeagman & Sons bought 20 cows, 1170 lbs. each, at $4.25 per cwt.

Joseph Wilson, jr., bought for D. D. Martin Co. 20 cows, 1050 to 1200 lbs. each, at $3.50 to $4.25 per cwt.

John Neely bought for Park, Blackwell Co. three loads of butchers, at $5 to $5.40 for best; best cows, $4 to $4.50; medium cows, $3 to $4 per cwt.

J. Holm of Holway, Ont., farmer and drover, sold one of the best loads of butchers' cattle, 26 in number, averaging 1094 lbs. each, at $5.05 per cwt. Mr. Holm bought the same cattle on this market last October from Maybee & Wilson at $4.20 per cwt., plus $5. They averaged 977 lbs. each.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market receipts of live stock last week were 2700 cattle, 950 sheep and lambs, 2850 hogs and 225 calves, while offerings this morning were 150 cattle, 600 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 150 calves. There was no actual change in the condition of the market for cattle since this day week, the undertone being still strong at the late advance prices. Supplies were larger, but this fact seemed to have no influence on the situation. All the stock offered was from Ontario points, with the exception of seven loads of domestic Manitoba stallfed cows and heifers. The attendance of buyers was large, and, as they all were short of beef, the demand was good, and quite a few loads were bought for Quebec and Ottawa account. The trade on the whole was active, and the offerings of all suitable stock were well cleaned up. A few choice steers at 5½c; good, 4c to 4½c; fairly good at 3½c to 3¾c; fair at 3c to 3½c; medium at 2½c to 2¾c; common at 1c to 1½c; cows at 2c to 4c, and bulls at 2c to 3½c per lb. The market for hogs opened strong, with sellers asking $6.90 per 100 lbs. for selected lots, which figure showed an advance of 30c per 100 lbs. as compared with those paid a week ago; but as the offerings were somewhat larger than expected by packers they refused to pay the above advance asked, and trade in consequence was slow for a while, but later it improved, as holders decided to accept an advance of 5c to 10c, and sales of selected lots from west of Toronto were made at $6.50, and from east of Toronto at $6.75 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

Supplies of sheep and lambs were larger than they have been of late, for which the demand was good from local buyers, and prices in consequence were firmly maintained. Lambs sold at 6½c to 7c, and sheep at 4½c to 4¾c per lb. The trade in calves was fairly active at prices ranging from $3 to $12 each, as to size and quality.

WILL BE TAKEN UP BY COUNCIL IN NEAR FUTURE

Question of License Reduction to be Considered by Committee of Whole Council—Deputations For and Against Express Their Views to Mayor and Aldermen.

The request of the Temperance and Moral Reform League that the number of hotel licenses in Peterborough be reduced from eighteen to eight and the number of shop licenses from four to two will be taken up by the committee of the whole Council.

After hearing the arguments advanced by representatives of the League, and those opposed to the reduction of hotel and shop licenses last night, it was moved in Council by Ald. Butler and seconded by Ald. Bradburn, "that the matter be referred to the committee of the Whole Council."

It was moved in amendment by Ald Morgan, seconded by Ald. Turner, "that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare a by-law authoring the license commissioners to grant eight hotel licenses for the year beginning May 1st, 1910, and to grant two shop licenses if it is found that the city has the right to deal with the latter question."

The amendment was put first and was lost, Aldermen Morgan, Turner and Batten voting for it. The main motion was then put and carried.

Rev. J. G. Potter, who was spokesman for the deputation from the Temperance and Moral Reform League, told the Council that he was satisfied with the action the Council had taken. Mr. D. O'Connell, who appeared for those opposed to reduction along with Mr. A. P. Poussette, K.C., also expressed his pleasure with the way things had gone. Mr. Poussette said he was glad to see that the Council was not going to be stampeded, but that was as far as he got.

"We're not trying to stampede the Council," came from several persons in the deputation favoring reduction.

"You are wrong, Mr. Poussette," Mr. Potter said.

"There is no reason for you saying that, Mr. Poussette," Ald. Duncan put in. "I want time to think this matter over. It is an important question and I can't see where anyone is trying to stampede the Council."

If it had been a drama, the descent of the curtain would have seen Mr. Poussette working his way towards the back of the room, for, amid a general buzz of conversation, argument closed and the majority of those interested in the reduction question went out.

The interest that is taken in the subject was indicated by the large number in attendance at the meeting of the Council. The Council Chamber was overcrowded. The back-benchers could not see what was going on on account of the people standing in front of them. So everybody stood up. Both sides were well represented, the the reductionists appearing to have the majority. Applause was not lacking while the speeches were being made. Both sides were there with the hand, when, what appeared to be strong points were brought out, but despite this it was an orderly meeting. References to "British Fair Play" were as as thick as mosquitoes at a summer resort, but there was a diversity of opinion as to just what the term meant when applied to the license reduction question.

In addition to the speakers mentioned above, Mr. R. E. Wood, K. C., appeared on behalf of holders of shop licenses and spoke briefly. His remarks apparently did not appeal to Mr. James Kendrey, one of the License Commissioners, who appeared prepared to discuss one or two points with Mr. Wood if it were necessary. The debate did not come to pass, however.

Mayor Morrow was in the chair and all the aldermen were present. The minutes of the last meeting were taken as read, and on motion of Ald. Phelan and Ald. Duffus, it was decided to hear the deputations before transacting other business.

MR. POTTER'S ADDRESS.

Rev. J. G. Potter, who was the first speaker, said that a little over a year ago a large public meeting was held, at which it was resolved unanimously to take steps to restrict the liquor traffic in Peterborough. Organization was completed, and the problem was gone into very carefully.

Mr. Potter told about the preparations for the local option campaign, pointing out that it was decided to conduct it along educational lines. This had been done and everything was done to give the people complete information on the question at issue.

During the campaign everything was done along legitimate lines, open and above board. No attempt had been made to influence the members of the City Council in power in 1909 or the aspirants for the mayoralty or aldermanic candidates for 1910. If this had been done it was entirely unauthorized by the Temperance and Moral Reform League.

MANY IRREGULARITIES.

There had been many irregularities on voting day, and the league had been assured that the election could be voided if it was decided to push the matter. This, however, was not the intention of the leaguers. In regard to liquor licenses, Mr. Potter said that twenty-three licenses for 17,000 of a population was altogether too great a proportion. It was admitted by those in business that some of the hotels here were not being conducted as they should be. There were others that were all right. It would be better to have fewer licenses and make the men who had them "keep hotel," as the common expression put it.

If there had been a due observance of the law, Mr. Potter said, there would not have been the cry for local option or reduction of licenses. The vote on local option on January 3rd in Peterborough was 2,008 for and 1,496 against the measure. The majority of those who voted for the by-law represented homes, whereas many of those who voted against it were opposed by their own households in marking their ballots that way, so that the vote in favor of local option was much more representative than that against it.

"One of the men who voted against the by-law in opposition to the wishes of his household is here to-night," Mr. Potter said.

In regard to many of those who opposed the measure, Mr. Potter said that if it had been total prohibition or license reduction they would have been glad to go in for it. There was a majority of 510 in favor of the total abolition of the bar. There would be a much greater majority in favor of the reduction of the licenses.

The law permitted the reducing of the licenses to the number of two.

There were five or six hotels in the city which catered to the commercial trade, traveling public, etc. There were two or three that provided excellent accommodation for the farmers. The league had made a careful study of the situation, and after taking everything into consideration, had come to the conclusion that if eight hotels licenses were issued there would be sufficient hotel accommodation and enough places to provide for the thirst of the men of the town in the hot summer time. It was realized that with the number of licenses reduced those who had them would do a larger business, and it was reasonable to expect that they should pay a higher license fee. The same applied to the shop licenses, of which two would be enough. Mr. Potter referred to the large number of changes in the proprietorship of the hotels in Peterborough. It was a changing business and few hotelmen boasted that they had retired wealthy. The reduction of licenses would affect the business of some, but that should not be allowed to stand in the way of a great reform movement. Changes of this kind were but the natural result of the march of progress.

In concluding, Mr. Potter remarked that the members of the league bore no enmity to any man. He reiterated that the members of the council had not been approached by representatives of the Temperance and Moral Reform League. He would be sorry if this had been done by any one belonging to the league. Such action would not be in accord with the spirit of British fair play. Such action would be unmanly as well as unasked for. He hoped the council would see fit to reduce the number of hotel licenses to eight and the shop licenses to two.

Mr. Potter asked the right to reply to any statements that might be made by the speakers opposed to the reduction of the licenses.

Mayor Morrow said he could have the opportunity to reply.

MR. POUSSETTE.

Mr. A. P. Poussette did not think the "other side" should have a right to reply. The question was not one to be debated upon. Each deputation should present its case and have that finish it.

Mr. Potter said there were several other speakers for the Temperance and Moral Reform League, but it was not the wish to take up any more of the time of the Council than was absolutely necessary.

The Mayor thought that as Mr. Potter was the first speaker, he should have the right to reply, and this was agreed to.

Mr. Poussette referred to the fairness of the manner in which Mr. Potter had presented his case. The speaker sympathised with the work of the Temperance and Moral Reform League in their attempt to reform Peterborough, if it was necessary to reform the city, if there was enough drunkenness here to warrant such a step. He did not think there was. The issuing of hotel licenses was authorized by the Ontario Government, and there were fewer licenses in this city than the Ontario Legislature had authorized to be issued. "We are well within the law in this respect," said Mr. Poussette. "In connection with the question of the reduction of licenses it must be clearly shown before such a step is taken that there is good and sufficient reason for going contrary to the wishes of the Legislature. In this case he did not consider there was such reason. Mr. Poussette was firm in the belief that the reduction of licenses would have no effect whatever towards reducing the amount of liquor consumed in the city. Therefore, a reduction would not accomplish the object of the Temperance and Moral Reform League. The treating system was objectionable to a large number of moderate drinkers, and for this reason many of them had voted for local option. They would not be in favor of license reduction on this ground. Therefore the vote on local option did not represent the sentiment of the community on the question of license reduction.

The reduction of licenses would mean the concentrating of the liquor traffic in the hands of a few persons instead of with the number of persons who had licenses at the present time. Mr. Poussette pointed out that on Saturday—market day—the yard of every hotel that had a yard was filled with farmers' vehicles. There was no more hotel accommodation in Peterborough at the present time than was necessary, in fact it was difficult for delegates attending conventions here to secure accommodation. This was true when there were temperance conventions here. "What

OLD HALL BUILDING IS SOLD

Purchased From City by J. R. Stratton M. P. for $11,000—Has Been on Market for Some Time

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P., has purchased the old Hall building on Simcoe street, opposite the city buildings. It was given to the city of Peterborough by the executors of the estate of the late Charlotte M. Nicholls to be used for a public library. It was not considered suitable for this purpose by the council, and it has been on the market for some time. The price paid by Mr. Stratton is $11,000.

The offer from Mr. Stratton was considered at a meeting of the Property Committee yesterday afternoon, and it was decided to accept it. This was recommended to the Council in a report presented last night and it was adopted by the Council. The report of the committee was as follows:—

Council of the City of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report as follows:

1. We recommend that the request of the Peterborough Club for permission to place a porch door on the north side of the premises opening outwards, be granted.

2. We recommend that the matter of procuring small supplies for the market and city hall be left in the hands of the chairman.

3. We recommend that the matter of repainting and repairing the Dan M. Spency ambulance be left in the hands of the chairman to loook after.

4. Your committee received an offer from the Hon. J. R. Stratton of $11,000 for the building on the north side of Simcoe street, given to the city by the executors of the estate of the late Charlotte M. Nicholls, and after full consideration we recommend that this offer be accepted.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

GEO. H. DUNCAN,
Chairman.

Mr. Stratton was present at the meeting of the Property Committee in the afternoon and offered $10,000 cash for the building.

Mayor Morrow asked if that was the best price Mr. Stratton was prepared to offer.

Mr. Stratton replied that it was. It will cost from $2,500 to $4,000 for repairs and improvements. The end will had to be rebuilt, the front rebuilt and other alterations made and perhaps a fourth storey put on.

Mr. Stratton was called up on the telephone and told that the committee wanted $11,000. He offered $10,500. The committee hung out for $11,000, and Mr. Stratton gave it.

BOX OFFICE SALE WAS SO LARGE

That Telephone Could Not be Answered as Promptly as Usual

Owing to the stress of business at the box office at the Grand this morning the opera house management asks the indulgence of the patrons who did not get prompt responses to their 'phone messages for tickets. The telephones were not answered with the usual alacrity, as it is a well understood custom, as well as a matter of necessity to give immediate attention to the people at the wicket.

The sale was a record one, and while a capacity house was looked for, the unprecendented demand for seats came as a surprise to the management. From indications, the plan will be sold out in an unusually short time.

WILL HOLD OFFICE FOR ONE YEAR ONLY

The city solicitor has informed the City Council that the aldermen elected this year will only hold office for one year. Next year two aldermen will be elected in each ward, the one getting the highest vote to hold office for two years.

Ambulance Social

The last regular class meeting of the ladies' division of St. John's Ambulance Class will be held to-morrow, (Wednesday) evening, in the guild room of St. John's church at 8 o'clock. There will be an extra meeting on the next regular class night, taking up a review in general of all the work, preparatory to the examination of the class, the date for which will be announced later. A large attendance at the class on Wednesday evening of this week is desired.

The Quaker Oats Company requires the services of a number of girls. Apply at Office.

St. Luke's Church Notes

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet to-night at 7.45. Arrangements will be made for a Shrove Tuesday social, and a large attendance is requested.

Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock.

The W. A. will meet on Thursday at 4.30 p.m.

The Mission Band meet on Friday at 4.15 p.m.

Friday evening at 7.30 conveyances will take the members of the A.Y.P.A. for a sleigh drive. The evening will be spent at the home of Mrs. H. Mackey, Douro. The sleighs will be at the post office and St. Luke's rectory. Only members of the A.Y.P.A. are admitted.

Rev. J. R. McLean, M.A., rector of Colborne, will preach at St. Luke's next Sunday, both morning and evening.

A special meeting of the Vestry is called for Wednesday, January 26, for the purpose of electing a people's warden and transacting other business.

January White Sale

CRESSMAN'S ANNUAL WHITE GOODS EVENT

There's always a "best time" to buy anything—now's the time to make your choice of Lingerie Articles and Lingerie Materials. The customs of to-day have a great deal to do with the merchandise events or sales that are so common at this season of the year. There was a time, and not long ago, when the average woman neglected to do her summer sewing until the warm spring and summer days—she soon found that it became a burden, so began to get busy in February and March, when the weather was not so inviting. The custom has grown until now everybody begins looking for White Goods as soon as Xmas is over—nor do they stop at white fabrics, they lay in a supply of lingerie unaergarments and the merchant buys accordingly. We anticipated the needs of our many customers away back in last year and have had exceptional luck in securing great values—prices talk. Note the following carefully—better still, come and see. Everything displayed for easy seeing. :: :: :: :: :: :: :: :: :: ::

THE LATE JOHN CARNEGIE

It will be with very deep regret that this community will learn of the death of John Carnegie. For many years he took a deep interest and an active part in public affairs—municipal and political. As a journalist, as editor of the Review, his influence was felt upon every important question that arose, and upon the platform his voice was heard in every campaign for many years. A staunch believer in the policy of the Conservative party, he was an active and vigorous supporter of that party, and in the press and on the platform from the early pre-confederation days until recent years, he did yeoman service on behalf of the principles which he believed to be in the interest of his native country. Many will recall, and recall with regret, that they are passed, the days of Scott and Carnegie and Bertram—the trio who fought many political battles in Peterborough, and who have now all crossed the bar.

Mr. Carnegie's interest in politics was deep, but it was not confined to national or provincial affairs, for in municipal matters he took an active part, and as a member of the County Council and as a citizen he gave thought and time to local and county interests. The agricultural interests of the county owe him a deep debt. For many years he was the active spirit and the working officer of the Agricultural Society, and everything pertaining to the advancement of agriculture received his earnest attention and every effort to improve the condition of that industry had his active and influential support.

Many of the public works in the county were constructed largely owing to Mr. Carnegie's advocacy, and the Trent waterway, which is now, at last, nearing completion, was a subject which he gave a great deal of time and energy, and with this work his name should always be identified. He recognized its possibilities, not only as a local means of communication, but as a national highway of commerce, and at a time when it did not receive the general support that it now does. He earnestly and persistently advocated its construction, without regard to party or other considerations. He lived to see its completion assured, although not to see the full fruition of his work, but the part he took in forcing it upon the attention of Government and Parliament will not be forgotten.

Personally, Mr. Carnegie was a man of strict integrity, and although he may not have possessed the lighter qualities that make for general popularity, he was a warm and staunch friend, who won and held the staunchest friendship of those who came nearest to him, and learned to admire his sterling character, and to ever love the man. His influence was given to the advancement of the moral, as well as the material well-being of the community, and while hosts of friends will mourn the death of an honored and beloved associate, the community has lost one who always advocated what he believed to be for the welfare of the people. Earnest in character, ardent in the advocacy of his principles, honourable, having always in view the interests of the country and the people; staunch in friendship, honoured by all, and beloved by many, John Carnegie's death will be deeply regretted by all and deeply mourned by very many outside his family circle.

CHARLES McGILL WILL BE RELEASED ON FEBRUARY 1ST

Special to the Review.

Kingston, Jan. 17—On February 1st, Charles McGill will have served three years in the penitentiary, and his five-year term, deducting allowance for good conduct, will expire at the end of this year. Mr. McGill regularly receives newspaper comments on his case, and is gratified over the sympathetic view the public takes. When Mr. McGill leaves the penitentiary he steps into a prominent business position. Many concerns have sought the promise of his services since he was placed in prison.

SPORTING NEWS

COLLEGIATE HAD EASY WIN FROM WEAKENED COLTS

Students Lead at Half Time by 6-0—Final Score Was 11-4—Colts Were Minus Three of Their Regular Players—Burritt Scored His 24th Goal of the Season.

The Collegiates defeated the Colts rather easily last night, the half-time score reading 6—0 in their favor and at full time the figures stood 11—4, with the students in the long end. Each team presented a changed line-up from that of last Monday. Short, Pratt and Halpin, were missing from the Colts and Halpany and Richardson were new faces on the garnet and and gray team. The losers were noticeably weak and only in spots did they have the Collegiates guessing.

Although the scoring was onesided the game was interesting to watch. The all round good team work of the winners and the individual stunts of their opponents kept the something doing sign prominent throughout the contest.

Halpin was unable to go on through an injury to his foot, and Pelton, his substitute had a busy time. He made many clever stops, but they were coming too fast. The Collegiate forward line, and especially Burritt and Crane could not be stopped and the shots came from close in.

Giroux, and Weir of the Keene City League team, were prominent on the line. Both worked hard and contributed some nice stick handling.

Burritt and Crane were the star performers of the winners. The former counter seven times which makes his total twenty-four in four games. The other members of the team played up to their regular form and the splendid team work was largely responsible for the win. There was considerable tripping, but Referee Rose kept the game well in hand.

QUAKERS AND C. G. E. WERE TIED UP AT THE FINISH

In a game made up of a mixture of shinnny and "get him," the Quakers and C.G.E. Mercantile League teams played to a 2—2 score last night. The contest started off well enough, but the players fell down before the encouragement of the rooters to mix it up, and what should have been a good game of hockey turned out to be a farce. Leo Derocher did his best to control the players, but it was useless in the face of the actions of the spectators, who had they been asked on entering to go down in their pockets for a dime, as an admission fee, would probably have made a big holler about a hold-up game.

Pratt scored the first goal for the Quakers in three minutes, and Elliott evened matters by connecting in twenty minutes. Neither team could break the tie in the first half.

Elliott put his team ahead after fifteen minutes' play in the second half, and just a few minutes before time was called and with each team playing five men, Pratt drew the puck from a face-off and beat Latimer from close in.

The line up was as follows:

Quakers.		C.G.E.

Thats Wnat Antoine Cottenoire Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills

They Cured His Diabetes After the Doctors Had Failed to Give Him Relief—What Dodd's Kidney Pills Do and Why.

St. Pie de Guire, Yamaska Co., Que., Jan. 17.—Special.—That there is one more cure for deadly Diabetes, and that cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills, is proved once more in the case of Mr. Antoine Cottenoire, a well-known resident of this place.

"I am thankful I ever heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mr. Cottenoire states. "They cured me of Diabetes I suffered with Backache. I always felt drowsy. I had severe headaches and my limbs would cramp. I had a dizzy feeling and felt tired in the region of the kidneys, with a dragging heavy sensation across the loins.

"I was treated by the doctors, but got no benefit from them. Then I heard of cures made by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and made up my mind to try them. I took in all three dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. To-day I am free from Kidney trouble of all kinds.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills also cured me of stomach trouble from which I suffered for twenty-five years."

Diabetes is one of the most deadly forms of Kidney Disease. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure any form of Kidney Disease. They also by curing the Kidneys cure all those diseases that come from disordered Kidneys, such as Rheumatism, Lumbago and Heart Disease.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by its correspondents

To the City Council

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Why did the speaker for the Moral Reform League not put up some sort of an argument last night at the council chamber? He seemed to think that it was better to leave it all to his opponents. Let me say, Mr. Editor, since there was no one else to say it, that the argument for license-reduction is not only that the people voted for better temperance measures here, but because we have too many bars per thousand of the population. In Toronto there is one bar for nearly every three-thousand (3,000) while in Peterborough there is one bar for every 1,000. This would mean, to get down to the same proportion, a reduction to six. There is no argument in favor of keeping things as they are here. The people won't stand to be beat out by a lot of paid speakers, Mr. Editor. One lawyer makes out that the property of all the hotel-keepers would be a total loss if some of them lose their licenses, and yet no one contradicted him. The league failed last night to give its case like the lawyers, but the people are watching the council and will not put up with anything but a statesmanlike treatment of the question. Oh! for a man.

Yours,

MAD CLEAN THROUGH.

Last Night's Meeting

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I was an interested listener to the able speeches made before our council last night. It is not my purpose to blame the temperance people or to be the advocate of the liquor interests, but to speak of the situation as viewed by an onlooker.

It would be difficult to conceive of a case where the temperance people would have a finer opportunity than this one or a Council of greater responsibility and yet from the beginning it was easy to discern the outcome. In the first place Rev. Mr. Potter made too great a concession when he affirmed that it would have been wrong for any man to approach councillors as individuals before the meeting to express the expectations of the people under the circumstances. The aldermen left the Council Chamber to discuss the question where the public have no chance to hear them and the last note ringing in their ears is the claims of three paid advocates of the liquor party. The result will be that the new council—who were elected by the same voice which said "we want no bars in Peterborough"—will come up giving a fraction of what the people asked for, when it must have been very clear to any reasonable spectator that under the circumstances they were under obligation to say a decided 'Yea' to the most reasonable request made of them. There have been some much needed changes in the city council, and there will be more unless those who go to these responsible positions realize that they are placed there to do the will of the people. There can be no doubt as to what the majority of the people of Peterborough want in this case.

Another View

To the Editor of the Review

SIR;—All right thinking citizens who are willing to assist and up-lift their fellow man are anxious to have the public bars closed, as they are without doubt a nuisance in every community. All fair minded men are apposed to the Ministerial Association, aided and encouraged by a lot of busy, fussy church members running this city. The two evils must be kept in check.

Yours truly,

There will be an excellent field of horses for the Peterborough Winter Race meet on Thursday and Friday, the 20th and 21st. The fast horses now racing at Lindsay will be among the entries on their way to Montreal.

MOTHERS BLESS ZAM-BUK

Read How it Gives the Little Ones Ease

A most important thing for mothers to watch is the treatment of tender, chafed or chapped places, etc. When you put an ointment on to a child's skin it gets into the blood through the pores just as surely as if you put it into the child's stomach. Did you ever think of that? How important, therefore, that the salve of balm should be pure! Zam-Buk is absolutely pure; contains no animal fat; no mineral coloring matter; no acid astringents; no burning antiseptic—yet it is antiseptic! It is purely herbal, and thus meets all the needs of the skin in that superior way in which nature always provides.

Mrs. R. Gentleman, of 1000 St. James street, Montreal, says:—"My two-year-old daughter had eczema for over six months on face and body. Doctor didn't cure. We tried various remedies in vain, but could give the little one no ease. When Zam-Buk was tried it was very different. It soothed the pain and irritation, and the child ceased to scratch. Perseverence with Zam-Buk brought a complete cure."

Mrs. C. W. Bowerbank, of 126 Denison Ave., Toronto, says her baby's face was covered with a burning eruption. Little one was terribly pained—scratched, and made the places very bad. Zam-Buk cured.

Scores of similar cases could be cited. Zam-Buk should be in every home, because it heals sores, stops pain, and ends skin diseases. Eczema, itch, ulcers, bad legs, poisoned wounds, abscesses, cold sores, cracked hands, scalp sores, whether in children, or adults, are cured by Zam-Buk. It is also a cure for piles. All druggists and stores at 50 cents a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send a one cent stamp (to pay return postage) and we will mail you a free trial box.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an oppportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Friday, January 28th.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION ASKS THE CITY FOR $500.

Deputation Asks For Annual Grant—Appointment of Industrial Commissioner to be Taken up by Council and Board of Trade.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition have asked the city for a grant of $500 for 1910. The request was made to the Council last night, by Mr. H. J. Leary, president of the society, who was the spokesman for a deputation that waited on the aldermen. Last year the society received $100, owing to the estimates being prepared before the application was in, but in 1908 the society received $500. Mr. Leary briefly outlined the advantages of the fair to the city and county and for a grant of $500.

On motion of Ald. Phelan and Duncan the request was referred to the Finance Committee.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER.

Mr. D. O'Connell appeared before the Council on behalf of the Board of Trade in reference to the appointment of an industrial commissioner for the city of Peterborough. He referred to the public meeting of the citizens held several weeks ago in connection with this matter and to the strong sentiment there was in favor of having such an official appointed. appointed. The present was an opportune time for Peterborough to make a bid for industries. The city could appoint an assessment commissioner to act as an industrial commissioner until legislation was secured from the Legislature to have the official appointed in the regular way.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles added a few words in support of what Mr. O'Connell had said.

On motion of Ald. Phelan and Duncan the question was referred to the committee of the Whole Council, the Board of Trade to co-operate in the matter.

The report of the Finance Committee was presentd by the chairman. Ald. Bradburn. It has already been published. A by-law was passed granting a pawnbroker's license to Wm. Snowden and M. C. Tooley as recommended in the report. The license fee is $80 per year.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY CO. HAD SATISFACTORY YEAR

Many Improvements Have Been Made During Past Year—Mortuary Vault Being Constructed Beneath the Chapel—Reports Read and Other Business Transacted at Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Little Lake Cemetery Company was held in the City Council Chamber yesterday afternoon and the business before the meeting was transacted in short order. The reports read showed the finances to be satisfactory, and that much improvement had been made to the property during the past year. As will be noted in the Directors' report, a mortuary vault is being constructed beneath the chapel. The Superintendent's and Directors' report follows:—

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

To the Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery.

The Directors of the Company present the following report for the year 1909:—

Your Directors are pleased to be able to report continued progress during the past year in beautifying the cemetery and in making lasting improvements to the grounds, also in being able to add to the fund for future maintenance.

At the beginning of 1909 your Directors had in the bank to their credit $7.52.14. There has since been bought a city debenture for $1,000, from money in hand, and there is now in the bank $1,241.81 to their credit.

Your Directors during last year made considerable repairs to the chapel and had the outside wood-work painted, also improved the driveways and pruned the shade and ornamental trees.

For some years past your Directors have considered the propriety of placing a mortuary vault beneath the chapel, in lieu of that in the grounds, which occupies the site of ten or twelve lots, and has been injured by frost getting under the walls, and rendering them in a measure unsafe. A contract has been let for the necessary work on the new vault, the cost of which will be more than met from the sale of the lots where the old vault stands. Your Directors justify their action in the course they have taken for the reasons given, and also because the present vault is viewed as detracting from the good appearance of the grounds, and that in all modern cemeteries this necessary convenience is not placed in the open, among the lots, but beneath the chapel.

Last year your Directors obtained a city debenture for $1,000.00, and from the statements to be submitted it will be seen that another for $1,000.00 may be taken from the surplus moneys, which will bring the invested fund for maintenance to the sum of $14,917.31, bearing on an average four per cent. per annum interest. A portion of this money has come in under contracts with individual owners, for assurance that their plots will be kept in good condition for ever. It is hoped that lot owners will continue to avail themselves of this security against future neglect.

The Superintendent's and Auditor's reports will be laid before you for consideration.

W. H. MOORE,
President.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the President, Directors and Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company:

Gentlemen,—Another year of work in your cemetery has gone by, and although not much new work has been taken up, considerable renovating of the grounds and buildings has been done.

At a meeting of your Directors, held at the cemetery in May last, it was decided to paint the Superintendent's residence, the chapel roof shed, lavatories and tie posts. The work was proceeded with at once, and two coats of paint were put on, nearly all the work mentioned at a cost of about $150.00. It was found that the chapel required a great deal of repairs to the wood and brickwork. This was also done at a cost of about $175.00. The upper portion of the chapel is now in a good state of repair.

The new greenhouse built last year was found of great benefit to the growing of plants and flowers, and it was able to give the lot owners better satisfaction, as the plants owing to having more room, were well grown and in a very healthy condition. The temporary addition made some time ago to the first greenhouse was taken away and replaced by a permanent structure.

Tree pruning has been done in all the upper portion of the cemetery, and will be proceeded with throughout as time will permit. Several trees were taken out where they had become crowded.

A great many of the dilapidated lots of families who have become extinct, and owners, who have gone away, and their addresses not known, were filled up and made respectable. This work will be continued as we get the time and material to do it.

In my last report I referred to a new entrance gate, which is required, as the present one is in bad condition. It was hoped at that time that some citizen might wish to place a memorial entrance there, and save the money, which it would be necessary to expend upon it, for the the future maintenance of your cemetery. I still trust that some public spirited citizen may undertake this work.

It is very gratifying to know that owners are still making provision for the future maintenance of their lots. The moneys received for that purpose are shown in my financial statement.

The number of lot owners who are having their lots cared for are on the increase. Five additional men are now detailed for this work, and I am glad to say that under these conditions instead of complaints of neglect, I am thanked for the efficient way in which the work is carried out.

The ladies' waiting room, wash room and lavatory placed in the cemetery last year were much appreciated during the summer months. The building, situated as it is, near the entrance of your cemetery, was a much needed convenience.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

FRANK WISE,
Superintendent.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleriver, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—Mrs. EMMA CHATEL, Valleyfield, Belleriver, Quebec.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN CARNEGIE

A Prominent and Public Spirited Man—Passed Away at Guelph

The sad news was received in Peterborough this morning of the death of Mr. John Carnegie at Guelph, where where he had gone a few days ago for medical treatment. Mr. Carnegie had been in poor health for several years, but his death was not looked for and the news was a surprise and shock to his friends.

Mr. Carnegie was the son of the late John Carnegie, and was born in the township of Douro in March, 1837, and was in his 73rd year at the time of his death. At an early age he took an active part in public affairs, and in the years 1864-65-66 was reeve of his native township and represented it in the County Council. At the time of Confederation in 1867, he was elected as the Conservative candidate for the representation of West Peterborough in the Ontario Legislature and sat in the first Parliament of the Province. At the next election he was defeated by the late T. M. Fairbairn. In the election in December 1883, Mr. Carnegie was again a successful candidate for the Legislature, and in 1886 he was defeated by Mr. J. H. Stratton by a majority of 32, and in June, 1890, again unsuccessfully opposed Mr. Stratton. For many years Mr. Carnegie was an energetic supporter of and platform advocate for the Conservative party, and especially his part in the National Policy campaign of 1878 and subsequent Dominion elections will be remembered. During recent years the state of his health did not permit him to take part in public matters.

Mr. Carnegie became connected with the Review as editor, while it was published by the late Robert Romain and later, about the year 1877, the Review was purchased by Mr. Carnegie and Mr. E. J. Toker, and published by them under the firm name of Toker & Co. In 1884 the Review Printing and Publishing Company, Limited, was organized and from that time, although he retired from active participation in the affairs of the company, he was president of it until his death.

For many years Mr. Carnegie was president of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society. He was also secretary of the Peterborough City Trust Commissioners, and was several terms arbitrator in the adjustment of the accounts respecting the administration of justice between the city and the county. He always took a deep interest in the progress of the city, and was interested in several of the leading local manufactories and industries.

Mr. Carnegie was a member of the Presbyterian church. He was twice married, first to Miss Eleanor Hillard, sister of the late Gen. Hillard, M.P., and subsequent to her death on July 5th, 1876, to Miss Frances Snyder, daughter of the late William Snyder, who survives him, and was with him at the time of his death. He also leaves one son, Mr. J. Hillard Carnegie, of Osgoode Hall, Toronto, who for years represented North Victoria in the Ontario Legislature, and four daughters, Mrs. Geo. Orde, of Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Adams, of Coboconk; Mrs. W. L. Innes, of Simcoe, and Miss Carnegie, of Peterborough. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. W. E. Sherwood, of Los Angeles, Cal.

The body will be brought to Peterborough for interment in the Little Lake cemetery.

SMITH COUNCIL

The members of the newly elected council for the township of Smith met in the county clerk's office on Monday, January 10, 1910, all the members being present as follows:

Reeve—Thos. H. Graham.

Kidney Troubles Attack Peterboro Men and Women Old and Young

Kidney ills seize young and old,
Come quickly with little warning.
Children suffer in their early years—
Can't control the kidney secretions.
Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.
Women worry, can't do daily work.
Men have lame and aching backs.
The cure for man, woman or child
Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.
Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—
Cure all forms of kidney suffering.
Peterborough testimony proves it.

Mrs. A. Graham, of 547 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., says:

"My back was so weak and tender that I could not turn in bed. A heavy, dull pain had settled across the small of it and caused me almost constant suffering. I became weak and languid. I was run down generally and had little ambition to move around. Headaches were frequent and often accompanied by spells of dizziness. Spots would dazzle before my eyes and it would be unable to see. I had tried numerous remedies without getting results. Booth's Kidney Pills were advertised at Mr. Wm. Madill's Pharmacy, which I tried and soon found relief. The kidneys were quickly regulated and each and every symptom of kidney trouble was quickly cured. I am glad to recommend Booth's Kidney Pills as I believe them to be the best and most reliable of all kidney remedies.

AN ADDITION TO PLANT OF QUAKER OATS COMPANY

In the spring of this year the Quaker Oats Company will commence the construction of a large warehouse, which will be located just west of the present plant. It will be 294 ft. long, 50 ft. 5 in. wide and four storeys high (with basement. The estimated cost is $80,000. The structure will be of brick and concrete and it is understood that once work is started it will be rushed to completion.

Mr. W. H. Denham, the Peterborough manager of the Quaker Oats Co., appeared before the Council last night and asked for certain concessions in connection with the erection of the new building. Mr. Denham pointed out that the company is short of storage room at the present time. The output of the company is about 4,000 barrels per day and any delay in getting the product away causes a serious congestion at the mill. The proposed new warehouse will hold 350 carloads and will enable the company to keep the mill running 24 hours per day for a much longer period than at present. This will mean more and steadier employment. It was probable, Mr. Denham said, that the flour producing capacity of the company would have to be increased in the near future as this part of the business was growing rapidly. It was the intention to have the northern part of the new warehouse built on a heavier scale than the rest so that it could be utilized as a flour mill.

If this were done a new warehouse will have to be built.

Mr. Denham asked for certain concessions from the city, and they were reported upon by the city engineer as follows,

His Worship the Mayor, and Aldermen;

Gentlemen.—Re Quaker Oats Co.'s proposed alterations and extensions.

As frequested I met Mr. W. H. galley (two Addition lo plant Denham, of the Quaker Oats Co., and examined the premises in view of alterations and extensions proposed by the company.

1. The company asks for a triangular piece of Hunter street on the north side from the river bank westward to Quaker street, in exchange for which they will give a small piece of land on the south side between the river and a road allowance now the property of the city, leaving a full width of 66 feet for Hunter street.

2. The company propose to lay an additional siding west of the present siding to serve a new building to be erected, and to raise the grade of the present siding eight or ten inches on Hunter street.

3. The company proposes to close Quaker street, part of which will be occupied by new building and siding.

The only objection to the first proposal is, in the event of a high level bridge being built, access for a low level road on the north side would be impossible, as the bridge would occupy most of the 66 feet.

The piece on the north side between the river and the railway is a deep depression which would have to be raised to grade at considerable expense.

In event of this agreement being made between the city and the company, the latter should waive all claim for damages in the future on account of being unable to get to the low level road from the high level bridge, it will, however, be able to do so by going under the bridge.

There are no objections to raising the grade of existing sidings, except that it will increase the height of high level bridge when built.

The proposed new siding will be on the same grade as the present one when raised, but this will not increase the danger materially.

The city's present agreement requires the company to install better protection when considered necessary.

Yours truly,

T. A. S. HAY.

Ald. Turner moved that the question be referred to the Manufacturers Committee. There was no seconder, some of the aldermen being of the opinion that it should go to the Board of Works.

On motion of Ald. Morgan and Graham, the question was referred to the committee of the Whole Council.

PAST YEAR WAS BUSY ONE AT THE NICHOLLS' HOSPITAL

Increasing Popularity of Institution Indicated at Annual Meeting—Several Improvements Have Been Made—Superintendent in Need of Rest.

The annual meeting of the Nicholls Hospital Trustee Board was held on Monday afternoon in the Dominion Bank chambers. The reports presented were very gratifying and evidenced the continued popularity of this excellent institution. It is worthy of note that the total cost of maintaining the hospital for the past year, some $20,000, has been accomplished without one cent of cost to the ratepayers, while a large amount of indigent persons have been treated absolutely free.

There were present Messrs. Richard Hall, Wm. Madill, John McClelland, Rev. Mr. Coon, John Green, James Stevenson, W. H. Hilb, Wm. Kemp, Robt. Fair, W. Aldridge and his Worship the Mayor.

The secretary-treasurer presented the following report of receipts and expenditures, which was adopted and referred to the city auditor:—

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

The chairman then made the following remarks:

Board of Trustees, The Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, Ont.:

Gentlemen.—I have again the pleasure of reporting a very satisfactory year at the Nicholls Hospital.

The number of patients treated during the year was 550, and from reports gleaned from them I am able to assure you of the general satisfaction expressed by them of their treatment while in the hospital. They all testify to the kindness of the nursing staff and care and attention of the medical men and generally to the excellent appointments of the hospital.

The private wards have been continually occupied, and more rooms could have been used had they been available.

During the year considerable money has been spent in cleaning and improving the interior of the hospital with a view to having the various wards as cheery and bright as possible. This has been done at a minium of expense and the outlay is fully justified by the appearance of the wards.

The nurses' apartments have been improved, a piano installed and everything possible done to ensure comfort for these young ladies.

The government inspector recently visited the hospital, and his report is gratifying and very commendatory.

I regret to advise you of the recent illness of the lady superintendent, Miss DeLaMatter. The continued and unremitting care bestowed by her in her work resulted in a nervous breakdown, but I am glad to say she is slowly improving, and we should strongly urge her taking a rest before resuming her responsible duties. During her illness Miss McGregor has been in charge and has managed the affairs in a very capable manner.

I desire to thank the gentlemen of the Board for their continued interest in the hospital, and bespeak the same interest during the coming year.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, resulting as follows:

Chairman—Richard Hall.
Hon. Sec'y—W. H. Hilb.

A special committee was then elected to strike the standing committees for the year. Their report was adopted as follows:—

Supervision Committee—W. Madill, chairman, W. Kemp, W. Aldridge, Chairman and Hon. Secretary, ex-officio.

Property Committee—John McClelland, chairman; J. J. McBain, W. Kemp, Chairman and Hon. Secretary ex-officio.

Finance Committee—R. Fair, chairman; John Green, Rev. J. G. Potter, Chairman and Hon. Secretary, ex-officio.

Visiting Committee—The whole Board divided into sub-committees as follows:

January and July—Rev. Mr. Coon and Robt. Fair.

February and August—John Green and J. McClelland.

March and September—Rev. Mr. Potter and W. Aldridge.

April and October—Wm. Kemp and J. J. McBain.

May and November—W. Madill and J. W. Bennett.

June and December—Jas. Stevenson and Rev. Dr. Langfeldt.

In cases where a trustee is not reappointed to represent a congregation his successor shall act on committees on which his name appears.

Before the Board adjourned, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

That this Board learns with regret of the illness of Miss DeLaMatter, the efficient lady superintendent of the hospital, and desires to express to her the sense of its appreciation of her valued services during the past four years.

Hamilton doctors asked for the establishment of a civic laboratory.

VOL. LX., No. 15. PETERBOROUGH, ONT., CANADA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 1910 TEN CENTS PER WEEK.

BETTING IS ESSENTIAL; PART OF THE EVIDENCE

Horse Racing and its Present Wagering System is Necessary, if Canada is to Keep Up the Quality of Her Horses, Say Experts Before House of Commons Commission.

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—The special House committee on H. H. Miller's bill to wipe out the clause in the criminal code which permits betting on race courses, and to make more stringent the prohibitions of betting elsewhere, held its first sitting yesterday morning, and was faced by a strong array of talent, representing interests that would be injuriously affected by the passage of the bill in its present terms.

Mr. Miller presided and all the members were present except F. D. Monk of Jacques Cartier. W. F. Raney, K.C., H. E. Irwin, K.C., and Rev. Dr. Shearer, all of Toronto, appeared in support of the bill, which is the production of the Moral Reform Council.

J. H. Moss, K.C., appeared for the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society; Leighton McCarthy, K.C., for the Ontario Jockey Club; F. Meredith, K.C., for the Montreal Jockey Club; J. L. Counsell for the Hamilton Jockey Club and G. E. Powell for the British Columbia Thoroughbred Association. Other interests, including that of the harness horses, through Hartley Dewart, K.C., and Ald. Sam McBride of Toronto, are expected to be added to-day to the forces of the opposition.

Mr. Raney wanted to call Rev. Dr. Shearer to open the evidence, but as his testimony is to consist chiefly in putting in documents and expatiating on the moral standpoint, it was decided to take up other evidence first.

Mr. Raney said the bill sought to make all bookmaking, on or off the track, illegal, and to prohibit the business of the tout or the tipster, as well as the publication by papers of racing odds and advertisements. He agreed with the opposition that the absurd requirement of movement on the part of a bookmaker at a race track to keep within the law should be wiped out.

The tracks in the Canadian racing associations he divided into two classes. The Woodbine was essentially a social and sporting event, with race betting on the side, managed by strong men and Canadians. The Fort Erie, Windsor and British Columbia tracks, he said, were business propositions solely, and controlled by foreigners. On being challenged with regard to the control of Windsor and British Columbia tracks he accepted correction, and withdrew the statement. He added that, while admitting a genuine sporting and horse interest at Woodbine, Hamilton and Montreal, all the tracks were on the same basis under the law.

The only witnesses called at the morning sitting were Dr. Rutherford of Ottawa and Dr. Quin of Brampton, the evidence of the latter not being concluded when the sitting ended.

Dr. Rutherford is Dominion Live Stock Commissioner and Veterinary Director-General. He has had many years of experience as a breeder and manager of breeding establishments in Canada and the States. His evidence was of the most direct and positive kind as to the absolute necessity of thoroughbred blood and of racing to preserve the desirable qualities of that blood.

Major Wm. Hendrie, Col. Lessard and Albert Dyment, vice-president of the Canadian National Bureau of Breeding, also gave evidence in behalf of the present system.

MACKENZIE KING'S SCHEME TO CURB THE COMBINES

Minister of Labor Introduces a Bill in the Commons Which He Thinks Will Have the Effect of Stopping Predatory Wealth—He Would Empower Judges to Call a Court of Inquiry.

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—In the House yesterday afternoon, Hon. Mackenzie King, Minister of Labor, introduced his bill to provide "for the investigation of combines, monopolies, trusts and mergers, which may enhance prices or restrict competition to the detriment of consumers."

"It is believed," said Mr. King, "that the bill will afford a ready and convenient means whereby parties who have reason to believe that any combination is unduly enhancing prices or unfairly restricting competition will be able to obtain an investigation, and an effective remedy against any evils which may be found to exist.

"This it is sought to obtain in the first place by providing that six or more persons who feel that a combine exists, and that prices have been enhanced or competition restricted by reasons of such combine to take detriment of the consumer, may make application to a judge of the high court for an order to grant an investigation of such a combine.

"The judge may call before him witnesses, but all that it is necessary for him to assure himself of, before granting the order, is that a prima facie case has been made out.

"When the judge issues an order for an investigation, the order is directed to the Minister of the Department, and the Minister then calls upon each of the parties concerned to name a member of the board of investigation. The act in this particular proceeds along lines somewhat similar to the procedure under the industrial investigation act. The complaint and the parties accused are called upon to name representatives on the board and the two men thus chosen confer together with the view of selecting a chairman, who in this case must be a judge of the courts.

"The board thus constituted shall have all the powers of a court of record. After due investigation the board must draw up a report and submit that report to the Minister, who in turn is required to make it public through the official gazette and to distribute copies to the press, if so desired.

"There are certain classes of evils in the remedying of which it is believed publicity is more effective than penalty. It may not be that publicity will in all cases prove an effective remedy, but in industrial matters it has many times in the past proven to be effective. While this act provides machinery of a nature calculated to let in the light on the working of these large corporations, the legislation does not rely entirely upon publicity to bring about the desired remedy.

There are other remedies proposed, and one is the remedy already existing in connection with such articles as are protected by the tariff. The statute in this particular gives authority to the Governor-General in council, where the reports show that prices have been unduly enhanced or that competition in being unfairly restricted in virtue of the protection given that particular article or to remove the tariff altogether.

THE THIRD DAY OF POLLING INCREASES UNIONISTS GAINS

Twenty-one Tariff Reformers Are Returned, Nineteen Liberals and Three Laborites and One Nationalist—This Gives Liberals a Majority of Eight.

London, Jan. 19.—The elections yesterday resulted in the return of the following:

Unionists, 21.
Liberals, 19.
Laborites, 3.
Nationalists, 1.

Unionist gains, 12; Liberal gains, 1.

The standing of the parties at the conclusion of yesterday's polling was as follows:

Unionists, 120.
Liberals, 98.
Laborites, 20.
Nationalists, 28.

Total gains—Unionists, 51; Liberals, 9; Laborites, 1.

Unionist Gains—Boston, Brighton (2), Chelsea, Coventry, Kidderminster, Liverpool (Abercombie), Mile End, Southwarth W., Tower Hamlets (Bow and Bromley), Warwick and Leamington, White Haven.

Liberal Gains—From Unionists: Bermandsey. From Labor: Middlesbro.

Notables.—Elected: Sydney Buxton, Walter Runciman, Winston Churchill, Sir W. S. Robson, Rt. Hon. A. Lyttelton, T. P. O'Connor. Defeated: Rt. Hon. Col. Seely, Rt. Hon. R. K. Causton, Silas Hocking.

The Unionists had decidedly the better of the elections held yesterday. Of 44 seats contested they won 21, of which twelve were represented by Ministerialists in the last Parliament.

The only consolation for Liberals was in Bermondsey division of Southwark, where the Government candidate, H. G. Glanville, recaptured the seat which went over the Unionists in the bye-election last November. J. Humphreys, who was elected then, had but one opportunity to pass the bar of the House, that being on the day of his introduction.

Several of the Liberal losses, as on preceding days, were caused by three-cornered contests, the intervention of a Labor or Socialist candidate precluding the success of the Government supporters.

Fourteen of the London boroughs returned eight Liberals and six Unionists as compared with eleven Liberals and three Unionists in the last Parliament.

The Unionists gains include Southwark West, Mile End, a division of Tower Hamlets, where H. L. W. Lawson, manager of The Daily Telegraph, was elected; Bow and Bromley, Chelsea, one division of Liverpool, Whitehaven, Boston, Warwich and Leamington, Kidderminster, Coventry and two seats in Brighton. Most of these were Unionists before the great Liberal victory of 1906.

While there were not so many contests yesterday as on Saturday and Monday, there were more prominent politicians with fortunes at stake. Two of these, Col. J. E. B. Seely, Under-Secretary for the Colonies, and R. K. Causton, Paymaster-General, lost their seats for the Abercrombie division of Liverpool and Southwark West, respectively. The loss of Col. Seely is especially severe for the Government, as he has been the spokeman in the House of Commons for the Colonial Office, and was one of the younger men in line for promotion.

Three members of the Cabinet, Winston Spencer Churchill, President of the Board of Trade; Sydney Charles Buxton, Postmaster-General, and Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Education, retain their seats. Mr. Churchill, with his Labor colleague, A. Wilkie, substantially increasing the majority usually given by Dundee.

Sir W. S. Dobson, the Attorney-General, also holds his old seat for South Shields.

T. P. O'Connor's grip on the Scotland division of Liverpool was proved by the increase of 500 which he received over his big majority of four years ago.

Mr. Asquith, speaking at Leven, asked what could be more remarkable than the verdict given by the great ports and centres of industry.

"I wish to put it on record at the earliest possible moment," he said, "that I draw from it this inference whatever may happen, the remainder of elections, that one thing is absolutely certain, that in the new Parliament, tariff reform, in the sense in which the phrase is used, that is, the abandonment of free trade and the substitution for it of a fiscal system of more or less disguised protection, is a political impossibility. (Loud cheers.)

"No statesmanship, however ingenous or audacious, can attempt to construct a tariff in defiance of the opinion of so many great industrial representative centres."

Mr. Asquith added that he promised no legislation of any kind until they had settled conclusions with the House of Lords.

Lloyd-George at Newtown, Wales, also declared that the Liberals would not legislate until the Lords question was settled, and it must be made perfectly clear that if the Lords rejected the bill sent up by the Commons, a second time, it would be sent straight through to the throne. (Cheers.)

The London morning papers yesterday on the Unionist side concern themselves more with the personal victories at the polls than the general results, which are admitted to be scarcely up to expectations. They point, however, to such contrasts as the enermous vote recorded for Mr. Balfour and the reduced majority for John Burns, and to the greatly increased majorities received by the Unionists even where they failed to vanquish their Liberal opponents, as proving how large a section of the community was against the Government, and the growing strength of the tariff reform movement.

The Daily Telegraph devotes a long editorial to eulogizing Mr. Balfour's splendid leadership.

The Morning Post considers the Unionists' decisive supremacy in the Midlands as showing that the whole country will sooner or later be brought under the inspiration of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's policy.

The Daily Graphic sees looming the danger of Socialism in the heavy pollings of the working-class constituencies, which, it says, ought to serve as a "lurid warning" to the middle classes.

The Liberal papers, on the other hand, are all jubilant and predict that the Government majority, while it will be smaller than in 1906, will be larger than Gladstone's in 1885. They are greatly encouraged by the staunchness of big cities, like Leeds, Sheffield, Blackburn, Oldham, Stockton and Wigan, to Liberalism and free trade.

The Chronicle, however, reads the Liberals a warning not to indulge in over-confidence, as much will depend on the size of the majority by which the Government is returned.

The great tasks ahead, says the paper, can only be performed by a powerful and independent government.

MONTREAL MAYORALTY ELECTION

Montreal, Jan. 19.—There is certainly an interesting mix-up for the mayoralty this year, the candidates being Dr. J. H. Guerin and Senator J. P. B. Casgrain.

It was generally conceded that as the Eucharistic Congress would be held here next summer, and as the Irish Catholic citizens had not one of their own in the civic chair since the days of Mayor James McShane, it would be an act of courtesy to allow one of that nationality to go in unopposed. Dr. Yates, the English Protestant aspirant, retired as a compliment to his Catholic fellow-citizens. Monsignor Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal, said he was very well satisfied with Dr. Guerin, and in fact everybody was pleased, when all of a sudden Senator Casgrain jumped in, and broke the slate of the citizens.

If the French vote should go pretty solid for the Senator, he will be elected, but things do not point that way, just now, as Le Devoir is against Casgrain, and H. Bourassa will speak this evening in favor of Dr. Guerin. The member for St. Hyacinthe will have marked influence upon the French voters.

The chief backers of Dr. Guerin are Senator Dandurand and ex-Mayor Laporte, while Rodolphe Forget appears to be the most important champion behind the Senator.

The Senator has one advantage over his rival from the fact that he is married, although the sister and daughter of Dr. Guerin would well do the honors of the position.

Taking one thing with another, the contest wil be a very interesting one. Nominations will take place on Thursday next and election a week later.

MACKENZIE HAS SIGNED CONTRACT

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 19.—Declining to discuss its terms, William Mackenzie stated yesterday that he had signed an agreement between himself and the Government for the construction of the Canadian Northern Railway in British Columbia.

'Twas with some bitterness that Mr. Mackenzie spoke of the attitude of Vancouver and Victoria merchants in insisting on a clause in the contract regarding Government control of freight rates.

He expressed the hope that the strong stand taken by the committee did not represent the real sentiment of the mass of people of Vancouver, or of British Columbia.

He will leave for London very shortly on a trip connected with financing the railway extensions in the west.

DR. COOK UNDER ASSUMED NAME

Copenhagen, Jan. 19.—Walter Lonsdale, Dr. Cook's secretary, does not believe the report that Cook is near Heidelberg.

He said the last letter which he received from Cook was dated Cadiz, Nov. 24, when Cook stated that he was leaving Europe immediately and would write again in a fortnight. Lonsdale has not heard from him since.

He added that the explorer went under the name of Hunter while at Marseilles and Lisbon.

HAD NO RIGHT TO SELL CONTROL

Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 19.—In the Supreme Court yesterday Justice W. S. Andrews granted the application of the State Insurance Department to take over the People's Mutual Association and League. Arthur F. Saxton of the department was appointed by Supt. Hotchkiss a special deputy to take charge of the company.

In his decision Justice Andrews said it had not been explained why a deposit of $150,000 was made in the Farmers' Bank of Toronto, Ont. The directors, he declared, had no right, legal or moral, to sell control of the company.

Supt. Hotchkiss declined to discuss the report that Tevis and Travers had agreed to turn over to the department $150,000 of the People's Mutual funds, deposited in the Farmers' Bank at Toronto, and that he had sent a representative for the money.

PEOPLE MAY VOTE FIRST

Winnipeg, Jan. 19.—It is said that the Provincial Government, when it introduces its bill for Government ownership of internal elevators at the coming meeting of the Provincial House, will have a proviso that it must be submitted to a referendum of the people.

The referendum will be voted on at the elections, which are expected to take place this spring.

IS SENT BACK TO WINNIPEG

Toronto, Jan. 19.—Despite the fact that Samuel R. Morden declared that a warrant for fraud upon which his son, Mackenzie W. C. Morden, president of the T. & D. Clothing Co. of Winnipeg, was arrested here Saturday for the Winnipeg authorities had been withdrawn, Morden was turned over to Officer Loughlin of Winnipeg in the Police Court yesterday morning to be taken back to the western city upon that warrant.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Mr. John Carnegie, formerly M.P.P. for Peterboro, died at Guelph after a long illness.

Rubber manufacturers and jobbers decided at a meeting at Montreal on a general increase in prices.

A newcomer, which can be seen in the day time, has been discovered by Prof. Drake of Johannesburg.

Mrs. Bell of Montreal was shown to have taught her eleven-year-old son to steal, and the boy was sent to the reformatory.

Local option has failed in British Columbia under the plebiscite taken simultaneously with the recent general provincial elections.

Several Catholic priests of Essex County are petitioning for changes in the license law, asking, among other things, that the fee be raised to $600.

While attempting to board a G.T.R. freight last evening, Reginald Duggan, aged 21, of Peterboro, had his leg so severely crushed that it had to be amputated.

In Steubenville, Ohio, where 300 families have been on strike since Saturday morning, against paying high prices for meats, two markets have closed. That the boycott will take in other foodstuffs with meat is freely predicted.

GILCHRIST CO. IN RECEIVER'S HANDS

Cleveland, O., Jan. 19.—The Gilchrist Transportation Co., the second largest on the great lakes, was placed in the hands of receivers yesterday on application by Frank W. Gilchrist of Alpena, Mich., vice-president of the company.

He alleges that poor business last season made it impossible for the company to meet its loans. The debts are said to be $215,000.

Riddell Speaks at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—The annual convention of the Eastern Ontario Live Stock and Poultry Association was opened last night by Hon. Jas. Duff, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario. There was a large attendance. The chief address was given by Justice W. B. Riddell on "The Courts and the People."

SUGGESTS AN INVENTORY

Hon. Clifford Sifton Presides Over First Conservation Commission.

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—The Conservation Commission held its opening session yesterday morning under the presidency of Hon. Clifford Sifton.

In his address, Mr. Sifton described the commission as an independent national body, whose object was to help and co-operate with other bodies. The first work, he said, ought to be to make a complete and thorough inventory of natural resources so far as available information permits, in order to make information available for public use, and to permit of an intelligent and comprehensive policy of conservation being carried out.

A sub-committee could take up the question of fighting the white plague.

The pollution of rivers and streams was getting to be a serious question. It was being dealt with only in a partial, perfunctory and haphazard fashion. There was need of systematic legislation by the provinces and the Dominion.

Mr. Sifton suggested the creation of two great forest reserves, one of all the forest land on the east slope of the Rockies, and the second embracing all the Provincial Government land south of the height of land extending from Sudbury to the neighborhood of Port Arthur, except such portions along the railway as are fit for cultivation.

Endorsing the Hydro-Electric power policy of the Ontario Government, he said there should be a fundamental law governing the development of all water power, retaining public control of water, and asserting the right of the Governments concerned to participate in the profits on a scale, small at first, but providing for increase and revision in the future.

Incidentally, Mr. Sifton let fall a few remarks which hinted at his early retirement from politics.

Cleveland's Subway Scheme is Killed.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 19.—The subway franchises, passed as almost the last act of Mayor Tom L. Johnson's administration, were repealed Tuesday night by the City Council on a strict party vote. The scheme for a $75,000,000 subway system was voted down by the people in November, but the franchises, in slightly altered form, were passed again by the Johnson administration.

REFUSED AID TO CHILD AT PORT HOPE

Port Hope, Jan. 19.—Lina Elizabeth Ennis, the juvenile daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ennis, Elgin street, passed away yesterday morning from convulsions, the effect of acute scarlet fever. Mrs. Ennis is a Christian Scientist and refused medical aid. The child was out sleigh-riding on Saturday in a raging fever, and much local interest has been aroused in the case.

Two others in the family have the disease and were not reported.

EXTENSION OF THE ALGOMA CENTRAL

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Jan. 19.—It is stated on the highest authority here that in February the Lake Superior Corporation will call for tenders for the extension of the Algoma Central Railroad. The amount stated to have been appropriated for this purpose is $3,000,000.

The extension is for a distance of about 200 miles. By the distance it is assumed that the extension is for the purpose of connecting the Soo with the C.P.R. at Grassett.

The extension, it is assured, will mean the construction of 64 bridges, one of huge proportions, which alone will cost $250,000.

IS ACQUITTED ON ONE CHARGE

Sandwich, Jan. 19.—W. J. Bell, farmer, of Leamington, charged with obtaining about $1,600 under false pretences, by the Union Bank, was acquitted. The judge reserved decision on a charge by the Traders' Bank. It was alleged that he had made false statements of his finances in order to secure loans.

SOCIALISTS KICK AGAINST DEPOSIT

Montreal, Jan. 19.—Albert St. Martin, the Montreal Socialist leader, wants to be a candidate for the Board of Control, but he does not want to put up the required deposit of $200, and because the city officials will not accept his papers without the cash, St. Martin will apply to-day for a writ of mandamus, compelling the city to accept his papers.

UNION LABEL

AN OMINOUS FUTURE

The east, including Quebec and the maritime provinces, is all for a Canadian navy, and the consequent emoluments. The west, including Ontario and all west of it, is for a fleet-unit or contribution in cash. Opinions on both sides are growing more so every day. The French say boldly and have been doing so for some time, that they will not suffer themselves to be annihilated as a race by fusion or submergence in an empire. To them the navy, as a Canadian navy, is acceptable, but only as such. It betokens an acceptable future, that of independence. The west foresees and opposes this. There is a great struggle in store for Canada in the near future. Just now the French have the whip-hand. They will not become anything but French. Hence, to realize her destiny, Canada must be, according to them, of their way of thinking. This is a stupid idea and cannot be realized.

WHAT THE GLOBE SAYS

The Toronto Globe through its agent in Great Britain, Mr. Stewart Lyon, published yesterday the following remarkable statement:

"The returns of the first day's polling, however, prove that if Mr. Chamberlain had ten years of vigorous life before him instead of hopeless invalidism he would make England protectionist once more. The tariff reform sentiment piled up huge majorities in Birmingham, and is rapidly honeycombing Liberalism in Staffordshire and other midland counties. A like cause is given in explanation of the losses of the western seats, Bath and Gloucester. The cry regarding the danger to Britain's naval supremacy cost two Liberal seats in Devonport."

If Britain is inclined to turn to Protection, how suicidal it would be for Canada to drift towards Free Trade. Adequate and moderate Protection is the only peaceful means of defending the interests of any nation in these times of trade wars. Tariffs are taking the place of thunderbolts.

CONSERVATISM

It is said that patience is as much a virtue as impatience is a vice. Conservatism is nothing more or less in its highest realization than patience. Lloyd-George in his fierce outburst against the German fleet, is an example of the Radical run mad. The world has grown to what it is, slowly, some will say too slowly. But it is doubtful if it would have grown as surely, considering humanity's limitations, if its history had been a mere record of revolutions and volcanic upheavals. It is true that Conservatism in its worst phase is apt to degenerate into a species of dry-rot, which in the case of such an institution as slavery is more of a wickedness than even a rot. But, at the same time, patience, whether political or otherwise, is recognized as absolutely necessary in all walks of life and in a nation's even more than in an individual's. The natural desire of the people to expand and grow better may be trusted to check the tendency of Conservatism to perfect private privilege and undue power, while the principle of "system" that forms the warp and woof of Conservatism will tide a nation over a crisis that a radical like Lloyd-George would only aggravate. It has been said that when a man acquires property he is always conservative. This is necessarily so. It is no time then to run risks. But a radical will propose measures that will affect property with a light heart, and at such a time he may be a stern necessity. The Liberal, as such, is properly speaking, a moderate-Conservative. But the Conservative is himself a modified form of Tory, and therefore the "Liberal" is not needed. In a word Conservatism is the great compromise condition lying between Toryism and radicalism and as such represents the true condition of well-being of the nation.

A very good illustration of the advantages and benefits of both may be taken from the inventions and discoveries thrust upon the world. Without the tendency to find new things the world would have lost much, but without the power of analysing, adopting and holding "fast to that which is good," the inventions would be of little use. That power lies with Conservatism.

EDITORIAL NOTES

If sympathies go for anything, the parties in the Old Land and here are pretty closely allied.

The British Whig says that Sir Wilfrid's navy policy will be sustained in Quebec. That's quite likely.

The struggle in Britain is largely between the People and Privilege, with Beer on the side.

Peterborough has more than her share of Licenses per thousand. We should not be above the average.

The new Minister of Marine and Fisheries is a French-Canadian. He no doubt can be trusted to see that the navy does not go out of doors.

The British Weekly says that Lloyd-George is one of the few men who, when successful, did not leave the nonconformists for the established church.

Canada, with a population of 7,000,000 afforded the United States a market last year for $190,000,000 worth of goods. The United States with a population of over 80,000,000 bought from Canada $88,000,000 worth of goods. If that is not a fine specimen of jug-handled reciprocity, we would like to know.—Ottawa Citizen.

PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER IS LEAVING WARSAW

Special to the Review.

Warsaw, Jan. 17.—Mr. Everett Kidd, of Cold Springs, Otonabee, was visiting friends for a few days last week.

Fred Hamblin, who was visiting friends in Lambton County, is home, and reports a good time.

Joe Tedford is getting out timber for a new barn.

The Warsaw cheese factory will hold its annual meeting on the 21st of this month, when it will be decided whether they make butter from the whey, as well as transacting other business for the coming year.

The annual meeting of the Dummer and Douro Agricultural Society will hold its annual meeting on Friday, the 21st of this month, in the town hall, Warsaw.

There are a great many logs being sawed at the Silkirks mill this winter.

Mr. P. W. Currie, of the Presbyterian church here will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday, and is going to Caldonan, in the Orangeville Presbytery.

Miss Alga Miller, who was very ill, we are glad to learn, is improving.

Mr. John Moore, of the fourth line, was drawing wood to the factory here when he had the misfortune to upset the load, and get caught under the wood. He was able to hold on to the reins until help came.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BOWMANVILLE EDITOR TELLS OF HIS VISIT

Rev. J. George Brown, M.A., some years ago junior pastor on Tyrone circuit, is pastor of St. James Methodist church, Peterborough. During the writer's recent visit to that city he was his guest at the pleasant home of Mr. James N. Mann, 217 Wescott street. It was our privilege to talk to this congregation for half an hour Sunday morning and upwards of a score gave us a kindly greeting and handshake at the close. His many friends will be much pleased to learn that Mr. Brown is much beloved by his people and his pastoral labors are attended with splendid success. He is surrounded by a band of active Christian workers and attendance at the services is exceedingly encouraging. A large number of children was present. His Official Board had very considerately given their pastor a fortnight's holiday during the Christmastide to recuperate before entering upon special religious services now in progress nightly in St. James' schoolroom.—Bowmanville Statesman.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Derenwend, of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Friday, January 28th.

VETERANS' TRIBUTE TO LEE.

Most Impressive Scene of the Civil War Was That After Surrender of Appomattox.

Men who saw the defeated general when he came forth from the chamber where he had signed the articles of capitulation say that he paused a moment as his eyes rested once more on the Virginia hills; smote his hands together as though in some excess of inward agony, then mounted his gray horse, Traveler, and rode calmly away.

If that was the very Gethsemane of his trials, yet he must have had then one moment of supreme, if chastened, joy. As he rode quietly down the lane leading from the scene of capitulation, he passed into view of his men—of such as remained of them. The news of the surrender had got abroad and they were waiting, grief-stricken and dejected, upon the hillsides, when they caught sight of their commander on the gray horse. Then ensued one of the most notable scenes of the history of the war. In an instant they were about him, bareheaded, with tear-wet eyes; thronging him, kissing his hand his boots, his saddle; weeping; cheering him amid their tears; shouting his name to the very skies. He said: "Men, we have fought through the war together; I have done my best for you; my heart is too full to say more."—From "Robert E. Lee, the Southerner," by Thomas Nelson Page, published by Scribner's.

WANTED HIS FAVORITE ALIVE.

Peculiar Order Placed by Small Devotee of Popular "Alice in Wonderland."

The son and heir is seven years old—old enough to spell out, with help over the hard words, "Alice in Wonderland," and to enjoy it hugely, especially the memorable duet between the Mock Turtle and Griffin. Recently, as a great treat, he was permitted to accompany his pretty young aunt to luncheon at one of New York's famous restaurants, and, as a crowning joy, invited to select his own delicacies. Long and earnestly he pondered over the bill of fare; then his eyes grew big and his face illumined as he laboriously read the list of soups.

"Yes, thank you, I've precided what I want," he said with nervous gaiety; then with an impressive knitting of his brows he addressed the attentive waiter: "I'll have one very, very small mock turtle, but don't make it into soup—just bring it along alive and kicking."—Lilian Dynevor Rice in Woman's Home Companion.

Literature and Dreams.

Robert Louis Stevenson owed much of his inspiration to dreams. In one passage he attributed some of his finest work to the "brownies" who tenanted his brain during moments of unconsciousness. "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" owes its origin to a dream. "I had long been trying to write a story on this subject," writes Stevenson, "to find a body, a vehicle, for that strong sense of man's double being which must at times come in upon and overwhelm the mind of every thinking creature. For two days I went about racking my brains for a plot of any sort; and on the second night I dreamed the scene at the window, and a scene afterward split in two, in which Hyde, pursued for some crime, took the powder and underwent the change in the presence of his pursuers. All the rest was made awake and consciously, although I think I can trace in much of it the manner of my brownies."

Great Things in Little.

The Italians are wonderfully clever in working with the most minute things. A skillful Italian has made a beautiful little boat out of a pearl. The sail is of beaten gold studded with diamonds. A tiny ruby serves as a headlight. The rudder is an emerald, and its stand is a little slab of ivory. The boat weighs less than half an ounce, and is valued at $5,000.

Not to be outdone by a man, an ambitious Italian woman has painted on a canvas, so small that half a grain of corn hides it from view, a windmill with the miller, and a horse and cart with people in the cart.

Some of the Italian mosaic workers in Florence will take bits of stone and glass no larger than grains of mustard seed and fashion them into the most graceful flowers and other designs for shirt studs.—The Sunday Magazine.

When the Deaf Heard.

"I'm stone deaf, your honor," declared a prisoner in the dock at the police court. "I didn't hear a word the officer said about me, and I can't hear what you are saying."

Although the judge raised his voice there was nothing doing from the prisoner. He only shook his head wearily. At last the judge turned to the officer and said, almost in a whisper: "He was drunk when arrested, wasn't he?"

"I only had one glass of beer," said the prisoner, quickly, in an injured tone; and every one laughed.

Sustaining Life.

Mrs. Andrew Crosse in her "Reminiscences" describes an old nurse, born at Broomfield, England, who lived to be nearly 100. "All her life she had eaten a dew bit and breakfast, a stay bit and dinner, a nommet and crumpet and a bit after supper," eight meals in all. Besides this it was her custom to mix together all the scraps and stuff left after any illness in the house and swallow it, on the principle that what had cost money

Hamilton doctors asked for the establishment of a civic laboratory.

THE FIRST TIME ON RECORD.

Belated Reformation in the Case of Sam Doolittle.

One of the easiest-going, most shiftless individuals that ever drifted through life, too lazy to travel any way except with the current, was Sam Doolittle. Sam was born tired and never outgrew it. Being behindhand was a chronic complaint with him, and it finally got so that nobody really expected anything else of him.

In the course of time Sam died. The funeral arrangements had been made and the announcement sent out, when, owing to other engagements of the officiating clergyman, it was found necessary to change the time to an hour ahead, and as a consequence the body reached the cemetery considerably earlier than the original schedule had contemplated.

As the procession entered the gate and halted, the old gravedigger, who had not been notified of the change of time, dropped his spade in surprise and asked:

"Is that Sam Doolittle you've got there?"

Upon being assured that it was, he shook his head dubiously and croaked: "Well, if that is Sam Doolittle he must have turned over a new leaf all of a sudden. I've known him, boy an' man, for over fifty years, an' this is the first trip he ever took that I knew him to get started ahead of time!

EMANATION FROM PRINTER'S INK

Peculiar Property Found to Affect a Photographic Plate.

That printer's ink gives off an emanation that passes through opaque bodies and affects a photographic plate has been discovered by a German investigator. Photographic roll film is sometimes thus affected, through its celluloid cover, by the printed characters on the paper in which it is wrapped. The emanation is found to proceed from the oil in the ink during the drying process. It is not precisely the same as the emanation from radium and other radio-active substances, for, unlike them, it changes gum arabic into a granular, insoluble substance. It was this effect produced on the gum of envelope flaps by the printed characters on the envelopes that first attracted the investigator's attention. The emanations are reflected by metal mirrors in the same way as light, and they oxidize metal surfaces against which they strike. The exposure necessary to effect a sensitive plate is eight to ten days.

Prompt Delivery.

It is related on good authority of a well-known poet that he once walked into the sanctum of a magazine editor and submitted to him a poem, which was promptly rejected. The editor endeavored to cheer up the crestfallen bard.

"Try special articles," he suggested, "there's money in them."

"I couldn't do special articles," cried the son of Parnassus indignantly. "For me, romance! And, by the way," he immediately added, "that's a good starter for a poem. Hm—let me see:

"For me, Romance! For me the Golden Lie!"

In a few minutes the new poem was all written out on the back of the discarded one. In a few minutes more it was accepted.

"Thirteen" and a "Bit."

A "thirteen" in money was a small coin in circulation in Ireland in the early part of the nineteenth century, equivalent in value to thirteen pence, and was known locally as a "thirteen." A "bit" in money means any small coin, as a four-penny bit, a six-penny bit. Specifically it is the name of a small West Indian coin, worth about ten cents. In parts of the United States there was formerly current a small coin (called in some states a Mexican shilling), of the value of 12 1-2 cents, and this was called a "bit." In the Canadian West to-day a "bit" is said to be 15 cents, and 25 cents represents "two bits."

Nature Study.

Nature study is teaching the youth to see and to know the thing nearest to hand, to the end that his life may be fuller and richer, writes Prof. L. H. Bailey of Cornell university. Nature study is not to be taught for the purpose of making the youth a specialist or a scientist. Now and then a pupil will desire to pursue a science for the sake of the science, and he should be encouraged. But every pupil may be taught to be interested in plants and birds and insects and running brooks, and thereby his life will be the stronger. The crop of scientists will take care of itself.

Comprehensive Recipe.

Leech, the famous artist of London Punch, was at his best as an entertainer in his own house. Dean Hole asked him one day, after Leech had given him a delectable dinner at his lodgings in Scarborough, how he made such good champagne-cup. "The ingredients," he replied, "of which this refreshing beverage is composed, and which is highly recommended by the faculty for officers going abroad and all other persons stopping at home, are champagne, ice and aerated water; but, in consequence of advancing years, always forget the seltzer."

Acquiring a Reputation.

"How did that man get the reputation of being such a profound thinker?"

"By talking on subjects that nobody understands and thereby avoiding the chance of having his arguments definitely refuted."

J. L. Perron is the Liberal nominee for Gaspe, to replace J. L. Lemieux.

PULPIT SERMONS ON WOMEN.

Few Things Said by Ancient and Modern Divines on Momentous Subject.

Why Eve was made from the rib of Adam has been explained by a witty sage of old. If she had been created from his mouth, she would have talked too much; if from his feet, she would have gone about too much; if from his ears, she would have listened too readily; but she was made from a rib, which is near the heart, to show that she must always be dear to man.

An English preacher in the seventeenth century spoke in similar fashion when he said, with the text, "To be or not to be," that woman should be like and unlike three things. She should be like a snail, always keep within her own house; but not like a snail, to carry all she had on her back. She should be like an echo, to speak when she was spoken to; but not, like an echo, always to have the last word. She should be like a town clock, always keep time and regularity; but not, like a town clock, to speak so loud that all the town might hear her.

A preacher in the reign of Charles II. was to receive £10 if in his sermon at the funeral of Madam Creswell he said nothing but well of her. She was rather a bad character and herself had dictated the clause in her will. So, after a general address on mortality, he thus concluded: "By the will of a deceased sister it is expected that I should mention her and say nothing but well of her; therefore is this: She was born well, she lived well and she died well; for she was born with the name Creswell, she lived in Clerkenwell and she died in Bridewell."—The Sunday Magazine.

LIGHT ON MEDICAL QUESTION

Scientific Analysis of the Ability of Individuals to Weep "Tears of Blood."

The belief that certain individuals are able to weep tears of blood is of such antiquity that the German equivalent for "bitter tears" is "blutige thranan," "bloody tears." There seems, however, no authentic instance of blood being actually secreted by the lachrymal gland.

Micas has published a very interesting article on real and false tears of blood. It is a clinical study on conjunctival hemorrhage. Some years ago the author was consulted about a boy aged 12 years who, from the slightest cause, such as laughing, or sometimes apparently for no cause whatever, wept tears of blood—an occurrence often repeated several times a day. The lad was pale and enervated from constant hemorrhage.

The source of the bleeding was the tarsal conjunctiva, which was covered with fine papillae, and light cauterization with the galvano-cautery resulted in a cure.

This case led the author to study the literature of the subject. He found that in none of the cases cited is it certain that the blood did not come from the conjunctiva or from the lachrymal passages. He feels that it is unwise to deny the possibility of sanguineous secretion from the gland, but that examples in which other sources cannot be shown to be present must be exceedingly rare.

Borneo Inviting to Naturalists.

There is no country in the world more inviting to the naturalist than Borneo. Here are found the flying squirrels, flying foxes, flying lizards, flying frogs, and the natives report flying snakes. Among the most noted birds is the little swift Collocalia Nidifics. Their nests are eaten by the Chinese, and are regarded as a great luxury. These birds build their nests in limestone caves of a glutinous saliva which they produce from their glands; no sticks or any other foreign substances are used. The collection of these nests is an important industry with the natives, though they pay a tax on all they take to market. The value of those exported from British North Borneo in 1907 was $35,924. They are served at the great feasts of the Chinese, especially at weddings.

Asthma Plant of Queensland.

The euphorbias are very numerous in the colony of Queensland, and among them is the euphorbia pilulifera, the "Queensland asthma plant," which has a remarkable reputation for curing this troublesome complaint. Several pharmaceutical preparations of the plant are extensively sold in Australia. Analysis shows that a green plant contained 79 per cent. by weight of water and three per cent. of ash, leaving 18 per cent. of vegetable matter. A dried plant contained an alkaloidal substance equal to about 1 part in 1,000. It contained also a glucosidal substance to the amount of not more than 4 parts in 1,000. Possibly one or both of these was the active principle of the plant.

Schisms That Seem Small.

Two religious sects who hated one another bitterly were found by Sven Hedin in Tibet. Searching for the cause of this aversion he found that one of the sects believed that the prayer wheel should turn to the right, while the other was convinced that the wheel should turn to the left. In the region of the Brahmaputra he found a mountain which is so sacred that whoever walks around it 13 times has all his sins forgiven. The result of this belief is that criminals from far and near infest this region. When Sven Hedin started to ride around this mountain on his horse the pilgrims informed him that that would do him no good.

The Port Arthur Wagon Company, capital $750,000, has received a Federal charter.

Caught a Baby Whale.

The smallest specimen of a baby whale ever caught by a British trawler was landed at Grimsby the other day by the King James. It was brought up in the trawl net in the North sea, and was so small—18 inches long and three pounds three ounces in weight—that the fishermen could not realize that it was a whale until an expert certified the fact.

The local officer for the board of fisheries secured this specimen, which could not have been calved more than three or four days, and immediately dispatched it to the laboratories of the fisheries department in London.—London Standard.

The Clarinet.

The clarinet has the richest, sweetest voice of all the wood-wind instruments, although its sound does not travel quite so far as that of the oboe. Whenever, as sometimes happens, there are two melodies to be played at once, the clarinet takes the lower of the two, while the violins play the upper and more important one. But in a military band, where there are no strings at all, the clarinets play the chief melody. The bass clarinet is not so smooth or so sweet as the higher ones. It has a rather choky sound, though softer than that of the bassoon.—From "The Drum of the Savage to the Great Orchestra," in St. Nicholas.

Affinity Defined.

A man who has a penchant for phrase-making and whose wife has a vivid imagination got into difficulties the other day. The lady was reading an account of the latest divorce and chanced to run across the "affinity" bromide. "Such a senseless word!" she exclaimed; then, turning to her husband, "What is an affinity, anyhow?" "Affinity? Oh, accommodation train," he defined with conscious aptness. And ever since he's been using all his cleverness in the effort to explain how he knew.

George Partridge was electrocuted in his home in Newmarket through his own neglect, the coroner's jury found.

WHAT IT IS

From La Patrie:—

"The two hundred thousand French-Canadians of the Province of Ontario inaugurated this morning (January 18) their first Congress of Education by a great religious celebration at the Basilica (Ottawa). This population was represented by more than four hundred delegates, sent from every centre and parish where our compatriots dwell. This reunion, which will last three days, is the realization of a project dreamed of these many years by several French-Canadians of the province. ITS PRINCIPLE AIM IS TO ASSURE THE FRENCH SCHOOL IN ONTARIO, NOT MERELY FOR THE PRESENT POPULATION, but especially for those who will come after us. It is a question to a certain extent of renewing a profession of religious and national faith. At the congress permanent committees will be named in the end to work without ceasing and everywhere, to GUARD AND DEVELOP FRENCH-CANADIAN INTERESTS in the province, AND TO AID OUR COMPATRIOTS IN OTHER PARTS OF THE COUNTRY. . . . . "

How would it do if English-Canadians follow suit? If our French brothers are right, we must be prepared to give up much that we cherish. But are we? The whole great "movement" now developing amongst French-Canadians in such an extraordinary manner, points to something. It is under the highest auspices.

What is it?

The following from La Presse is also significant:—

"According to statistics collected from the best sources, the number of French-Canadians in Ontario has increased at an extraordinary rate. . . . And who can say what they will be in ten or twenty years?"

The president of the Congress said, in delivering his address, amongst other things: "What is the general aim of this Congress? We have called it the Congress of Education. That is accurate and true, but let us understand. I ask you to consider this word 'education' in all its amplitude and extent. It concerns, without doubt, the education of our young, but this education does not stop at the entrance to or departure from school. It embraces, then, a series of questions which concern our faith, our nationality and our social life."

HAVELOCK WAS ENTHUSED

Over Splendid Concert Given There by Conservatory Talent

A large and highly pleased audience heard the concert by Peterborough Conservatory of Music talent at the Havelock concert hall last night. Accompanied by Mr. Gliddon, about forty—including the Conservatory orchestra—went to Havelock, and were greatly gratified by the very encouraging reception given them. After the concert a delightful dance was held in the hall.

The selections of the orchestra met with immediate favor, and the different numbers were played with excellent effect. The soloists were cordially encored for their contributions to the programme, which was a distinct success in all respects.

The soloists were: Misses Carrie Reesor, Lavina Halahan, Julia Choate, Laura Logan, J. Halpany, Roy Rankin and Walter Hughes.

Just received, a car-load of California Navel Oranges Choice Fruit, shipped direct to A. LONGO'S Fruit Store, 144 Hunter Street. 6d.

SECURE YOUR TICKETS FOR THE WHITE SISTER

Great Demand for Seats-Performance Begins Sharp at 8.15

The management of the Grand wish to advise persons having tickets on order for Viola Allen in "The White Sister" that same will be held until to-morrow (Thursday) only. On account of the very heavy advance sale there are only a limited number of seats to be had and those who have not yet secured their tickets would do well to get them to-day. This will be one of the biggest theatrical treats offered the public of Peterborough, affording an opportunity to see one of the greatest metropolitan players on the stage, and one very rarely seen outside the large cities. Patrons will also please note that the performance will start promptly at 8.15 p.m. and therefore to avoid standing until the first act is over it will be necessary to be seated before that time. The box office will be open until 9 o'clock this evening so that persons who wish to get seats they have ordered may do so and it will also afford an opportunity to persons who desire to attend to make their reservations.

THEATRICAL

The most celebrated minstrel organization in America Lew Dockstader's minstrels have been secured by the management of the Grand to appear here on Thursday, February 3rd. The company is booked on special Canadian time and the only one night stands being played in Canada are Kingston, Peterborough, Loondon and Hamilton.

THE BEST REASONS WE'VE EVER OFFERED FOR BUYING FURS IN JANUARY

Here are some facts of an astounding nature that every thoughtful person will appreciate and see that it's to their advantage to make an investment in Furs for present and future use.

To-Day Raw Fur Prices are Higher Than They've Been in the History of This Old World of Ours

The increasing demand for Furs all over the world owing to the general betterment of the financial condition of the people, taken with the ever lessening supply of all kinds of Fur-bearing animals, has advanced the prices this year from 15 to 130 per cent. over last year's prices. Some furs will become almost prohibitive to the great mass of people in a very short time, owing to the great advances. Alaska Sable, Mink, Musk, Muskrat, Seal, Fox, Lynx Opposum, Coon, Badger, Persian Lamb, and Otter are the skins which have made the most radical advances this year.

Last year we purchased extra quantities of Raw Furs at the lowest prices then prevailing, and we are therefore able to give our customers The Best Furs at prices that any wholesale manufacturer would be willing to give for them to-day.

On all Made-up Furs in Stock we will also give during January a speceial discount of from 10 to 25 per cent. off our regular prices.

The discouut taken with the advance in prices on Raw Furs for this year will mean

A Saving on Some Furs of Over Half of Next Season's Prices.

Now is the time to buy as stock is well assorted and the selections are "A 1."

YOUNG PEOPLE OF ALL SAINTS'

Held Second Meeting--Three Delegates for the Missionary Conference at Lindsay

The All Saints' Young People held their second meeting Monday evening, in the basement of the church, Mr. C. E. Sisson, Vice-President being chairman. There were between 60 and 70 of the young people present and a particularly enjoyable evening was spent. The programme was as follows:—Instrumental solo, Miss Lee; Vocal solo, Mr. Lee; Vocal, Miss Dawson. Continuation of the reading of Tennyson's Idylls of the King, "Geraint and Enid" with running commentary and interpretation by the rector. There will be three delegates to the Missionary Conference in Lindsay next week, Mrs. Sisson, Miss Agnes Sabin, Mr. Hugh Rush, besides others who will attend the conference in part. A mission study class was also formed, the first meeting to be held Monday evening, January 31st, at the residence of C. E. Sisson, 545 Gilmour St.

Hon. W. L. M. King addressed the Boston City Club on the working of the Lemieux Act.

RIGHT LEG HAD TO BE AMPUTATED ABOVE KNEE

Reginald Duggan Lost His Grip on a Freight Car Which He Had Attempted to Board, And, After Falling to Ground, the Wheels Passed Over His Leg and Badly Mangled It.

Reginald Duggan, the 21 year old son of Mr. Robert Duggan, 730 Bethune street, and who has been employed at G. S. Kingdon's cooper establishment on Barnardo avenue, had the misfortune last evening, shortly after five o'clock to have to have his right leg so badly mangled by the wheels of a Grand Trunk freight train, that it was found necessary, on his being taken to the Nicholls Hospital, to amputate the injured member, about four inches above the knee. The young man had at the close of his day's work caught one of the cars about the centre of the train, which was fifteen cars long, at a point forty or fifty feet east of Barnardo avenue, in order that he might get a ride to Smith street. The train was travelling at a fast rate of speed to enable it to make the grade a short distance further on, and young Duggan had all he could do to hold on to the step. His feet were dragging along the side of the track and as the car passed over the avenue crossing, his strength gave out and losing his grip, he fell to the side and the wheels passed over his right leg. Clifton Bain, a small boy, who was a short distance away, heard his cries and after running to where the young man lay, called to several of the employees of the establishment and they went to his assistance. Dr. MacPherson was in the vicinity of the scene of the accident, and on arriving on the spot did everything possible under the circumstances. The Dan Spence ambulance was summoned, and the victim of the accident taken to the hospital where the leg was amputated by Dr. Brown.

The accident is a regrettable one. Just a few minutes before leaving his work he was conversing with a friend about a game of hockey in which he was to play to-morrow night.

SUBJECTS WILL BE DEALT WITH BY CAPABLE SPEAKERS

That which concerns the welfare of the farmer is of much moment to city folk in that their prosperity is so intimately connected with the general well being of those who till the soil. For that reason, citizens of Peterborough have more than a passing interest in the three-day short course in stock and seed judging that is to be held in the city next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

While this special educational work is intended primarily for the farmer, city people will be made most welcome at any or all of the sessions; and what man is there but would like to be a good judge of horses? Instruction on this interesting subject will be a large part of the short course. Dairy and beef cattle, besides light and heavy horses and swine, will be the classes of stock to which attention will be given. The work will be in charge of Prof. G. E. Day, of the Ontario Agricultural College and Mr. C. M. McCrae, of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Fitzgerald's Carriage Works, corner Water and Brock streets, are to-day being fitted up with seats in amphitheatre style to accommodate the crowds that are sure to take advantage of the live stock judging.

The market hall has been secured for the seed judging and in which will be given instructions on grains and weed seeds. Prof. C. A. Zavitz, the well known authority on seeds and a man who has done much for the farmers of this country will have charge of this department; Mr. T. G. Raynor of the seed branch, Ottawa, will also take part.

An evening meeting is called for Tuesday, January 25th. President G. C. Creelman, of the Ontario Agricultural College, will be the principal speaker. A splendid musical programme is being provided and all are cordially invited to attend.

Although the short course is being put on at great expense, it is absolutely free to all. We can congratulate ourselves upon being so fortunate as to have this short course put on in our city. Similar ones have proved most popular elsewhere and have enjoyed a large attendance.

PETERBOROUGH POLICE LAID 519 CHARGES DURING YEAR

Of This Number Only Ten-Were Against Females—"Drunks" Head the List—Forty-two Convictions for Breaches of Liquor License Act,

The Police Commissioners met yesterday afternoon, in the committee room of the city building and the chief item of business was the receiving of the annual report of Chief Roszel. Those present were his Honor Judge Huycke, his Worship Magistrate Dumble, Mayor Morrow and Chief Roszel. Judge Huycke was elected chairman.

A communication was received from Mr. B. Laster, who complained about being expelled from the Grand Opera House on the evening of December 22nd.

The commissioners heard Chief Roszel's report on the matter and instructed the secretary to write Mr. Laster and tell him that they could not see that any further action was required.

REPORT OF CHIEF ROSZEL.

The report of Chief Roszel for the year is as follows;

To the Police Commissioners of the city of Peterborough.

I beg to submit my report of the work done by the police department during the year 1909.

Schedule "A" contains a list alphabetically arranged and classified of the principal offences which prisoners were charged with and showing how the cases were disposed of.

Schedule "B" shows the amount of fines and costs collected by the department during the year and handed over to the City Treasurer.

Schedule "C" shows the amount of property reported lost or stolen during the year and what proportions were recovered.

Schedule "D" shows the amount of licenses collected (with the assistance of the City Clerk) during the year, including dog tax.

Schedule "E" will show the work done by the Sanitary Inspectors.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The strength of the force is the same as last year, five men and myself. The general health and conduct of the force during the year has been good. I am pleased to be able to report that the police force is working together in peace and harmony.

SECOND-HAND AND JUNK DEALERS.

I am pleased to report all second-hand and junk dealers have complied with the law.

HOTELS AND POOL ROOMS.

Sixty persons were before the Police Magistrate for breaches of the Liquor License Act during the year. A large number of those were blacklisters. Of these 42 were convicted. Pool rooms have been very well conducted during the year. No illicit selling of liquor is done in the city, and the city is free from houses of ill-fame and gambling resorts, so far as I am aware.

The Chief Constable Association of Canada meets in the city of Vancouver, B.C., in August next, and I trust gentlemen, you will make it convenient for me to attend, as I am at present immediate Past President of the Association.

I would once more bring to the notice of the Property Committee the totally inadequate size of the Police Office, there being only one small room in which to do the police business.

During the summer months several houses were left in our care during the temporary absence of the owners. I am pleased to report that none were disturbed.

We have had no serious crimes during the year. There was not one case of pocket-picking reported during the year, thanks to the efficiency of P. C. Newhall.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed) GEO. I. ROSZEL,
Chief Constable.

SCHEDULE "A."

Schedule "A" shows that there were 509 charges against males during the year and 10 against females. The total number of convictions was 341 and the number of prisoners discharged was 159. Nine charges were withdrawn and nine prisoners were committed for trial.

Drunkenness was the commonest offence, there being 72 charges under this heading. All were males, no females being arrested for drunkenness during the year. Forty-nine males were arrested for vagrancy and there were forty-five arrests for theft. Some of the other headings under which charges were laid were as follows:

Breach of Liquor License Act 60.
Number of convictions 42.
Disorderly conduct 44.
Drunk and disorderly 35.
Assault 25.
Damage to property 31.

SCHEDULE "B."

Shows the amount of money collected in the Police Court during the year 1909, and paid over to the City Treasurer in fines and costs.

Fines and costs, $1,606.20.

SCHEDULE "C."

Shows lost and stolen property reported during the year and also the amount recovered and returned to the owners.

Value of goods lost and stolen, $2,022.67.
Recovered, $1,397.67.
Not recovered, $625.
Bicycles stolen 18.
Bicycles recovered 10
Not recovered 3.

SCHEDULE "D."

Shows the amount of licenses collected (including dog tax (with the assistance of the City Clerk) during the year.

Amount of licenses, $2,382.
Amount of dog tax, $919.

SCHEDULE "E."

Shows the work done during the year by the Sanitary Inspectors.

No. of yards examined 4,161.
No. notices served 292.
No. of yards found in good condition 3,869.

Besides numerous complaints that were looked after.

BUDGET OF INTERESTING NEWS FROM HAVELOCK

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 19.—The Havelock hockey team went down to defeat for the first time this season on Friday night last, when they journeyed to Marmora, and in a fast and interesting game held the Marmora stick-handlers down to a 12—1 score.

Considering their lack of practice they made a good showing against against the wet town boys, who, by the appearance of things at the present time, are out to land the Trent Valley trophy, having defeated Madoc a 12—4 score some time ago.

The following players were on the Havelock lineup:—

Goal—Parkins.
Point—W. J. Rose.
Cover—Wm. Rose.
Rover—Frost.
Centre—Ferguson.
Right—Curry.
Left—Mathison.

The harvesting and storing of ice for Swift & Co.'s ice house at Havelock is a very interesting operation indeed. With the system and thoroughness that comes with years of experience, the icing station at Havelock, now established for twenty years, has every facility for storing of ice with quickness and at the least expense.

As there is very little icing done here during the winter months, everything is ready for the storing of ice when it reaches a thickness of twelve inches. As the railroad town is not blessed with a body of water large enough to furnish the many tons of ice that is used here yearly, the supply has to be brought in from other places along the C.P.R., at the present time being imported from our western neighbor, Norwood.

Ice free from all snow formation is the best, as it will keep in a temperature that would soon melt the snow ice, but this desired quality is not always available, and a great deal has to be used that is made up of a layer of ice and one of snow. The company generally give the contract for loading the ice, so that they pay for it by the ton, loaded on the cars, and thus avoid the obstacles the ice loaders have to contend with, such as warm weather during the loading period, no snow for roads, and many other small things that make the ice foreman's work no snap.

The ice has first to be cleared of all snow before operations commence. The ice is then cut to a depth of six inches by an ice plough. The plough is run first lengthwise of the ice, and then crosswise, each seam cut being about twenty inches from its neighbor. Thus when finished the whole ice area is mapped out into square blocks, twenty inches square. The first few blocks have to be sawed out, then the mapped out squares can easily be broken into cakes by striking forcibly with an iron bar made for the purpose.

One end of a skid or ice runway is then placed in the water, and the other end on a platform on the solid ice. The large ice sleigh, which carries about twenty-five cakes, is backed up to the platform, and the cakes are drawn on to the sleigh, a horse supplying the motive power.

At the cars a bridge is built for the sleighs to be pulled up on, so that the ice will run into cars from the sleighs easily. The whole surface of the car's floor is covered with ice two blocks deep. As the cars are loaded they are pulled forward and their places taken by others. On an average about twenty cars are loaded per day, but as the ice gets thicker and the cakes heavier, it takes more time to load a car.

At Norwood a force of from twelve to eighteen men are required in loading. They must be hardy men, too, accustomed to stand the weather when the thermometer drops below the duck egg mark, as it is necessary for them to stand out on the ice, where the wind gets a good sweep at them, and where the temperature resembles that of the Arctic regions. There for four or five hours at a time they stand, holding in their hands an iron bar or tong, or some like implement that does not give much warmth to their hands.

At Havelock a platform is built at the ice house beside the track, from which the ice runways are laid to the galleries, five in number, which run up to a certain height on the building, and then extend around to the back. The cars are spotted at the platform, and five cakes at a time pulled up to the required gallery by horses. The cakes are run on a skid into the rooms and placed side by side, where they freeze together. As the rooms are filled higher, the ice is run on a higher gallery until they are filled to the top, when the ice is covered with March hay and the doorway filled with sawdust, and everything is ready for the summer.

At Havelock during the storing of ice it generally takes 30 or 35 men, according to how easy the ice runs on the gallery, and also according to the number of cars loaded, as it is necessary to unload the ice as quickly as possible or it will freeze to the bottom of the car, or the cakes will be frozen together.

Also require two teams to pull the ice up to the galleries, as well as an engine for spotting purposes during the storing of ice.

Each year, the amount stored is about 300 cars, that is about 4,500 tons, or in another way, 52,000 cakes, but the amount is increasing each year according to the demand for the congealed moisture increased.

SPORTING NEWS

WHICH TEAMS WILL TAKE THE TOP AND LOW POSITION

The Loser of the Keene-T.A.S. Game Goes to the Bottom and the Winner of the West End-Strathcona Fixture Leads the League—Both Contests To-night Should be Interesting.

When the West Ends and Strathconas meet at the Brock street rink to-night at 9.15, for the first time this season, don't ever think for a minute that there will not be something doing all the time. Both teams have won their city league games to date, by substantial scores, and the winner of to-night's contest takes the top position. Manager Oldham says "it's us for the leadership; the team is working at its best and this man Burritt is not going to stand in front of our nets and scoop in counters as in previous games."

In the first fixture, Keene and T. A.S. meet and as the losing team takes the bottom of the heap, the contest is sure to be a lively and hard fought one.

The league standing at present is interesting, and the big crowd expected to be on hand at to-night's games will no doubt witness some good hockey.

SPORTING NOTES

On Saturday, and for the first time in twelve years, England defeated Wales in international rugby by 11—6.

CHURCH LEAGUE AT AUDITORIUM

Double Header Will be Played To-morrow Night—Knox vs George St. and All Saints' vs St Andrew's

The senior church hockey league opens to-morrow night at the Auditorium rink, when two games will be played, Knox and George street church teams meet at eight o'clock and All Saints' and St. Andrew's come together on the second exhibition. All four teams are much stronger than last year and the race for the championship and the Burnham cup promises to be interesting. Capable referees will officiate and there is splendid accommodation at the rink for spectators.

LINEUP FOR GAME WITH LINDSAY

On Monday night the intermediate team go play in Lindsay on Friday night was picked and is as follows:

Goal—Derocher.
Point—Campbell.
Cover—McDougall.
Rover—Ray.
Centre—Dobson.
Right—McMillan.
Left—Dusty.

The team looks good and should make a creditable showing against Bill Stoddard's aggregation.

The Lindsay lineup will likely be:

Goal—Gamble.
Point—Green.
Cover—Gray.
Rover—Stoddard.
Centre—Bloomfield.
Right—Cain.
Left—Beecroft or Lane.

The following P.A.C. players are requested to be out to hockey practice Thursday from 7 to 8 p.m., at the Brock street rink:

S. Gillespie, D. Loomis, P. Johnston, N. Barrie, C. Barrie, C. Gilbert, C. Garside, E. Garside, H. Reed, W. Killingbeck, H. McLaughlin, H. Chambers, H. Anderson, J. Price.

The team to play the Bell Telephone Co. and Auburn Mercantilers will be picked after practice.

SHOTS ON GOAL

While Edmonton made a splendid showing in the first of the games with the cup holders last night, they faded away in the second half, when the ice became soft, and were defeated by an 8—4 score. The score at the resting period was 5—4 in favor of Ottawa.

Belleville's protest against Picton for playing a player over age was allowed. Sewell's certificate is cancelled and the game must be replayed.

Randall, who was charged with striking a player during a game, has been warned that another complaint will mean suspension.

Brantford defeated Waterloo last night by 8—4, and Berlin won from Galt 11—2.

AND THE DEACON PROCEEDED.

After Pastor Had Elucidated Text from Which He had Drawn His Sermon.

The colored parson had just concluded a powerful sermon on "Salvation Am Free," and was announcing that a collection would be taken for the benefit of the parson and his family. Up jumped an acutely brunette brother in the back of the church.

"Look a-year, pahson," he interrupted, "yo' ain't no sooner done tellin' us dat salvation am free dan yo' go askin' us fo' money. If salvation am free, what's de use in payin' fo' it? Dat's what I want to know. An' I tell yo' p'intedly dat I ain't goin' to gib yo' nothin' until I find out. Now—"

"Patience, brudder, patience," said the parson. "I'll 'lucidate: S'pose yo' was thirsty an' come to a river. Yo' could kneel right down an' drink yo' fill, couldn't yo'? An' it wouldn't cost yo' nothin' would it?"

"Oh, course not. Dat's jest what I—"

"Dat water would be free," continued the parson. "But s'posin yo' was to hab dat water piped to yo' house? Yo' have to pay, wouldn't yo?"

"Yas, sun, but—"

"Wal, brudder, so it is wid salvation. De salvation am free, but it's de havin' it piped to yo' dat yo' got to pay fo.' Passa de hat, deacon, pass de hat."—Everybody's Magazine.

'TWIXT THEORY AND CONDITION

Where the Gifted Playwright is Confronted with Circumstances He Cannot Control.

Consider the apprentice playwright's vision of his work. He has dreamed a dream and the people of that dream tread out their drama before his mind's eye, all flawless, perfect, just as he made them. He sees them as real people, not as actors. The scenes by moonlight are moonlight indeed to him; he can smell the roses in the garden where his heroine walks, but, sadly enough, this illusion of reality, which continues for a little while after the conclusion of his writing, is apt to be the greatest reward his work will bring him. When the play is staged and he finds that the harvest moon for his moonlight love scene must be discarded because the moon-machine is creaky and there is danger that the audience may hear the moon go up, when the heroine whom he pictured to himself with "elf-gold hair" must play her part as a brunette because elf-gold wigs do not suit her, and when his "pathetic father" has been given to a comedian who "gets a laugh" upon all of his heart-rending speeches, then it is that the playwright begins to comprehend the difference between "the dream and the business."—Booth Tarkington in Collier's.

Fear of Microbes.

Microbes are agents of disease and death. When they were discovered and when their character was exposed science made a big step forward. Microbes taught men not only how to cure disease, but how to avoid and even how to prevent it. But into life they brought a new terror! Now the question is how to guard against the terror. For all fairly healthy persons there is just one thing to do. Ignore the existence of microbes altogether! Don't even stop to think of them, save in emergencies, which, to the layman, seldom arrive. Human beings have no reason to be in continual fear of microbes. The way to be immune from their influence is by not caring a snap of the finger about them, and by observing the ordinary rules of wholesome living. Eat and sleep regularly. Take exercise. Keep in fresh air. And devote a few minutes each day to deep breathing. Microbes hate healthy people as the devil hates holy water.

Clock That Tells Much.

One of the most wonderful clocks in existence is now in the possession of Louis Desoutter, who has had the honor of taking it to Buckingham palace for inspection by the queen. Her majesty showed great interest in its beautiful mechanism.

The clock is fixed on a Louis Seize stand and has four faces. Besides marking the hours, it shows the tides at six different parts of the world, the mean time and the solar time, the age of the moon, the movements of the planets, all eclipses, and is a perpetual calendar. It was made by Janvier of Paris in 1789 for the French Academy and took 11 years to manufacture; the workmanship is magnificent.—London Evening Standard.

Built in Memory of a Dog.

Of the memories to dogs the most imposing of modern date is "Tell's Tower," a structure on the seashore near West Kirby, Cheshire, England. It is in honor of the great St. Bernard dog Tell, "ancestor of most of the rough-coated champions of England, and himself winner of every prize in the kingdom. He was majestic in appearance, noble in character and of undaunted courage." Built by the late M. J. Cumming Macdona, the tower is a sort of summer house, in the base of which is a vault containing Tell's remains, guarded by an effigy of that remarkable animal.

One Comfort.

A certain lady prides herself upon always looking at the bright side of things.

"My dear," moaned her husband one day recently, as he tossed restlessly on his bed, "it's the doctor I'm thinking of. What a bill his will be!"

"Never mind, Joseph," said his wife. "You know there's the insurance money."—Stray Stories.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

We also represent first-class Fire, Accident, Guarantee, Plate Glass and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

What One Alderman Did.

Chatham, Ont., Jan. 19. On the inspiration of a moment, at the close of a hot council session Tuesday night, Ald. Frank L. Baxter sprung a new one, "Ald John McKerscaddled on that last vote," he burst out. The mayor called him to order for slang. "I don't care," yelled Ald. Baxter, "it's the truth—he hunkerscaddled."

Brute Gets Short Sentence.

Toronto, Jan. 19.—[illegible] and assaulting an eight-year-old girl, William A. Wilson, a negro coal driver was sent to the Central Prison for six months. Crown Attorney Kelley suggested two years with whipping should be given, but the magistrate, who has no little girl eight years old, did not see it that way.

Sent to an Asylum.

Chatham, Jan. 19.—[illegible] Rumble, who confessed the attempted dynamiting of the home of her husband and family about two months ago of this city last October, was yesterday morning taken to the Hamilton Asylum for the Insane.

Paulhan's New Record.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 19.—Paulhan landed from his cross-country flight of 45 miles at 4.12. He had been in the air one hour and three minutes. At one time he gained an altitude of 2,130 feet. This establishes a new world's record for cross-country flights.

Alderman Holds Seat.

Kingston, Jan. 19.—In a recount of the votes cast at the municipal election in Rideau Ward, Ald. R. C. Armstrong, the civic reform league candidate, was declared in his seat by his original majority, seven.

To Investigate Prices.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 19.—Attorney-General Major, replying [illegible] day to a request that he investigate the high prices of meats in Missouri, said he expected to make such an investigation.

Gift of Two Millions.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—A $2,000,000 home for friendless children in Chicago is provided for in the will of Henry C. Elliott, a mine owner who was killed by a snowslide in Alaska on Jan. 4. The will was filed for probate yesterday. No definite time for the erection of the home is fixed.

Shot For Being Kind.

Towanda, Pa., Jan. 19.—Attorney Judge Henry Richlin of Sullivan Co. was shot and fatally wounded by Charley Kapni, a neighbor. Judge Richlin was driving to Dushore and asked Kapni to have a rube. Kapni replied with three revolver shots.

Cook In German Retreat.

Frankfort, Jan. 19.—The Frankfurter Zeitung is informed that Dr. Frederick A. Cook has arranged for a strictly incognito stay at a sanitarium near Heidelberg.

Meter rates for water are now being charged in Chatham.

CATARRH MUST GO

And Hawking, Spitting Snuffels Must Go too

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) will give the sufferer from catarrh joyful relief in five minutes.

It is such a remarkable cure, and so positive in its action Wm. Madill goes so far as to guarantee it to cure catarrh or money back.

A complete outfit, which consists of a hard rubber pocket inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei, and a unique dropper for filling the inhaler, only costs one dollar, and if an extra bottle is afterwards needed the price is only 50 cents.

Hyomei is a healing, antiseptic balsam, taken from the mighty eucalytus trees in the health-giving forests of Australia, where diseases of the respiratory tract are unknown.

All the sufferer has to do is to inhale the antiseptic air of Hyomei over the inflamed parts where the germs are entrenched, three or four times a day.

It cures coughs, colds, asthma, hay fever and croup without stomach dosing.

IS PERFECT FENCING MATERIAL

Species of Cacti Form Hedges Practically Impenetrable.

The hedges which we ordinarily see bordering country estates are planted for their ornamental and beautifying effect, and not as a substitute for fencing material, but in the extreme southwestern part of the United States there are many hedges which serve primarily this latter purpose. Various species of cacti, such as the prickly pear, are used by ranchmen to inclose cattle ranges in those arid regions, and these hedges are practically impenetrable. Wild animals are thus effectually prevented from attacking the herds and flocks, and a supply of fodder may always be obtained by burning off the spines from the tender young shoots of the cactus.

Remains of hedges 15 feet in height are to be seen near the locations of the old missions in southern California, where they once served as fortifications to protect the little settlements. Instead of fences the Mexicans use what is known as the organ cactus. When stakes of this plant are set in the earth they readily take root, and soon present a formidable barrier of thorns.—Harper's Weekly.

INSPIRATION WAS HAPPY ONE.

Good Idea That Rescued Student from a Serious Dilemma.

A student in one of the theological colleges found himself face to face with an examination in Old Testament history—a subject which he had entirely ignored all term. Taking counsel with some friends, he decided that all he really needed to know was the long list of the names of the kings of Israel and their dates. So he crammed them each and all into his aching head. But, sad to relate, all he was asked to do was to criticise the acts of Moses. Not one act of Moses, good, bad, or indifferent, could the unfortunate youth remember, so, after much thought, he wrote as follows:

"Far be it for one as humble as I am to criticise the acts of the great Moses, but, if you would care to know the names of the kings of Israel and their dates, you will find them written below."

He was passed.

As to the Lungs.

The lungs are the life. When a man can breathe lustily no ordinary malady can kill him. I know an old chap who was given up three years ago by seven "able" physicians and one "able" surgeon. Their verdict was: "He can't last over three weeks." He is still in the ring, while three of the doctors have cashed in their checks. A man can live 40 days without food, a few days without water, and a few [illegible] without air. The lungs are the soul. A man can live without stomach, bowels, heart, liver, kidneys, spleen or brains—But he can't live without air! The air cleans the blood. Drink air by the million cubic feet and you will never die. Don't wait for the tank of oxygen to come along. Drink deeply of the common ether. Have it pure and plug yourself full every hour.

Medicine in the Sea.

The sea, according to certain scientists, can furnish not only nourishment, but medicine. A distinguished French practitioner prescribes the drinking of sea water as a cure for diabetes, the water being aerated in order to remove its impurities and, to some extent, its nauseous flavor. It has also been administered with success in cases of bronchitis and pleurisy. Experiments carried out on consumptive patients show that subcutaneous injections of sea water are beneficial, at all events in the early stages of tuberculosis. Bread made with sea water is said by those who have tried it to be most appetizing and nourishing.

Find Happiness in Children.

Very domestic is the life of the Belgians, and the children enter into every sort of interest of the parents. They would not think of going to the restaurant or summer garden without the children, and their own pleasures are often but the reflected ones of their boys and girls. The father goes to the circus with his little troupe of young folks about him and enjoys their joys. The happiness of the people is centered in their homes, and anything that will interfere with the good of the child is not tolerated by the self-respecting Belgians.

Indian Baskets Tell Stories.

The making of Indian baskets is the work of the women of the tribe. Unhonored and unsung, unknown even to the daughters of her daughters, the Indian woman basket maker passes to her grave, leaving behind her a chain of woven books, each a volume in itself. The aboriginal basket maker puts into every piece of work she turns out as much of the history of her race as she knows and all of her own life, if she can express it in the set pictures or figures which have been handed down to her since basketry began.—The Bohemian.

Oddity of Dreams.

"Nobody ever feels pain in a dream," said a psychologist. "Rage, terror, joy, [illegible] emotions stab us as potently in dream as in reality. But physical pain, no. I have interrogated many persons and none of them ever suffered dream pains. Yet they have dreamed of dreadful motor accidents, tortures, death. One young girl, indeed, dreamed time and again of being eaten alive by cannibals; yet even in her horrible nightmare she felt no pain."

The Public school at Headingly, near Winnipeg, was burned, but the children escaped.

WILLING TO LET MATTER DROP

Prisoner Was More Than Ready to Save the Valuable Time of the Court.

"Jed Blake to the bar," ordered the judge in a rural Alabama court. A big, hulking negro ambled up to be arraigned for murder.

"Jed," began the judge, "you are charged with the gravest crime known to the law, that of taking the life of a fellow man. One of the forms of punishment for murder is death. Have you made any arrangements for you defense in this case, Jed?"

"No, suh, jedge. I ain't done nuthin'."

"Have you a lawyer, Jed?"

"No, suh, jedge. I ain' got no lawyer. I ain' got nuthin', jedge."

"Well, Jed," said the judge, showing a little impatience, "have you talked to anybody about this case?"

"I talked to de sheriff some dat night when he come after me, jedge, but you knows dat didn't do no good."

"For your information, Jed, I will state that it is within the province of this court to appoint counsel to any defendant who has none. I am now ready to appoint you a lawyer. Do you want one?"

"No, suh, jedge. I don't want nuthin,'" replied Jed, rather dolefully.

"See here," snapped the judge, "I won't have any more of this foolishness. You say you don't want any lawyer. Well, then, what do you intend to do about this case?"

"Well, I tells you, jedge. I ain't 'tendin' to do nuthin'. Ef it's jes' de same to you, jedge, as far as I's concerned I's willin' to let de whole matter drap right here."—Everybody's.

GOLD FOUND IN OLD BRICKS.

Walls of Mexican Adobe Houses Yield Treasure for the Men Who Know.

There are many remarkable towns in Mexico, but none more interesting than Guanajuato, "The Hill of the Frog." It might more properly be called the "gold brick town," for the houses have been found to contain much gold.

This is a curious situation, but it came about naturally. Guanajuato—pronounced Wah-nah-wahto—is one of the oldest mining towns in Mexico; but the value of the place as a town was discovered when a railroad company decided to build a station there. It was found necessary to tear down about 300 adobe buildings, which were made of the refuse of various mines after the ore was extracted.

When it became known that the old adobe buildings would be torn down pieces taken at random were assayed. It was found that because of the old process, which lost much gold and silver, they assayed from $3 to $24 a ton. The mean value was estimated to run about eight dollars gold a ton.

The old buildings have brought about $30,000 Mexican in gold, and persons who have built since the new machinery has been installed in the mines are bemoaning the fact that the new houses do not contain as much gold as the old.—Scientific American.

New Method of Keeping Potatoes.

A German publication, "The Practical Adviser in Fruit Raising and Gardening," states that a new method for keeping potatoes and preventing sprouting consists in placing them on a layer of coke. Dr. Schiller of Brunswick, who has published the method, is of the opinion that the improved ventilation by means of coke is not alone responsible for the result, but believes that it is due to the oxidation of the coke, which, however, is a very slow one. Coke always contains sulphur, and it is very possible that the minute quantities of oxides of carbon and sulphur, which result from the oxidation, mixing with the air and penetrating among the potatoes are sufficient to greatly retard sprouting. Potatoes so treated are said to keep in good condition until the following July.

The Revealing Vision.

Long ago in the days when our caged blackbirds never saw a king's soldier without whistling impudently "Come over the water to Charlie," a minister of Thrums was to be married, but something happened and he remained a bachelor. Then, when he was old, he passed in our square the lady who was to have been his wife and her hair was white, but she, too, was still unmarried. The meeting had only one witness, a weaver, and he said, solemnly, afterwards: "They dinna speak, but they just gave one another a look and I saw the love light in their een." No more is remembered of these two, no being now living ever saw them, but the poetry that was in the soul of a hatter's weaver makes them human to us for ever.—J. M. Barrie.

Why Women Grow Prematurely Old.

Women, condemned to the steam-heated life of our American cities, fed on the too abundant meat diet, which is our bane, breathing and sleeping wrongly, suffering the lack of physical exercise, which oddly enough, is the result of our so-called "busy" lives, continue to age and to lose suppleness, grace, vigor and natural charm, writes Kate Masterson, in Collier's. All the wonder-working grease and bleaching acids in the world will not do more than achieve a surface smoothness.

A. W. CRESSMAN STATES CASE FOR REDUCTION OF LICENSES

In Comparison With Other Centres Number of Licenses Should be Greatly Reduced—Farmers Not Afraid of Lack of Accomodation, But Are Strongest Advocates of Reduction—Hotel Property Does Not Depreciate—The People Gave a Clean Mandate.

To the Editor of the Review:

Sir,—Before the two deputations, one favoring and the other opposing the question of license reduction, waited on the City Council on Monday evening, it had been announced that the time available for the consideration of the matter would be one hour, viz, from eight to nine o'clock, after which other deputations were to be heard. As this did not prove sufficient for a thorough consideration of the matter I would like, as one of the business men of the city who was present, to make some comments thereon.

In the first place I submit that it is the duty of our City Council to endeavor to comply, as nearly as lies within their power, with the expressed desire of the majority of the citizens of Peterborough. This desire was made known in an unmistakable manner on January 3rd, when our citizens, by a majority of 510, voted in favor of there being no licenses whatever granted in Peterborough during the next three years. This was not a snap verdict. The citizens had considered the matter for over a year. It had been discussed in all its aspects. That they realized its importance was shown by the fact that they turned out in larger numbers to vote on it than was ever known before. Our council, therefore, knows that the majority of our citizens do not want any licenses. I submit that our council should endeavor to comply with the wishes of this majority in as far as lies within its power.

The council has power to reduce the number of licenses to two. Many of the temperance people of Peterborough would like to see this done. It is objected, however, by some that this would concentrate the drinking in too few a number of places. This, I understand, led the City Temperance League to decide to ask the council to reduce the number to not over eight taverns and two shop licenses. This request is reasonable. Many people thought a total of five licenses would be ample.

SOME OBJECTIONS ANSWERED.

The lawyers, acting on behalf of the liquor interests, who addressed the council last evening, made as strong a case as they well could for the cause they represented. All the arguments they used, however, are very, very old. Practically every one of them was advanced and answered again and again during the recent campaign in this city. Hundreds of our ratepayers could answer every one of them without difficulty. They are the same arguments that were advanced when the question of license reduction was under consideration in the city of Toronto, and, yet the citizens of Toronto, by a substantial majority, voted to decrease the licenses of that city by practically 33 1-3 per cent. Similar arguments were advanced this year during the campaign in St. Catharines, Brockville and other points, when the question of license reduction was considered by the people, but the ratepayers of these cities, in each case, voted for a substantial reduction. The citizens of Peterborough would do the same, did they have the opportunity.

In case, however, that there may be a few who may be misled by some of these arguments, let us examine them.

1. It was claimed that such a reduction in the number of tavern licenses as is proposed, would not leave sufficient hotel accommodation. The city of Toronto has a population of over 300,000 and has 110 tavern licenses. This is equal to one license to every 2,727 people. The city of London, Ont., has 26 tavern licenses and a population of 50,000, or one license to each 1,950 persons. The city of Brantford has 16 tavern licenses with a population of 21,000, or a license to every 1,332 people. The City Council of Brantford is now being asked to reduce the number of licenses six, which would leave a license for every 3,500 people. In the city of Buffalo there is a hotel license for every 8,000 people, and in the city of Detroit one hotel license for each 11,890 people. Peterborough has 19 tavern licenses with a population of 17,000, or one license for every 895 people. I submit, therefore, that when such cities as these find no trouble over the hotel question that we can rest assured that when our City Council reduces the number of tavern licenses in Peterborough to eight for a population of 17,000, leaving one license for every 2,125 people, there will be no danger of the city suffering in consequence.

2. It was claimed that as the law will permit of the issuing of more licenses in Peterborough than we have at present that this is proof that we have not too many licenses now. The same law permits the city council, if it sees fit, to reduce the number of licenses to two. The same line of argument, therefore, goes to show that we have too many licenses now that we have 23. The fact of the case is that the legislature allows the city council to set the number of licenses in its wisdom, and the legislature does not attempt to dictate what the number shall be.

3. It is claimed that reducing the number of licenses from 23 to 10 will not reduce the amount of drinking. This contention is not borne out by the history of license reduction in other cities. Statistics could easily be quoted, did space permit, showing that a material reduction in the quantity of liquor consumed takes place in every city following license reduction. License reduction will not prevent men who are determined to get a drink from obtaining one, although it may often make it more inconvenient for them to get what they want. License reduction will, however, help a large number of victims of the liquor traffic who often do not desire to drink, but who have not the strength of will to pass the open bar, especially when others invite them in. The fewer open bars we have the less temptation there is for men passing them to drink.

4. The argument was advanced that if the number of tavern licenses is reduced licenses will be cut off from some hotels which now cater to farmers, and this will inconvenience the farmers and hurt business in the city. In view of the fact that the farmers of the country are the strongest advocates of local option and license reduction, we need not worry much on this account. The fact that the farmers around Peterborough provided some 100 rigs to get out the temperance vote in the recent local option campaign, which, had it been successful, would have cut off the licenses from every hotel, shows that the farmers are not worrying about possible inability to secure hotel accommodation. Our farmers are intelligent enough to know that hotel accommodation is a matter of supply and demand, and that such accommodation will be provided as long as there is a demand for it.

5. An effort was made to show that a large sum of money is invested in the liquor business in Peterborough and that this would be depreciated by a reduction in the number of licenses. The history of other cities shows that this is not the case. Even where all hotel licenses have been cut off, real estate has invariably advanced in value, including hotel property. This has been the case in Orillia, Midland and many other points.

A temperance movement is sweeping over this continent. Efforts to prevent it are proving unavailing everywhere. I therefore, trust that a majority of the members of our city council will see the wisdom of not attempting to prevent the reasonable reduction in licenses that has been asked for. Our council may rest assured that the granting of a smaller reduction than that has been asked for will not be satisfactory to the advocates of temperance in Peterborough.

Yours, &c.,
A. W. CRESSMAN.

Expresses His Views

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Allow me a few words of co-operation with "Consistency," whose short but timely letter appeared in your issue of last night. Now, Sir, I shall not say anything in connection with the farmer part of the letter, that of the "bars." I think enough has been said, and the sensible, quiet, business portion of this city are willing to leave the matter in the care and to the judgment of those whom they have chosen by their votes to look after the business of the city. As to the writer's real meaning of classing the bars and the Ministerial Association together as the two evils to be held in check, I do not know, but I presume he means to infer that the latter body is inclined to interfere too readily with public affairs. If I am right then I agree with him that "the fair-minded men are opposed" to this continued dictation, not because we do not think the members of this Association wise and worthy citizens, but because we fail to see how how men who have spent their whole time in school or college in search off theological knowledge can be able to wisely dictate to level-headed business men, men who have been all their time battling with the business world, thus learning how to meet and overcome difficulties in a practical way. If we didn't think them competent men we should not put them at the head of affairs. Since we have done so, we should trust them to do other duty, and do it rightly. Now, sir, I believe that each class and part of a great whole, should look after their own part, and are to strengthening the weak points in their own, thereby striving towards perfection.

What is the business of the Ministerial Association, or better, the preacher of the gospel. As the writer understands it, they are representatives of Jesus Christ, followers of the greatest Teacher that ever trod this earth, whom these gentlemen claim to follow as their exemplar and way-shower. Jesus' instructions to His followers was to preach the gospels to do as He did, teach and exemplify the one law, the law of eternal justice, and mercy, and love. I would like to ask our present apostles of Christ, if Christ Jesus was here today in the fleshy form, if He would spend His time in doing His Father's will, as He did before, or would He be spending His precious time in election campaigns, or the influencing councils to pass human laws, to save His brethren. I do not find it anywhere recorded that He was seeking human laws to aid Him in His work of redemption. But we do not find Him very severe on the Pharisees for caring so much for the outward or human, and neglecting the inner or higher laws. I was very pleased to note in Rev. Pogue's letter, replying to 'Sobriety,' that the excitement of the election had died out, and he could see and admit that there was a higher work and a better way than human pledges or local option laws.

I am convinced that if Jesus, or even Peter or Paul were here to-day they would be so busy casting out these devils of drink and other habits, they would have no time for carrying on election campaigns or securing by-laws.

The poor blacksmith and millions of others in bondage to the evil one, are crying out for some one to cast out the devil that has taken them captive. They don't want to be drunkards. If this kind of old-time preaching was being done, even by our present number of clergy we would not need by-laws to cut off hotels. They would close for the want of patronage.

We are proud of our noble body of clergy and are grateful for what they have done, but if they have not sufficient of the mind of Christ to preach the Gospel as Jesus commanded, and as Paul and others did, would it not be well for them to get the beam out of their eye and reach the perfection of at least Paul, who was converted after Jesus had left the earth.

This may seem a childish advice, but I feel keenly the world is in great need of help, and we are living in a progressive age, and are expecting something better from our reverend clergy than theory, or of a Heaven after death, when the great Teacher said, "preach that the kingdom is at hand." Mankind to-day is in need of something practical and better from our Ministerial Associations than spending their time adopting by-laws that may or may not do good.

The world is crying out like Peter when he found himself sinking: "Lord, save me," and they need the stretched out hand (power) of the Lord. They might well say with Mary, "They have taken away my Lord," etc.

In conclusion, I am convinced that the need is not more laws, but a closer communion with, and observance of, the one Divine law. When each individual will be a law unto himself, of obedience to Christ's sermon on the mount: "Ye are My friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. (John 15:14) I give you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy.' (Luke 10.19.)

Pardon me for taking so much of your valuable space.

Sincerely yours,

Still Another View

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The older inhabitants of this fair city will remember the time when most of the storekeepers in Peterborough kept a bottle and a glass on the shelf; when a customer entered the store he was offered a drink, to encourage him to buy, and to call again. Those were the days when life was worth living. There were no Moral Reformers running loose "raising cain" if a fellow took a horn.

What Ottawa Did

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Ottawa has reduced the bar licenses from 67 to 58. She has a population of 87,000 and that makes one for every 1,500. Peterborough has one for every 891. Are we to continue to have more bars to the thousand than other places?

LOCAL CURLERS WON IN LINDSAY

And Will Play Bobcaygeon on Monday. Winners Meet Lindsay for District Championship

Peterborough curlers had little difficulty in defeating Campbellford, in the first draw in district No. 2 of the Ontario Tankard, at Lindsay, yesterday afternoon. The rinks and scores were as follows:—

Peterborough.	Campbellford.
Carton	Loucks
Medd	Tate
Waddell	Whalen
Giroux—22.	Smith—8

Dr. Wightman	D. F. Robertson
T. F. Matthews	W. J. Doxsee
D. Davidson	J. C. Fowler
J. H. Connal—28.	R. Lowry—8

The local rinks did not play any games in the evening on account of the soft condition of the ice. The next draw will be on Monday night in Lindsay, when they play Bobcaygeon, and the winner will play off with Lindsay, in Lindsay, for the district championship.

In the morning Port Hope was defeated by Bobcaygeon, and in the afternoon Lindsay won from Fenelon Falls, Cannington having the bye in the evening, played and lost to Lindsay.

BRITISH CAMPAIGN MOVES INTO HOME OF THE LORDS

Scotland and Wales are Holding to Their Liberal Interests, But the Midlands of England are Giving Majorities to the Tariff Reformers.

London, Jan. 20.—All the returns of yesterday's elections, which are likely to be received, show that the Unionists gained five seats and the Liberals one, leaving the present position of the parties as follows:

Unionists	129
Liberals	119
Laborites	22
Nationalists	44

Thus far the Unionists have a net gain of 45 seats. They must obtain at least 168 net gains to wipe out the Liberal majority in the last Parliament.

How closely the Unionists are fighting their opponents is shown by the following figures of the aggregate polling to date:

Unionists	1,390,598
Liberals	1,224,878
Laborites	263,463
Socialists	16,271

Of the elections for 81 members of the new Parliament held yesterday the result of less than half was announced last night, the others being in widely scattered districts, where it takes considerable time to collect the ballot boxes.

In London, where four boroughs polled, two remained true to the Liberals and one to Labor, while the fourth went over from the Liberals aide to the Unionists.

In Northern England the Liberals generally hold the seats won in 1906. This also is true of Scotland, but the Midlands continue to go over to the party of tariff reform.

All the London seats, with the exception of Westminster have now been polled, and show a Unionist gain of 12. In 1906 the division was: Liberals 35, Labor 4, Unionists, 19; the present results are Liberals 26, Labor 1, Unionists, 33.

The London seat which the Government lost was Hackney north, where Raymond E. Greene, the Unionist candidate defeated T. Hart-Davies. C. W. Bowerman, Laborite, retains his Deptford seat, and Sir A. Spicer, president of the London Chamber of Commerce, and H. Bottomley were re-elected for central and south Hackney, respectively.

The Liberals also lost one of the boroughs of Glasgow, that of Camlachie, where A. Cross, who was elected as a Unionist in 1906, but went over to the Government side soon after he was returned, suffered defeat through the intervention of a Labor candidate. The Liberal and Laborite together received 5,146 votes against 3,227 for the successful Unionist, H. J. MacKinder.

The central division of Glasgow re-elected the Right Hon. C. Scott-Dickson, Unionist. Blackfriars division of Glasgow is again in the Labor column, G. N. Barnes winning with an increased majority.

Glasgow Tradeston goes over to the Liberals, A. Cameron Corbett, who was elected as a Unionist in 1906, but left the party on account of its opposition to the licensing bill, being elected as a Ministerialist. The other divisions of Glasgow, including Strollox, which was represented by T. McKinnon Wood, Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, gave increased majorities for the Government.

Nottingham, like all the Midland towns, shows a strong partiality for tariff reform.

Mr. Asquith, speaking in East Fife, deprecated the importation into a domestic, constitutional, Parliamentary struggle of the opinion of foreign countries. It was a novelty of a dangerous and objectionable character.

"It is still less legitimate," he continued, "to import the supposed opinion of the colonies. We are agreed in our affection for the colonies in our desire in every way compatible with the interests of the people of this country, to cement the imperial fabric, to tighten the bond and deepen the common-sense of attachment, of loyalty and affection, but the colonies, and the wise, prudent and far-sighted statesmen who govern their destinies, would be first to deprecate that any kind of pressure should appear to be exercised by them on the free judgment of the people of this country." (Cheers.)

Mr. Asquith proceeded to say he remembered well the colonial conference and the Premier of the great self-governing Dominion saying, when discussing the question of preference, that if he thought the granting of a preference would lead to any increase in the cost of living to the poor, he would be the last person to advocate it.

Mr. Lloyd-George at Conway, Wales, said that at the present moment Liberals have a majority of votes which is quite out of proportion to anything we have got in the matter of seats. Therefore we feel our majority rests on a firm footing. "Unless I am mistaken," he said, "it is going to be a bigger majority than the Tories got at the khaki election of 1900." (Cheers.)

HON. ADAM BECK BEFORE CONSERVATION COMMISSION

He Tells of the Origin of Ontario's Scheme, How it Was Brought About, and What it Proposes to Do — The Mediation of the Commission Has Been of Advantage to the Vested Interests.

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—The Commission of Conservation devoted the second day of its first annual meeting to a large extent to the technical investigations of the forestry problem. The wide province outlined Tuesday by Hon. Clifford Sifton had to be broken into smaller districts, each in a measure independent, yet each coming under the purview of the commission.

The voice of a professor was first heard in the sessions yesterday when Dr. B. E. Fernow, dean of the faculty of forestry in the University of Toronto, gave an illuminating technical exposition on the subject of "Forestry."

By special contribution, Hon. Adam Beck, Ontario's Minister of Power, addressed the commission.

Mr. Beck's address was on the "Conservation of the Water Powers of Ontario." He ascribed his invitation to the fact that he had been associated with the effort to conserve them with a due regard to vested interests, and dealt with the subject in five aspects: 1. The antecedents and origin of the Ontario commission. 2. The scope of the legislation creating it. 3. The scope, progress, and value of the undertaking. 4. The effect upon vested interests. 5. The probable future of the commission.

The commission was born of a widespread public demand that steps be taken to preserve and develop the people's rights in the provincial waterpowers, and to protect them from the baneful effects of monopoly prices.

With respect to vested interests, at Port Arthur the Kaministaquia Power Co.'s interests had been distinctly steadied and improved by the mediation of the commission, and a similar effect had been obtained at Ottawa. The Electrical Development Co. had been offered a share of the commission's requirements of power, but declined to supply it. Its bonds had risen to 82 1-4—90 1-4 in 1908 from 72 84 in 1907. As the bonds have steadily improved in value the company had evidently sustained no injury.

"In prosecuting this work," concluded Mr. Beck, speaking of the future of the commission, as representing the Government and all the people, "just as it will not be deterred by slander, neither will it be hurried by impatient clamor, it will proceed cautiously and prudently step by step, testing and proving its way, that its progress may be real and enduring."

"This is the task to which I have set my hand. This is the task to which I shall devote my public life. It is no ignoble work. I am not ashamed of it. I am well assured that the vilification of the present will give place to the vindication of the future. Its consummation will contribute to national strength and national greatness."

DOMINION GOVERNMENT PRESENTS A QUARTETTE OF MINISTERIAL BILLS

One is Mr. Oliver's Proposed Immigration Act, Second by Mr. Pugsley Relates to Protection of Navigable Waters, and Two are by Mr. Lemieux

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Four Government bills were introduced in the House yesterday. Mr. Oliver's immigration bill, Mr. Pugsley's bill relating to the protection of navigable waters, and two bills by Mr. Lemieux, having for their object control of cable rates by the Board of Railway Commissioners.

Mr. Oliver explained that the immigration act of 1906 required to be amended because of the changed conditions of immigration since that year. The principle of the act is not altered; it is contended simply in its method of operation by reason of the necessity of adopting active exclusive conditions at the international boundary. The act of 1906 has European immigrants more particularly in view.

It is provided in the bill that a board of inquiry will deal with immigrants and will have the responsibility regarding all undesirables. It is also provided that, until the immigrant has been passed by the officers of the Government, he will not be able to avail himself of the protection of the courts of the country.

Under the present act no bridges, wharves or piers are allowed to be built on navigable waters which would be a hindrance to navigation unless authority is given by the governor-in-council, but doubt has sometimes arisen as to what constitutes a hindrance to navigation. By Mr. Pugsley's bill, any bridge, boom, dam, wharf, pier or structure of any kind which is to be erected on navigable waters must be approved.

Mr. Lemieux's two bills include the transatlantic wireless companies, and provides that within four months cable companies must file their tariffs with the Railway Board.

David Henderson asked the Premier when the report as to the regulations governing fishing in international waters would be made public. Sir Wilfrid replied that as it had been agreed that they are to proclaim simultaneously in Washington and Ottawa, he could not give a definite answer.

Mr. Foster drew attention to a proclamation regarding the United States tariff in which it was stated that Great Britain would have the benefit of the minimum tariff. Would this mean Canada also?

Sir Wilfrid said that such was his view, and he understood that the Minister of Finance took the same view. Mr. Foster remarked that he was of a similar opinion.

As far as can be established by testimony, the opponents of the Miller bill to prohibit racecourse betting have declared that thoroughbred blood is necessary in horse breeding, that the standard can only be attained and maintained by racing, and that interference with the legal right to make wagers on the course would deteriorate or destroy racing.

Dr. McEachran of Montreal was the first witness at yesterday morning's sitting. He came unsolicited, and without interest in any club, but because of his concern for breeding. He never made a bet, but he added his testimony to that of the other witnesses that racing was necessary, and that without betting it would fall into disuse.

To Mr. Raney, he said that eliminating the bookmaker had not improved either the quality or the quantity of the attendance in New York.

Another master of hounds, A. E. Ogilvie of the Montreal Hunt, said that between the close of the old Bel-Air Jockey Club and the opening of the new Blue Bonnets track there was an interregnum in breeding, and not a thoroughbred stallion in three counties, but it had revived since racing was re-established.

The Senate banking and commerce committee yesterday morning resumed consideration of the Government's insurance bill.

J. K. Macdonald, Toronto, suggested a change for the benefit of British companies in the clause calling for a gain and loss exhibit.

He objected to the clause forbidding a life company with impaired capital to amalgamate, to the clauses forbidding extra commissions or bonuses to agents for obtaining business and to the clause forbidding emoluments of directors without the authority of the shareholders.

To the ten-year salary agreement limitation clause an addition was asked to allow renewal commissions to be paid for ten years after policy issue.

To the investment clause an addition was asked to enable companies to invest in securities guaranteed by municipalities and in preferred stocks having paid dividends for three years and common for five years if guaranteed by another company.

RUSSIAN YOUTH WAS KIDNAPPED BY GIPSY BAND

Is Being Sought in Canada---Believed to Have Been With the Band That Camped Near Peterboro' Last Summer---Story Reads Like Page From Fiction.

That Canadian police authorities are making enquiries regarding the 10-year-old son of a Russian nobleman who was kidnapped by gypsies and brought to Canada, is the story published in the Chicago Record Herald. The article states that the Dominion police are in communication with authorities at Warsaw, Russia, and at Edmonton, Alta.

Colonel Sherwood, chief of the Dominion police, when questioned by a reporter at Ottawa, said he knew nothing about this but that the Northwest Mounted Police might be acting in connection with the case.

The Record Herald says: "The youth is in an industrial school and the Dominion police are in communication with the Russian police at Warsaw, as well as with the Russian nobleman, who is the father of the stolen child.

"The story reads like a page from fiction, but the authorities have no reason to doubt the tale told by the little captive.

WAS KIDNAPPED

"While playing before his father's mansions two years ago, the boy says he was suddenly caught up and carried off by gypsies to their camp on the outskirts of the city. He was kept hidden for a month or more, until the band thought it safe to try to get a ransom.

"But Baron Taschzhwer was scouring the city and district and the gypsies had to flee to Moscow and thence to the plains of northern Russia. There they got a Greek priest to give them a birth certificate for the boy and they went to Canada.

"Arriving in that country early last summer they were met at the coast and smuggled in by a band of gypsies under a chief named Stephen George. The newly arrived Russian band was a portion of a community of about 300 persons, over whom Stephen George was "king." They joined the main band near Fredericton, N.B., and marched west, stopping at Ottawa and Peterborough.

"For two months the section of the band that stole the child had camped near Edmonton, being held by the immigration authorities, who discovered that they had been smuggled in and were arranging to deport them.

"Last week the band was visited by a Greek priest, who learned the boy's story."

EDUCATIONAL CONGRESS AT THE CAPITAL

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—A public meeting in connection with the French-Canadian Educational Congress of Ontario was held last evening in the Russell Theatre, which was filled to overflowing. Senator Belcourt presided.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier described the English language as the business language of to-day and French the language of the heart. He regretted that in Quebec English was somewhat neglected in the schools.

PROTEST AGAINST USE OF THE MAILS

Toronto, Jan. 20.—Strong representations are being made to the Postmaster-General by the National Sunday League against the methods of the Lord's Day Alliance in using the mails to intimidate suspected Sabbath breakers. This action, the league claims is an attempt to usurp civil functions and act as self-appointed judge, jury and executioner. A circular of the alliance sent out to supposed offenders is quoted. It says in part: "We have no desire to cause you trouble or expense, although we are expected to report the complaint to the authorities for prosecution; are writing you, without prejudice, this friendly letter to ask you to have all such work on the Lord's Day discontinued.

"We will be pleased to hear from you by return mail, and beg to assure you that if you will state this Sunday work will not be carried on hereafter, we will not report the complaint."

This, V. J. Gilpin, secretary of the National Sunday League, states is virtually offering a compounding of the offence if the incriminating assurance asked for is forwarded promptly.

"All this means," he says, "that the alliance is collecting a large number of documents, which might be used to incriminate the persons scared into sending them."

WAS FINED FOR KEEPING LIQUOR

Ayton, Jan. 20.—Before W. H. Ryan, M.P. for South Grey, Martin Bolger of Preston Township, pleaded guilty to keeping liquor for sale and was fined $40 and costs. It was his second offence. Preston is a local option township.

His wife Ann Bolger, also pleaded guilty of obstructing officers in a search of the hotel and was fined $100 and costs. The raid was made on the 12th by Provincial Inspector Ayearst, and two officers. When they entered the bar, Mrs. Bolger seized a bottle of whisky and threw its contents on the floor.

MISS FIELDING IS WEDDED AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—The marriage took place in the First Baptist Church at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon of Miss Janet Louise Fielding, eldest daughter of Hon. W. S. Fielding, to Kuinoff Nicholson MacFee of London, Eng., and formerly of Montreal.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Cameron, Ottawa, and Rev. Dr. Dewey of Montreal, in the presence of a brilliant gathering, which included Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, and members of the Cabinet and their wives.

The bridal couple will spent the honeymoon in England and on the continent.

MITCHELL NOW HAS A MAD DOG SCARE

Mitchell, Jan. 20.—This town has a "mad dog" scare. A dog resembling a coach dog belonging to James Pullman, is supposed to have gone mad Tuesday evening, as it snapped at everything it passed and attacked people without warning or provocation.

They were able to beat it off, but several times had very narrow escapes, as it pulled the mitts off two men and made teeth marks on another. The dog was at large all night and as men began to go to work yesterday morning it again commenced its attacks, springing at them. It was shot at 7.30 a.m. by Constable Ingram, who has since shot several dogs which came in contact with the mad dog.

The Town Council has issued a proclamation that all dogs at large for the next two months not wearing a muzzle will be shot.

SWITZERLAND HAD SOME WIND STORM

Geneva, Jan. 20.—The scores of American visitors at the fashionable Alpine resorts are imprisoned indefinitely on account of the heavy continuous rains.

Such a condition has never been known before in Switzerland. In the upper regions the snowfall measured from three to ten feet, and large sections on the mountain railroads have been washed out or are buried under the snow. Miles of wire are down and it will take weeks to repair the damage.

The wind blew at times at the rate of 110 miles an hour. A dozen towns and a score of villages are suffering from the floods, torrents running through the streets.

No deaths are reported so far, but three Americans are missing from Davos. They left on a skiing expedition a day or two ago and have not since been heard from.

CHURCH VS. THE STATE

French Cabinet Minister Replies to Church Attacks Trouble Over School Question.

Paris, France, Jan. 20.—Minister of Public Instruction Doumergue replied yesterday to the violent attacks made by the Catholic Deputies upon the character of the teaching in the public schools.

He declared that the war proclaimed by the church against the public schools was directed exclusively by enemies of the republic, insisting that the letter of the episcopate constituted an attempt by threats to enforce the superiority of the church's authority over that of the Government.

M. Doumergue declared that the Catholics' complaints against the text books on history used in the public schools was due solely to the fact that these histories gave the facts impartially. The histories used in the Catholic schools taught, not history of the world's events, but the history of the church, and condemned everything inimical to the church interests.

The Minister instanced a case where priests had refused the last sacraments to a farmer unless he would agree that his son should be placed in a Catholic school.

Nevertheless he asserted that the campaign which the country understood to be purely political had failed except in a few isolated districts.

M. Doumergue announced that in addition to the measures already made known, the Government would introduce bills requiring diplomas from Catholic school teachers in conformity with the laws of hygiene, etc., that were applicable to the faculties of the public schools.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

The collapse of a pool in Hocking Coal & Iron caused the suspension of two New York brokerage firms.

Savings deposits in Canadian banks at the end of the year were almost five hundred millions, a record level. Total deposits in Canadian banks were over $835,000,000. Business loans were $592,000,000.

Fire did $6,000 damage to the King Edward Hotel at Kenora, and the Windsor Hotel at Bradwardine, Man., was damaged to double that amount, the guests having a hard time in making their escape.

Four girls and one man leaped to death yesterday in a panic caused by a fire in the four-storey factory building in Philadelphia. Five others received injuries from which they will probably die, and many more were less seriously hurt.

CARNEGIE HERO MEDALS GIVEN

Pittsburg, Jan. 20.—Five silver and 12 bronze medals were awarded by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission and about $19,000 in money. The acts of heroism cover rescues from drowning, electrocution, trains, fire and suffocation.

John A. Grady of East Baltic, P.E.I., and Duncan J. Campbell, Campbell's Cover, P.E.I., receive bronze medals and small cash awards for rescuing three foreigners from a ship that had broken its back on a reef in the Gulf of St. Lawrence at Priests' Pond in November, 1906.

SURPRISE FOR MR. CREELMAN

Guelph, Jan. 20.—Prof. G. C. Creelman of the Ontario Agricultural College was yesterday in receipt of many inquiries from friends and politicians throughout Ontario, anent the suggestion in yesterday morning's World that he should become leader of the Ontario Liberal opposition.

Mr. Creelman has no inclination toward political life, and he stated last night that the matter had never been broached to him before by anyone.

INCENDIARIES FIRED A JAIL

Huntington, W.Va., Jan. 20.—The jail of Lincoln County, twenty miles from this place, was burned to the ground by incendiaries yesterday.

A dozen prisoner were rescued, only after holes were battered in the brick walls of the cell rooms.

Two months ago yesterday the Lincoln County Court house was destroyed by fire.

Bloodhounds are now on the trail of the incendiaries.

LATEST PLAN OF COUNT ZEPPELIN

Cologne, Jan. 20.—Count Zeppelin is planning a monster airship capable of carrying 300 persons to be used in a passenger service between Hamburg and London. A service will also be maintained from Hamburg to Cologne and Baden-Baden.

The craft will be 984 feet long and about 85 feet in diameter. It will be driven by eight motors.

Serious Charge Against Senator.

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 20.—The State Senate proposes to sift to the bottom the published accusation by Senator Conger of Tompkins, against Senator Jotham P. Allds, while Republican leader of the Assembly, received money for aiding in the defeat of legislation before the House.

Fierce Storms In France.

Paris, Jan. 20.—Storms of exceptional violence have been raging for the past 48 hours, the centre being in the east of France. Rivers have overflowed their banks in many places.

Belfort is completely under water and Moselle is partially flooded.

Allowed Miners In Bar.

Uxbridge, Jan. 20.—Charles Haley of Atherley Junction, was before Police Magistrate Wm. Hamilton yesterday on a charge of permitting minors to loiter in his bar. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

HEROISM COST MAN HIS LIFE

Brockville, Jan. 20.—James Lee, victim of the fire at his home near Lyn on Sunday night, died yesterday, the result of his gallant attempt in saving the lives of three children from the upper portion of the house which was in flames. He was 48 years old.

The house with its contents was destroyed and Lee's wife and nine children are without a home, and with no means left for their keep. One sister is Mrs. Rev. W. G. Henderson of Montreal.

KILLED HIS WIFE WITH AN AXE

Seaford, Del., Jan. 20.—Geo. Driggins, a young man living near here, arose early yesterday and started to his work on a neighboring farm, but returned shortly afterwards, and finding his wife still in bed, grabbed an axe and killed her.

A posse found a hole broken in the ice on a pond, and Driggins' cap was lying near, but hours of searching in the water failed to reveal the body.

TO DISARM THE NEW YORK POLICE

New York, Jan. 20.—Following the dismissal from the police department yesterday of a patrolman on a charge of clubbing a prisoner, it was announced that Mayor Gaynor is in favor of depriving policemen of clubs and revolvers. It is predicted that an order will soon be issued disarming the police at least of their clubs.

$10,000 Purse For Peary.

New York, Jan. 20.—A national testimonial, with a purse of $10,000 for Robert E. Peary, is planned for the evening of Feb. 8 when Governor Hughes will preside at the Metropolitan Opera House. The testimonial will be under the auspices of the civic forum. Commander Peary will tell the story of his trip to the Pole.

Prices to Tumble.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 20.—On the evening of the third day of the 10,000 workingmen's strike against meat eating, announcement was made here yesterday by the packing-houses, which practically control local meat prices, of a reduction of one cent a pound in the price of pork loins.

Girl Strikers Fight In New York.

New York, Jan. 20.—A clash between shirt waist girl strikers and non-union workers developed into a riot on Spring street yesterday, and the police had to be called out to restore order. Finger nails, fists and feet were used promiscuously in the encounter.

A FAIR QUESTION

"Britain has not forgotten the days of Protection. The plausible arguments of those who would make the people rich by taxation do not take hold!"—The Globe.

This paragraph, like many others of the same tenor, is levelled at the alleged fallacy of Protection. The Globe, however, in spite of numerous inquiries, declines to condemn the Laurier protection policy. Is this fair? Is it frank?

Once again, therefore, we ask the oft-repeated question: "Will the Globe come out fairly and frankly and say that the present tariff policy in Canada is a wrong one?

We venture to say that if it did it would not last an hour. The Globe knows that it was only on Sir Wilfrid's promising to maintain Protection that even the men of his own party voted for him.

It is such inconsistencies as these upon the part of a really great newspaper that shatter public confidence in political relations in Canada.

THE GERMAN SCARE

Ottawa Citizen.

It is the fashion to loudly denounce as war scare mongers those who dare to warn the people of the British Empire that Germany is preparing for war with the same scientific persistence and energy that characterized the course of Japan previous to the attack on Russia. But Canadians who have visited Germany during the past year are bearing witness in private to the abundant evidence of this fact. Occasionally these statements are quoted in print, and the people who make them are not of the class that could even be remotely described as scare mongers. A clergyman's wife in Stratford, a physician in Hamilton, and one of the most prominent merchants in Ottawa, have each spent several months in Germany, and the reports they bring home are all the same, that the German people and the German government are a unit in the determination to wrest the naval supremacy from Great Britain and loot the Empire. In the face of the conflicting statements regarding the intentions of Germany, Everybody's Magazine, one of the most enterprising publications in the United States, has sent a special commissioner to Germany to try to get at the truth and the following in part, is what he writes;

Everything considered, I think that England has good cause to lie awake o' nights. Twice has the Kaiser declared that the future of Germany lies upon the seas. Repeatedly has Germany refused to discuss her vast armaments or to give any reason for the frantic haste with which they are being increased; the whole of her shipbuilding yards are engaged in an unparalleled scheme of naval construction: scores of her leading writers make no secret of her intentions; history has shown that on previous occasions she has made unprovoked and sudden attacks on other nations, and, most significant of all, the coal-carrying capacity of the ships she is building so hurriedly and which, she insists, are designed solely for the protection of her trade routes, limits their radius of action to the North sea. There is the disquieting fact. Today the ambitions of the Kaiser are boundless. He seeks to dominate the continent as the first step towards dominating the world. Look at it any way you will, there can be but one end to a race which is impoverishing both nations, and that end is war. If England wins, she will have secured herself for half a century to come. If Germany triumphs, her victory will give her the position that England holds now, it will make free trade in England one of the terms of peace; it will give her a free hand in the Balkans, in Mesopotamia and in Persia; will give her the pick of England's colonies overseas, and a billion dollars indemnity with which to build a navy to overawe the world.

There has been a good deal of discussion as to the actual cost of Dreadnoughts, and it is usually put in round figures at $10,000,000. The exact cost of the original Dreadnought, as set forth in the British Navy League Annual, is £1,813,100 or $9,811,666. Two Dreadnoughts would cost £3,626,200 or almost exactly the same cost as such a fleet unit as was asked for by the British admiralty, the estimated cost of which, as stated in the official report of the Imperial conference, would be £3,700,000.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Of 519 arrests last year in Peterborough only ten were of women. This is surely a creditable record.

When Sir Wilfrid and his merry men decided to vote for Mr. Lancaster's bill to abolish the Senate they were Conservative. That is something of what Conservatism consists.

Here's an unbiased opinion from the Montreal Witness, Liberal;

In these days, when wars are in full action before even the newspapers can publish the fact, a navy that could not go into action before parliament had first been convened and debated the matter, would be an absurdity, a delusion and a snare.—Hamilton Herald.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged — United States Markets Steady to Lower.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—London and Liverpool cables quote live cattle (American) firm, at 12½c to 14½c, dressed weight; refrigerator beef higher, at 9½c to 10½c per pound.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.—(Special.)—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market this morning offerings were 1100 cattle, 1900 sheep and lambs, 650 hogs and 130 calves. A somewhat easier feeling prevails, as supplies were much larger, and prices were about ¼c per lb. lower. The attendance of buyers was large, and an active trade was done. There were a few choice loads of steers from Toronto, which drovers lost money on, owing to the heavy shrinkage while in transit. Choice steers sold at 6¼c; good at 5¾c to 6c; fairly good at 5½c to 5¾c, fair at 4¾c to 5c; medium at 4¼c to 4½c; cows at 2c to 4c, and bulls at 3c to 4¼c per lb.

The market for sheep and lambs was very firm on account of small offerings. Lambs sold at 6½c to 7c, and sheep at 4½c per lb. The demand for calves was good, prices ranging from $3 to $10 each, and in a few instances as high as $13 and $14.

There was no further change in hog prices, being steady at the decline noted on Monday. Supplies were not large, and demand fair, and sales of selected lots were made at $9 to $9.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 19.—Cattle—Receipts, 100 head; fair demand and steady; prime steers, $6.65 to $7.

Veals—Receipts, 150 head; active and steady.

Hogs—Receipts, 2800 head; active; heavy steady; light 5c to 10c lower; mixed, $8.75 to $9; yorkers, $8.85 to $8.95; pigs, $8.85 to $8.90; roughs, $8.20 to $8.35; dairies, $8.85 to $8.95.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 10,000 head; sheep active; yearlings, $7.80 to $7.75; wethers, $6.75 to $6.50; ewes, $5.50 to $6; sheep, mixed, $3 to $6; Canada lambs, $8.25 to $8.50.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Beeves—Receipts, 2508; generally lower; steers, $5.35 to $6.50; oxen, $4.50 to $6; bulls, $4 to $5; cows, $2.80 to $4.75; dressed beef, 8½c to 11c; fancy, 11½c. Exports, 35 cattle.

Calves—Receipts, 1380; veals steady; barnyard calves and westerns slow to easier; veals, $7 to $11; culls, $5 to $6.50; barnyard calves, $4 to $4.50; fed do., $5; Indiana calves, $5.50 to $6; westerns, $5.50; dressed veals steady to firm; dressed barnyard calves slow, at 8c to 10c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6791; sheep steady, lambs 25c lower; sheep, $4 to $5.50; culls, $2.50 to $3.75; lambs, $7.25 to $9; yearlings, $7.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 6407; market full steady, at $9.90 to $9; few light; heavy quotable at $9.10.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Cattle—Receipts, 20,000; market steady; steers, $5 to $8.10; cows, $3.50 to $5.50; heifers, $3.40 to $5; bulls, $4 to $5.15; calves, $3 to $9.75; stockers and feeders, $3.75 to $5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 35,000; market 5c lower; choice, heavy, $8.70 to $8.80; butchers, $8.65 to $8.75; light, mixed, $8.40 to $8.50; choice, light, $8.50 to $8.60; packing, $8.55 to $8.70; pigs, $7.70 to $8.30; bulk of sales, $8.50 to $8.70.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 20,000; market steady; sheep, $5 to $6.20; lambs, $7 to $8.75; yearlings, $6.25 to $8.35.

Runaway Locomotive Kills Man.

Nelson, B.C., Jan. 20.—The engine of the Slocan City train, left at the coal pit ready for the run, suddenly started and ran swiftly into the C.P.R. roundhouse. W. H. Torrey, a boilermaker's helper, was badly crushed and died in a few minutes. It is thought that there was either a leaky throttle or that some one tampered with the engine.

Bitten by Mad Dog.

Brantford, Jan. 20.—Word was received here yesterday that the test of the head of the dog which inflicted wounds on Mrs. Fred O'Reilly and her son at Burtch's Corners showed unmistakable signs of rabies. The dog was kept on the farm by the woman herself. Both are being rushed to the Pasteur Institute, New York, for treatment.

Fined for Personation.

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Alfred Roberge, Joseph Gouvillen and Mathias Gouvillen, who pleaded guilty to personation in the recent municipal election, were each fined the light penalty of $12 in police court.

Alfred R. Heaume, charged with being the instigator, was acquitted.

Church Workers Rewarded.

Galt, Jan. 20.—A. J. Colvin, secretary, and Alf. Taylor, treasurer of Central Presbyterian Church, were each presented with a gold watch and chain by the congregation. They have been officers of the church 20 years.

The church will spend $6,000 on improvements.

Remarkable Recovery.

Galt, Jan. 20.—A. G. Rogers, C.P.R. fireman, the victim of the accident at Ayr on Oct. 15, left Galt Hospital yesterday for his home in London in a fair way to recovery. Rogers had sustained a compound fracture of the spine and was paralysed.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF "OPPORTUNITY" FROM ITS VARIOUS STANDPOINT

Interesting Paper of Practical Value Read by Miss Eva Tagney at Meeting of T.A.S. Ladies Literary Society —An Able Delineation of an Interesting Subject.

At the usual fortnightly meeting of the Ladies' Literary of St Peter's T. the following interesting paper was read by Miss Eva Tagney:—

"OPPORTUNITY"

In selecting "Opportunity" for my subject this evening, I have endeavored to choose something that will be beneficial, as well as interesting, to all those who kindly favor us with their presence on these occasions. In order to bring this subject before your minds in as clear and simple a manner as possible, I have considered it advisable to divide it into two parts, namely, "Opportunity" in the higher or moral sense of the word, and "Opportunity" in its material sense.

"Opportunity," which means, "near port," close to haven, is a word which, like so many others that are excellent, we get from the Romans. It is a favorable time or place for learning, or saying, or doing a thing.

Occasions of becoming and doing good are always with us, and wherever we be there is opportunity of turning to gold the dust of daily happenings. It is true that few can utter words of wisdom but opportunity to speak kind words is offered to everyone, and, after all, are they not more helpful? Our home, our books, our city, our work, the people who love us, and those who hate us, what is all this but opportunity? Whatever can help us to think and love; whatever can make us humble and serviceable, though it be a trifle light as air, is opportunity. Even the senses are opportunities, inviting us to look, that we may see and know, to listen that we may hear and understand.

As life is of inestimable value, no occasion by which it may be improved, can be small. There is a place and means for all, but we lack faith, hope, earnestness; we lack aim and purpose. We are voluble with excuses; we have not the leisure, we have not the means. But leisure to improve one's self is never wanting, and they who seek it find the means. Let a person have but an aim, a purpose, and opportunities to attain that end shall start like buds at the kiss of spring. The important thing is to pursue it with perseverance. Success is but a command to attempt higher things, and failure is but an exhortation to make another attempt. It is so easy for us to persuade ourselves that, were circumstances more favorable, we would do better. Then again, we sometimes imagine that we lack material things, but what we really need is more and divider life.

What use is to make of opportunity depends on the person to whom it is offered. They may adore or they may mock; they may love or they may scorn; they may get understanding or steep themselves in denser ignorance. "Nothing," says St. Bernard, "can work me danger, except myself. The harm I sustain I carry about with me, and never am a real sufferer but by my own faults." The majority will not lay hold on opportunity unless it is thrust upon them and even then they are listless and irresolved, only the few rise above the crowd, who are ever alert to discover how they may improve themselves.

Perfection is indeed beyond our reach, but they who seriously strive to become perfect acquire excellencies and virtues. If they cannot do great things, there are ever present opportunities of doing small things well, and great occasions come to those alone who make good use of the minor occurences with which the lives of all are filled. Is there not always opportunity to love and cheer, to console and enlighten, and to deny one's self? Is opportunity lacking to be polite, obliging and amiable, to listen with attention, to speak what is better than silence, to observe carefully, and to do right? Is opportunity lacking to speak truth and to live within one's means? Is it difficult to find occasion for being sincere and honest?

As the measure of the value of opportunity is its influence on religion and moral life, therefore, the only right opportunities are those which help to make us god-like, strong, patient, active, wise, benevolent, useful and holy. It is only when we are following in God's footsteps that we come to understand that life is opportunity, rich as earth, wide as heaven and deep as the soul. During our Saviour's lifetime on earth He taught us the sweet lesson that the secret of true life is in doing well what our Heavenly Father gives us to do. He himself met with no occasion which may not be offered to anyone. Opportunity for many things may be lacking, but it is always possible to do what he owes to one's condition.

How often in our daily intercourse with humanity do we show numberless occasions to slip by, unheeded, as it were, and in looking backward through the years that have gone by do not lost opportunities flee before us, but the past is irrecoverable, therefore we must do what we can here and now. The wise need no voice that bids them lose heart.

Now we come to the material sense of opportunity, or in other words, we will look at it from a temporal point of view. We have all heard the only too familiar expression that such a person had every advantage, but failed to make use of it; but let this not be said of us, who live in the golden age, where, as it were, opportunity knocks at our doors, looks in at our windows, shoulders us as we pass along the streets, and suggests to us new chances for useful life in our morning and evening papers. The fact of the matter is that opportunities are so near us that we fail to appreciate them in the proper manner and let slip the days that can never be recalled.

"Man," says Matthews, "is to a great extent the child of opportunity." Estimate as we may the power of the individual and his achievement of success, there is yet another factor in the product, therefore, we must be prepared for the occasion when it comes. If we are not our ignorance and incompetency will be displayed and the opportunity will be useless to us. It was a saying of Disraeli that the secret of success in life is for a person to be ready for the occasion when it comes.

This point is illustrated by an oft-told anecdote of Ole Bull, the eminent violinist, who, having accidentally been beard by Malebran, the songstress was invited to entertain the audience at one of her concerts. His playing in that single hour placed him near the head of the musical world. It was to him the hour of opportunity, and he was prepared for it.

This is further illustrated by the story of the scullion-boy, Antonio, who was not only an occasional stone-cutter, but who had become greatly skilled in the use of his tools. Usually serving as a mere scullion-boy in the kitchen of Signor Faliero, he was absolutely unknown to fame. On one occasion, however, when his master was preparing a banquet and the ornamental word which the confectioner had prepared for the centre of the table was spoiled in the making, Antonio offered to supply what was lacking. Calling for a quantity of butter, he quickly moulded a large, crouching lion, which was placed upon the table. Among the guests were several skilled critics of art, who, when their eyes fell on this work of genius, asked what eminent sculptor had prepared it. When the story was told the host declared that he would pay Antonio's expenses to pursue artistic studies, and the scullion-boy, who was prepared for this opportunity when it came, is now known, in the history of art by the name of Canova, one of the greatest sculptors of all time. If this boy had not been ready for his opportunity when it came, he would have lived and died a scullion.

The seizing of an opportunity is of the utmost importance, even though the remuneration may seem small and inadequate. An example of this is to be found in the history of John Grant, who worked in a hardware store at $2.00 per week. It was said to him by his employer upon entering his store, "Make yourself useful by becoming acquainted with all the details of the business, and as fast as you prove yourself capable, he will recognize your services in some way." After several weeks young Grant, who had been closely watching, observed that his employer always attended to the checking of the bills of imported foreign goods. These were in French and German, and he at once set to work to learn commercial French and German. One day his employer was much pressed for time, and Grant offered to do the checking for him. He did it so well that the next bills which came in were handed to him as a matter of course. A month later he was called into the office and addressed by the senior member in these words: "In my forty years' experience in this business you are the first boy who has seen this opportunity and improved it. We want you to take charge of the foreign goods. You only of the twenty young men we have here saw the place and fitted yourself for it." John Grant certainly saw the opportunity and fitted himself for it at some sacrifice, but it paid. It always pays.

Then again, we have all heard of the eminent Long Island switchman, Mr. Herbert Vreeland, who, while in some respects the opportunity came to him, yet in the most important sense, he it was who made his own opportunity. So we must make ours. Make it, as Lincoln made his log cabin in the wilderness, as the shepherd boy Kerguson made his, when he calculted the distance of the stars with a handful of beads and a string; as George Stephenson made his, when he mastered the rules of mathematics with a bit of chalk on the sides of the coal waggons in the mines. We must make ours as the deaf and blind Helen Keller made hers, or as everyone must, who would accomplish anything that is worth the effort.

Opportunity is latent in the very foundation of human society. It is everywhere about us, but the preparation to seize the occasion and to make the most of it is to be made by everyone for himself. "Opportunity," says President Garfield, "may be the bugle call that summons an army to battle, but the blast of the bugle-call can never make soldiers or win battles."

Vigilance in watching opportunity, tac tand daring in seizing upon opportunity, force and persistence in crowding opportunity to its utmost possible achievement—these are the martial virtues that command success. It is only for the moment that the favorable occasion is presented. If we miss it, months and years are lost. What is the doing of a deed but the sowing of a seed? If it is not sown at the right time it will not germinate. Sometimes the determining moment is very brief, and if we are on the watch and always ready to seize it, it will make all the difference between failure and success to us.

The power of perception is indeed a wonderful gift. It was a Massachusetts soldier in the Civil army who observed a bird hulling rice. He took the bill of that bird for his model and invented a hulling machine, which revolutionized the rice business. Professor Benedict, upon first hearing the click of the typewriter took in at once the possibilities of the invention. Throwing his Latin away he began to manufacture the Remington typewriter, so useful and to him, so remunerative. Many other illustrations of this principle could be given, but time will not now permit, suffice to say that we must at least keep our eyes open, cultivate our powers of perception and see what we can do.

If there are few who have the faculty of vision, who can see what is a good thing, where others see nothing, there are perhaps still fewer persons who know how to seize upon an opportunity when they see it, very few who have what might be called the executive quality. "What," says George Eliot, "is opportunity to a person who cannot use it?" The pre-eminently successful men are those who have actually improved what opportunities they saw.

An illustration of this is to be found in the story of Mr. Jas. Ryder, a photographer in Cleveland, Ohio. He happened one day to read in a German paper of a new process practiced by the artists of Bolemia, by which they touched up a negative with fine instruments, thus removing any imperfections. Reading this, he immediately sent to Bohemia for an artist, and at length succeeded in bringing the art of Bohemia into his own service. He seized the opportunity by the forelock and secured the best aid possible and then he brought to bear the force of an energetic mind to advertise and extend his business. In a photographic exhibition in Boston, Mr. Ryder took the prize for the best work in America.

Then we have the story of Washburn, who, when he found that no good wire was made in the United States, quietly determined that he himself would make the best wire in the world. He saw a great opportunity, and such was his executive ability that what he thought, he actually did.

We all know of the success of Edison, the inventor, who spent his life in watching for opportunities and in making the most of them by carrying out the ideas which he had. The perceptive and executive qualities were in him well balanced. Many other examples might be given, but to sum it up in a few words, perception and action, a quick eye and clear vision, a vilorous right arm and a deft hand these are the masters of success in any and in every pursuit.

Continuing his subject, we find that there are fit and misfit opportunities and to succeed in any vocation our purpose must be in harmony with our powers. A person out of place is half a person, his very nature being perverted. Swift says:

Brutes find out where their talents lie;
A bear will not attempt to fly;
A foundered horse will oft debate
Before he tries a five-barred gate;
A dog by instinct turns aside,
Who sees the ditch too deep and wide.
But man we find, the only creature,
Who, led by folly, combats nature,
Who, when she loudly cries, "Forbear."
With obstinacy fixes there.
And where his genius least inclines,
Absurdly bends his whole designs.

We must not choose any pursuit because some one else has made a fortune in it or because it is genteel. We must not choose it because we think it is easy, but we must work along the line of our strength and not of our weakness. "No man is born into this world whose work is not born with him," says Lowell, "there is always work and there are tools to work with for all who will."

However difficult it may be to answer the question, "Where is my right place, how shall I find it?" nevertheless it must be answered unless life is to be a failure. And after ascertaining our calling we must stick to it if we wish to be successful. Now, it shortens the road to success to make early a wise choice of ones occupation, to be started on the road of a proper career while young, full of hope and while enthusiasm is vigorous, to feel that every step we take, that every day's work we do helps to broaden, deepen and enrich life. But let us not forget that our occupation must be useful and honorable, must be one which will develop us, elevate us and give us a chance for self-improvement.

"Thy life," says Carlyle, "is all that thou hast to comfort eternity with."

As a conclusion, I will quote the following words of Mary A. Townsend:

To each man's life there comes a time supreme,
One day, one night, on morning or one noon,
One frightened hour, one moment opportune,
One rift through which sublime fulfillments gleam,
One space where fate goes tiding with the stream,
One once, in balance 'twixt Too Late, Too soon,
And ready for the passing instant's boon,
To tip the favor of the uncertain beam.
Ah, happy he who knowing how to wait,
Knows also how to watch and work and stand
On life's broad deck, alert, and at the prow
To seize the passing moment, big with fate,
From opportunity's extended hand.
When the great clock of Destiny, strikes, "Now."

Other numbers on the programme were:

Instrumental—Miss B. Giroux.
Recitation—Miss M. Derocher.
Vocal solo—Miss N. Fitzgerald.

The next reading will be given by Miss N. Fitzgerald on Friday evening, January 28th.

shows its sure heating power by steadily supplying just the heat that is needed for comfort.

The Perfection Oil Heater is unaffected by weather conditions. It never fails. No smoke—no smell—just a genial, satisfying heat. The new prevents the wick being turned too high. Removed in an instant.

Automatic Smokeless Device

Solid brass font holds 4 quarts of oil—sufficient to give out a glowing heat for 9 hours—solid brass wick carriers—damper top—cool handle—oil indicator. Heater beautifully finished in nickel or Japan in a variety of styles.

MUSIC FOR THE MADRIGAL CLUB

Will be Furnished From Mendelssohn Choir Library by Courtesy of Dr. Vogt

Through the courtesy and kindness of Dr. Vogt, of Toronto, conductor of the Mendelssohn Choir, the music for the Conservatory Madrigal Club for the Earl Grey competition is being supplied from the library of the Mendelssohn Choir. The Madrigal Club's special music for the competition was ordered from England, but as it had not arrived as soon as expected, Dr. Vogt informed Mr. Gliddon that anything in the choir's library would be at the disposal of the Peterborough musical organization. He also complimented Mr. Gliddon on the fact that this city would be represented in the competition, and hoped that a wide musical activity would be fostered here as a result.

The Madrigal Club's first rehearsal will be on Tuesday evening.

ELECTED AN ALDERMAN IN NELSON

Mr. W. Rutherford, formerly of Norwood, and well known to many Peterborough people, has been elected an alderman for the town of Nelson, B.C. He headed the poll in the west ward, where there was a very close fight, the first five candidates having a spread of only seventeen votes. There were seven candidates in that ward. Mr. Rutherford is a druggist in Nelson.

BIRTHDAY TEA A GREAT SUCCESS

At Mrs. A. W. Cressman's Residence Under Auspices of George St. Ladies' Aid

The residence of Mr. A. W. Cressman, Brock street, was crowded yesterday afternoon from four to six o'clock, when the Ladies' Aid Society of George street church held one of their quarterly Birthday Teas. Nearly two hundred were present. Those ladies whose birthdays had occurred during the last three months acted as hostesses and were responsible for the programme and refreshments. The tea room was prettily decorated, and looked very inviting, while several young ladies served refreshments.

During the afternoon several vocal and instrumental numbers were given in a most enjoyable manner by Miss Ida Sanderson, Miss Wesson, Miss Pringle, Miss Lillian Fife and Mrs. Rehill.

The tea was a great success in every way and quite a handsome amount was realized.

Don't overlook the free course in stock and seed judging on Jan. 24, 25 and 26 Stock judging in Fitzgerald's building, corner Water and Brock streets. Seed judging in market hall. Injured in Runaway

The horse which Dr. Burnham was driving this afternoon on George street became frightened and ran away. It turned west on Dalhousie street, and the driver was thrown out as the cutter overturned. Dr. Burnham was assisted into the residence of Mrs. R. A Davidson, and it was found that he was injured about the face. The injuries were not serious.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Friday, January 28th.

NOAH WAS BLACKBALLED

Detroit, Mich.—The Society of Naval Architects rejected Noah for honorary membership, when his name was proposed as the father of the ship designing profession. The reason given was "that Noah was a gamekeeper and not a ship designer primarily".

It all depends on the point of view. It is the same with "Fruit-a-tives".

Some people take "Fruit-a-tives" for Constipation and Biliousness. Others use them for Stomach Troubles and Dyspepsia. Still others find "Fruit-a-tives" an excellent tonic and blood purifier. Many more say that "Fruit-a-tives" are the best Kidney Regulator and a certain cure for Neuralgia and Rheumatism. For all these troubles, "Fruit-a-tives" may be said to be infallible.

Everywhere in Canada — in the crowded city—on the lonely prairie—in fishing villages and mining camps—people depend on "Fruit-a-tives" to cure them and keep them well.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c —or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

THE METROPOLITAN LIFE GIVES BENEFITS

Unexpected blessings are usually those most appreciated. When they fall like "the gentle dew from Heaven" upon those actually in need of it, as in the case of most life insurers, they are doubly blessed. The Metropolitan Life Assurance Co. sets out in its statement the fact that it has given —actually given—to its policy-holders in voluntary bonuses, or in the form of bonuses, no less a sum than five and one-quarter millions of dollars. How many families have been pulled out of financial difficulties that threatened to overwhelm them by just such financial assistance coming at the right moment when "all seemed lost." But more even than this is the spirit manifested in the company's action. It breeds a confidence and good-will in the policy-holder that in themselves are services of joy and comfort.

New C.P.R. Agent In Europe.

Montreal, Jan. 20.—A cable yesterday announces the appointment of George McL. Brown as European agent of the C.P.R., replacing the late Archer Baker.

The new agent is a son of Adam Brown of Hamilton, and has been traffic agent in London.

He was formerly executive officer of the company at Vancouver.

Central Canada to Go Ahead.

Montreal, Jan. 20.—Financial arrangements have been made which will assure the construction of the Central Railway of Canada without delay.

This line goes up the Ottawa River on the north side from Montreal to the Great Lakes, and it is said that Mackenzie and Mann will get running powers from Montreal to Hawkesbury over the projected railway.

Thrown From Rig and Killed.

Clinton, Jan. 20.—Yesterday morning George Nott, a much-respected citizen, met his death while driving. His horse became unmanageable upsetting the rig and throwing the occupants out. Mr. Nott died almost instantly. His wife escaped uninjured. He leaves a grown-up family.

A Bank Story Denied.

Montreal, Jan. 20.—E. L. Pease, vice-president and general manager of the Royal Bank, emphatically denied that the Royal has absorbed, or will absorb, the Colonial Bank, saying also that there is, absolutely nothing that could lead up to such a story.

A Mother's Heroism.

New York, Jan. 20. Life-giving blood from his mother's veins so invigorated six-year-old Arthur Shibley that yesterday the doctors believed that the lad shot by a maniac on Washington Heights last week would recover. She is so weakened she cannot speak.

School Roof Collapsed.

Coffeyville, Kans., Jan 21.—The roof of a public school building here collapsed yesterday, killing one person, injuring three others and causing a panic among the children.

Lost In the Snow.

St. Thomas, Jan. 20.—James Caruth, a man 45 years of age, who lived near Dutton, has been missing from his home for some days. He was traced two miles north in the direction of Cowal, and at this point marks showed that he had climbed out of a snowbank.

It is feared he may have perished.

Eaten Alive by Wolves.

Vienna, Jan. 20.—Baron Otto Von Orban, a rich land owner, while riding through the forest in Transilvania was pursued by a pack of wolves. The excited horse threw him and the wolves tore him to pieces.

Rebellion In Uruguay.

Montevideo, Jan. 20.—A rebellion has broken out in the provinces. The Government, however, expects to put it down promptly.

BAD LEG FOR SIX YEARS!

Zam-Buk Works Complete Cure

Have you a bad leg? Some ulcerated patch, some old wound, some abscess which refuses to heal? If so, why not test the merits of Zam-Buk, which is compounded specially to heal such sores?

Mrs. John Parkinson, of East Clifton, Que., writes: "Six years ago I bruised my leg, and caused an ulcer which refused to heal, and made me very lame. I had medical attention, but got no good, and suffered from that time forward. One day I saw Zam-Buk advertised, and decided to give it a trial. It began to do me good, and after using a few boxes the pain had entirely gone. Now the wound is quite healed."

Zam-Buk is just as effective for eczema, scalp sores, ringworm, chapped places, insect bites, cuts, bruises, blood poison, barbed wire scratches, etc. It is also a cure for piles, and all inflamed surfaces. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

LA PRESSE EXPLAINS

In a long editorial analyzing the Laurier Navy policy La Presse says: "If the Canadian Government is free to send at all times the militia out of the country IT IS NOT FREE TO SEND THE NAVY. A vote of Parliament is necessary for that. That will be then for Canada to say. We put these two statutes (the militia and naval) together because without comparing them one cannot discuss the question properly."

UNIONISTS ARE GAINING

Doing Well in Counties—No Liberal Gains are Reported

Special to Review.

London, Jan. 20.—Remaining returns received to-day from yesterday's elections, show that the Unionists are sweeping the counties of England. In these they made thirteen additional gains over those reported up to midnight, bringing their total for the day to seventeen. The total Unionists gains now number 68, while the Liberals remain at 12 and the Labor at 2; the gains reported to-day for Unionists include another seat in Wales and a county in Scotland.

Among the members returned were Sir Edward Grey, Alexander Ure and Keir Hardie. Totals to date:—Unionists 159, Liberals 131, Labor 25. Nationalists 53. Opinion now is becoming general that Liberals cannot govern without aid of Nationalists.

NOW SOLD IN CANADA

In Less Than Three Years, Parisian Sage, The Splendid Hair Tonic is Sold all Over Canada

There is a reason for the phenomenal sale of Parisian Sage in Canada during the past three years.

And the reason is plain to all. Parisian Sage does just what it is advertised to do.

Ask Wm. Madill about it. He will tell you that he rigidly guarantees it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

There is no reason whatever why any man or woman should fail to take advantage of the above generous offer.

But one thing that has made Parisian Sage is its peculiar power to turn the harsh, unattractive hair that many women possess into luxuriant and radiant hair in a short time. Women of refinement the country over are using it and it never disappoints.

Sold everywhere, and in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, for 50 cents a large bottle.

The Quaker Oats Company require the services of a number of girls. Apply at Office.

LADIES' DIVISION OF AMBULANCE CLASS

Examinations to be Held in Near Future—Work Will be Reviewed

The last regular class meeting of the ladies' division of St. John's Ambulance Class was held last night. One more evening will be given to the work, in the form of a general review, previous to the examinations, the date of which will be decided on shortly by the general secretary in Toronto. All who are to take the examinations should hand their names to Miss A. B. Morse, the secretary-treasurer, at once, that final arrangements may be made for the examinations. Those taking the examinations will be duly notified of the date for same, also the date of final review meeting. Plans for the Home Nursing Class will be deferred until the examinations for First Aid Class are completed. Send your names to the secretary at once, as it is desired that the examinations shall be held as soon as possible.

BOTH ANKLES WERE SPRAINED

Accident to G. T. R. Brakeman at Lakefield—Was Knocked Off Car

John Dinsdale, a G.T.R. brakeman, had both his ankles sprained at Lakefield yesterday. He was standing on top of one of the cars of a freight train, which was shunting on the siding running into the Cement Company's premises, and he failed to notice a projection. He was knocked off the car and landed on the ground below on his feet. While the injuries are not serious, Dinsdale will be off duty for a few days.

CLEVER HOCKEY PLAYED IN CITY LEAGUE GAMES

T.A.S. Lead at Half Time in First Game by 4-0 and Won Out From Keene, 6-1—Brilliant Work by Both Teams Marked Second Game, Which Was Won by the Strathconas by 5-3.

T.A.S. 6, Keene 1.
Strathconas 5, West Ends 3.

The above shows the result of last night's City League games, but only those who were present at the rink and witnessed the work of the players, and especially those who figured in the second contest, can explain the real significance of the figures. There was real live hockey played and it was the kind that spectators like, and appreciate, and it is safe to say that the bill-of-fare was easily worth the small fee charged for admission. The big crowd acted like a genuine delegation from Tandom. They applauded brilliant plays, growled at the referee and hooted several of the players when they got away with what appeared to be to their excited minds, rough house tactics. Burritt got his when he threw his stick at Giroux, and Dusty received similar treatment when Dobson fell all over himself, with "dirty Dusty," far away from the mix-up. The Strathconas now lead the league with three wins and no losses, and Keene is down in the cellar position, with no wins in the same number of games.

FIRST GAME.

The T.A.S. had no easy proposition to win from the Keene seven, who played in better form than in any previous game. The Abstainers had a strong line-up, but while the forwards seemed willing enough to play a combination game, they were not particularly effective in this department owing to some good hard checking by their opponents. Individual work featured the performance of the team, and it took well. The rushes of Coughlin, Heffernan and Quigley were brilliant, and Morin and McNicholl were always active on the wings. The Keene team, as on other occasions, did not display any team work. Several of the players showed themselves to be speedy skaters, but as rushes they were invariably ditched into the corner by the T.A.S. defence, or on account of there being no helping hand, lost the puck. The team was not in the best of condition, and changes in the line-up occurred frequently. The work of McDougall, Lewis, Dickson and Weir was prominent at times and helped considerably to keep down the score.

THE SCORING.

Keene drew the puck from the face-off and the play was in T.A.S. territory for a few seconds. Morin was penalized. The puck travelled up and down the ice with the village team having just a shade the better of the argument. McDougall was chased, and in six minutes Coughlin drew first blood by beating Dinsdale, with a shot from the side. After some fast work around the Keene nets McNicholl took the second goal in two minutes and contributed the next one in seven minutes. Keene tried hard to score, but opportunities were missed by erratic passing. Lewis at cover could get away, but he was deprived of the rubber before he could get in on the nets. McDougall and Dickson were treated likewise. Coughlin took the fourth counter in four minutes. Coughlin and Lewis were sent to the penalty man. Despite Keene's attempts on the part of the Keene team to tally, the first half ended 4—0, with the cold water boys on the big end.

SECOND HALF.

Both teams went at it hard again after the breathing spell and it was up to Morin to put his team one better in 8 minutes on a fooler from the side. The game was furnishing all kinds of excitement for the spectators, who owere calling for a score by Keene. Finally, in seventeen minutes McDougall secured the puck at his goal and after taking it down the boards, passed to Weir and the bell rang. This score encouraged the team and the players took a brace. Dinsdale put another past Giroux, but it was an off-side, and the referee was looking. After Coughlin had rushed and lost the rubber, McNicholl secured it, and got what proved to be the last goal of the game.

The teams were;

SECOND GAME.

As the score partly indicates, the Strathconas had their hands full to win from the speedy West Enders. Captain Ray's men were ahead at the end of each half by but a single score and to secure that one they played just a little better hockey. There were no dull spots and the contest was the fastest played this season. Both defences worked smoothly and the forwards gave an exhibition that was worth going a long way to see and pay more than 15 cents, for the privilege. The Oldham outfit was the first to score, but the Straths came right back and evened up, and in this exciting manner the scoring continued throughout the game. Rough work by the players was forgotten, although there was some hard body-checking, but no broadminded fan could see anything very offensive in it. It must be remembered that the players were travelling at top speed last night and it took very little to upset them. However, the Straths have nothing to crow about as a result of the win and, the West Ends have the satisfaction of knowing that they went down for the count with their colors flying.

On the West End lineup each player was prominent more or less. Crane and Seymour contributed some splendid plays and the manner in which they worked together for the first goal of the game made a big hit with the crowd. The forward line of the Strathconas, had it on their opponents, and their checking back was a feature. McMillan and Weatherston performed consistently at their respective positions on the wings, and the win was largely as a result of their work. The play was not a bit too fast for Burritt and he was always in his position. Ray was seen to better advantage last night and his clever stick handling was always in evidence. Dusty and Denison checked and rushed effectively and Derocher prevented scores by a clever exhibition of goaltending.

THE SCORING.

Strathconas secured the puck from the faceoff. McMillan got away, but lost the puck in the corner, and play alternated between the two nets. Burritt was called back on a likely looking jaunt and Crane was sidetracked to the fence. Both teams were playing great hockey and the crowd cheered the brilliant plays. In six minutes and after Seymour had rushed and passed to Crane in front of Derocher, latter scored. The play was one of the prettiest of the evening.

Dusty missed a fine chance to even up when he let Burritt's pass get away from him, but Weatherston, who was playing a clever game, put one past Halpin in 1 1-2 minutes.

Halpin got in front of a long lift from Dusty and one minute later the Strath's coverpoint tore off a lone rush, but forgot to pass to Burritt. The next score came in 4 1-2 minutes after Weatherston had played the puck up the boards. Burritt pulled the string and put his team one ahead.

Crane's shot missed Derocher by an inch, but in two minutes he passed the defence and found the nets and the game was tied up again. Seymour went off for tripping Weatherston. Denison rushed nicely but there was no one to take the pass. Weatherston and McMillan were playing a great game, and it remained for the latter to take the pass from his left wing pal and score in 4 minutes.

Seymour was given five minutes for shaking Dusty up. Derocher left his nets and stopped Crane, who looked good to count, after a dazzling rush. Dobson scooped one in but the play was offside. End to end rushes by Dobson and Dusty respectively followed. Seymour zig-zagged through the Strathconas, but neglected to pass to Giroux. Held-time was called shortly afterwards.

SECOND HALF.

The puck went down and up the ice with the checking close and hard. Halpin took care of McMillan's shot. Dusty collided with Seymour, who rushed, and on the rubber being returned McMillan and Halpin mixed up in the nets. After 10 1-4 minutes play Denison rushed the whole length of the rink and Burritt on receiving the pass made the score 4—2.

Both teams had chances to score in the next few minutes, but there was nothing doing. Burritt let his stick fly in the direction of Giroux and a minute later Dobson went down and the crowd got after Dusty. In 15 minutes McMillan, Burritt and Ray combined, and taking the pass from Ray, in front of the net, Burritt scored his third goal. Strathconas 5, West Ends 2.

Derocher went out again and stopped Seymour, but Crane saw an opening from a lone rush put a fast one past Derocher in two minutes. McMillan and Short each took a shot, but both were wide. Giroux went off for slashing and time was called two minutes later.

The line up was as follows:

Strathconas.		West Ends.
	Goal
Derocher		Halpin
	Point
Denison		Munro
	Cover point
Dusty		Seymour
	Rover
Ray		Crane

JERMYN HAD A HOCKEY MATCH

Aviators and Skylarks Clashed—Other News of Interest

Jermyn, Jan. 17.—Large crowds are attending Fife Bros.' rink.

Mr. A. Fife has left again for the land of silver and pulpwood.

Among those from Jermyn who attended Keene rink Saturday night were: W. Breckenridge, S. Elmhurst, George W. M. Fife and P. D. Q. Armstrong. Mr. Fife reported quite a change in the faces at the rink since his last visit.

Mr. S. Fife has arrived from Alberta to spend the winter with his father.

Mr. W. Patterson and Mr. H. Evans visited the rink during the week.

The sawmill at Whitewood Camp, No. 37, is not running these days, as the timber has not come in as expected. The shingle mill is in full operation.

Mr. G. Lang is doing nicely. We hope for his speedy recovery.

Miss M. H. Fife renewed acquaintances at Lang last Sunday.

HOCKEY MATCH.

An interesting hockey match was played on Fife Bros.' rink Monday night. Aviators vs. Skylarks. The game was called at 10.30 with the score 3—3. The Aviators had the best of the play, but could not pile up the score.

The teams were:—

Aviators—T. Sullivan, John Pullin, S. Nelson, F. Kidd, S. Elmhurst and B. Robertson.

Skylarks—G. W. M. Fife, H. Evans, S. Armstrong, J. Rennie, W. Drummie and D. P. Easson.

"Trottie's" brilliant rushes and "Nigger's" wonderful stops were features of the game long to be remembered. Some of the players lacked experience, but these took turns at wiping the ice.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vienna, W. Va.—"I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. EMMA WHEATON, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

FARM HANDS FOR ONTARIO

Notwithstanding the great flow of immigration to Canada during the past few years the need of farm help seems to be as great as ever, and in order to meet the demand, the Salvation Army has had ten experienced Canadian representatives in Great Britain during the past three months, selecting a good class of able-bodied men and women, whose emigration will be arranged this spring. As the Emigration Department of the Army has done extensive advertising in the rural districts of Great Britain it is expected that they will be successful in bringing a class of people to this country who will readily adapt themselves to Canadian farming.

MARRIED MEN AS PERMANENT SETTLERS

There is a great desire on the part of married men with families to emigrate to Canada for farm work, and it is gratifying to observe that farmers are seeing the advantage of making proper provisions to be in a position to hire this class of help. Married men are to be heartily recommended as making the most permanent settlers, being anxious to make homes for their families in this country.

Full information and Application Form will be furnished by Lieut.-Col. Howell, Immigration Offices, James and Albert streets, Toronto; or Staff-Captain Williams, Clarence street, London.

It is expected that parties of men for farm work will arrive during the months of March, April, May, June and July, under the supervision of the Army's duly appointed conductors, and will be sent from port of landing direct to situations throughout the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

SHOTS ON GOAL

Part of the crowd last night accused Dusty of rough work, but that player hardly earned the abuse which he received.

There was nothing said about the way in which young Burritt was cut up. The fifteen-year-old "kid" is not complaining about the treatment he received, nor did he back up in the game, but the bruises are there just the same.

The first score by Crane could be protested. That player left the penalty box before his time was up.

In the first game the referee was asked to take off his blue and white sweater. The Keene team complained that they were mistaking him for one of their number and passing the puck to him.

Evidently the City League is in right with the local fans. The attendance at the games is away ahead of any previous year.

The West End rooters were on hand and handed out a liberal quantity of "hot air."

The T.A.S. team was much stronger last night.

WHITCROFT FOR RENFREW

Will Likely Finish Season There—Best Man on Edmonton Team.

It is reported that Fred Whitcroft will finish out the season with the Renfrew team. He was the best man on the Edmonton sextette last night and Renfrew officers are known to have been after him. "Whitty" is not likely to leave Edmonton for good, but may consent to do so for a few weeks. They are also after Miller.—Ottawa Citizen.

HOCKEY

The work of Fred Whitcroft in Tuesday night's game is spoken of very highly by the Ottawa press. Some of the accounts are:

Free Press: "Fred Whitcroft is playing better than he ever did and was probably the most effective man for his side on the ice. He has fine stick-handler and twists in and out of any tangle."

Journal: "As to the individual work of the players, it is difficult to pick the stars of either team. Hay Miller, Edmonton's reputed crack, did not shine, possibly because the going was too heavy for him. Harold Deeton and Fred Whitcroft were the pick of the seven, but Winchester, Boulton and Ross must not be forgotten."

Citizen: "Whitcroft was the pick of the challengers."

Programmes for Races

With his customary enterprise, Mr. Victor Fowler has issued the programmes for the both days of the ice races at the Driving Park—to-day and to-morrow. The programmes are neat and handy, and are invaluable to the spectators in following the progress of the races, as they contain the different classes with all the entries.

Bulletins at Oriental

The result of the Edmonton-Ottawa Stanley Cup game, will be bulletined at the Oriental Hotel to-night.

To every holder of an Industrial whole life policy in force issued in 1886-7-8-9-1890, a bonus on its anniversary date equal to premiums for ..... 15 weeks

To every holder of an Industrial whole life policy in force issued in 1891-2-3-4-5, a bonus on its anniversary date equal to premiums for ..... 10 weeks

To every holder of an Industrial whole life or increasing life and endowment policy issued in any year from 1896 to 1905 inclusive, a bonus on its anniversary date equal to premiums for ..... 5 weeks

These bonuses are thus for percentages varying from about TEN to ONE HUNDRED PER CENT. of the amount of weekly premiums for a year. It will be observed that the bonuses are graduated by the age of the policies.

The whole life policies issued between January 1, 1907, and July 1, 1909, have received a reversionary dividend of about ten per cent. of their face during the past year (that is, have been increased in amount about ten per cent). This cost the Company $600,000 in 1909; and will cost many hundreds of thousands of dollars in subsequent years in increased Reserve. The whole life policies, issued since July 1, 1909, have been increased about ten per cent. in amount above the amount of insurance previously provided for the same respective premiums.

BONUSES ON DEATH CLAIMS

Death Claimants on whole life policies issued between January 1, 1907, and July 1, 1909, whose claims had been settled, have received in the last six months a payment of mortuary bonuses of about ten per cent. in addition to the amount previously received, at a cost to the Company of over $250,000.

Payment on Death Claims in 1910 will be increased over and above the face of the Industrial policies by amounts determined by the following scale:

When death occurs after policy has been in force over 5 years 5%
When death occurs after policy has been in force over 10 years 10%
When death occurs after policy has been in force over 15 years 15%
When death occurs after policy has been in force over 20 years 20%
When death occurs after policy has been in force over 25 years 25%
When death occurs after policy has been in force over 30 years 30%

The cost to the Company of these CASH bonuses is estimated at

$5,204,639.95

Added to the bonuses heretofore paid for the last sixteen years OVER AND ABOVE THE PROMISES MADE IN THE POLICIES, this will bring the total CASH bonuses up to Twenty-one Millions of Dollars in CASH in 17 Years!

The Additional Cost of Concessions in Reserve Liability has been Four Millions of Dollars

The sources of these bonuses are:

1. Decrease in expenses—TEN PER CENT. in nine years to the close of 1908.
2. Saving in the Mortality which was expected when policies were issued.
3. Gains in Interest actually earned over the amount required by statute for accumulation of Reserves.
4. The fact that on a premium income of nearly $50,000,000 a year the Stockholders receive only $140,000, which is more than earned from the income of their own capital and surplus; the balance of such income going to the increase of the fund from which Bonuses are paid.

NEWSY NOTES FROM THE VILLAGE OF NORWOOD

Special to the Review.

Norwood, Ont., Jan. 19.—The favorable weather and good roads have been taken advantage of by the farmers of this vicinity this winter, and as a consequence Norwood is being supplied with cheaper fuel than for some years past. Good hardwood, dry, can be easily purchased now for from $4.00 to $4.50 per cord, whereas the ruling price for the past few years has been $5.00 or more.

Large numbers of logs are also being hauled to the sawmill, while many are disposing railroad ties and telegraph poles in the C.P.R. yard.

The Norwood cheese box factory is being fully supplied with timber for veneer and heading preparatory to a busy season next summer. By employing competent workmen and using only first-class material, Mr. Buck has gained a reputation, and with it a large trade for the product of his box factory here. He supplies most of the factories in a radius of fifteen to twenty miles of Norwood.

Mr. Puffer is taking full advantage of the fine weather, and with a large force of men is rushing along the contract of filling the large C.P.R. ice house in Havelock.

The first carnival of the season in Norwood was held on the rink on Friday evening and was well patronized. Manager Flemming is well satisfied with the results, both financially and otherwise. A keen interest was taken in the competition of the prizes. In a place the size of Norwood one seldom sees so many costumes of merit. Some of the ladies' costumes were really very striking. As to the male portion of the masqueraders, they certainly went to the limit. Many of the spectators were surprised at the number of clowns and colored gents that Norwood could produce. Space will not allow us to make special mention of any of the costumes. All we will say is that nearly all were dressed and themselves credit. The judging was by no means an easy task. The prize winners were:—

Best dressed lady in fancy costume—Mrs. Alex. Kemp, as Winter.

Best dressed lady in comic costume—Mrs. M. R. Callender, as Old Woman.

Girl in fancy costume—Ruth Henren, as Flower Girl.

Girl in comic costume—Mildred Callander as Mother Goose.

Gent in fancy costume—Orall Johnston as Knight.

Boy in fancy costume—Warden Elliott.

Boy in comic costume—Nelson King as Indian Boy.

Mile race, men—Herman McNicholl.

Boys' race, 15 and under—Frank Hendren.

Boys' race, 15 and over—Frank Hendren.

Partners' race—Miss Stella Searight and Herman McNicholl.

Best clown—Dick Midgley.

During the evening the Norwood band discoursed music to the delight of the skaters and onlookers.

Mr. Fleming intends holding another carnival some time in February.

Norwood hockey team were badly defeated Monday night by Hastings juniors. In the first half the Norwood boys scored five goals and the Hastings boys, finding they were going to be defeated with the team they had, put on two of their senior men, who were in town. In the return game Norwood will have a few extra men to put on in case they are needed, as the Hastings boys are last night.

Mr. J. McNicholl left this morning for Vancouver.

A number of Norwoodites are planning to attend the carnival to be held in Havelock on Friday night.

Miss Nellie Robinson is visiting friends in Peterborough.

Mrs. C. J. Searight has returned after visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Thompson, on Spring street.

Mr. Herman McNicholl, of Peterborough, visited his parents here over Sunday.

Miss L. Hetherington, of Havelock, attended the carnival here on Friday night.

Mr. L. Burleigh, of Keene, visited Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Laing on Sunday.

Miss Annie Lacey, of Hastings, visited Miss Josephine McNicholl last Friday and Saturday.

Special missionary sermons will be preached in the Methodist church next Sabbath.

Mr. J. Anderson, of Regina, visited Norwood one day last week.

Miss Mollie Johnston, of Havelock, visited her parents here last week.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE COMPLETED

Much Interest in Free Judging Course in Stock and Seed Judging

Final arrangements are just being completed for the short courses in stock and grain judging that is being put on in the city of Peterborough January 24th, 25th, 26th. A fine lot of stock has been secured from well known local stockmen, and when Monday morning comes around all will be in readiness for the greatest event, from an agricultural educational standpoint, that has ever been staged in Peterborough county.

Everywhere farmers are asking the question of their neighbors, "Are you going to attend the short course?" Farmers in the Lindsay district have received much benefit from similar courses to that to be held in Peterborough, and they are loud in their praise of this great educational work that has been brought to their door. A large attendance is fully expected and ample accommodation has been provided for all. The programme for each day's proceedings is given elsewhere.

Geo. McL. Brown may succeed Archer Baker as European representative of the C.P.R.

REQUISITION LIST WAS SUBMITTED

To Fire, Water and Light Committee by W. A. Howard, Chief of City Fire Department—Many Requests Embodied—Chief's Annual Report.

The bulk of the time of the Fire, Water and Light meeting last night was taken in the consideration of the annual requisition list for supplies at the fire hall as suggested to the committee by Fire Chief Howard. The various items were gone over, and some acted on at the meeting, others left in the hands of the chairman, and the committee decided to visit the fire hall for the purpose of personal inspection in the matter of others.

Ald. Morgan was in the chair and His Worship Mayor Morrow was also present. The members of the committee, Ald. Batten, Ald. Metheral, Ald. Graham and Ald. Buller were also at the meeting, as was also Fire Chief Howard.

The chief's annual statement was read by the chairman and is as follows:—

To His Worship the Mayor and Aldermen of the Council of the City of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—Following the usual custom, I have the honor to submit herewith the annual report of the Fire Department for the year 1909.

You will please find attached to this report a statement of fires, showing the cause, time, how received, etc., which will give you an accurate account of the workings of the department for the year. You will also find attached a stock sheet, giving an account of every dollar's worth of material on hand at the time of taking stock, January 1st, 1910.

During the year the department responded to 137 alarms of fire. Sixty-six of the above alarms were received from street boxes, over the fire alarm telegraph system; 65 were received by telephone, and six were verbal alarms.

During the year the apparatus traveled 148 miles, we used 22,500 feet of hose, and 491 gallons of chemicals were required to extinguish small fires; 2,589 feet of ladders were used.

The total amount of damage by fire was $59,855. $19,502 was damage to contents, and the damage to buildings was $40,353. You will observe that the fire loss for the year was considerably in excess of the previous year. But considering the number of fires the department has had to combat, I consider the figures a creditable showing.

$31,600 of the above amount was caused by fires which occurred in parts of the city where fire hydrants were not available, and, therefore, cannot be credited against this department.

I do not anticipate a repitition of such occurrences, as the Waterworks Department have extended their mains in the outlaying districts of the city, and during the year have installed 21 new hydrants.

Although the department was called upon to fight some very disastrous fires, our efforts were very successful, and through the prompt and skilful work of the firemen, the fire loss has been kept down to a minimum.

The matter of a permanent, paid fire department is long since past the experimental stage, and has proven beyond the question of a doubt the advisability of such a course. And, therefore, I would respectfully request that your honorable body continue the extension of the work commenced by the Council of 1907.

It will be necessary to add to the equipment a chemical fire engine, and also to increase the staff by six men. This will mean an increased expenditure, and I trust that your committee will deal with these matters early in the year, so that provision may be made in the estimate to cover the expense.

Another matter I wish to bring before you is the schedule of wages paid

W. A. HOWARD
Chief of the Peterborough Fire Department

your firemen. When the present scale was struck it was with the understanding that there would be increases made from time to time. We have been fortunate in securing the services of very capable and competent men, but I find it almost impossible to keep good men for any length of time, owing to the small salaries paid, and it is decidedly bad policy to make changes in the personal of the staff. The high price of living, constant confinement, irregular hours, hard drill and the hazardous nature of a fireman's life, make the position worthy of higher remuneration.

The matter of extending the fire alarm telegraph system will also have to be taken into consideration. Several more street boxes should be installed on George street, and some are required in the residential district of the west ward. About $900 will be required for this extension.

The city is rapidly growing and it will be necessary to build and equip a small fire station in Ashburnham. A building large enough to house a hose company with six men.

I am pleased to be able to report that during the past year no serious accidents have occurred, although four of the men nearly lost their lives by suffocation.

I am pleased to be able to report upon the general good conduct of my men. They have at all times conducted themselves in a gentlemanly manner, and have been courteous and polite to the public, and diligent in the performance of their duties.

The improvements that have been made to your fire department during the past two years have borne fruit. I refer to the reduction in the fire insurance rates which took effect some three months ago. The key rate was lowered 25 per cent., partly on account of the improvements that have already been made, and with the understanding that the city of Peterborough will maintain a fire department that will keep pace with the growth of the city.

The reduction we have received is a saving to the citizens of many thousands of dollars annually, and which is sufficient to more than offset the expenditure required to maintain an up-to-date fire department.

In conclusion, I desire to express my sincere thanks to His Worship the Mayor, and the gentlemen of the council of 1909, and especially to Alderman William Buller, the chairman of my committee. Ald. Buller has been very painstaking, and has spent a great deal of his time to assist in bringing your fire department to its present state of efficiency.

The friendly relations which characterized the conditions of last year, I trust will be continued.

I wish to thank the press of the city for the many kind references to the department and myself during the past year, and also my colleagues, the other city officials.

We are also indebted to Mr. W. F. Dean, the local manager of the Bell Telephone Company, and his staff of operators. Early in the year 1909 I suggested to Mr. Dean a better system of communicating alarms of fire by telephone. That gentleman took kindly to the suggestion, and at once inaugerated the present system, which practically makes every telephone a fire alarm box. We have received excellent service, and have not had one complaint during the whole year. This is something we appreciate and value very highly.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I have the honor to be, sirs,
Yours respectfully,
(W. A. HOWARD,
Chief Fire Dep't.

The Mayor remarked that the Chief referred to the advisability of employing more men at the fire hall. The Mayor thought that enough men should be employed that it might be arranged for every man to be able to get off duty for some portion of every Sunday.

Ald. Buller said that would be impossible under present conditions, and it would be necessary to increase the staff if it were to be accomplished. The Mayor said that no matter what kind of business a man was in it was the practice to arrange that he might have a part of every Sunday to himself. The matter will be taken up by the committee.

Ald. Morgan said that the chief had told him that he had decided to incorporate the suggestion for a station in Ashburnham in his annual statement before he had any knowledge of who would be chairman of the committee, and the chief had stated to Ald. Morgan that if there was a fire in Ashburnham it was liable to be in some part which would occasion a long run for the teams and have them played out before the fire was reached. If the hall were built in Ashburnham the fires there and in Auburn could be reached more quickly, and if the equipment at the present station was engaged in fighting a fire in some remote part of the city the Ashburnham section could be called into act on for another fire in case of emergency.

Ald. Batten said that the drill shed in Ashburnham would be a good place to locate a fire hall, but Ald. Metheral thought that the proposition was being too hastily considered, and said that for the present he thought that Ashburnham could do without a fire station. He said it would have to come eventually, however.

Ald. Buller seemed to think the latter suggestion a sound one, and favored the expenditure on additional men at the fire hall instead, if the committee decided they were needed there. This was generally agreed upon as the most judicious step for the present.

KEY RATE AND FIREMEN'S SALARIES.

In considering the advantages of the key rate as spoken of in the report it was suggested that the only concerns to benefit were the large mercantile risks. Mr. Armstrong said it was promised by the underwriters that the residence should be included, and Chief Howard said the new schedule which had come into effect gave the reduction privileges to the residences as well as the mercantile establishments.

The city clerk was instructed to inquire into this matter and report to the committee.

With regard to the salaries of the firemen, Ald. Buller was in favor of their being increased. On his trip he said he found that the salaries of firemen in other cities of about the same size as Peterborough higher than the ones paid here. In answer to a query on this point, Chief Howard stated that the salaries of the firemen here were $500 for the first year, $550 for the second year and $575 for the third year.

Ald. Metheral thought the original schedule of salaries for the local brigade as drafted by the committee of that time was sufficient, and after the discussion the chairman was authorized to inquire into the prices paid in other cities about the same size as Peterborough.

WILL BUY ANOTHER TEAM.

The chief gave his reasons for asking for a hose expander. Ald. Metheral thought it could be dispensed with. This was agreed upon. The chief stated that he did not expect of course, to get everything that he had on the list.

The chairman was given authority to purchase a door opener, and was instructed to buy it in the city, if possible.

Ald. Metheral suggested a visit to the fire hall in order that the committee could have a look around before taking up all the suggestions. The chief said it would be the best plan as he could then give practical illustrations of the matters mentioned in the requisition.

It was decided that the brown horse at the fire hall be sold and the sorrel be kept as a reserve horse. The chairman was instructed to purchase a team for the department, and he made somewhat of a reflection on his ability as a judge of horse flesh by stating that he would take an expert with him in the expedition. The weight suggested for the horses was about 1,400 pounds each.

In response to the request for additional hose it was decided to purchase 500 feet. Among other things that will be provided in acquiescence with the chief's requests will be two chemical extinguishers, half a dozen lanterns, springs for doors, battery supplies, and it was also decided to pay for the chief's telephone for the coming year.

The committee decided to look into the matter of supplying more desirable lighting facilities for some of the streets.

Dr. Greer's bill for attendance on Deputy Chief Grange of $11 was ordered to be paid.

The matter of purchasing the ordinary supplies was left in the hands of the chairman.

Ald Duncan was present and asked that the arc lamp on Weir street be changed to five incandescent lamps. He said that the five would give much better service.

The committee will look into the matter at once.

Ald. Duncan also asked about a hydrant on Gladstone avenue. This had been ordered, but had not been put in.

Ald. Buller wanted incandescent lamps on Lansdowne avenue. These will be investigated by the committee also.

A Good Beginning

We have had good cause to say "thank you" for the patronage of 1909. This month so far has surpassed that of last year by 50%. We are sometimes so busy that we cannot wait upon all who come. To avoid this we advise that it is better to make appointments by phone or call, and this saves waiting your turn. Many do this and others will find it advantageous.

1910 has begun well with us. We are thankful, and promise to serve all to the best of our ability.

THE LIBERALS ARE ANXIOUS COUNTIES GOING AGAINST THEM

Government Forces Will Have Majority in the Commons, But Only With the Assistance of the Nationalists, According to Present Outlook.

London, Jan. 21.—Elections were held yesterday for 47 seats, one in London, three in English provincial boroughs, 38 in English counties, eight in Scotland, three in Wales and six in Ireland. Reports from only 12 of these were received last night.

The old-fashioned country people, with their rock-ribbed conservatism, their reverence for the nobility and their prejudice against the new-fangled socialism, were heard from, and they gave a decided boost to Conservative stock.

That night the Unionists everywhere have taken cheer. The National Liberal Club, which has been the centre of Liberal activity, has a less jubilant atmosphere than at any time since the elections began.

The Liberal Government will return to power with a less convincing mandate for its policies from the country than it counted upon, if the present tendency prevails among the remainder of the voters the next few days. Its allies, the Laborites and Nationalists, will practically hold the balance of power, and the Irish party particularly will be in a position to dictate legislation.

The proposal to reform the House of Lords counted strongly among the country people, perhaps more strongly than did tariff reform. Scotland and Wales where non-conformists abound, stand by the Liberal party, but the counties have given general and even Unionist gains, which have wiped out the small Liberal majorities in most of the doubtful boroughs.

London's last borough gave its verdict in favor of a Unionist, Westminster re-elected W. L. A. B. Burdett-Coutts, with his majority nearly doubled. The metropolis has 34 Unionists, 26 Liberals and two Laborites, whereas in 1906 there were 38 Liberals elected in London, 21 Unionists and three Laborites.

The popular vote in 1906 was: Unionists, 268,167; Liberals, 258,810.

"We attribute our non-success in the artisan districts not to free trade, but to the alliance of the socialistic party with the radicals. The political fight of the future will be between tariff reform and socialism."

Exciting scenes followed the declaration of the poll at Buckingham, where the Liberal candidate, F. W. Verney, son of Lord Verney, won by a narrow majority. The enraged Unionists chased several Liberals, who took refuge in the nearby houses.

There was rioting at Belfast, where 54 persons were arrested for personating. According to the English law, all persons whose names appear on the registers may vote. One woman and two fourteen-year-old boys, who were thus registered voted.

J. Henniker Heaton, the "father of penny postage," retained his Canterbury seat by only 21 votes, having an independent Unionist competing for the party's support. Sir James H. Dalziel, proprietor of The Reynolds Newspaper, keeps his Scottish seat for the Liberals, by a largely increased majority.

"I am quite confident of the result throughout the country," said Chancellor Lloyd-George, at Bangor.

"After all, the standard of 1906 was quite abnormal, and we cannot expect to maintain it. If we judge by the standard of other general elections, it will be found that the Liberals have a good working majority."

Premier Asquith, at Fifeshire, declared that one thing was certain, the great industrial centres would not give to the new Parliament any mandate or authority to interfere with the system of free trade. Except in few isolated areas, like Birmingham and Liverpool, all had given an emphatic verdict in favor of free trade.

MASS MEETING AT MONTREAL OPPOSED TO CANADIAN NAVY

Montreal, Jan. 21.—At the conclusion of a strong speech by Henri Bourassa, in the Monument Nationale Hall last night, a gathering of nearly 5,000 people unanimously adopted resolutions condemning the Government's naval measure, and demanding that Parliament should take no action until the will of the electorate had been ascertained.

Mr. Bourassa, who delivered a forcible speech, utterly condemned the measure, attacked Sir Wilfrid Laurier for attempting to pass such a measure, and denounced Mr. Borden for aiding him. The large gathering warmly applauded throughout.

Mr. Bourassa vigorously attacked the measure, saying that it would entail enormous expenses upon the country, and he claimed that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's estimate of the cost was altogether astray. This was not surprising, as Sir Wilfrid was not very strong at figures, having estimated the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific at $13,000,000, when, according to competent authorities, it would cost 200 millions.

GOVERNMENT'S DEFENCE TO NORTH ATLANTIC CONCERN

They Want $71,275 for Breach of Contract, But the Government Denies Entering Into an Agreement and Says it Has the Right to Cancel.

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—The statement of the claim of the notorious North Atlantic Trading Co. for $71,275 for alleged breach of contract and the statement of defence of the Government as filed in the Exchequer Court is set forth in a return tabled in the House yesterday.

The company bases its claim as follows: The original contract was signed by S. Gluck, manager; W. E. Kohan, secretary, and Hon. Clifford Sifton on Nov. 28, 1904. On April 14, 1905; notice was given Hon. Frank Oliver, terminating the contract Nov. 30, 1906. The claim for damages is founded on the statement that the net profits had been £4,290 per annum, and that with three years and five months of the contract yet to run, the profits would be $71,275.

The Government denies entering into an agreement, and adds that the Government has right to cancel the agreement if it appears that the company is failing to carry out its obligations.

An interesting commentary on the formation of the company is contained in the statement of defence that the document made by the company as a body corporate on 28th Nov., 1904. But the corporate seal not being affixed, it was returned by the Minister. On Jan. 12, 1905, a seal was affixed by the manager and secretary and the document was again sent to the Department. Yet the company was not incorporated until June 3, 1905.

In the House yesterday James Conmee introduced a bill to amend the Railway Act, providing that at future elections the employes will have the right to vote wherever they may happen to be on polling day. They will be armed with a certificate which will enable them to register their vote in any polling sub-division. Mr. Conmee claims that under the present act hundreds of railway employes lose their franchise.

Messrs. Gordon and Conmee both took exception to the evidence Wednesday of Arthur Wilson before the mines and minerals committee in respect to the nickel deposits, as reported in some newspapers. They denied that Mr. Wilson had said that all the nickel deposits of the Dominion were controlled by the American nickel trust. Mr. Conmee said that Mr. Wilson had made it quite clear in his evidence that he considered that there were in Canada millions of tons of nickel not controlled by the trust.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier told Mr. Sharpe, North Ontario, that the Government had not yet arrived at a decision in regard to a grant of land to Fenian raid veterans.

The Premier announced that the motion for the appointment of a special committee to enquire into transcontinental railway matters would be taken up on Tuesday next.

On the third reading of Hon. Mr. Graham's bill to provide for the acquirement by the Government of I.C.R. branch lines, a long speech was made by Hon. H. R. Emmerson, former Minister of Railways.

While congratulating the Government upon having adopted the principle of the absorption of the branch lines, which he had advocated as Minister, Mr. Emmerson thought that the proposals were hedged in by too many restrictions.

The bill provided that before branch lines could be taken over, the proposal would have to run the gauntlet of the board of management of the I.C.R., the report of the chief engineer of the I.C.R., the Governor-General in Council and the Parliament.

He expressed the view that if the I.C.R. had to qualify as a branch line under the bill, it could not. No one who had traveled over the I.C.R. within the past month could say that the road was in good condition.

Mr. Emmerson advocated the taking over of all branch lines, and in the matter of the I.C.R. deficits, said he knew that the C.P.R. on its system east of the St. Lawrence, had a deficit of from $500,000 to $1,000,000 annually.

Hon. Geo. P. Graham said that the bill had been drawn up to meet the approval of the whole country. If the board of management did not know what would be in the interest of the railway nobody did. He admitted that the restrictions were severe, but the people must be safeguarded.

E. M. Macdonald did not agree that the board of management would be the best judge. After Mr. Pugsley and Mr. Borden had spoken the bill passed.

W. S. Logie resumed the budget debate and he had not finished at the adjournment. He will speak for the third time in this debate, a unique experience.

The Senate committee on banking met twice yesterday to hear the criticism of the insurance bill by the representatives of the companies. Much of the evidence given was along the same lines as presented before the House of Commons committee.

Mr. Macaulay, for the Sun Life, asked that the clause relating to directors be made clear by specifying that fees for directors as such be approved by the shareholders. As the clause stood, a salary could not be paid to an officer who was also a director. He was in that position himself.

ARE FOUR IN OPPOSITION

McBride Government Faces Two Liberals and Two Socialists.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 21.—Yesterday's opening of the B. C.'s twelfth Parliament was exceptionally brilliant, it being the first ceremonial appearance of Lieut.-Governor Paterson, while the Government had just been returned from a general election with a ponderance of support unprecedented in Canadian political history, the opposition being equally divided between Liberals and Socialists, with but two seats each.

In the speech from the throne financial conditions were noted as so prosperous as to justify a general tax reduction without impairment of expenditures throughout the province, while congratulations were extended the province upon the success attending the re-organization of the Department of Agriculture and the showing British Columbia fruits have recently made in English exhibitions.

Allusion was also made to the important work of forestry and civil service commissions, and the contemplated creation of a commission to select the site and arrange working plans of the new provincial university, as well as a commission to revise provincial statutes.

At the request of the Imperial Government and to facilitate uniform laws throughout the Empire relating to companies the Legislature will be asked to simplify and consolidate statutes of this nature, while action will be reported in the direction of securing determination of all questions of jurisdiction, rights, etc., possessed by British Columbia in fisheries water rights in the Dominion railway belt, and titles in Indian reserves.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION

Getting Down to Work---Committees Are Appointed at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—The Ottawa River valley will be the power heart of the world, is the judgment of Charles R. Coutlee, C.E., who read a paper before the conservation commission on the Hydro-Electric potentialities of the Ottawa River basin. He is engineer-in-chief of the Georgian Bay Canal survey. He said the Ottawa had the highest continuous fall of water of any river in the world.

Hon. Clifford Sifton announced that he intended to ask the Government to vote $50,000 a year for work of the committee, instead of $10,000, and he thought this would be favorably considered. Committees were named as follows:

Water and Waterpowers—F. D. Monk, C. A. McCool, Ottawa; Hon. W. C. H. Grimmer, Fredericton, N.B.; Hon. Frank Cochrane, Toronto; Hon. Miles Allard, Quebec; Hon. Price Ellison, Victoria, B.C.

Public Health—E. B. Osler, M.P., Toronto; Dr. H. S. Beland, M.P., Sir Sandford Fleming, Hon. C. C. Jones, Halifax; Hon. J. A. Calder, Regina; Hon. Sydney Fisher.

Minerals—Dr. H. S. Beland, Prof. Howard Murray, Halifax; Hon. W. Templeman, John Hendry, Vancouver.

Forests—Senator Edwards, Frank Davison, Bridgewater, N.S.; W. B. Snowball, Chatham, N.B.; John Hendry, Vancouver; Mgr. J. C. K. Laflamme, Laval University; Hon. F. Oliver, Dr. B. E. Fernow, Toronto.

Lands—Dr. J. W. Robertson, Hon. Sydney Fisher, Hon. Ben. Rogers, P.E.I.; Dr. W. J. Rutherford, Regina; Rev. Dr. George Bryce, Winnipeg.

Fisheries, game and fur-bearing animals—Hon. F. L. Hazzard, Charlottetown, P.E.I., Hon. F. Cochrane, Toronto; Hon. A. K. McLean, Nova Scotia; Hon. W. C. Grimmer, New Brunswick; Hon. Hugh Armstrong, Winnipeg, and Prof. Howard Murray.

Press and allied organizations—J. F. MacKay, Toronto; Prof. Howard Murray, Hon. Jules Allard, Quebec; Hon. Wm. Templeman. Dr. H. M. Tory, Alberta University; Rev. George Bryce, University of Manitoba.

SWINDLED BY FELLOW-PRISONER

Kingston, Jan. 21.—H. Cronk, a convict, who was sent down from Belleville about a year ago to serve three years for theft, claims to have been swindled by a former supposed friend, James Rose, out of his bank roll of $500. Cronk alleges that he gave Rose a signed blank check, with the understanding that Rose was to fill in the amount required to pay Cronk's legal expenses.

SWAM HOURS IN ICY WATER

New York, Jan. 21.—Passengers on a Brooklyn ferry boat yesterday saw a man complacently swimming through the ice fields in the harbor. He refused help from the ferry boat, swimming around it and making for a Brooklyn dock.

When he was drawn to the dock from the icy water, it was found that he was a Russian sailor by name of Chris Jacomosky, with a remarkable tale.

"I shipped from here yesterday in the tramp fruit steamer Joseph E. Guinan," he said, "and when we were outside of Sandy Hook and I was standing on the poop deck, some one comes up behind me and hits me on the head with a belaying pin. Overboard I goes, and as I had a furnished room in Brooklyn I starts to swim for there.

"I could have landed at Staten Island or Governor's Island, but the tide was carrying me straight for Brooklyn and as that was where I wanted to go, I stayed with the tide. When I became tired, I grabbed a cake of ice and rested. I don't know how long I was in the water, but I guess it was most of the night."

It is believed that the sailor swam more than ten miles through the ice floes.

CONFERENCE OF FRENCH-CANADIANS

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—The French-Canadian Educational Congress of Ontario concluded its session here last night with a banquet. The congress will meet two years hence. Officers elected: President, Senator Belcourt; first vice-president, A. O. Aubin, M.P.P.; second vice-president, President Emmanuel Tasse; secretary, C. A. Seguin; treasurer, G. W. Seguin; executive, the French-speaking archbishops and bishops, Hon. Dr. Resume, E. Proulx, M.P., Geo. Pharard, M.P.P., D. Racine, M.P.P., and E. Morel, M.P.P.

SOME CHANGES IN THE GRAND TRUNK

Montreal, Jan. 21.—H. E. Bryam has been appointed as assistant to the first vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, and will have jurisdiction over the operating department.

C. G. Burnham will continue as assistant to the first vice-president and will have jurisdiction over the traffic department.

D. Miller, first vice-president, will, in addition to his present duties, assume charge of the operating departments.

These changes have been brought about as a result of the appointment of D. Willard as president of the B. & O. R.

MYSTERY ABOUT STRATFORD DEATH

Stratford, Jan. 21.—Two mysterious deaths engaged the attention of the local authorities yesterday. Coroner Devlin will conduct two inquests today.

William Irving, aged 25, of Mitchell, a nursery stock traveler, was found dead on the doorstep of 92 East Gore street yesterday morning. The death was reported to the police by C. Woodgate, also of Mitchell, a friend of Irving's, who, it is said, happened to see the body and recognized it.

Irving had left the Empire Hotel about 8 a.m. to do some collecting. The cause of death is not known.

The house was apparently empty, the blinds being down and the doors locked.

Roy Shore, aged 21, of lot 5 con. 3, Ellice Township, was found dead in a stall in the barn by his aunt, who had come to visit his parents. His head was almost blown off. A shotgun was beneath him.

It is reported that he had left the house with the gun, saying he was going to shoot sparrows.

MASONS MEET AT ST. CATHARINES

St. Catharines, Jan. 21.—Yesterday afternoon D. F. McWatt, grand master of the Masonic order, visited this city to dedicate the rooms of Maple Leaf, Temple and St. George's lodges. He was accompanied by Past Grand Master A. T. Freed of Hamilton, and Grand Secretary R. L. Gunn. The first degree was demonstrated by the officers of Merritt and Copestone Union Lodge, Grimsby, worked the second degree. A special communication of the grand lodge was held at four o'clock for dedication work, which was done by the grand master, assisted by the visiting brethren of the grand lodge, and James Merriman, the deputy of Niagara District, No. 10. Last night at eight o'clock the third degree was exemplified by the officers of the three local lodges.

TRIPLE MURDER IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 21.—A triple murder was revealed in an obscure flat in the heart of New York's eastside at dusk. Two women and a man are the victims and the manner of their death was horrible. They had been gagged with silk handkerchiefs and their heads crushed with hammers or an axe. The bodies were left fully dressed, lying on the floor. A whimpering bull terrier was the only life in the flat. Robbery was the motive, or else it is another case of Black Hand.

Salvatore Scalpone, a well-to-do Italian barber, his wife and a middle aged woman, believed to have been Mrs. Scalpone's mother, are the victims. Scalpone's failure to appear at his shop yesterday started an investigation which resulted in the discovery of the crime.

Dire confusion reigned in the abode of the dead. Drawers were dumped, cupboards ransacked, mattresses ripped open, and every conceivable hiding place for money or valuables open. In a little hallway the last traces of the murderers, were found. There, concealed under a potato sack was a basin half-filled with bloody water, a blood-stained vest and a pair of overalls, also blood-spattered. The water apparently had been used by the slayer to wash his hands.

MAYOR MORLEY WILL LOOK INTO ACCOUNTS

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 21.—As a result of the re-election of Mayor Morley (after two years' retirement from municipal affairs) he has engaged Griffith R. Hughes, expert accountant to investigate expenditures during the past 18 months, especially with respect to Smith's Hill Reservoir, a contract suspected of having covered considerable jobbery.

City Engineer Topp having resigned, a successor is sought, while notice of dismissal has been given to the city solicitors, Mason and Mann.

The construction of the reservoir was vested wholly in Walter L. Adams of San Francisco, an expert in waterworks' policy, who controlled all incidental purchases.

LIABILITIES AMOUNT TO $3,000,000

New York, Jan. 21.—Roberts, Hall & Criss of New York and Cincinnati were forced to suspend as members of the New York Stock Exchange yesterday, following two failures Wednesday brought about by the collapse of the Columbus and Hocking Coal & Iron pool. Hugh F. Criss was the board member of the firm and had charge of the Hocking pool on the Exchange.

He estimates the liabilities of the firm at $3,000,000, but is quoted as saying that he hoped to pay "100 cents on the dollar unless the governors of the Exchange permit welching on the part of other members with whom I had contracts."

STREET RAILWAY MANAGER RESIGNS

St. Thomas, Jan. 21.—A. S. Balsden, manager of the street railway, has resigned. He says the people, in rejecting a bylaw to spend $25,000 on the road, show lack of interest, and he cannot hope to make it a success unless backed by the people. This is the second resignation in civic circles since the first of the year. Manager Hill of the Light, Heat and Power Department, having quit.

TWO RECOUNTS ARE ORDERED

Brampton, Jan. 21.—Judge McGibbon has granted the anti-local optionists' application for the scrutiny of the ballots cast in Brampton and Caledon. The scrutiny for Brampton will take place in the court house here on Wednesday, Jan. 26. That for Caledon at Acton on Feb. 1.

A scrutiny into the vote cast in Albion was made here on Tuesday and the majority for the bylaw was reduced from 6 to 3. Judge McGibbon reserved judgment on the question of setting aside the election for alleged irregularities.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Four armed burglars at Little Falls, N.Y., bound and gagged the police chief and looted the postoffice.

Arbitration is to be the solution of the controversy between the Chicago railroads and their switchmen.

Immigration into Canada for December totaled 8,673, as compared with 4,960 in December, 1908. For the nine months since April 1 the total was 158,929.

The Canadian Underwriters' Association offer $500 reward for information leading to the arrest of the persons who set fire to the Norrish building at Guelph.

An English boy named White fell under a C.P.R. train at Harvey Station, N.B., and had one arm cut off. He picked up the severed member and carried it the whole length of the station platform.

James McDonnell, farmer, of Westminster Township, is dead, aged 83, three days after the death of his wife.

A big London deputation will ask the Legislature to increase the grant to the Western University.

SAY THAT DOCTOR WAS CALLED IN

Port Hope, Jan. 21.—Friends acquainted with the facts in the case of little Lena Ennis, who it was said died of fever under Christian Science treatment, absolutely deny the reports that the child was refused medical aid or that she was out sleigh-riding before her death in a raging fever.

A doctor was called in, they say, as soon as the child was taken seriously ill and his instructions were implicitly followed.

WANT EXTENSION OF WATER MAINS

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 21.—A movement is on foot among the residents along the river front, near River Canard and in Sandwich West, to have Windsor water mains extended to that district. Wells furnish sufficient water in the winter, but in summer they go completely dry, when water has to be taken from the Detroit River.

UNIONISTS SWEEPING COUNTIES

Agitation to Make Roseberry Premier and Asquith Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Special to the Review.

London, Eng., Jan. 21.—The Unionist sweep of counties continued without abatement yesterday. Returns received up to four o'clock this afternoon showed seven new gains for Unionists, making a total of 76; Liberals gaining one from Labor and losing one. The Liberals now admit that they will be dependent on Nationalists, and fear the future if the latter hold them up for absolute home rule.

A movement was begun by Liberals to-day to make Roseberry premier, with Asquith as chancellor, throwing over Lloyd-George and Winston Churchill.

TWO NEGROES WERE PUBLICLY HANGED

Osceola, Ark., Jan. 21.—William and Charles Mullin, negroes, were publicly hanged Wednesday before 3,000 spectators, for the murder of A. Robinson and his daughter, houseboat dwellers.

They shot the daughter and burned her body in a blanket saturated with oil, and stood the father in scalding water and then shot him. Their purpose was robbery.

Murder In Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—The decapitated and disemboweled body of Anna Furlong, 25 years old, clad in a nightgown, was found in a room in a resort at 50 West 17th street yesterday. The head was missing.

Not Pottinger.

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—Hon. G. P. Graham denies that David Pottinger has been chosen to succeed Mr. Butler as chairman of the I.C.R. board. Nothing has been done yet.

Great Britain to Arbitrate.

London, Jan. 21.—The United States and Japan asked Great Britain to act as mediator in the matter of immigration treaty. The invitation has been accepted.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Druggist Heavily Fined.

Brockville, Jan. 21.—The largest pickerel ever taken from the St. Lawrence in this vicinity was caught by A. D. Flynn. It weighed 15 pounds and measured over four feet long.

G. F. Stayner, druggist, was fined, with costs, $110 for illegal liquor selling.

Canal Project Halted.

Kingston, Jan. 21.—It is likely the project of deepening the Wolfe Island Canal will be dropped, on account of a claim of about $30,000 against it held by the estate of a well-known family. The claim is kept alive by the payment of $12 a year.

A Ministerial Exchange.

Kingston, Jan. 21.—To effect a transfer for Rev. C. A. Sykes to Wesley Church, Toronto, it is likely a minister from the Hamilton Methodist Conference will be invited to the pastorate of Sydenham street Church.

Fear Back Is Broken.

Windsor, Jan. 21.—Robt. McMillan, a tin worker, fell 18 feet while working on a roof of the British American brewery building yesterday. It is believed his back is broken.

No Federal Insurance Regulations.

Washington, Jan. 21.—President Taft in an address yesterday at the annual meeting of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents held out no hope for the enactment of a federal law to govern the companies, and advised the executive officers to bend their efforts toward securing uniform legislation in the States.

Bad Floods In France.

Paris, Jan. 21.—The floods in the east and in the central part of France following an exceptional fall of rain, are the most disastrous since 1882. Many villages are submerged.

Two lives were lost near Lehmans by the wreck of a train, due to a washout.

Would Strike Off the "New."

New Westminster, B.C., Jan. 21.—The Board of Trade will recommend to the City Council that "new" be eliminated from the name of the town and that it be known as Westminster only. The Legislature will probably be appealed to enact the change this session.

FRIDAY, JAN. 21, 1910.

A RETIRING MINISTER

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, it is said, is about to retire. The Newmarket Canal, however, will go on and be "prosecuted to a successful issue." This gigantic work will be Mr. Aylesworth's monumentum aeris. It is a work of "brass" in itself. With Mr. Aylesworth personally we sympathize more perhaps than he did with poor Mrs. Blythe, for whom "the very stones of Rome" cry out that, since she could not be rescued, she should at least be avenged. Beyond all doubt, partizan or otherwise, the awe and majesty so desirable in the enforcement of law and justice has suffered during Mr. Aylesworth's regime. People generally will seek to evade the usual process of law and proceed to quicker and harsher measures if the fad of a minister is to rule instead of the will of a people.

What work, small or great, has Mr. Aylesworth left as a token of his fitness?

THE LATE FATHER TYRRELL

Of the late Rev. Father Tyrrell, "the most distinguished Jesuit and Catholic mind in Britain," as he was called, died the other day, and of him the Catholic Register says in the following editorial on "Arrogance and Insanity."

"Most of his friends and admirers could only explain Father Tyrell's perversion on the score of insanity. Without any doubt, he must have had a peculiar mental equipment which reasoned the whole Church wrong, or in need of adjustment to what he termed modern requirement, and he the Modernist reformer who was to do all this difficult work in the twinkling of an eye, and from within her fold. One thing sure, his very folly effected much good. It has caused Catholic Christianity to fall back more than ever upon the Papacy, as the great teacher in all matters of faith and morals, and has even in the results of this movement greatly benefitted the masquerading churches to the extent, at least, that a plain and incontrovertible source of authority has appeared to nearly all of them as of absolute necessity. "If it be not so, then it should be so," is the final word from even the most rebellious of the sects, as no religion on the face of the earth can stand without authority, and God will not fail in the important matters of religion to manifest with whom that persevering authority is and shall remain. Tyrell saw that the unerring authority and definiteness of the Papacy in everything was the enemy to his course. He was bound to take its very essence from the Catholic Church and call it still, in its accidental ade, Catholic and sufficient. He failed egregiously, he and his ilk; but with an arrogance born of insanity, he was bound to put his own poor opinion, his own insignificant personality, into the balance against the power and vigor and indefectability of the Church of Christ. He died the death of an heresiarch, much as he may have protested against that situation. The other day an Anglican paper from far off Calcutta came into our hands. Imagine the class of stuff it is purveying. Tyrell wrote a word commendatory of Old Catholicism, although he would not go out to it even when cut off from us. He said that would satisfy Rome too much. Rome was evidently the bete noir of his dream. He was going to remain in the Church although cut off from it and the authority which expelled him. He thus recognized that authority beyond anything else he could do. This is the irony of fate. We think we are digging away at the very foundation of divine things whilst we are piling up strength upon it. He thought the Anglican and Old Catholic Churches had something to gain from each other's limitations, and advised co-operation among them. He had a kind of branch theory which, however, could get no substance from the parent tree. That tree had shaken them off and was living and flourishing on its own sap, while they were without its life stream entirely. And see the folly of such men! He would not go over to the Anglicans or the Old Catholics although he wished them both well; he would stay and spite the Church—make it come to his views forsooth. "Nothing would gratify Rome more than an overt secession to the Anglican or Old Catholic Church, and that gratification would be based on a right that by such secession I had justified her position, and facilitated her dogmas," he wrote. Such madness in a theologian would merit a short-jacket. Our Anglican friends are welcome to the consolation which its recital affords."

EDITORIAL NOTES

If Socialism ever gets here we shall have combines, trusts, mergers and monopolists to thank for it.

"The Irish Catholics of Montreal seem to have carried the day. They protested against Hon. Mr. Weir as judge in Justice Curran's place, and Weir goes to Pontfac to replace Judge Champagne, who, in his turn, meets the terrible fate of being sent to Hull. Mr. Charles Archer, K.C., is now Judge of the Supreme Court of Montreal, vice Judge Curran, deceased. It looks as if it really paid to kick sometimes. We hope that Judge Archer will be all the Irish Catholic element have a right to expect."—Catholic Register.

Edinburgh, Jan. 5.—"Let us turn from the projects of the Solicitor-General for the social uplifting of his people to a picture of humanity on a much lower plane. I spent a considerable part of last night in the Grassmarket, the High street and the other slum regions of Edinburgh. The people were just completing the New Year celebration, and—as a Scot I confess it with shame—the debauchery to be seen upon the streets and in the closes can be matched nowhere else in civilization. The poverty and the dirt were no worse than one may see in any great English city, but in the faces of the men, and alas! of the women also, there was the mark of the beast. I do not think they drink more than the English people, but they pour the most fiery spirits into themselves, quite undiluted, and speedily become crazed, fighting drunk, as they say, when the Englishman is merely stupidly drunk."—Stewart Lyon, in the Globe.

The Province of Ontario deported 263 "undesirable persons" during the year 1908, according to the official report on prisons and asylums, issued yesterday. In the two previous years, 87 and 19, respectively, were the figures.

The report says: "An analysis of the admissions proves most strikingly the importance of carefully scrutinizing those who come to our shores.

"How some of them can pass any thorough system of inspection is a mystery; the genera paretics, the precocious dement, the obvious degenerate all slip by and reach us in a surprisingly short time. Surely it would be wisdom and good economy on the part of the Federal authorities to have some of their medical inspectors trained in psychiatry. Even a mere tyro in the study of psychiatric problems would be able to detect the weak spots in many of those who at present safely run the gauntlet of port of arrival inspection.

"The importation of boys and girls of distinctly defective type should be absolutely discouraged. Our experiences with these weaklings make us realize how great a menace they are, and how careful we should be to have a thorough examination of their antecedents made before admitting them. Better still would be to exclude them altogether, and when I say this I voice the opinion of many of those who have had to deal with these questions practically."

Mr. S. A. Armstrong, Deputy Provincial Secretary, submits charts which show the alarming proportions of English and foreign-born inmates of Ontario's prisons and asylums.—News item in the Globe.

Trades' Council Oppose Meat Strike.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 21.—The United Trades and Labor Council have denounced the strike of 10,000 working men against the eating of meat. The true remedy they say is a demand for higher wages and the establishment of a municipal slaughter-house.

Bankers Indicted for Perjury.

Cleveland, Jan. 21.—U. G. Walker president, and W. D. Duncan, secretary, of the South Cleveland Banking Co., which recently failed for more than $1,000,000, were indicted by the grand jury yesterday charged with perjury.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—A heavy run was recorded to-day at the City Cattle Market. Eighty-five cars were delivered by the Grand Trunk during the past two days. They comprised 1238 cattle, 1853 hogs, 697 sheep, 51 calves and one horse.

The Canadian Northern delivered five carloads, comprising 72 cattle, 105 hogs, 13 sheep and 7 calves.

The Canadian Pacific deliveries for Wednesday and Thursday totaled 60 cars with 980 cattle, 1304 hogs, 595 sheep and 25 calves.

The demand covered the big supply, and everything was sold. The prices were firm in accordance with a sharp demand. Prices were somewhat weaker for the cheaper grades.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed byits correspondents

Majority or Minority

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Having lately seen several letters in the local press relating to a reduction in the number of hotel licenses, it appears to me that there is one point bearing on the question which should not be overlooked. At the time of the voting on Local Option there were three other questions submitted to the ratepayers. One of these related to borrowing $19,000 for an Isolation Hospital, which failed to get a majority vote, being 88 votes short. The Council, therefore, have no notion of spending that amount of money for that purpose. And why? Because a majority of 88 said "No." The other two related to "Election of Aldermen by wards," and a "franchise to the Light & Power Co.," and for both these a majority of the electors voted "Yes," and the Council at once passed the by-laws. Now, the Council having submitted four questions to be voted upon at the same time, and having carried out the wishes of the electors as relating to the other.

To my mind this discussion should not be so much either for or against a reduction in the number of licenses, but whether or not the wishes of the majority of the ratepayers should be carried out by the Council in this the same as in all other matters. I think it should.

Yours, &c.,
F. BROWNSCOMMBE

The Matter of License Reduction

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—It was not my intention to write any more letters on the liquor question, as I thought once local option was defeated in the last campaign I would let them talk as much as they liked, and would not bother with it. But here, what do we see? After they have been beaten fairly on their own merits, with all the misrepresentation produced before the public during the last campaign, they are again starting to make the same trouble, only through another channel. And as I have been requested, through the mail and personally, to give my opinion on this license reduction question, this is why I am answering them.

After considering this matter impartially, and from both sides, I could come to no other conclusion than that of local option was unjust, and unnecessary for the people of Peterborough, that the license reduction is absolutely craziness, and a crime to deprive those men of the way of making an honest living, and also a loss to the community, especially after the verdict of the people has been given. The only proper way for them, or for all the citizens is, even as Mr. Potter said himself before the council, 'that had the law been duly observed by the hotel-keepers, the request of the Moral Reformers might never have been made.' I therefore say that the only just thing the people can do is to ask the council to uphold the law, and if any of the hotel-keepers will not observe the laws, take his license away; no matter who the hotel-keeper is, or what hotel he keeps, and grant no other license for that hotel. In this way you will have well-kept liquor laws, and you will not make innocent people suffer with the guilty ones. I think that would be more like British fair play.

Now, I was rather interested in seeing Mr. Crossman's name signed to an article in Wednesday night's paper, giving some arguments and reasons why they should grant the license reduction. He said that the lawyers on behalf of the liquor interests made a strong case at the council meeting, but that all their arguments were practically answered again and again in the recent campaign. Let me tell him that this is incorrect and untrue. This looks and sounds like moral reform talk, which is, as every one knows, mostly fake. During the last campaign license reduction was never mentioned, but the abolition of the bar was advanced. Let us consider the real facts. What benefits would the people derive from the license reduction. What is their real aim in reducing the bars? Is it to try to make more difficult the temptation of drinking? By closing all the bars some people would not be tempted so much. Now, if the bars were spread all over the city, as they are in other places, near the big manufacturing places, where men are going to and from their work, we might be tempted to go in and stop their work; or if the hotels were placed near the residential streets, so that when the working man was going home it would be convenient for him to stop in and get a drink. Then the moral reformers would have a reason to take away some of those licenses. But all the hotels here in Peterborough are situated in five blocks, around the centre of the city, near the market. It would be absurd to believe that if a man from Smith street or Romaine street were to come down street and go to the American House for a drink, if that house were closed, would he not go straight to the Oriental, that was open. Surely any man with sense must see that this kind of remedy, will not stop or limit the drinking question to the value of five cents, but would send all the business to the hotels that have the license. Now, for seven quibby reasons, would you like to ruin some families, and take away their business because it suits your feelings to do so? How would a merchant like for any one to pass a law to close up his store, after he has put his capital in to build up his business, because it does not suit a few men. These few men would say, there are enough stores without his, and any one wanting goods could get them in other places, and that they don't like his way of doing business, nor his methods of dealing with his customers and making sales. What kind of a tune would he sing then? Would he ask if it was right for them to do that? He would very soon say that this was a free country, and so long as he keeps the laws, he would claim the right to conduct his business, no matter if he did hurt some people. It is just the same with the hotel business. They are just as human as you are, and no sensible or responsible man would try to injure any one who was complying with the laws of his country, and, especially in this case, of taking the license away from those men, when it will benefit no one whatever, but to satisfy those moral reformers in the place of local option. And for those reasons I would like the Council to consider the request of the moral reformers, and from the same standpoint that some of them are business men themselves. They should do to others as they would, that others should do by them. Now Mr. Potter has mentioned that some of the hotel-keepers are in favor of the license reduction. As far as I have learned from the other hotel keepers they say it is false. The real motive why the moral reformers want the license reduction, is not for the benefit of the general public of Peterborough, or the betterment of the people at large. If they really and sincerely wanted to reform the people and make better men of them, they would not go about it in this way, but would have taken the proper steps. But that is not their purpose. Their purpose is to manufacture some material in the next three years, when they will try local option again. If they were to ask that the laws be enforced, then they would not have any troubles in the city. And that is against their principles. Under the mask of moral reform, they want to get more evidence to show the people when the time will come how bad these hotels are. They want to accumulate all the drunkenness in a few places, where it will not be possible for the proprietor of the hotel to control the drinking as it is at the present time. Divided, all the hotel keepers can better see to whom he is selling liquor. They want to produce more crime, and to show the people that these all come from the hotels, and it would not suit them, if the laws were to be abided by, because then they would have no reason to come before the public in another three years, and ask them to pass local option.

If those moral reformers really wanted to do anything for the benefit of the public, and went about it in the right way, then they would succeed. But they are great in speech and small in deeds. If they would only follow the footsteps of the T.A.S. then they would have succeeded long ago. And if some of those moral reformers would just listen to a sermon that the Rev. Father McColl preached some time ago, under the heading of "Thou Shalt Not Steal." When he stated that a man buying goods and not paying for them is the worst form of stealing. I think if a few of those moral reformers would only study this lesson some of them would find so much to do that they would leave the people of Peterborough alone, and not be advocating their license reduction.

I say therefore, to all clergymen, drop all politics and municipal affairs, and attend to business in the proper way. Try and get all your moral workers together. Call a public meeting, if necessary, and ask the general public for support, and if necessary make some kind of arrangement on the basis of the T.A.S. for the benefit of the people, and I am sure you will have the blessing of hundreds of homes. You will have the suppport of every citizen, and you will benefit the general public, and be a credit to all churches. Now, I say, again, try it and you will succeed.

Yours truly,
B. LASTER.

License Reduction

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—Mr. O'Connell made a good speech on Monday night, but he is a paid advocate. I am not paid, and let me tell him that when he says licenses cannot be reduced because money is invested in them, he maintains what would stop all progress for all time. If his argument is good for one year it is good for all time. The truth is, however, that communities are founded on mutual sacrifice for general advantage, a sacrifice required, not wantonly it is true, or needlessly, but where necessary, always. That is the basis of civilization. The individual cannot "hold up" the whole community. Then again, withholding a license is part of the contract, and is well understood by the licensee. The contract is for one year only. On no ground, whatever, therefore, does Mr. O'Connell's argument hold. If it did we ought to restore all licenses that have been cut off, and be prepared to face the problem of a dram shop for every hundred people (as it used to be). The argument, you see, is absurd. Then as to accommodation for the public, we see what great centres do and we need not fear to follow their lead. Once more, as to the accommodation for farmers. Was Mr. O'Connell retained to speak for them? Who was? It is very kind of him to do so, but let me tell you that he misrepresented the farmers, who are in the great majority in favour of the abolition of licenses all together. Let no private interests stand in the way, either. The people are not blind. One or two men are not to hold up the expressed opinion of the whole town. That idea of compensating license holders alone, of all the people who do business and lose, because some public utility has taken away their trade, is in itself an outrageous injustice. Abolition of the bars is simply a step forward, and those who are directly or indirectly engaged in the liquor traffic should not be allowed, from selfish motives, to check the onward march of civilization.

Yours, etc.,
P.J.

Porcupine Goldfield

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Let me call your attention to the following letter from Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, C.E., P.L.S., of Peterborough, which appears in to-day's Mail and Empire:—

To the Editor of the Mail and Empire:

Sir,—Your editorial in to-day Mail and Empire on the Porcupine gold field is, I consider, the best and most timely write-up on the mining conditions in that district which has appeared in the press to date. The first discovery of gold in that district was made in the fall of 1903, and since that time extensive prospecting has been continually carried on, but with very meagre results up to a few months ago. On Porcupine Lake, a small sheet of water about two miles in length by half a mile in width lies practically on the dividing line between Ontario's great clay belt to the north and the rocky broken country of the Temagami forest reserve to the south. It will thus be seen that if the mineralized area is to be extensive, it must be to the south of Porcupine Lake and in the Temagami forest reserve, and not to the north. Several assays have been made of gold-bearing quartz taken from the Township of Whitney in the fall of 1903 and the spring of 1904 yielding from seven to twelve dollars to the ton. I quite agree with your remarks that it is not a poor man's mining field, and that large capital will have to be applied in order to make the mines productive. While I agree with your article as a whole, there is one sentence, however, to which I must take exception. You say, "At this season, when snow is lying on the ground and the surface of the country is frozen, muskeg, which occurs plentifully in that part of the country, may often be mistaken for mineral land." Now, let me point out that this word "muskeg," as applied here, is a misnomer. In that district there are, it is true, extensive areas of spruce, tamarac and alder swamp. There is, however, practically no muskeg properly so-called.

Yours, &c.,
J. W. FITZGERALD.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Peterboro People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them

Sick kidneys give many signals of distress.

The secretions are dark, contain a sediment.

Passages are frequent, scanty, painful.

Backache is constant day and night.

Headaches and dizzy spells are frequent.

The weakened kidneys need quick help.

Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Peterborough evidence proves this statement.

Mrs. Jas. Hamer, of 352 Water St., Peterborough, Ont., says:

"I suffered for some time with many painful and annoying symptoms of kidney trouble, and although I had tried many remedies and doctors, found little or no relief. My back was weak and a dull, bearing down pain had settled across the small of it and extended into my shoulders and around my sides. I was weak and languid, and the least exertion would tire me out. Dizzy spells were frequent and often I would awake with a severe headache. I tried Booth's Kidney Pills through an advertisement in Mr. W. Madill's pharmacy and soon found them to benefit me. I continued their use, and in a comparatively short time I was as well and strong as ever, and without a symptom of the painful and longstanding disease."

Mrs. R. C. Heard is confined to her room through illness.

Mrs. Quinn is somewhat recovered from her recent illness.

Joe Mann was in the village on Tuesday.

Albert White, who has been spending a few days visiting his uncle in Lakefield, has returned home.

Bridgenorth can boast of having more grass widows than any other village of its size in Ontario.

Mr. J. W. Kelly, the new clerk and treasurer for the Township of Smith, is being congratulated by his many friends in this vicinity.

The Rev. Simon Crookshanks, pastor of the Methodist church here, has made arrangements for a special two weeks of prayer at Selwyn church during this week and next.

A number of young people, and, in fact, some of the older ones, (who might know better) went down to the Grand on Tuesday to see the Blue Mouse. She was a bird; had everything but wings, and no doubt must have been considered vulgar by some of the audience, which filled the house to excess. No one left the house, but the Peterborough press failed to make any comment in their daily as to the success of the show, as is customary.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Telford entertained their young friends to the number of forty on Tuesday evening. Cards and dancing was indulged in until after midnight. Turner's orchestra supplied the music.

Hurd and McColl are quite busy at their limits north of here and have a number of men and horses engaged at present.

Thomas Davis has a gang of men at his limits in Smith township.

C. J. Jopling has purchased five acres of timber near Lakefield, and has a number of men and teams engaged at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickey and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Quinn in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Nurse, of Millbrook, spent the past two days visiting with Mrs. McWilliams, east of the village.

A sleighing party from Peterborough to the number of about 25, drove to Bridgenorth on Tuesday evening and spent a pleasant evening with Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls, east of the village.

A burning chimney at R. C. Heard's residence on Tuesday morning caused no little excitement. A bucket brigade, in charge of Jim Cullen, soon had the fire under control.

Clayton Telford, who has been confined to the house with an attack of la grippe, has fully recovered.

Dr. and Mrs. Milburn, from McLeod, Alberta, are visiting at present in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pope were somewhat surprised on Monday evening, when a 'bus load containing some twenty in number, drove up from the city and made a pleasant call. Phonograph selections, cards and refreshments brought a pleasant and enjoyable evening to a close.

Mr. Percy Udy's chimney blew down on Tuesday night during the big wind storm.

Thos. Mann is suffering with a sprained wrist which he received while enjoying himself at Jackson Park toboggan slide on Saturday. He was going down with some young ladies when he lost his grip.

The C.O.F., Court Bridgenorth, No. 315, will on January 28th (Friday) install their officers publicly. All interested in the work are cordially invited to be present. Court Peterborough has been invited to visit Bridgenorth on that night to spend a social evening, also to instal the officers. Refreshments will be served to the visitors by the court.

Mrs. J. N. Telford, who has been visiting friends in Peterborough for the past week, returned home on Wednesday by the stage.

Miss Madge Martin, school teacher in the village, spent Tuesday evening at the Fourth Line tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of Lindsay, are at present visiting with Mr. and Mrs. P. Udy, in the village.

Mrs. Wm. Gereghty has been confined to her room for the past week. There is not much change in her condition.

Mike Conway and John Turner were in the village on Wednesday doing business.

J. A. Jobe, the new councillor, is keeping very quiet these days. He is trying to dispose of his dog before the assessor puts in an appearance, as they claim that the new assessor is a corker after dogs. Jim Grant, who has two hounds, claims that a hound is not a dog; therefore he will not have to pay 'dog' tax for 1910. Here is a chance for an argument.

FARM HANDS FOR ONTARIO

Notwithstanding the great flow of immigration to Canada during the past few years the need of farm help seems to be as great as ever, and in order to meet the demand, the Salvation Army has had ten experienced Canadian representatives in Great Britain during the past three months, selecting a good class of able-bodied men and women, whose emigration will be arranged this spring. As the Emigration Department of the Army has done extensive advertising in the rural districts of Great Britain it is expected that they will be successful in bringing a class of people to this country who will readily adapt themselves to Canadian farming.

MARRIED MEN AS PERMANENT SETTLERS

There is a great desire on the part of married men with families to emigrate to Canada for farm work, and it is gratifying to observe that farmers are seeing the advantage of making proper provisions to be in a position to hire this class of help. Married men are to be heartily recommended as making the most permanent settlers, being anxious to make homes for their families in this country.

Full information and Application Form will be furnished by Lieut.-Col. Howell, Immigration Offices, James and Albert streets, Toronto; or Staff-Captain Williams, Clarence street, London.

It is expected that parties of men for farm work will arrive during the months of March, April, May, June and July, under the supervision of the Army's duly appointed conductors, and will be sent from port of landing direct to situations throughout the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

PRIME MINISTER ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Mr. Lake, (Qu'Appelle) has placed a question on the order paper enquiring whether the Prime Minister is correctly reported in his speech at Toronto on January 10 as saying:—"We are under the surerainty of the King of England; we bow the knee to him: but the King of England has no more rights over us than are allowed him by our own Canadian Parliament". If these were the words of the Prime Minister, Mr. Lake wants to know if this is the view the Government holds of Canada's relation to the throne.

A LIVING LINK WITH THE PAST

An Old Resident of the City Survives all His Fellows.

The funeral of the late John Carnegie brought together a large number of the older residents of the city, men past the prime of life, and who have been in the place and grown up since the early days. They have seen, several of them, the overgrown village blossom into a town and further bloom out into a city. Among so many as were there reminiscenes were exchanged, while looking about the Little Lake Cemetery at close of the service. One remarked, pointing out a grave and headstone "there is the first person buried in the cemetery and I was one of those present at the funeral". That was if I recollect aright, nearly sixty years ago."

The span of life is longer, on the average than we at first suppose, and despite the insurance companies, who scare us upon the short time the average man has to live. But here is one who has gone on living, through the entire history of the city since it first became a tangible spot on the map. The gentlemen is Mr. James Stevenson, and who at the time he speaks of was a man of 26. The first interment in the cemetery was that of the body of Samuel W. Albro, who died at the age of 50 years, on April 29th, 1851, and was buried on May 1st. He was a charter member of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, Oddfellows, and of which lodge Mr. Stevenson was also a charter member, that is the old original lodge instituted in 1846. The grave of Bro. Albro is always sought out and remembered and decorated by his brothern of No. 13, on Decoration day.

Mr. Wise, the superintendent of the cemetery states that the books of the institution show that up to December 31st, 1909, the number of interments was 6,978, nearly seven thousand. So many have been laid to rest since Mr. Stevenson attended the first funeral within the gates. This does not represent the total number of burials made from the city's inhabitants, for those made at the Roman Catholic cemetery and at the Methodis cemetery are not included, and then the large number interred in the ground now covered by Central Park. Even as it is the Little Lake cemetery is filling up too rapidly and the coming generation will require to look abroad for resting places within the next twenty-five years.

TO-NIGHT AT THE Y. M. C. A. GYM.

A rather short notice, but those that have nothing to do on this evening, can do a good thing by spending just a few minutes at the Y. M. C. A., looking over the boys' rooms and then go into the gymnasium and see what the gymnasium does for the boy. The building will be thrown open to the public at eight o'clock and there will be something doing all the time until 9 30, the regular gymnasium work will be on in the gymnasium and will run right through until time for closing, there has been no rehearsals for the work this evening and will be nothing but regular gymnasium work, but it will without doubt be satisfactory to the people. The Physical Director works hard with the boys and he has things the way he wants it, and the boys work just as hard.

There will be an exhibition game of basket ball between the intermediates and the Collegiate class, after the regular gym. work is over.

ACTRESSES AND DRESSES

The Opinion of Miss Dolce Melrose of Tempest and Sunshine.

We have seen the magnificently attired figures in big shop windows. Sometimes they have lovely wax faces, peroxyde hair and long black eyelashes, glued on.

They are pretty like some women, parading other people's models, causing people to mention the name of of the maker, always forgetting the name of the wearer. They are only animated by lay figures after all.

A woman must know how to wear her clothes, and this is something which can neither be bought or acquired.

There is to my mind no way in which bad taste can be more easily displayed than in matter of jewels. Unlimited money opens the way to the vulgar and they cannot resist th temptation. The "dressed up" lady at the summer resort breakfast table, decked in all her jewells, is the horror of a woman of taste.

Fabrics that are of the best colors, that are inconspicuous and harmonious, few trimmings and then all the money you want to spend put in cut and fit. That's a safe rule to follow.

The well dressed woman does not know the meaning of "best clothes." Her laces and furs are bought for a life time, not for a season only. She orders her gowns with a special view of her needs, a few really good ones each year, instead of accumulating a houseful of things she will never use more than one or twice, and those time only because she happens to have them.

Miss Melrose whose wise saying in reference to women's dress in quoted above is the star in W. F. Mann's production of Tempest and Sunshine which is the attraction at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, January 22nd.

Don't overlook the free course in stock and seed judging on Jan. 24, 25 and 26 Stock judging in Fitzgerald's building, corner Water and Brock streets. Seed judging in market hall. Prof. Creelman, Principal of the O.A.C. Guelph, will address a public meeting in Collegiate Institute Tuesday evening, Jan 25th. 1w3d

LINDSAY MAN JOINS THE MOUNTED POLICE

Lindsay, Jan. 18 — Lindsay is again losing one of her prominent young men in the person of Mr. Wm. Watson, who leaves to-morrow morning to join the Mounted Police at Regina.

Mr. Watson is a son of Mr. A. Watson, South Ward and has been engaged for some years at the Flavelles Limited flour mills. He also has been a prominent and enthusiastic member of the curling club, being a good curler.

"Bill" has also been a supporter of baseball and rugby, being an old reliable with the old Lindsay Redskins, who carried the the Midland district championship in 1904.

Saturday's Attraction

"Tempest and Sunshine" a dramatization of Mary J. Holmes' clever novel will be the offering at Grand to-morrow, matinee and evening. It deals with a people great in their simplicity and grand in their intensity, embodying all that is fair and just, a people whose hearts are bursting with love, truth and honesty and from whom justice can't be bought. Interpreted by a clever cast.

OBITUARY

JOHN BETTES.

At the Nicholls Hospital this morning, at six o'clock, the death occurred of John Bettes, who had been taken there on Sunday suffering with paralysis, with which he had been seized suddenly. The deceased was 89 years of age and had some time ago come to this city from Stayner to visit his son, Mr. J. H. Bettes, for the winter. He resided for many years in Brighton. The late Mr. Bettes was well known here and the news of his death will be received with much regret. Surviving him are three sons, J. W. Bettes, of Winnipeg; Albert, of New Westminster, B.C., and J. H. Bettes, of this city. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock from the residence of his son, 5 Hunter street east, to the Little Lake cemetery.

NO DEFENCE LEFT

We commend to the notice of our readers the following excellent presentation of the case for reduction of licenses. Surely nothing further is required to show the plain path of reasonable action and of positive duty. That the City Council will regard it in the same light the public may feel assured. There is really no defence left to the non-reductionists, and it is to be hoped that the campaign will close as suggested by Mr. Ackerman, and in all good faith and good humor.

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I read with interest the letter of Mr. Cressman on license reduction, which appeared in your paper of the 19th. As a manufacturer I strongly endorse the arguments which he expressed. We have found from experience, that cutting off or reducing licenses lessens drink.

A few years ago, we had a hotel near our factory, which caused us considerable loss, owing to the easy means our employees had of procuring drink. Since this license has been cancelled, we have found a great improvement, and with a further reduction we believe the temptation will be further reduced.

What applies in our factory, no doubt applies to other factories of the city. Our City Council and Board of Trade for some time back have been trying to devise means of securing more manufactures. In my opinion, by reducing the licenses as has been asked for, would go a long way in encouraging manufacturers to locate here, as they prefer to locate where they can get the best possible results from their employees, and I claim they can get these results by helping to keep them sober.

There was a statement made to me a short time ago by a prominent manufacturer of Orillia, that before the licenses were cut off in their town, the average number of employees in the Tudhope Carriage Company, who were absent from their work on Mondays, was fifteen, and after the bars were closed the average was less than one.

There should be no doubt in the minds of our worthy Council of what their duty is in this respect, as they already have the opinion of the greater majority of our citizens.

Yours very truly,
B. F. ACKERMAN.

THE JUDGES ARE SELECTED

For the Free Course Here—Interest is Wide Spread

Interest is becoming widespread over the short course in livestock and seed judging, which will be put on in the city of Peterborough, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next by the Norwood branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. All arrangements have practically been completed for the event, and the success of it seems assured.

Livestock from local breeders and others will be the subjects on which those in attendance will exercise their ability as judges, and from which instruction will be given. Mr. R. H. Leary is responsible for the light horses that will be judged. Draught horses will be furnished by Mr. J. Baptie, of Springville; Mr. Grandy and Mr. Graham, of Smith, and Mr. S. Redmond, Otonabee. Messrs. Baptie and Redmond will also furnish the beef cattle. Representatives from the high producing dairy herd of J. K. Moore & Son, Central Smith, will be the subjects in the dairy class. The George Matthews Company will supply the swine for that department of the work.

All indications point to the fact that this new departure in the interest of Peterborough county agriculture will be a distinct success, and that many will benefit from the instruction that will be given at this short course.

The Quaker Oats Company require the services of a number of girls. Apply at Office.

RE-OPENING OF THE BOYS' DEPARTMENT

The public re-opening of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. will take place to-night between eight and 9.30 o'clock. There will be an exhibition in the gymnasium and it is expected that there will be a large attendance. Extensive improvements have been made in the Boys' Department.

THEATRICAL

The White Sister

A problem of unusual strength and delicacy is presented in F. Marion Crawford's drama "The White Sister"—a problem which might very easily arise in real life. The ultimate solution of this problem, with a triumphant victory for the highest ideals of the conflicting forces, forms the foundation for a story of intense emotions and convincing strength. When the white sister fought against all the almost unconquerable demands of her deepest human impulses, and resisted every appeal of a man who was devotedly in love with her and towards whom she fully reciprocated that love the sacredness of the nun's vow, and the beautiful qualities of the nature were brought out with wonderful effect.

As Sister Giovanni Viola Allen has a splendid vehicle for her excellent histrionic gifts, and swayed the audience with her magnificent acting. Minna Gale as Countess Charamonte, the disappointed and intriguing lover, displayed exceptional ability in a disagreeable but interesting part. William Farnum gave a superb portrayal of Captain Giovanni Severi, his deep and musical voice being employed with fine effect in the emotional passages. James O'Neill, as Monsignore Sacramoso, made a dignified and stately dignitary of the church, and Richie Ling was admirable as Lieutenant Basili. Fanny Addison Pitt was natural and very pleasing as Madame Bernard, Sister Giovanna's old governess.

The stage pictures were very fine, the cloistered garden at the convent in the second act, making a beautiful setting.

MINISTER ACCUSSED

Of Misappropriating Money. Gives Himself to Attorney at Toronto.

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—Rev. C. M. Atlas, ordained Presbyterian minister among the foreign population of Toronto, surrendered himself to the Crown Attorney this morning after a trip of seven thousand miles from Tintah, Turkey. He had been accused of misappropriating some money and came back to declare his innocence. He did not stop even to call on his wife and children here.

EVIDENCE WAS CONFLICTING

And John McDonald Was Acquitted of the Charge, That He Was Intoxicated on Saturday Night

John McDonald was acquitted at the Police Court this morning of the charge that he being on the blacklist was found under the influence of liquor on Saturday last. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the defendant.

License Inspector Stewart testified to having served McDonald on May 14th of last year with the notice.

P. C. Meagher said he saw defendant in and outside the Opera House on Saturday night, between ten and eleven o'clock and he was under the influence of liquor. He stumbled as he came down the steps and staggered as he crossed George street on his way home. He was not aware that McDonald was on the blacklist at the time. He had advised his brother to take him home.

W. L. Evans said McDonald with his brother on King street going west, but he could not say that defendant was intoxicated. His brother did not have him by the arm.

McDonald said he had been in the third gallery of the Opera House. After the play was over he went down the stairs with the crowd. He missed a step. During an intermission he had left his seat to go out to cool off. On crossing the car track he slipped on the ice.

His brother went down King street and they parted at Aylmer street. He did not have any liquor that night. He left his work at 6.45 and went home and did not go up town until about eight o'clock.

Harold McDonald, brother of defendant, said to the best of his knowledge, his brother was not drunk.

The Magistrate held that he could not make a conviction on the evidence.

Y.M.C.A. BOYS TOOK A SLEIGH RIDE

About twenty boys showed up at the Y.M.C.A. last night to go out on a sleigh ride, and go we did.

We started out from the Association at eight o'clock and drove up George street to Nassau, and started down the other side of the river, and everything was going very nice when some fellow that was Johnnie on the spot, cast an eye down on the main piece that was drawing the jolly crowd and shouted oats, and the horses ran away from the fun-makers and left the crowd setting in the sleigh wondering what had happened, and some that they were looking at some moving pictures, but they soon had a rude awakening, for it was a cinch that we were not moving at all. Walter Flowers beat it for a barbwire fence looking for a nail, but found nothing that would serve for a bolt, which we were very badly needing. Finally, some one approached a farmhouse and demanded a bolt, and the farmer was kind enough to help us out, and after a half hour of hard work we finally got started on our way.

We proceeded on our way down the opposite side of the river, and gave all the girls the glad smile and all the glad hand (all that would take them) we went down George street and up again to McDonnel and out to Jackson Park, singing all the latest songs, such as 'No Wedding Bells for Me,' 'Does Your Girl Love You?' 'I'm Glad I'm Married,' and so forth until we reached the park, whereupon we were greeted with a shower of snowballs from some rude little chaps.

We disembarked and all piled over to the slide and secured toboggans and had a ride in good time, and piled home and sat down to the table, whereupon there were oysters and ice-cream. That may seem a queer combination to some of you, but it didn't seem to bother the boys at all, but the combination didn't seem to work on the physical director, and he went home with the blues, nevertheless with the feeling that he had had a good time, and couldn't say a word against the evening, but the oysters disagreed, and so had to leave, but, Oh, my, it was a strenuous eve.—Com.

SIX HEATS NEEDED FOR 2.35 CLASS

Some Sensational Racing at First of Winter Meet—Joe Patchen Took First Money in 2.35 and J. B. Wilkes in Straight Heats in 2.16—Exciting Finishes

All announcements to the effect that the ice races this year would be of unusual interest were confirmed yesterday, the opening day of the winter meet, when the large crowd of spectators were provided with some exceptionally interesting and clean-cut racing. In both the 2.35 class and 2.16 class there was stepping of a sensational character and the finishes got the audience strung up to a high pitch of excitement.

In the 2.16 class J. B. Wilkes won in three straight heats, but had to step to go the limit to annex the first money. McAdams Jr., coming under the wire in spectacular finishes such a close second that the results of the heats were in doubt right up to the finish.

It was in the 2.35 however, there was the hardest battling. It would be impossible to get a more evenly-matched field and the big bunch of starters made a great picture as they would sweep past the stand on the half miles in a solid cluster and the outcome of the race was a delightful uncertainty all through. It required six heats to decide it, with Joe Patcheon landing the long end of the purse. Furioso was second and Flying Jib third.

SIX HEATS IN 2.35 CLASS

In the first heat in the 2.35 class, there was some delay in scoring. Flying Jib struck the teeter, and it was some time before the horse could be put on reasonable behavior again. However, the field got away to a start, and Joe Patcheon came under the wire in the van, with Flying Jib only half a neck behind him. The heat was a sensational one, and set up quite a hum of excitement among the spectators. In the second heat there was another fierce fight between Jib and Patchen, and McPhee's masterly driving had much to do with the former horse getting first place in this heat with Patchen fighting neck and neck for the position. Furioso, who had been dangerous all along, took a hand in the next heat, and finished in the lead with Patchen second and Flying Jib in third position. The next heat was also won by Furioso, and considering it was the fourth, was made in the very fast time of 2.19 1-2, which was the best of the race, with the exception of the first, which was stepped in 2.17 1-4. The fifth heat saw another grand finale with Joe Patchen beating Flying Jib in a finish that was so close that it was a difficult matter to tell which horse was ahead. Patchen took the last heat and race.

In the summary the money positions of the horses are given in the order they are named:

Joe Patchen, W. Hodgins, Orillia	1	2	2	2	1	1
Furioso, Parks, Sutton	3	4	1	1	4	3
Flying Jib, L. Brooks, Ottawa	2	1	3	4	2	2
Togo, James Watson, Belleville	4	3	4	3	3	4

Time—2.17 1-4, 2.22, 1-2, 2.21 3-4, 2.19 1-2, 2.24, 2.26.

THE 2.16 CLASS.

This race, with its big list of starters, was a great one from the beginning, with J. B. Wilkes winning three straight heats, after some hard and highly interesting racing.

The summary:—

J. B. Wilkes, Moore Bros., Sarnia	1	1	1
McAdams, Jr., Van Woodruff, Oshawa	2	2	2
Lulu Mac., C. Burrett, Parkhill	4	3	3
City Queen, L. Bennett, Port Hope	3	6	6
Harry Direct, Dr. Johnston, Peterborough	5	4	7
Danny Bright, Jos. Walker, Orilla	6	5	5
Walter G., A. C. Dafoe, Foxboro	7	7	4

Time—2.22, 2.22 1-4, 2.22 1-4.

OFFICIALS.

Starter—James Noble, Toronto.
Judges—Chas. Burns, Toronto, and A. J. Ardmore, Lindsay.
Timers—D. B. Denison, Peterborough and C. H. Sawle, Peterborough.

GEORGE STREET AND ST. ANDREW'S WERE WINNERS

In Opening Games of Senior Church League at Auditorium Rink — St. Andrew's Made Great Finish Against All Saints'.

Two good games opened the senior church hockey league at the Auditorium rink last night. George st. defeated Knox church in the initial contest by 3—1, and the champion St. Andrew's seven carried off the honors in the second game, defeating All Saints' 7—2. All teams are much stronger than last season and the league race promises to be an exciting one. A good crowd witnessed the two exhibitions.

Wilson's work between the nets for the Methodists, enabled the team to win out. The Presbyterians were better conditioned and shot more accurately than their opponents. Barclay was accidentally injured in the eye soon after play commenced and had to retire. Parnell went off to even up. Two of the players put up an exhibition of hugging and were sidetracked for five minutes. The first half ended 2—1 in favor of George st. and another goal was secured after fifteen minutes play in the second half Elliott, Reed and Galley were prominent on the Knox church line-up.

The teams were:

George Street 3—Goal, Wilson; point, Wade; cover point, Shaw; rover, Dawson; centre, Parnell; right, Wettlaufer; left, Curtis.

SECOND GAME.

All Saints' played well in the first half of the second game, but St. Andrew's were great finishers and won out 7—2. The ice had become soft and it told considerably on the Anglicans. Sills' performance for the winners was a feature of the game. The half-time score was 2—2 and the lineup was as follows:

St. Andrew's 7.—Goal, Richardson; point, Montgomery; cover, Clarke; rover, Patterson; centre, N. Rae; right, Leitch; left, Sills.

Amos McWilliams refereed both the games to the satisfaction of all teams.

RACES FURNISHED TO-MORROW

Free for all and 2.22 Class Will be the Programme

Owing to the soft spell of weather the ice races were postponed this afternoon and will be held to-morrow instead. The fastest race of the meet—the free-for-all—will be held, and the 2.22 also. After the excellent racing of yesterday there should be a great deal of interest in the races and the biggest crowd in the history of the winter racing game here is expected to be in attendance.

The races start at 2 o'clock sharp.

CANOE BUILDERS WON FROM C.G.E.

The Electric Team Was Defeated by 3-0 in a Fast and Clean Exhibition

The Canoe Builders defeated the C. G. E. in a Mercantile League game at Brock street rink last night, 3—0, after leading at half-time by 2—0. The boatmen played good hockey, and the team deserved to win. Referee Detroeler had the players well in hand and the game was free from any rough work. The teams were:

C. G. E.		Canoe Builders
	Goal
Latimer		Hayes
	Point
Reed		Gillespie
	Cover
Elliott		Johnston
	Rover
Clancy		Loomis
	Centre
Kinsalley		Anderson
	Right Wing
Tovey		Ferguson
	Left Wing
Burke		Huard

HORSES FOR ICE RACES TO-MORROW

The following are the entries for the free-for-all and 2.22 at the second day of the winter race meet at the Driving Park:

Free-for-all—Mattie Chimes, Major Bryno, J. B. Wilkes, Walter G., Tom Tariff.

2.22 Class—Grey Guy, Patterson. Togo, Lulu Chimes, Tom Dillard, Wild Patchen, Furioso, Wa-wa.

The above talent includes some particularly fast horses and the free-for-all should be the best ice race seen here.

Owing to the postponement of the races additional entries will be accepted to-day.

CURLING

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

Two games in the local bonspiel were played last night, W. G. Reid defeating W. D. Campbell, and E. B. Clegg winning from W. McIlroy. The rinks were as follows—

Rev. Trumpour		D. B. MacRae
J. Westenholm		J. McDermid
H. Morphet		R. P. Best
W. G. Reid		W. D. Campbell
Skip	14	Skip	9
W. H. Tunnel		F. Clark
W. E. Lech		E. N. McWilliams
A. Mowat		H. Meredith
E. B. Clegg		W. McIlroy
Skip	10	Skip	9

Anyway, Peterborough and Lindsay will have a warm time. They love each other not, and will fight it out to the last end. And while citizen curlers always have a warm welcome for the veteran Flavelle, they wouldn't mind a bit if Peterborough turned the trick. For Peterborough are a much easier proposition on Toronto ice than the men with the Tankard habit.—Telegram.

The skips given below are requested to have their games played off this week if possible:

G. B. Stevenson vs Dr. Eastwood.
D. Fraser vs D. Hall.
D. Davidson vs G. Giroux.
Dr. Wightman vs S. T. Medd.
R. M. Waddell vs T. F. Matthews.

For the second draw of the primary the skips are:

E. B. Clegg vs H. F. Foote.
W. M. Lang vs T. Brightman.
R. Hicks vs J. E. A. Fitzgerald.
A. Moore vs W. G. Morrow.

HOCKEY

According to the Ottawa Journal Fred Whitcroft will finish the season with the Renfrew team and that he will receive $2,500 for his work. Boulton, of the Edmonton team, will likely be found with the Renfrew team.

The team that will represent Lindsay to-night are: Goal, Gamble; point, Taylor; cover, Carew; rover, Moddard; centre, McDougall or Cain; left wing, Blomfield; right wing, Cole.

PERSONAL

Mr. R. J. Winch returned home last evening, after spending the week, the week the guest of his son-in-law, Mr. H. H. Bradburn, of Winnipeg, at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Bradburn left Toronto to-day for New York, from where they will go on an extended trip to Bermuda and California.

NEW EXHIBITION HALL PROPOSED

East Peterborough Agricultural Society Considering New Buildings

Norwood, Jan. 20.—The annual meeting of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society was held in the Council Chamber, Norwood, yesterday afternoon. Mr. John Breckenridge occupied the chair. The financial statement showed the receipts to be $2,047.65, and the expenditures $1,979.94, leaving a balance in the treasury of $67.71.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—Mr. F. Birdsall.
Vice-Pres.—Mr. E. Hawthorne.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mr. John Kelly.
Directors—Messrs. Andrew Knox, W. H. Reetben, Jas. Andrews, B. C. Parker, Gilbert Embree, J. F. Elliott, H. Dunham, Jas. Russell and T. J. McConnell.
Honorary Directors—Messrs. Chas. O'Reilly, John Breckenridge, J. Knox, Geo. Elliott, J. B. Pearce and J. A. Sexsmith, M.P.

Messrs. F. Birdsall and C. O'Reilly were appointed to represent the society at the meeting of the Ontario Association of Fairs and Exhibitions, to be held in Toronto in February.

Messrs. James Calder and E. P. Cuffe were re-appointed as auditors.

The meeting recommended that the society take up the field crops competition this year.

Messrs. Pearce, Squire and O'Reilly who, with others, were appointed to consider plans and obtain estimates for the erection of a new exhibition hall and grandstand, submitted plans and figures and a resolution recommending the directors to proceed with the same, was passed. The directors decided to meet on Monday, Jan. 31st, to view the grounds and discuss the matter of the erection of a building in accordance with the recommendation.

Messrs. Squire, Andrews, O'Reilly and others spoke, commending the work that is being done by the Department of Agriculture in connection with Norwood High School, under the direction of Mr. H. C. Duff, B.S.A.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A Spiritualistic Wonder

Science in the past has had little use for the marvels performed by so-called "spirit mediums." Wonderful as such feats might have appeared at first subsequent investigation so invariably proved them to be of fraudulent origin that the scientist early dismissed them as unworthy of serious consideration.

That science maintains this same position to-day there can be no doubt, and yet an apparent exception is certainly being made in the case of Eusapia Palladino, the Italian medium who is now paying her first visit to this country. For several years some of the greatest scientists in Europe—physicists, pathologists, neurologists, astronomers, psychologists, chemists, mathematicians—have been studying her phenomena, and, almost without exception, these cold-blooded investigators have publicly announced that they have been convinced that the wonders they have witnessed at her seances are neither the result of tricks nor of hallucination.

The fact that they have admitted their confidence in the Palladino phenomena, however, does not necessarily imply that they have been converted to everything else that is popularly supposed to go with such a belief. They accept the facts that they have succeeded in demonstrating—the facts they have proved, not only by the sense organs but by their mechanical instruments as well—and yet, despite this admission, most of them are still just as materialistic as they always have been. To their minds, the phenomena is sufficiently important to stand by themselves and they have eliminated the spiritist hypothesis in trying to explain them. Instead, many of them are now convinced that the faculty that Eusapia displays so astonishingly, is one that, though latent, is existent in every human being, and, as the result, the feats that were once confined to the spiritualistic seance-room are now being performed in the physical laboratories of the best European universities, and are being studied as the "unexplored field in human biology," under the direction of professors of natural science—From "Science and Eusapia Palladino," in the February Technical World Magazine.

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

We also represent first-class Fire, Accident, Guarantee, Plate Glass and Live Stock Insurance Companies.

A CLASS OF COLLEGE GIRLS TAKING A FENCING LESSON OUT DOORS

"SALUTE, young ladies!" And at the sound of the fencing master's voice a score of girls swing into position, bodies that were inert quiver with excitement of a coming bout with foils, eyes sparkle with excitement, and there follows a ring of steel against steel, telling that the fencing lesson has begun.

"It is marvellous what I have been able to accomplish with my class," confided the enthusiastic master during a rest in the daily practice. "When I took them six months ago they were awkward and ungainly, hardly a single movement had grace and attractiveness. Now look at them. Are they not quick, sinuous, alert and well developed young ladies? Where could you find a more graceful carriage, a greater amount of suppleness and lightness? Ah, believe me, there is nothing in all the list of exercises so beneficial to the feminine figure as fencing, and no girl should neglect taking lessons with the foils for at least one year if she looks forward to a successful social career, where grace counts for almost as much as beauty.

"Fencing lessons will do more for the improvement of the feminine outline than any other exercise. A girl who is too stout cannot fence well, so if she practises regularly the surplus fat disappears as if by magic. And the girl that is too thin for the present beauty standard fills out wonderfully after she has had a few months' hard work with the foils. Fencing seems to smooth out all the imperfections of contour. And that is not its greatest advantage. The quick movements required in practice will quicken the sluggish temperament. Fencing improves the vision, because a fencer must learn to see quickly and the body learns to move in the most graceful attitudes: Fencing means grace. One cannot become expert with the foils without acquiring sinuous and attractive poses, and the movements learned in this sport are used unconsciously in every other. A good fencer will develop into a good dancer. To be able to dance, however, does not mean that one can fence right off, but the various positions will come more readily to the beginner who understands the art of dancing than to the novice."

GIRLS' schools invariably include fencing among their list of exercises, and the classes are always popular. In the expensive schools high priced fencing masters are employed and the girls are taught to handle the foils with such skill that they can parry and thrust with their brothers. In the city there are a few excellent clubs for the purpose of promoting interest in this noble art. Tournaments are frequently held, and exhibitions which are a credit to the teachers and pupils are given during the fencing season.

For a girl who has grown a bit rusty on fencing and needs only a few pointers the following will be found useful, and even the amateur who wants to learn the art of fencing will find them of great value:—First of all the fencer should learn how to grasp the foil. This should be held firmly so that a quick strain from the adversary's thrust will not loosen the hold, yet it should not be gripped or the hilt clutched in the hand. Too firm a hold will strain the wrist and forearm. Let the hand lie flat on the convex part of the hilt, forefinger extended along the foil and the other fingers curled about the hilt and resting flat against the left side, touching each other lightly.

There is a great deal of science in the grasp of the foil, for through her blade the fencer understands her opponent's play and her sword must be free to ward it off with lightning quickness.

THE first attitude assumed by the fencer as she steps forward or to the centre of the field before placing herself on guard is as follows:—Stand with the body erect, heels just touching and toes pointed out, the right toe in a straight line with that of the opponent and the left foot at a sharp angle to the right. While the body is held erect it is swung slightly to the right, thus presenting a three-quarter view to the adversary. The sword hand is held on a line with the head. The left arm is allowed to swing at the side, not close to the body, however, and with the palm of the hand turned outward.

The salute is a picturesque posture and is a preliminary to the battle. While in the position just described the fencers stand at the correct distance from each other, this being determined by the length of arms and foils, and the arms of both fencers fall gracefully at their sides, the buttons on the foils just touching the floor. They should strike it a little toward the left of the right foot. At a signal both fencers step forward, raising the right arm until it is on a level with the top of the head, blades extended. The hands then drop to a line with the chin, almost touching it and the blades continuing upright. With a quick movement they sweep downward and to the right, this being one of the most attractive and graceful of the fencing movements.

With another quick movement the blade is brought forward and the tip of the foil grasped in the left hand, both arms raised over the head, and after a second or two the left hand falls to the side slowly and half bent, elbow down and the hand on a line with the ear. It is held some distance from the head, fingers pointing upward, while the right hand falls into position for "on guard" and the signal for the struggle to begin is given.

THE position of "on guard," the second in the series, is equally interesting. Lower the right hand from first position, turning the knuckles downward and move the blade so that the left hand grasps it lightly. Then raise both hands slowly and gracefully above the head, allow the left hand to loosen its grasp and fall into position at the back of the head, keeping the arms bent and half outstretched so that the open palm is on a level with the head. Then move the right hand to the front, just a trifle below the breast and to the right, with the elbow coming close to the body. Hold the foil in a horizontal position so that its tip is on a line with the eyes. Now advance the right foot about eighteen inches, being careful to keep the right heel on a line with the left, and allow the weight of the body to fall equally on both feet, so that one leg feels no more strain than the other. In this position the body is well balanced, yet poised so that the quickest possible movement can be made without any difficulty.

The lunge or extension now follows, and this is one of the hardest to manage. Stretch the right arm from its former position close to the body until it moves straight out at the same height as the shoulders. The body should never be the least bit rigid in this position, in fact pliability is one of the greatest qualities of the skilful fencer. Neither should the body be bent in this movement. Advance the right foot a trifle, keeping the knee directly in line with the instep. Do not lean forward or backward, except when advancing or retreating, and be sure that the body is upright. One of the easiest errors to fall into is bending as the body retreats or advances. When there is no one at hand to call attention to such errors the fencer is apt to acquire bad habits, and for this reason class work is excellent practice.

IN moving forward or backward the start is always made with the right foot and followed by the left. One of the first rules given by the instructor is to take small steps, never long strides. The position can be changed or shifted by ending the right knee forward or straightening it. This will move the body forward or backward, the distance of the movement depending upon the degree of the bend. When retreating or stepping backward always start with the reverse foot, that is, with the left and follow with the right.

FENCING terms are unintelligible to the novice. "Tierce" means when the fencers have their foils crossed with points upward and blades to the right of each other. When in the same position with the sword points to the left of each other the fencers are engaged in "quarte." A lunge in "tierce" is thrusting to the right and high, in "quarte" the same movement is made with the sword to the left.

The regulation fencing costume is one of the most picturesque of athletic attire. Short skirts are essential and sometimes they are accordion pleated. The plain gored skirt is as practicable as any. School girls often wear their gymnasium suits, and when they practice in the open air they don sweaters. The athletic field or the lawn outside the gymnasium is an excellent practice ground for the fencing classes and instructors have found that girls like the open air work far more than they do foil practice indoors.

A College Girl's Touring Equipment.

IN anticipation of a trip of several weeks' duration through a region where first class hostleries are conspicuously absent, a college girl of practical mind has provided herself with a number of small and easily packed conveniences.

Into a flat dressing case of pigskin lined with morocco and fitted with tooth and soap boxes she has found space for a manicure set, a sanitary closed case containing a hair brush having a celluloid plate under the bristles to insure easy cleansing, a package of non-scented dry shampoo powder for freeing the hair of oil and dust, a metal box holding a tiny powder puff, a securely fastened wooden case for quarter ounce screw top bottles of ammonia, peroxide and witch hazel and a silk lined morocco heart-shaped affair holding four sterling silver ribbon runners and thread reels. A bevelled mirror set into the back of a four by eight inch black seal envelope purse which holds stationery, a fountain pen and its filler is protected by a feather weight rubberized silk raincoat and hat and a dark hooded kimono which can be folded into an infinitesimal amount of space.

In addition to the toilet conveniences the travelling case accommodates a pint coffee pot of dull copper with a removable inside percolator, a nickel teapot, which may be tilted to regulate the beverage to the desired strength, a poacher which cooks six eggs and a non-explosive alcohol chafing dish lamp which generates its own gas.

Birthday Dolls.

THE girl who wishes to remember the birthday anniversary of some small feminine relative or friend will find a visit to the doll emporiums entertaining and instructive. Instead of the conventional baby features and garb, dolls now have faces of varying ages and are dressed accordingly.

There are replicas of the "summer girl," golfing, tennis, yachting and motoring enthusiast, bride, widow, French maid, waitress and cook—all suitably garbed. Japanese tea room attendants, Dutch, Eskimo and Indian children, with different types of faces and in native costume, and infant dolls, have countenances modelled from life by expert artists.

Everything that an American doll wears is now to be purchased ready made. There are fashionable frocks, gowns, bath robes, wraps, rubberized rain coats, Leghorn, straw, chiffon and lace hats and every imaginable accessory.

SOME SMART HATS EASILY TRIMMED

IT is somewhat a pity that the lingerie hats are no longer worn—they were so universally becoming, so attractive to make one's self and withal so singularly appropriate with the style of simple morning dress for which they were designed. However, no fashion can remain forever in favor, and the straw hats with large Alsatian bows of lace bordered lawn that are now so smart are certainly extremely effective.

It is rather a fad among young girls this year to be decidedly "sporty" in appearance on the tennis court or golf links, and, in fact, for whatever form of outdoor fun or exercise they may pursue, the costumes contrasting sharply with the charmingly pretty and girlish frocks and hats which are donned in the afternoon. Soft brimmed, comfortable Panama straws are worn again for riding, tennis and all forms of more or less strenuous exercise, but, unfortunately, only a girl with curly hair can look attractive in a Panama, for this hat requires to be worn far down on the head in a way which hopelessly flattens straight hair.

With the hair worn low on the neck or in a braid down the back a wide brimmed sailor is almost invariably becoming, and this year both white and black sailors are in vogue, the later being, perhaps, the more fashionable. Mushroom sailors are still in evidence, but flat sailors are more in demand than was the case last year.

White duck and pique hats, severely plain, with only a lawn scarf and bow-knot or large rosette as ornamentation, are delightfully cool and light. There is no hat, in fact, which so well takes the place of an embroidered linen or batiste morning hat.

With simple gowns of linen or gingham altogether the prettiest hats this year are those either of natural colored linen ornamented with an enormous bow-knot of plain or bright colored ribbon or the wide brimmed chip straws trimmed with large double bowknots of finest lawn or mull bordered with Valenciennes or baby Irish edging.

These new hats are, fortunately, no more difficult for a girl to make and trim herself than were the lingerie hats of a few summers back. First a good straw shape must be found, which, if too mushroom in effect, can be raised up on the head by means of a flat bandeau or velvet "halo." It is almost always possible at this time of the year to find a good untrimmed sailor shape in white, yellow, black or any colored straw desired.

First a good wire shape must be procured, and this has only to be covered with a piece of linen of the desired shade. The best and safest way of covering a flat wire shape is by cutting first a good pattern in paper or cambric, this being done by placing a piece of the material over the top of the hat, cutting a slit in the centre so that it can slip down over the crown, and then, when the material fits flat on the brim, cutting it even around the edge of the brim.

The lining for the under side of the brim is made in the same way, the only difficult part being the neat joining of this facing. The top of the crown, of course, must be perfectly smooth and flat, but the sides of the crown can be hidden by the material or ribbon of which the bow is formed.

There are any number of variations possible in this style of hat—shirring about the crown and brim, cording, rows of tucks, all add to the charm of the model, but for a beginner the simple design is unquestionably the best.

A hat is undoubtedly the most important part of a costume, but an expensive hat is not necessary, at any rate in the summer, when a girl has plenty of time to turn out any number of fascinating hats. Even if she has not sufficient talent to make for herself a large, dainty Alsatian bow, she can then find a becoming straw shape in white or yellow and have made and wired a number of different colored ribbon bowknots, which she can change each time a different colored frock is donned.

FASHIONS FOR HOME MADE LINGERIE

DIMITY instead of plain nainsook or fine linen is just now extremely popular for all kinds of underwear, and for the girl who makes all or a great part of her own lingerie this is a fad well worth knowing of, for dimity, having a pattern of its own, calls for far less trimming than a plainer fabric. Dimity of a pretty check or stripe design requires little more adornment than a single edging of lace and perhaps some little tucking, whereas all batiste undergarments are profusely trimmed with hand embroidery and countless insertions of lace.

Both night dresses and chemises are ridiculously simple to make, and if a girl will only keep herself supplied in these two departments of her lingerie she will have sufficient saved to buy what else she may desire. The prettiest pattern for a summer nightgown is square cut, low neck, with short kimono or cap sleeves, the only trimming being a flat band of beading sufficiently wide for a one-inch ribbon about the neck and the same at the end of the sleeves. An edging of lace an inch or less in width and perhaps a few rows of tucks run below the beading will make as attractive a nightdress as could be desired. This gown slips on over the head, the ribbons being tied in front at each corner, so that there are no troublesome buttonholes and button slips to make.

It is an excellent plan to buy one night dress of an especially pretty design and good fit as a sample from which to cut the others. If, however, a girl does not feel that she can expend so much as a dollar for a pretty gown she can buy a paper pattern which will answer all requirements and is, in fact, easier to cut from.

For chemise and corset cover as well as night dress a square neck is now preferred to a round or V shape. Not only is the square more becoming, but over this shape the waist will be found to fit better and also give a wider shoulder line.

If a chemise is worn instead of a corset cover it must not be longer than a few inches below the waist, else it will cause the skirt of the dress to fit badly. A girl cannot commence too young to see to it that her underskirts and corset cover fit smoothly in order that her outer dress will look trim and neat and all unnecessary fullness and wrinkles be avoided. For this reason a [illegible] preferable to a chemise, which, unless it is fitted in at the waist with the lower part or skirt added separately below a band of beading, is sure to interfere with the fit of the shirt waist and skirt worn over it.

Cheap lace is of all things to be avoided on underwear, and if a girl cannot afford a really good Valenciennes she should content herself with fine embroidery. For a young girl the most attractive undergarments are of a sheer quality of linen, trimmed only with hand scalloping and perhaps some simple design of hand embroidery. The open English embroidery is now preferred to the French and Swiss work, and this is of course the most effective. Also Irish lace, or rather baby Irish edging and insertion, have taken the place for the moment of the finer Valenciennes, which, exquisitely pretty as it is when first put on, never looks well after the first washing. Irish, on the other hand, is, if anything, improved by soap, water and ironing.

When she is making her own lingerie a girl should always turn out her undergarments in complete sets and not wear a lace trimmed chemise with an embroidered corset waist or a petticoat trimmed with one kind of lace and a waist of another design.

Naturally, too, of course, all garments must be trimmed with the one shade of ribbon. This summer white ribbon is preferred for the under waist and petticoat when a gown of sheer texture is worn, and satin is now in vogue rather than the wash ribbon formerly so fashionable. The satin, however, must be double faced.

It is as important to-day for a petticoat to have its band of inch wide beading with ribbon run through as for the corset waist itself to be thus adorned. Beading can always be added to a skirt above the flounce, and if the skirt itself is of sufficiently good quality and trimming it is well worth while to add this little finish should the skirt have been bought without it.

Silk shirts are decidedly costly, but to make are comparatively inexpensive, and for warm weather are both hygienic and comfortable. Cut from any silk or paper pattern. The underskirt can easily be finished at the neck with a narrow beading and an edging of lace. With a little ingenuity a tiny wreath or small floral spray can be drawn on the skirt and neatly embroidered, thus making this garment [illegible] the most expensive article [illegible] be found in the shops.

Did you ever catch your husband flirting?"
"Yes, but I caught him."

"Dobbs looks angry."
"He's money mad because he hasn't any."

MURRAY STREET CHURCH CONTRIBUTED GENEROUSLY TO MISSIONARY WORK

The annual meeting of the Murray street Baptist church was held Wednesday night and was largely attended. Rev. J. R. Webb, the pastor, presided. The reports of the different departments of the church were read and they showed that the church is in the most flourishing condition, and that the past year was the best in the history of the congregation. The offering of Murray street church towards missions was very large, the financial statement of the treasurer, Mr. T. F. Matthews, showing that $1,370.39 had been contributed to and in missionary work during the year ending December 31st.

DR. SCOTT REMEMBERED.

Dr. Scott, for many years treasurer of the poor fund of the church, was the recipient of an address and a travelling bag from the deacons and trustees. The address was read by Mr. T. F. Matthews, and it contained reference to the excellent work Dr. Scott had done as treasurer of the poor fund. Mr. Porter White made the presentation.

The pastor, Rev. J. R. Webb, read his report of the pastoral work, and a synopsis of the various activities of the church during the past year. He set forth the changed condition under which we work as compared with those of past years, and the possibilities and prospects for further usefulness and growth.

Mr. T. F. Matthews moved for the adoption of the pastor's report, and the most hearty expression of appreciation of the pastor's ministry. Mr. V. Eastwood seconded the motion, and emphasized the efficient and untiring work of the pastor and thankfulness for his leadership. This resolution was carried unanimously and heartily.

The erection of the new church was discussed informally, and it is understood that the work will be be started at an early date.

SEMAPHORES AND D-RAILS

At Grand Trunk Railway Crossing Put Into Commission This Morning

semaphores and 'D' rails at the Grand Trunk Railway crossing on Charlotte street, were put into commission. This system, when in operation, makes it impossible for an accident to take place at this point, as far as the railway trains and street cars are concerned. With the street car having the right of way, the semaphores are up and the 'D' rails closed. On the approach of a railway train or engine the gates are put down, the 'D' rails opened, and the semaphores lowered. After the train has passed the gates are put up first, then the semaphores, and lastly the 'D' rails are closed. One leaver operates the 'D' rail and another the semaphores, and these, with the gates, are in charge of the gateman.

The income of Hamilton Y.W.A.C. last year was $3,630.

BROCKVILLE MAN HEIR TO LARGE SUM

Special to the Review.

Brockville, Jan. 21.—Chas. MacLean whose wife, a daughter of the late Senator Fulford, died one week ago, has fallen heir to three million dollars, under peculiar circumstances. Before her death Mrs. MacLean gave birth to a child, which at once became heir to one-third of the Fulford estate, according to the will. The child lived only two hours and died intestate, and the money goes to the father. From his wife's death he would have inherited $13,200.

OBITUARY

GLADYS JONES.

The death occurred last night of Gladys Jones, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones, Lisburn street, Auburn. She had been ailing with scarlet fever.

The funeral took place this morning to Little Lake cemetery.

MANY ATTENDED THE FUNERAL

Remains of Late John Carnegie Laid at Rest in Little Lake Cemetery

The funeral of John Carnegie, ex-M.P.P., took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, McDonnel street, to Little Lake cemetery. It was largely attended, men from many walks in life being present to pay the last tribute of respect to one whose life and deeds had been an example to the community. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Robert Pogue, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church. Mr. Pogue referred to the splendid character of the deceased and to the uplift that his life had been to those with whom he came in contact. Rev. Mr. Potter, of St. Andrew's, with which Mr. Carnegie was connected for many years, assisted in the service.

The Conservative Association of West Peterborough was represented at the funeral by Col. G. W. Miller, Ald. Phelan and Messrs. J. H. Burnham and R. M. Waddell. The Young Conservative Club was represented by the president, Mr. C. N. Brown, and others.

The honorary pallbearers were Messrs. James Kendrey, Hugh Waddell, J. D. Collins, J. J. Lundy, F. H. Dobbin, James Stevenson, S. R. Armstrong, of Peterborough, and Arthur Caddy, of Campbellford. The pallbearers were Messrs. G. F. Orde, Minneapolis, Minn.; W. L. Innes, Simcoe; C. N. Adams, Coboconk; James Snyder, Peterborough; W. J. Sherwood, Peterborough, and Dr. F. W. Hilliard, Haileybury.

Among relatives from out of the city who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Orde, Minneapolis; Dr. Frank Hilliard, Haileybury; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Innes, Simcoe, and Mr. C. N. Adams, Coboconk.

There were several beautiful floral emblems from associations with which the late Mr. Carnegie had been connected, and from friends.

LIBRARY INSTITUTE CONVENTION

Will be Held at Lindsay in February—Peterboro Included in the District

Lindsay, Jan. 20.—A special meeting of the Public Library Board for the purpose of settling matters in connection with the library institute convention, which is expected to be held here in February next, was held last evening.

Some weeks ago the Board wrote the Department of Education a letter asking for certain information regarding the convention. It was read last evening from A. H. A. Colquhoun, Deputy Minister of Education, stating that no expense was born by the government or department. The Library Board which is to hold the convention, pays all the expenses with the exception of library officials. These are attended to by the department. The banquet which the local board inquired about, will not be held, as it would interfere with the business programme of the day.

The district which Lindsay represents is one of the largest if not the largest in the province. It consists of 38 libraries and extends from Peterborough to Gravenhurst including the town of Port Hope and the county of Durham.

At the convention the Minister of Education is expected but if unable to attend Deputy Minister A. H. A. Colquhoun will be in attendance.

TERRIBLE WRECK ON THE C.P.R. WEST OF SUDBURY

Forty-eight Believed to be Dead -- One of the Worst Catastrophes in the History of Canadian Railroading Occurs When Soo Train is Derailed and Plunges Down Enbankment at Spanish River.

Special to the Review.

Sault Ste Marie, Ont., Jan. 22—An auxiliary train sent from the Soo last night to the scene of the C.P.R. disaster returned this morning. Mr. Burrows, Local Manager of Bell Telephone Co., in an interview stated that the first class coach caught fire and some persons were burned alive. All persons in the diner were either drowned or killed by the fall. All in the pullman are safe except for injuries as the car did not go into the river. The latest estimate gives 63 dead and 37 injured,

North Bay, Ont., Jan. 22.—A terrible accident occurred yesterday afternoon on the Soo branch of the C.P.R., near Webbwood, 37 miles west of Sudbury, when express No. 7 en route to Sault Ste. Marie, was derailed, taking a heavy toll in death and injury among the passengers.

Forty-eight passengers are reported killed and 92 injured.

Another report from Webbwood says that 75 were killed, but this cannot be correct.

The express was speeding along, with a good passenger list, when suddenly, without warning of any kind, several of the cars left the rails and plunged down a steep embankment.

Two of the cars went into the Spanish River, adding death by drowning to the horrors of railway accident.

A dining-car is partially submerged and a first-class car is almost wholly under water, and the death roll cannot be fairly estimated at present, but every indication points to one of the worst fatalities in the history of Canadian railroads.

The cars which went over the bridge were the first-class coach and diner. Conductor Reynolds estimates 18 passengers were in these two cars, of which one man only escaped.

Of the passengers who were in the first-class car, which is partially or wholly submerged, and how many are dead will not be known until a diver, who is being rushed on a special train from Sault Ste. Marie, arrives at the scene.

Twenty passengers at least were in the second-class car, which took fire, and which was burned, adding additional horror to the terrifying spectacle.

How many escaped from the fiery furnace of death is not known as yet, as there is no telegraphic communication with the wreck.

The accident happened between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and when the cars left the rails, tearing loose from the front part of the train, the crash of timbers, groaning of girders and shrieks of twisting steel was speedily followed by the cries of the injured passengers and the moans and lamentations of imprisoned passengers in the shadow of death as the water of the Spanish River filled the doomed cars.

The train was just approaching the large steel bridge spanning the river when the accident happened, and the cause—whether a broken rail or broken truck—may never be known, as the track is torn up.

Conductor Thomas Reynolds was injured, but ignored his hurts, and did everything he could to mitigate the sufferings of the injured passengers.

Physicians were hurried to the scene from Sudbury as soon as word was received, and a wrecking train with General Superintendent Gutuhus made record time from North Bay.

It was known that R. Burrows, manager of the Bell Telephone Co. at the Soo, and John Boyd, contractor of the same town, were on the train. Telegrams were received from each to the effect that they were safe. Mr. Burrows stated that he had received slight injuries and that he would be home on the first train to the Soo.

John O'Boyle, Sault Ste. Marie, who was supposed to be on the train, has not been heard from. Mr. O'Boyle was the prime mover in drydock scheme there.

An auxiliary left Webbwood at 2.30 yesterday afternoon and a train with divers left the Soo at 9 o'clock, in an endeavor to rescue dead bodies from the wreck.

It is believed that J. J. Anderson, D. P. A. of the C. P. R., was on the train, and he has not yet been heard from.

The members of the lodge of Chosen Friends at Bar River were awaiting the arrival of the organizer last night and it is believed that he was on the train.

The Official Statement.

Montreal, Jan. 22.—Vice-President McNicoll of the C.P.R. last night issued the following statement in regard to the wreck at Webbwood yesterday afternoon.

"The latter half of the train from Montreal to Minneapolis, which left Montreal on Thursday night, left the track on Friday afternoon about four miles west of Nairn, on the Algoma branch, just east of the bridge crossing the Spanish River. The cause is as yet unknown.

"One coach struck the end of the bridge and was destroyed, the next coach going into the river.

"About twenty passengers are reported injured, three or four seriously. They have been taken to Sudbury hospital.

"Several bodies have been recovered from the wreck and more are supposed to be in the coach in the river.

"The dining-car was only partly submerged, and the passengers escaped. The sleeper turned over on its side."

The engine, baggage, express, mail and one second-class car remained on the rails, while one second-class car and one first-class car, a diner and a sleeper left the rails, plunging down the embankment, a first-class car and diner going into the river, while the sleeper, and second-class car remained on the ground, but the second-class car was burned.

Engineer Trelford and the train crew, with the exception of Conductor Reynolds, escaped injury.

The nearest telegraph station to the wreck is at Nairn, four miles distant, but the officials are arranging direct communication.

Thomas Hay, C.P.R. claims agent at first reported badly injured, has wired his family that he is safe.

Passengers from the eastbound Soo express are being transferred around the wreck, as the bridge is considered unsafe. This will cause considerable delay to traffic.

Russia has rejected the U. S. proposal to neutralize Manchurian railways.

It is reported that Roosevelt has killed three good bulls and two cows of the white rhinoceros family and considerable lesser game.

H. J. P. Good of the Toronto Exhibition staff, has been appointed manager of the Dominion Exhibition to be held in St. John, N.B.

Complaint is made in Siberian papers that American traders are demoralizing the native tribes in Kamtchatka by running in cargoes of liquor.

Montreal will purchase the Gagnon historical library for the sum of $31,000. The library comprises over 8,000 volumes relating to Canadian history.

Randolph Macdonald, railway contractor and financier, died suddenly early yesterday morning at his home in Rusholme road, Toronto. Acute indigestion was the cause of death.

A despatch has been received at the Militia Department at Ottawa from the Colonial Office, announcing the acceptance by the army council of the offer of Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, commanding the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, to take that regiment to England next autumn, for the purpose of participating in the imperial army manoeuvres at Aldershot.

COMMITTEE ON EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—The special committee considering Mr. Verville's bill for an eight-hour day on public works got down to work yesterday morning.

Sixteen hundred copies of the bill with a circular letter asking for opinions were sent out.

The manufacturing and marine and transportation interests are almost unanimously opposed to the measure. The labor organizations favor it, while the agricultural and stock breeding interests, so far as heard from, are not particularly pronounced.

Prof. Skelton, of Queen's, who is making enquiry for the committee as to the operation of eight-hour laws in other countries, said that, in the United States, federally in several of the states such a law was now in force. He was instructed to make further investigations as to the effects of operation of such statutes.

PRIESTS PETITION PREMIER WHITNEY

Toronto, Jan. 22.—Sixteen priests of Essex County have forwarded a petition to Sir James Whitney, through Hon. Dr. Reaume, asking that the liquor regulations be so amended as to banish licensed places from the vicinity of churches; secondly, to provide a minimum license fee of $500, and thirdly that licenses be issued on a population basis. There are in the Township of Sandwich East thirteen licenses to a population of about 3,000, the petitioners stated.

ANOTHER MOVE IN CANNERY MERGER

Toronto, Jan. 22.—Another development in the canners' merger is announced, no less than the taking over every one of the independent companies into the Canadian Canners, Ltd. At present only three independent companies remain out of the deal but it was said last night by a gentleman in touch with the situation that negotiations for these would be closed in a few weeks.

The new amalgamation will comprise about 56 factories, or with the three independents which will likely come to terms, 59.

The terms of the amalgamation are not stated authoritatively, but it is understood that the independents will be given stock in the merger.

THE PROTECTION OF CANADIAN FORESTS

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—"That it is important that steps be taken at once by this commission to protect the forests of Canada from fire, especially along the line of railways, and that in particular that legislation be recommended to bring the Dominion Government railways under the fire laws of the several provinces, and that Government railways shall also be made liable for damage done by fire originating from their engines, and that the burden of disproof shall be on their side."

The above important resolution was passed yesterday afternoon at the commission of conservation.

GIANT CRUSADE IN STATES TO FORCE DOWN MEAT PRICES

Reports From Various Parts Say That Thousands in all the Big Centres are Signing Pledges to Stop Eating Meat for Thirty Days as a Protest Against Present Cost.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—A movement to combat the high prices of meat by abstinence therefrom spread rapidly yesterday and began to assume a national character. The extent of the boycott may be gained from the following list of states:

Ohio—In Cleveland 50,000 consumers do without meat. At Steubenville 300 families are on anti-meat strike. Cincinnati club women give up butter. Strike movement under way at Dayton and Columbus.

Missouri—Forty-two St. Louis doctors advise workmen that they can enter meat boycott without danger to health. Kansas City and St. Joseph labor unions institute meat strike. St. Louis stationary engineers resolve to abstain.

Illinois—Thousands of Chicago workmen will join a movement to eat no meat until March 1.

Pennsylvania—Pittsburg mill workers call on butchers to cut prices immediately on penalty of their customers becoming vegetarians.

Wisconsin—Mass meeting of citizens is called to institute meat boycott and circulate petition.

Kansas—Meat boycotts are announced as flourishing in Atchison, Leavenworth, St. Joseph and Topeka.

Nebraska—The Omaha Central Labor Union, 8,000 strong, starts a meat boycott until prices drop.

Iowa—Anti-meat-eating clubs are being formed in Des Moines.

Michigan—Detroit consumers aroused because prices across the river in Canada are 5 per cent. cheaper. They will boycott meat.

Maryland—In Baltimore a meat boycott is in full swing.

Delaware—In Wilmington, 1,000 householders have signed a thirty-day meat boycott, encouraged by the fact that a similar move recently lowered the cost of turkey from 45 to 10 cents a pound.

Indiana—Two hundred Jewish families have gone on a strike against the high prices charged by kosher butchers.

Connecticut—The rubber workers of the Naugatuck Valley will eat no more butter or eggs until prices become normal.

Coincidently came announcements from Milwaukee and Cleveland that the price of meat had dropped. In Milwaukee two retail butchers quoted porterhouse and sirloin steak at ten cents a pound, and other meats in proportion. The wholesale price of beef fell off 15 cents a hundred pounds in Cleveland.

From Denver Samuel Dutton, president of the Western Hotelmen's Protective Association, announced that a proposal to cut down the consumption of meat would be brought before his organization at a meeting in Chicago on Jan. 31.

Despatches from Baltimore, Kansas City, Omaha, Memphis, Pittsburg and other cities told of the rapid growth of the meat ——

Cleveland, credited with being the originator of the scheme, now has 30,000 names enrolled, while Kansas City reports 80,000. The heads of the leading packing houses of Kansas City and Chicago refused to discuss the effect of the movement on their business.

From a few places word comes that the boycott does not find favor even among union men. Toledo and Minneapolis report that it is unlikely that the Cleveland plan will find favor there. Union men, it is said, fear that the fast would cut both ways.

That the boycott is not entirely a union movement was proved by a report from Des Moines, Iowa, that the meet pledge has been signed by scores of men and women who agree to eat no meat for thirty days, although labor unions have not as yet taken any official notice of the crusade.

MEMBER SAYS WITNESSES ARE LYING ABOUT SAWDUST WHARF

Grenville Man in House of Commons Declares That There is a Great Deal of False Evidence Being Given Before the Public Accounts Committee.

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—The purchase of the "Sawdust Wharf" at Richibucto, N.B., bids fair to become as famous as the first cruise of the steamship Arctic.

This wharf was bought for $700 by T. O. Murray, manager of the Kent Northern Railway from J. O'Leary, and sold immediately to the Government for $5,000. The transaction has caused a good deal of examination in the public accounts committee.

Dr. Reid, the Conservative member for Grenville, declared in the House last night that he was satisfied that there had been perjury committed before the public accounts committee on more than one occasion, but particularly on this.

"I believe that there have been witnesses in this case who have deliberately perjured themselves and I intend that this shall not stop here. Perjury should be punished by prosecution by the Attorney-General of the province, or by some one else, I intend to report to the House that there has been perjury and demand that the House shall take action," he said.

Dr. Pugsley: "It is open to Dr. Reid, if he believes that there has been perjury, to lay information, or to test the matter by stating to any witness after the adjournment of the committee that he believes he has perjured himself, and taking the chance of a libel. So far as I have observed, and I have given the matter steady attention, I have seen no evidence of any witness having committed perjury in this case."

Mr. Carvell: "Any man who has had experience as a lawyer, and Dr. Reid has not, knows that witnesses often differ in a most extraordinary way, due to recollection or observation. It is a terrible thing for Dr. Reid to stand up here under the protection of his position as a member of Parliament and make a wholesale charge that witnesses have committed perjury in this case, without naming the witness whom he believes to be guilty."

Dr. Reid: "Well, I believe that there has been perjury committed, and I am not the only man who believes the same thing. I do not intend to let the matter drop."

During the course of a speech made at the evening sitting, Glen Campbell (Dauphin), said he had heard a rumor to the effect that Mr. McCraney, M.P., would become Attorney-General of Saskatchewan, and that Hon. Walter Scott, Premier of that province would enter the Federal Cabinet.

He said that he would give Mr. Scott fair warning that the day he entered the Dominion Parliament would be a red letter day for him.

Col. Smith of Cornwall closed the budget debate. Canadian woollen manufacturers, he said, were getting far more for their produce than they did in the Conservative days, and sheep raisers were likewise getting much better prices for wool.

UNIONISTS FORGING TO THE FRONT

Are Gaining Steadily in the Counties—Victory for Tariff Reform Claimed

London, Jan. 22.—The political tide continues to drift towards Conservatism. Forty-eight constituencies declared their choice yesterday, and the positions of the opposing armies last night were practically where they were the night before, with the Tories slowly forcing the Radicals backward.

There is hardly a question that the Irish will hold the whip over Premier Asquith in the coming Parliament, and that it will be a critical and exciting session.

The Unionists have made steady gains on the popular vote almost throughout England, and to a much lesser extent in Scotland and Wales, but all the parties and factions of parties claim the results are a vindication of their policies.

"Broadly speaking," says The Nation, "the force and direction of the two great electoral currents is clear. The north stands out against the south—Scotland and Wales and Yorkshire, Lancashire and the northeastern corner of England against the Midlands home counties and the nearly solid southern coast."

The Unionists claim that the result is a victory for tariff reform. The Liberals deny it stubbornly. They declare that the feudal status of the counties is responsible for the Conservative gains, and charge the triumvirate—the landlords, the church and the publicans — with overawing their dependents and followers by practicing widespread intimidation, and threatening them with loss of work.

From the opposition point of view, the conservatism of the counties is due to the loyalty of the people to the House of Lords, their fear of socialism, and a desire for protection.

Mr. Asquith, speaking in Fifeshire, twice used the qualifying phrases, "if you send us back to Westminster with an adequate majority," in that case, he observed the Government intended that Scotland should share as largely as England in small holdings.

SHOOTING OF MAN IS WAS AN ACCIDENT

Woodstock, Jan. 22.—Thomas Stalker, who shot Oscar Maldover, a pedlar, in the eye while shooting rabbits was before the magistrate yesterday Maldover was able to testify. It was shown that the affair was accidental and Stalker, on undertaking to make proper reparation, was allowed out on suspended sentence.

EXPLOSION IN TUNNEL KILLS FIVE

Fishkill Landing, N.Y., Jan. 22.—Fifteen men, three Americans, were killed late yesterday afternoon by a premature explosion of nitro-glycerine in a tunnel which is to form part of the great aqueduct which will carry water from the Ashokan dam in the Catskills to New York City.

Five were terrible mutilated, but were so near the mouth of the tunnel that they were rescued alive. The other fifteen were found beneath a mass of rock and debris, just a bleeding mass.

It is believed that one of the workmen, carrying a torch, fell, igniting a fuse and setting off a series of charges of nitro-glycerine, which had been placed preparatory to an exodus from the tunnel.

A squad of twenty men having drilled the holes and placed the explosive, was trooping from the excavation. As five neared the mouth of the tunnel, there was a terrific roar, the countryside shook for a quarter of a mile around, and the five foreigners were hurled senseless to the ground. Inside death was instantaneous to the fifteen.

A SPLIT AMONG B. C. LIBERALS

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 22.—The latest development in the affairs of the new Legislature is a split in the ranks of the Liberal side of the House, represented by two members. On Thursday John Jardine of Esquimalt tacitly took possession of the leadership by seconding the nomination of Eberts as Speaker. Yesterday morning, his lone companion, Brewster, refused to follow him, his action having been the subject of warm debate amongst prominent Victoria Liberals in conclave on Thursday night.

Brewster insists that when Jardine entered public life it was as a Labor Liberal, and not as a straight party man.

A REVOLUTION IN URUGUAY

Buenos Ayres, Jan. 22.—Pessimism prevails here regarding the situation brought about by the revolt in Uruguay. The newspapers publish reports of uprisings in several of the provinces of Uruguay in accordance with revolutionary plans, which are said to be on a vast scale. The censorship continues rigorous, and it is impossible to get details.

REMARKABLE VOYAGE OF AN ICE-BREAKER

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 22.—After one of the most remarkable voyages in the annals of lake navigation, the steamers Britannia and Pleasure, of the D. W. & B. I. Ferry Co., which left here Wednesday morning, have reached Toledo, Ohio.

The trip of the two ice-crushers has been a continuous struggle. After a tremendous fight, the two ships reached Amherstburg Wednesday night, where they remained until 4 o'clock Thursday morning. At the mouth of the Detroit River the Britannia ran on to the windrows, which threatened to tie her up for an indefinite period. The boats will now smash the ice in the Maumee River, at Toledo, in order to save waterfront property from disaster.

The price of the chartering of the boats by the City of Toledo is said to be $1,200 a day.

HAVE FOUND THE CAUSE OF SLEEP

Detroit, Jan. 22.—Experiments at the University of Michigan overturn a long accepted theory as to the cause of sleep. It has been said that natural loss of consciousness is due to a lessened flow of blood to the brain. Prof. R. M. Wenley's experiments show the opposite.

His summary of what has been demonstrated is:

The size or volume of the brain increases when the individual goes to sleep and decreases when he awakes.

The size of the hands and feet increase when the man is asleep and become smaller when he is awake.

In some cases the brain becomes smaller at first and then increases as sleep becomes deeper.

One of the delicate devices used in experimenting records a "breathing wave" from both brain and hands and feet.

NEW RHODES' SCHOLAR FOR SASKATCHEWAN

Toronto, Jan. 22.—Douglas Fraser has been awarded the Rhodes scholarship for the Province of Saskatchewan by the university board of Toronto. Fraser is a young man of remarkable ability, having completed his first two years in the political science course with high honors. This scholarship is open to men whose homes are in Saskatchewan and who have completed their second year in the University of Toronto. They were seven other candidates.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

MAY ADOPT CANADIAN LABOR LAW

Boston, Jan. 22.—One of the results of the recent visit here of the Canadian Minister of Labor, Hon. Mackenzie King, is a bill for the adoption of the Canadian labor law in the settlement of disputes, introduced in Legislature yesterday.

The measure replaces the present board of conciliation and arbitration by a state board of labor.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Can't Feed Sailors.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 22.—Chief Steward Petrie of the Dominion cruiser Quada has resigned, because the men object to the short rations on which they have subsisted for months past. He says he cannot do better with western prices under the Dominion Government's allowance.

Confessed to Murders.

Colville, Wash., Jan. 22.—James F. Logan, alias Frederick Jahns, was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Agnes Jansen, his housekeeper, whose body he took into the woods and cremated. Logan confessed that he killed two other persons.

Lewis is Re-elected.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 22.—T. L. Lewis of Ohio was re-elected president of the United Mine Workers of America over William Green of Ohio, his only opponent, by 23,587 majority. Frank J. Hayes of Illinois was elected vice-president.

$40,000 to Charity.

Montreal, Jan. 22.—Dr. Robert Seigneur of Chambly, Que., who died some weeks ago, bequeathed $20,000 to the Hospital for Incurables in this city, $20,000 for Chambly Convent and $1,000 for a hospital in the same place.

Snead Will Give Evidence.

New York, Jan. 22.—Snead, husband of the mysterious "bathtub" victim at Orange, N.J., will return from Canada to give evidence in the trial of his aunts, accused of the woman's murder.

An examination of the stomach of Mrs. Snead reveals traces of morphine, to which drug the defence allege she was addicted.

Negro Lynched.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 22.—A special from Jackson, Miss., say that Sheriff Hubbard of Simpson County Miss., and a citizen, were shot dead by a negro whom they were attempting to arrest. A posse was formed and the negro was run down and killed.

Temperance Beer to Strong.

Brantford, Jan. 22.—Police here are prosecuting two local dealers for selling two varieties of local option beer. The samples were sent to Toronto for analysis, and it is said they contain too much alcohol.

Erie Railway Rejects Demands.

BETTING

There was an old-fashioned box once, which, upon being opened, was emptied as if by magic, Hope alone being left behind.

Excessive betting, or betting amongst unions employees, &c., like excessive drinking, has produced disaster everywhere, but we now find that owing to the necessity of preserving the breed of horses, and in the other case the perhaps equally stern necessity of forestalling injustice by endeavoring to protect the sanctity of the Black List, betting at least must be maintained. Thus Hope must be abandoned as before.

Without joking, the distinction drawn between betting on a purely betting track and betting at the Woodbine is visible to the naked eye. But what about the principle of betting. Isn't it bad? It is the possibility of getting something for nothing that causes men to risk and lose more than they can afford. If a bettor has plenty of money most people take no thought of his action, since probably he never had any morals anyhow, but below that line of good fortune is a large number of men who ought to be protected against themselves and, moreover, whose families ought to be protected against them.

Surely it requires but a very superficial knowledge of history to enable one to conclude that for all the good that racing has done the horse, it has damaged mankind by fifty times as much. So much then for the horse. What about the men, young and old, who get the "passion" and turn into the wreck and reek of mankind? Do they not count, or is it only the horse and all that follows in their poor beast's dreadful wake behind? Any man not wilfully blind knows that the usual concomitant of betting is bad racing, not good racing. Therefore as it stands bad, or in-and-out racing must be supposed to benefit the horse!

That sane men should be found to back up the practice of booking and betting is a hideous commentary on domestic missionary work. In Britain, where cheap beer is largely triumphant, and in the boasted apotheosis of Free Trade, betting has been found to be a source of infinite ruin and is slowly being curbed. Lord Rosebery quitted racing because he had found that the trainer and jockey were the only people who got the money.

If the purses are not enough to encourage racing and breeding, then racing bad better "go" with much of the positively silly and shameless selfishness that people call "freedom" in these days of incorporated greed.

A GLIMPSE OF HELL

It is supposed and has been from a remote antiquity that a child should be taught those things which make for its well-being. Recently we were visiting in another city and attended a license picture-show. It was literally an exhibition of suggestiveness which we could easily conceive was utterly damning to the children who sat taking it in. It is said that pictures present to the mind as only pictures can the full beauty or ugliness of any object or situation. To the young, of course, they are the most vivid means conceivable of portraying virtue or vice. The shock therefore to the budding mind of a suggestive action or a "sensational" situation can easily be imagined. Of our local picture-shows we cannot speak in anything but a complimentary way—but are they inspected? All shows to which the public is invited should be open to public inspection, on principle and many others also.

Instead of moral reformers being charged with meddling and being busy-bodies we should have ten times more of it, although perhaps it is not always wisely done. That unwisdom consists more frequently in the violence of the denunciation than in the denunciation itself. A good thing may be and is often turned sour in the making up. That the principle is good may not by any means excuse the manner of bringing it into play. With these limitations that apply to everybody the vigilant inspection of pictures, literature, shows, etc., is too obviously necessary, one would think, to require statement. Many people, rather some people, soon get "bored" by "good" talk. Their goodness is not very deep. They falter in well-doing on the first lap. But does evil-doing "bore" them—well! not to the same extent. From all of which we can readily draw our conclusions.

It is stated in some cities that picture-shows are the latest and worst of modern inventions. That too often they afford a glimpse of Hell is quite certain. Its allurements are all there and the little victims sit looking on thanks to the stupidity if not worse, of their parents and guardians.

EDITORIAL NOTES

To the "strenuous life" is attributed the tremendous increase in the American death rate.

The thorough partisanship of the Canadian Courier is evidenced by its "conclusion" that tariff reform and ultra-imperialism are squelched in Britain.

Notwithstanding Mr. Borden's explicit denial in Parliament, the Canadian Courier affirms that Laurier and Borden are agreed over the navy policy. A casual perusal of the record of Parliament would show this to be false.

Two men at Ottawa found guilty of applying, without right, for ballot papers at the recent municipal elections, were allowed to go out on suspended sentence. Their punishment is certainly not hard. Perhaps, though, in Ottawa the people have not got beyond the stage of treating personation at an election as a joke.—Montreal Gazette.

There can by no doubt that there is no excuse for the Laurier Navy and if in a moment of patriotic emotion Mr. Borden allowed Sir Wilfrid to trick him into a quasi-support of his general policy he should now renounce Sir Wilfrid and all his works from the same lofty patriotic motive. A statesmanlike view from the political hills should by this time be able to detect what is coming.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Inspectors Ask More Pay.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, was confronted yesterday with an appeal from the license inspectors for increased salaries, the grounds of the appeal being that as a result of the spread of local option more strenuous labors were necessary in the stamping out of dives in the "dry" districts. They asked that the minimum be raised from $450 to $600 a year. Mr. Hanna discussed the matter, but made no promises.

Inspector Feels Hotelman.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—License Inspector Ayearst performed a nifty gum-shoe stunt at Owen Sound on Thursday. Arriving in the town he found everything in ship-shape, so he made a brass-band getaway, steering in the direction of Meaford. Sneaking back to the burg within an hour, he ran into 75 bottles of Scotch whiskey in one of the prominent stopping places. He brought the goods away with him.

A New Mortgage Company.

HELPING-HAND BIBLE CLASS; MEANING, METHODS, MESSAGES

Rev. W. C. Riddiford Writes at Review's Request—An Interesting Account of Helpful Methods—Successful Co-operation.

At your request I talk up my pen to give a brief sketch of "The Men's Helping-hand Bible Class of the Park street Baptist Church." I shall endeavor first to explain the origin of the name. Second, to describe in part its methods, and thirdly, the message it seeks to bring to the hearts of its members.

It has long been the belief of the organizer of the class that the fraternal spirit so prevalent and effective in its bearings upon society in general, might be utilized in some fashion for the glory of God, and the benefit of men in general.

This belief became deeper rooted, upon reading 2 Corinthians 8, 1, 15. In these verses are found the ideals of a spiritual fraternity having for its aim and object the mutual benefit of all.

This portion of God's Word shows how thoroughly pre-eminent in the apostles' mind was the sense of fraternal solidarity created by the Gospel of Jesus Christ, among men of different types, varying traditions and diverse minds.

The idea of the Helping hand, or mutual help and support among men was, of course, not a new one in Paul's day, and the organization of the Helping Hand Bible Class of the Park st. Baptist church is but another practical expression of the two greatest doctrines brought to light by the Christ, viz;

"The Fatherhood of God" and
"The Brotherhood of man."

"In the Roman empire fraternal associations were permitted and even legalised under the statutes governing societies and clubs of all kinds, collegia sodalitates.

Such clubs, however, partook rather of the character of business enterprises for self-protection and were essentially non-altruistic.

As in modern mutual insurance associations and fellowship orders, their underlying motive was the instinct of self-preservation extending at the most to the protection of one's dependents." But in Paul's thought was transmuted into a Christian grace, traceable to the source of all good. More than this, this spirit of brotherly interest had been demonstrated in the faultless life of the "Carpenter of Nazareth," whose biography has been written in five simple words, "He went about doing good." Such then in brief is the meaning of the Men's Helping Hand Bible Class. It is organized to help men into a richer, fuller, manlier life.

Its chief business is to help men to a fuller realization of their better self, and to overcome the inherent evil propensities of their natures, by striving together for each other's good.

How then can these ideals be put in action, and by what method do we seek to verify the meaning given for our organization.

Our first method of developing this helping hand spirit, is by a free and open discussion of the principles that govern the life of the only perfect man who ever lived on this earth, of sorrow and sin. "The man Christ Jesus, who was tempted in all points like as we are, and yet conquered the evil around Him, for He had none with in to conquer.

The class assembles every Sunday at three o'clock for this purpose, and after the opening exercises, takes up the lesson for the day,

The teacher of the lesson, Rev. W. C. Riddiford, allowing any member of the class to ask any question at any time.

Many profitable discussions are thus brought on, which are both educative and edifying to all present. The Bible is our text book, men our objective. Another method we have adopted to to show our practical sympathy and helpfulness, is the securing of work for every member of the class.

Every Sunday the question is asked, "Is any brother out of employment," and if there is one, then all turn in and try and find work.

This in itself is attracting men to our class. We mean business. We want to help them and idleness has no value either to the individual or society in general.

This is a practical method of trying to live up to the golden rule.

"Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you do ye also unto them."

A number have thus been to find work in this way, and the spirit of helpfulness is growing.

Another method of creating a right spirit of fellowship is the looking after the sick ones. This is done in a practical way also.

One member of our class, who is a first-class teacher on Charlotte street, recently made two trips to the hospital to shave and make comfortable a member of the class who, unfortunately, was sick, and did it with a cheerfulness that was a credit to himself and the class. The secretary of the class, Mr. Ruben Castle, has the names and addresses of all the members, so at any time they can be found.

The class pin, which, by the way, is very unique, is two clasped hands, hands in an evergreen maple leaf, and will soon be worn by the members as the emblem of "The Helping Hand Bible Class."

We expect the pins to arrive any day now from England.

The sacred life of the class is also a feature.

Next Tuesday evening in the beautiful parlors of the Park St. church, will assemble all the members of the Helping Hand Bible Class, with their wives, children, sweethearts and friends, and in an informal manner will enjoy themselves together.

This social feature will, it is believed, make good its purpose. The class now has about sixty members upon its roll. We want a hundred. Won't you come?

You do not have to be a member of the Baptist church or any other church to become a member.

You will find a royal welcome, irrespective of your race, creed or color.

We are out to help men, no matter what their social standing.

Now, Mr. Editor, I think I have taken up enough of your most valuable space and time, but will you kindly allow me to say a word regarding the message the Helping Hand Bible Class has for men. We are not ashamed of it. We make no apologies for it; we would proclaim it from the house-tops; we would herald it abroad in the street, amidst the buzz and hum of this work-a-day world, that our message, our only message, is the message of Jesus Christ.

That message or none.

That message or no help.

That message or our organization is vain.

That message or no light in the dark night of sin.

That message or failure will be written upon all our cherished hopes and ambitions.

Men can and will only be attracted to the church by a practical every-day living of the life of Christ.

The church has a social message for the world.

It is the message of God's love for man, and man's love for man. But must exemplify, it must live, it must illustrate its message. That is what the Helping Hand Bible Class is seeking to accomplish. In all the economic relations of life it must stand for the rights of men. The doctrine of the square deal on its banner, on its escutcheon, it must emblazon the Biblical and heraldic legend of love that "whatever ye would men should do to you, do ye even so to them," and when all men are doing this, the message we bring shall be realized. Thy kingdom come is our prayer.

A Voice For Fewer Bars

To the Editor of the Daily Review.

Sir,—I hope every citizen of Peterborough has read Mr. A. W. Cressman's letter in your paper of recent date, showing why licenses should be reduced to eight or even less in Peterborough and how easily he has overturned the arguments—rather excuses—of the lawyers representing the liquor interests. It taxed the ingenuity of some of our cleverest lawyers at the council meetings to show even an excuse for continuing the present number of bar-room licenses. Who are fighting against license reduction? Why, mostly those who are paid to talk against it, and those who are either in the business or indirectly profiting by it. We need have no fear in regard to providing accommodation for farmers. Is it the bar-room that furnishes shelter for the farmer's horse, or is it the stables and sheds? Do the public sleep and dine in the bar-room? One would almost think they did to listen to the advocates of the bar. Do away with the bar and you eliminate, to put it mildly, much that is an offense to the eye and ear of respectable men and especially so to all women.

I will admit that the hotel proprietor—without the bar—of the near future, will not be able—at the expense of the poor families of the inebriate—to support so many fine horses and wear diamonds, but he will be a good, prosperous and useful citizen, looking well to the wants and comforts of the travelling public. His success will depend upon this part of the business and not upon the bar. Be not deceived by the sophistical arguments of the liquor interests. The bar-room has never added to the comfort or accommodation of either the farmer or the public but rather their discomfort. Look down our streets, do we need dry goods, groceries, boots and shoes, etc? The stores are there to supply the demand. Do farmers and the public need hotel accommodation? Depend upon it their needs will be met by men who are always looking for an opening to make an honest dollar, and who will be glad to go into the hotel business and who will make money too, and that without the bar-room. Why should they not be able to make money when the charge is $2.00 per day and upwards, when so many are keeping boarders at from $4.00 to $5.00 per week—60 to 70 cents per day?

No man representing the public in any office to-day can afford to disregard the ever-growing temperance sentiment, which is as a mighty wave of the sea sweeping the bar-rooms from our country. Half of Ontario has now no licensed bar-room and the other half are fighting for license reduction. The people of Canada have spoken with a trumpet voice, "Awake thou that sleepest"—Let us awake to the help of the poor fellows who are held captives as it were with chains of iron, by the quenchless burning thirst for drink. Let us arise I say, and break these shackles, removing the temptation and let these captives go free. FREE to clothe and feed their suffering families.

The people of Peterborough by that great and mighty majority have asked for the total abolition of the BAR, and undoubtedly will not be satisfied with a less reduction than asked for by the Temperance and Moral Reform League which, considering the great vote, is most reasonable and we feel sure that our council of level-headed men will give effect to the will of the people.

M. CARTON.

Cancelling Licenses

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I have no complaint to make against those who advocated the adoption of Local Option, and so valiantly worked in the late campaign. They made an excellent fight and were quite sincere in the course they took. It has since been said by opponents that the leaders were riding a hobby, which, as usual in such a case, is without limit in its demands; also that they were intolerant of the rights and convictions of others who were quite as sober minded, and otherwise, as local optionists. A discussion along these lines or in relation to the merits of the question, it would be idle now to enter. The frenzy is over on both sides, and let it rest. The effort was defeated as the law stands, because of insufficient majority, in the same way as a by-law for granting aid to an industry in the city would be defeated, which also requires a three-fifths majority to give it force, yet the advocates of Local Option are not satisfied, but demand from the council that one-half of the liquor licenses be cut off. Herein I think they have made a serious mistake. In making this absurd claim they show their inconsistency, and have to argue backwards in a way that is not very creditable. By cutting off one-half the licenses the worst feature of the liquor traffic will be intensified. The cry has ever been, 'away with the plague spots, the bar-rooms, because of the evil habit of continual treating that goes on whenever a number of men meet in such places.' A reduction in the hotels will not lessen the appetite in the least for strong drink. That will continue, and the amount consumed will be much the same as ever. The people who want it will get it without effort. There will, however, be a materially increased number of people in each of the remaining hotel bars, and so this old grievance against treating will be aggravated. Temperance advocates have ever, with just cause, railed against the treating habit, have branded it as odious, and times without number have rebuked the Legislature for not abating it. Now, in apparent desperation, they are prepared to urge a course by which the evil will be redoubled. Local Option, had it passed, would almost have been prohibitory, but reducing the number of hotels and legalizing the balance to sell liquor cannot possibly advance the temperance cause. As the hotel bars now stand, some 18 or 20, they are like a delta or many mouths of a great river, which, if some are closed, will only create a greater discharge of liquor or water, as the case may be, in others.

Peterborough is, in a large sense, a manufacturing centre, but it is also a farmers' town, and the denying licenses to hotels that have accommodation for farmers will be injurious to merchants and others. Farmers from three or four counties trade in Peterborough, because of the good accommodation they find at the hotels. They spend vast sums of money yearly in the city in procuring the necessaries of life, and they sell their produce mostly in the city. It will be very unwise, indeed, to endanger this trade. At many villages and railway stations farmers can dispose of their produce where there are large flour or elevators. These are increasing in number, and also in most cases, nearer than Peterborough, and they can also satisfy most of their wants in the villages. It is the accommodation they get more that should be credited to a great extent with their coming in such numbers, and whatever may deter them should be avoided. It has been said that a dozen farmers helped local optionists on election day. Perhaps they did, but that would not represent one per cent. of their number in this district who look for lodgement in Peterborough every week. If there is a cutting off of licenses the premises will, in many instances, be devoted to other purposes, in which rents will be less than now, but profits greater than keeping hotel without a license, while others possess that advantage.

In conclusion, I think that the City Council should hesitate to take action in the way proposed, until they have been shown a means of replacing $2,500 to $3,000 income that will be lost by the reduction in the licenses, and which sum must be added to the tax rate of the city.

CROSS, SLEEPLESS BABIES ARE SICKLY BABIES

When little ones are sleepless and cross it is a sure sign that they are not well. Probably the little stomach or the bowels is out of order, or the child may be suffering from teething troubles. Give Baby's Own Tablets and see how quickly the child grows well and happy and sleeps soundly—not the drugged sleep of "soothing" medicines, but the natural sleep of health. Mrs. Edward Sicard, Maskinonge, Que., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for indigestion and other troubles of childhood, and they always work like a charm. They always keep my little one well." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opppertunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Friday, January 28th.

Six officers of Hamilton's police force were retired on pensions.

The Old Time Shawl.

The shawl was originally not a woman's garment exclusively, for the Scotch highlander has his tartan plaid, and the men of northern Italy still wear a cloak which is very little more than a shawl. There can be no question that the shawl is more useful and more picturesque as an article of attire than the close fitting coats both men and women now wear. The shawl could in case of emergency be used to protect two persons or to wrap a child in or as an extra bed covering. Its fashion did not change every three months, and it could be used and passed down in the family until it was worn out. Nowadays the only time when such articles are used is when people are making an ocean trip or traveling in Europe. "Traveling rugs," which are nothing more or less than men's heavy shawls, are extremely English, and for travelers they are considered very proper and desirable, but outside of a steamer, train or carriage no one who cares for what people will say would be seen with one.—Argonaut.

A HINT TO LADIES WHEN SHOPPING

If you wanted anything badly, and when you got to the store were persuaded to take something else instead, when you came away wouldn't you feel a little disappointed? As if somebody had "got one over you"—and not for your benefit, mind, but for their own profit?

And when you proved that the something which was represented as being "just as good" as what you asked for was not as good—was not to be compared even with the real thing, wouldn't you feel still worse?

This is just the case about Zam-Buk. Like all good things it has many imitations. When buying it just ask for Zam-Buk, and see that you get it. The name is protected by law, and is clearly seen on each packet. Don't have anything else! Then you won't feel that somebody has made a few extra cents out of your lack of firmness.

NO COMPLAINTS AGAINSN POLICE

And From Present Indications There Will be no Investigation into Conduct of P. C's Meharry and Newhall — Resolution of Confidence in Officers Forwarded to Commissioners.

From present indications there will be no investigation affecting P. C's. Newhall and Meharry. In view of the character evidence given against the officers at a recent perjury trial and in the light of matters generally concerning recent prosecutions, it was thought that an investigation — which might of course prove favorable or unfavorable to the officers—would be held.

Judge Huycke, the chairman of the Police Commissioners, was approached by a Review reporter to-day concerning the holding of the investigaton and said that the matter had come up for consideration at a meeting of the commissioners. There were no complaints, however, against the policemen submitted from any source whatever. The only communication was one signed by Mr. N. A. Howard Moore on behalf of a meeting of some citizens and in the communication confidence in the officers was expressed.

UNIONISTS NOW AHEAD OF LIBERALS AND LABORITES

Special to Review.

London, Jan. 22.—Forty additional returns received up to one oclock this afternoon of yesterday polling showing the biggest sweep for the Unionists they have had. Half of these turned over from the Liberals. Including the gain of one in the eleven seats heard from last evening, the total Unionist gain in fifty-one seats is seventeen. The Liberals gained two. The Unionists are now ahead of Liberals and Labor. The total stands —Unionists 205, Liberals 166, Labor 31, Nationalists 50.—Total Unionist gains 92. Liberals 14, Labor 2.

TREATMENT OF DEFECTIVES IN RELATION TO EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS AND REFORM

In a very interesting and comprehensive lecture at the Assembly Hall of the Normal School on "The Medical Examination of School Children," Prof. Knight of Queen's University dealt with the different types of defectives, their effect on heredity and the most feasible way of dealing with them.

At the commencement of his address which was given before an audience of two hundred and fifty or more Prof. Knight dwelt on the senses of sight, hearing and feeling and showed how these affected the brain centres and their bearing as a consequence on educational progress. He explained the advantage to be gained by medical examination of pupils along these lines.

Other phases of examination would deal with physical deformities and defects which would necessarily leave their mark on succeeding generations.

The defectives of different grades—the absolute, the low grade and the high grade—were considered from various standpoints. For these detention was advocated—not criminal punishment but confinement in places where they would be kept by themselves and supported by the community whose welfare would be affected by their intermingling and intermarriage with themselves and society in general.

Excellent slides giving the different types of defectives were shown in illustration of the lecture.

POLICE MADE SIX ARRESTS IN HOUSE ON WOLFE STREET

Prisoners Were Remanded to Gaol, After Pleading Not Guilty at the Police Court This Morning—Will be Given Hearing on Tuesday.

At the police court this morning Mrs. Hattie Sullivan was charged with charged with keeping a disorderly house, and her daughter, Ethel and Catherine and Lily Weaver, were arraigned for being inmates. Two young men were charged with being frequenters of the house, 249 Wolfe street, which is tenanted by Mrs. Sullivan.

To all six charges Mr. Gordon, who represented the prisoners, pleaded not guilty.

Chief Rousel was not ready to proceed, and the hearing will be held on Tuesday morning of next week at ten o'clock.

Lily Weaver, the youngest of the three girls, was given over into the charge of the Margaret Cox Home for Girls, but the remaining five were remanded to gaol, the magistrate opposing the vigorous protest of Mr. Gordon against this course being taken, on the grounds that it was their first offence, and that no evidence had been submitted to the court.

His Worship consented to bail being furnished, and placed the amount at $100 in each case.

A seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Sullivan was in court, and she was given over to the Children's Aid Society. The mother pleaded that the child be given to its grandmother, who resides in the country, and the magistrate consented to this, but ordered that the child be taken to the Shelter until called for.

The arrests were made last night by P.C.'s Newhall and Meharry.

THE BEST REASONS WE'VE EVER OFFERED FOR BUYING FURS IN JANUARY

Here are some facts of an astounding nature that every thoughtful person will appreciate and see that it's to their advantage to make an investment in Furs for present and future use.

To-Day Raw Fur Prices are Higher Than They've Been in the History of This Old World of Ours

The increasing demand for Furs all over the world owing to the general betterment of the financial condition of the people, taken with the ever lessening supply of all kinds of Fur-bearing animals, has advanced the prices this year from 15 to 130 per cent. over last year's prices. Some furs will become almost prohibitive to the great mass of people in a very short time, owing to the great advances. Alaska Sable, Mink, Musk, Muskrat, Seal, Fox, Lynx Opposum, Coon, Badger, Persian Lamb, and Otter are the skins which have made the most radical advances this year.

Last year we purchased extra quantities of Raw Furs at the lowest prices then prevailing, and we are therefore able to give our customers The Best Furs at prices that any wholesale manufacturer would be willing to give for them to-day.

On all Made-up Furs in Stock we will also give during January a speceial discount of from 10 to 25 per cent. off our regular prices.

The discount taken with the advance in prices on Raw Furs for this year will mean

A Saving on Some Furs of Over Half of Next Season's Prices.

Now is the time to buy as stock is well assorted and the selections are "A 1."

James Morrison, who says his home is at Cordova Mines, came to the city yesterday morning and forgot to leave in the evening because he celebrated on a quantity of "trouble" fluid. James must have a warm spot in his heart for the fair and gentle sex for he tried to make up with several who chanced to meet with his approval on the street last night, but failed to make good, because P. C. Meagher took him in tow and escorted him to a spare room at the Water Street institution for "cut-ups." This morning at the police court he parted with $5.75.

ABOUT SOME OF LINDSAY'S FAIR ONES

It may not be gallant to say so but there are some young ladies at Lindsay who are not ladies at all. There was a bunch of them at the Peterborough-Lindsay game last night and while their enthusiasm was commendable, their good manners, if they did possess any, were left strictly at home. They cut up in a manner that was worse than that of the militant suffragettes. If their parents do not take them in hand, or with the hand or shingle, some of these fair ones will soon be hiking along the hazardous highway that will hurry them to hang-and-gone.

MANY PRESENT AT RE-OPENING

Of Boys' Department of Young Men's Christian Association

The newly remodelled and decorated rooms of the Boys' Department of the Young Men's Christian Association were formally opened last night, there being a large number present to show their interest in the splendid work which is being carried on by the boys. They have by their own efforts converted the large assembly hall on the second floor into a play room, and a smaller room has been fitted up as a reading room. It will be remembered that the boys instituted a three-days' campaign to raise $250. They secured $185, of which amount $25 was subscribed by themselves. Last evening the boys gave an exhibition of gymnasium work, and afterwards a basketball game was played between the Y.M.C.A. and Collegiate, the latter winning out by 10—9. President J. C. Shook gave a short address, in which he pointed out the many benefits to be derived from a membership in the Y.M.C.A., and afterwards those present visited the new rooms of the boys. This department has for its leader Mr. Jack Laing, who, with the boys, is to be congratulated on the success which has been attained.

LE CANADA SPEAKS

Once more we have the double pleasure of recording the editorial leanings of the French-Canadians, who day after day, in their journals, in Parliament, in Congress, in what not, make it clear that for a united British Empire they will not stand. Le Canada has the following no doubt correct, explanation of the Laurier bill:

"We showed, the other day, that the building of a Canadian navy was only the logical development of the autonomy which Great Britain has accorded us.

"We have our land-militia; we are now gradually establishing our naval militia.

"But, our opponents say, the government naval bill contemplates the employment, under certain circumstances, of our naval militia outside of Canadian waters. In the event of critical circumstances; war, invasion, insurrection, the Canadian navy can be placed at the disposal of His Majesty for general service in the royal navy.

"Plainly, in such a case, the Canadian naval militia can be called to take part in wars outside of Canadian waters.

"Now let us note 'right here,' however, that it cannot be called into active service and put at the disposal of His Majesty except upon command of THE GOVERNOR-IN-COUNCIL, that is to say, in his council of ministers presided over by the Governor-General, or, in a word, by the Canadian Government itself.

"Let us take note further, that if Parliament is not sitting when the aforesaid critical circumstances arise, it must be called together on fifteen days' notice to give its opinion on the subject.

"That is the guarantee that our naval militia can never be called into active service without the consent of the Canadian people.

"We are thus placed in what is nothing more or less than the position of AN INDEPENDENT NATION, ALLIED TO GREAT BRITAIN, (Review capitals) which may engage by treaty to join its naval forces to the English fleet in case of war. . . . . "

Surely this "independent nation" phase must satisfy even the most captious of the direction in which Canada is being steered.

WHAT LE CANADA SAYS

Le Canada says editorially:—

"The French-Canadian phalan which has begun to invade, peacefully, the Province of Ontario, intends, evidently to preserve intact its customs, religion and language."

Don't overlook the free course in stock and seed judging on Jan. 24, 25 and 26. Stock judging in Fitzgerald's building, corner Water and Brock streets. Seed judging in market hall. REMEMBERED BY THE LADIES' AID

Mrs. Wright Presented With Purse of Gold on Occasion of Her Birthday

The Ladies' Aid Society of Charlotte street church met at the home of Mrs. Robert Neill yesterday afternoon, the occasion being a birthday party for Mrs. Wright, Sherbrooke street, who has attained her eighty-second year. She was presented with a purse of gold and an address expressing kind regards on the part of the members. The rooms were tastefully decorated and the ladies spent a most enjoyable time. A birthday cake for Mrs. Wright attracted a great deal of attention. The address to Mrs. Wright was as follows:—

The members of the Charlotte street Ladies' Aid Society beg to take the opportunity of the occasion of your birthday to congratulate you upon having attained to so grand and honorable an age with your physical powers practically unimpaired. During your long and active life you have been faithful to many and varied offices, life companion, wife, mother, friend. Your Christianity has been a splendid example of the cardinal virtues—Faith, Hope and Love. We do not forget that ever since the formation of the Ladies' Aid Society of Charlotte street church you have been one of its most faithful members and enthusiastic supporters, always ready to help and live as far as was in your power. As president for three years, you directed the affairs of the society with great tact and skill. We feel that your services merit more than a passing recognition. Therefore, we beg of you to accept this small purse of gold as a slight token of the kindly feeling and tender love that goes out to you from the hearts of the many ladies that have associated and labored with you in the past, and hope for many more years to come, and may the blessed Saviour brighten and illuminate your path more and more unto the perfect day.

(Signed)
MARIA STOCKER,
President.
B. M. GALBRAITH,
Secretary.
MARY B. LYLE,
Treasurer.

The address was read by Mrs. Morris, and Mrs. M. B. Lyle made the presentation.

Mrs. Wright was deeply affected and made a short reply, expressing her heartfelt thanks.

INTERMEDIATES OPEN THE SEASON WITH VICTORY OVER LINDSAY TEAM

Peterborough Team Won Away From Home 3-2 in Game That Was Stubbornly Contested—Teams on Even Footing at Half Time—Checking Back of Peterborough Team Feature of Play.

Staff Correspondence.

Lindsay, Jan. 21.—Christopher Columbus discovered America in 1492 and 'tis said the Lindsay intermediate hockey team had not been beaten at home since that time till the Peterborough seven did the trick to-night. Perhaps Lindsay has been trimmed on their own ice-yard before but if such has happened one does not hear much about it on Kent street or the other places where people most do congregate.

To make a long story short it may be said that to-night's game was an intermediate O. H. A. fixture and the opening game for the district. The score was 3—2 and the Peterborough all-star City League aggregation had the trio of counters. Neat work? Well rather. A surprise? Ditto. Peterborough fans did not expect it, and the supporters of the Lindsay team could not see it that way at all—till the game was over. The victory of the Peterborough team should do a great deal from keeping that anvil chorus in the Electric City in subjection for the rest of the season.

Fighting hard all the way on ice that was of much the same softness as Dr. Cook's head, the Peterborough team emerged from the fray with a well-earned victory. When the teams crossed over at half time the score was one all and the excitement was intense. One minute after the second half opened 'Sam' Ray put Peterborough in the lead and they held it for eleven minutes, at the end of which Stoddard got one past Derocher and the tally was two all. Five minutes later McMillan scored for the visitors with a neat shot and they had a lead of one. Lindsay played desperately to even the score but the minutes went by and Peterborough held the enemy off till the end of the game.

Considering the mild weather the ice was in good condition. There was no water on it and for the first ten minutes the players were able to travel at a lively clip. It was not long, however, before the surface was badly cut up and the going was heavy. It soon told on the men and they were glad when the half-time respite came and more pleased when the final bell sounded. A large crowd saw the game and the defeat of the home team was taken with good grace by the majority of the populace. For some reason or other the O. H. A. did not send a referee and a delay in starting the game was the result. Lindsay suggested Ford Moynes and Peterborough wanted "Bill" O'Brien. Lindsay consented to the latter and it. He was strict on off-sides and kept the teams from handing out the rough stuff. That he was impartial was shown by the fact that both teams suffered the same time from penalties, eleven minutes. Lindsay had the advantage of one minute in the first half and Peterborough was in the same position on the home stretch. Of course it would have been better to have had an official from a disinterested town, but the management of the Lindsay team expressed themselves after the game as thoroughly satisfied with the work of the Peterborough man with the bell.

What will happen when Lindsay and Peterborough meet on hard ice? Lindsay people say that the Scugog seven will have it on the Peterborough team and believe that Stoddard will score enough goals by his lonesome to win a game. This line of dope does not look altogether reliable. Peterborough has a forward line that will do some dazzling dashing on keen ice and the winning of district does not look out of the way from present indications. A Lindsay man wanted to bet $25 to-night that Lindsay would win in Peterborough on Friday night next and he will likely be accommodated on the night of the game.

The Peterborough team showed better condition than their opponents. They wore the homesters down and were getting through on Gamble time and again towards the finish of the game despite the fact that Lindsay were making herculanean efforts to even the score.

The Lindsay team of 1910 is no cinch. Gamble is goal had a good eye and blocked nicely to-night. Byron Green, formerly of Peterborough, used his body to advantage in stopping the Peterborough rushes and "Goosie" Taylor was as good as he ever was. Stoddard, Blomfield and Cain were the pick of the home team. The latter is a new man in intermediate company but he has the class. He was the best conditioned man on the Lindsay team and there never was a moment when he was not dangerous. Bill Stoddard was always in the fray and was as good as any man on the ice. Blomfield worked hard and showed a great burst of speed, although a hockey player with a moustache is somewhat of a novelty in these days when germs are supposed to lurk in hirsute appendages. Cote travelled fast at right wing, although Dusty looked after him all the time and kept him in his place. The Lindsay man is not at all gentle in his antics and was nearly banished from the game in the second half for assaying the referee.

The Peterborough team played effectively all the time. Derocher was great between the poles and stopped all kinds of shots. He gave a magnificent exhibition of goal tending and some of his stops even brought plaudits from the Lindsay rooters. McDougall, the Kerne man, was almost the best man on the ice. The big fellow seemed right in his element and checked in splendid fashion. His rushes down the ice were one of the features of the game. Once he got going nothing could turn him aside. He slammed the puck against the boards, got it on the rebound, knocked men out of his path and made big gains with the rubber. It reminded one of Bill Crowley in his palmy days. Campbell was very effective at point. He was always there when danger threatened, and played a cool, heady game. Ray, although handicapped by the soft ice, wound his way through the whole opposing team several times, and was responsible for two of Peterborough's goals. His checking back was fast and brilliant, and did much to keep the fast Lindsay line from getting going.

[illegible] name for himself by his consistently brilliant work. He had a hard man to watch in young Cain, but he stuck to him all the time, and at the same time did clever work on the offensive. His scoring of the winning goal was as pretty a piece of work as one would wish to see. Dobson checked back in grand style, and did some fine stick-handling and rushing. To Dusty was assigned the task of covering that good and bad man, Cote, and he did it well. He was suffering from a bad cold, and slowed up a little in the second half. At the time, however, Cote was loafing off-side a good deal and Dusty had to adjust his pace to that of his cover, in order to keep him from breaking loose when a chance might occur.

PENALTIES.

First Half.

McDougall, 2 min.; Cain, 2 min.; Dusty, 2 min.; Cote, 2 min.; McMillan, 2 min.; Cote, 2 min.; Dobson, 1 min. Total, first half—Peterborough 7 min.; Lindsay, 6 min.

Second Half.

Stoddard, 2 min.; Taylor, 2 min.; Cain, 1 min.; Dobson, 2 min.; McDougall, 2 min.

Total, second half—Peterborough 4 min.; Lindsay, 5 min.

The Scores

Lindsay bombed at the start, and Derocher had a warm time keeping them out. The pace was fast and it was soon apparent that it was going to be a hard fought struggle. Taylor was warned for mixing it up, and McDougall rested two minutes for todying Green. Cain drew two minutes for slashing, and had hardly got back on the ice before Cote and Dusty drew two minutes each for cutting up McMillan followed them to the penalty box for a breach of the rules. It was a ding-dong battle with Lindsay getting in closer on the nets than the visitors. Finally Ray broke away and shot one at Gamble from close range. It was batted out, but the Peterborough man drove it in from the rebound. The time was 23 minutes.

[illegible] ough man drove it in from the resumption of play. Gamble stopping neatly. Cote was penalized two minutes for slashing, and Dobson got a minute for loafing off-sides. Thirty seconds before half-time Stoddard did some neat twisting and beat out Derocher with a swift wrist shot. The time was 61-2 minutes.

SECOND HALF.

The second half had hardly started before Stoddard was banished for two minutes for wooding it. While he was off Ray, McMillan and Dusty made a beautiful concerted rush and Ray scored in one minute.

Taylor was sent to the box for two minutes for bodying Dusty into the boards. Dusty almost scored, Gamble blocking cleverly. The next goal went to Lindsay in eleven minutes. Stoddard doing the trick. A great shout went up when the score was tied.

Cain drew a minute for loafing. McMillan scored on a pass from Ray. Time, 5 minutes. The score then stood: Peterborough 3, Lindsay 2.

Dobson was chased from the scene of combat for two minutes for getting to Taylor with his body, and McDougall joined him for putting Cote into the boards with a loud crash. With seven men against five Lindsay worked at a lightning clip and the play was as fast as at any time during the evening. Campbell did great work at this stage and cleared several times. The game ended shortly after McDougall returned to the ice.

BASKET BALL

The first and second team of the Peterborough Business College played an interesting game of basketball at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon between five and six o'clock. The first team won by a good margin, the score being 20—8. The winners led at half time and the work of Beavis, who made 18 points for his team, was a feature of the exhibition. The teams were:

First team.—T. Sabitino, R. Beavis, McDermid, Campbell and Gardiner.

Second team—C. Wright, Mather, Warner, Sherwin and Hall.

HOCKEY

"Pacer" McDougall may play with the Lindsay intermediates this season although they say in Lindsay that he is not as fast as he once was.

Rolly Glover will likely be found on the Peterborough line-up against Lindsay next Friday night.

"Sam" Thomas accompanied the Peterborough team to Lindsay last night as trainer.

"Bill" Metheral was one of the members of the executive that took in the trip to Lindsay.

THE JUDGES ARE SELECTED

For the Free Course Here—Interest is Wide Spread

Interest is becoming widespread over the short course in livestock and seed judging, which will be put on in the city of Peterborough, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next by the Norwood branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. All arrangements have practically been completed for the event, and the success of it seems assured.

Livestock from local breeders and others will be the subjects on which those in attendance will exercise their ability as judges, and from which instruction will be given. Mr. R. H. Leary is responsible for the light horses that will be judged. Draught horses will be furnished by Mr. J. Baptie, of Springville; Mr. Grandy and Mr. Graham, of Smith, and Mr. S. Redmond, Otonabee. Messrs. Baptie and Redmond will also furnish the beef cattle. Representatives from the high producing dairy herd of J. K. Moore & Son, Central Smith, will be the subjects in the dairy class. The George Matthews Company will supply the swine for that department of the work.

All indications point to the fact that this new departure in the interest of Peterborough county agriculture will be a distinct success, and that many will benefit from the instruction that will be given at this short course.

FAT REDUCTION IS NO SIN

The purpose of beauty is to refine the native uncouthness of human nature. We all bow to its power. It is the only autocracy that has no nihilist shadow. Alas! this means that at women must serve instead of rule, for beauty in woman is a composite of both line and feature.

Thousands of fat women are beautiful of face. But they lag behind in the race for preference—because a too ponderous outline dashes the favor their face has gained them.

Now, pretty fat women can reduce that fat (not the good pure-lined flesh) in a very simple way. No exercise—no dieting is necessary. Let them take one Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and at bedtime for a month. The fat will simply fade. No wrinkles or pouches of skin will form, but the loss will be uniform. The fat will go as steadily as it came; fade away. The health will improve, the eye grow more brilliant, the wit sprightlier. Marmola Tablets are a boon—and harmless (being made from the famous fashionable prescription, 1-2 oz. Marmola, 3-4 oz. Fl. Ex. Cascara Aromatic, 63-4 oz. Peppermint Water), and are likewise cheap, a large case of the druggist or the Marmola Co., 1193 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., costing only seventy-five cents.

A deputation asking improvements for Victoria Harbor is to go to Ottawa.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Only Medicine That Did Any Good

After Suffering Tortures For Years, This Lady Found Happy Relief In "Fruit-a-tives".

Frankville, Ont., June 11th, 1908.

"I have received most wonderful benefit from taking "Fruit-a-tives." I suffered for years from headaches and pain in the back, and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable without any relief. Then I began taking "Fruit-a-tives" and this was the only medicine that ever did me any real good. I took several boxes altogether, and now I am entirely well of all my dreadful headaches and backaches.

MRS. FRANK EATON

I take "Fruit-a-tives" occasionally still, but I am quite cured of a trouble that was said to be incurable. I give this testimony voluntarily, in order that others who suffer as I suffered may try this wonderful medicine and be cured."

(Signed) MRS. FRANK EATON.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial box, 25c—or sent post-paid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

EVERYTHING IS IN READINESS

For the Free Course in Stock and Seed Judging, Which Opens Monday.

Everything is in readiness for the Three Day Short Course which commences in this city on Monday morning. Mr. George Fitzgerald has been busy the last few days getting his carriage shop in shape to accommodate those that will take advantage of the work in stock judging. Tables and seats will be in readiness in the Market Hall for the work in seed judging, which is called for 9.30 a.m., Monday.

The evening meeting called for Tuesday, January 25th, in the Collegiate Auditorium, bids fair to tax the accommodation of this hall. In view of the suggestion that Pres. G. C. Creelman, B.S.A., M.S., of the Ontario Agricultural College, should become leader of the Ontario Opposition, many will be especially anxious to take advantage of this opportunity of getting to know Mr. Creelman. As a speaker, he is popular with all classes. He is sure to be well received on this his first appearance before a Peterborough audience.

Since everyone likes horses and would like to know more about the subtle knowledge of judging this particular class of stock, the classes in horse judging in other places have often received the largest attendance, but while the horses are possibly more attractive, the other classes will also be found to be most interesting. Each and all of the sessions will be found to be well worth attending. The seed judging work especially will reveal many things, that they had not thought of before, to those who attend.

Farmers and others interested in this work will act in their best interests by attending as many of the sessions of the Short Course as possible and should arrange if at all convenient to attend them all.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE COUNTRY SIDE

How Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mrs. Samuel Thompson's Dropsy.

Her's Was a Terrible Case and the Doctors Were Powerless to Check it, but the Great Kidney Remedy Cured It.

Holt, Ont., Jan. 21.—Special.—All the country side about here is talking of the wonderful cure of Mrs. Samuel Thompson of this place. She was taken sick with Jaundice, and though the doctor was called in, she grew steadily worse. Her stomach was so bad she could not keep anything on it. Dropsy set in and she bloated to a terrible size. The doctor came three times to tap her, but her husband would not allow him to do it, saying that if she could not get better they might let her die in peace. Finally she dropped the doctors and tried other medicines, but they did her no good. Her leg burst and the water streamed from it. Then someone told her about Dodd's Kidney Pills and so she coaxed her husband to get her a box.

After taking them a while she took a bad turn. Something would come up in her throat and she would vomit. The water would just fly from her mouth. But from that time she commenced to get better, and to-day she is a well woman.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Dropsy by putting the Kidneys in condition to take the surplus water out of the blood. They always cure it.

AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

Special Correspondence of Peterborough Review

Kingston, Jan. 16.—It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mrs. Gordon, esteemed wife of Principal Gordon, on Friday evening, Jan. 16th. Mrs. Gordon has been threatened for some years with heart trouble, but has nobly borne her weakness. On Friday evening she was at a family dinner, and shortly afterwards died from heart failure.

The news of her death, so sudden and unexpected, has cast a gloom over College. Mrs. Gordon won the respect and adoration of all the students for the kindly motherly interest which she showed towards all. She was always a ready helper in all student functions. She was always bright and cheerful, and all who met her will long remember her hearty greeting and welcoming smile. We all join in tender sympathy for the Principal and his family in their heavy loss.

The funeral took place yesterday, when about nine hundred students followed the hearse. It was a most impressive sight and one long to be remembered to see these nine hundred of Canada's sons, forming a line about half a mile in length, thus showing their respect for one whose life was so closely bound up in theirs and whose memory must always bring with it thoughts of a noble and heroic womanhood.

We are rejoicing in our good fortune in having with us so distinguished a man as J. R. Mott. Mr. Mott is the founder and Secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation, which has not a membership of 140,000 students. This fact alone is perhaps the best testimony we can seek to the great personality of the man.

Mr. Mott was introduced to Queen's students at the Alma Mater Society meeting on Saturday night. There was nothing emotional or sentimental in his introduction. He came forward, put his notes on the table and began his subject. You felt that the man had something to tell and had no time for preliminaries. He then gave a short account of the work he was engaged in, taking his audience to the many lands in which the movement is afoot. In the course of his remarks Mr. Mott said that he found the student population of all the countries he had visited to have more things in common than any other class of people. They have the same end in view; they study the same classical works; they have the same difficulties of doubt and temptation to face. Mr. Mott reaches men through his capacity for sympathy with all kinds of individualities. He has studied the student of all lands and he knows him. He was and still is a student himself and makes you feel that he is one with you. He knows how to approach men and when he can come near to them he has a message to give them, and that message is:—the Man, Christ Jesus—the Saviour.

Mr. Mott preached in Convocation Hall on Sunday afternoon and also in the evening. At both services the hall was filled. He speaks again tonight and Tuesday night. He stays here cannot fail to influence Queen's students. We hope to see a deeper spiritual life in our Y.M.C.A. and in the Missionary Society.

Attention! Eyes right! Front! Queen's Infantry Battalion, by the right, quick march! Not yet, but soon shall such commands assail our ears and we shall step out with heads erect and see visions of German invaders fleeing before our awful army.

Last week a mass meeting of the Arts students was held for the purpose of considering the formation of a Battalion of Infantry. The idea was advised by the Arts Society about one month ago and everything seems to point to the formation of a military corps. A battalion consists of four companies of forty each. Already about ninety students have enrolled themselves and it is hoped that a full battalion will be on the warpath at the beginning of next year. Meanwhile a school for the training of officers will be opened at Kingston, where officers from the regular army will give instructions in military tactics. The question of dress was discussed. Kilts were suggested as the best uniform for Queen's, Queen's, but this will be settled later on.

At a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. held on Thursday evening it was decided that the executive should proceed to obtain a secretary on the full-time basis, providing that the necessary funds for his support be forthcoming.

For the last two years Queen's has had a secretary on the half-time basis, but owing to the ever-increasing number of students attending here, it has been found that full justice can be done to this important work only by a man on full time. The Y.M.C.A. aims at getting in touch with every individual student, and keeping him in touch with the best influences throughout his college course. This work we hope the permanent secretary will be able to accomplish.

On Wednesday, the 12th inst., there took place what proved to be the most outstanding social event of the year. The occasion was the first annual dinner of the Arts Society, when over two hundred students and professors of the Arts Faculty sat down to dinner in Grant Hall. Dinner was served from seven o'clock till 8.30, and right heartily did the students enjoy this part of the programme. What with oysters, soup, fish, turkey, jelly, pie, ice cream and fruit the most extravagant dream of the poor Arts student was more than realized. Then followed a most interesting toast list. The guests of the evening were Bishop Farthing, of Montreal, and Rev. R. E. Knowles, Galt, Ont. From these two gentlemen and from the many others who spoke, the students got an intellectual feast, in which the sublime and the ridiculous were served in happy combination. The rich humor and the ready eloquence of Rev. R. E. Knowles and the earnest, straightforward words of advice from Bishop Farthing were especially appreciated.

Clear and true rang the note of the evening, the University as a factor in developing and propogating a true manhood in Canada. The fast field of opportunities which lies before the professional man, especially the men who have taken an Arts course, was brought into bold relief. A warning was sounded against the commercial spirit of this age, and a plea made for a strong effort on the part of the coming professional men to combat it, and bring in a nobler manhood. As one looked over the assembly of three chundred young men and heard their responses to these speeches, one wondered what a transformation would be wrought if these young men went out into life and stood for these things with the same enthusiasm as they now applauded those who enunciated them. Let us hope that, year after year, we may receive some such inspiration as we got at this, the first annual dinner of our Arts Society.

FARM HANDS FOR ONTARIO

Notwithstanding the great flow of immigration to Canada during the past few years the need of farm help seems to be as great as ever, and in order to meet the demand, the Salvation Army has had ten experienced Canadian representatives in Great Britain during the past three months, selecting a good class of able-bodied men and women, whose emigration will be arranged this spring. As the Emigration Department of the Army has done extensive advertising in the rural districts of Great Britain it is expected that they will be successful in bringing a class of people to this country who will readily adapt themselves to Canadian farming.

MARRIED MEN AS PERMANENT SETTLERS.

There is a great desire on the part of married men with families to emigrate to Canada for farm work, and it is gratifying to observe that farmers are seeing the advantage of making proper provisions to be in a position to hire this class of help. Married men are to be heartily recommended as making the most permanent settlers, being anxious to make homes for their families in this country.

Full information and Application Form will be furnished by Lieut.-Col. Howell, Immigration Offices, James and Albert streets, Toronto; or Staff-Captain Williams, Clarence street, London.

It is expected that parties of men for farm work will arrive during the months of March, April, May, June and July, under the supervision of the Army's duly appointed conductors, and will be sent from port of landing direct to situations throughout the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

ARM CAUGHT IN MACHINERY WAS BROKEN

A. W. Blade, son of A. Blade, had his right arm broken below the elbow this morning while working around a straw-cutter at T. L. Hetherington's. His arm was drawn into an unprotected part of the machinery, and the injury resulted. Dr. Eastwood set the fracture.

THE DARK DAYS OF STOMACH TROUBLE

Obstinate Indigestion Can be Cured by a Fair Use of Dr. William's Pink Pills

No trouble causes more widespread suffering and discomfort than indigestion. The ailment takes various forms. Some victims are ravenous for food; others turn sick and faint at the sight of meals; but as a rule every meal is followed by intense pains in the chest, heartburn, sick headaches, dizziness and shortness of breath. Indigestion assumes an obstinate form because ordinary medicines only subdue its symptoms—but do not cure. So-called predigested foods only make the digestion more sluggish and ultimately make the trouble take a chronic form.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure indigestion because they go right to the root of the trouble. They make new, rich blood that invigorates weakened organs, thus strengthening the digestive system so that the stomach does its own work. That is the Dr. Williams' way—the rational way—to cure indigestion and the ailments that arise from it. This has been proved time after time in the published cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Miss Blanche Wallace, Dartmouth, N.S., says:—"I suffered greatly with my head and stomach, and often took fainting spells. I could not retain anything on my stomach, and while I naturally craved food I really dreaded meal time when the pain and discomfort that followed. I tried a number of remedies, but got no relief. My mother was using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the time with so much benefit that she induced me to try them. The result was that soon the trouble had passed away, and I have since enjoyed the best of health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Montreal Council will likely pass the arter by-law for the early closing of saloons.

Eleven-year-old John Bell, of Montreal, was sent to the reformatory for five years for store thieving.

Are All Advertised Medicines Fakes?

As well ask "Are all doctors quacks?" or "Are all lawyers shysters?" We all know there are ignorant quacks; does that prevent anyone calling in his good, old family physician in case of need and trusting him? There are shysters, but there are also honorable lawyers to whom we confidently trust our lives and fortunes.

There are fake medicines advertised; but they are not fakes because they are advertised. A good thing is worth advertising; we all want to know about it. The more a bad thing is advertised, the worse for it in the end.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is no fake; yet it is advertised; it advertises itself; and those who have used it are its best advertisers, and that free of cost.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved its merit by more than thirty years' general use. This simple, old-fashioned remedy, made from roots and herbs, has become the standard medicine for ailments peculiar to women,—its fame is world-wide.

Read this plain, honest statement of what the medicine did for one woman; her own words; if you doubt, write and ask her.

Toronto, Canada.—"I shall endeavor to describe to you how I felt before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I scarcely knew what it was to be well. I had awful bearing-down pains and usually before my monthly periods I suffered terribly and had to go to bed. I was not able to walk across the floor the pain was so bad. I doctored for a long time, but the doctor's treatment did not do me any good. I gave up all hopes of ever being well again until one day my husband saw the Compound advertised in the paper. He decided to get me a bottle, and I am thankful he did. I had not taken one bottle before I began to feel better, and I kept on taking it until now I am a different woman. It also helped me during maternity and childbirth. I can thoroughly recommend your Vegetable Compound to any woman who is afflicted with female troubles."—Mrs. J. M. Tweedale, 138 Nassau St., Toronto, Canada.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no plausible stranger—it has stood the test of years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

WALTER MILLER HERE ON VISIT

Challengers Were not Conditioned Says Former Local Player

A Small Fire

Walter Miller, of the Edmonton hockey team, arrived in the city this morning on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Miller, Water street. Although not participating in either of the cup games, Walter is highly pleased with the trip and the splendid treatment afforded the team at the capital. He lays the cause of the defeat of the challengers to the fact that the members of the team were not conditioned. Fred Whitcroft and Jack Miller have signed with Renfrew, but the remainder of the players will return to their homes. Walter received a telegram from Grand Forks this afternoon, asking him to play hockey at that place for the remainder of the season, but while he intends to return to the west he has not planned anything definite.

PLAYERS LOSE THEIR MONEY AT LINDSAY

Two of the Peterborough hockey players dropped some money at Lindsay last night, and it wasn't a betting proposition either. They didn't have a gambler's chance. On leaving for the rink they left their money in their jeans in their room at the hotel where the team was staying and when they returned it was gone. About twenty dollars was the amount the sneak thief got away with.

SKATING

Miss Mudge skating in the Earl Grey competition at Montreal scored 144 points out of a possible 145. A number of others reached a high mark. In view of the excessively exacting character of the competition the showing was remarkable. Louis Rubenstein was referee.

SECOND ANNUAL BANQUET OF CARPET WEAVERS' ASSOCIATION

At the Grand Hotel Was a Highly Successful Function—Employees of Brinton Carpet Company Honored the Superintendent, Mr. J. W. Pierce—The Toast List.

The second annual banquet of the Carpet Weavers' Association, held last evening at the Grand Hotel, was in every way a successful and enjoyable function, and it evidenced the success which is being attained by the Brinton Carpet Company, and the spirit of good-will existing between employer and employee. This combination is always a winner, and it means greater prosperity for the future. The business of the company is increasing rapidly, and the day not far off when it will be necessary to enlarge the present plant to meet the demands of the trade. The attendance last evening numbered about fifty, and prominent amongst the gathering were the superintendent, Mr. J. W. Pierce, and the general manager, Mr. H. E. Wedley. The dining hall presented an attractive appearance with its gay decorations, and shortly after eight o'clock all present sat down to the well-laden tables and partook of the splendid repast prepared for them by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Nixon. To this important part of the programme each did full justice and then the following toast list was carried out :—

The King—Mr. Emmett Stansfeld.
The Brinton Carpet Company—Mr. W. Hall.
The Land of Our Adoption—Mr. A. Giles.
The Land of Our Birth—Mr. H. Reid.
The Press—Mr. E. Yarrington.
The Host and Hostess—Mr. G. Skelding.

In a few well chosen words, Mr. Stansfield proposed the toast to the King, and it was honored by the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. W. Hall proposed the toast to "The Brinton Carpet Company." He felt that an honor had been bestowed upon him. It was a pleasure to see the officials of the company present, and he congratulated Mr. Wedley upon the success which had attended him during this, the first year of his management. The speaker felt sure that the company would continue to meet with prosperity, and predictions which had been made by Mr. Brinton would come true. He remarked on the interest Mr. Wedley had taken in the welfare of the employees. He knew he voiced the sentiment of all present when he wished Mr. Wedley continued success for the future.

Mr. Wedley, in responding, said he felt that if the company had made progress, it was due to the splendid co-operation on all hands. In coming to Peterborough, he knew that he would be backed up by the experience and loyalty of all in the factory. The business was progressing and he was sure that the men would give Mr. Brinton what every sportsman expected, "a good run for his money."

As Mr. Wedley took his seat, the gathering arose and sang in a hearty manner, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Mr. A. Giles proposed the toast to "The Land of Our Adoption," and in a brief speech referred to the great resources of Canada, and emphasized the fact that the working man was one of its best assets, and he who was sober, honest and industrious had a chance to rise in the industrial or social life of Canada, which would be some not far off day become one of the foremost nations of the world, and of such one would feel proud to be a citizen.

The Maple Leaf was then enthusiastically sung.

"The Land of Our Birth" was proposed by Mr. H. Rew, after which all joined in singing the old familiar song of "Home, Sweet Home."

In a neat speech Mr. E. Yarrington proposed the toast to "The Press," and it was honored by representatives.

The toast to "The Host and Hostess" was proposed by Mr. G. Skelding, and on its being honored, the gathering was assured that each was welcome, and that the host and hostess were honored by their presence.

During an intermission in a choice programme of songs, recitations and musical numbers, the superintendent, Mr. J. B. Pierce, was presented with a beautiful gold watch and chain, as an evidence of the high esteem in which he is held by the employees of the Brinton Carpet Company. The presentation was made by Mr. Emmett Stansfield, and Messrs. A. Giles and H. Rew spoke on behalf of the employees.

Mr Pierce thanked the employees for their expression of good-will and loyalty to him, and assured them that their gift would ever remind him of the pleasant relations existing between the employees and himself.

The chairman of the evening was the president of the Association, Mr. Emmett Stansfield, and Mr. H. Nichol made an acceptable accompanist.

The singing of "God Save the King" brought the affair to a fitting close.

R. R. to Apsley

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I read with interest a letter copied from your paper the other days the railway extension north from Lindsay taking the trade of north Peterborough county. If the citizens of Peterborough wish to secure some of this northern trade let them go at it like the promoters of the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon & Burkton Ry. Co. did and I think they will have no trouble in getting the C. P. R. to operate the road. The proposed road, I would suggest, to go out by the old Chemong road and on to Buckhorn, then up through the settlements in Harvey, Cavandish and Galway to Kinmount. From Kinmount across to Minden, the county seat of Haliburton county, and ultimately on to Dorset and Algonquin National Park. The C.P.R. might then extend on to Matawa, giving them a direct Ontario line into northern Ontario.

The north Peterborough townships, I should think, would aid such a road, and I know the towns of Kinmount, Minden and Dorset would.

As your other correspondent said such a road would open up a district rich in "Forest, field and mine," besides it would give railway access to the newest and best tourist districts of Ontario. Would you believe that all the Haliburton lakes from Gull Lake, in the southwest corner near Kinmount, right up through to Dorset are being settled by "cottagers" and they have no railway communication, driving in from Kinmount or Dorset on the Bobcaygeon wagon road. The large and increasing tourist trade of Dorset and Lake of Bays district is only reached by steamboat service from Huntsville on the G. T. R. northern.

As to your local tourist trade this road would make a wonderful difference on Chemong Lake, Buckhorn Lake and Deer Bay and the back lakes in Cavandish.

Another railway matter I would like to see the Board of Trade of Peterborough, Lakefield and Lindsay take up is securing the Ontario grain line of the Canadian Northern Ry.

It is understood that the C. N. R. has taken over the I. B. & O. Ry., but the elevation, grades and curves of this road prohibit it from ever becoming a successful grain line. My idea is to induce the C. N. R. to follow the low lands south of the Kawartha Lakes, starting at Beaverton, going east through Lindsay, crossing at the head of the Chemong Lake, through Lakefield, and on east to Almonte and Ottawa. They would then build a branch from their main line near the Severn river to the Georgian Bay. This would give as good a grain line as the G.T.R. or C.P.R., with equally low grades. Of course a branch would be built from Lakefield to Peterborough, but Peterborough has too low an elevation for the main line to take.

I am not writing this article to "knock" Lindsay, for I believe that any railway development in the Midland district which will benefit Peterborough will also help Lindsay some and vice versa.

I am, your truly,
FROM A LINDSAY CITIZEN

Sudbury, Jan. 24.—Thirty are known to be dead and with 35 in colonist car, of whom none are thought to have escaped, the death list totals 65. This takes into account only 17 recovered from the first-class coach, which is considered short of the mark. The number in this car was estimated at 30, which means that some 13 bodies are still missing from it. The total death list will not be under 75.

Drs. Cook and Arthur and their staff of nurses in charge of the General Hospital have been the hardest worked people in Sudbury since the accident. With already 15 patients in the building, and bed capacity for only 30, they took in 24 of the injured and gave them beds by shifting some of the convalescents to cots.

Five of the injured at the hospital have since died, and Dr. Cook feels almost sure that several others cannot recover. Hon. Frank Cochrane was a visitor to the hospital yesterday to see M. Brodie of Sudbury, who it is believed will recover. The C.P.R. surgeon from Montreal is helping to attend the patients.

A most appalling scene greeted the eyes of many heartbroken relatives and hundreds of sightseers at the Spanish River bridge yesterday, when sixteen bodies of wreck victims were fished from the first-class day coach and laid out on the ice.

"Fished" is the proper word, because the bodies were punched and speared with poles in an inhuman manner by the men engaged in the work of rescue. Much criticism of the company's action was heard in not raising the car by means of the crane or, failing in that step, to have the divers take the bodies out by hand.

The scene of the disaster was fairly alive all day with C.P.R. officials from Vice-President McNichol down. They seemed to give their greatest attention to keeping away from the locality people who were there to learn the extent of the disaster. They pushed relatives of victims and newspaper men clean off the right of way, and men carrying cameras were watched and dogged by railway constables.

At the C.P.R. office here are hundreds of inquirers from all over the country, but it was very difficult to get the names of those supposed to be missings.

There are over twenty bodies lying in Sudbury to-day, several of them unidentified. Several persons arrived on the 8 o'clock train from the west searching for friends but could not get access to the undertakers parlors which the five unknown are lying. It appears that the undertakers have been working steadily since the wreck, and, therefore, wanted sleep, and would not bother with the anxious ones last night.

"Come around to-morrow," was the answer a Blind River man got who it here to find his son-in-law and grandchild.

Three bodies were recovered from the dining-car on Friday night, and brought to Sudbury. The car was raised out of the water by means of the crane. Saturday about 200 men were on the job aiding in the work of rescuing the bodies and repairing the track.

The submerged first-class coach broke in two when partly hauled out of the water, after several bodies had been taken from it. The last body taken from the first-class day coach before it broke was that of Rev. Stephen Childerhouse of North Bay. The body was not bruised or cut. Mr. Childerhouse, who was superintendent of Presbyterian home missions, was on his way to visit points along the Soo line. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Kennedy of Pembroke, and one son, 12 years old.

Many anxious friends of missing people are at Nairn and the bridge waiting for the recovery of bodies. It is feared that many are doomed to disappointment. The opinion is general that the current has carried many away, and that they will never be recovered.

Several people who viewed unidentified bodies think one is that of Ben Allen, a horse dealer well-known hereabouts and supposed to have hailed from Goderich. A Sudbury hotel man, however, says he knows Allen well and is absolutely sure it is not he, but a Swede of this town whose name he cannot recall.

Mr. Saunders, one of the victims, was traveler for Green & Swift, London, Ont., and is survived by a wife, five children and widowed mother.

O. S. Martin, furniture traveler from Waterloo, Ont., is reported lost. A local undertaker has received a telegraphic enquiry from Mrs. Martin at Waterloo.

Agents of the railway company are on the job seeking settlements to avoid damage suits. Several who suffered only minor injuries signed releases for considerations. The passengers on through trains are still being transferred at the scene of the disaster, and it is unlikely that the track will be in repair before Tuesday.

It is not definitely known what caused the wreck. Spreading rails is a theory that is being generally accepted to-day. A point that is noted is that the worst wrecks the C.P.R. have had have been along the north shore of Lake Superior, and it is believed that lack of facilities for proper regular inspection of the roadbed is probably accountable for the misadventures.

The express was speeding along at about 40 miles an hour when the calamity occurred. Clear and coherent stories of what followed the first ominous crunchings and shakings cannot be had, for the survivors are all so shaken-up and shocked, and the accident itself was over so quickly, that they have no really distinct recollections of what really did happen.

There could not have been a worse spot for the tragedy. The track level of the bridge crossing the Spanish River is about 30 feet above the water. The river is about 125 feet wide, and the water runs as deep as 45 feet. The approach is through a mountainous stretch of barren country, although within a short distance of the bridge is a long stretch of open sandy plain, giving the engineer a good view of the bridge.

The engine, and the mail and express cars crossed the bridge in safety. The first colonist car was derailed, but crossed the bridge safely on the ties, and continued with the preceding cars some 200 yards beyond.

The second colonist car, however, collided with steel superstructure of the bridge and swung across the track, and took fire, causing the succeeding coaches to go tumbling down the bank. One of these cars plunged along and through the ice, and all who were on board were drowned, like rats in a trap. The next car, a first-class coach and diner, also went into the river, but fortunately the ventilators were left above the surface, and, thanks to the heroic work of the conductor, eight of the nine occupants were saved.

One of the most gruesome scenes was the destruction of the second-class coach, which smashed into the upright of the big steel bridge and took fire. Those witnessing it could see the bones and the bodies of the victims dropping out of the car on to the bridge.

When the second-class coach struck the upright of the bridge, the first-class coach directly behind it shot right past the girder and rolled down 15 feet to the bank of the river, and then another 15 feet in the river. The dining car, out of which most of the people escaped, followed the first-class coach, but the Pullman only rolled down to the bank of the river.

One man, who apparently escaped from the wreck, climbed up the embankment and on to the bridge. In a dazed state he kept on walking and stepped off the bridge, being instantly killed when he struck the ice below. Another man also managed to climb up on to the bank of the river, but the moment he reached the top he dropped dead.

HIGH WATER IN THE SEINE SCARES PARIS

City Faces Terrible Damage From Swollen River---Huge Volume of Water.

Paris, Jan. 24.—The floods to-day exceed all records and are fast resuming the proportions of a national disaster. In the northeast and west hundreds are homeless and ruined. The damage will be very great.

The rise in the waters continued all day. At Paris the Seine which registered 6.48 metres Saturday had reached 7.40 at noon yesterday. Its normal height at this season is 2.48.

The sharp cold of Saturday led to the hope of abatement of the floods, but yesterday morning a heavy snow set in, turning in the afternoon to rain, which is still falling.

A despatch from Chalons-sur-Marne says that a huge volume of water is sweeping down stream toward Paris. M. Lepine, prefect of Paris, after a tour of inspection yesterday afternoon, took the gravest view of the situation.

"The weather bureau," he said, "forecasts a further rise of 30 centimetres last night. I do not know what to do in the face of this situation."

One of the watermains serving five of the most populated districts in the south and east of the city, burst last night, and these districts are now without water. It is feared that the whole city will be in a like condition very soon, as the flood is invading the pumping stations. The compressed air factory, which supplied the elevators in Paris, has also been forced to shut down.

One of the great engines, which pump the sewage in the eastern section of Paris, broke down on account of the flood, and as a result the sewers threaten to overflow the streets. Several quarters are without electric light and all the trolley lines to the eastern suburbs, are out of commission. The main track of the Lyons railroad has been partially cut.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Edward Payson Weston started from New York for Los Angeles this morning, to be in readiness for his next walk from ocean to ocean, which he will begin on Feb. 1.

Twenty-nine suits for $10,000 each, growing out of the Cherry Mine disaster, were filed in Chicago on Saturday against the St. Paul Coal Co. and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co.

The meat boycott, which had its first support in Pittsburg among the street car men, has spread to the great industrial plants of the river valleys. Meatless menus are reported in some of the Pittsburg hotels, and they prove popular.

A cablegram from Chunk King, China, announces the death there of the wife of Rev. J. L. Stewart, Methodist missionary. Mrs. Stewart was the daughter of John Dunkin, a wealthy resident of London, Ont., and was married only last September.

The passage by the Common Council in Trenton, N.J., of an ordinance providing that all persons who cannot get seats on trolley cars need not pay fares, has given rise to an unusual traction situation. Crowded cars suddenly have become popular.

The Frankfort, Germany, Kleine Presse states that it knows positively that Cook is taking the cure at one of Heidelberg's best-known sanitariums. He is said to be very ill, owing to the after-effects of the excessive consumption of alcohol during his Arctic travels.

A. W. CAMPBELL MAY GET JOB AT CAPITAL

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—It is reported that the Minister of Railways and Canals has it in his mind to offer the vacant position of deputy minister to A. W. Campbell, Deputy Minister of Public Works for Ontario. The position was recently vacated by M. D. Butler, who goes to the Dominion Coal and Steel Co. as general manager.

Mr. Graham is thinking of dividing up the work performed by the former deputy minister, picking a manager of the Intercolonial Railway from one of the big privately-owned railways, and securing Mr. Campbell as deputy minister of the department.

The subject has not been discussed with Mr. Campbell, but it is thought he will accept.

UNITED STATES AND GERMANY CANNOT AGREE

Berlin, Jan. 24.—The American note on the tariff is not satisfactory to the German Government. A despatch which was delivered to the Foreign Office Saturday night was deciphered in installments yesterday, being examined page by page by the officials concerned.

The first paragraphs of the note, which were favorable the the German contentions, gave the impression that the controversy was ended, but as the note proceeded it was perceived that various points have yet to be considered, and that Washington continues to hold positions to which Germany is not now prepared to yield.

THE PARTIES STAND EVEN IN BRITAIN

Liberal-Labor Section Have 218 Seats and Unionists Have 218—Nationalists With 83 Members Are in Control of the House Unless the Liberals Manage to Secure a Big Lead.

London, Jan. 24.—Never in the recollection of the oldest politicians have the British parties been in such a perplexing position as they find themselves to-day, and are likely to face when the next House of Commons is organized.

So evenly divided will be the membership of the next House, and so close is the popular vote, that the result of the elections for all practical purposes may be considered a tie.

No human mind can divine which of the principal and different questions before the electors had the most influence at the polls, or whether the results mean that the people demand tariff reform, or are loyal to the Lords or anxious to reject Chancellor Lloyd-George's budget, or whether all three of these had an equal effect.

Under these circumstances neither party wants the responsibility of attempting to legislate, and, since a division must be so close, the Unionists are better satisfied to be in the opposition than to have won by a very small majority.

Mr. Balfour's speeches show plainly that with the existing conditions he is glad not to have control of the Government. Premier Asquith would be equally pleased to escape the perils of piloting the party through the troubled waters. There are precedents for him to ask the King to summon another leader to form the Government, but no one expects him to haul down his flag.

All the prophets made the prediction that the new Cabinet will find itself in the minority within a year, and that the country will plunge into another general election.

The remarkable figures recorded at this stage of the balloting foreshadow clearly how nearly equal both the popular vote and the membership of the House of Commons will be divided between the two great factions.

The popular vote stands:

Unionists	2,565,627
Liberals	2,324,315

This gives the united Liberal-Labor party a majority of 153,803 in a total vote of 5,285,157.

To-day the membership of the House of Commons is a tie, the Unionists and the combined Liberal-Labor party each having elected 218 representatives.

One hundred and sixty-seven seats remain to be filled, of which 102 are English. In the last Parliament these were: Unionist, 36; Liberal, 115; Nationalist, 16. Should the present trend of voting continue, neither the Unionists nor the Liberals can muster a majority of more than a dozen, and the Nationalists, with 83 votes, will be wholly masters of the situation.

NEW OFFICERS OF FRUIT GROWERS ASSOCIATION

St. Catharines, Jan. 24.—The executive of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association Saturday elected the following officers:

President, Murray Pettit, Winona; vice-presidents, Robert Thompson, St. Catharines; J. W. Smith, Winona; Geo. C. Brown, Pelham; H. St. Clair Fisher, Queenston; secretary-treasurer, Carl E. Fisher, St. Catharines.

Committee on statistics with W. H. Bunting, chairman, appointed as follows: Niagara, A. Onslow; Grantham, W. H. Bunting; Loth, S. H. Bittenhouse; Pelham, Geo. C. Brown; Clinton, H. S. Peart; North Grimsby, H. C. Roberts; Saltfleet, R. H. Durham; Barton, C. F. Munro; South Grimsby, A. H. Pettit; Thorold, G. C. Brown.

Transportation committee as follows: W. H. Bunting, St. Catharines, chairman; J. W. Smith, Winona; R. Thompson, St. Catharines; H. L. Roberts, Winona; A. H. Pettit, Grimsby; C. W. F. Carpenter, Winona; H. St. Clair Fisher, Queenston.

To arrange for better distribution fruit committee is as follows: J. W. Smith, chairman; S. H. Patterson, F. B. Henry, Wm. Armstrong, C. M. Honsborger, J. W. Culp, E. Emmett, W. Frets, S. H. Rittenhouse, A. Railstone, R. Thompson, W. H. Bunting, W. E. McCalla, Titterington Bros., E. H. Smith. One representative each of the following companies: Can Fruit, Ontario and Western Co-operative, Grimsby Co-operative, Winona Co-operative, Jordan Co-operative, Western Co-operative, St. Catharines Cold Storage.

Institute meetings will be held as follows, with subjects named, dates to be arranged later: St. Davids, spraying; St. Catharines, transportation, distribution and marketing; Jordan, peaches and berries; Beamsville, apples, pears and grapes; Winona, spraying; Fonthill, peaches.

A KICK FROM EASTERNERS

Montreal, Jan. 24.—Premier Hazzard of Prince Edward Island, who left yesterday for home, having been a few days at Ottawa, stated that he was getting along very comfortably with his majority of three and that he did not expect a crisis in the near future, although he intimated that there might be fun ahead, if his province would, in connection with New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, make a very strenuous effort to have the original number of federal representatives restored.

Prince Edward Island had been reduced from six to five, and after the next census, the number would come down to four, and Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in a like proportion if matters were allowed to drift.

He said that there was little doubt as to the willingness of the other two Maritime Provinces to participate in the movement, as the growing population of the west would cut down their federal representation in the same ratio.

AN EARTHQUAKE IN WEST INDIES

Kingstown, St. Vincent, D.W.I., Jan 24.—Two sharp earthquake shocks were felt throughout the island at 2.50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In Kingstown the protracted tremor caused a panic, but no damage was done.

Fort de France, Martinique, Jan 24.—Earthquake shocks were felt here yesterday afternoon, a few minutes before three o'clock. The movement was undulatory and lasted one minute. So far as is known there was no damage.

WARNING TO POLITICAL LEADERS

Montreal, Jan. 24.—W. D. Lighthall, K.C., speaking to the members of the Reform Club, uttered a warning Saturday evening to the political leaders, saying they must pay more attention to the representation of the English speaking population of Quebec both at Ottawa and Quebec.

He claimed that the English Liberals are the true interpreter between the French-Canadian and the other provinces, and that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier is beloved all over Canada, it is because he has been lauded in the English provinces by the English Liberals of Quebec.

The foundation of Mercier's national party, or rather his racial party, brought them to power at Quebec, but it damaged Liberalism throughout the Dominion, and practically wiped out of political existence the English Liberals.

LADY CONSTANCE LYTTON PLACED BEHIND BARS

Liverpool, Jan. 24.—That Lady Constance Lytton, sister of Lord Lytton, is serving a sentence in Walton Jail here, under the name of Jane Warton, for smashing the jail windows, has just leaked out and has caused a sensation among the supporters of the women's suffragists. Lady Lytton adopted a disguise of a work woman and set about to force the authorities to imprison her for the purpose of proving her assertion that Home Secretary Gladstone's recent action in releasing her from Newcastle Jail on the official ground that she had a weak heart was really on account of her social position, and the agitation which was excited by the forcible feeding of the prisoners who refused to take food.

It is said that she is starving herself again and is submitting to forcible feeding to prove that Mr. Gladstone's statement with reference to her "weak heart" was what she called it, "simply Liberal snobbishness."

Lady Lytton came to Liverpool Jan. 14. She proceeded deliberately to smash the jail windows with stones. When arrested she gave the name of Jane Warton, and said she broke the windows as a protest against certain jail regulations. Lady Constance was sentenced to a fortnight's imprisonment, one week of which she has served.

HALF OF EAST SIDE OF ELK LAKE CITY BURNED

Drunken Man Knocks Over Gasoline Stove in Poolroom of Mining Town on the Montreal River and Damage Amounting to $100,000 is the Result.

Toronto, Jan. 24.—"Fire destroyed over half of the east side of Elk Lake early yesterday morning. It originated in a pool room, where a drunken man knocked over a gasoline stove. Loss is over $100,000, practically no insurance.

Men are obtaining a large quantity of liquor from "Blind Pigs," causing numerous fights. The town officials appear to be incapable of maintaining order.

The fire department was inefficient and the town was saved by the individual efforts of citizens.

Many thefts occurred of goods which had been saved from burning buildings and stood on the street.

The firemen were handicapped on account of having no ladders. Nobody was injured, but many are left homeless.

A number of merchants, who sustained a total loss, are preparing to open business to-day in tents.

About twenty stores were destroyed. Many people are homeless."

The above despatch was received last night signed by the Elk Lake Telegraph and Telephone Co. Several private wires reporting a conflagration also came through.

There are two townsites at Elk Lake, one on the southwest side of the Montreal River, known as Empthe, and one on the northwest side of the river, known as Elk City. It is the latter section that is fireswept.

While the loss will be heavy, it is thought it will hardly run as high as estimated in the despatch. Insurance will be practically nil, as the rates were almost wholly prohibitive.

A small gasoline fire engine was purchased last spring, but it would be powerless against the big blaze.

The population of the district in which the fire raged would be over 3,000. The buildings are small wooden affairs. The weather conditions will entail considerable hardship to those burned out.

LATEST ABOUT THE BRITISH ELECTIONS

Special to the Review.

London, Jan. 24.—Remaining returns received this morning from Saturday's elections show no change and for the first time the Unionists had failed to get a seat. At two o'clock this afternoon parties stood: Unionists 219, Liberals 201, Labor 32, Nationalists 67, Unionists gains 100, Liberals 17, Labor 2.

Friends and Relatives of Those in Wreck Cause Small Riot in Montreal

Special to Review.

Montreal, Jan. 24.—A small sized riot took place at the head office of the C.P.R. this morning when a crowd of the relatives and friends of the dead and injured in the Spanish River wreck clamored for more information. They claimed that officials were withholding additional names both of dead and injured. No further names were given out to-day.

MURDERED FOR HIS SAVINGS

New York, Jan. 24.—The alluring fiction that old John Ferrari, an Italian wine merchant, whose cellar lies in the heart of "Little Italy," carried his savings in his clothes, marked him yesterday as another victim of the band of Italian murderers whose killings continue unchecked by a baffled police.

Old Ferrari was found yesterday lying on the stones of his wine cellar His feet were tied with rubber gas tubing and a big bandanna bound his arms. An empty chloroform bottle told how the old man had been killed by its fumes.

The C. N. R. line to Sherbrooke is completed.

SEVEN MEET DEATH IN A BAD WRECK

Cincinnati, Jan. 24.—Seven are dead and fifteen injured as the result of the wreck of the Big Four night express from Chicago, which left the track two miles west of here yesterday morning, while running towards the city at 50 miles an hour.

While rounding a curve, the engine leaped from the track and whirling in a great semi-circle, plunged through a coach of its own train.

According to the Big Four officials, the accident was caused by a piece of iron dropping on one of the tracks.

Off to the Indies.

New York, Jan. 24.—The members of the royal commission on trade relations between Canada and the West Indies left yesterday on the royal mail packet Clyde for Jamaica. The commission will visit Dominica, St. Lucia the Barbados, Martinique, Trinidad Montserrat, St. Vincent, British Guiana, Antigua and St. Kitts.

HAD TO CHOOSE

The political situation in the Old Country at the present time is characterized by one or two peculiar features, and one of these is clearly indicated by the voting in the election that is now taking place. It is evident that the people want reform in the House of Lords, and it is also plain that they are not satisfied with the tariff as it exists at present. Reform of the Lords is one of the main planks of the Liberals; tariff reform is the cry of the Unionists. The people are not quite sure which of these two things they want most. They can secure reform of the Lords by voting for the Liberals, and tariff reform by supporting the Unionists. Judging by the way the elections have gone so far, Parliament will not be able to do business when it meets for the first time, and another election may be the result. One would think, however, that the people of the Old Land would like peace for a while after the present strenuous contest.

LESS PARTY WANTED

A gentleman of English birth, who is a resident of this city, remarked the other day that the English voters and English members of Parliament did not cling to party with the same tenacity that Canadians exhibit. He pointed out that the political complexion of counties and divisions in the Old Country changed frequently. If the course in the House of a member of Parliament was not satisfactory to those who sent him there they took care to see that he was not elected again, often returning as his successor a man of the opposite party. The same thing occurs in Parliament. The members do not always vote with the party to which they belong, if their personal conviction is against such action.

While it would seem that parties are necessary in the government of a nation, it would be well for Canada if there were more men who would stand out and protest against party when they were of the opinion that the wrong course was being pursued. If Canada had more men of this stamp among the voting population and among the representatives in civic and political government her public life would be besmirched by fewer scandals.

THE DRILLS IN SCHOOLS

A fire in a school at Toronto last week almost resulted in a tragedy. It was fortunate that it had such a happy ending. If it had not been for the fire drill many little ones would likely have lost their lives. True, there was a small panic, but when adults often become panic-stricken we can not expect children to retain complete self-possession in the face of great danger. In connection with this fire it is admitted that the fire drill had a good deal to do with getting the scholars out of the school without loss of life.

There is a lesson for Peterborough in the fire at Toronto. The children in the schools here should be proficient in their fire drill. If they are not, a fire in a Peterborough school might result in a calamity. While we have no doubt that those who are responsible for the management of the schools of this city are alive to the situation, and have taken every precaution to lessen the danger in case of an outbreak of fire, it is well to remember that "eternal vigilance is the price of safety."

In connection with this subject it might be remarked that experience has shown that all stairways in schools and in all public buildings for that matter, should be fireproof. Time and again it has been found impossible to rescue persons from burning buildings on account of the stairways having been destroyed in the early stages of the conflagration.

WHAT WE MAY EXPECT

La Patrie (The Globe of Quebec province) says in its editorial of January 21st:—

"The French-Canadians of Ontario have just closed by a banquet, at which the orators have caused the heart to vibrate with national patriotism, a congress convoked for the freely-admitted purpose of re-establishing the rights of their race.

"The deliberations of this congress have been conducted with a wise moderation which will permit it to bear all the fruits which one should expect. Our compatriots, without anti-Anglo-Saxon and incendiary outbursts, have stated smartly, with a dignified firmness, the conditions of existence which they wish to realize, and which must be realized if the two races are to live side by side in harmony in Ontario as in Quebec.

The Canadian constitution guarantees to the English and French nationalities equal rights and privileges. No one denies that in Ontario more than in our own province, but where one nationality tries to dominate the other it is only natural that the minority should raise its voice.

Our compatriots of English origin have become generously reconciled to the French element, by whom its susceptibilities were formerly irritated. Mistrust has disappeared, and we believe the feeling is reciprocal.

"This happy state of mind will facilitate enormously the redressing of the wrongs to which the minority in Ontario is subjected. Appeals directed to the proper authorities will be taken in good part and judged according to that generous sense of justice which animates Anglo-Saxons when it closes the ear to prejudice.

"We congratulate our compatriots of the neighbouring province upon the happy ideas which inspired them in calling the Congress together, and upon the courteous attitude which they have maintained during their deliberations."

WHAT THE WITNESS SAYS

"The ward which should be, perhaps, most in the public eye is St. Jean Baptiste, where the notorious Proulx has his back against the wall, and is fighting like a civet cat. According to Mr. Proulx, he is, if not an angel of light, at least as good as the next man, and he has so low an opinion of human nature that he declares, and perhaps believes, that others would do as badly as he has done if they had the same opportunities. Such men as Proulx are the mephistopheleses of citizenship. There is hope for the man who sins and repents, but the career of a man who sins and boasts about it and defies his judges and public opinion has a far more demoralizing effect upon a certain class of mind than the career of a successful burglar. That Mr. Proulx has friends who will work night and day for his success goes without saying. All the undesirables will be on this side. He can only be defeated by the electors of St. Jean Baptiste who are not in his grip voting against him to a man."

EDITORIAL NOTES

Of farm produce of every kind exported during the last recorded year 97 per cent. went across the big water and 3 per cent. went across the line. If the water-route to Britain were shut off where would the Canadian farmer come in? Of what use then is the "little Canadian" navy of Sir Wilfrid which is sheer waste although it does gratify the anti-imperial French-Canadians.

Montreal Witness.

When we barbarians feel an itching to pull a Chinaman's pigtail, because it is strange to us, we need to be reminded that the sailors to whom Nelson addressed that glorious message, "England expects that every man will do his duty," wore pigtails, too. Chinamen have just as much, if not more, right to laugh at the British silk hat, and some of our other freaks of dress, masculine and feminine, compared to their own easy rainment, but they are too polite to do so to our faces.

The proposal of the French-Canadian Congress meeting here this week to take steps to safe-guard the shantymen, both against themselves and those who prey on them, is an excellent and much needed movement. The number of petty tragedies and amount of suffering each year through shantymen getting drunk and spending several months' wages in a carouse or a part of it, ensuing a season of poverty for their families, is painfully numerous, as Ottawa, because of its position has frequent chance of observing. A system of protection ought not to be difficult to devise, and there are but few shantymen who would not both welcome it, and avail themselves of its provision. The number of cases where shantymen lose or have stolen their entire year's wages, that annually come before the police authorities in one form or another, is ample evidence of the need of this proposed protection.—Ottawa Journal.

Livery Man Disappears.

Brockville, Jan. 24.—The police have a mystery to solve in the disappearance of Cecil G. Howard, the keeper of a livery stable, who has not been seen since an early hour Saturday morning. A team of horses belonging to him in charge of an employe figured in a runaway accident which had no serious results beyond the damaging of a vehicle which he had borrowed. The incident completely unnerved him and, going home, he remained just long enough to deposit his money and bank book on a table without awakening the other members of the family.

Boys Bought Liquor.

Woodstock, Jan. 24.—Ten school boys were witnesses Saturday in the police court proceedings against three hotels of the city, charged with selling liquor to minors.

The Commercial Hotel proprietor pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs. Decision in the charges against the Royal and Buckingham Hotels was reserved until Tuesday next.

The boys swore that while they had been served with wine and gin, they did not drink any, but poured it into the cuspidors.

All of the students have been expelled from school.

Favors Temperance Candidates.

Montreal, Jan. 24.—The expected episcopal letter was issued yesterday on the civic elections by Archbishop Bruchesi. His grace says that he would be much grieved to know that the mayoralty contest was being run on racial or national grounds, the candidates being Dr. Guerin and Senator Casgrain, English and French speaking Catholics respectively. No other special references are made except to call upon the electors to vote for good temperance candidates.

Brakeman Killed.

Port Stanley, Jan. 24.—The worst snow storm of the winter broke over this place Saturday.

Buff Cook, aged 23, of St. Thomas, a brakeman on the Iona Montmette, was instantly killed in trying to board the snow plow. He missed his footing and was dragged under the flanges.

Brockville Man Killed.

Kingston, Jan. 24.—As a freight train was pulling out of Kingston Junction at noon yesterday, William Cleland, aged 24, fell off the car and was killed. His home was in Brockville. Coroner Ross will hold an inquest.

Back From the Wars.

Madrid, Jan. 24.—The Spanish troops returning from Melilla were given a cordial welcome when they entered the city in solemn procession yesterday. Madrid was gaily decked with colors.

Canada's total trade for nine months of this fiscal year amounted to $512,-696,378, an increase of $43,299,506.

IMMENSE MEETING IN MONTREAL; BOURASSA VOICES FRENCH IRE

French Canada Against the Unity of Empire—Canada to be Independent—French Ambitions.

The Montreal Witness.

If crowds and cheers count for anything, Mr. Henri Bourassa may safely be said to be as popular as ever with a large section of the citizens of Montreal. The Monument National was filled to the top step of the galleries last night with an enthusiastic audience to hear the member for St. Hyacinthe at Quebec, discuss the question of the Navy Bill and its consequences for Canada, and the British Empire. An ovation greeted him as he mounted the platform shortly after 8.30 o'clock, and cheers punctuated his speech at numerous points, where his arguments appeared to and agreed with the sentiments of his hearers. He commenced to speak at 8.45, and never paused, except to take an occasional sip of water, till 11.20. And he never lost his grip on the audience for a moment.

Mr. E. L. Patenaud, M.P.P. for Lafontaine, presided, and introduced Mr. Bourassa, while Mr. Oliver Asselin occupied a seat to the right of the speaker. The platform was crowded with Mr. Bourassa's supporters. Canada, Mr. Patenaud remarked, was face to face with a serious problem which should and could be considered and discussed freely and, if desired, adversely should any features appear not to be in the interests of the country.

The culmination of the address was a resolution read by Mr. Bourassa, and passed unanimously, to the effect that the House of Commons and the Senate should not pass the Naval Bill until it had been submitted to the electors of Canada for referendum.

The subject under consideration, Mr. Bourassa remarked, in opening, was one of vast importance to the Canadian people, and called for careful and serious study. The cost of a Canadian navy had been estimated at from eleven million to fifteen million dollars. Then there would be three millions a year at the outset for maintenance, and this might be considered a conservative estimate. If the estimates for the navy were no more reliable than those for the Grand Trunk Pacific the outlook was all the more serious. The speaker preferred to accept the opinion of Sir William White, the great British naval expert, who had declared that a warship could be counted on to last only twenty years and probably would be out of date long before that, in view of the progress of modern invention, while constant repairs and improvements would add to the heavy burden that that would be laid upon the taxpayers. Then a naval training school must be regarded as a natural adjunct to the main organization, and its cost would be considerable, added to which there would be accessories forgotten in the initial estimates.

And all this, Mr. Bourassa argued, was unnecessary, because Canada had no foes; she could hardly be attacked by any power except the United States or Japan, and war between either of these countries and Canada or Great Britain was inconceivable. At the same time, Mr. Bourassa claimed, the creation of a Canadian navy, which according to an article of the amended bill would give the Governor-General-in-Council power to mobilize the forces and place them at the service of His Majesty in any part of the Empire in case of need, would cause Canada to become embroiled in every foreign war which the British Government might undertake. He referred to the Hon. Mr. Foster's resolution as almost a Nationalist one, and he reminded his hearers that it had been combatted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in an anti-imperialist speech, yet today the Prime Minister brought down an ultra-Imperial measure. Everything in the ministerial papers and speeches tended to show that Canada was free and independent, yet, as he had intimated, the participation of Canada in the Empire's wars would be complete.

Proceeding, Mr. Bourassa claimed that there was no precedent of any other nation calling on her colonies to aid her. He ridiculed Mr. Borden's statement that Britain would consult Canada before declaring war, and proceeded to quote Sir Charles Tupper against Mr. Borden's statement that Canada should contribute to this Imperial defence scheme. He told how Mr. Chamberlain, just before the South African war had broken out, had sent a missionary to Canada with the object of getting a resolution through the Canadian Parliament, and how when it had been hurriedly forced through Parliament Sir Wilfrid had told Mr. Bourassa that he wanted to get it through while the Rouge members from Quebec were absent. This, however, Mr. Bourassa added, did not prevent these same Rouge members from swallowing everything that the Government and their leaders saw fit to give them.

Mr. Bourassa next criticized the government for sending soldiers from Canada to South Africa without consulting Parliament, and in reply to the plea by the government followers would control the movements of the fleet he said it would be simply impossible for it to do so. He then asked if Britain really needed assistance. He would accept Sir William White's opinion that there was nothing in the German peril cry. There was a time when Great Britain was agitated over the French peril, and later the Russian peril. Admitting, however, for argument's sake, that there was a German peril, Mr. Bourassa wanted to know if that was Canada's fault. If Britain, he said, was in an awkward position, and if her prestige were threatened to-day, it had been brought about by her faulty diplomacy of the past century. She had allowed Austria to be crushed by Russia, she had allowed France to be crushed by Germany, and she had allowed Russia to be defeated by Japan, and, if there were any dangers to herself to-day, she had none to thank but herself.

Mr. Bourassa declared that he adhered to the opinion of Mr. F. D. Monk, M.P., given in his famous Lachine speech. From a constitutional point of view he contended that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had violated the constitution, not only of Britain, but of Canada, by bringing down a bill whose object was to take Canadian ships intended for the defence of Canadian ports and commerce to participate in Britain's wars all over the world. He said that the 'Canada' and other government organs were endeavoring to make their supporters believe this was a purely independent Canadian navy, but he read from Mr. Reginald McKenna's statement as First Lord of the Admiralty, to show that Canadian ships would be under the control of the British Admiralty. And, in fact, Sir Wilfrid Laurier had said himself that when Great Britain was at war Canada would be at war.

Mr. Bourassa told of a conversation he had had with Lord Dundonald on this question of naval defence, and declared that the latter had admitted that defence would be impossible. Mr. Bourassa said, speaking of the Monroe doctrine, that it was Canada's defence, and that this was so well understood in Great Britain that the Mother Land had practically abandoned the protection of the Dominion both on the Atlantic and Pacific to the United States.

To the claim that Canada owed a debt of gratitude to Britain for the protection of her merchant fleet, he read figures to show that our merchant marine was so small and Britain's so large trading between Canada and Great Britain that the British fleet was really protecting her own interests rather than those of Canada. The same principle, he said, would apply so far as any favors we had received from British diplomacy were concerned, citing the sacrifice which he claimed Britain had made for Canadian interests both in Alaska and on the Atlantic, where Lord Ashburton's diplomacy would be long remembered.

Mr. Bourassa said he thought he had proved conclusively that Britain could not defend the Dominion against the United States, and if she could not she would not, he asked. 'Then, why go into this crazy expense of building a Canadian navy?' He believed that the government's naval policy would be disastrous for Canada and fatal to Great Britain. It would create distrust and perhaps bring about further armed activity in the United States against Canada. He wanted to live at peace with Canada's neighbors and at the same time to conserve our national dignity. It was, in fact, he declared, a crime to divert so much money from the public works of Canada, which were so badly needed for her national development, for the building of this fleet.

Mr. Bourassa resumed his seat amid a storm of applause, and the meeting terminated by the chairman declaring Mr. Bourassa's resolution carried.

Takes Exception to Arguments

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Permit me to call attention to some absurd misstatements regarding license reduction, made by Mr. W. H. Moore in Saturday's press.

We do not accuse Mr. Moore of wilful misrepresentation, but it is regrettable that a citizen of his standing is not better informed on a public question of this nature.

His first paragraph deals with a list of second-hand bar-room echoes, which he rightly says would be due to discuss. Then why name them?

Mr. Moore claims that cutting off half the licenses will not lessen the appetite nor diminish treating.

The advocates of license reduction (the citizens of Peterborough as represented by over two thousand ratepayers, and not a few hobbyists, as some would like to infer) do not claim that reduction will lessen these evils per bar-room.

What we do claim is, that eight bar-rooms will not do as much harm as eighteen; ten men will yield to the temptation when passing a bar-room where one will go round a block to find one.

If "plague spots" are to be a compulsory evil inflicted on the majority, then the fewer the better. It stands to reason that eight will reduce less pestilence than eighteen.

Mr. Ackerman testifies to a great improvement after the license was cut off in the vicinity of his factory. If Mr. Moore's argument was correct, they ought to have licensed two bars to produce this good result, as he states that reduction will "redouble the evil," and this is the man that talks about "reasoning backward."

Mr. Moore states that these eighteen or twenty bar-rooms are like a delta in a river. It is universally admitted that the bar-rooms are tributaries to this great stream of evils here the beginners start on the downward voyage. If you want to see the delta go to the deposits, the blacklist, the almshouse, the asylum the prison, the sediment of wrecked character and ruined homes, the finished article of the only business that is ashamed of its product.

We claim that the fewer the tributaries the smaller the stream, and it is not "reasoning backward."

A LIBEL ON THE FARMER.

When Mr. Moore states that the farmers "to a great extent" come here because of the hotel accommodation, he casts an insult on the farmer.

The farmer comes here for business reasons, regardless of hotel accommodation. Hundreds come in by train and boat. There is no class of men so eager for the overthrow of the liquor traffic as the farmer, and over one hundred teams were offered here for polling day, not a dozen, as stated.

The farmer comes here because of better markets, better prices, greater variety of goods, etc., and if the hotel-keeper is feeding the farmer's horse at less than a profit, he will still come when the price is right and pay his way the same as any other gentleman. He has no desire to profit by licensing pitfalls for his city brother.

But then, the whole thing is merely horse-shed argument. Experience proves that in barless towns the farmer's wants are better supplied than ever.

As a last resort Mr. Moore appeals to the old revenue argument. If we must have the blood tax, the council can submit a by-law to have the license fee increased to one thousand dollars or more.

If as he states, "the amount consumed will be much the same," the additional fee will not be a hardship on the remainder.

When cities like Toronto can get along with one bar to about three thousand, London one bar to nearly eighteen hundred, Ottawa one bar to fifteen hundred, Peterborough's present rate of one to nine hundred, is much beyond the limit of necessity so called.

It would be well for the Council to note if Mr. Moore is speaking from the standpoint of public welfare, or if as an agent for one of the hotel properties his remarks are merely a professional intercession for his clients.

Yours truly,
A. B. CUNNINGHAM.

Is Not Their Duty Plain?

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Geo. Cochrane, High Constable of the county, has said that since Local Option was introduced into the east riding, crime had almost wholly ceased. It is a great change, he said. Is this not a matter for consideration? When I read this wonderful fact in the Review a week or so ago, I asked myself what more evidence, and right at home, can the authorities possibly want, unless they are determined to ignore all evidence?

Is it not fair to argue that a partial or total abolition of licenses would do the same for the west riding? Mr. Cochrane is a Liberal, and is not biased in favor of the present government by any means, but he, as an honest, fearless man, bears convincing testimony to the present splendid condition of the east riding, which has only one license in the whole length and breadth of it. Are the poor farmers complaining of lack of hotel accommodation there? That fake cannot be worked off on a guileless public in that riding. The people know better. In short, is there any demand for a return to licenses there? These facts must weigh with anybody who is not determined to bid defiance to the popular will. Centres of drunkenness, heart-break and debauchery have got to "go," gentlemen, and the men who stand for them will be swept aside with forgiveness if also with contempt. Who in God's name wants the bar? No man can be a human man and wish to perpetrate the wreck factory known as the bar-room.

Yours,
PLAIN FACTS.

A Correction

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Mr. Richard requests the Review to publish the following:—

To the Editor of the Mail and Empire.

Sir,—A Port Hope despatch in your issue of this morning, concerning the death of little Lena Evans, states that the mother of the child, who is a Christian Scientist, refused medical aid, also that the child was out sleigh riding on Saturday in a raging fever. Information just to hand from Port Hope absolutely denies both the above statements. A doctor was called in just as soon as the child was taken seriously ill, on Sunday morning, and his instructions were followed, and his medicine taken as prescribed. The child was not out sleigh riding on Saturday, as reported, but was in the house, up and around all day, and was not in a raging fever. The convulsions came on suddenly, as is often the case with children, and everything possible was done for the child. The doctor had previously been called in to attend a younger child on New Year's Day, and had called at various times since, and to give out the impression that there was any intentional neglect is most unjust. Christian Scientists are as strictly law-abiding as any other class of persons, barring none, in reporting contagious cases and observing the laws of quarantine, and they have no desire whatever to advocate or encourage carelessness, but they have a right to fair representation.

Yours, etc.,
C. R. MUNRO.

EASE FOR PILES!

"I Used to Suffer, But ——"

This is the experience of a lady who used to suffer from this terrible ailment, but found a cure. The writer is Mrs. E. Boxall, of 97 Scott St., St. Thomas. She says: "I consider it my duty to write of the benefits derived from using Zam-Buk. For some months I was a constant sufferer from bleeding piles. I used a great many ointments, but got no relief until I tried Zam-Buk. It cured me, and I have had no return of the trouble. Since my cure I have advised several others suffering from piles to use Zam-Buk, and in each instance have had satisfactory results."

If you suffer from this ailment apply Zam-Buk at night before retiring, and you will be satisfied with the "trial." A contributory cause of piles is often constipation, and a mild laxative will greatly aid the operation of Zam-Buk. For fistula, inflamed patches, and sores due to blood poisoning, etc., Zam-Buk is equally effective. It is a soothing, cooling balm, which stimulates the cells beneath the epidermis and epithelium to natural action. It relieves the tension which in the case of piles causes such acute agony, and in all respects will be found eminently satisfactory.

Zam-Buk is also a cure for eczema, ulcers, cuts, burns, bruises, rashes, chapped hands, frost bite, cold sores, bad leg, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

FARM HANDS FOR ONTARIO

Notwithstanding the great flow of immigration to Canada during the past few years the need of farm help seems to be as great as ever, and in order to meet the demand, the Salvation Army has had ten experienced Canadian representatives in Great Britain during the past three months, selecting a good class of able-bodied men and women, whose emigration will be arranged this spring. As the Emigration Department of the Army has done extensive advertising in the rural districts of Great Britain it is expected that they will be successful in bringing a class of people to this country who will readily adapt themselves to Canadian farming.

MARRIED MEN AS PERMANENT SETTLERS

There is a great desire on the part of married men with families to emigrate to Canada for farm work, and it is gratifying to observe that farmers are seeing the advantage of making proper provisions to be in a position to hire this class of help. Married men are to be heartily recommended as making the most permanent settlers, being anxious to make homes for their families in this country.

Full information and Application Form will be furnished by Lieut.-Col. Howell, Immigration Offices, James and Albert streets, Toronto; or Staff-Captain Williams, Clarence street, London.

It is expected that parties of men for farm work will arrive during the months of March, April, May, June and July, under the supervision of the Army's duly appointed conductors, and will be sent from port of landing direct to situations throughout the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

COMMISSIONERS WILL ACT ON COUNCIL'S DECISION

Regarding the Passing of a License Reduction By-law—Council, as People's Representatives, Represents the Electors' Opinions—Statement From Commissioners.

At a meeting of the license commissioners Saturday night Dr. Morrison was re-appointed chairman for 1910, and Mr. Joseph Stewart, the license inspector, was re-elected secretary. The following communication was drafted and forwarded to the city clerk:

Peterborough, Jan. 22, 1910.

To his Worship the Mayor and members of the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The question has been raised as to the attitude of the License Commissioners, regarding a reduction of license by-law. Our position has always been to carry out the will of the people as expressed by their representatives in Council and any by-law passed by your Council limiting the number of tavern and shop licenses will be binding upon this board.

M. A. Morrison, chairman; James Kendrey, H. LeProhn, commissioners.

FORMER HAVELOCK RESIDENT DROWNED IN C.P.R. WRECK

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 22.—Charles Carey, one of those known to be drowned in the C.P.R. wreck, near Sudbury, is well known in Havelock, having spent his boyhood days in this village, where his parents resided at the time. He was employed by the C.P.R. at this point for some time, gradually being promoted until he was made air-brake inspector, and for the past four years has been instructor on the air-brake instruction car which was in Havelock for two weeks last spring.

His parents now reside at Toronto, his father being employed as passenger engineer on the C.P.R. running out of Toronto. Up to the present his body has not been recovered from the river.

ANNIVERSARY DAY OF GEORGE ST. SUNDAY SCHOOL

The anniversary of George St. Sunday school was observed yesterday, and three very interesting services were held. For the morning service the scholars and teachers assembled in the Sunday school room, and marched up to the church. The special speaker for the occasion was Rev. H. V. Emory, of Peton, and he held the close attention of all during the course of a short address.

In the afternoon, at the session of the Sunday school, prizes were distributed to the successful scholars of the past year and promotions were made.

"The Man of the Basin and Towel" was the subject of Rev. Mr. Emory's evening discourse, and in an eloquent manner he showed the necessity of humble service. This, he contended, was what the world needed to-day. Jesus had shown true humility when He washed the feet of the disciples, and if the church to-day expected to accomplish its aim there must be the same spirit shown.

At the morning service the Misses Ghasty sang very sweetly "He's the One," and in the evening Miss Reesor's solo, "While the Days are Going By," was much appreciated.

The anniversary tea and entertainment will be held on Tuesday evening. Tea will be served from five to eight o'clock, and the pastor, Rev. E. A. Pearson will give an illustrated lecture on his trip to Europe.

DIRECTORS PLEASED WITH PROGRESS OF THE FAIR

Substantial Balance in Spite of Increased Expenditures and Smaller Grants—Necessity of New Buildings Discussed—Officials for 1910.

The directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair are greatly gratified with the success of the exhibition last fall and are much encouraged by the progress the fair is making. At the annual meeting of the fair society in the city council chamber on Saturday the greatest satisfaction was expressed by the directors and they regard the outlook as particularly promising. Excellent system in the management of the business of the fair is being employed and everything in connection with the fair is on a satisfactory working basis.

The fact that there are not suitable fair buildings was the text of much discussion at the meeting and the city should purchase the grounds for the exhibition on condition that the agricultural society erects the buildings. This subject, while it was discussed at some length, was not gone into as fully as its importance demands, but will be taken up at greater length at a special meeting which will be called for the purpose later in the year.

Those in attendance at Saturday's meeting were, R. H. Leary, the president, who was in the chair; 1st vice-president, J. H. Garbutt; 2nd vice-president, S. F. Redmond, and Secretary Treasurer F. J. A. Hall, and the following directors: S. Beyell, W. B. Stewart, J. J. Turner, sr., Dawson Kennedy, Wm. Collins, Dr. King, J. A. Storey, John Cox, D. Cruikshanks, C. E. Moore, Ald. Buller, D. B. Denison and S. Milburn.

The expenses in connection with the last exhibition were $969 greater than those of the fair of the previous year and the grant from the city $100 less than the year before and from the government $82 less. In spite of that there is a balance of $1062.91 on hand, which is a splendid showing.

Several matters of importance were discussed, among them being the advisability of holding a stallion and bull show. These will be held provided the conditions accompanying the grant from the government are such that they can be carried out by the directors.

Messrs. R. H. Leary and Wm. Collins were appointed delegates to the annual meeting at Toronto of the Ontario Fairs Association.

A vote of thanks was passed to Messrs. R. Fair and J. H. Ferguson, auditors, for the painstaking and accurate manner in which they fulfilled their duties.

The treasurer's report, which was received and adopted as read, was as follows:

COMENDS GRAND OPERA HOUSE

A man from outside being in the city attended the play on Thursday evening and on Friday, in conversation proceeded to commend the local Opera House and its management. He said that Peterborough theatre goers hardly appreciated what they had and what was done for them. He compared the appearance of the interior of the house, its bright, neat and tasteful appearance and comfortable accommodation with that afforded in other places the size of this city. The entrance he spoke of as being especially bright and cheery and as such as to inspire the commendable idea in the patrons that the show itself would prove equally good. Not only that, but that visitors, in and out of the city, finding the house neat and well cared for, were tempted to go whenever opportunity offered.

He spoke of the enterprise of the proprietors, who were evidently not afraid to spend some money to make make the house attractive. In two many places the house was starved in the matter of decoration, brightening up and cleanliness in order to take the last dollar out of the venture. He was led to the conclusion, probably the correct one, that the house being owned and managed by those having other and materially large stakes in the city that personal pride in doing the right thing and doing the right thing has an appreciative motive. If the companies visiting the city and playing in the house were not satisfied with results, certainly nothing was lacking on the part of the owners and managers of the house to induce a large and appreciative attendance. He heard the house commented on very favorably all over the province and commended for its satisfactory equipment and energetic, careful and respectful management.

Hamilton's population is 70,203, according to the assessment commissioner.

FIREMEN'S SALARIES

Chief Howard says that the present salaries of his men are not high enough to enable him to retain them. In other words he says that the men "stay" until they get a better opening and then leave. It is therefore a question of efficiency. A brigade such as he refers to cannot be, strictly speaking, a good fire brigade. The increase he asks for is not great, fortunately. He asks that the salary of a fireman be $600 instead of $575, and that instead of beginning at $550 it begin and end at $600. This is for the men. For the officers he asks a proportionate increase. If then for this increase an efficient brigade can be obtained there can be only one conclusion. We must have it. As we say, fortunately, the increase is not unreasonable, especially in view of the fact that the hours of occupation are 24 per day. At any rate the increased cost of living has prepared us for such demands, and so long as they are not impossible it is well to consider them favourably.

AN INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER

The City Council will to-night discuss the proposition to appoint a commissioner of industries for the city of Peterborough. It is not a new proposition; it has been talked of here for several years. If Peterborough decides to have an official whose main work will be to secure industries for the city and to assist those already located here, the council will not be indulging in an experiment. It will only be following the lead set by many towns and cities in the United States and Canada. The proposition to appoint an industrial commissioner was endorsed at a largely attended meeting held under the auspices of the Board of Trade last November, and the resolution passed at that meeting can be taken as a guarantee that the great bulk of citizens would be behind the council in appointing such an official.

In connection with the appointment of an industrial commissioner much has been said about Peterborough's position as regards electric power. Many would like to see the city have electric power of its own before appointing a man to secure industries. While there is no question as to the desirability of the city's possessing a large amount of electric power, the fact remains that at the present time Peterborough is in a position to offer prospective industries power at a price that can be beaten by only a few towns and cities in the province. Under these conditions will it be good business for Peterborough to delay any longer the appointment of a commissioner of industries?

Ald. Turner recently pointed out the power question is not the only phase of the matter to be looked into. After you have shown your power rates, sites and statistics to a man seeking a business location, he will want to know about the homes, the schools, the churches, the social and literary clubs, whether it is a place where the domestic life is convenient and enjoyable; where the social life is broad and hospitable; where vice is in restraint; where moral and physical sanitation have due provision; where charity is broad and wise—a city to which men will grow attached, to which they will return. Isn't this a pen picture of Peterborough? With these advantages is it wise that we should delay any longer in taking this forward step?

Although the city council has not the power to appoint a commissioner without special legislation from the Ontario legislature, it has been shown that a man can be employed to do this work without transgressing the law. It has been done in other cities and from the present outlook there is no good reason why it should not be done here.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. J. R. ORMOND

Mother of Mrs. J. R. Stratton Passed Away in Victoria B.C. on Saturday Morning—Was Well Known Here

Word has been received in the city of the death at Victoria, B.C., of Peterborough, in the person of Mrs. J. R. Ormond, who passed away at six o'clock on Saturday morning. The news of the demise of this estimable lady has occasioned a keen regret among a wide circle of friends. While only a brief announcement of the sad event has been received here it is understood that the illness which terminated fatally was of short duration. Mrs. Ormond's maiden name was Elizabeth Strachan Blair. She was a native of Scotland, having been born at "Blair Athol," Scotland. In early womanhood she came to Canada, and on arrival at Quebec was united in marriage to Mr. J. R. Ormond, who was then in business in Montreal, subsequently moving to Peterborough, where he conducted a jewellery business for several years. Twenty-five years ago he moved to Winnipeg and was in business there for eighteen years. On account of the rigor of the climate, Mr. and Mrs. Ormond and family moved to Victoria, B.C., and have since resided there. Mrs. Ormond paid a visit to her daughter in Peterborough, Mrs. J. R. Stratton, in 1908, and was in excellent health at that time. She is survived by her husband, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Menzies, of King Fisher, Oklahoma, U.S., and two sons and five daughters. The sons are A. E. Ormond and J. B. Ormond, of Victoria, and the daughters are Mrs. J. R. Stratton, of this city; Mrs. J. F. McDonald, of Victoria; Mrs. A. F. Gooding, of Kenora, and Miss Ormond, of Victoria. One son, James B., and one daughter, Dolly, are deceased. Mrs. R. S. Davidson and Mrs. K. G. Loch, of this city, are nieces of the late Mrs. Ormond.

In religion Mrs. Ormond was a Presbyterian, and while a resident of Peterborough was a member of St. Andrew's church. Her kind deeds and nobility of character endeared her to all with whom she came in contact.

The funeral takes place in Victoria this afternoon at three o'clock.

OLD RESIDENT OF CAVAN IS DEAD

John Morrison Passed Away on Sunday, Aged 74 Years—Native of Ireland

The death occurred in Cavan yesterday (Sunday, Jan. 23rd), of John Morrison, who passed away at the age of seventy-four. His death will be the cause of sincere regret among his wide circle of acquaintances. He was a native of County Cork, Ireland, and came to Quebec Province sixty years ago with his parents and resided there for a few years. Mr. Morrison moved to Clarke township, Durham County, and settled there. Afterwards he moved to North Smith and later to Cavan where he lived the rest of his life. He married Catharine Dard, whose parents were drowned at sea on the way out to Canada. She died four years ago. Mr. Morrison is survived by six children, three sons and three daughters. The sons are James, of Ribstone, Agta.; Robert, of Gilbert Plains, Man.; and John, at home. The daughters are Mrs. R. Clifford, of Ribstone, Alta.; Mrs. J. F. Henaman, of Cavan; and Mrs. W. Preston, of Smith.

The late Mr. Morrison was a member of the Presbyterian church and possessed many sterling qualities. He took no part in municipal matters.

The funeral will take place from the residence of his son, Mr. John Morrison, lot 19, con. 10, Cavan, on Tuesday afternoon, at one o'clock and will proceed to Little Lake cemetery, Peterborough.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

To Mr. John Hurley, for 27 Years a Resident of This City—Contracted a Cold on Thursday.

A widely known and highly esteemed citizen passed away yesterday morning in the person of John Hurley, for twenty-seven years a resident of this city, and for twelve years Government Grain Inspector of divisions of the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway in this vicinity. Thursday morning he contracted a cold, but was able to be up and around his home. Sunday morning, at his request, Dr. McCulloch was called in, but shortly after he had received medical treatment and the physician had left he expired. His sudden demise was due to heart failure. The late Mr. Hurley had many friends, both as a citizen and as a public servant, by his jovial disposition and courteous manner, which ever remained the same. The employees of both railroads, with whom he came in contact with, will sincerely regret his death. He was born in the County of Clare, Ireland, [illegible] years ago and when but six months old came to this country with his parents and settled in Hope township, near Cobourg. Later the family removed to Ops and resided there between three and four years. During this time the deceased followed the occupation of farming.

In 1879, after removing to Lindsay, he was married to his now surviving widow. In the earlier part of his residence in this place he was identified with the local milling concerns.

One son and three daughters are left to mourn his loss. They are Francis, and Misses Mary, Margaret and Loretta, all of this city. His brothers are Thomas, of Lindsay, and Michael, of Windsor, and the sisters Mrs. P. Hartnett, and Mrs. D. O'Neil, of Lindsay, and Mrs. J. Toohey, of Ops.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 464 Charlotte street, on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

SPORTING NEWS

COLTS WILL MAKE BIG EFFORT TO WIN TO-NIGHT

To-night the Peterborough Colts either remain in the running or go down and out, for the remainder of the season. The Collegiates have won two games, while the Colts have nothing but a goose-egg, and it is up to the team to win to-night. The ice at the rink is a little on the soft side, and this state of affairs is not to the liking of the students, as the forward line will be unable to get away with the fine combination work, which beat the Colts in the two previous games. Both lineups will be strong for to-night's battle, which will start at eight o'clock.

LINDSAY PAPERS ON THE LINDSAY-PETERBORO' GAME

For the first time in four years the Lindsay intermediates, champions of the O.H.A., were defeated on their own ice by their old rivals, Peterboro, after one of the closest and most exciting games played in the Lindsay rink for many years. The score at half time was 1—1 and at the finish 3—2. The result of the game was a disappointment to the local fans and supporters who expected that with four of last year's champions on the line-up a sure victory would be won on home ice.

The ice was anything but in good condition, and not much could be expected in the way of good fast hockey, but considering the soft ice the game was fast and interesting, both teams working their hardest for a victory. The puck refused to slide and it was up to the players to hammer or push it about the ice as best they could, and as a result some wild and erratic shooting was done by both teams, and the puck was overskated many times.

Both teams were evenly matched, although the Electric City seven had a shade on the locals in weight and condition and appeared to stand the pace better towards the finish of the game. The Lindsay champions appeared on the ice in new uniforms, and presented a very neat appearance. Their sweaters are blue and white with a large "L" and a pair of wings on the breast. Manager, Captain Stoddard presented a line-up consisting of four of last year's champions, Green of the Bankers, Cain, of the C.L.S., and Gamble, the Port Hope goal-keeper, the latter having played on the champions team three years ago. On paper the champions look strong enough to win several districts, but their defeat can be attributed to the heavy ice. Had the ice been good and fast there is no doubt but that the locals would have pulled out a victory. Stoddard and Blomfield, both fast men on hard ice, played at a disadvantage on the soft going and could not get away, overskating the puck many times.

The Electric City bunch presented a team of town leaguers, every one being a credit to the city. They played a good, hard, clean, consistent game throughout. The team consisted of five Strathconas, two West Enders, and one McDougall, a hundred and seventy-five pounder from Keene, who used his weight to advantage. Only three of last year's intermediate players were on the line-up, viz., Dusty, Roy and Derocher.

For Lindsay the forward line played well and were ably assisted by Taylor and Green on the defence.

For Peterboro, Dusty, McMillan, Roy, Derocher and McDougall were the stars. Derocher saved the game by his sensational work in goal.

The Post says;

THE TEAMS COMPARED

The Petes were in better shape than the locals and were much heavier. The players worked together well, and the team is a well balanced and speedy one. Their forward line was speedy, but not any more so than the locals. They have a splendid defence, and with Rolly Glover in his old position, it will be a very strong department. Derocher in goal played an excellent game, he having all manner of shots to watch, but he got the most of them and it was due to him that Lindsay did not double the score. On the other hand the locals were outclassed by the visitors' weight, but made up for this one handicap by their excellent playing. They were faster than the visitors in every way the forward line, two-thirds of the time, having had the puck about the Peterboro goal and in the Peterboro territory. Lindsay's defence was somewhat disorganized but Green and Taylor, who played this position really are two forward men and throughout the game had a tendency to put themselves up to the front. For the practice these players had they showed up splendidly. Gamble at goal was good without a doubt and guarded the nets in fine style. He is a splendid goalkeeper and is a valuable find for the Lindsay intermediate team.

Dobson for Peterboro was a fast man.

Derocher in goal for Peterboro was the visitors' mainstay. He is a good one.

The slogan 'Watch Stoddard' could be heard from the Peterboro rooters.

Ray, of Peterboro, is one of the cleanest and best hockey players in this part of the province.

McDougall, of the Peterboro team, is a good heady player. Campbell also made a good impression.

SHOTS ON GOAL

Whitby team won a game on Saturday night, when they defeated Oshawa by 4—1.

Oshawa has withdrawn from the Intermediate series of the O.H.A.

Knox church plays St. Andrew's in the first game of the double-header of the church league on Thursday night at the Auditorium and George street and All Saints' meet in the second.

Fred Doherty was the fastest man on the ice in the Galt-Berlin game at Guelph, Saturday night. Berlin won 4—3.

Two teams from the Auburn Woollen Mills played at the Auditorium rink, Saturday night. Brown's team beat Hendry's by 11—6.

Bill Rose will be unable to referee to-night's Junior O. H. A. game game through illness, but a capable official will be on hand.

CITY LEAGUE BASKETBALL.

On Wednesday night, January 26, at 8 o'clock, George St. Methodist Church vs National School. 9 o'clock, Canadian General Electric Co. vs Collegiate Institute.

The games will start promptly, and those who fail to be on hand at the scheduled time will be the losers. If the first team is not there it interferes with the second game, and therefore it makes the second team late in leaving the building.

JUNIOR LEAGUE BASKETBALL.

All the games of this league will be played off this week. The games are as follows:—

Monday, Jan. 24—Reds vs Whites.
Thursday, Jan. 27—Blues vs Whites.
Friday, Jan. 28—Reds vs Greens.

The games will start promptly, and those who fail to be on hand at the scheduled time will be the losers.

WERE GIVEN EXPENSES

Horsemen Met With Generous Treatment From Racing Committee

The visiting horsemen to Peterborough for the ice races met with unusual generosity at the hands of the racing committee when the heavy snowstorm of Friday prevented prevented the holding of the races on that day, the committee decided to pay the expenses in connection with the sojourn here of the horses entered for Friday's events—the 2.20 and free-for-all, and of the managers and attendants also.

The bill totalled $71, and the favor was altogether unexpected by the horsemen. Needless to say, however, it was accepted with due thankfulness.

THE TURF

It is a source of general regret to the followers of the racing game in this city that the ice races were unable to be finished, owing to the storm. The first day's programme brought out the most interesting bill of ice racing ever seen in Peterborough, and the second day was looked forward to with great interest.

Shipped to Ottawa

Thirteen of the race horses which had been brought to the city for the two days' meet were shipped to Ottawa on Saturday night, through the Canadian Express Company. Ten of the animals arrived from Lindsay on the previous Saturday, and the owners expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the manner in which the arrivals were handled by the company.

BASEBALL

The non-coms of the garrison mess will play the bugle band Tuesday evening. The game starts at 7.30.

Service To-morrow

To-morrow is the festival of the conversion of St. Paul, and Holy Communion will be celebrated at St. John's church at ten o'clock.

Chimney Fire at Hotel

About twenty-five minutes after two this afternoon the fire brigade received a call to the Cavanagh House, Simcoe street. It was only a chimney fire and no damage resulted.

Mark Street Ladies' Aid

The Ladies' Aid Society of Mark street church will meet on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock, at the home of Mrs. S. Taylor, 438 Rogers street.

Special Band Practice

A special rehearsal of the 57th Regiment band will be held to-night at the armouries at eight o'clock sharp and as there are no engagements on, every member should make a point to be present.

To-Morrow Night's Concert

Don't fail to attend the concert in St. Andrew's Lecture Hall to-morrow evening, when the best available talent, in the person of Mr. Donald C. McGregor, baritone, and Miss Blanche Walker, elocutionist, will present a most enjoyable programme. The Ladies' Aid Society would appreciate a large attendance.

Royal Templars Meeting

The regular meeting of the Royal Templars will be held at their hall, on George street, on Tuesday night, January 25th. A full attendance of members is requested, as election of officers will take place. Also will of those intending to unite with the society be on hand at 8.30.

Big Night To-Night

The city council will meet to-night in committee of the whole at eight o'clock to take up the question of license reduction, the Quaker Oats Company's proposition and the Board of Trade's publicity recommendation. This is a pretty heavy bill of fair for one night and there may not be time to deal with them all. However, the license reduction question is almost sure to come up for discussion.

PULPIT SERMONS ON WOMEN.

Few Things Said by Ancient and Modern Divines on Momentous Subject.

Why Eve was made from the rib of Adam has been explained by a witty sage of old. If she had been created from his mouth, she would have talked too much; if from his feet, she would have gone about too much; if from his ears, she would have listened too readily; but she was made from a rib, which is near the heart, to show that she must always be dear to man.

An English preacher in the seventeenth century spoke in similar fashion when he said, with the text, "To be or not to be," that woman should be like and unlike three things. She should be like a snail, always keep within her own house; but not like a snail, to carry all she had on her back. She should be like an echo, to speak when she was spoken to; but not, like an echo, always to have the last word. She should be like a town clock, always keep time and regularity; but not, like a town clock, to speak so loud that all the town might hear her.

A preacher in the reign of Charles II. was to receive £10 if in his sermon at the funeral of Madam Creswell he said nothing but well of her. She was rather a bad character and herself had dictated the clause in her will. So, after a general address on mortality, he thus concluded: "By the will of a deceased sister it is expected that I should mention her and say nothing but well of her; therefore is this: She was born well, she lived well and she died well; for she was born with the name Creswell, she lived in Clerkenwell and she died in Bridewell."—The Sunday Magazine.

LIGHT ON MEDICAL QUESTION

Scientific Analysis of the Ability of Individuals to Weep "Tears of Blood."

The belief that certain individuals are able to weep tears of blood is of such antiquity that the German equivalent for "bitter tears" is "blutige thranan," "bloody tears." There seems, however, no authentic instance of blood being actually secreted by the lachrymal gland.

Micas has published a very interesting article on real and false tears of blood. It is a clinical study on conjunctival hemorrhage. Some years ago the author was consulted about a boy aged 12 years who, from the slightest cause, such as laughing, or sometimes apparently for no cause whatever, wept tears of blood—an occurrence often repeated several times a day. The lad was pale and enervated from constant hemorrhage.

The source of the bleeding was the tarsal conjunctiva, which was covered with fine papillae, and light cauterization with the galvano-cautery resulted in a cure.

This case led the author to study the literature of the subject. He found that in none of the cases cited is it certain that the blood did not come from the conjunctiva or from the lachrymal passages. He feels that it is unwise to deny the possibility of sanguineous secretion from the gland, but that examples in which other sources cannot be shown to be present must be exceedingly rare.

Borneo Inviting to Naturalists.

There is no country in the world more inviting to the naturalist than Borneo. Here are found the flying squirrels, flying foxes, flying lizards, flying frogs, and the natives report flying snakes. Among the most noted birds is the little swift Collocalia Nidifica. Their nests are eaten by the Chinese, and are regarded as a great luxury. These birds build their nests in limestone caves of a glutinous saliva which they produce from their glands; no sticks or any other foreign substances are used. The collection of these nests is an important industry with the natives, though they pay a tax on all they take to market. The value of those exported from British North Borneo in 1907 was $35,924. They are served at the great feasts of the Chinese, especially at weddings.

Asthma Plant of Queensland.

The euphorbias are very numerous in the colony of Queensland, and among them is the euphorbia pilulifera, the "Queensland asthma plant," which has a remarkable reputation for curing this troublesome complaint. Several pharmaceutical preparations of the plant are extensively sold in Australia. Analysis shows that a green plant contained 79 per cent. by weight of water and three per cent. of ash, leaving 18 per cent. of vegetable matter. A dried plant contained an alkaloidal substance equal to about 1 part in 1,000. It contained also a glucosidal substance to the amount of not more than 4 parts in 1,000. Possibly one or both of these was the active principle of the plant.

Schisms That Seem Small.

Two religious sects who hated one another bitterly were found by Sven Hedin in Tibet. Searching for the cause of this aversion he found that one of the sects believed that the prayer wheel should turn to the right, while the other was convinced that the wheel should turn to the left. In the region of the Bramaputra he found a mountain which is so sacred that whoever walks around it 13 times has all his sins forgiven. The result of this belief is that criminals from far and near infest this region. When Sven Hedin started to ride around this mountain on his horse the pilgrims informed him that that would do him no good.

Martin Rash was burned to death in his shanty near Moose Jaw.

WANT LARGER QUARTERS

T.A.S. Society Will Purchase New Rooms if Suitable Ones Can be Obtained

Realizing the fact that larger club rooms are demanded by the steadily increasing membership St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society have decided to purchase new rooms if they can find a building suitable for their purposes. The society has been negotiating for the large vacant story on Simcoe street formerly occupied by R. Hall & Son, but have not definitely decided to buy that building.

The property is owned by Mr. J. R. Stratton.

LARGE NUMBER OF THE FARMERS

Attended A Discussion on Dairy Cattle This Afternoon—Light Horses the Subject

The most sanguine expectation of those in charge of the Short Course were met this afternoon when dairy cattle were under discussion. Fully 200 farmers were present and took part in the judging. Mr. J. K. Moore and Son of Central Smith, furnished the cattle from their Holstein herd.

The quarters in Fitzgerald's carriage shop are admirably suited for the work to judging, and can accommodate the still larger crowds which are sure to congregate for to-morrow's sessions, when light horses will be considered.

Citizens of the city are welcome to attend any or all of the sessions of the course. Those who turn out are sure to profit thereby.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

SHORT COURSE STOCK AND SEED JUDGING BEGUN

Important Event Agricultural Progress of County — Many in Attendance

The three day short course in stock and seed judging commenced this morning. The attendance for so early in the week and for the early hour at which the first session was called was most encouraging. Over forty took advantage of the instruction given in matters pertaining to seed grain. The leading farmers of the county were most in evidence. They not only came from near-by the city, but from Lakefield, Norwood, Westwood and Birdsall.

The session this morning was in charge of Mr. T. G. Raynor, B.S.A., of the seed branch, department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Of those in attendance that were interviewed each characterized the session as being fine, interesting and profitable. The first part of the work was to analyse a grain of wheat, the different parts where shown and described by means of charts and from the wheat before those in attendance. A sample of feed wheat was then laid before each man of the class who picked out and detected the various weed seeds it contained. Among other things Mr. Raynor pointed out that Bladder Campion, seeds of which were found in this sample, is a common and most obnoxious weed in this locality. Oats were then dealt with, samples being examined thoroughly and judged by means of the score card.

Another session of seed judging at which Prof. C. A. Zavitz of the O.A.C., will be in charge, is called for 2.30 p. m. to-morrow. Citizens of Peterborough, who are in any way interested in grains will find this session helpful and of much interest. All who wish to attend will be welcome.

The work this afternoon consisted of placing dairy cattle and a lecture on dairy cattle. The session to-morrow morning opening at 9.30 will be devoted to Light Horses, havey horses will be taken up at 1.30 p.m., after which will follow the last session on seed grain.

Farmers and others of this county can congratulate themselves upon having a short course held in their midst All who are anyway interested in agriculture should turn out and take advantage of the opportunity to inform themselves on matters of such vital importance to themselves.

MI-O-NA

Relieves Stomach Misery Almost Instantly

If the food you ate at your last meal did not digest, but laid for a long time like lead in your stomach, then you have indigestion and quick action should be taken.

Of course there are many other symptoms of indigestion, such as belching up of sour food, heartburn, dizziness, shortness of breath and sour breath, and if you have any of them, your stomach is out of order and should be corrected.

Mi-o-na tablets have cured thousands of cases of indigestion and stomach trouble. If you have any stomach distress, Mi-o-na will relieve instantly.

But Mi-o-na unlike most so-called dyspepsia remedies, does more than relieve; it permanently cures dyspepsia or any stomach trouble by putting energy and strength into the walls of the stomach, where the gastric juices are produced.

A large box of Mi-o-na tablets costs but 50 cents at Wm. Madill's, the druggists, and are guaranteed to cure or money back. When others fail, Mi-o-na cures. It is a producer of flesh when the body is thin; it cleanses the stomach and bowels; purifies the blood and makes rich red blood.

DISHES BOYS LIKE.

A Few Variations in Diet That Are Sure to Please.

Boys should be fed upon food that will give them strength, and yet at the same time mothers must remember that they sometimes like the dainty things as well as little sister does.

In making the rice pudding this week just for a change and to tickle the palate of the boys try this recipe: Wash well half a pound of dates and stone them. Chop fine and add to the usual plain rice pudding. Dates are nourishing, and all boys like them.

In making the usual dish of cornstarch, which is bound to appear on the table of all growing children once in so often, try this: In place of the usual amount of sugar added to it, sweeten with a cup of maple syrup, and the boys are sure to call for "more."

Banana Croquettes.—This is a nourishing dish easily prepared at a few minutes' notice. Peel and scrape ripe bananas. Cut each one in two pieces and cut off the sharp end, making them look like a croquette. Roll them in chopped nuts of any kind, either peanuts, hickory nuts or walnuts. Lay on a leaf of lettuce and serve with a little French dressing containing a great deal of olive oil. This is a splendid luncheon dish for the hungry schoolboy.

Roast Veal and Ham.—Purchase two medium thick veal cutlets rather small in circumference. On one of them place a thick slice of ham and cover with the other cutlet just as you would make a sandwich. Place in a roasting pan and cook in a hot oven at first to sear the meat, then reduce the heat to moderation. Baste frequently. The gravy of this dish is delicious, and the flavor of the meat combination is sure to appeal to the boys of the family.

Meat Loaf.—Pass through the chopper sufficient cold meat of any kind, veal, beef, chicken or lamb, to make three cupfuls when packed. Season very highly. Add a teaspoonful of celery seed and some onion juice and finally half a cupful of stale breadcrumbs, a teaspoonful of chopped parsley and two well beaten eggs. Pack into a loaf and place on a shallow buttered pan. With a wooden skewer make holes along the top of the loaf and insert strips of fat salt pork, allowing the pork to project about half an inch above the surface, and be sure to pack the meat firmly back around it. Bake in a quick oven about three-quarters of an hour, set aside to cool and serve in slices very cold with relishes of pickles or catchup. This makes a splendid and substantial luncheon dish for the boys.

Indian Tapioca Pudding.—Many of the boys are tired of the old fashioned Indian pudding that grandmother used to make, but this is sure to please them: Soak five tablespoonfuls of tapioca for two hours in water enough to cover it. Pour four cups of scalded milk over four tablespoonfuls of Indian meal mixed with three-quarters of a cup of molasses. Add half teaspoonful of salt and cook in double boiler for twenty minutes, stirring occasionally. Add the tapioca, which should be drained free from all water, and three tablespoonfuls of butter. Turn all out into buttered baking dish and pour over it a cup of cold milk, but do not stir it through. Bake in a very slow over from an hour to an hour and a half. Serve hot with thin cream.

JELLY MAKING.

A Labor Saving Device For the Housewife.

The preserving and jelly making season has come round again, and every woman who has attempted the task is well aware of the muscular effort which is required to strain the cooked pulp of grapes, currants or other fruit to separate the juice for the making of jelly. After depositing the pulp in a strong cloth sack it becomes necessary to treat the latter in about the same manner as the washwoman treats a sheet which she has just taken from the water to wring.

HEAVY RING REMOVES THE JUICE.

The harder it can be squeezed the more juice will there be for making the jelly, and so no effort is spared to collect all that the pulp contains. Should the idea of a woman prove practical for this purpose the above described method of treatment will no longer be resorted to, as the new method is obviously easier than the old. The woman's intention is to suspend the cloth sack, filled with the pulp, from a rod clamped to the table, with a heavy iron ring around the neck of the sack. This ring by the sheer force of its weight gradually settles downward over the bag, compressing its contents as it falls and pressing the juice into a receptacle placed beneath for the purpose. A contrivance of this order could be easily rigged up by the jelly maker herself.

Ten Baptist churches in St. John have pledged $10,000 for missions.

A NEW EMBROIDERY.

Rope Stitch Designs Smart on Dressy Summer Frocks.

USED ON ALL MATERIALS.

Explicit Instructions For Doing the Rope Work—Braiding Patterns May Be Used For Embroidery Purposes. Mistakes Easily Remedied.

Embroidered dresses are again to be very much the fashion, and happy are those who know how to do them themselves, for when purchased ready embroidered the cost is not small.

Every one knows how to braid dresses. It is perfectly easy when once you have the pattern traced or ironed off on your material. Begin and end your braiding by pushing in the end with a large eyed needle and let the stitches made in running on the braid be firm.

But braiding patterns can be used for other than braiding purposes, and in our illustration you will see how well a transfer design looks when worked in a very simple stitch instead of braid.

In adapting a transfer design to the make of your dress you should study the pattern carefully and cut it out to fit the part you wish to embroider. Then pin it on the dress very carefully and iron off. If you make any mistake, however, and wish to get the tracing off, you can do so easily with benzine.

The rope stitch, which is illustrated, is the stitch used here. It is preferred to braid for many reasons. It comes cheaper than good silk braid and wears extremely well. Once you learn how to do it, as you easily can by studying the illustration, you can adopt the idea and method of working to all kinds of materials and purposes.

For working rope stitch thread your needle and bring it out from the back to the front of the material.

Keep your thread under your needle and put your needle back where it came out from, bringing it out a little way down over the loop thus made.

You will then have formed exactly the kind of loop which is used for chain stitch.

In your next stitch you place your needle exactly as you see it in our illustration, behind the loop formed and not into it. If you were working chain stitch you would go into the loop Please note the difference.

Your needle is put in at the left of the stitch and comes out a little below it.

Your thread is kept under your needle. Draw through and the stitch is done. Go on in the same fashion.

Linen summer dresses are charming embroidered in white or cream colored rope stitch done in flax thread.

Blue linen is pretty when worked in ecru.

Always use the best silks and not any that are inclined to fluff or rough up. Floss silk is unsuitable.

SUMMER DISHES.

Tempting Dainties For Jaded Warm Weather Appetites.

A delicious vegetable salad was made of new potatoes, young carrots and celery roots boiled, drained and set aside until cold. They were then cut in thin slices, and thin slices of cold boiled tongue and tart apples were added. The dressing was made of olive oil and tarragon vinegar blended in the proportions of three tablespoonfuls of oil to one of vinegar. Salt, pepper and a little French mustard were added to season. A salad bowl was lined with crisp, new lettuce leaves, and the salad was turned into the bowl and sprinkled over the top with minced parsley. Toasted crackers and cheese were served with it.

Scrub the rough surface of cantaloupes until thoroughly clean and pack in ice. When they are chilled through cut in half, remove the seeds and pack the centers with vanilla ice cream. Put two or three whole maraschino cherries on the top and serve on individual plates with a paper dolly under each and a nasturtium and leaf at the side.

A delicious French dish consists of French plums stuffed with whole almonds, dipped in olive oil and roasted on a broiler over the fire, then rolled

HAVELOCK YOUNG MAN INJURED AS RESULT OF FALL

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 22.—George Seeney, a youth of about fifteen years, was very badly bruised by a fall at Swift & Co's ice house there this morning.

He was working on the third gallery, which extends along the back of the ice house, over which the ice runs to the rooms, at the time of the accident. The third gallery is about 22 feet above the ground. He had finished shoving the cakes into the rooms and was leaning back against the railing which encircles the gallery, when his foot slipped and he went against the railing with such force that it gave away, allowing him to drop the full twenty feet on to a bed of ice that covered the ground below.

He was at once removed to his home and, although the doctor says there are no serious injuries, still it will be some time before he will be able to resume work.

The Old Time Shawl.

The shawl was originally not a woman's garment exclusively, for the Scotch highlander has his tartan plaid, and the men of northern Italy still wear a cloak which is very little more than a shawl. There can be no question that the shawl is more useful and more picturesque as an article of attire than the close fitting coats both men and women now wear. The shawl could in case of emergency be used to protect two persons or to wrap a child in or as an extra bed covering. Its fashion did not change every three months, and it could be used and passed down in the family until it was worn out. Nowadays the only time when such articles are used is when people are making an ocean trip or traveling in Europe. "Traveling rugs," which are nothing more or less than men's heavy shawls, are extremely English, and for travelers they are considered very proper and desirable, but outside of a steamer, train or carriage no one who cares for what people will say would be seen with one.—Argonaut.

ARCHBISHOP TO THE COUNCIL OF MONTREAL RE LICENSES

The "Canadian Baptist" Agrees With Archbishop Bruchesi—A Point of Practical Interest—A City Council's Responsiblity.

The Review publishes by request, the following editorial from the Canadian Baptist;

We sometimes feel constrained to dissent most decidedly from positions taken by the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church. This makes us all the more eager to speak a word of commendation when we see from this quarter any action that seems to us well directed. The Archbishop of Montreal—Archbishop Bruchesi—has for many years been interested in temperance and moral reform. On his staff provision is made for a great deal of activity in this direction, and now, last week, he himself, sent to the Montreal City Council a letter that was couched in strong terms, the whole weight of which was thrown on the side of temperance. Addressing the City Fathers, he said, amongst sother things, "You recognize that alcoholism is a social plague and that all men of good will should combine to fight it. We are always aroused at the first appearance of contagious sickness. But what sickness has ever made so many victims as the immoderate use of ardent spirits? To work for the forming of a sober generation means, then, to work for the saving of thousands of human lives, and it means, at the same time, to work for the prevention of many crimes, for the peace and happiness of families, for the prosperity of the country. The temperance question is everywhere regarded as a moral and religious question as much as an economic and social question, and perhaps still more so. Priests and laymen, those clothed with civic, and those clothed with religious authority, ought to join hands to fight against the scourge which makes among us such deplorable ravages. We understand one another with regard to the end to be attained and we ought to come to an understanding as to the means to be employed."

We are glad to give space to words of this kind, and all the more so because there are many other things in which we cannot agree with Monseigneur Bruchesi. A great question of this sort is of such public importance that we cannot afford to neutralize one another's good intentions by lack of proper co-operation. The Roman Catholic Archbishop of Montreal has taken such a bold and determined stand regarding temperance and moral reform that we cannot refrain from expressing our satisfaction publicly. We have an idea also that Monseigneur Bruchesi did not fail to press these matters upon his fellow ecclesiastics at the Plenary Council recently held in Quebec.

IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY DR. McPHERSON

In Report to Board of Health—Garbage System is Needed —Premises of Dairymen Should be Inspected—City Singularly Free From Infectious Diseases.

The first meeting of the Board of Health for 1910 was held this morning, when the report of Dr. A. W. MacPherson, Medical Health Officer for the last half of 1909, was presented. It was decided to take no action on the account of Dr. Young for $400, which was sent back to the Board of Health by the Council.

Several important recommendations were made in the report of Dr. MacPherson.

Those present were: His Worship Mayor Morrow, Messrs. James Murty, James Edgar, and Drs. McNulty and Young.

On motion of Mr. Edgar and Dr. Young, Dr. Burnham was re-elected chairman, and on motion of Mr. Edgar and Dr. McNulty, the Mayor was elected chairman pro tem.

S. M. Mitchell was heard in regard to an account for groceries. On motion of Dr. McNulty and Dr. Young the payment of the account, $18.46, was confirmed.

A letter was received from S. R. Armstrong, city clerk, giving an abstract from a report of the Finance Committee, adopted by the City Council, recommending an account from Dr. Young for $400, and stating that Dr. Young was not engaged by the city, but as it has not been the custom to report them, it is impossible to estimate the extent. Typhoid has been very light, and at present the city is free from it. Tuberculosis is not reported, and, as with measles, we are not in a position to judge as to the number of cases.

SMALLPOX.

To the mildness of the infection is due the fact that there was a widespread exposure before the the disease was recognized. The prompt action of the Board in establishing tent accommodation and providing for vaccination, soon controlled the epidemic. There was one feature worthy of notice, I should like to draw your attention to: out of over forty cases, only two had been previously vaccinated. In these the exposures were very close, and the type was very mild. I would recommend that steps be taken to provide public vaccination, as is required by law.

SCARLET FEVER.

Fortunately, the type has been of a mild character. But in spite of this we regret to report several deaths and serious complications resulting directly or indirectly from it. I wish to draw your attention to the great difficulty in enforcing proper quarantine as a result of the long period required for scarlet fever, and the resulting inconvenience and loss to the families affected. The great majority of cases are among a class that can very ill afford such loss. However, I am glad to say that we hope that before the next annual meeting we shall have an isolation hospital, and these inconveniences will be minimized.

REPORTING OF INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

It has been the custom to report only cases of scarlet fever, diphtheria and smallpox. Several months ago the Board requested doctors to report all cases of typhoid. I would recommend that a similar request be made for measles, whooping cough and tuberculosis, so that such steps can be taken to limit the spread of these diseases, among school children and others who may be exposed.

WATER SUPPLY.

Samples of city water and from a number of wells were sent to the provincial analyst on two different occasions. The first report showed slight contamination of the city water. About six weeks later the report showed no contamination. The absence of typhoid speaks well for the purity of your supply.

MILK.

The monthly tests have been very satisfactory, as far as the butter fat and adulteration is concerned. Two cases of the latter were reported and the offenders punished. With the exception of one month, the percentage of butter fat was high. But the examination does not reveal the presence or absence of dirt in the milk, and for that reason some steps should be taken to inspect the premises of the dairymen and to have a certain standard of cleanliness required before a license is granted.

GARBAGE.

Numerous complaints have been received about the unsanitary conditions of the lanes and back yards, due to the deposits of decaying vegetable matter and other material. In following up these complaints we found the lanes in many places in very untidy and oftentimes unsanitary condition. This means that in the near future a scavenger department will be required. In some towns, not any larger than ours, such a department exists, and collections are made twice weekly. This would materially improve the health and beauty of our city.

Appended is a list of the number of cases of infectious diseases reported.

All of which is respectfully submitted for your consideration.

A. W. MacPHERSON,

ST. PAUL'S SUNDAY SCHOOL DOING WELL

The annual meeting of the officers and teachers of St. Paul's Sunday school was held last Friday evening and the reports showed the past year to have been most successful. The total enrolment is larger and the attendance very gratifying. A large number of the scholars won prizes for regular attendance, and an increase in offerings to missions during the year was noted in the financial report.

The superintendent's report, as read by Mr. William Madill, Follows;—

In presenting the report for 1909, we have few changes to note, as the work of the school has been faithfully carried on. The teachers have been very regular in their attendance with the exception of the months of July and August. The total enrollment is 509, with an average attendance of 293 or 58 per cent. The record of the various departments is as follows;—

	On roll.	Ave.
Intermediates	156	105
Adult Bible class	201	77
Young Men's Bible class	25	10
Kindergarten	62	30
Primary	50	35
Teachers	29	26
Officers	6	4.8
Cradle roll	50

We regret the removal from our midst of one of our teachers, Hon. Judge Roger. He had been a faithful teacher for many years. Sheriff Hall, who, seven years ago, was appointed superintendent of the Mission Sabbath school, which is now Knox church, has again become a teacher at St. Paul's church. Forty-eight members of the school have united with the church.

Our teachers are now much better prepared for their work owing to the teachers' meeting conducted by the pastor, when many helpful suggestions are made for teaching of the lesson.

During the year prizes were offered for repeating the shorter catechism. One boy, Bruce Beavis, repeated the whole of it. Members under 12 years could only half of it, viz., Claire Mason, Hazel Davidson, and Wilma Nelson. Each of these received the General Assembly diploma for their work.

Four members of the school attended every Sabbath during the year, viz., Kenward Lang, John Clark, Nina Clark and Gordon Clark. These received first prize. Thirt-two members attended 48 Sabbaths during the year, for which a second prize was given.

To encourage the bringing of Bibles, a prize was offered to members bringing their Bibles, for 44 Sabbaths during the year. Twenty-nine received this prize.

Rev. R. Pogue offered a prize to every child under 12 years of age who attended the morning service 48 times during the year. The pastor presented nine prizes for this attendance.

Our contributions to missions during the year were substantially increased over last year, as will be seen by our financial report.

Our adult Bible class has continued to pay the salary of a student missionary in the west at Grassy Lake.

The church's gifts for the poor at Xmas time were most liberal and much appreciated by those who received them.

Our Home Department remains about the same with membership of 100. There is not the interest taken in this department of Sabbath school work that there should be. We require a number of active, interested visitors to carry on this work. Good work is being done in Chinese classes. Five or six of these foreigners contribute $25 during the year to missionary work.

In conclusion we would ask for the united efforts of every teacher and the heart co-operation of the parents to make the year 1910 one of great blessing to every member that a more effectual work may be one for the Master.

A Good Beginning

We have had good cause to say "thank you" for the patronage of 1909. This month so far has surpassed that of last year by 50%. We are sometimes so busy that we cannot wait upon all who come. To avoid this we advise that it is better to make appointments by phone or call, and this saves waiting your turn. Many do this and others will find it advantageous.

1910 has begun well with us. We are thankful, and promise to serve all to the best of our ability.

R. A BOOTH, KILLED IN WRECK, WAS NATIVE OF PETERBOROUGH

Toronto, Jan. 24.—Mr. R. A. Booth, who is numbered among the victims of the Westwood wreck, had been a traveller for the American Tent and Awning Company for the past eight years. He resided at 13 Laurier avenue, and leaves a widow and four children, the eldest eight and the youngest about three. He was born at Peterborough about 31 years ago, removing from there to Bobcaygeon, where he lived for some time before coming to Toronto. He was a man of exemplary habits and highly popular with his employers and a long list of friends and acquaintances. He was a member of the Commercial Travellers' Association. Mr. Booth left Toronto on his northern trip about two weeks ago. He covered the territory around Blind River, Cobalt and Sudbury, working north to Port Arthur. Mr. Eugene Parsons, manager of the American Tent and Awning Company, said that he received letters from Mr. Booth from day to day, the last one received containing the information that he expected to reach Sault Ste. Marie on Saturday. When Mr. Parsons heard of the wreck he at once became apprehensive that Mr. Booth was on the ill-fated train. He sent numerous telegrams to the "Soo" and to Sudbury in an endeavor to obtain information, but it was not until yesterday afternoon that his worst fears were confirmed. Mr. Parsons said that in his letters Mr. Booth spoke of a travel ler for J. J. Turner and Sons, Peterborough, who was in a way covering the territory with him, as their routes seemed to run together. He did not mention the man's name. Mrs. Booth is prostrated with grief. The remains are being brought to Toronto, and are expected to arrive here this morning on the 8.20 train.

The late Mr. Booth is well known here, being married to a niece of Mr. George Garlick, of the Munro House. He visited here two or three days last fall, the guest of Mr. Garlick.

The traveller for J. J. Turner & Sons referred to by Mr. Booth in his letters is Mr. P. G. Chambers. He was not on the train that was wrecked. He is covering the country further north, Cobalt, Elk Lake, etc.

A mad dog in Tilbury bit four children and was shot near Merlin.

REMAINS OF PASSENGERS NOT REPORTED MISSING DISCOVERED

Four More Identifications Have Taken Place, All of Persons Not Known to Have Been on Train—Many of Dead are Not Yet Reported.

Sudbury, Jan. 25.—Another day has passed without bringing comfort to many anxious ones who are sad spectators of the work of the rescue of the bodies of wreck victims at Spanish River. The fact that the bodies brought to the surface yesterday are those of persons not previously reported as missing proves that the official list of the dead and injured is unreliable, and undoubtedly is far short of the actual number.

Bodies recovered from the river yesterday were:

Woman (unidentified), about forty years old, dark complexion, green silk waist, high button boots.

Miss Agnes Milroy, 23 years old, Cache Bay, Ont.

Little girl, about a year old, dressed in black, light hair, apparently a Scandinavian.

Hendrick Hanson, aged 40, ticketed from Burgr, Norway, to Christina, North Dakota.

Several bodies were raised late on Sunday night and brought to Sudbury early yesterday, among them being:

Miss Loma Therien, Nairn, Ont.

Mrs. Henrietta Newman, Inverhorn, Ont.

Man said to be H. C. Williams, the Soo, and another said to be W. Ryan, address unknown.

The known death list is now 39.

Acting upon instructions from Attorney-General Foy, Crown Attorney Clary yesterday arranged for an inquest, which Coroner Howie will open to-day. Coroner Howie had previously expressed the opinion that no inquest was necessary, and had said he would not hold one unless information was laid before him.

An inquest on the five bodies which were taken to Webbwood from the wreck was held there by Dr. Jones Sunday. It is said that Dr. Jones is a C.P.R. doctor and not qualified to hold the investigation, and therefore the crown attorney will disregard the Webbwood inquest entirely and go thoroughly into the matter.

Coroner Jones' jury returned a verdict simply that the five men had "come to their death at about one o'clock on Friday, the 21st inst., by a railway accident at the Spanish River bridge, the cause being unknown to the jury."

It is understood the Railway Commission will hold an investigation as well.

The following message was received yesterday by Mayor O'Connor: "To the Mayor of Sudbury, Ont.: Am desired by the Governor-General to request you to convey Their Excellencies' sincere sympathy to those injured by the accident on C.P.R. They hope all are doing well. Arthur F. Slade, private secretary."

General Superintendent Gutelius and Local Superintendent Spencer are still directing relief work, and the repairing of the track and bridge. To a reporter Mr. Spencer said that the company would dynamite the ice in about the scene before giving up the search for bodies.

It is believed that the concussion may aid in bringing them to the surface or, if they are lodged against the ice, will reveal them to the divers, who will be kept on the job to-day, and will be directed to explore the river for some distance down stream.

Piles are being driven to support the eastern end of the bridge, while one girder, which was broken, is being placed. Passengers and baggage are still being transferred. All trains lose over an hour in making transfers.

Evidences are increasing to support the theory that some bodies have been washed away by the current. Two C.P.R. divers took turns and explored the bottom of the river yesterday, going down in three places, but succeeded in bringing up but one body. The others were brought up by pike poles.

The bottom was said to be smooth and gravelly, and the water fairly clear, making it possible to see for some distance.

Articles, such as coats, hats, suit cases and hand satchels, found floating under the wreckage of the first-class and colonist coaches, confirmed the worst fears of several sad watchers.

A hat bearing the initials "O.S.M." and the traders stamp, "John Ritzer, Waterloo," is almost certain to be that of O. S. Martin, furniture traveler of Waterloo, who is missing.

The bodies of three women, two boys and two men are still unidentified. The men are foreigners, probably French or Italian. Following is a full description of the others:

Woman, about 45, wearing heavy black coat and plain band gold on third finger of left hand, grey hair, with streaks of fair hair left, wearing gold-rimmed spectacles, black crepe blouse.

Woman, about 30, brownish hair turning grey, wearing a brown dress and jacket lined with brown satin, gold-filled bracelet of broad and elaborate pattern, two plain rings on third finger of left hand, gold-filled Elgin watch with thin chain, small plain gold brooch, black elastic belt, with gilt buckle, grey eyes.

Boy, about thirteen, reddish brown hair, wearing long brown leather leggings with rubber overshoes, dark trousers, blue shirt, tartan necktie, grey sweater, with green border.

Boy, about ten years, fair hair, large head, with high forehead, grey eyes, dressed in suit of underclothing that had been fastened with pins.

Woman, about 45 years, grey hair, dark complexion, green silk waist, with dark skirt, a belt with a turtoise shell buckle.

No death of any of the injured occurred yesterday, and the nurses in charge say all are improving. C. Houde, the Soo; D. M. Brodie, Sudbury, and W. J. Bell, Sudbury, are doing well, and are expected to recover.

MAJORITY IS BIG ENOUGH

Liberals Say They Can Carry Out Their Programme—Conference May Be Called

London, Jan. 25.—The Unionists gained another seat in the Southport division of Lancashire yesterday. Otherwise the few results announced do not change the party strength. The newly-elected members of Parliament now stand:

Unionists	220
Liberals	203
Laborites	34
Nationalists	69

The results of Saturday's elections, as announced yesterday morning, give the Liberals 15 seats, Unionists 1, and the Nationalists 1. The result of the bulk of yesterday's pollings will be known to-night.

With the cessation of the stream of Unionists' gains, the Liberal leaders are exhibiting a more hopeful spirit. Winston Spencer Churchill, at Poole, last night, claimed that the Liberals would return to power with a majority practically as great as Salisbury ever enjoyed.

Premier Asquith and Chancellor Lloyd-George, in their speeches last night, said they were convinced that the Government would have an ample majority to carry through the Liberal program.

Realising the difficulty of carrying out its complete program while dependent upon the support of the Nationalist vote, it is reported that the Government will suggest that the reform of the House of Lords be undertaken by a conference of the two parties, and will further promise a modification in the spirit duties and the license duties in the budget of 1910-11 if the rejected budget is accepted as the financial scheme of the present year.

Lloyd-George, in Mid-Derbyshire, said he was proud to be on the Labor platform. He referred to the Conservative whip's statement to the effect that the Unionists governed the House of Commons' policy in the country, and said it was true, though never expressed before with such arrogance. With the majority they would get the Liberals would make it clear that England was a land of free institutions.

BRUTAL MURDER

Frank Marino Killed at Grafton—Two Others Seriously Wounded

(Special to the Review.)

Cobourg, Ont., Jan. 25.—A most brutal murder took place this morning about ten o'clock near the village of Grafton, seven miles east of Cobourg. It occurred at the camp of a gang of Italians working on the construction of the Canadian Northern Railway. From details received, it appears George Merunto, who was on the inside of the house, used by the Italians, fired with a Winchester rifle, instantly killing Frank Marino and seriously injuring two other of his countrymen. Merunto escaped after the shooting, and so far has eluded his pursuers.

Crown Attorney Kerr and Chief Rose, of Cobourg, have left for the scene of the murder.

COLLIERY RIOTS AT CALEDONIA, NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 25.—The colliery districts of Cape Breton were the scenes of two serious riots yesterday between striking miners and the Dominion Coal Co.'s special police. Further trouble is anticipated, and the soldiers, who were to have left for Halifax, has been ordered to remain until the strike is declared off.

Early yesterday morning a U.M.W. man was shot at Caledonia by one of the company's officers and is now at the hospital.

Further disturbances occurred yesterday afternoon and resulted in one arrest being made. Late in the afternoon, when the men were returning from work, they were attacked by a crowd of strikers, chiefly from the Dominion No. 2 and Caledonia, jeered at and asked to refrain from working. A number of the company's police appeared, but the strikers charged the men and police with a volley of stones. The police spent a rough ten minutes, during which they were badly handled and kicked by the men, who continued throwing stones. The police fired several shots in the air, which did not appear to frighten them.

WOULD GIVE UP INTERCOLONIAL

Liberal Member Calls on Premier to Alter System

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—With the exception of a resolution by J. B. Black, a Liberal from Hants, N.S., calling upon the Government to cease the attempt to manage the Intercolonial by direct Government control, there was little of interest in the House yesterday. He moved a resolution that the Intercolonial be operated and controlled by one of the transcontinental companies, or such a corporation which would contribute to the development of the district. He considered that the "people's railway" was simply helping to carry the people out of the country.

M. Allister opposed the resolution. Mr. Pickup supported it, and Mr. Mackenzie opposed it.

Hon. Mr. Graham told Jameson of Digby that the superintendent of maintenance and ways had recently gone over the whole I.C.R. line and had reported every part of it in good condition.

Mr. Owen was informed that the total cost of the last Dominion election was $401,957, and the cost of the maintenance of the Senate for one year $319,655.

Hon. Mackenzie King stated in reply to Major Sharpe that no complaints had been received concerning the cement merger or that the effect of it had been to enhance the price of cement and restrict competition.

R. S. Lake asked the Prime Minister if he had used these words in his recent speech at Toronto: "We are under the suzerainty of the King of England, we bow the knee to him, but the King of England has no more rights over us than are allowed him by our own Canadian Parliament."

Sir Wilfrid replied that the report omitted the preceding words, "We are his loyal subjects." This was the view of all true and loyal subjects.

Mr. Foster wanted to know if the Premier could speak for all.

Sir Wilfrid: "If it isn't, it ought to be."

J. D. Taylor was informed that the Government had under consideration the proposal to discontinue sealing on the Pacific by Canadians.

Hon. W. S. Fielding has given notice of a resolution on which will be based a bill to amend the Currency Act so as to provide that the standard for gold coins of the currency of Canada be such that of one-thousandth part of weight, nine hundred shall be of fine gold and one hundred of alloy, and the standard of silver coins shall be such that of one-thousandth part of weight, 920 shall be of fine silver and 20 of alloy. Also, that the standard weight for gold coin for the denomination of ten dollars be 516 grains, for 50 cents, 180 grains and for other silver and gold coins proportionate weights respectively.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Windsor Masons will erect a temple to cost $50,000.

Hetty Green of New York, the world's richest woman, has joined in "meat strike."

The Vancouver Street Railway Co. has prohibited smoking on the rear car platforms.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur may represent Canada at the opening of the first Parliament of United South Africa.

The Royal Geographical Society at London, Eng., yesterday decided to award a special gold medal to Commander Robert E. Peary.

King Edward has ordered the name of Lady Constance Stewart-Richardson stricken from all court lists, because she persists in giving barefoot dances at the Palace Music Hall.

A. Brantford and H. King, two woodcutters of Blandford, while felling trees on the farm of Edward Overholt, near Eastwood, yesterday found 250 pounds of honey in the hollow of one of the trees.

The St. Catharines' City Council last night unanimously adopted a by-law to reduce the number of tavern licenses from 16 to 10. The measure was approved at the January elections by a majority vote of ratepayers of 865.

Three persons were killed and three probably fatally injured yesterday afternoon when a motor car owned and driven by John Mahoney, a contractor of Kansas City, skidded and plunged over an embankment of forty feet into what is known as Cliff Drive canyon.

Word was received at Orangeville yesterday morning that Bob Cook, wanted for assault on Constable Jas. Halbert last fall, has been arrested in Sault St. Marie, Mich. Halbert's right hand is permanently injured. Cook terrorized Orangeville for several days after the fight.

NO MEAT MEANS "MOLLY CODDLES"

Washington, D.C., Jan. 25.—"A race of molly-coddles would probably be produced by an abstinence from the use of meat," declared Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the eminent food specialist and chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture, yesterday, in commenting upon the proposed general boycott upon meat products.

Conservative Convention.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The Federal Conservative Convention will be held in Ottawa on Wednesday, June 15 next. The result is taken in unprejudiced quarters as a distinct victory for Mr. Borden, for it had been rumored that certain influence which were at work for the selection of Winnipeg, were hostile to his leadership.

SECOND SESSION OF TWELFTH PARLIAMENT BEGINS TO-DAY

Forecast of Speech From Throne Says it Will Refer to the Ottawa Government's Position With Regard to Power Legislation.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—This afternoon, with due pomp and ceremony, Lieut.-Governor Gibson will ascend the throne in the Legislative Chamber at the Parliament Buildings and welcome the legislators to the resumption of their labors.

While his honor will read the speech, a rumor is current that Sir James Whitney, and possibly some members of his Cabinet, are not altogether ignorant of the sentiments which will fall from the Governor's lips.

It is understood that, after a reference to the good harvest and the prosperous condition of the province the speech will proceed to deal in a congratulatory manner with the recent visit of Sir Lomer Gouin and other members of the Quebec administration. It is not improbable in this connection that the question of provincial rights may get tangled up in the argument.

The reduction in the price of schoolbooks may be made the subject of a brief reference, which should cause Hon. Dr. Pyne's expansive smile to broaden.

The progress towards restoration of the library, with special reference to the generous assistance given by sister Governments and private donors will be touched on.

The unprecedented expansion of the mining industry and the successful operation of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway will furnish subjects for congratulatory mention, with possible mention to future extensions.

The work of the Department of Agriculture, including the district instructors in agriculture, the agricultural college and the immigration office in London, during the past year, will be commented on.

The completion of the labors of the milk commission will be mentioned, with the intimation that the report may be expected to be laid before the House at an early date.

Probably the most important question dealt with in the speech will be the progress of the Hydro-Electric Commission, and the possibility, or, rather, the improbability, of disallowance of the Government's power legislation. In this connection it may be mentioned that the Government have as yet had no word on the subject from Ottawa.

The alarming increase in the price of foodstuffs will be made the subject of comment.

Other points which may be dealt with are new Central Prison site, the progress made in the revision of the statutes, the report of the committee on the revision of the assessment law, the question of compensation to workmen for injuries and the buoyant state of the public revenue.

In connection with the revision of the statutes, quite a number of bills have been prepared by the revising judges. These, or the most of them, it is understood, the Premier will introduce on the opening day, after the departure of the Lieutenant-Governor.

An appropriation will be asked for in connection with the rebuilding of the portions of the Parliament Buildings destroyed in the fire.

The Government program of legislation is not a heavy one, and it is not anticipated that the session will last longer than two months at the outside. The main estimates for the current year were passed at the last session, and, it is believed, that the supplementary estimates can be got through at a single sitting of the House.

PROPOSAL OF KNOX REFUSED

Paris, Jan. 25.—France and Great Britain have decided to conform their answers to Secretary Knox's Manchurian proposition to those of Russia and Japan, which have declined the proposal for the neutralization of the Manchurian railways.

Although both Russian and Japan make reservations regarding the Aigun Tsitsihar proposition, The Temps yesterday insists that the concession would be a violation of the Anglo-Russian convention of 1899 and the China-Japanese convention of 1905 and 1909, and consequently is certain of ultimate rejection.

ANOTHER INDIAN OFFICER SHOT DEAD

Calcutta, British India, Jan. 25.—Shamrul Alema, a police officer, who was prominent in unearthing the Midnapur, Bengal, bomb conspiracy, was shot dead in the high court yesterday.

The murderer, a young Bengali, fled to the street, where he was pursued by mounted police.

When overtaken the assassin threw a bomb at the police, and when this failed to explode, drew a pistol, which, however, he did not have a chance to use, being quickly overpowered.

A WOMAN AS A POLICEMAN

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 25.—Chief of Police Sullivan has accepted the recommendation of Mrs. B. H. Mason, assistant state labor commissioner in Washington, and will appoint a woman as a police officer to take care of juvenile cases, visiting parks, theatres and dance halls.

Bankers Released on Parole.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 25.—Paul O. Stensland, convicted president of the wrecked Milwaukee avenue State Bank, and Henry W. Hering, cashier of the bank, were released from the penitentiary yesterday, on parole. Stensland is in poor health and walked with difficulty.

Turkey and Crete.

Constantinople, Jan. 25.—Hakki Bey met Parliament yesterday for the first time since he assumed the office of grand vizier. He reiterated with marked emphasis that Turkey was resolved to uphold by all means in her power the Sultan's sovereign rights in Crete.

New York's Unsolved Murders.

New York, Jan. 25.—Thirty-seven unsolved murders in twelve months was the record of New York for 1909; seven more have been added in the first three weeks of the new year.

Big Thread Works Shut Down.

Pawtucket, R.I., Jan. 25.—Twenty-five hundred textile workers were thrown out of employment yesterday when the five thread mills of the J. & P. Coats, Limited, were shut down for an indefinite period, due to the strike of "back boys," who want 60 hours pay for 58 hours' work.

I.O.F. Tuberculosis Hospital.

Kingston, Jan. 25.—The Independent Order of Foresters will establish the fraternity's tuberculosis hospital on a tract of land bordering upon Rainbow Lake, in the Adirondacks, in New York State. The Rainbow Lake property consists of upwards of 1,000 acres.

REPORT OF U.S. WATERWAYS COMMISSION

Washington, Jan. 25.—The preliminary report of the National Waterways Commission was submitted to Congress yesterday. It recommends, among other things, a general plan of conservation of water power; resort to federal and state legislation rather than to unnecessary channel improvement merely to enforce reduction of railroad freight rates, with the inhibition on the other hand of manipulation of such rates to freeze out water competition. A uniform system of distribution of cost of waterway improvement between federal, state and local Governments; restriction of dam construction permits; inauguration of such waterway projects only as can be completed within a reasonable time; a federal tax on power furnished to consumers; reservation by the Government of power to alter or repeal power rights.

The most essential requirement for the rehabilitation of water traffic is asserted to be the establishment of harmonious relations between railway and water lines.

The commission cannot see its way clear to recommend a general power to fix minimum rates.

CONFESSES TO A BRUTAL MURDER

Rochester, Jan. 25.—District Attorney Widener of Monroe County arrived from Portsmouth, N.H., yesterday, with a confession from Jas. Hall, a naval convict under arrest at Portsmouth, N.H., that he had murdered Anna Schumacher, after assaulting her in the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, just outside Rochester, on August 1 last.

He enlisted in the navy under a false name and was arrested when this was detected. Then he confessed to the murder. He is 27 years old.

Ice Gorge Causes Bad Flood.

Port Deposit, Md., Jan. 25.—Over $200,000 damage was done to property here by flood, caused by the gorging of ice in the Susquehanna River. Practically every building in town except the few that stand on high ground, are destroyed or damaged. The Pennsylvania railroad tracks were covered with ice from 10 to 20 feet for four miles.

No Cigarettes in Cobden.

Kingston, Jan. 25.—Cobden Village Council has availed itself of a bylaw on its books, and has wiped out a poolroom and also prohibited the sale of cigarettes within the municipality.

Rubber Merger Denied.

Montreal, June 25.—Lorne McGibbon, president of the Canadian Rubber Co., and Col. Sam Colt, president of the United States Rubber Co., both deny the rumors of a merger.

For Flood Sufferers.

Paris, Jan. 25.—Following the appeal of Premier Briand, the Chamber of Deputies unanimously voted the $400,000 requested for the aid of flood sufferers.

Ellis Drops Out.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Yesterday afternoon ex-Mayor J. A. Ellis decided to withdraw from the contest for the by-election here for the Federal House.

Argentina will build two Dreadnoughts.

SITUATION DESPERATE IN PARIS

Paris, Jan. 25.—The situation resulting from the floods is fast becoming desperate. The Premier and Minister of the Interior made this declaration last night. All conditions indicated a further rise of several inches of the River Seine, and the cold rain, which still continues, is causing intense suffering among those who have been rendered homeless, with little prospect of relief.

M. Millerand, Minister of Public Works, after a tour of inspection, said that if the rise continued, nothing could prevent a deplorable disaster, and the flooding of the most populous quarters in Paris.

Paris is threatened with an immediate and complete tie-up. The stoppage of transports has raised the price of food, which is becoming very scarce. The supply of water in seven arrondisements has been crippled, as the pumping engines have stopped work and the reservoirs are low. The authorities assert that drinking water is assured, but there is no water for industrial services, which are practically suspended. The question of transportation is becoming more and more difficult, and most of the remaining lines of the subway were forced to close down last night, because of lack of electric current.

INVESTIGATION INTO INSURANCE

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 25.—At a special meeting of the executive yesterday morning the appointment was confirmed of R. S. Lennie of Nelson, D. H. MacDowell of Victoria and A. B. Erskine of Vancouver to constitute a special commission on fire insurance matters.

The commission is to enquire generally into the business of fire insurance carried on in the province, including the placing of insurance in British Columbia, with companies or associations in the United States or other jurisdictions, and to report the results of such investigation, and to the advisability and best method of Government supervision of the operations and the financial standing of all the companies or associations in the business, and as to compelling them to obtain licenses from the province, and to furnish adequate security to British Columbia policyholders.

NEAT ROBBERY IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 25.—Warnar M. Van Norden, president of the Van Norden Trust Co., was robbed of $38,000 last Wednesday night as he was leaving the Waldorf-Astoria. With the arraignment yesterday of Bessie Roberts, alias Kitty Dowell of Chicago and Annie Williams, alias "Chicago Margie," came the story.

One of the women dropped a pocket-book and Van Norden politely picked it up and returned it to the loser. A hearty slap on the back was the unconventional manner which one of the women signalized her thanks. There was a profusion of thanks and bows, and one of the women fainted suddenly on Van Norden's shoulder. She soon revived, but the $38,000 was gone when Van Norden reached home.

JOE CHAMBERLAIN VOTES FOR AUSTEN

London, Jan. 25.—Joseph Chamberlain came out of the retirement into which ill-health had driven him yesterday and went to the neighboring county, where his son, Joseph Austen, is contesting the seat for Kings Norton division of Worcestershire against the Liberal candidate, Hilton Young.

Mr. Chamberlain required the assistance of both Mrs. Chamberlain and the footman in getting from his carriage to the polling place, but appeared to be in good spirits, and, after recording his vote for his son, heartily acknowledged the greetings of the crowd.

DARING HOLD-UP UNSUCCESSFUL

Huntington, W.Va., Jan. 25.—Four men, armed with Winchesters, attempted to hold up Paymaster Lex Coleman of the Knox Creek Lumber Co., near Devon, yesterday. Coleman had $15,000 in cash with him and was on board a yard engine. The engineer threw wide the throttle and plunged by the bandits amidst a shower of bullets.

100 Killed In Religious Fight.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—Over 100 persons have been killed and many wounded as the result of serious religious conflicts in Old Bokhara between the Sunnites and the Shiahs during the past two days. The Sunnites demand the replacement of the Shiah officials by Sunnites.

CHATHAM THINKS OF GETTING INTO LINE

Chatham, Jan. 25.—An agitation has been set on foot here by consumers to boycott eggs and meat, which have gone up in price, the boycott to extend till the price drops. A petition is being circulated in which the signers agree to use neither eggs nor meat, and is being rapidly signed. Eggs have gone up to 40 and 45 cents on the market.

A Million for a New Stomach

It is said that Mr. Rockefeller, one of the world's richest men, offered one million dollars to any physician who would make his stomach strong enough to digest an ordinary meal. With all his money, this multimillionaire is compelled to live on milk and crackers.

What a warning this is to men and women who are beginning to realize that "they have a stomach"!

Slight attacks of indigestion soon develop into acute attacks. The weakened stomach quickly becomes weaker under the continued strain of digesting unsuitable food. Chronic Dyspepsia makes a strict diet imperative, and life miserable.

Yet how unnecessary all this suffering is! "Fruit-a-tives" — that splendid stomach tonic — will give you what millionaires cannot buy, a clean, sweet, healthy stomach which will be capable of digesting any reasonable meal.

"Fruit-a-tives", made from concentrated and intensified fruit juice, acts directly on the stomach, increases the flow of the digestive juices and corrects the faults of digestion.

"Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets" is not only a positive and speedy cure for all these troubles. It also acts as a general tonic, building up and strengthening the entire system. Frequently those, who have been cured of Stomach and Bowel Troubles, write to the Company, stating that they are enjoying better health than ever before.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all druggists and dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c.—or may be obtained from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

COMPLICATIONS

The situation otherwise known as the general election, has so far progressed that it is possible to talk about it. The Conservatives head the poll with a majority, but not a plurality. They have a majority of something over 20. It will be probably 25. The Labourites are not Liberals. They believe in the tax of the unearned increment and in the crushing of the Peers' power or privilege. But being labor men they are dead against free trade, which is in no sense an advantage to the wage-earner since it allows the few sweatshops of East London to set the standard of wages and permits of disastrous German and American competition from abroad. Free Trade has provided as a consequence a monumental number of unemployed Englishmen. Labourites therefore will not be members of the Liberal minority and indignantly deny it. As a consequence the 85 Nationalists will represent the Liberal majority.

But even with them there will have to be a revision of the Liberal programme since the Nationalists are dead against free trade and that part of the Budget which increases Ireland's taxes. As the show man said to the little boy looking through the peephole, who asked which was Daniel and which was "the lion."

"You pays your money and you takes your choice," my little man.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Fran Wangel, a famous German singer and actress has become a member of the Salvation Army.

Canadian Journals are reading Canadians some pretty lively lessons on their boorishness towards Britishers in comparison with the British welcome to Canadians.

We sometimes compare the corruption of political life, as it exists on this side of the Atlantic with the comparative purity of the British elections. It certainly is not because the British are inherently more virtuous, but because foul play is punished there as it almost never is here.—Montreal Witness.

What would be the feelings of a large part of Canada if it read in the morning papers an item like this: "The Canadian warship Heubane has gone on the rock at Death's Head bay. The inaccessibility of this rock will make salvage difficult. Parliament will be called together to see what's to be done about it. The loss may not be over $2,000,000.00. It will be necessary to order another vessel at once to take its place."

One of the peculiar things about the British elections that readers of some Canadian newspapers must have noticed is this; that when a prominent free-trader is defeated his defeat is always attributed to the desperate tactics of the peers and the brewers and the scare-mongers, and tariff reform has had nothing whatever to do with it; while the defeat of every tariff reformer is clear and unequivocal evidence that the electors were eager to condemn tariff reform and cling to free trade.—Hamilton Herald.

Commissioner Wanted

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—In the "Business Classified Wanted" column, Jan. 22nd. I noticed: "Manufacturers employing 100 hands wants to hear from town or city who can offer inducements." I believe I can make a good guess who the party is, and if, as I suspect, not a minute's time should be lost to communicate and interview them. If it is not the part I have reference to, there is work for a competent commission to call on my prospective, to show them the advantages of being located in Peterborough, where five times as much land can be secured for about one-half what their present property is worth. The transportable facilities offered by Peterborough would save them thousands of dollars per annum; as good mechanics at less wages can be secured for Peterborough. The manager of this company I refer to wants to move out of the city, and when I met him at the Toronto Exhibition, said he would go into this matter fully after their annual meeting in January. They have had their meeting, and now is the time to invite them. A year ago last December I was corresponding with three American piano manufactures, with a view to interesting them to locate branch factories in Peterborough to supply their Canadian trade. Each one were interested sufficiently to agree and send representatiuves to meet me at Buffalo about the middle of January, 1909. I was ill and circumstances could not permit me to meet them. I merely state this to show that if Peterborough had a Commissioner appointed; one who is competent to show up Peterborough's advantages, geographical, and power and domestic, we might easily start our 50,000 or Booster Club that has been talked of with a very promising hope of realising within ten years.

I hope our new Mayor and Aldermen will get onto this job and start the wheels turning to catch every good thing that can be taken in. There are men in the city who are capable, and by all means appoint a local man.

Yours truly,
W. H. RUSE.

SUFFERED FOR SIX LONG YEARS

Then Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mrs. Richard's Diabetes

Her Rheumatism Also Vanished When Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her Kidneys in Condition to do Their Work

East Chezzetcook, Halifax Co., N.S., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Cured of Diabetes and Rheumatism from which she had suffered for six years, Mrs. Boniface Richards, well known here, is joyfully telling her neighbors that she owes her health to Dodd's Kidney Pills and to no other cause.

"My Rheumatism and Diabetes were brought on by a cold and a chill and though I was attended by a doctor he could not help me. After suffering for six years I made up my mind to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and to my surprise they did me good almost at once. Two boxes cured me completely. I recommended them to everybody as a sure cure for Diabetes, Backache and all other Kidney Diseases."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mrs. Richard's Diabetes because Diabetes is a Kidney Disease, and Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney Diseases. Mrs. Richard's Rheumatism was caused by her diseased Kidneys failing to take the uric acid out of her blood. When her Kidneys were cured they strained the uric acid out of her blood and her Rheumatism vanished.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, receipts last week were 2235 cattle, 571 sheep and lambs, 2150 hogs and 450 calves. The supply this morning consisted of 1561 cattle, 425 sheep and lambs, 1550 hogs and 200 calves. The attendance of buyers was larger, including several from Quebec and Ottawa, and an active trade was done. The quality of the cattle was generally better than it has been of late, especially the stock, which came from Manitoba. There is no demand whatever from exporters and this trade is the dullest in years at this season. Some sales of picked steers were made as high as 6¼c, but the bulk of the trade was done in choice stock, at 5c to 6¼c; good, at 5½c to 5¾c; fair, at 5c to 5¼c; medium, at 4½c to 4¾c; common, at 4c to 4½c, and cows and bulls at 3c to 4½c per lb.

Hog supplies were fair and demand good from packers and prices ruled steady at the decline noted a week ago. Sales of selected lots were made at $8 to $8.25, weighed off the cars. Demand for sheep and lambs was good and offerings somewhat limited. Lambs sold at 6½c to 7c and sheep, at 4½c per lb. Calves are coming forward more freely, with sales at from $3 to $10 each, as to size and quality.

BUDGET OF INTERESTING NEWS FROM HAVELOCK

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 22.—Rev. Father Kelly, of the cathedral staff, Peterborough, who has been in charge of the Roman Catholic church here, has been transferred by his Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, to the Wooler and Brighton parish. On Sunday last he was presented with a purse of gold and the following address by the parishioners.

Rev. and Dear Father,—We, the congregation of the Mother of Mount Carmel, having learned with regret that you are about to depart from amongst us, feel that we cannot allow you to do so without expressing our feeling of high appreciation for the work you have done in the past three years as pastor of our church.

You will be greatly missed by the congregation, where you were always ready with a helping hand and an encouraging word; and also by the children of our Sunday school, where your devotion and zeal have been so cheerfully given.

In proof of our appreciation and gratitude for the great good work you have done you us, we wish you to accept this slight token of our regard. We further congratulate you upon your promotion and with it we express the wish and prayer that your future days may be many and cloudless.

Signed on behalf of the congregation:—F. Voyer, R. Brennan, T. Bennet, P. McCann and S. O'Hara.

ACTOR DIES IN TORONTO

Member of "White Sister" Company Passed Away at General Hospital

Toronto, Jan. 24.—Mr. Joseph Whiting, a member of the Viola Allen Company, playing an engagement this week at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, died yesterday at the General Hospital in this city. He played the part of Dr. Paris. The company played in Peterborough and then at London, and when the members were on their way to fill an engagement in Hamilton he remained over here for treatment at the General Hospital. Death was due to Bright's disease.

Undertaker A. W. Miles shipped the remains to Hudson, Mich., for interment. The body was accompanied by Mr. C. O. Miller, nephew of Mr. Whiting. Mr. Miller is a New York broker. Deceased was 60 years of age, and was widely known to the theatrical profession. He was, it was said last night, the original "Jim, the Penman," and had frequently played in Toronto with other companies. His wife died a year ago at Detroit while filling an engagement.

JOS. TASSE DEAD AT VICTORIA, B.C.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 24.—Jos. Tasse, cigar manufacturer, formerly of Montreal, and for a quarter of a century one of the most popular commercial drummers of Canada, died Saturday night in St. Joseph's Hospital, of heart failure.

Rated as worth easily $100,000 three years ago, injudicious speculation had bankrupted him about a year ago, and constant worry undoubtedly contributed to his demise.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Ills of Peterboro People

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help."

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. Peterborough cures are the proof.

Mrs. R. Duncan, of 115 McDonnel street, Peterborough, Ont., says:—"Some thirteen months ago I suffered with a severe attack of La Grippe that had up until this spring left me in a weakened and miserable condition. The kidneys had been disordered through this, and became so inactive that doctors had pronounced Bright's disease and termed my case incurable. My back was very weak and the pains across the kidneys were most excruciating. I was unable to sleep through the night the desire to urinate was so frequent and irregular. The urine was highly colored and contained a quantity of whitish sediment. I became so discouraged through my years of suffering that I had no care for anything. Doan's Kidney Pills were advertised at Mr. William Madill's Pharmacy, and I tried them. The first box convinced me of their merits. I used three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and have been entirely cured. I am like a new person, well and strong, and can sleep through the night and awake refreshed and ready for the day."

ADVICE TO THE AGRIC. SOCIETY

advice to the Agric Soc'y

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Having been more or less interested in farming since my early boyhood days, and actively interested in Agricultural Societies, in the meantime, since I have been a resident of Peterborough, I have taken observation of the work and results of the Peterborough Agricultural Society, especially the exhibition part of the game, and at various times I have discussed the matter with some of the prominent members of the Board of Directors, who requested that I attend the annual meeting of Directors on Saturday, 22nd January. I availed myself of the opportunity and reached the Council Chamber a little late. The meeting was in session, and to me, a stranger to most of the members, and an entire stranger to their methods, there appeared to be an atmosphere of seclusion, and for some time I hesitated as to intruding on them. I mention my personal feeling, and have wondered if there are others who have felt the same. If so, there is one of several reasons why why there might be a doubt in the minds of the public, and even the members of the Board of Directors, that suitable grounds and buildings can be secured this year or perhaps for several years. I believe, as many others believe, that if 20th century methods were inaugurated, a much greater interest would be taken, and a Greater Peterborough Exhibition would be a reality in 1910.

Instead of 15 men, nearly all over 40, the most active over 50, and some over 70, I should judge, they should and would be replaced by the younger element, farmers, mechanics, laborers, ladies, business men, professional men and hotel-keepers, are all interested, and something should be done, as is done in other places, to induce them to come out and help, not only at the Exhibition, but at the annual meeting, and from then on to the close of the next annual Exhibition.

As briefly as possible I will suggest some things that have made other Agricultural Societies successful.

1. Engage a competent man to act as Secretary and Manager, at a liberal salary, whose duties are to arrange the numerous committees and assign the duties, correspond or interview manufacturers, breeders, and all who may make or grow anything that requires publicity. Interest three or more prominent men in each township and in the county of Peterborough, Northumberland and Durham, and even our surrourban town of Lindsay. Have them act as a committee to look after their respective districts, appoint their chairman, he to be a member of a general committee to meet or report to the manager once a month on blanks furnished by the Association, the secretary and manager to arrange excursions through the several fraternal and other societies at every town, within a radius of say, Ottawa, Brockville, included east, and Toronto, Collingwood, included west, arrange transportation, confer with horsemen, society to double or treble the amount in purses ever offered before, have races every day at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.; vaudeville or some attraction from 1 to 2 p.m. and between races; engage bands from each burg in the district tributary to the Exhibition, and arrange Choral Society band contest to take place in the evening of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th nights; to fill the amphitheatre three times each day, and numerous other matters, that will take too much time and space to state in a letter.

The amphitheatre should be two storey, roofed, which would give 2,000 people the same advantages that only 1,000 would have in a one storey amphitheatre. Build up track 2 to 4 feet with good hard clay, and top dress with proper soil, that with proper working will make it elastic and fast. Appoint competent man to attend to surveying, measuring, and making contracts, with concessions in Midway. Society to issue at least 3,000 tickets at one dollar, good to rent or lady to enter grounds once each day for four days, is purchased on or before say, May 1st. Every officer or committeeman to take 10 upwards to supply the demand in his territory, and have every town, village and hamlet interested in this Greater Peterborough Exhibition in such a way that nothing will keep the crowds from coming.

I could suggest scores of things that are necessary to make the whole machinery of the Exhibition to run smoothly and perfectly, all of which is necessary to insure absolute success. And with such an organization the city of Peterborough will not hesitate to purchase grounds for the Association, will not hesitate to authorize an expenditure of, say, $15,000, as Welland County Agricultural Society has done this year, and Peterborough has many advantages over Welland, or any other city outside of the larger ones. We should have the courage and business acumen to plan and work out a greater exhibition than any other city of our pretensions in Canada.

"Now, if you are "with us or against us," say so, and keep the matter hot for a time, perhaps something good will result.

Yours sincerely,
W. H. RUSE.

WEDDING BELLS

BARLOW—DAVIS

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Jan. 22.—The marriage of Miss Evelyn Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Davis, of Queen street west, Toronto, to Mr. John Andrew Barlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Barlow, of Havelock, took place at Trinity church, Toronto, on Tuesday evening, January 18th, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Owen. The bride was given away by her father, and attended by Miss Bertha Moore. The groom was supported by Mr. Jas. Davis, brother of the bride. The young couple left on Tuesday evening for Chicago and other points. Both the bride and groom are well known in Havelock, Mr. Barlow having lived here with his parents for several years, while the bride visited in town last summer.

The best wishes for a long and happy married life are extended by their Havelock friends.

On their return from their honeymoon they will reside in Toronto.

FRANK HILL

Special to the Review.

Frankhill, Jan. 25.—Mr. P. and Lillie Lowes were visitors to Lakefield on Sunday, the 16th.

Quite a number of our young people intend going to the basket social to-morrow evening.

Messrs. Frank boys sent a portion of Sunday forenoon breaking roads.

Mr. George Boate, who went to Peterborough on Saturday, did not get back till Sunday, owing to the storm.

One of our young couples was badly disappointed on Sunday. Better luck next time.

Mr. C. Switzer, who has been visiting friends in Ennismore, has returned to Frankill.

While returning from Peterborough on Saturday last, one of our young men had a somewhat thrilling experience. He got stuck in a snow bank, breaking his cutter, and the horse started off alone, but finding the cutter left behind, finally returned.

Quite a number attended St. James' church on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Earle, the popular minister, preached a very eloquent sermon, basing his remarks on a very suitable portion of scripture.

Miss Flow Calvert was the guest of Miss Pearl Franks on Sunday last.

Miss Annie Lowes was visiting Miss Dolly Davis last week.

The late Dr. R. Seigneur, of Chambly, left $23,500 to charity.

INCREASE THEIR SALARIES

From Dan to Beersheba goes the cry of the higher cost of living. The average percentage to said to be 35. Yet the salaries of the clergy remain where they were. We have heard a great many church people lament this fact, and few will disagree with them. The clergy must live "decently and in order." The present rate of living means a cut of 35 per cent. in their salaries. Is this quite right? The clergy as a rule are uncomplaining in this regard. They accept their stipends with apparent gratitude, and probably dutiful resignation. The time has come for a general increase. Why omit the clergy?

LAID AT REST

The funeral of the late John Hurley took place this morning from his late residence to St. Peter's Cathedral, where requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Father McColl, after which the remains were consigned to their last resting place in St. Peter's cemetery. Rev. Father McFadden officiated at the grave. Representatives of the local order of the C.M.B.A. and of Lindsay were present at the obsequies as was also many friends of the deceased, who took the last opportunity to pay their last respects to one who in life had been held by them in high esteem.

The pallbearers were Messrs. J. J. Lynch, J. W. Fitzgerald, M. Quinlan, Jas. O'Brien, John Trombley, and Ald. H. Phelan.

MISS KATIE O'CONNELL

The funeral of Miss Katie O'Connell took place yesterday morning from her parents' home, 587 Concession street. A large funeral procession accompanied the remains to St. Peter's Cathedral, where solemn mass of requiem was offered by Rev. Father McColl pastor of St. Peter's Cathedral. The remains were interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The late Miss O'Connell was a young lady of rare ability, and possessed such a sweet, amiable disposition that her demise will be deeply regretted by her family and friends. She taught for a few years in St. Patrick's Separate school, Ottawa, where she endeared herself to parents and pupils by her conscientious devotedness to duty.

Her loss is deeply mourned by the remaining members of her sorrowing family, who are her father and mother, Sister St. Catharine, of St. Joseph's Community, Port Arthur; Miss M. A. O'Connell, of St. Peter's school staff, city; Miss L. M. O'Connell, of Ottawa Separate school staff; Miss Marguerite O'Connell, of Toronto Collegiate Institute staff; James and John T. O'Connell, real estate manager, city; all of whom were present at her funeral.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

The Cabinet of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. decided at their meeting yesterday to open a campaign for members, commencing the 1st of February.

Prizes have been donated by an interested senior member for both school boys and employed boys, and a large increase in membership is anticipated.

Evidently the boys are serious in their intention to make their department grow, as they have just completed re-decorating their rooms.

MUCH GOOD WILL COME FROM FREE JUDGING COURSE NOW BEING HELD HERE

That a world of good should result from the Short Course now being held in this city, is the unanimous opinion of all those who have attended the various sessions of the course. The work this morning was confined to light horses. Mayor Morrow's roadsters and R. H. Leary's Hackneys were the subjects judged; they served as examples to illustrate the points brought out by Mr. MacRae, who was in charge of the session.

It was surprising to note the great interest taken by the crowd that attended. At least 250 attended the session this morning. The Short Course movement is as yet only in its infancy. When such interest is being taken as in this particular event, it would be idle to predict just where the movement will end. From present appearances it may practically be taken for granted that Peterborough next year will be able to hold a five days' course as is now customary at Lindsay. Many of those in attendance are from a distance, several having come over 25 miles and they are staying for two or three days to take advantage of the instruction offered.

Mr. MacRae of the Live Stock Commissioner's staff, Ottawa, amply demonstrated himself to be a master of his subject. Comments to the effect that he knew what he was talking about were common and the fact contributed not a little to the intense interest that was taken in what he had to say. At the outset, Mr. MacRae dwelt upon the different breeds of horses. He said that the Hackney was the leading sire of carriage horses the standard bred for road horses, and the thoroughbred for saddlers. The different market classes of horses were then described. The different points and the conformation looked for in these various classes were outlined and explained. What types to breed to get these various classes was then taken up. The horses previously mentioned were always placed by those in attendance after which their reasons were given and a general discussion ensued.

While it may well be said that Mr. MacRae is a master of his subject, horses, Prof. C. A. Zavitz of the Ontario Agricultural College, who had charge of the seed judging work this afternoon, may most aptly be termed a past-master of his specialty, seed grain.

The professor dealt with those crops most important to Peterborough county. The crops most generally grown in this county are oats, peas, barely and winter wheat, their importance in the order named. Each man in attendance at the session in the Market Hall was provided with five individual samples of oats of different kinds. These were used to illustrate the importance of variety, and to demonstrate the difference in results secured from large, medium and small seed, both for seed and feed purposes. He dwelt particularly on the per cent. of hull, or in other words the quality of oats of the different kinds. Striking comparisons were made between Banbehey oats, which have 24 per cent. of hull and the Early Dawson, which possesses 36 per cent. of hull—a difference of 12 pounds at meal in favor of the former oat, when the comparison is made on 100 pounds of grain of the two varieties. While this was true of the samples before the students, it was equally true of these varieties as generally grown.

During his remarks, Prof. Zavitz brought home clearly the fact that, while oats are the most commonly grown in Peterborough County and throughout Ontario, there is probably no other cereal about which so little is known, and regarding which many people judge wrongly. The oat crop, he said, was capable of great improvement in Peterborough County, as well as throughout Ontario.

Particular attention was given to the study of barley. Much emphasis was laid upon the importance of selection and special mention was made of one variety originated at the Ontario Agricultural College—the "O.A.C. No. 21" barley. This variety is considered to be the best barley grown in Ontario at the present time. It is a six-rowed, stiff-strawed, heavy yielding barley, which is usually quite free from rust and weighs well per measured bushel.

The many who took advantage of this afternoon session on seeds came away more firmly convinced than ever that this Short Course is the best thing that has yet come to the county in the interests of a better agriculture.

THE CROWN DIDN'T PROVE ITS CASE AGAINST PRISONERS

Who Were Arraigned in House of Ill-Fame Case and All Four Accused Were Acquitted—Many Witnesses Examined But Charge Was Not Brought Home by the Testimony — Counsel Objects to Police Metohds.

There was no directly incriminating evidence adduced in the charge against Mrs. Hattie Sullivan, Wolfe street, her daughters, Ethel and Lily and Katherine Weaver in the case against them at the police court this morning. Against the three girls there appeared to be nothing whatever that might be taken as evidence at all damaging, and, in fact, there was no evidence at all against either of the Weaver girls. Most of the witnesses, other than the policemen called by the Crown, proved to be witnesses for the defence. Magistrate Dumble dismissed the case, which was enlarged from last Saturday, and which occupied the attention of the police court for nearly two and a half hours this morning.

A couple of witnesses who lived near Mrs. Sullivan said that they knew nothing of an adverse character concerning Mrs. Sullivan or her house.

ANOTHER VERBAL BATTLE.

The placing of one of the prisoners, Catharine Weaver, in the box, was the signal for a stormy three-cornered debate between Mr. Gordon and the Chief and the Magistrate. Mr. Gordon insisted that the girl should not be called to give evidence and as counsel for the defence and for the witness objected to the testimony given. THE CROWN DIDN'T PROVE ITS CASE AGAINST PRISONERS

Who Were Arraigned in House of Ill-Fame Case and All Four Accused Were Acquitted—Many Witnesses Examined But Charge Was Not Brought Home by the Testimony — Counsel Objects to Police Metohds.

There was no directly incriminating evidence adduced in the charge against Mrs. Hattie Sullivan, Wolfe street, her daughters, Ethel and Lily and Katherine Weaver in the case against them at the police court this morning. Against the three girls there appeared to be nothing whatever that might be taken as evidence at all damaging, and, in fact, there was no evidence at all against either of the Weaver girls. Most of the witnesses, other than the policemen called by the Crown, proved to be witnesses for the defence. Magistrate Dumble dismissed the case, which was enlarged from last Saturday, and which occupied the attention of the police court for nearly two and a half hours this morning.

DISPUTE ABOUT WITNESSES.

Mr. G. N. Gordon defended all the prisoners and Chief Rossel conducted the Crown's case.

At the opening of the case Chief Rossel remarked that there were a couple of witnesses absent. Mr. Gordon, in reply, stated they were his witnesses, and he would answer for them. They should said they were not stating they were Crown witnesses.

"I asked you to subpoena them for us," said counsel for the defence to the chief, "and if you didn't do so you failed in your duty."

Both witnesses were women, and P. C. Newhall swore to serving the papers to one of the women for herself and her mother to appear as witnesses. As the witnesses were not on hand the chief got the Magistrate to make out a warrant for the woman to whom the papers had been given. Mr. Gordon stated that they were in his office, however, and could be communicated with when they were wanted. He then volunteered an explanation to the court, after P.C. Newhall had denied telling the woman that she was being called as a witness for the defence, and also denying that he had told her she could see the lawyer for the defence if she wished to, and if she did not wish to come to court. The constable said that what he did tell her was that she would not be called if her presence were not necessary, as she did not care to have anything to do with such a case.

Mr. Gordon stated that he had been advised by the witness on whom the papers had been served that she had been told by P.C. Newhall that she had been summoned for the defence, and that she could see the lawyer for the defence if she did not care to give evidence. The witness, with her mother, had called at Mr. Gordon's office on the strength of this, it was alleged, and were there then and could be gotten there when necessary.

P. C. MEHARRY TESTIFIES.

P. C. Meharry, the first witness for the Crown, said he saw a man coming out of Mrs. Sullivan's house at twenty minutes to eleven on Thursday night. On Friday night he saw a man leave the house with a girl. They stayed for an hour and a half. He told of the arrest and gave testimony as to reputation, and other evidence for the purpose of showing that men frequented the place, though the calls weren't very frequent, according to his evidence.

A couple of witnesses who lived near Mrs. Sullivan said that they knew nothing of an adverse character concerning Mrs. Sullivan or her house.

ANOTHER VERBAL BATTLE.

The placing of one of the prisoners, Catharine Weaver, in the box, was the signal for a stormy three-cornered debate between Mr. Gordon and the Chief and the Magistrate. Mr. Gordon insisted that the girl should not be called to give evidence and as counsel for the defence and for the witness who was accused, objected to the testimony being given. The court ruled, however, that she should testify and she was promised protection as far as she was personally concerned.

The witness said she had come to the Sullivan home to live a week ago Monday, coming there from Hastings. She saw nothing improper going on there. Both her sister and Miss Sullivan were employees of the Cordage works and the two young men arrested were keeping company with them.

The next witness called, a woman, gave Mrs. Sullivans reputation as bad as did also another witness and P. C. Meagher. Nothing was known against any of the other prisoners, however, and nothing pointed to the keeping of a house of illfame. P. C. Newhall gave Mrs. Sullivan an out and out bad reputation and named over the names of several men in this connection. There was some hissing in the court and the chief warned the spectators.

The witness who was in Mr. Gordon's office, said that she must have been mistaken when she said P. C. Newhall told her she could see the lawyer for the defence. She thought he had done so, but he corrected this impression in conversation with her in the police office before she came up to give evidence and said she must have been mistaken. Mr. Gordon objected to the police interfering with the witness, but the Magistrate said the officer had done nothing improper.

The Magistrate said that the charge before him had not been proven and spoke of one of the prisoners, Catherine Weaver, as apparently an innocent girl. He said that evidence had been given against Mrs. Sullivan's character, but on the strength of the testimony he could not make out a conviction against her on the charge.

COMMITTEE TO WORK OUT DETAILS IN CONNECTION WITH NEW QUAKER BUILDING

A committee consisting of Mayor Morrow and Aldermen Bradburn, Graham and Hicks, was been appointed by the council to go into the proposition of the Quaker Oats Company in connection with their plans to erect a new warehouse to cost $80,000. This was done at the meeting of the committee of the whole council last night when Mr. W. H. Denham appeared before the council. One of the requests of the company is to have Quaker street closed.

Mr. J. C. Shook was present representing the Dickson Company. That estate owns a triangular piece of property adjoining Quaker street. They did not wish to retard the progress of the city or of the Quaker Company but their property would be injured. He suggested, however, that a street from Brock to Murray along the top of the bank be given in lieu of Quaker street.

Ald. Turner said he could not see where the closing of Quaker street would injure the Dickson Company's property at all. The property cannot be reached from the east anyway without the aid of a flying machine or some locomotive power to climb a very steep hill.

Ald. Hicks suggested that a committee be appointed to visit the property and see what can be done.

Ald. Gillespie moved that the mayor, Aldermen Graham, Bradburn and Hicks be the committee. Ald. Duncan seconded the motion. The committee will meet Mr. Denham and Mr. Shook, and then wait upon the County Council, the county having property in the vicinity of the proposed changes.

The mayor asked if the council would agree to Mr. Denham's request if Mr. Denham and Mr. Shook could agree on the street allowance.

The aldermen were generally agreeable.

The committee will report to the council within the next few days, when it is hoped to settle the matter.

PROF. CREELMAN WILL ADDRESS PUBLIC MEETING TO-NIGHT

Prof. G. C. Creelman of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, while unknown personally to many of the citizens of Peterborough, needs no particular introduction. His fame has gone before him. The fact that in recent years, he has been addressing Canadian Clubs from one end of this province to the other will ensure a packed house at this evening's session of the Short Course, which is to be held in the Auditorium of the Collegiate Institute. President Creelman is not only in close touch with agriculture, but he is very popular as a speaker. He is sure to please those who are so fortunate as to hear him this evening.

In addition to President Creelman, Mr. Jas. Thompson, M.P.P. for East Peterborough, and Mr. C. M. MacRae, Ottawa, will also speak. A feature of the evening will be the presentation of prizes to those who won out in the Good Roads Competition conducted during the past year by Farm and Dairy, especially for Peterborough County. Miss Pringle, soprano, and Miss Gathercole-Watling violinist, will provide the musical part of the programme. Mayor Morrow will occupy the chair. The meeting is absolutely free. All are welcome. Ladies are especially invited.

DOURO GETS WARDENSHIP

Mr. Frank Moher Elected Warden of County Council for 1910, This Afternoon.

The Warden of the County Council for the ensuing year is Mr. Frank Moher, of Douro. He was the only nomination at the inaugural meeting of the new council held this afternoon. After introducing the new members, the clerk called for nominations and Reeve C. Cobern moved, seconded by Reeve A. Breault that Mr. F. Moher be elected warden, and the motion carried unanimously.

The new warden then took the oath of office and in a brief speech acknowledged the honor which had been done him, and thought it was partly in justice to the township which he represented. He hoped the same good feeling which prevailed in the council last year would again be in evidence this year and that the best interests of the county would be advanced. In appointing the chairmen of the various committees the warden advised his councillors to choose the most efficient men.

The clerk read the minutes of the last meeting and the business of selecting the committees and appointing the chairmen was then proceeded with.

ACTORS WERE IN A SCRAP

A Good Deal of Tempest About the "The Sunshine and Tempest" Company

The Napanee Express of this week publishes an account of an "unpleasantness" that occurred there just prior to the presentation of the play "Tempest and Sunchine" among the actors presenting the play. The Express says:

"The Tempest and Sutchine Company, which appeared in the Bruce Opera House on Monday evening, had a lively time upon the Opera House stage, just before the performance. Mr. Carl Uhl, one of the members of the company got into an altercation with the manager and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brandon, accusing them of insulting his wife. Mrs. Brandon slapped Uhl's face. Brandon punched him, and afterwards hit Uhl over the head with a curtain pole. Even at this Uhl had the best of the game and a couple of the other members of the company started in to help Brandon, and a general mix up occurred. The next morning the matter was aired in the police court, when Brandon had Uhl up for using insulting language. The chare was not sustained by the evidence and Brandon had to pay the costs."

An incident somewhat similar to that is said to have occurred among the same actors at the outer depot here when they were leaving for the west.

SPORTING NEWS

COLTS WON THIRD GAME WITH COLLEGIATES BY 4-3

Were Ahead Soon After Contest Started by 2-0—Students Tied the Score by Half Time, and Went Ahead in Second Half, Bnt Colts Made Greater Finish and Won Out.

The unexpected happened last night. The "clever little Collegiate team" is mourning the loss of a game, and an aggregation of puck chasers, travelling under the name of Peterborough Colts are wearing the smiles. The affair at the Brock street rink was some excitement. Neither team played the regular line-up. Perhaps it was a little over-confidence on the part of the students, but the same cannot be said of the winners, for at eight o'clock it puzzled the faithful few to count more than three or four grey sweaters. However, by some tall hustling the positions were filled, and the team took the ice, with about as much confidence as Lindsay fans will have in their team after the locals finish with them on Friday night. Referee Bill O'Brien started the game and in 10 1-2 minutes the Colts had stemmed two counters past the diminutive figure of Lees. Then they faded away, and while on a trip to dreamland, their garnet and grey opponents tied the score and went one better, in eleven minutes after the breathing spell. But this was their limit. Cyril Giroux evened the figures up again, and in three minutes before time was called beat Lees for the winning tally, making the final count read 4—3. It was a finish worth watching.

It was not a game marked by brilliant plays. There were twenty penalties handed out, and that is part of the reason why. The checking of both teams was consistent and effective, and while the number of offenders who decorated the fence was large, it could not be said that the game was rough. The tall gent with the bell showed a disposition to enforce the rules, and he performed his duties impartially. One thing the junior hockey players of this fair burg need to learn is "how to use a hockey stick properly."

For the losers Burritt and Crane played well, but the former did not show up as well as on previous occasions. Conroy, at right, was prominent at times, and Denison worked better in the second half when he went back to cover.

Cyril Giroux delivered the goods for the winners to the extent of three goals. He was out to do his best last night and did not let up for a minute. Hall and Weir checked well and Campbell was always conspicuous. Hefferman was the puck of the defence.

THE SCORING.

Hall drew the puck and it went down near the Collegiate goal. Giroux took a shot but Lees was on the job. From a scrimmage around the nets the rubber was shot out to the side and Giroux rang the bell. Time, 2 minutes.

Crane and Burritt got away together but the shot went wild. The puck was returned. Munro stopped Denison on a liner. Crane pushed and passed to Burritt, who shot dead on the Colts' goaltender, but by a clever stop he prevented a score. Conroy went off and Hall followed for violating the rules. Crane stopped the puck from the face-off with his face, but Denison joined the timekeeper, and in 8 1-2 minutes Weir beat Lees for the second tally. Colts 2, Collegiates 0.

In four minutes Denison secured the disc, and after passing Hefferman, found the nets, and the four rooters shook hands with each other.

Securing the puck from the face-off, Crane took a long shot, but it was wide by a foot. Minorgan read the finger sign correctly and rested. Weir missed an easy shot on a pass in front of Lees. Campbell took to the fence. Pelton blocked Burritt's shot. Minorgan started a combination play, but it was wasted. Both teams were going at a hot clip with honors even. In six minutes Burritt tied the score, and neither team could break it during the half. Hall, Hefferman, Denison and Giroux were penalized for minor offences.

SECOND HALF.

Denison moved back to cover, and Minorgan was ordered to watch Weir. The play alternated between the two nets, with what little shooting that was being done going wild. Hall was sent to the fence for hooking, and during the next few minutes Minorgan, Denison, Giroux and Campbell were banished. Combination work and individual performances were stopped before any damage was done, but finally, in eleven minutes, Crane put his team ahead. Colts 2, Collegiates 3.

Pelton stopped a shot from Crane and another from Burritt. Hall and Giroux got away, but the latter's shot was wide, and the puck went down the ice again. Campbell took a jaunt up the boards and passed to Weir, but individual was relieved of it. Conroy was given a rest and Denison received the same treatment for tripping Hall. Hefferman dashed nicely, but was stopped by Conroy, who was again ordered to the box. Munro was hurt and was carried off. Minorgan evened up. Burritt missed a lone shot after a nice rush. After Lees had batted the puck behind his nets, Giroux secured it, and bringing it out in front, brought down the gallery boys by tieing up the game.

In another half minute, and with only three minutes to play, Giroux beat the defence and scored his third goal. The Collegiates tried hard to even up, but it was not to be, and the bell rang for the finish with Burritt and Crane getting away together.

AUBURNS WON SCRAPPY GAME FROM THE QUAKERS

Manager Watt's select seven from Auburn took the leadership of the Mercantile League last night by defeating the Quakers by 1—0, in a game featured by some "Joe Hall" stunts, and which if written up fully would make some interesting reading. Ten minutes before half time was called, two of the players mixed it up and were ruled off for the remainder of the half. This did not have a soothing effect for the scrappy ones took to the gallery and proceeded to finish it out. Then followed their suspension for the rest of the game. Hayes did not go on for the second half and the breakfast food team played five men against six. It was during this period that the Auburns secured the only tally of the game.

The teams were:

FRANK GOTCH EARNED TIDY SUM OF $52,000 LAST YEAR

Oh, yes, the wrestling game went to the infernal bow-wows long ago. Not a single husky grappler has been able to earn enough coin on the mat to buy the necessary suds and pretzels. It's honestly been terrible; thats what they have all been saying, with the lone exception of Frank Gotch, the worlds champion.

Gotch drew down more box-office money last year than Mr. Roosevelt received for his last year's labors as President of the United States. Gotch claims that he earned exactly $52,000 in the many bouts and the theatrical engagements he had last season.

Most of this money was taken in while he was travelling about the Western States. Particularly in the farming districts, where every man, woman and child is interested in the wrestling did Gotch do well. There's not a farmer lad but would rather rastle than do anything else.

CHICAGO LIKES MAT GAME.

In Chicago the whole population goes wild over the game. In every show house wrestling bouts are held most every night, and they almost fill the place from pit to dome when one of the big mat artists is to appear. Gotch has been travelling with Jeffries' aggregation of athletes, and he is the next biggest attraction to the mighty "Jeff" himself.

One of the largest farm owners in the upper Mississippi Valley is Gotch. He has hundreds of acres of farm land. It is his greatest ambition to become known as the farm king of the west, and he is now working on a scheme of great dimensions.

Jeffries, too, takes to farm life, and Gotch states that after Jeffries is through with the little matter he now has on hand with Jack Johnson he will try and interest Jeff in a big ranch proposition.

"This will be the biggest thing ever" Gotch tells Jeff, "and I'd like to bring you in on it."

"The farm for me every time. I'd be out there summer and winter only for the big money I'm making now in the wrestling business."

"How much did you gather last year?" asked Jim.

"I made just $52,000, and over one-fifth of that was in the match with Mahmout, the Turk—and that was the softest thing that has come my way since I went into the game."

GAME ISN'T CROOKED.

"Of course, I can't say that I'm making big money the whole season round, but I guess next year will be just as good, if not even better than the last one was.

"You hear a lot about how crooked the game is, but it has been my experience that there are mighty few spots wherein it is not honest and straight. I've always wrestled on the level and have made money on that account as well as because I have always won."

MAKES A HIT WITH JOHNSTON

Fred Simpson Some Coon Shouter —A Concert of Southern Melodies

Toronto, Jan. 24.—As usual Jack Johnson, the heavyweight pugilistic champion, who is starring the show at the Star Theatre, was doing things. Hardly had he arrived at the theatre when he was served with a summons to appear at Brantford on Wednesday morning next for excessive speeding with his auto last August.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," said Johnson, to the officer. "Just think of being arrested for something that happened six months ago."

"You're not arrested," replied the officer, "only summoned."

"I'll be there," concluded Johnson, who quietly folded up the paper, and slipped it into his pocket, as he has done with other papers many times before.

Johnson is stopping at the Grand Central. Early this morning the black champion took possession of the parlor, and, together with Fred Simpson, the Ojibway runner, who is here for Tom Eck's race next week, Tom Eck himself, Tom Flanagan, and Mrs. Johnson at the piano, held a concert. Simpson delighted the big black so much with his interpretation of Southern songs that they will hold another concert to-night after supper.

Walter Miller Will Chase the Puck, With Barney Quinn Art Mann and Bert Laing for Grand Forks

Walter Miller left this afternoon for his return trip to the West after arriving at a decision to play with Grand Forks team for the balance of the season, despite two good offers from the manager of the Brantford professionals which were received yesterday. Jiddy will be the fourth representative from Peterborough on the western town team, Arthur Mann, Ralph Quinn and Bert Laing having been there for some time.

BASKET BALL

The game between the Normal School and the George street Methodist church will not be played, as the Normal School has retired from the league, as the other teams of the league are not in their class.

The game between the Canadian General Electric Company will be played off on Saturday afternoon, instead of on Wednesday night.

Caught a Baby Whale.

The smallest specimen of a baby whale ever caught by a British trawler was landed at Grimsby the other day by the King James. It was brought up in the trawl net in the North sea, and was so small—18 inches long and three pounds three ounces in weight—that the fishermen could not realize that it was a whale until an expert certified the fact.

The local officer for the board of fisheries secured this specimen, which could not have been calved more than three or four days, and immediately dispatched it to the laboratories of the fisheries department in London.—London Standard.

The Clarinet.

The clarinet has the richest, sweetest voice of all the wood-wind instruments, although its sound does not travel quite so far as that of the oboe. Whenever, as sometimes happens, there are two melodies to be played at once, the clarinet takes the lower of the two, while the violins play the upper and more important one. But in a military band, where there are no strings at all, the clarinets play the chief melody. The bass clarinet is not so smooth or so sweet as the higher ones. It has a rather choky sound, though softer than that of the bassoon.—From "The Drum of the Savage to the Great Orchestra," in St. Nicholas.

Affinity Defined.

A man who has a penchant for phrase-making and whose wife has a vivid imagination got into difficulties the other day. The lady was reading an account of the latest divorce and chanced to run across the "affinity" bromide. "Such a senseless word!" she exclaimed; then, turning to her husband, "What is an affinity, anyhow?" "Affinity? Oh, accommodation train," he defined with conscious aptness. And ever since he's been using all his cleverness in the effort to explain how he knew.

CITY LEAGUE TEAMS ON THE HOME STRETCH

To-morrow night the City League teams start on the home stretch, and all have a chance to come home a winner. The games promise to furnish all kinds of excitement. In the first contest Keene and Strathcona meet, and as the village boys need the win to keep in the running, they may be relied upon to give the league leaders the hardest kind of a struggle.

For the second fixture T.A.S. and West Ends come together, and when the smoke clears away both sevens and the spectators will know that there has been a hockey match. It is a hard proposition to pick a winner. Last Wednesday the Albainers showed great improvement, and the team that beat Keene was a well selected one. There does not appear to be a weak spot on the line-up. The Oldham outfit will have what would appear a slight advantage, in the fact that the team has remained practically the same since the league opened, but it is just a question whether the line can break away for combination work, with the hard checking of their opponents to contend with.

R. L. Borden and Geo. E. Foster are stumping in Ottawa in favor of Dr. Chabot.

Canada's customs revenue for December totalled $5,077,560, an increase of $1,207,234.

HOCKEY

The intermediate O.H.A. game at Peterboro on Thursday evening next will be one of the fastest ever witnessed on the Brock street rink. Lindsay with her braves are out to win and with a few changes in the line-up the Quakers will have to travel a fast pace even on their own ice. The weather man promises good weather, and keen ice (Lindsay's choice) and if so, the locals will hold their own against their sturdy opponents. Although Referee W. J. O'Brien of Peterboro acted fairly enough here on Friday evening last, another O.H.A. referee is expected. The line-up for the game will be somewhat changed, but nothing has been decided upon as yet.

To-morrow evening a good full practice will be called at the Lindsay street rink to which all players and members are expected out.—Lindsay Post.

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

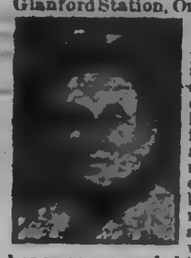
MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.



Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of the uterus, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking your medicine. It has also helped other women to whom I have recommended it."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ontario.

Gardiner, Me.—"I was a great sufferer from a female disease. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."—Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Maine.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

KNOX CHURCH YOUNG PEOPLE

Listened to Two Helpful Papers on John the Baptist--Literary Night Next Monday

Knox Church Young People's Guild observed a Devotional night at their meeting last evening, and a very helpful service was conducted. Miss Warren presided in the absence of the vice-president. Mrs. H. J. Keith gave a solo which was much enjoyed. A paper by Mrs. A. A. Coates on the life of John the Baptist, and one by Miss Havery, were interesting and instructive. Mrs. Coates referred to John the Baptist's parents and his life. He was a prophet and lived under the power of the Holy Ghost. He was a hero, a great man, and one who always spoke the truth. He was a fearless preacher, and lived the simple life, wearing plain clothes and eating coarse food. The speaker brought out many interesting points in connection with his life, which might be taken as an example for all.

Miss Havery said John's message was one of repentance. True repentance means more than being sorry for our sins. It signifies a change of mind, of conduct, of views and heart. He that liveth without God and was not convinced of sin, is not the true repentant. The cry of the repentant must be "guilty" God be merciful to me, a sinner. We should consider what the loss of the soul, heaven and happiness meant. God is drawing us with the chords of love and ever waits for us to accept Him.

Next Monday will be literary night, and the meeting is to be in charge of Mr. Roy Laing.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

NEW PREMISES WILL BE VERY COMPLETE QUARTERS

St. Peter's T. A. S. May Secure as Club Rooms One of the Hotels Affected by by License Reduction — Bowling Alleys and Gymnasium and Possibly Restaurant Will be Established in Connection With Club Rooms.

As announced briefly in last night's Review St. Peter's T. A. S. has reached such a size that larger premises are urgently demanded. It was also stated that negotiations for the purchase of the vacant store on Simcoe street, formerly the place of business of Richard Hall & Son, was being considered as a desirable place to buy for the new rooms. This was confirmed last night by a prominent officer of the society who informed the Review that the T. A. S. had found the accommodation and facilities afforded by the present rooms as insufficient and had come to the conclusion to obtain a more suitable building.

The store referred to above is only one of several places under consideration, however. Now that the council have decided to take away the licenses from five hotels of the city the society is thinking of securing one of the buildings which will probable be available after the license reductions by-law will have come into effect. Any of these hotels would be excellent places to establish commodious and well appointed club rooms.

The new quarters will be conducted on a more pretentious scale than the present ones and bowling alleys and a gymnasium will be opened. As there is every prospect of flourishing total abstinence societies being opened in several rural places close to Peterborough it is thought that the number of Saturday visitors to the new rooms will be large and to accommodate them and other patrons as well the plan of opening a restaurant in connection with the premises is being seriously discussed. There is also a possibility of a temperance bar being conducted at which soft drinks and cigars could be bought. Another of the proposed steps is to provide accommodation for lodgers.

Of course all the suggestions embodied above may not go into effect but they are being seriously considered and all that appear feasible after the new quarters have been obtained will be taken up.

MARRIAGE CEREMONY A SOLEMNLY RELIGIOUS ACT

In the special course of sermons on "Spheres of Practical Religion," the subject Sunday night at St. John's was "Marriage," following last week's address on Christian Courtship. The text was taken from the lesson of the day, "Therefore shall a man cleave unto his wife and they twain shall be one flesh," Gen. 1: 24. Before the sermon the marriage hymn, "O Perfect Love" was sung. Appropriate prayers were also offered. Canon Davidson began by pointing out that marriage was God's own institution, and that the marriage ceremony was a solemn religious act. There was a world of difference between this and a cold, formal legal contract. Marriages should always take place in the church, and the beautiful significance of a church wedding was pointed out, no expense or display or undue publicity being a necessary feature.

Enquiry was then made into the nature of love, as the foundation of marriage. It consisted of two distinct factors, a physical element connecting man with other creatures and an ennobling emotion connecting him with higher beings and the next world. The love which gloried near age would be tender, pure, chivalrous and uplifting. The being "in love" need not be the passing gleam of courtship, but a prelude to the deeper, stronger, sweeter love of married life. A wife or husband's affection has often to be won and retained as well as sweetheart's and is even more worth while. The speaker drew an attractive picture of the deep and mellowed love of married life, enriched by all its experiences born in common.

If this desirable state were to exist husband and wife must accept their distinct office and place in the home, divinely given and appropriate to nature of each. Quoting from the Bible, Rev. Mr. Davidson showed it was the husband's place to be "ahead" of the wife, and the wife to submit herself to her husband. The ruling, however, was not to be despotic, but Christian. While the submitting was not to be that of a slave, but a gladly yielding acquiescence to the thoughtful will of one, to whom was given the headship and general guidance of the family. This submission of loyalty demeaned no one, but beautified the giver. Woman might be far more a queen in reality than her husband a king and exert much greater influence, but her rule would never be asserted as thus or allowed to be felt. Woman's triumph could only be won in woman's sphere, and the mannish woman must be as great a failure as womanish man, and an even more unbeautiful distortion. Woman and man should be complementary, not competing forces. A right understanding on these points contributed much to the effectiveness and happiness of home life.

From the happiness of wifedom, the speaker went on to speak of even the greater glory of motherhood. As a rule the home was not intended to be childless, and every patron might well be worth respect and admiration before the mothers of large families who were well worthy to be surrounded by the love of their children, anticipating the weakening footsteps of those who had so lovingly led for them. Such mothers should be regarded as public benefactors and in the speaker's opinion, should even receive recognition from the state. Children should never, however, be allowed to take the first place in either a husband's or wife's affection.

Rev. Canon Davidson went on to deal with the increasing expense and difficulties in maintaining a home and rearing a family. As a remedy the simple life and abstinence from luxury was urged. But men should not to-day give way before the difficulties incident to civilization and more than their fathers did who successfully built up homes in the face of the hardships of the primitive life. "We should trust in a protecting Providence," he said, "and gird ourselves to bravely do our duty to our loved ones, our homes, and our country and our God."

THE WITNESS GROWS SARCASTIC CONCERNING NEW MOVE FOR CANADIAN INDEPENDENCE

The following is portion of an editorial in Montreal Witness:—

Where was Mr. Monk when Mr. Bourassa was denouncing the British Empire and stirring up the people against it? Does he not see that the sceptre of leadership has been stolen from him, and is being wildly brandished where he is not. When the declaration of independence is proclaimed, it will not be Monk who will command the hosts, but Bourassa. It will be Bourassa and not Monk who will be the Washington of the new republic. Possibly Mr. Monk, if he brings on his blue 'Conservative' contingent, will be vice-president, under the pretty little blue flag. Mr. Bourassa wants a plebiscite on whether we are for the empire or against it. Is his dream to lead the United States of Canada out of the empire, or does he only want to get the government to count his followers for him? Looking at the audience the other night, fired by his eloquence, he may have fondly thought his whole people were with him. But when it would come to voting, Monsieur Jean Baptiste would say, 'Oh, no!' By the way, who is financing this movement against the imperial tie? It costs something to get the use of the Monument National, and what made the great big meeting a sure thing was the loud proclamation that admission was free. It reveals great zeal in some quarter. It would be libellous to give expression to any surmises, but some surmises are very rife.

ALDERMEN APPROVE PLAN TO HAVE COMMISSIONER OF INDUSTRIES FOR CITY

At the meeting of the committee of the whole council last night, a resolution was passed expressing approval of the proposition to have an industrial commissioner, and to make provision for such an official, and the cost of the work in the estimates for 1910.

A deputation from the Board of Trade, consisting of Mr. D. O'Connell, Mr. W. H. Moore, K.C., Mr. W. H. Denham and Mr. J. H. Larmonth, waited on the committee and took up the question. Mr. O'Connell referred to the splendid results obtained by Mr. Everson Ritchie in this connection in Cleveland, Detroit and Barton. He understood that Mr. Ritchie would be here for a considerable portion of next summer and could give the city assistance in connection with the industrial department. Mr. Ritchie had thorough experience in this work.

Mr. Moore agreed with Mr. O'Connell's presentation of the case.

Mr. Denham said that if half a mill was added to the taxes for 1910 it would raise about $4,500. This would be sufficient to pay a salary of $2,500 per year to the commissioner and leave a tidy sum for his expenses and literature.

Ald. Bradburn supported the proposition.

Ald. Morgan said that proper power was what Peterborough wanted.

Mr. O'Connell, while admitting that the power proposition had something to do with the question, it was not all. Mr. O'Connell, in a twenty-minute speech, outlined the advantages possessed by Peterborough. The present was the opportune time for taking a step forward. The next five years would see a wonderful development in Canada. The cities and towns that were alive to the situation now were the ones that would prosper.

The resolution cited above was passed on motion of Ald. Gillespie and Ald. Dunsom.

The question will be gone into fully at an early date in conjunction with the Board of Trade.

FIVE HOTEL LICENSES WILL HAVE TO BE CANCELLED BY THE COMMISSIONERS

City Council in Committee of the Whole Decides to Reduce the Number to Thirteen — Shop Licenses to Stay as They are—Many Motions Required to Settle the Matter—Aldermen Express Their Views.

If the report of the committee of the whole council is adopted by the city council at its next meeting—and there is every reason to believe that it will—the number of hotel licenses in Peterborough will be reduced from eighteen to thirteen. This was decided on at the meeting held last night when it was also decided to leave the number of shop licenses as they are at present, there being four. As the License Commissioners have notified the council that they will do whatever that body desires in the matter of license reduction, the decision of the council settles the matter. The question now is, where will the axe fall? There is much speculation as to what licenses will be cancelled. This is a matter for the commissioners to decide. They have full power in this respect.

The City Temperance and Moral Reform League asked that the number of hotel licenses be reduced to eight and the number of shop licenses to two. There are eighteen hotel and four shop licenses at the present time. It will be seen that the council granted half of the reduction asked for by the League in the matter of hotel licenses and flatly turned down the request to reduce the number of shop licenses. Among the majority of the aldermen the opinion prevailed that to reduce the number of shops would not tend to reduce the consumption of liquor.

The vote of the aldermen to reduce the number of hotel licenses to thirteen was a tie, six voting for and six against. Mayor Morrow had the casting vote and he decided to stand with those who were in favor of the smaller number of licenses. It took seven [illegible] to settle the matter. The first resolution was to reduce the number of hotel licenses to eight. This was the extreme in one direction. The extreme in the other was a motion to reduce the number to fifteen. There were resolutions to reduce to twelve and fourteen and the discussion was lively although orderly. It looked at one time as if there would be unanimity among the aldermen on the thirteen proposition; but it failed to come about.

On the suggestion of Ald. Hicks it was decided to take up the question of hotel reduction and shop reduction separately.

Letters relating to the question of license reduction were read from Rev. J. G. Potter, president of the Temperance and Moral Reform League, Mr. A. R. Cunningham, and Mr. H. P. Kennedy. Mayor Morrow said that the details of the question were pretty well known to the aldermen, all of whom were present. There were no outsiders on hand. His Worship said it was not necessary to outline the question.

A letter from the License Commissioners stated that they would do whatever the council decided in the matter of license reduction.

Ald. Morgan said he was in the same position as he was a week ago. He favored license reduction because it was the universal opinion that there were too many bars in proportion to the population. The vote was representative on January 3rd on local option and showed the sentiment of the people. License reduction meant the lessening of the consumption of liquor in the city. It would be a good thing for the workmen as pointed out by Mr. B. F. Ackerman. It would improve the social system and be a good thing for the city morally. The reduction of the amount of money spent for liquor meant more money for other purposes. It would therefore improve business.

Ald. Morgan moved that the number of hotel licenses be reduced to eight. Ald. Turner seconded the resolution.

Ald. Bradburn opposed reduction to eight. It was going too far. It would cut off the accommodation for farmers. It would create a monopoly in the business. He moved that the number be reduced to fifteen. Ald. Graham seconded the motion.

Ald. Batten said that both motions were extreme. He considered a reduction to twelve would satisfy all parties. He showed how the reduction in the number of bars would lessen the amount of drinking.

Ald. Duffus took much the same view as Ald. Batten. The day would come when all the bar-rooms would be abolished but it would come about gradually. To reduce the number of hotels to eight would be a hardship on the farmers. If a number of substantial citizens like Mr. Crossman and Mr. Ackerman would give a guarantee that accommodation would be provided for the farmers it would be [illegible] Under the conditions, however, he considered a reduction to twelve would be fair. A bar-room, Ald. Duffus said, was not useful nor ornamental and no use to any class of society.

Ald. Batten moved that the number be reduced to twelve and Ald. Duffus seconded it.

Ald. Morgan said a prominent farmer had told him to cut out all the bars. It would not hurt the farmers.

Ald. Bradburn said a North Monaghan farmer had told him the opposite.

Ald. Metheral proposed that the council recommend to the commissioners that a substantial reduction be made.

Ald. Hicks said he agreed with Ald. Batten in his line of argument. The reduction of the bars would decrease the amount of incidental drinking. Ald. Hicks was not in favor of raising the hotel licenses. It would not be good policy. He would favor a reduction to thirteen, or twelve, or fourteen if an agreement could not be reached on thirteen.

Ald. Phelan said the question should be considered very carefully. He believed the hotels of Peterborough were being well conducted and there should be due consideration before cutting off six or seven licenses with one stroke of the pen. He agreed with Ald. Bradburn.

Ald. Buller suggested that the licenses be reduced by five.

"If you will move that way, I'll second it," Ald. Duncan said.

This was done.

Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Graham withdrew their motion.

Ald. Buller's motion was that the number of licenses be reduced to fourteen.

Ald. Morgan and Turner withdrew their motion to reduce to eight and moved for a reduction to twelve.

When the voting came the Mayor and city clerk had no notice of Ald. Morgan and Ald. Turner withdrawing their motion to reduce to eight.

Six voted for and six against Ald. Buller's motion. The vote was the same on Ald. Batten's motion to reduce to twelve. The motion to reduce to eight did not carry, only two voting for it.

Ald. Bradburn had previously raised the question as to whether the aldermen could vote on more than one resolution and the Mayor decided they could.

Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. Duffus that the reduction be to thirteen.

Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Buller moved that it be fourteen.

The vote on both motions was six-six and the Mayor decided that it should be thirteen.

Those who voted to reduce to thirteen were Ald. Duffus, Gillespie, Turner, Batten, Hicks and Morgan.

Those who voted for fourteen were: Ald. Phelan, Bradburn, Buller, Graham, Metheral and Duncan.

During the discussion Ald. Duffus stated it was hardly fair to have the Council fix the number to be reduced and to have the commissioners name who they should be.

"That's the beauty of it," Ald. Morgan said.

SHOP LICENSES.

Ald. Hicks said he was not going to vote for any reduction of shop licenses. Such a move would not lessen the consumption of liquor, he believed.

Ald. Morgan moved that the number of shop licenses be reduced to the lowest number the law would allow.

Mr. Hall, city solicitor, said the Council could reduce the number to [illegible]

Ald. Hicks and Ald. Metheral moved that no reduction be made.

Ald. Morgan moved that the reduction be to one.

Ald. Turner seconded it.

Ald. Buller suggested that the reduction be to three.

Ald. Duncan favored a reduction to three.

Ald. Batten favored a reduction.

Ald. Morgan's motion was lost, 9—3, and Ald. Hicks' resolution to have no reduction, carried.

MAYOR'S BANQUET A JOLLY FUNCTION

Aldermen, Civic Officers and Others Make Merry at Hooper's—Many Bright Speeches

The "Mayor's banquet" last night at Hooper's was a jolly function. His Worship Mayor Morrow was "at home" to the aldermen, the civic officials, the Water Commissioners, City Trust Commissioners, the press and a few invited citizens. The banquet was held after the meeting of the Council and an excellent repast was served by Mr. Hooper and his capable assistants. Afterwards a toast list was honored and a number of short and bright speeches were made. "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "See Him Smiling" were much to the fore.

After the toast to the King, Ald. Phelan proposed the toast to "The Chairmen of the Committees for 1910," all of whom responded with appropriate remarks. Ald. Hicks told what the Board of Works was going to try to do and Ald. Bradburn explained how the Finance committee was going to be economical without stinting too much. Ald. Morgan said there was going to be harmony in the Fire, Water and Light committee, and Ald. Duncan bespoke a good year for the Property committee. Ald. Duffus was going to try and do good work on the Legal committee with the assistance of the members and the council. Ald. Turner outlined some things he had in his note-book for the coming year as a member of the council and as chairman of the Power committee.

There were cries of "local option" when Ald. Buller proposed the toast to "the Water Commissioners' and Mr. T. F. Matthews made a neat response. Filtered water for the city of Peterborough was one of the things he hoped to see in the near future.

Ald. Batten proposed the toast to the "City Trust Commission' and the responses were by Mr. W. H. Moore, K.C., and Mr. James Stevenson, the "father of the council." Mr. Moore spoke strongly in favor of having certain departments of the city business in charge of commissions as far as the administration was concerned. The executive part of the work could still be in the hands of the council. The fault at present was not in the men but in the system that existed.

Mr. Stevenson told about the early civic affairs of Peterborough, and his speech was exceedingly interesting. History of how the pilfering of a document was necessary back in the sixties in order to save the city from a number of schemers was greeted with loud applause.

Ald. Hicks spoke very highly of Mayor Morrow in proposing the toast to that official and referred to the many good qualities possessed by the gentleman elected to the chief magistrateship of the city on Jan. 3rd. Mr. Morrow made a genial response and was given a most enthusiastic reception.

Ald. Graham proposed the toast to the "city officials' and City Clerk Armstrong, City Treasurer Adams, City Engineer Hay, Chief of Police Roszel and Fire Chief Howard made replies. Mr. Hay advocated a railroad for the northern part of the county, which proposition met with general favor. Chief Howard said there was going to be peace in the fire department this year and that there was every reason to expect good work from the brigade. "Leave the police alone and they will leave you alone," said Chief Roszel.

Ald. Metheral proposed the toast to the "Press,' and Messrs. Sawle and MacRae responded.

Mr. Vincent Eastwood proposed a toast to Mr. J. H. Larmonth and the Radial Railway Company. Mr. Larmonth in responding outlined briefly some of the plans of the company in regard to street railway extension and power development.

The National Anthem brought the happy gathering to a close shortly after midnight.

A PLAY THAT WILL APPEAL TO ALL

"Dave Holcomb" at Grand on Saturday Night—William Lawrence Heads the Cast

A new aspirant for stellar honors in the delineation of quaint New England character, is William Lawrence, a native of Montreal, where he made his first professional appearance, who comes to the Grand Opera House next Saturday in his latest rural dramatic success, "Dave Holcomb." To Mr. Lawrence belongs the distinction of not only having assumed a character made famous by a venerable old actor, whose declining years precluded him from pursuing his life long profession, but (in name, and to all intents and [illegible] himself, so well did he follow every move and gesture and intonation of the voice, and it was not until the expiration of two whole seasons that the deception was divulged. There are many who will recall the work of Mr. Lawrence as "Uncle Josh" in Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead," but few who are familiar with the earlier period of his career, when he was heralded as the veteran old actor himself so completely concealing his identity that even the old-time critics of the larger cities were deceived into the belief that they were witnessing the work of the original artist.

As "Uncle Dave" in "Dave Holcomb," which is a collaboration by Annie Andros Howley and Mr. Lawrence, he has been given a part much on the same lines with a trifle more sentiment, and, if possible, a more generous supply of quaint New England humor. The play will be given with the same cast and scenic embellishment that was seen in Boston, Providence, Philadelphia and other large cities.

A Good Beginning

We have had good cause to say "thank you" for the patronage of 1909. This month so far has surpassed that of last year by 50%. We are sometimes so busy that we cannot wait upon all who come. To avoid this we advise that it is better to make appointments by phone or call, and this saves waiting your turn. Many do this and others will find it advantageous.

1910 has begun well with us. We are thankful, and promise to serve all to the best of our ability.

NTRODUCES AN INNOVATION AT LEGISLATURE OPENING

s Soon as Speech From the Throne is Delivered the Premier Has Thirty-Three New Measures Brought in—Two New Members Presented.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Leaden skies can ardly dampen the enthusiasm gener- ed by social ambition in the breasts the ladies fair, and perhaps in ome of some of the gentlemen as ell, who are wont to turn the Legis- tive Chamber at the Parliament uildings on the occasion of the open- g of the House into a bower of eauty, in which the triumph of the odiste's art are seen in a profusion d variety which fairly bewilder the nses.

The scene in the chamber was prob- bly the most impressive of recent ars. There might have been jost- ng crowds outside, but the sound of was hushed to the fortunate who d the entree. Within all was de- rum. Everything was as the most stidious master-of-ceremonies could ave desired.

Precisely at the stroke of three the pproach of the Lieutenant-Governor as heralded by the strains of the ational Anthem, played by the band the Royal Grenadiers, 100 men om which regiment formed the guard honor at the main entrance. His onor, Col. Gibson, was escorted by a ounted guard of 12 men and an offi- r of the Royal Canadian Dragoons. A detachment of 70 men of the 9th eld Battery, under the command of apt. C. H. Richardson, fired the gen- al salute of 15 guns.

The Lieutenant-Governor resplen- nt in his gold lace and plumed hat, as proceeded up the aisle of the hamber by Major Macdonald, A.D.C., apt. Douglas Young, A.D.C., and eut. Hope Gibson. Following his nor were Gen. Cotton and a bril- antly uniformel staff of some thirty more officers of the Toronto gar- son.

The speech from the throne, while ot forecasting much in the way of blic legislation, contained some not- le declarations, chief among which ay be placed the one dealing with e question of provincial rights in e matter of power legislation.

"Considerable progress have been ade, the statement runs, in carrying t the construction of the transmis- on lines required for the distribu- on of electric power to the various unicipalities that entered into agree- ent with Hydro-Electric Commission r supplies of power. Efforts have the meantime been made by pe- ons in that behalf, and otherwise, secure disallowance of the legisla- on of last session passed at the re- est of municipalities interested. aving for its object confirmation of e contracts entered into between e municipalities and the commis- on. The answer of the province to ese petitions, forwarded on 7th De- mber, 1909, firmly resisted interfer- ce with legislation clearly within e limit of provincial jurisdiction, t up to the present time my Govern- ent has received no information as a decision by the Dominion Gov- ernment.

"In view of the 'remarkable and continuous advance in the price of foodstuffs,' the attention of the Dominion Parliament is called to the situation created and an enquiry suggested."

After the Lieutenant-Governor had left the House the Speaker ascended the dias and read prayers.

Then the two new members who had been elected since the last session made their maiden bow to the Speaker. James W. Doyle, M.P.P. for North Middlesex, was introduced by Sir James Whitney. The sponsor of Robert M. Mason, M.P.P. for East Victoria, was Hon. Col. Matheson.

Mr. Speaker then announced in the moss-grown formula that "to prevent mistakes" he had obtained a copy of the speech from the throne, which he duly threatened to read to the House. Sir James, as usual, murmured "dispensed," and the assembly was spared the reiteration. On the motion of the Premier, seconded by Hon. J. J. Foy, a motion was introduced and carried to take the speech into consideration at to-day's session. Sir James Whitney then moved the usual standing committees.

Departing from the time-honored custom of introducing 'pro forma" a "bill respecting the administration of oaths of office to justice of the peace," in order to maintain the prerogative of the House to proceed to business before considering the address, the Premier announced that he intended to take advantage of the occasion to introduce some 33 bills prepared by the judges who have been engaged on the revision of the statutes. These, which were all in the nature of consolidations, were given a first reading, and will come up for the second reading this afternoon.

The House then adjourned till 3 p.m. to-day.

After the session nearly all the guests proceeded to the Speaker's apartments, where an informal reception was held.

Four Years and Lashes.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Four years in Kingston penitentiary, and further, that ten days hence he shall receive 15 lashes, and again, at the end of six months, he shall receive yet another 15 lashes. This was the sentence passed upon Harry Morgan, 56 years of age, when he was convicted in the Police Court yesterday morning of an indecent assault upon two little girls, five and six years of age.

Lightning Brings Wealth.

Dalhart, Texas, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Jos. Pettis yesterday declared that a bolt of lightning struck the ground on the mountain-side near her farmhouse recently and uncovered a spring of crude oil, which is now producing 200 barrels daily. The land hitherto barely yielded enough to support her.

SIR WILFRID WANTS N.T.R. CONTRACTS INVESTIGATED

Allegations of Breaches of Faith Made Against Contractors by Former Chief Engineer Lumsden Form the Subject of a Resolution.

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—Sir Wilfrid Lauier yesterday moved a resolution calling upon the House to appoint a special committee of five members, to conduct an enquiry into charges of lack of faith made by Hugh Lumsden, former chief engineer of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission, against the engineers in district B, east of Quebec, and in district F.

The Premier read a letter from Hon. S. N. Parent, chairman of the commission, asking that a Parliamentary enquiry be instituted. Sir Wilfrid said that it would not be the duty of the House to fix the amount of overclassification, but to establish whether or not there had been bad faith and wrong classification, due to ignorance or to other causes.

Haughton Lennox (South Simcoe) presented the opposition view. Nothing would satisfy the country, he said, but an enquiry covering the whole line from Moncton to Winnipeg. Mr. Fielding had informed Parliament that the cost of the Moncton-Quebec section would not exceed $25,000 per mile, and that the Winnipeg-Quebec section would be built for $28,000 per mile.

Mr. Fielding: "I made the statement on the authority of Collingwood Schreiber, consulting engineer of the Government."

Mr. Lennox said that the actual cost of the line so far had been $33,000 per mile, on the portion constructed by J. D. McArthur. The resolution was a gold brick. The Hoggins charges had not been withdrawn, but had been stiffened. The power behind the throne which was causing the Government to institute what he regarded as a fake investigation, was the chairman of the commission. When Mr. Parent pulled the wires the Premier had to dance.

He moved in conclusion that a committee of seven members be appointed to investigate all charges and all other matters connected with or relating to construction of eastern division of the railway and the expenditure of public moneys thereon.

Hon. Mr. Graham said that Mr. Lennox's remarks were a splendid illustration of the necessity of having an independent tribunal to adjust disputes, as the one in question. Good progress had been made with the arbitration and since the retirement of Lumsden as chief engineer, there had been but one instance where two chief engineers had failed to agree.

C.P.R. OFFICIALS NOW ESTIMATE THE NUMBER OF DEAD AT ABOUT FORTY

Montreal, Jan. 26.—It was stated at the Canadian Pacific headquarters last night that five more bodies had been discovered in the river at Webbwood— that of Lavery, the C.P.R. fireman, J. Lucant, a foreigner from Rhinelander, Wisconsin; Frank Morrison, bound for Ekoba, Ont.; Dr. McLellan of Sudbury, and Charles Carey, the airbrake inspector, who was on the train. This brings the company's official list of dead up to forty.

Strenuous efforts are still being made by divers to search the wreckage under the ice in the river in case there should be still more bodies there, but this is difficult work, as the wreckage is under heavy ice, while the bottom of the river is soft mud, covered with wreckage.

The conviction is expressed by the Canadian Pacific officials that the list of dead has been almost closed, as the present list of dead, injured and others tallies closely with the number supposed to have been on the train. Exact figures are unobtainable, since it was not possible to find just how many people were on the train at the time the accident happened, while in the confusion after the accident a number of those who sustained minor injuries or were unhurt left the place without any record.

In an official statement yesterday afternoon regarding the affair Mr. D. McNicoll, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, said: "There is no truth in many of the reports which have been sent out regarding the Webbwood accident, especially as to the circumstances surrounding the death of the victims. We have reported the names of the victims as we were able to secure them, and we have taken every possible care of everybody who was so unfortunate as to be in the accident. I may say that the officials of the Canadian Pacific feel the blow ten times more severely than those who have been writing about it.

"It was bad enough, God knows, without making it appear worse than it was.

"As far as can be ascertained there was nobody, living or dead on the car when it was burned. I have met several who were on the scene immediately after the accident, before the wrecked car caught fire, and they all state that there was no one on the car when it was burnt. The stories of injured people being cremated are pure fiction. Our reports from the hospitals show that none of the injured suffered from burns, the only one who showed any signs of fire being a boy whose hair was singed. Since the accident everything possible has been done to look after the injured, and to treat the bodies of the dead with every consideration."

As to the cause of the accident, Mr. McNicoll stated that this had not yet been discovered. Mr. J. W. Leonard returned yesterday from the scene, but had not been able to find any evidence which would show what had derailed the car which caused the smash.

"I have seen half a dozen people," said the vice-president, "who were on the train, and they state that it was running sharp on time, and proceeding at its usual rate of thirty to thirty-five miles an hour. There is no ground for the theory that the train was running at excessive speed, and there are so many causes which might have led to the derailing of the car that it is impossible to theorize. An investigation will be held, both by the coroner there, and the engineers of the Railway Commission, and the C.P.R. will do everything in its power to bring out the facts."

BRITAIN MAY HAVE ANOTHER ELECTION IN THREE MONTHS

Spirit of Concession is Necessary Among the Parties in the New Commons or a Deadlock Seems Inevitable—Veto Powers of House of Lords.

London, Jan. 26.—Five hundred and fifty-nine members of the new Parliament have been elected. They are distributed as follows: Unionists 238, Liberals 213, Lab rites 36, Nationalists 72.

Unionist gains continue with unbroken regularity. Out of 33 results declared yesterday, they had nine gains, of which one was in Scotland and one in Ireland. Against these, the Liberals were only able to set two gains in Scotland, Lanarkshire, Govan and N.W. The Unionists gained Renfrewshire East.

The air is full of suggestions of compromise, but nothing is likely to be decided until the Prime Minister calls a meeting of the Cabinet next week for a Parliamentary discussion of the terms of the royal speech for the opening of the new Parliament.

Various measures are expected to be promised in the King's speech, including Welsh disestablishment, unemployment insurance and the veto of the House of Lords. The veto question will be the first taken up after the address in reply to the King's speech is disposed of, according to rumor from a reliable source last night.

Premier Asquith's present idea is only to propose that the House of Lords be deprived of the power of vetoing finance bills, but it is practically certain that such a restricted measure will not satisfy the Nationalists, to say nothing of the Radicals, and unless the Government proposes to limit the Lords' veto on all legislation, it is exceedingly likely that there will be a split in the Liberal ranks.

Mr. Asquith's position promises to be one of great difficulty, says one writer, and although both sides denounce any suggestion of compromise, such a course is not improbable, but it is difficult to see what form it can take. Some suggest an independent neutral administration with Lord Rosebery presiding, but even if he would accept office, which is very doubtful, the parties would still be in an exceedingly precarious and restless state. If another election within the next three months is to be avoided, extensive concessions are imperative.

KAISER AT THE FRENCH EMBASSY

Berlin, Jan. 26.—The Emperor and Empress, Crown Prince Frederick William and Crown Princess, Prince Henry of Prussia and some twenty other German royal personages spent last evening at the French embassy, where they were entertained. Yesterday His Majesty opened an exhibition of French pictures, bronzes and tapestries, loaned from public and private galleries in France to Germany.

This is the first time the Emperor has visited the French embassy since the Algeciras conference.

SECOND VICTIM

Another Italian Dead as Result of the Grafton Shooting Tragedy

Special to the Review.

Cobourg, Jan. 26.—Gunflome Guffete, the second victim of yesterday's shooting affray at Grafton, died at the Cobourg hospital this morning. About eight o'clock last night the prisoner, Meronte, was taken to the hospital, where he was identified by Goffette as the man who did the shooting.

THE FAMOUS DR. WILEY ARRESTED

Pittsburg, Jan. 26.—Dr. C. C. Wiley, the famous Thaw alienist, is a bankrupt through that case. He is known the country wide for his sanitary camp exploits in the Spanish war.

He was arrested yesterday for alleged larceny of jewels, the gift of a fiancee, from a woman patient. The theft will probably stop the wedding as well.

WILL BE BURIED AT BOBCAYGEON

Toronto, Jan. 26.—The body of R. A. Booth, who was killed in the Webbwood wreck, arrived at the Union Depot yesterday morning. It was taken to his late home and a service was held ther elast night. The body will be taken to Bobcaygeon, where interment will take place, on the 9 o'clock train this morning.

TUESDAY'S POLLING FAVORS UNIONISTS

Special to Review.

London, Jan. 26.—Fifty-three returns from yesterday's polling give the Unionists six gains and the Liberals two. The parties now stand:—Unionists 255, Liberals 231, Labor 38, Nationalists 74.

Asquith was re-elected by an increased majority. Naval appropriations will be greatly increased and include four dreadnoughts and five thousand additional men.

The financial eport shows receipts of $16,587.01. nd expenditure $12,431.39. The membership is now 2,569. The Government has been requested to provide a esting laboratory for all classes of tructural materials. The question of aking interference with civil engineers in the performance of their duies an indictable offence was left over o the new council.

EAT TOO DEAR FOR MRS. GREEN

New York, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Hattie reen, who has more millions than ost persons have hundreds, declared esterday that meat is too dear for er, at present prices.

Mrs. Green entered a modest upown restaurant and scanned the bill f fare. Steak she found at 50 cents a ortion, and roast lamb and roast beef t 35 cents. She took halibut, at fifteen cents.

"Have you joined the boycott?" aked a friend.

"No," said Mrs. Green, "but meat s too high. You don't get your oney's worth. People really can't fford to eat it. There are other hings just as good and cheaper."

UNERAL OF REV. MR. CHILDERHOUSE

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Rev. Dr. Mc ean, secretary, Presbyterian Home Mission Board, left last night to attend the funeral of Rev. S. Childerhouse, of North Bay, who was a victim of the Spanish River wreck. The funeral will take place to-day. So far no appointment has been made to fill the pulpit.

Life Imprisonment for Assault.

Sherbrooke, Que., Jan. 26.—After being out three minutes the jury in the case of Williams, charged with assault on a little seven-year-old girl at Stanstead, returned a verdict of guilty. Williams was sentenced to life imprisonment.

INDIA HAS A NOTABLE DAY

Calcutta, Jan. 26.—The new Imperial Legislative Council, through which the natives will be afforded a larger share in the administration of the affairs of British India, met for the first time yesterday.

Lord Minto, the viceroy, who presided, described the event as a "great historical occasion, opening a new era with the inauguration of broader principles of government." While admitting that "much of the existing political discontent is thoroughly justifiable," he declared that the "British administration will no longer tolerate the preachings of the revolutionary press and is now determined to bridle literary license."

QUEEN'S TO TEACH COLONIAL HISTORY

Kingston, Jan. 26.—A new chair, that of a course in Canadian and colonial history, is to be established at Queen's at the fall term. William Grant, M.A., son of the late Principal Grant, will be the professor. He is at present lecturer in colonial history at Oxford University.

It is understood that $50,000, promised by Dr. James Douglas of New York, will be utilized for the endowment of the new chair.

Another Mad Dog Scare.

Chatham, Jan. 26.—After Feb. 1 all dogs running at large in the city will have to have collars and tags or they will be shot or impounded. A few days ago a dog in Tilbury went mad and roamed as far as Merlin, where it bit several dogs before it was shot. Fifteen dogs in Merlin have since been shot.

Four school children at the Valetta school were also bitten by this dog.

TWO KILLED IN RAILWAY WRECK

Utica, N.Y., Jan. 26.—The engine on the New York Central, 20th Century Limited, eastbound, turned completely over about a quarter of a mile west of St. Johnsville yesterday morning at 5:40. It slid 300 feet before it stopped, and is torn and wrecked beyond repair. Fireman John Hinsil of Syracuse and Engineer John Scanlon of Syracuse were killed. None of the coaches left the track.

FLOODS IN MANY PARTS OF FRANCE

Paris, Jan. 26.—The floods have brought disaster to a large part of France. The ordinarily modest and peaceful Seine is now a raging torrent and rising at the rate of more than half an inch an hour. It will continue to rise until to-morrow.

The victims of the flood number more than a hundred thousand, and the monetary loss is incalculable. Thousands of poor are hopelessly ruined and are fleeing to Paris.

In many cases the soldiers have been obliged to use force in compelling the inhabitants to evacuate their homes. Hundreds of them refused to leave, clamoring only for food and drink.

The flood in Paris is invading the compactly built area on either side of the Seine, undermining the residences and public buildings and forcing the evacuation of many houses. Every hour helps to complete the tie-up of the telephone, telegraph and railroads, and in every section gas and electric lights are failing. Paris is practically cut off south and west, and the question of food supplies will soon become menacing. The public relief fund is swelling. President Fallieres heads the list with $4,000. The Rothschilds have given $20,000, the Bank of France, $10,000, and the Banque de Paris et des Pays-Bas $10,000.

AWFUL FLOOD IS AVERTED

Austin, Pa., Jan. 26.—A big concrete dam above this city containing a body of water 50 feet deep, 60 feet wide and nearly a mile long showed signs of giving way Monday. A large gang of men set to work blasting out the end of the breast dam. Others worked all night trying to reach a release valve at the bottom of the dam. They succeeded and the water was gradually released.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

The Manitoba Legislature has been summoned to meet on Feb. 10.

Newfoundland has experienced extraordinary spring-like weather during the past week. There is no snow.

Wm. L. Grant, son of the late principal, has been appointed to the new chair of colonial history at Queen's University.

A. W. Campbell, Deputy Minister of Public Works for Ontario, has been appointed Deputy Minister of Railways at Ottawa, to succeed Mr. M. J. Butler.

British Columbia Liberals are reorganizing, and propose to hold a provincial convention during the coming summer and invite Sir Wilfrid Laurier to attend.

Following in the footsteps of citizens and labor unions of United States cities a crusade was started last night by the Toronto labor unions, against the retail meat dealers.

Roman Tahirsky is dead in a New New York hospital. During a rough and tumble fight in a brass foundry yesterday a fellow-employe threw him into a tubful of diluted sulphuric acid.

Despite the fears of many fishing captains that Newfoundland west coast herring fisheries are becoming depleted, the catch for the season now ended shows an increase of 20,000 barrels over last year. The total catch amounts to 84,000 barrels.

The fact that Canada and the United States are engaged in a co-operative scheme for the establishment of an international park of about 50,000 square miles along the backbone of the continent in the two countries was developed in the U. S. Senate yesterday.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW.

Simcoe's New Warden.

Barrie, Jan. 26.—Reeve A. C. Garden of Barrie was elected warden of Simcoe County yesterday afternoon, after a contest in which thirteen councillors participated. Eight ballots were cast.

The new warden is one of the most widely-known men in the Dominion, being vice-president of the National Drug Co. and their traveler in this district.

Extension of Railway Charters.

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—The old question of the extension of railway charters without limit came up before the railway committee of the Commons yesterday morning, and upon the suggestion of Mr. Turriff of Assiniboia, a sub-committee was named to revise the rules so as to secure greater safeguards against unlimited extension of charters.

Cattle Prices Lowered.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 26.—Another reduction of ten cents on a hundred pounds was quoted yesterday on all live stock. While the price has been going down steadily at the stock yards, there has been no lowering of retail prices. Eggs fell off six cents.

Chinamen Caught In Potato Car.

Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 26.—Secreted in a carload of potatoes, five Chinamen were found twenty miles east of Malone by customs officials. They had a stove and wood, several cans of water and baskets of food. The car was billed to Springfield, Mass.

Farmer's Fatal Slip.

Kingston, Jan. 26.—The Grand Trunk express, running east on Monday afternoon, killed Henry Orr, a farmer, Willetts Holme, Pittsburg County, on a crossing near his house. He leaves a wife and five children.

Democrats Oppose It.

Washington, Jan. 26.—President Taft's federal incorporation bill will meet almost solid Democratic opposition, according to Republican Senators who have canvassed the situation.

Montrealer Arrested.

Washington, B.C., Jan. 26.—Indicted in the District of Columbia on a charge of fraud in connection with the National Trust Co., organized to guarantee stocks and bonds, Samuel Graham, an officer of the company, was arrested at his home in Montreal, yesterday. He agreed to waive extradition. His bail was fixed at $5,000.

Attacked the Guard.

Winnipeg, Jan. 26.—Friare Nikel, under arrest awaiting trial for robbery and arson at Morden, attempted to escape Monday. He stole up behind the guard and struck him over the head with a metal pail, and then taking the keys endeavored to make his way out, but was recaptured. The guard is seriously injured.

New Hotel for Montreal.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—The site of the old down-town Carsley store has been sold for $650,000 and a company capitalized at $900,000 has been formed to establish a hotel called the Royal Edward. Frank Gallagher is to be the manager.

Will Sue For $10,000.

Woodstock, Jan. 26.—The parents of the Zuffelts, brother and sister, killed by a G.T.R. passenger at Beachville, are claiming $10,000 damages from the company. The coroner's jury found that the warning signal had not been given.

Newfoundland Events.

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 26.—The Legislature will open Wednesday.

Thursday the Newfoundland newspapers will print their issues on the first paper manufactured in this colony from native stock.

W. J. Locke In Divorce Suit.

London, Jan. 26.—W. J. Locke, the novelist, was named as the co-respondent in an undefended divorce suit brought by Percy Close, an engineer, against his wife. A decree was granted the plaintiff.

DEAR FOOD

In Scotland the problem of dear food was solved a long time ago. Oats are utilized in various ways and they serve the purpose of cheap and good food, admirably. Rye in the form of bread gives a better food and cheaper than wheat does. Meat is not necessary to the health and strength of mankind. The Jew avoids pork. Mutton is the favorite of the Scotch and Welsh. Vegetables and cereals may be made general use of and form a better base of supplies than that at present in vogue. Clothing also has become an item of excessive expense to many. In the old countries, garments are of such a strong and excellent character that they descend from father to son and mother to daughter. Waste as it prevails on this continent is practically unknown abroad. The borrowing of so much money and the apparent plentiful supply has caused the excessive rise in prices in Canada. The trusts do not as yet affect us as they do the U. S., but as the Toronto Star points out things are veering in that direction here also. Old timers agree that our present make of food does not compare with that of the earlier generation. "Fantastic" is the word used to describe the fancy brands of everything now. "Solid" described the sort that built up the bone and sinew of our forefathers. Flat pies, green tea, fat pork, cakes, etc., provide the patent medicine manufacturers' patrons with various and multifarious cures for indigestion. Big wholesome puddings, deep juicy tarts, joints cooked on the spit with the juice all in, bread that was bread, porridge that didn't resemble saw-dust, etc., were what gave bloom to the women and strength to the men of the forties and fifties. Nowadays it's sweetmeats and frills. They are prettier to look at and more expensive but they will have to be given up if we are to get the "worth of our money and the right change back."

DR. MACDONALD

There will be a bumper Canadian Club attendance on Saturday evening next at the club's banquet, we may be sure of that. The tickets are selling fast. Dr. Macdonald is more in demand than any other public speaker in Canada and it is a great sacrifice for him to come here. His subject is, 'What Canada may learn from Britain.'" It will be a 'great' evening and will be the occason of much intellectual as well as physical enjoyment. As editor of the Globe, Dr. Macdonald, has made that paper a power in the journalistic world in that he is known to stand always for a "square deal" and is able to rise in politics also above the narrow confines of mere partisanship. In these days a man who "tells the truth" is so rare that we want to see him, we must see him. Such a man is so beset with scoffers, knockers and detractors that when he comes to the front he does so by sheer weight and merit. As a speaker Dr. Macdonald has few, if any, equals, and his enthralling eloquence will be sure to "capture" his audience. Our own Mr J. O'Connell, who will occupy the chair as president of the Club, is not unlike him in that, despite his being a lawyer and therefore open to be engaged to talk at so much per—yet he could not be paid to lie. Both are of Keltic blood and both are an honor to that race.

THE KNOCKERS KNOCKED

Jack Johnson, the champion fighter, gives the knockers a jab as follows:

New York, Jan. 24.—Sunday afternoon Johnson addressed the colored men's branch of the Y.M.C.A. at No. 252 West 53rd street, and told the 500 young men gathered there to avoid drink, to live clean lives, and urged the extension of the Y.M.C.A. to protect more members of the colored race from the pitfalls of the saloon and poolrooms. Johnson declared that he felt absolutely certain of victory in the coming battle with Jeffries.

"My parents intended that I should be a Methodist minister," said Johnson, in addressing the members of the Y.M.C.A. "In fact I studied for the ministry a short time. However, I was sidetracked by pugilism, but have made a success of it. The position I now hold was won by my own work. I never copied from anyone, and am original in my methods of fighting.

"I would much rather talk here than in the places I usually frequent. I don't like to go to saloons and such places, but the sporting element, on whom I depend for my living, frequent those places, and I have to go there."

Johnson was elected sparring instructor of the proposed new gymnasium of the Y.M.C.A., which is to be opened next year. He promised to assist in raising $50,000 to erect the proposed building.

Poor Johnson doesn't seem to know that the more the saloons are suppressed the more and worse the drinking becomes. (Vide Mr. B. Laster.)

EDITORIAL NOTES

"It's a mighty rotten character of a man who doesn't know enough to stand for a square deal," says Mistah Johnsing. "He's got to when he gets in the ring, anyhow."

The "independence of Canada" movement now on in French Canada is not confined to Liberals by any means. Yet it is the Liberal policy at Ottawa that finds favour in their eyes.

We recommend our readers to note the question of the "Problem of Prices" as dealt with in an extract from the Literary Digest in another column.

King Edward has forbidden Lady Constance Richardson to appear at court because she earned her living by dancing at a music hall. The Salome dance offended His Majesty, who is of opinion that freedom of manners and licence in that direction are two entirely different and irreconcileable things. Tempora murantur.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

FARMER'S CLUB HELD SPLENDID MEETING

A well attended and most successful meeting of the Central Smith Farmers' Club was held Monday evening. Mr. T. G. Raynor of the Seed Branch, Ottawa, who was in the city in connection with the Three Day Short Course now going on, gave a most valuable address. If the points raised were put into practice by the farmers of Smith, they would greatly increase the returns from their acres. He urged the careful selection of all seeds and showed that it paid to take out at least one bushel from four, or 25 per cent. of the grain as it came from the thresher before using it as seed.

Mr. G. A. Brethen of Norwood, the young farmer and Holstein breeder who recently won the first place in the Good Farms Competition conducted by Farm and Dairy for Peterborough County and who also won fourth place for the district east of Toronto, was present and gave a most acceptable talk on things of prime interest to the farmers of Smith.

Mr. H. C. Duff of the Department of Agriculture, Norwood, and Mr. Chas. C. Nixon, Editor, Farm and Dairy, also addressed the gathering.

Accidents Due to Lack of Pilots.

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—The marine committee considered the bill which proposes to exempt Ontario vessels from the payment of pilotage dues at Montreal, thereby removing discrimination. Thomas Robb of Montreal, on behalf of the coasting trade, opposed the bill on the ground that exemption of pilotage dues would be a menace to shipping, but A. Gauthier, president of the Montreal Pilots' Corporation, said that accidents on the St. Lawrence were usually due to the failure of Ontario vessels to employ pilots.

Live Stock in the United States.

Washington, D.C., Jan. 26.—The price of horses, according to the Department of Agriculture, rose from an average of $96.64 apiece in 1908 to $103.19 in 1909.

Compared with Jan. 1, 1909, the following changes are indicated: Horses have increased 400,000; mules 70,000; milch cows 81,000; other cattle decreased 2,100,000; sheep increased 1,133,000; swine decreased 6,365,000.

Suicides In Cell.

New York, Jan. 26.—A safety razor blade and a dose of paris green brought self-inflicted death to Jesse Furnell, a negro prisoner in the Tombs yesterday. He was charged with murder.

TITLES BOUGHT BY HEIRESSES

Partial List of Famous International Marriages—Where the Money Went

The following is a partial list of the famous international marriages of American heiresses:—

Miss May Goelet, who brought the Duke of Roxburghe $25,000,000.

Miss Bradley Martin, whom the Earl of Craven took with her $15,000,000.

Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, whose $12,000,000 is rehabilitating the estate of Count Szechenyi.

Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts, who brought a like sum to Colonel Ralph Vivian.

Miss Anna Gould whom the Count de Castellane took with $10,000,000.

Miss Pauline Astor, who carried as much to H. H. Spender-Clay.

Mrs. Lily Hammersley, whose $3,000,000 went successively to the keeping of the Duke of Marlborough and Lord William Beresford.

Mrs. Livermore O'Brien, who had $8,000,000 when she married the Baron Raymond Seilliere.

Miss Ethel Field, whom Captain David Beatty captured with another $8,000,000.

Miss Edith Collins, provided with $7,000,000, taken over by the Count Czaykowski.

Miss Helen Morton, whom the Duc de Valencay secured with her $6,000,000.

Miss Mary Leiter, whose $6,000,000 went to make the career in India of that gorgeous viceroy, Lord Curzon.

Miss Nancy Leiter, same amount to the credit of the Hon. Colin Campbell.

Miss Alice Thaw, whose misery with the Earl of Yarmouth was bought at the odd price of $5,000,000.

Miss Sarah Stokes, who went to Baron Halkett with a like amount.

Miss Pauline Whitney, whose $5,000,000 went to the Hon. Almeric Hugh Paget.

Miss Elena Grace, who helps along the Earl of Donoughmore with $5,000,000.

Miss Amy Phipps, who is now the Hon. Frederick Guest, with her $5,000,000.

Miss Sharon, who married Sir Thomas Hesketh and took over her comfortable $5,000,000.

Miss Adrel Sampson, who became the Duchess de Dino at $5,000,000.

As for the lesser millions, they are only a good deal more numerous, and a good deal less valuable, than the brides who accompanied them.

Other American women who became the brides of titled husbands and took their fortune abroad with them are: Miss Minnie Stevens, married to Sir Arthur Paget, $4,000,000; Miss Elizabeth French to Lord Cheylesmore, Miss Harriet Gammell to T. Shaw Safe, Miss Victoria Bonynge to Viscount Deerhurst, each $3,000,000; Miss Belle Wilson to Sir Michael Shcherby, Miss Helen L. Gammell to Sir Arthur Sherbert, Miss Kinney to Count Gianotti, Mrs. KipMcCreery to the Hon. Henry Coventry, Miss Pinchot to the Hon. Alan Johnstone, Miss Gwendolyn Caldwell to Marquis de Monstuis-Merinville, Miss Caldwell to Baron von Zedwitz, Miss Folsa Davis to the Marquis of Dufferin, Miss Helena Zimmerman to the Duke of Manchester, Miss Madeleine Goddard to the Marquis d'Andigne, each $2,000,000, and Miss Whittier to Prince Serge Belosselky Belosselky, Miss Anne Breese to Lord Alastair Innes-Ker, Miss Eloise Breese to Lord Willoughby d'Eresby, Miss Florence Audenreid to Baron de la Forest Divonne, Miss Eva Barbey to Count Hermann de Pourtales, Miss Edith Garner to Count von Moltke Hartfeldt, Miss Florence Garner to Sir W. Gordon Cummings, Miss Livermoore to Count Odon de Loberrue, Miss Milne to Prince Radziwill, Miss Mitchell to the Duc de Rochefoucald, Miss Louise Corbin to the Earl of Orford, Miss Haggin to Count Tolna de Festetics, Miss Clark Huntingdon to Prince Hatzfeldt, Miss Jennie Jerome to Lord Randolph Churchill, each $1,000,000.

If one of several proposed bills to tax the fortunes of all heiresses who marry foreign husbands had gone through the sum total of the taxes on the fortunes of the above-mentioned women would have reached the tidy sum of $97,000,000.

HALL'S BRIDGE

Special to Review

Hall's Bridge, Jan. 24.—Saturday's storm has left the roads in a very bad condition.

A large crowd gathered at Buckhorn rink on Friday night last, for a few hours' pleasure.

Mr. A. R. Ivey, of Winnipeg, is visiting at the home of Mr. W. N. Blewett's.

Mr. J. Cheaney is anticipating having a dance in his new brick house.

Mrs. George Harrison had company on Thursday.

The Ladies' Aid of Buckhorn Presbyterian church will meet at Mrs. Stewart's this evening.

Misses Ruby and Pearl Jones are at present visiting friends in Lindsay.

Misses Minnie and Gladys Pearson visited at Mr. Frank Pearson's, Sunday.

Miss Rose Blewett spent Thursday the guest of Mrs. Will Pearson.

Mr. Frank Allen spent Friday in Buckhorn.

Miss Madge Shaw passed through Buckhorn on her way to Lakehurst, to-day.

Mr. George Pearson spent Sunday evening in Buckhorn.

LATEST NEWS FROM BETHEL

Special to the Review.

Bethel, Emily, Jan. 24.—Messrs. Arthur Franks and George Boate have completed drawing brick for the erection of their new houses.

Miss Ida Switzer, the delegate from our Epworth League to the missionary convention in Lindsay, left for there to-day.

We are pleased to learn of the recovery of Mr. J. T. Switzer, who has been suffering from an attack of appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Lang and Miss Mary Lang, of Lebanon, were the guests of Mrs. Lang's sister, Mrs. John Switzer, last Thursday.

Mr. Richard McCracken and friend, of Westwood, visited acquaintances here last week.

The service here was not very largely attended last night as the stormy gale that visited the vicinity last Saturday left some of the roads in bad condition.

Mr. Charlie Milk, who has completed a very successful season of grain threshing, is at present threshing clover in the vicinity.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. F. McGee, who was very ill, is recovering.

BAILLIEBORO

Special to Review.

Bailleboro, Jan. 24. — The worst snowstorm of the season struck this village on Saturday and continued throughout the afternoon and night. Traffic and communication of all character is being maintained with great difficulty.

The annual banquet held in connection with the S. O. E. Society of Bailleboro took place on Monday evening, Jan. 10th. A good turn-out and a most elaborate supper made the occasion a decided success.

Messrs. N. W. Armstrong and J. Roavear left on Monday, Jan. 10th, for Guelph, to attend the Short Courses in connection with the O.A.C.

Miss Pearl Heaslip, of Toronto, is spending the holidays with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mollroy, of Alameda, Sask., have been visiting friends in this vicinity.

The annual New Year's entertainment held in connection with Christ Church Bailleboro, took place on Tuesday evening, Jan. 18th. Notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather and the bad condition of the roads a large crowd turned out. The principal feature of the evening was the production of the comedy drama entitled "Diamonds and Hearts," which held the audience in high spirits from start to finish. Special mention is due Mr. Harrison, of Hampton, N. B., who favored the audience with several vocal selections.

Much regret is expressed throughout the neighborhood at the removal of Mr. R. G. Simpson, general merchant and ex-postmaster, who leaves this week for Bethany, Wellington county, where he has purchased an extensive stock of general merchandise.

THEATRICAL

Almost all the professional artists engaged at Toronto play houses this week or as many of them as were at leisure were present at the performance of the Cohan and Harris minstrels this afternoon, where the management gave a professional matinee. Miss Viola Allen and her distinguished company were the especial guests of Mr. George Evans ("Honey Boy"), the chief comedian of the company.

Last year 8,446 new books and 2,779 new editions were published in Great Britain, an increase of 904.

Five thread mills at Pawtucket, R. I., are closed and 2,500 persons were thrown out of employment.

The $6,000,000 voted by the Italian Parliament to relieve sufferers in Messina was used for reconstructing public buildings.

HIS LONG-DELAYED PROPOSAL.

French Story of Note in Bouquet That Was for Years Unanswered.

One of the longest delayed proposals on record is related in a French story of a shy young subaltern who was ordered away to the wars. Not daring to speak, he sent a nosegay of yellow roses to the girl he loved, with a little note inside begging her, if she returned his love, to wear one of the flowers in her breast that night at the ball. She appeared without it, and he went away broken-hearted.

Years afterward, when he was a lame old general, he again met his old love, now a white-haired widow. One day his old sweetheart gently asked him why he had never married. "Madam," he answered somewhat sternly, "you ought to know best. If you had not refused to answer that note in the bouquet of yellow roses I might have been a happier man." "The note in the bouquet?" she repeated, growing pale.

She opened an old cabinet and took out from a drawer a shriveled bouquet of what had been yellow roses, among whose leafless stalks lurked a scrap of paper yellow with age. "See! I never had your note," she said, holding the bouquet up. "If I had I would not have answered it as you fancied." "Then answer it now," said the gallant old soldier. And the long delayed proposal was accepted at last.

HAD TO BE IN PROPER FORM.

Without His Retaining Fee Young Lawyer Could Not Act.

An impecunious young lawyer recently received the following letter from a tailor to whom he was indebted:

"Dear Sir—Kindly advise me by return mail when I may expect a remittance from you in settlement of my account. Yours truly, J. Snippem."

The follower of Blackstone immediately replied:

"Dear Sir—I have your request for advice of a recent date, and beg leave to say that not having received any retainer from you I cannot act in the premises. Upon receipt of your check for $250 I shall be very glad to look the matter up for you and to acquaint you with the results of my investigations. I am, sir, with great respect, your most obedient servant, Barclay B. Coke."—Success Magazine.

The Conjurer Confesses.

That "the hand is quicker than the eye" is one of those accepted sayings invented by someone who knew nothing of conjuring—or, as is more likely, by some cunning conjurer who aimed still further to hoodwink a gullible public. The fact is that the best conjurer seldom makes a rapid motion, for that attracts attention, even though it be not understood. The true artist in this line is deliberate in every movement, and it is mainly by his actions that he leads his audience to look not where they ought, but in an entirely different direction. Mr. David Devant, who for a number of consecutive years has entertained London with his ingenious tricks, has said: "The conjurer must be an actor. By the expression of his face, by his gestures, by the tone of his voice, in short, by his acting, he must produce his effects."—St. Nicholas.

Eve Was a Lunger.

Man still carries the original number of ribs, but he is short of a lung lobe. Where did he lose it? Eve got it. Man's right lung to-day consists of three lobes; man's left lung to-day consists of two lobes. Let us consider the missing lobe on the left. The lungs, mind you, are the life. Eve was made out of Adam's third lung lobe on the left, the lobe nearest the heart. She was constructed out of wind mostly. That is—she took part of Adam's breath away. Adam's posterity of the male persuasion in these latter days can count on only five lobes to both lungs; while Eve's daughters can count on seven; which accounts for woman having the last word in a controversy.—New York Press.

Reciprocity.

There is a little shop in Park place before the door of which is a small box. The top is fastened by a padlock. The key is kept in a hiding place known only to the man who keeps the shop, and to the postman. When the postman has a letter for that number he unlocks the little box, drops in the mail, finds a cigar, locks the box and proceeds on his way. This has been going on a long time. The man who keeps the shop lives over on Long Island. He has no clerk and comes to business whenever the spirit moves him.—New York Times.

The Stock Gambler's Voice.

As a rule, great manipulators have high, thin voices and take a distrustful view of securities. Their vocal peculiarity must be left as an arbitrary fact; as to their bearish slant of mind, it is easily accounted for. It comes of the fact that their services are more often solicited by men having something to sell than by men wishing to buy—in the ratio of about five to one. Nevertheless there is no instance of a bear manipulator's having died rich. It is a bull's country.—Everybody's Magazine.

His Kick.

"I do wish," said Mrs. Stiles, "that you'd try to keep yourself neater."

"But, my dear," protested her husband, "you're not so careful—"

"I'm not? I'm certainly more careful of my clothes than you—"

"That's just it. You should be more careful of me."

Wm. Jogue, an M.C.R. machinist at St. Thomas, had both legs broken by the fall of a wheel tire.

A TREE THAT IS WORSHIPED.

Ficus Religiosa Held Sacred by Buddhists and Hindoos.

In most of the countries of southeastern Asia, the Indian Ficus religiosa, the sacred and consecrated fig tree, or peepil tree, is found. It is held pre-eminently sacred by the Buddhists, and is revered also by the Hindoos, the birth of Vishnu having occurred beneath its branches.

It is a handsome tree, growing frequently to a great height. It is an evergreen, which puts forth its flowers in April, and the bark yields freely upon incision an acrid milk containing a considerable proportion of india rubber. The leaves are heart-shaped, long, pointed and vibrate in the air like those of the aspen.

A branch of one of these trees, having a notable history, was sent to a city in the interior of Ceylon, where it was planted, and became known by the name of the bo-tree. For 200 years it received the highest reverence, and is still the chief object of worship to the pilgrims who every year flock to the ruins of the city.

Trim Your Nails.

There is a certain eminent physician who, wiser than the children of light, plods his way along in an unbeaten track and has no peer as a diagnostician. He is always accompanied by an expert manicurist, instead of a white or colored valet. "The human nail, like the human hair," he said to me, "is much affected by physical conditions. Barbers will tell you that in certain seasons the beard, for instance, grows nearly twice as fast as at others. It is so with the nails. At times, according to how we feel, the free edge may be a month in growing; there is some retarding agent. At other times it may grow in a week. Sometimes the nail has transverse furrows, indicating periods of illness. At other times it bears furrows running lengthwise—a sure indication of gout. My manicurist can tell by these indications when your last sickness occurred, and I can tell what the malady was."

She Got the Letter.

The post office official put on his severest manner.

"You say you mailed the letter about half an hour ago at a window in the east corridor?" he asked.

The beautiful woman dabbled a handkerchief at her soulful eyes and at the tip of her classic nose.

"Yes, yes," she said.

"To whom was it addressed?"

She told him.

"And now you want to stop that letter?" he went on, still more sternly. "You want to get it back? Why?"

"Because," said the woman with unpremeditated frankness. "I am afraid his wife will get it."

"Oh," said the stern official.

She got the letter.

Garston Maillet, an aldermanic candidate in Montreal, is suing Henri Bourassa and his journal, Le Devoir, for damages.

Will Study Canada's Mint.

New York, Jan. 26.—To study the new mints at Philadelphia and Ottawa, Canada, Edward Rigg, superintendent of the operating department of the English mint in London, arrived here on the steamship Celtic yesterday. The question of fuel is an important one, as they use oil in Philadelphia and Ottawa instead of coke, which is still in use in England.

WHEEZER OR SNEEZER

Have You Heard of Hyomei For Catarrh Asthma and Hay Fever

If you wheeze or sneeze, hawk (or spit, snuffle or blow, something is the matter with the membrane of your respiratory tract, and you need Hyomei.

And you need Hyomei because it will cure you of any catarrhal or inflammatory condition that exists.

It isn't a stomach medicine, or spray, or douche, but a very pleasant, healing, antiseptic balsam, from the eucalyptus forests of Australia. You breathe this balsamic air through a small, hard rubber inhaler, and it reaches every nook, corner and crevice of the membrane, and promptly kills the catarrh germs.

Wm. Medill will sell you a complete Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) outfit for $1.00, on the moneyback plan.

"I have been a victim of catarrh for many months, the glands around my eyes and nose being sore and swollen. My head felt dull and stuffy. Pains in the front and back of my head, also across my eyes were frequent and I had trouble in breathing, especially at night when trying to rest. I had doctored but got no relief until after using Hyomei. This relieved me in the first twenty-four hours and in less than two weeks I was practically cured. I cannot give too much praise to Hyomei." Mrs. Mary Philips, 183 McNab St., Hamilton, Ont.

FARM HANDS FOR ONTARIO

Notwithstanding the great flow of immigration to Canada during the past few years the need of farm help seems to be as great as ever, and in order to meet the demand, the Salvation Army has had ten experienced Canadian representatives in Great Britain during the past three months, selecting a good class of able-bodied men and women, whose emigration will be arranged this spring. As the Emigration Department of the Army has done extensive advertising in the rural districts of Great Britain it is expected that they will be successful in bringing a class of people to this country who will readily adapt themselves to Canadian farming.

MARRIED MEN AS PERMANENT SETTLERS.

There is a great desire on the part of married men with families to emigrate to Canada for farm work, and it is gratifying to observe that farmers are seeing the advantage of making proper provisions to be in a position to hire this class of help. Married men are to be heartily recommended as making the most permanent settlers, being anxious to make homes for their families in this country.

Full information and Application Form will be furnished by Lieut.-Col. Howell, Immigration Offices, James and Albert streets, Toronto; or Staff-Captain Williams, Clarence street, London.

It is expected that parties of men for farm work will arrive during the months of March, April, May, June and July, under the supervision of the Army's duly appointed conductors, and will be sent from port of landing direct to situations throughout the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

Six officers of Hamilton's police force were retired on pensions.

EXCELLENT ADDRESSES BY PROMINENT AGRICULTURISTS

President Creelman of O. A. C. Upholds Ontario as Banner Province of the Dominion and Tells of the Splendid Progress of the College at Guelph.

The great interest being taken in the three days' short Course being held here under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture was abundantly indicated by the large and thoroughly appreciative attendance at the auditorium of the Collegiate Institute last night to listen to the splendid addresses given there. The addresses were supplemented by a very entertaining musical programme contributed by Miss Pringle, soprano, and Miss Kathleen Wallis, violinste. Mrs. Wallis was accompanist for both soloists.

Mayor Morrow was chairman of the meeting, and the principal speakers were Prof. L. H. C. Creelman, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, and Mr. C. M. MacRae, of the Live Stock Commissioner's Branch, at Ottawa.

Mayor Morrow, in opening the meeting, spoke in commendation of the short course, and said the time had come when the interests of the citizen were mutual with those of the farmer, and what was for the benefit of the farmer should react with good results for the citizen. In an interesting review he showed the importance of Canada as an agricultural country.

Mr. T. H. C. Duff said the audience was to be thanked for turning out in such goodly numbers, and said the meeting was greatly indebted to the speakers of the evening. He dwelt on the importance of the short course and of the growth and value of the Farmers' Clubs.

Mr. James Thompson, M.P.P., said he appreciated the honor of being asked to attend the meeting. As a member for East Peterborough he felt it was his duty to do what he could in the interests of agriculture, and for that reason had been active in the institution of the agricultural course at Norwood. Mr. Thompson referred to the vast importance of agriculture in its bearing on the general prosperity of the country. He complimented Mr. Duff, the representative of the Department of Agriculture, for his energetic and well-directed work.

Mr. C. M. MacRae, of the Live Stock Commissioner's Branch, Ottawa, congratulated the Department on the success of the opening of the three days' course, and Mr. Duff was to be praised for his able efforts in connection with the movement that was to accomplish so much for agriculture in this county. The eastern part of Canada had been referred to as inferior to the west in agriculture, but this year he was glad to say, splendid advantage was being taken of the opportunities presented to the farmer.

The live stock shows had stimulated great activity in the west, and they were being taken up in the east with most encouraging results.

A warm tribute was paid Mr. Duff for his share in the success of the study of agriculture in the county.

The speaker in referring to book learning in connection with farming, held that the principles of the theories given in book learning could be applied with telling effect to practical agriculture. The farmer should study and have a system just the same as the business man, and he advocated the study of farming from a scientific standpoint, which was a very important one. We had not in eastern Ontario applied enough scientific knowledge along with the practical. The speaker spoke in favor of the better breeding of dairy herds if the best results were to be had.

The duty of the Canadian farmer was to raise more agricultural products than were being raised at present and to reach a higher mark of quality.

The presentation of the Farm and Dairy cups took place at the conclusion of Mr. MacRae's address Mr. H. B. Cowan making the presentations. In a neat address Mr. Cowan welcomed the farmers' agriculturists who were in attendance. He outlined the object and history of the Farm and Dairy competition. The awards of the evening were for the winners in the county.

The prize winners were Messrs Brodin, Moore and Son. Garbutt and Birdsall, whose standing in the competition is given in the order they are named. All the prize winners spoke in appreciation of their trophies and of Farm and Dairy for that journal's enterprise and splendid spirit in inaugurating the competition.

Prof. Creelman said it was a great pleasure for him to see the farmers come into their own in the presentation of the prizes which they had won through the intelligent use of their own brains. The speaker prefaced his address by some eloquent general remarks, and then dealt with the rapid advancement being made by the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. The student body had grown till now there were representatives of a great many nations there, and the new year term showed a membership of over 1,000 pupils.

It was not alone due to the advantages of the course of study at Guelph that such satisfactory progress was being made, but also on account of the example given the superior work in agriculture done by the good English, Irish and Scotch stock who were farming in Canada. Mr. Creelman bespoke the respect internationally shared for Canadians in different lines of endeavor.

At Guelph there were two institutions, the College and the Experimental Farm. There were between thirty and forty thousand visitors to these each June, and it was the actual results on the Experimental Farm that appealed to the farmer, rather than the College. On the farm at Guelph it was the business to grow the superior and inferior grade of grains, and discard the inferior kinds for the best. The speaker gave some most interesting technical information on crop production. He showed the great results in the increase of yields of various crops, as the result of careful and persistent experiment on the Experimental Farm.

The much praised west was referred to as a great country, undoubtedly, but it should be borne in mind, in spite of bank statements, that Ontario, as shown by the last official statistics compiled, those for 1908 had produced sixty per cent. more for the year than the entire west.

"Ontario," said the speaker, amid great enthusiasm, "is the best province in the Dominion."

Prof. Creelman next touched on live stock, the study of which was an important branch in the college curriculum, and spoke of the practical results which demonstrated the success that attended the instruction in this department.

Other branches of the college work and their educational value with the highest practical end in view were dealt with and shown by the speaker to be of vital importance of everyday money-making farming.

AMBULANCE SOCIAL WAS UNIQUE EVENT

The executive of the St. John's A. Y.P.A. are greatly pleased with the excellent attendance at the Ambulance Social last Monday night, the programme was unique and the various parts were accorded a most enthusiastic reception. The president, Mr. R. J. Devey, was in the chair and after leading devotional exercises presented the following programme;—

Song—The Boys in Scarlet and Gold, Mr. Roberts.

Song—For All Eternity, Mrs. Hinchliffe.

Demonstration in first aid to the injured by the following members of Dr. Cameron's St. John's A. A. Classes—Ladies—Misses Whiteroft, Horsfield, Pritchard and Drury. Gentlemen, Messrs. Downs, Cameron, Appleton, Chancler, Roberts and Perkins.

The bandaging of various supposed injuries was well done and keen interest was shown by the company in each case.

Song—Bedouin Love Song, Mrs. Stacey.

Piano duet—Duet in D, Cyril Devey and Mr. R. J. Devey.

Song—Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep, Mr. Davenport.

A most interesting paper on the "Life and Work of Miss Florence Nightingale" was read by Mrs. R. J. Devey.

The Rev. Canon Davidson concluded with prayer, after which tea and cake was served by Coleman Bros., the meeting dispersing about ten o'clock, after a most enjoyable evening.

BIBLE CLASS HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Interesting Function at Home of Ald. Turner—Officers Were Elected

The annual meeting of Ald. Turner's Bible Class of St. Luke's Church was held last evening at his residence, 491 Water street, when a large number of the members were present, and the affairs of the class were interestingly discussed. Mr. Turner acted as chairman and reports of a very encouraging nature were presented. The officers for the year were elected and it was decided to hold the annual excursion of the class, as usual, on July 1st, to Stony Lake.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Mr. H. Moore, on behalf of the secretary-treasurer, Miss Clara Mitchell, who was unable to be present, read the following report, which, on motion was adopted:—

In May a social evening was held by the class in the school room, for the purpose of becoming more intimate and sociable with the members of the congregation. A programme was rendered and refreshments served, and a very pleasant evening being spent.

In June the class had a new light placed over the pulpit in the church and the old one removed to the reading desk. This was quite an improvement as the light in the pulpit was not all that was desired.

Our annual excursion, July 1st, was as successful as ever, both socially and financially. The day was beautiful, and all who availed themselves of the opportunity for a day up the lakes thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The financial report is as follows:

RECEIPTS.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Hon. President—Rev. Dr. Langfeldt.
President—Ald. J. J. Turner.
Vice-President—Mr. Harry Moore.
Sec.-Treas.—Miss Violet Whittaker.
Asst. Sec'y—Miss May Moore.
Sick Committee—Misses F. Butcher, C. Whittaker, P. Mitchell and Messrs. Turner and Moore.
Organist—Miss C. English; assistant, Miss F. Butcher.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mr. S. W. Whittaker, seconded by Miss F. Butcher, to Mr. Turner for the very efficient manner in which he taught the class. Mr. Whittaker spoke of the great benefit derived from Mr. Turner's teachings and expressed on of the members' appreciation of his valuable services.

The class intend fitting the pews in the church with hat racks in the near future. The ladies will be entertained to a social evening by the gentlemen of the class on Tuesday evening next.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Mr. and Mrs. Turner entertained the young people very pleasantly and refreshments were served. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the host and hostess for their kind hospitality.

C.M.B.A. "AT HOME" THURSDAY

The C.M.B.A. will hold an "At Home" in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street on February 3rd. There will be progressive euchre and a programme.

A BY-LAW NEEDED

Are the people of this city aware that the chief of the fire brigade has no power or authority to inspect public buildings, or buildings which school children and others attend or assemble in, in order that he may see what chance they would have of escaping in case of fire, and in order to find out, if necessary, what improvements in that regard are needed? It cannot have occurred to our civic representatives that such a privilege or duty would be the means of correcting many mistakes and of enabling possible fire-traps to be converted into places of safety. We can conceive of nothing more urgently necessary than that Chief Howard should be instructed that he is expected to visit the various schools and other public buildings for the purpose suggested. It is almost always some simple thing that is needed, and whose lack is deplored when the damage is done and the lives of dear ones lost.

PRESENTED WITH WATCH

Mr. S. R. Armstrong Superintendent of George St. Sunday School Was Honored

During a short intermission in the illustrated lecture by Rev. E. A. Pearson, on his trip to Europe at the George street Methodist church last night, Mr. S. R. Armstrong, the valued superintendent of the Sunday school, was presented with a beautiful gold watch as a small token of the high esteem in which he is held by the teachers, officers and scholars of the Sunday school. The presentation was made by the pastor.

The occasion was the anniversary tea and entertainment of the Sunday school, which was in every way highly successful. Tea was served from five to eight and this with the lecture given by Rev. Mr. Pearson, brought out a very large attendance.

The many beautiful views thrown on the screen were operated by Mr. H. O. Fiske.

TWO ARTISTS OF GREAT ABILITY

Appeared at Burns Anniversary Concert in St. Andrew's Lecture Hall

Peterborough people who availed themselves of the opportunity were afforded a rare treat at St. Andrew's lecture hall last night. The occasion was the Burns anniversary concert, and the artists were Mr. Donald C. McGregor, baritone, and Miss Blanche Walter, elocutionist of Toronto. About two hundred were in attendance and that they were pleased was indicated by the fact that every number was encored. Mr. McGregor is a favorite with Peterborough audiences and his popularity increases with every visit. He possesses a rich baritone voice—full and resonant or low and sweet as the selection may demand. His numbers last night included "Bonnie Dundee," "England Still Rules the Seas," "Mary of Argyle," "Canadians Forever," "The Highlandman's Toast" and "The Bandilero." The latter two were encores. "Mary of Argyle" and "The Bandilero" were, perhaps, the two outstanding selections.

Miss Walter is one of the best elocutionists that have ever appeared here. Although hardly out of her teens, she has mastered her profession. Her pleasing presence and charming rendition of her selections made her a favorite at once. "A Bake-Day Episode" was one of her best numbers. Her versatility was shown in her fine rendition of "The Stove Pipe Hole," by Dr. Drummond. It is in the habitant dialect and has a rich vein of humor. "The Love Affair of Bumble and Corney," from Oliver Twist," was given in a most captivating manner by Miss Walter. She is a pupil of Mr. Owen Smiley.

Mrs. C. S. McClelland presided at the piano in her usual capable manner.

The concert was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, of which Mrs. F. L. Robinson is president.

Bogus Coins

A number of lead quarters are now in circulation in Port Hope. They are Canadian with King's head and United States of the ordinary issue. The bad pieces are easily detected. Between the fingers they feel slippery or greasy as compared with the silver coin, and the bogus can be easily bent with the fingers.

SPORTING NEWS

BUGLERS WON FROM SERGEANTS

Indoor Baseball Game at Armouries Was Interestingly Contested Score 31-18

The Buglers proved to be a proposition for the Sergeants in a fast and interesting game of indoor baseball at the armouries last night, and won out by 31—18. The attendance, which was large, included a goodly number of fair fans.

Amos McWilliams and W. Sharp were prominent for the winners, and Staunton, Beggs, Green and Halpin showed up well for the losers.

The teams were—

Buglers (31)—Sharp, Drysdale, Rew, McWilliams, Butcher, East, Fitzgerald, Wood, Wescott.

Sergeants (18)—Guerin, Beggs, Ringer, Waterman, Hay, Staunton, Halpin, Skates, Mitchell.

Score by innings—

Sergeants	204020064—18
Buglers	494504131—31

Home runs—Buglers, McWilliams, Butcher, Drysdale; Sergeants, Ringer.
Umpire—S. Sharp.
Score:—W. Edwards.

HOCKEY

At a meeting of the O. H. A. subcommittee Bert Gilhuly was declared eligible to play with Whitby, and McDougall with Lindsay. They both live outside the town limits.—Lindsay Warder.

It is stated that Peterborough will play Rollie Glover in the game on Friday night next. Perhaps the Petes will trot out Harry Morgan, Chris. Graham or Ernie Watson.—Lindsay Warder.

The Ottawa Citizen says Fred Whitcroft is thinking of breaking into the matrimonial game in the near future.

CHURCH LEAGUE

The second double-header in the church hockey league, will be played to-morrow night at the Auditorium rink. The first game will start at eight o'clock, with Knox church and St. Andrew's taking the ice. These two teams are probably the strongest in the league, and have practically the same line-up which met for the championship last season. George street and All Saints' will meet in the second contest at nine o'clock, and as both exhibitions may be witnessed for 10 cents there should be a large number of spectators present.

BLACK HANDS AND SCULL BREAKERS

Played to a 5-3 Score at Brock St. Rink Last Night

One of the most exciting games of the season took place at the Brock street rink last night between 10 and 11 o'clock, when the Black Hands and Skull Breakers collided.

The game was fast and furious from the start and only one man was penalized. A feature of the game was the goal-minding of "Handy" Hanrahan, he stopping everything in reach and the five that beat him were from close in. Eano was also a star for the Skull Breakers.

For the Black Hands Sullivan and Clancy were in the limelight nearly always by their rushing and checking back.

The score was 5—3 in favor of the Black Hands.

The teams were;—

Black Hands — Goal, E. Sullivan; point, A. Heffernan; cover, B. McManus; forwards, Clancy, R. Sullivan, G. O'Hern and A. Conlin.

Skull Breakers—Goal, Ed. Hanrahan; point, J. Fitzpatrick; cover, J. Primeau; forwards, M. Whaley, E. Laplante, J. Eano and Memmo.

SHOTS ON GOAL

Good hard ice is assured for the city league fixtures to-night at Brock street rink. All clubs will present the same line-ups as represented them in last Wednesday's games.

Joe Hall of the Shamrocks has been suspended, until there is a ruling on his actions at the Shamrock-Renfrew game.

Brantford claims Walter Miller will report to the manager of the team to-day.

PETERBORO IN FINALS

Defeated Bobcaygeon This Morning by Wide Margin—Skip Giroux's Good Work

Special to the Review.

Lindsay, Jan. 26.—Peterborough and Bobcaygeon met this morning in the semi-final game of this district of the Ontario Tankard. G. H. Giroux made a runaway game of it against Davis, and won by thirty points to nine. The score between J. H. Connal and Broad was closer, the Bobcaygeon rink winning by eighteen to thirteen. The total was forty-three for Peterborough and twenty-seven for Bobcaygeon. Skip Giroux and his men gave a fine exhibition of curling.

Peterborough and Lindsay meet this afternoon in the final game, and great interest centres in the contest.

Tanker Drinks

The Peterborough Tankard rinks at Lindsay to-day are composed as follows:

THE FIRST TIME ON RECORD.

Belated Reformation in the Case of Sam Doolittle.

One of the easiest-going, most shiftless individuals that ever drifted through life, too lazy to travel any way except with the current, was Sam Doolittle. Sam was born tired and never outgrew it. Being behindhand was a chronic complaint with him, and it finally got so that nobody really expected anything else of him.

In the course of time Sam died. The funeral arrangements had been made and the announcement sent out, when, owing to other engagements of the officiating clergyman, it was found necessary to change the time to an hour ahead, and as a consequence the body reached the cemetery considerably earlier than the original schedule had contemplated.

As the procession entered the gate and halted, the old gravedigger, who had not been notified of the change of time, dropped his spade in surprise and asked:

"Is that Sam Doolittle you've got there?"

Upon being assured that it was, he shook his head dubiously and croaked:

"Well, if that is Sam Doolittle he must have turned over a new leaf all of a sudden. I've known him, boy an' man, for over fifty years, an' this is the first trip he ever took that I knew him to get started ahead of time!

EMANATION FROM PRINTER'S INK

Peculiar Property Found to Affect a Photographic Plate.

That printer's ink gives off an emanation that passes through opaque bodies and affects a photographic plate has been discovered by a German investigator. Photographic roll film is sometimes thus affected, through its celluloid cover, by the printed characters on the paper in which it is wrapped. The emanation is found to proceed from the oil in the ink during the drying process. It is not precisely the same as the emanation from radium and other radio-active substances, for, unlike them, it changes gum arabic into a granular, insoluble substance. It was this effect produced on the gum of envelope flaps by the printed characters on the envelopes that first attracted the investigator's attention. The emanations are reflected by metal mirrors in the same way as light, and they oxidize metal surfaces against which they strike. The exposure necessary to effect a sensitive plate is eight to ten days.

Prompt Delivery.

It is related on good authority of a well-known poet that he once walked into the sanctum of a magazine editor and submitted to him a poem, which was promptly rejected. The editor endeavored to cheer up the crestfallen bard.

"Try special articles," he suggested, "there's money in them."

"I couldn't do special articles," cried the son of Parnassus indignantly. "For me, romance! And, by the way," he immediately added, "that's a good starter for a poem. Hm—let me see:

"For me, Romance! For me the Golden Lie!"

In a few minutes the new poem was all written out on the back of the discardest one. In a few minutes more it was accepted.

"Thirteen" and a "Bit."

A "thirteen" in money was a small coin in circulation in Ireland in the early part of the nineteenth century, equivalent in value to thirteen pence, and was known locally as a "thirteen." A "bit" in money means any small coin, as a four-penny bit, a six-penny bit. Specifically it is the name of a small West Indian coin, worth about ten cents. In parts of the United States there was formerly current a small coin (called in some states a Mexican shilling), of the value of 12 1-2 cents, and this was called a "bit." In the Canadian West to-day a "bit" is said to be 15 cents, and 25 cents represents "two bits."

Nature Study.

Nature study is teaching the youth to see and to know the thing nearest to hand, to the end that his life may be fuller and richer, writes Prof. L. H. Bailey of Cornell university. Nature study is not to be taught for the purpose of making the youth a specialist or a scientist. Now and then a pupil will desire to pursue a science for the sake of the science, and he should be encouraged. But every pupil may be taught to be interested in plants and birds and insects and running brooks, and thereby his life will be the stronger. The crop of scientists will take care of itself.

Comprehensive Recipe.

Leech, the famous artist of London Punch, was at his best as an entertainer in his own house. Dean Hole asked him one day, after Leech had given him a delectable dinner at his lodgings in Scarborough, how he made such good champagne cup. "The ingredients," he replied, "of which this refreshing beverage is composed, and which is highly recommended by the faculty for officers going abroad and all other persons stopping at home, are champagne, ice and aerated water; but, in consequence of advancing years, always forget the seltzer."

Acquiring a Reputation.

"How did that man get the reputation of being such a profound thinker?"

"By talking on subjects that nobody understands and thereby avoiding the chance of having his arguments definitely refuted."

A party of G.T.P. officials have returned from a visit to Prince Rupert.

Woman Assaulted at Toronto was Coming to This City

Toronto, Jan. 26.—Charged with assault on a woman from Hamilton last Saturday night in the yards at the Union Station, Chas. Jones, a C.P.R. car cleaner, was arrested yesterday forenoon at West Toronto by Detective Armstrong, at the request of Staff-Inspector Kennedy.

It appears that the woman was on her way to Peterborough, and when she alighted from the train here asked the accused where she would find her trunk. She followed him, being a stranger in the city. She then enquired where she could get a cup of tea, and he told her that he would get it for her. He helped her into a car and closed the door, and it was there that the assault is supposed to have been committed.

The woman was seen in the yard, and was arrested on a charge of trespass, and it was then that the story leaked out. The railway officials discharged Jones from their employ, and he was about to leave town when arrested.

WHAT THE PUBLIC SHOULD KNOW

The Coroners Act, being R. S. O., chapter 97, section 7, reads: "It shall not be lawful for a coroner to conduct an inquest in any case where loss of life has been caused at or on a railroad, mine, or other work whereof he is owner or part owner, either as a shareholder or otherwise, nor in any like case, at or on a work where he is employed as medical attendant by the owner thereof, or by any agreement or understanding direct or indirect with the employees, at or on such work."

ANNUAL MEETING KNOX CHURCH

The annual meeting of Knox church will be held this evening in the church at 8 p.m. Interesting reports of a progressive year will be given and officers for 1910 will be elected. It is expected there will be a large attendance. At the close of the business session refreshments will be served.

Man Soliciting Subscriptions Has No Authority to do So

The Review was notified to-day that a young man was going about the city soliciting subscriptions in aid of the widows and exhibiting a paper purporting to be signed by Rev. Canon Davidson, authorizing him to receive subscriptions. Canon Davidson states that the man is an imposter as he has not signed the paper, in fact he never heard about the man nor the document till he was informed that he was going about the city endeavoring to secure money. The police are looking for the fellow and persons whom he calls upon should notify the authorities.

CUSTODY OF A CHILD DISPUTED

A case which pertains to the custody of a child has come under the notice of the Children's Aid Society, but the particulars are such that at the request of the officers of the society, they will not be made public. AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

COMPARISON OF PRICES SINCE 1895 TO PRESENT TIME

The following list of prices compiled for Toronto by the Toronto News holds pretty well for the Peterborough market, which usually rules a trifle higher than the Toronto market;

The prices at which marketable produce sold five, ten, fifteen and twenty years ago and the present prices are given in this issue, and an interesting comparison is afforded. The figures bear out the fact that cost of living is at a high ebb at the present time.

The object of these articles is not necessarily to attack any interest, but simply to place before the reading and buying public the cost of foodstuffs in the course they pursue from the farm to the table. The cause of the high prices may in that way be ascertained, and, if possible, a remedy applied.

In the accompanying table the increasing cost of butter, eggs, meat and each staple commodities are shown clearly. The prices for the present are given, and also those for the same time in the years 1905, 1900 and 1895, and are the rated at which the farmers sold their produce to the Toronto public;

THE PROBLEM OF PRICES IN U.S. AND ELSEWHERE

A Matter of Utmost Interest to Farmers and Secondary Producers—Is Not Increased Cost of Living Due to Increase in Supply of Money?

Behind the present demands of the railroad workers throughout the country for higher wages looms as a cause the disquieting fact that the country's growing prosperity is increasing rather than lightening the burden of the "ultimate consumer." It is on the acknowledged fact that food, shelter, and clothing have increased in cost during the past year that the trainmen base their demands for wage increases ranging from 5 to 40 per cent. West of Chicago the matter has already resulted in a strike, but on the Eastern lines a peaceful solution of the problem is looked for. "The whole matter," says President W. C. Brown, of the New York Central, as quoted in the New York Evening Mail, "hinges on the one question as to whether there has been, since the last increase in wages, a material increase in the cost of living." Since the pinch of climbing prices is felt by all classes of wage-earners, demands for higher wages are now the order of the day throughout the whole industrial field. "Wages have not kept pace with prices," declares Mr. Alexander MacDonald, a Standard Oil millionaire whose testimony on the side of the wage-earner must be accepted as at least disinterested. In a Cincinnati despatch to the New York American Mr. MacDonald is further quoted as follows:

"It is becoming impossible for the wage-worker to make both ends meet. I do not recall when the cost of living was so high. We will have to have a readjustment somewhere.

"It is not good that the mass of our people should be forced to live a hand-to-mouth existence. There is no incentive in work that produces nothing for the future. The saving ability of our people must not be curtailed.

"I can not see how the clerk who must pay the present high prices can support a family and save at the same time. The results of such a condition can not be anything but bad. It discourages marriage, among other things, and those who have means are living too extravagantly."

Some pessimistic observers see in the demands of the railroad workers only the beginning of a vicious circle which at each revolution will levy fresh toll on the pocket of the average citizen. Mr. Frank Fayant states this view concisely in the New York Times;

"Railroad wages will be raised. Freight rates will be raised. The $100,000,000 increased yearly distribution to the 1,200,000 workers on the railroads will be added to the cost of commodities, and will be paid by the consumers of commodities."

President Brown, however, does not share the opinion that an increase in the wages of railroad employees would mean an endless chain of increases at the expense of the consumer. He says;

"It does not figure out in circles. A 10-per-cent. increase in the wages of the average conductor, engineer, yardman, and the like would be, approximately, $100 per annum. An increase of 10 per cent. in freight rates on everything his family uses in a year would be less than $4. The situation for the employee, therefore, would be much better."

Census estimates place the average income of an American family of five persons at $750. According to Mr. Fayant a 10 per cent. increase in freight rates would add a dollar a year to the cost of things consumed by such a family—that is to say, it would add 20 cents to the living expenses of each member.

So rapid has been the increase in the cost of living in the United States, particularly in the cost of the necessaries of life, that many see in it a political as well as an economic problem of the first importance. Representative Howland (Rep.), of Ohio, wants to make it the subject of a Congressional investigation, and has introduced a resolution in the House to that end. "No subject since the free silver agitation in 1906," declares the Macon (Ga.) Telegraph, "has attracted so much public attention." In spite of bountiful harvests the prices of farm products have steadily advanced until the price of corn is 113 per cent. higher than in 1896, while in the same period wheat has advanced 94 per cent., and potatoes 500 per cent. Sheep and swine have increased in value 100 per cent., while land has gone up 226 per cent. and pork 210 per cent. This list of soaring commodities, we are told, might be extended to embrace almost everything grown or manufactured. Bradstreet's "index number" shows that $9.12 had the same purchasing power on December 1, 1909, that $3.42 had in July of 1896. Among the varied explanations advanced are an increased production of gold, the failure of our agricultural output to keep pace with out increasing population, the high tariff, the trusts, and the national spirit of extravagance. Discussing with a representative of the New York World the relations between the world's increased gold production and the higher cost of living President Brown, whom we have already quoted, says;

"In the Presidential campaign of 1896 the American people decided definitely and finally that gold should be the future measure of all values in the country. Since that time one country after another has followed the wise precedent thus established, and it may be said truthfully that to-day gold is the measure of value the world over.

"Economists agree that there is a direct relation between the quantity of the metal that is the basis of value and the general industrial condition; that, as the basic metal increases in quantity—and as a consequence decreases in purchasing power—the value, the price of everything measured by and paid for with that metal, is invariably enhanced in value.

"The total gold production of the world in 1896 was approximately $202,251,600. In 1908 it was $455,000,000, an increase of more than 100 per cent. in thirteen years. It is confidently predicted that by the end of the first decade of the new century the annual production will approximate $500,000,000.

"The gold produced year after year piles up, is accumulated, and as it augments and accumulates it becomes cheaper—that is, as measured by the things for which it is exchanged. As it accumulates it takes more gold to buy a bushel of wheat, a suit of clothes, a pound of beefsteak, a sack of flour, or any of the other necessities of life.

"For this reason the pay of labor has steadily advanced and must continue to advance in some fair ratio with the increase in the cost of the things that labor must buy. To put it in another way, wages must go up in about the same proportion that the purchasing power of the money the laborer earns goes down."

The cost of bread in this country is a puzzling item to Mr. G. R. Cahill, an investigator for the London Board of Trade. He is quoted as saying in a Chicago interview:

"I can't understand how we can buy bread in England for one-third the price you pay in Chicago when you send us your wheat. You have to pay 5 cents for fourteen ounces of bread, while we get a loaf weighing sixty-four ounces for 10 cents. Our four-pound loaf never costs more than 12 cents, and usually only 10 cents. I confess I can't understand it."

To Gifford Pinchot the higher cost of living is a phase of the conservation problem. In his address of last week, which we discuss at greater length on another page, he says:—

"The income of the average family in the United States is less than $600 a year. To increase the cost of living to such a family beyond the reasonable profits of legitimate business is wrong. It is not merely a question of a few cents more a day for the necessaries of life, or of a few cents less a day for wages.

"Far more is at stake—the health or sickness of little babies, the education or ignorance of children, virtue or vice in young daughters, honesty or criminality in young sons, the working power of bread-winners, the integrity of families, the provision for old age—in a word, the welfare and happiness or the misery and degradation of the plain people are involved in the cost of living.

"To the special interests an unjust rise in the cost of living means simply higher profit, but to those who pay it, that profit is measured in schooling, warm clothing, a reserve to meet emergencies, a fair chance to make the fight for comfort, decency and right living."

Despite the assurance in President Taft's message to Congress that the increased cost of living is not due to the protective tariff, Senator Clapp (Rep.), of Minnesota, still holds the new tariff law responsible. A Washington despatch to the New York American represents him as saying;

"This law has cost and is costing the American people millions of dollars in increased cost of living. Had the Aldrich-Payne Tariff Bill been beaten, those millions would have been saved to the people.

"It was generally understood that the tariff would bring about an increase. The increase did not affect everything, of course; but when prices were raised by those whose rates had been increased, others were compelled to increase their prices in keeping. The thing started with the tariff increases, and is going all along the line, apparently.

"Raise the price of one necessity of life—of a man's coat, shoes, food, and the man who is compelled to pay that increased price must get more for what he has to sell in order that he may pay it. Therefore, it necessarily affects the price of what he produces. He must either take less profit or else raise his price.

"You will hear it said constantly with reference to something on which the price has been advanced, "Oh, that isn't in the tariff at all. That increase had nothing to do with the tariff.' But the fact is that the tariff reaches all along the line.

"Then there are combinations. They reach now to almost everything. When we had real competition the tariff was merely protective, and while it kept out foreign goods, competition among home producers kept the prices from being excessive. But that is no longer the case.

"But when we come to the era of combinations, behind our tariff wall, to prevent competition at home, while the tariff prevents competition from abroad, then we find ourselves facing this condition of constantly increasing cost of living. Eliminate competition and producer and consumer at once become two different classes.'

"Have we not taken too large a percentage of our labor and energy away from the production and distribution of the necessaries of life, and encouraged them to become engaged in producing comforts and luxuries?" writes a bank president to The Wall Street Journal, which paper replies that he "places his finger on one of the most important causes of high prices," since "our national, municipal, and individual extravagance is positively terrifying."

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Friday, January 28th.

NEWSY NOTES FROM THE VILLAGE OF NORWOOD

Norwood, Jan. 25.—The Norwood boys and girls who intended driving over to Hastings last Friday night and attend the carnival were disappointed, the weather being very unfavorable for a carnival. However, it was postponed until Wednesday night and several Norwoodites will attend.

Misses S. Collinson and M. Knapp, of Peterborough, formerly of Norwood, visited their friend, Miss M. Hendren, over Sunday.

Mr. L. Armstrong visited at his home in Jermyn over Sunday.

Miss Gertrude Greenbank entertained a number of friends at her home Friday night. The evening was spent in music, games, etc.

Miss Ethel Searight is visiting her parents here.

Rev. Mr. Mellon, of Westwood, attended the Epworth League of the Methodist church here on Monday night. During the meeting Mr. Mellor gave a very interesting missionary talk.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cuffe entertained the clerks of the village at their home on Queen street one night last week.

Mr. J. McNicol left last week for Vancouver, where he has secured a position.

Mr. J. Rogers, who has spent the past month in Detroit, returned to his home here last week. Jack is well pleased with Detroit and intends going back in a few weeks.

We notice in a late issue of the Review that a Peterborough citizen saw a robin a few days ago. Your Norwood correspondent saw a robin in a [illegible] on the 6th of January.

Mr. H. Beavis, of Lakefield, visited Norwood friends on Monday.

Rev. G. McClennan, former pastor of the Presbyterian church here, is visiting Norwood friends.

The funeral of the late Mr. Burgess of Belmont, took place from his home to-day to the Norwood cemetery. It will be remembered that some months ago Mr. Burgess fell down stairs and fractured his leg. Deceased was over eighty years of age. A large number of friends followed the remains to their last resting place.

Missionary anniversary sermons were preached in the Methodist church last Sunday by Rev. A. J. Terrill, B.A., B.D., of Tweed, and Rev. W. B. Tucker, B. A., B.D., pastor of the church here preached at Tweed.

Mr. D. A. Fraser, of Banff, Alberta, formerly of town, is visiting friends here.

Miss Nellie Robinson has returned after spending the past week with relatives in Peterborough.

Miss M. Cameron, of Monklands, is visiting her sister, Mrs. O. Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ormiston, of Havelock, visited in Norwood one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Keefer entertained a number of friends at their home on Peterborough street, last Friday evening.

Norwood boys and girls are pretty nearly lost these days. The rink, which is open air, cannot be used at all. Manager Flemming is busy removing the snow from it to-day, and expects having good skating by Wednesday night—if the weather is favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireland, of Percy, visited Mr. and Mrs. S. Hendren, on Friday.

We are sorry to say that Miss Mary McCleary, who has been attending Business College at Toronto, is home and is confined to the house, owing to severe illness.

Mr. Ed. Sargeant, of Westwood, visited Norwood on Monday.

Miss R. Carter visited at her home in Jermyn over Sunday.

Miss Una Duffield, of town, will take part in the entertainment to be given by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church in Havelock next Friday night.

Misses V. and I. Miller, of Toronto, are visiting their parents here.

Mrs. Hamblin is visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. Hamblin.

Mr. Watson, of Havelock, visited Norwood on Sunday.

STUDENTS WERE BANQUETTED

At Y. W. C. A. on Monday Night—One Hundred Young Ladies From Normal School Were Present

On Monday at the tea hour one hundred Normal girls accepted the invitation which had been given by the Y.W.C.A. Board to meet Miss Little and Miss Anderson, two of the National secretaries from Toronto, who were in the city in the interests of the foreign work carried on by the Canadian College and City Associations.

Plates had been laid for one hundred and twenty-five in the gymnasium. After the tempting supper with its hour of delightful social intercourse had been enjoyed, chairs were turned toward the platform. All joined heartily in singing "All hail the power of Jesus name." Mrs. Rorer led in prayer, when Mrs. Scott introduced Miss Margaret Anderson, B.A., travelling College Secretary, who spoke of the large place and great need of the Young Women's Christian Association in the cities of India where safe boarding houses are almost unknown and where there are large numbers of Eurasian as well as native girls in business and study.

Miss Susie Little, B.A., then spoke of the Association work in Tokio, where there is a large boarding home and association, which has been built, equipped and is being entirely supported by the Canadian associations. Miss Little's address was most interesting and earnest.

At the close the girls sang "Take my life and let it be consecrated Lord to Thee." Miss Dickson lead in prayer, after which over $10.00 was subscribed by the Normal girls for the work in Japan and India.

Later the [illegible] evening St. Andrew's Young People's Society was entertained. After a half hour's devotional service, a happy social hour was enjoyed.

To-morrow evening Miss Nicholl's class will meet at 7.30, Dr. Malcolm McCulloch's class at 8.30. A practical lesson in bandaging will be given.

Bible Class tea at 6.30 o'clock, Friday. A welcome to all business girls.

SECRETARY OF Y.M.C.A. RESIGNS

mr. F. Hassard to Enter Commercial Life—Departure Will be Regretted

Mr. F. G. Hassard, general secretary of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association. The resignation was received by the executive committee and it was decided to accept it.

The resignation is to take effect not later than April 1st, or as soon before that as another secretary is secured.

Mr. Hassard, it is understood, intends entering commercial life. He has received a splendid offer from a Toronto firm and will accept it. He has been in the city for about two years and during that time has won many warm friends, while he is respected by all. His departure will be regretted by the citizens as well as by the members and management of the Y.M.C.A.

MUSICAL "AT HOME"

At the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening next, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Those taking part are Misses McGaw, Pringle, Sanderson, Reeser, Foy, Hope Miller, Gumpricht, Laura Logan, Sisson, Mrs. Hopewood, Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Dowsey. George St. Methodist Church Male Quartette will also assist. Refreshments will be served and a most enjoyable evening is promised. The admission fee is only 25 cents.

PERSONAL

Mrs. J. J. Fairweather (nee Edna Rogers) will receive with her mother, Mrs. R. B. Rogers, 147 Hunter street east, on Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week.

Dr. John B. Rose, Montreal, stopped off yesterday on his way down from Toronto, to visit his mother, Mrs. Jas. Rose, 524 Weller street.

Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's

After the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Church, which will be held to-morrow, the executive will meet to make arrangements for the annual meeting.

A new great daylight comet was discovered by Prof. Drake, at Jonannesburg.

SIX MONTHS IN CENTRAL FOR BAD MAN FROM TORONTO

John Thorpe, Arrested Last Night on Vagrant Charge—Is the Same Man, Who Broke into Beehive in 1906 and Received Three Year Sentence.

John Thorpe, who claims to have been born and brought up in Toronto, did not, at the police court this morning, give any good reason that made it necessary for him to go about the country begging, instead of earning an honest living, as he is apparently capable of doing.

After Chief Rosael had explained to His Worship that the prisoner was a dangerous man, he having been the person who gained an entrance to the premises of the Bee Hive some three and a half years ago, and was a suspect in the attempted burglarizing of Laidlaw and Ole's store last summer, Thorpe was sentenced to serve six months in the Central Prison, despite his plea for a shorter term.

He was arrested last night. To the magistrate this morning the accused said that he was willing to work, but could not secure any.

Mr. Wilson, of the Bee Hive, identified the prisoner as the man who had been arrested and sentenced to three years for breaking into his store. Last Saturday he called and asked for money, and on being refused, tried to sell some laces.

The chief stated that he had noticed in the Toronto papers that the police in Toronto were making an effort to rid the city of vagrants, and in sentencing the prisoner the magistrate remarked that if Toronto did not want them, this city could also do very well without their presence.

Thorpe has a bad record in Toronto, and has served various terms in prison.

NO NEED OF FIRE ESCAPES IN MOST OF THE SCHOOLS

As a result of the Board of Education's recognition of the need of proper and adequate protection for the children in case of fire in the local schools, it is pleasing to note that the Board has made a move. Yesterday Fire Chief Hayward was requested by the Board to inspect all the schools and present an official report to the Board. The chief complied, and in company with Messrs. Louis M. Hayes, chairman of the Board, John Crane, chairman of the Supervision Committee; A. Mowat, Public School Inspector, and City Engineer T. A. S. Hay, they visited most of the public schools. The chief remarked to-day that in most of the local schools outside fire escapes were not necessary, owing to the precaution made on the inside. There were a couple of instances, however, where he could recommend outside fire escapes.

DRAUGHT HORSES JUDGED AT SHORT COURSE THIS MORNING

The increasing interest in the Short Course was shown this morning when the audience of three hundred and seventy-five followed with the strictest of attention the judging of draught horses at Fitzgerald's shop at the corner of Brock and Water streets, where the course is being held.

Two grade percheron geldings belonging to Mr. R. H. Cox, Monaghan, were judged first. Prof. Day, of Guelph, who was to have superintended the judging, was not able to be with the city till about noon, and Mr. C. H. Duff took charge of the judging. The discussion was very lively, much more so than on the previous day, showing the beneficial results of the instruction in judgings and of the various points brought out at the session yesterday. The difference of opinion regarding the weight of the two horses was such, that after they were placed, they were taken down to the scales and weighed.

In the second class a pair of three-year-old Clydesdale mares, one belonging to Mr. Jas. Baptie, Springville, and the other the property of Mr. Thomas Graham, Central Smith, were brought on. Prof. Day arrived in time to give the final decision in the placing of these, and emphasized the good points in each animal, and showed how it could be quite possible the decision of judges at fairs might be reversed in the placing of the two.

This afternoon the judging of beef cattle and swine was taken up.

GOOD MEETING OF THE R.T.O.T.

The R. T. O. T. had a well attended meeting at the society's rooms, George street, last night. A number of applications for membership were received.

The next meeting will be held on the second Tuesday in February, when the officers will be installed and a number of new candidates initiated.

The fourth annual banquet of the Life Underwriters' Association of Ontario, will be held in Hooper's Palm Gardens on the evening of Monday, January 31st, at seven o'clock. The affair promises to be an interesting and enjoyable function for the members of the Life Underwriters. The president of the Dominion Association, Mr. E. R. Machum, of St. John, N.B., will give an address, and Mr. T. P. Parkinson, vice-president at London, and Mr. John A. Tory, secretary at Toronto, will also speak. A musical programme of unusual merit is being prepared, and the Life Underwriters who attend may expect a pleasant time.

AN ENJOYABLE SOCIAL EVENING

At Park St, Baptist Church Under Auspices of Helping Hand Bible Class

A very pleasant evening was spent last night in the parlors of the Park street Baptist church under the auspices of the Helping Hand Bible Class. It was the first social affair of the class, and it was a decided success. About one hundred sat down to the well-provided tables, and after supper together the following programme was rendered. Mr. J. Dawson, vice-president of the class, occupied the chair in a very able manner.

The programme was as follows:—
Doxology.
Prayer by pastor.
Chairman's address.

PREMIER REPUDIATES ANY INTENTION TO TRAMPLE ON RIGHTS OF PEOPLE

Sir James Resents Mr. MacKay's Charge That the Government is Resorting to Needless Violence in Hydro-Electric Work

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Almost every member of the Legislature was in his seat when at 3.15 T. Herbert Lennox (North York) rose in his seat to move the adoption of the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Mr. Lennox, who was greeted with hearty applause, congratulated the Government on the accession to the Cabinet of Hon. I. B. Lucas and twitted the leader of the Opposition on rumors of his retirement. He hoped they were not true. No man deserved better of the Liberal party than the present leader of the Opposition. (Applause.) It was not unlikely, as history repeats itself, that in a quarter century or so, he might even find himself in the Premier's place.

Albert Grigg (Algoma), who seconded the address, began with a humorous reference to the speaker who preceded him as a navigator who had learned his business navigating the "dangerous and somewhat shallow waters of the Newmarket Canal."

Hon. Dr. Pyne was given high praise for replacing the log schoolhouses of New Ontario with up-to-date buildings.

The enforcement of the liquor act before 1905 was a farce. Under a better regime there was no class of men better satisfied than the hotel men themselves.

Allan Studholme (East Hamilton) was not impressed overmuch by the speech from the throne. There was very little in it.

Dr. Pyne had had many bouquets thrown at him, but Hamilton was still waiting for that technical college.

The Ontario offices in London he thought were misplaced. Farmers were wanted.

Regarding the compensation of workmen, Mr. A. G. MacKay said on rising to speak, the public ought to understand if it was intended to widen the responsibility of the employer so as to make the laborer practically a part of the machinery of the establishment, a broken arm to be replaced like a broken part of a machine.

The weakest part in the educational system was, to his mind, the time when the lad left the school for the workship at 14 or 15. The province was only proceeding spasmodically in the matter of technical education. He would like to see the province say to every town: "We will give you so much for evening schools for technical training."

Another important question was the price of foodstuffs. If there were combines in respect to foodstuffs, it was not fair that the responsibility should be shouldered by the Dominion Government. The Attorney-General should get busy and break down the combines.

Coming to the Hydro-Electric Commission, Mr. MacKay said: "I didn't believe that when the act of last session was passed, and I don't think the Premier believed, that the crown would take the ground that it did. The province has no right to take any man's land or easements of it, without paying for them."

"And never will," interjected Sir James.

"It is not to the credit of this province," Mr. MacKay continued, "to pass legislation such as that and act on it. The strong arm of the law should be behind the carrying out of any great public work, but it seems to me that this act has been worked out in some of its details in such a manner as to produce the maximum amount of friction."

Sir James Whitney, who prefaced his remarks by a brief but feeling reference to the Webbwood tragedy, mentioned the Gouin visit.

"All will acknowledge," he said, significantly, "that great good has already arisen, that great good will arise in the future from the exchange of these social amenities."

In regard to the compensation of workmen there was necessity for a complete investigation. The other provinces should deal with the matter in a manner not inconsistent with each other. Otherwise there would be injustice to the manufacturer.

Nothing was further from the minds of the Government than to shift responsibility in the price of foodstuffs. When this was made would be the time to talk of applying a remedy.

When he came to answer Mr. MacKay's taunt on the Hydro-Electric easements, Sir James hit out straight from the shoulder.

"Neither this nor any other Government would ever dare to do that which he thinks this Government is prepared to do.

"The judge says that we have the power to do so. When this case is merely used in illustration, it is the reverse of fair to try to make the public believe that this is what we intend to do. It was never in the mind of a member of this Government; it was never in the mind of a member of this House that we intended to act so.

"So long as this Government is in power, not an atom, not a square inch of land will be taken from anyone without being paid for. Every dollar and every cent to which they are entitled will be paid."

The 33 statute revision acts got their second reading, and will go to committee to-day.

H. C. McLeod Resigns.

Halifax, Jan. 27.—At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Nova Scotia, yesterday the announcement was made by H. C. McLeod, general manager, that he has decided to retire from active service. The retirement is not because of any differences as to policy between himself and his shareholders. The shareholders present expressed genuine regret at Mr. McLeod's retirement, and asked him to reconsider his resignation.

POACHER IS KILLED

Buffalo Man is Shot While Dynamiting in Launch —Were Three of Them.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 27.—In a shooting affray yesterday afternoon on the upper Niagara River between Ontario Fisheries Inspector Thomas Briggs and three American fish pirates, one man, John Weigand, and of Buffalo, a saloonkeeper, was killed, but who fired the shot that entered his brain is not certain.

Inspector Briggs is confident that it was not a shot from his Winchester which killed him.

The shooting took place between the shipyards station and Black Creek. Fish dynamiters have been busy on the river lately, and yesterday morning Briggs received information that a party were in the river. He set out from Bridgeburg with a liveryman, and sighted three men in a motor boat in the centre of the river near the Canadian shore. The men were dynamiting the waters for fish.

Briggs got out of the rig and called on the men to surrender. The fish pirates shouted defiance, and Briggs fired a warning shot. The pirates returned the shot, and bullets nearly hit Briggs. For safety he took refuge behind a tree and returned the fire, hoping to sink the boat. Briggs says he fired only three shots, and that about a dozen were fired by the others. The tree behind which he stood shows the marks of the bullets.

Briggs declares that after he had fired his last shot, Weigand fired again, and that a few minutes later he fell inert in the boat.

The man who was with Briggs corroborates this story and both think the man was killed by a shot fired by one of his comrades. When he fell, the boat was turned toward the U. S. shore of Grand Island, through his field glass, Briggs followed the progress of the boat and saw one of the men endeavoring to revive his comrade. Briggs saw two men get out and go on shore. A few minutes later four men returned and carried off the body.

Briggs returned to Bridgeburg and reported the affair to the Ontario police.

DRY DOCK AT THE CANADIAN "SOO"

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—At the request of A. C. Boyce (West Algoma) a return was tabled yesterday giving all the correspondence between the promoters of the Sault Ste. Marie Dry Dock Co. and the Government. The application of the company was referred to Mr. Sing, district engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, who reported in favor of the plans submitted, and recommended a subsidy of three per cent. of $500,000 cost. The plans made provision for a dry-dock with an entrance of 60 feet on the sill and 65 feet on top, with a depth of 17 feet 6 inches. Exception was taken by the Department that the proposed dimensions were inadequate, and the engineer was instructed to make further enquiry. The engineer of the company pointed out that the proposed dock was four feet wider than the largest American vessel on the lakes, and that the depth was quite sufficient because vessels never docked with their cargo. Mr. Sing stated that these arguments were based upon facts, but recommended a depth of eighteen feet, with four feet head room under the keel of vessel when docked. The estimated cost of the dry-dock is $538,576.

ART TREASURES ARE IN DANGER

Floods in Paris Are Threatening to Destroy the Louvre.

Paris, Jan. 27.—At one o'clock this morning the water was rising rapidly and had reached to within a few inches of the parapet of the quay at the Louvre. The flood threatened momentarily to inundate the Schulture Gallery where are kept the Venus of Milo and other priceless art treasures.

The danger to the Louvre is increased by the presence at this point of a big sewer, which it is feared will burst. A gang of masons was hurriedly assembled; and is working under high pressure, in the glare of flaring gas lamps, building a concrete wall to keep out the water.

Late despatches from the provinces bring a ray of hope. These indicate that the situation there has improved and that the floods have at length reached their crest. The affluents of the Seine are even beginning to show a tendency to drop. The Rhone and Saone Rivers, however, are still rising.

Reports of villages submerged and people absolutely without food are reaching Paris constantly.

With the failure of the gas and electric lighting plants Paris is confronted with an oil famine. Scores of oil barges from Rouen are tied up in the Seine and the great depots of distribution in the outskirts of Paris are flooded.

Already the damage is officially estimated at $200,000,000 and every hour adds millions more. The death toll also is growing at a frightful rate, and when the epidemic, which now appears inevitable, breaks out, it will run into thousands. Already scarlet fever has appeared among the refugees at Ivry.

Among the superstitious there is talk of the destruction of Paris as a result of the appearance of Halley's comet.

The public subscriptions opened by the newspapers have reached nearly $100,000.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

Hon. Geo P. Graham yesterday showed that from 1907-9 a total of 144 men were killed while at work on the National Transcontinental Railway construction.

The biggest seizure of furs ever made in Ottawa took place yesterday morning at the Union Depot, when the officials confiscated a bale of furs valued at over $6,000 consigned to the Hudson Bay Co., London.

The fourteen-year-old daughter of Orange Bartlett, a farmer residing eight miles out of Portage La Prairie Man., was arrested charged with arson, in connection with the destruction of their home by fire on Jan. 19.

It developed at the trial yesterday of an alleged Indian conspirator at Lahore, that the plans of conspiracy against the British Indian Government included the establishment of an independent kingdom, with a king and Government at Delhi.

Indianapolis saloonkeepers who violate the closing laws hereafter will be compelled to keep their saloons closed until they can produce a letter from a preacher certifying they have attended church on at least one Sunday morning and remained throughout the service.

That the U. S. Government's investigation into the affairs of the so-called Beef Trust is to be national was shown yesterday at Chicago, following the questioning of Charles G. Snow, of the National Packing Co. The books and other documents of fifteen concerns have been laid before the jury.

PATRONAGE IN THE SERVICE, HON. GEO. E. FOSTER CHARGES

He Brings in a Resolution Declaring That the Prevailing System is a Menace to Good Government—Hugh Guthrie Takes Issue With Him.

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The party patronage system provided the text of a discussion raised in the Commons yesterday by Hon. George E. Foster. He dwelt upon the low standard of public morals inculcated by a practice which, in an evil day, had been imported from the United States, and told the Premier that if he would make some move towards clearing it out of Canada he would have the warm support of the Conservative party.

Hon. Mackenzie King moved the resolution to appoint a specialist to enquire into the whole question of the hours of labor on public works.

Hon. George E. Foster said he could not see the necessity for the appointment of a specialist. Any level-headed clerk could do the work. Mr. Blain (Peel) thought that, as there was a large Labor Bureau under the control of the Government, and as the Minister himself had been studying the question for years, a specialist was unnecessary. At the request of the Premier the resolution was withdrawn meanwhile.

Mr. Armstrong (Lambton) was informed that the taking of the census would begin in June, 1911.

Hon. George E. Foster, in moving his resolution: "That the prevailing system of party constitutes a menace to honest and efficient Government, incites a great waste of resources and extravagance of expenditures, tends inevitably to corrupt and lower the tone of public morals and should forthwith be eliminated from the Federal administration, said that the question was no longer academic in this country; it eminently practical. Eight or ten thousand civil servants were affected by it and though since 1908 measurable advance had been made, it was still true that the vast mass of the civil service was interested in preserving the good-will of the party patrons.

There was also a great mass of the people interested. Ten thousand I.C.R. employes, 12,000 postoffice-keepers, 600 railway mail clerks, those connected with the Department of the Interior, as well as the Indians, those connected with the Department of Marine and Fisheries, of whom 800 were at Sorel alone, those employed on the dredging fleet, probably five or six hundred, fishery inspectors, lighthouse-keepers, and those employed by the Departments of Agriculture and Public Works, who with their families, relatives and friends constituted a vast army affected by the patronage system.

Above all, remarked Mr. Foster, the bench was affected. A man got a seat on the bench because he had earned his spurs as a politician.

Hugh Guthrie (South Wellington) described the resolution as a motive of direct censure on the administration. No self-respecting Government could adopt such a motion. He proposed to justify the prevailing system and mode of appointment. While it was not perfect, not infallible, and open to abuses and irregularities, yet the system to-day was the best that had existed under any Government. He reviewed the patronage system since confederation and declared that Mr. Foster, while a member of the late Conservative administration, had neglected the warnings of the Auditor-General and his own Deputy Minister in regard to the abuses of the patronage system then in vogue.

He quoted letters written in the eighties to J. V. Gregory, purchasing agent of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, at Quebec, by Mr. Foster, amongst others, giving instructions regarding tenders for supplies, which he said directly contributed to collusion on the part of the tenderers.

Mr. Guthrie admitted that there was still party patronage in connection with the outside service, but he moved, in amendment: "That this House approves of the rapid advance made by the Government towards the elimination of the system of party patronage, which had been in operation under every administration since Confederation, and views with satisfaction the system now in force of making all important purchases by public competition and tender."

Martin Burrill, who moved the adjournment of the debate, denied that there had been any lessening of the patronage evil, and quoted from the report of the Cassels' commission.

In the public accounts committee yesterday morning, respecting the dredging done at Gaspereaux, New Brunswick, Chief Engineer Lafleur said that the engineer's estimate of the cost of dredging on the Gaspereaux River, where this contract was let, was twenty cents per cubic foot, but the contract at ninety cents had been certified to as fair and reasonable.

In the Senate yesterday a large number of petitions were presented by a number of Senators from people in various parts of Canada asking for amendments to the criminal code to forbid racetrack-betting. Senator Macdonald of British Columbia said that, while it was not necessary to speak in presenting a petition, he desired to call the attention of the Government to the demand by the people that their many petitions on this subject should not be filed away and forgotten, but that they should be respected and a law made in accordance with their request.

The demand in British Columbia was particularly strong. Last summer a hundred horses were brought up from California to Victoria, with a gang of thieves and gamblers following them and for two months the people were robbed of their money by being induced to bet on races.

IS IT FIRST OR LAST BOAT TO ARRIVE?

Owen Sound, Jan. 27.—Is Captain John Rutherford, of the tug Maitland, entitled to the Board of Trade's silk hat for bringing the first vessel into the harbor for this season, or is he entitled to the credit of being the last arrival? Tuesday morning he brought in the tug Maitland from Wiarton, arriving at 10 a.m., and the trip to Owen Sound was made in her usual time. The bay is still clear, and the only ice encountered was in leaving Wiarton harbor, and in making the dock at Owen Sound. It was necessary to break away considerable ice in order to reach the harbor, and the tug tied up near the entrance to the harbor. The Maitland was in Wiarton, where she was undergoing repairs. Capt. Rutherford's arrival is one of the latest (or one of the earliest) arrivals in the history of the port.

TWO LIVES SAVED BY UNDERWEAR

Detroit, Jan. 27.—Three union suits bought at a bargain sale Monday afternoon by George Sauve, a traveling salesman from Montreal, saved him and his wife from death when the lodging-house, where they had engaged rooms, took fire Tuesday. Escape by way of the stairs was cut off by the blaze. Sauve knotted the union suits together, tied one end to the bedpost threw the other out of the window, and thus he and his wife scrambled to the ground.

Mill Employes Nearly Drowned.

Glen Falls, N.Y., Jan. 27.—The pulp mill of the International Paper Co. was flooded yesterday by the bursting of a large flume. Five employes escaped drowning only by climbing pipes to a height of 30 feet. The water continued to run through the mill for several hours.

British Naval Program.

Portsmouth, Eng., Jan. 27.—In well-informed naval circles it is understood that the next British naval estimates will provide for four Dreadnoughts, two armored cruisers, eight small cruisers, 24 torpedo boat destroyers, 10 submarine and 5,000 additional men.

WHAT IS A BARROOM? IS THE QUESTION

St. Catharines, Jan. 27.—What is a barroom? That is the question of the Divisional Court at Toronto will settle shortly.

When James Barnett was convicted by Magistrate Campbell of unlawfully keeping a drinking-room adjacent to the bar open on Sunday, Jan. 9 M. J. McCarron, who appeared for defendant, claimed that the statute provided the penalty only for the keeping of a barroom, contending that the wording of the clause was such that the phrase "or other room where liquor is trafficked in," merely meant a room in a licensed place where no regular bar is used.

The crown attorney urged that the intention of the act was to prevent opening any room usually used for the sale of liquor. In view of the fact that Proprietor Gordis of the hotel admitted that the room had been generally used as a drinking room, and had been closed since the visit of Chief Green, the magistrate held the bartender guilty, but admitting that there was room for doubt as to the meaning of the act, imposed only a minimum fine of $20, adding that the question should be settled by the higher court.

McCarron gave notice of appeal.

The chief has several similar informations pending against other local hotels, which he visits regularly during prohibited hours.

A SHOCK TO SOME McGILL STUDENTS

Montreal, Jan. 27.—A score of the science students at McGill got a shock this week when they were informed that as they had not got the necessary forty per cent. at the Christmas examinations they would not be allowed to continue their course, but would have to begin over again next year. Over indulgence in sport is attributed to most of them.

Health Measures In Alberta.

Edmonton, Jan. 27.—It has been made imperative by an important order just issued by the Provincial Board of Health, that all municipalities in the province shall have proper and satisfactory sewage deposal systems installed before Dec. 31. It practically necessitates the expenditure of close upon $2,000,000.

ELECTRICITY AS AN ANAESTHETIC

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 27.—For what is said to be the first time in the medical history of this country, electrical analgesia was used in operating on a human being yesterday. The operation was before about twenty-five prominent surgeons of this city, and was supervised by Dr. Louise Rabinovitch, who, for fifteen years has been perfecting her methods of electrical analgesia.

The subject was John Crosic, 22 years old, four of his toes being amputated.

Under the direction of Dr. Rabinovitch, Dr. M. M. Johnson, of this city, applied the electric current of four milliamperes and fifty-four volts by means of three electrodes, one at the ankle, another at the shinbone and the third at the groin. The operation was a complete success, the patient feeling no pain and no after effects.

ARE PLOWING IN ALBERTA

Winnipeg, Jan. 27.—The weather throughout the west is remarkably mild, and the snow is rapidly disappearing in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, while in Alberta the snow is entirely gone. Reports from Lethbridge state that the farmers are harrowing and discing, and some farmers are actually plowing.

Young Coaster Killed.

Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 27.—John Hough, 11 years old, was killed; Walter Smith, 15, was fatally hurt, and Marjory Houghton, 14, had her leg broken, in a coasting accident at Theresa Tuesday night. A party of 14 were on a heavy bobsled on a very steep hill. The sled hit a telegraph pole.

PRISONER SAYS HE NEVER OWNED GUN

New York, Jan. 27.—When Herbert Jerome Dennison was arraigned in the Jefferson market police court yesterday, charged with the murder of the two little boys, Robert Lomas and Arthur Shibley, Inspector McCafferty, of the detective bureau, told the magistrate that he had evidence to indicate that Dennison, who has been in several insane asylums in the last twelve years, was also the man who had shot John Fredericks four times in the back on the Park Avenue bridge over the Harlem River. The aged mother and aunt of the prisoner were in court to testify that Dennison could not have been the slayer of the Lomas and Shibley boys or the assailant of Fredericks. They insist that Dennison has not had a pistol in many years and that he never owned such a weapon as was found near the scene of the high bridge park tragedy. The police say the weapon is like the one used by Dennison as a stage magician.

SCHOOL BOYS SENT TO PASTEUR INSTITUTE

Detroit, Jan. 27.—The three school-boys of the Valetta School, Tilbury, Ont., who were bitten by a supposed mad dog last Saturday, have been sent to the Pasteur Institute, New York, for treatment, in charge of Rev. Dr. Smith of Comber. After the lads were bitten excitement reigned in the neighborhood and Tilbury East Township Council decided that the safest course was to send the boys directly to New York.

A proclamation has been issued that all dogs in Tilbury East must at once be tied up, muzzled or shot.

The head of a strange dog that was later shot in Merlin is now in Toronto for examination.

DISMISSED THE DE LA RONDE CHARGES

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—The second charge against Major de la Ronde, commander of the 5th Canadian Army Service Corps here, was heard yesterday by Magistrate O'Keefe to the effect that $22.80, belonging to J. Dolman, who acted as teamster for the corps when it was at the Quebec Tercentenary, has been unlawfully retained. The case was dismissed.

CHANGES IN PERMANENT SERVICE

Toronto, Jan. 27.—Lieut.-Col. R. K. Scott, D.S.O., who was loaned by the Imperial service to the Canadian service, and who is the principal ordnance officer at Ottawa, is at the end of his time, returning again to the Imperial service.

Major J. F. Macdonald, senior ordnance officer at Toronto, has been promoted to the position vacated by Lieut.-Col. Scott, and will take up his residence in Ottawa on Feb. 15.

Gave His Life For Workmate.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Death from black damp and natural gas was the fate yesterday of two workmen who had been lowered 90 feet in a bucket to the bottom of a caisson, where a large building is under construction. James Welch, one of the victims was asphyxiated after he had volunteered to be lowered into the caisson in an effort to save Peter Conroy, his partner.

THE BLAIRTON IRON MINE IS REPORTED SOLD

Havelock Standard—We have been informed that the Blairton iron mine, six miles east of Havelock, has been sold to a syndicate composed of the Hamilton Street Range Co., and other interests.

It is stated that the Pearce Company, of Marmora, have been paid for the property at a fancy figure, and that development work in stripping the ore beds, building a spur line to Blairton station to connect with the C. P. R., and erecting suitable buildings, will be commenced in the spring.

We have no absolute confirmation of the sale, but have received it from what should be reliable authority.

GOT WORK FOR AN EXTRA HOUR

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—During the course of the testimony of Prof. Skelton before the special committee of the House of Commons, which has the eight-hour bill before it, Ralph Smith brought out an interesting point yesterday morning, when he stated that for twenty years past it had been the custom of the coal miners of the north of England to work only seven hours a day, but that since the passage of the eight-hour bill by the British Parliament last year they had been compelled to work eight hours.

MORE BODIES IDENTIFIED

Sudbury, Jan. 27.—Bodies of victims of Friday's railway wreck, identified yesterday, were: Annie Mahon, 50 years; Charley Mahon, son, 5 years; Nellie Hayes, 33 years; Ralph Hayes, 10 years, identified by Mr. Hayes of Pentoga, Mich., husband of Nellie Hayes. She was a daughter of John McDonald of Rockingham, Renfrew County. Mrs. Mahon leaves a family of seven in Pentoga, Mich. Mrs. Nellie Hayes leaves her husband and no children.

REJECTED DEMANDS

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 27.—Claiming that submission to the requests of the men would mean that the operating expenses of the road would be increased more than 25 per cent., the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad yesterday rejected the demands of the trainmen for higher wages.

These Girls Can Fight.

New York, Jan. 27.—Clubs and blackjacks figured in a riot, participated in by upwards of 100 persons, in Williamsburg yesterday, following an encounter between striking girl shirtwaist workers and non-union girls.

Inter-switching Charges Reduced.

Montreal, Jan. 27.—A decision by the Board of Railway Commissioners reduces the charges of inter-switching from 20c. to 10c. a ton within a distance of four miles.

WHAT CAUSES THE BLUES

London, Eng.—Doctors have discovered that the "blues" or "mental depression and irritability" is really a disease caused by defective circulation in the cells of the brain.

The "British Health Review" says "By improving the circulation, there is an immediate improvement in the mental outlook".

If this is the case, we Canadians do not intend to call terrible things scientists to pursue their investigations any farther. We have the cure for the "blues" in those wonderful fruit liver tablets called "Fruit-a-tives".

It is doubtful if the greatest physicians abroad will ever discover anything to equal "Fruit-a-tives" to purify and enrich the blood and improve the circulation.

They go straight to the root of the trouble, stimulating the torpid liver and kidneys and regulating the bowels. Thus they cleanse the whole system and renew vitality, mental as well as physical.

STILL AGGRESSIVE

Rev. Father Guertin, of Oblat Order made an attempt the other evening in the city of Quebec to justify the killing of Thomas Scott at Fort Garry. L'Action Sociale reporting the lecture on the Riel matter makes Mr. Guertin say;—Lieut.-Col. Denn's wished to create a rising of the English at Portage La Prairie against Riel and failed, and he again failed to bring about an uprising of the Sioux Indians. At this Riel turned upon the Schultz band, went out of Fort Garry and after surrounding the Schultz house created a provincial government. Thomas Scott, who became odious to Riel because of his exactions, was executed. Riel then laid down the basis of the constitution of Manitoba, and safeguarded the rights of the French language." In terminating the Rev. Father said that instead of blaming the conduct of Riel impartial history will declare that the encroachments of an unworthy government were paralized by a handful of brave men commanded by a hero.

Le Sociel in reporting Father Guertin's lecture, says:—"The lecturer in speaking of the death of Scott, declarfed that Riel and his government were justified in acting as they did. The provincial government of Riel, he added, was quite as justified in shooting Scott as a government of the present day would be in ordering the hanging of any criminal or individual convicted of high treason. —The Gazette.

THE GEORGIAN BAY CANAL

The following extract from Hansard will show how close Canada is to incurring another extravagant possibility as if the G.T.P. was not enough. Someone might write a paper on the advantage (?) of this canal to Old Ontario:—

"MONTREAL, OTTAWA AND GEORGIAN BAY CANAL COMPANY.

House went into committee on Bill (No. 58) respecting the Montreal, Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal Company—Mr. McGiverin.

On section 5:

Nothing in this Act shall affect or impair the rights of the Government of Canada under or by virtue of the provisions of the sections submitted by section 6 of chapter 128 of the statutes of 1906 for section 43 of chapter 103 of the statutes of 1894.

Mr. Henderson. I see that the Minister of Railways (Mr. Graham) in his place, as he always is, and I would like to ask him a question. What would be the effect if the Government should decide to take over this whole work before the expiration of the time allowed by this Bill? the fact that we are extending the time for such a long period be a hindrance to the government in that case? May not the company say: We have rights to do with this matter for so many years, and we do not thing the government should interfere with these rights. I believe that if ever the work is to be constructed it will be by the government and not by a private company.

Mr Graham. The answer to my hon. friend (Mr. Henderson) will be found in this section. In 1908, to safeguard the government, a clause was inserted that any government, at any time, could take over this project by paying the money that had been expended by this company. That provision is re-enacted by this Bill. So, whatever powers the company may have, the government is protected by this section, allowing the government, on behalf of the country, to take over the work at any time."

So far ten members of the Liberal Cabinet in England have been defeated. Not a bad record.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The dear "Little Canadians" must have a navy of their own to play with, so they must.

Victoria, Jan. 26.—(Special)—The official recount of votes taken at the recent British Columbia election on local option, about completed, shows that British Columbia will remain "wet." Although approximately 8,000 spoilt votes were cast in favor of local option, the "drys" failed to get the necessary one more than 50 per cent. of the total vote.

Speaking at the Allard meeting at Ottawa:—"Sir Wilfrid, proceeding, said he thought a commencement would be made this spring on the Hudson Bay railway. The West would support the Georgian Bay canal as the East should support their project—the Hudson Bay railway.

"If I tell you my own thought," he said, 'I would say that the Georgian Bay canal should commence this year."

Mr. George Gurnett's win yesterday at Lindsay, by which the Peterborough contingent was enabled to continue in the Tankard competition, was very popular. "George" is a good sport and a good player, which is the highest point of excellence attainable by men "here below." To be a "good sport" is something undefinable, yet quite intelligible to the average mind. It is a certificate of trustworthiness and a fully developed manhood.

"Although an experienced Parliamentarian, Premier Whitney opens every session with the ancient determination to expedite business. It is as regular as a New Year's resolution, and meets the same fate."—The Globe.

And the Globe can really say a thing like this in the face of having highly commended Sir James & Co., for their short and businesslike conduct of the session last year. What on earth is the sense of running a newspaper in such a way as that?

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy is reported as saying of railways in the Maritime Provinces that it would be better to build less new lines and make greater use of existing roads. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy is a railway man of limited vision. He takes built roads and operates them so as to increase trade and make dividends on the capital invested in the properties. He does not shine alongside those expansive fellows who build roads for the money and votes made in building them, and then load on the country the burden of keeping the lines running.—Montreal Gazette.

"In the heated controversy about the position the Nationalist party will occupy in this Parliament, a rather significant development in the Irish party itself is receiving comparatively little attention. This is the revolt in the party against the leadership of John Redmond. Monday's returns showed the return to Parliament for the Mid division of Cork county of D. D. Sheehan, who defeated the official Redmond candidate by 825 votes. In 1907 Sheehan challenged the leadership of Redmond, and subsequently resigned, but was re-elected. Sheehan's victory makes the seventh anti-Redmond Nationalist to be elected."—The Globe.

In Britain, especially England, what are called redundant licenses are being cut off in large numbers, for which compensation is given at the average rate of about $5,000. There is a steady reduction in England as in other countries, against "too much drink," but the Public regards the "too many, or redundant" licenses as its own fault, and compensates the landlords accordingly. Our plan of licensing the man instead of the house may have been considered "good politics" at one time, but it is mighty unjust to the landlord, and stupid in nearly every other way. The public the world over is shortening its drink. There is no getting over that fact. The question of closing down a licensed business without warning, however, especially where improvements have been ordered by the people's representatives, is not just and hurts the cause. It will all come in good time, and it will only be hurt by manifest injustice.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Bogus Coins

A number of lead quarters are now in circulation in Port Hope. They are Canadian with King's head and United States of the ordinary issue. The bad pieces are easily detected. Between the fingers they feel slippery or greasy as compared with the silver coin, and the bogus can be easily bent with the fingers.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Jan. 26.—(Special.)—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market this morning the offerings of live stock were 800 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 650 hogs and 120 calves. There were no important changes in the condition of the market for cattle to-day, prices being firmly maintained on account of the smaller supply than usual. The attendance of buyers was large, and as the weather is more seasonable than in the early part of the week, the demand was good and an active trade was done. There were no really choice steers on the market, but the tops sold at 6c; good, at 5½c to 5¾c; fairly good, at 5c to 5½c; fair, at 4½c to 4¾c cows, at 3c to 4½c, and bulls at 3c to 5c per pound.

Supplies of sheep and lambs were small for which the demand was good and the undertone to the market was firm, but prices show no change. Active trade was done and sales of lambs were made at 6¾c and sheep at 4½c per lb. The trade in calves was good and prices much the same with sales at from $3 to $10 each as to size and quality. An easier feeling prevailed in the market for hogs and prices show a decline of 25c per cwt., notwithstanding the fact that the offerings were lighter and the demand fair. Sales of selected lots were made at $9 per cwt. weighed off the cars.

At the Montreal Stock Yards, west end market, there were 400 cattle, 25 sheep and lambs, 400 hogs and 250 calves for sale. There were no new features in the market except that the feeling in hogs was weaker and sales of selected lots were made at $8.75 to $9 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

Brampton's Recount.

Brampton, Jan. 27.—A recount of the local option ballots was conducted yesterday before Judge McGibbon, resulting in no change. The antis will make an effort to invalidate the by-law on the ground that a number of those who voted were tenants, not qualified to vote. Argument will be heard Feb. 6.

Local Option Confirmed In Galt.

Galt, 27.—The result of the local option vote confirms the passing of the bylaw by a net majority of ten votes, or two over the official count. To-day Judge Chisholm is hearing argument on technicalities. The antis are attacking the bylaw on the score of alleged irregularities at the polls.

White Slave Traffic.

Washington, Jan. 27.—By a viva voce vote the Mann "white slave" bill was yesterday passed by the House, practically as introduced.

PATH TO MORE PROSPEROUS FARMING SHOWN BY PROF. DAY

It is the Marketing of Farm Crops in Animal Products—Judging in Beef Cattle and Bacon Hogs at Last Session of Short Course.

Yesterday saw the conclusion of the three days' short course, and it is an unqualified fact that there has been greater interest taken in the course, and it has been more successful than anything in the line of agricultural study ever held in the city or county of Peterborough. The attendance has been very large at all the sessions and the farmers who attended could not but have been greatly benefitted by the comprehensive instruction and practical demonstrations of the course.

At the session yesterday afternoon there were over four hundred present and Prof. Day, superintendent of the Experimental Farm in connection with the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, conducted the judging, which was in beef cattle and bacon hogs.

The beef cattle were three bull calves, supplied by Mr. S. F. Redmond, of Otonabee, and Mr. Jas. Baptie, of Springville. Prof. Day was strong in his praise of the fine specimens which were brought into the ring. The hogs were supplied by the Geo. Matthews Co., and represented both the desirable and the undesirable type. The contrast afforded by this gave those present the opportunity to become acquainted with the best kind to produce.

Prof. Day pointed out the advantage of marketing farm crops in the form of animal products of some kind, rather than marketing them in their natural state. He stated that what was received for an article did not necessarily indicate the profit. We had to know first, what the article cost. The farmer who feeds live stock and looks after the manure properly is in a position to produce crops more cheaply than the man who sells hay and grain in their natural state. The speaker pointed out the importance of the live stock industry, and demonstrated the fact that there was more in it than many supposed. To be a really successful stockman required just as much knowledge and skill and painstaking effort as to be successful in any other business. The man who has a fondness for stock and can see results from his work will, naturally, enjoy his work and lose sight of what would otherwise be drudgery.

Prof. Day's appeal was especially directed to young men, in an effort to stimulate more enthusiasm in live stock along agricultural lines, and the older men were appealed to to assist the boys by getting stock in which the young fellows could take an interest and delight. It is pretty hard to get up enthusiasm over the stock on some of the farms.

At the conclusion of the session a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. H. C. Duff, the Department's representative at Norwood, for getting the speakers here for the short course, and for his indefatigable efforts generally in the interests of the course.

LABOUR CONDITIONS HERE

Mr. J. Arthur Sharp, Peterborough correspondent of the Labor Gazette, reported as follows in the January issue:—

GENERAL CONDITION OF THE LABOR MARKET.

Labor generally was well employed during the month, being more active than at the corresponding month last year. The mild weather during the first part of the month was favorable to the building trades, which were unusually active for the season. Indoor workers will have employment the greater part of the winter. Last month showed a falling off in permits for building over the same month last year. November, 1908, saw building permits issued to the amount of $25,525, while this year the amount was only $15,275. During the past year five new churches have been erected or were begun; a rough estimate of the cost of these buildings is $155,000. The Wm. Hamilton Company has been awarded the contract for a new set of pumps for the city of Hull. The Colonial Weaving Company has received two car loads of new machines and will add considerably to the capacity of its factory.

CONDITION OF LOCAL INDUSTRIES

Agriculture—Farmers were busy with fall ploughing the first part of the month and later with shipping grain. They got very good prices for fowl. Turkeys sold for 30 cents per pound, and geese and chickens were correspondingly high.

Lumbering—Fairly active conditions prevailed.

Manufacturing—The factories were all running steadily with full staffs of employees.

CONDITION OF PARTICULAR TRADES.

The building trades had a fairly good month, though no very large operations were going on.

Iron moulders had a fair month. Machinists, engineers, electrical workers and brass workers were busy.

Woodworkers, upholsterers, varnishers and polishers, carriage and wagon makers were active. Coopers were busy.

Printers and bookbinders were active and journeymen tailors were busy.

Bakers and confectioners had a very busy month.

Railroad employees were well employed as is usual at this time of the year.

Unskilled labor has been active until the latter part of the month.

DISTRICT NOTES

Cobourg—M. Jex & Company began work on a one hundred and thirty-five foot addition to the Provincial Steel Company's plant there.

WATCHING FOR NEW COMET

Appears in Western Sky Between Six and Seven O'clock in Evening—Photographed at Ottawa

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—Last night the astronomers at the Dominion Observatory christened a new comet.

After watching for it for a week, they caught sight of it in the western heavens between six and seven o'clock, probably because Monday night was particularly clear and favorable for observations through the big telescope.

One of the astronomers said they had named it "1910 A," as it is the first comet seen here this year. It will be visible for several days at about 6.15 in the evening, but probably hardly as plainly as it was last night.

It is not every day that the officials get a chance to see such an important heavenly body, so there was considerable interest in it.

Several excellent photos were taken and also observations that will interest scientific men. It is possible that telegrams stating the position the comet assumed will be wired to some American universities, and several may be received from other places where it is being watched for by astronomers.

SEEN IN JOHANNESBURG.

This comet was first discovered in Johannesburg, South Africa, on Jan. 17th, by a man named Berake,—and hence by some will be known as "Berake's Comet." Two days later it was seen at Winnipeg, and since then astronomers here have been on the lookout for it. Their patience was rewarded last night. It is a constellation of the first-class, and last night, when first noted, measured about 22 degrees, or about 35,000,000 miles, though it probably does not appear that large now. Astronomers estimate that it is approximately 100,000,000 miles from the earth.

A Peterborough gentleman who is interested told the Review to-day that he had not seen the new comet yet on account of the sky being clouded in the place where it is appearing.

If that part of the sky is clear between six and seven o'clock this evening thew celestial wanderer should be visible in Peterborough.

OF INTEREST

The Greatest Beast of Prey

The largest of the huge flesh-eating lizards, or dinosaurs, of the cretaceous period, whose skeleton now graces one of the halls of the Natural History Museum in New York, was, according to The American Museum Journal (New York, January), "the largest beast of prey that ever lived." This particular genus has been christened the "Tyrannosaur." Says the paper named above:

"Forty feet in length, with huge and massive skull, the jaws four feet long armed with sharply pointed teeth projecting from two to six inches from the socket, this monster is beyond comparison the greatest carnivorous animal that ever inhabited the land.

"The Museum has been peculiarly fortunate in securing three skeletons of this rare dinosaur. All of them were found by Mr. Barnum Brown of the Department of Vertebrate Paleontology on different expeditions. . . .

The rock in which these skeletons were found is a loosely cemented sandstone, but the skeletons themselves are partly or wholly encased in great concretionary masses of flinty hardness. Extracting the bones uninjured from these iron-hard concretions is a slow and difficult task and is not yet complete on the third and finest of the skeletons. The skull and jaws complete on the third and finest of the skeletons. The skull and jaws and the pelvis and hind limbs of the second skeleton have been restored and mounted in the hall. . . The skull and jaws of the third and finest skeleton of the Tyrannosaur have recently been placed in a case beside them. This specimen, which is the first really complete skull of a carnivorous dinosaur known to science, is of inestimable scientific value. It is beyond question the most impressive dinosaur skull ever found and presents several unusual features, notably the distinct sutures which clearly define every element of the skull and the definite size and position of the orbit. . . . .

"There is no living beast of prey that compares with the great carnivorous dinosaurs of which habitually attacks the largest herbivorous animals. The lion and the tiger prey upon the medium-sized and smaller-hoofed animals; they do not usually molest the great 'pachyderms' (the elephant and the rhinoceros), and the indefinite multiplication of these giant ungulates is checked by other means. But during the age of Reptiles it was different. The Allosaurus of the Jurassic, the Tyrannosaurus of the Cretaceous, were fitted by nature to attack and prey upon the largest of their herbivorous contemporaries; and the size and power of their weapons for attack far surpass anything seen among modern carnivores of those of the Age of Mammals. Conversely the largest herbivorous dinosaurs wore armor or weapons for defense much heavier and more powerful than can be found among the great pachyderms of modern times, whose thick skin is mainly a protection against accidental injury or the attacks of insects. The great horns and bony neck-frill of Triceratops and the armor-plated head and body of Ankylosaurus were developed no doubt to resist the attacks of the huge Tyrannosaur. Other contemporary dinosaurs like Trachodon were unarmored but were evidently adapted to a more amphibious life and sought refuge in swimming beyond the reach of their great enemy. Others again of much smaller size were agile and active and probably escaped by superior speed."

WEST AFRICAN ENGLISH

LANGUAGE OF NATIVES IS QUEER DIALECT.

The "Pigeon" of the Blacks Along the British Trade Routes Contains Some Strange Anomalies, and Is a Provincial Dialect All by Itself—"Very" Is "Too Much," and "Too Much" Is "Pass Plenty."

Even they "who only England know" know, or have read, something of Babu English, that florid product of our Indian Empire. It has been imitated—chiefly by Mr. Anstey—massacred—chiefly by its every other imitator—but never improved upon. Less known is the curious jargon consecrated to the use and abuse of the unlucky and heathen Chinee, the pigeon English of the further east, said to be so termed because it started life in business transactions, the Chinese word for business being as like "pigeon" as anything Chinese can be like anything English.

But far less known—to the ordinary Anglo-Saxon—is the entirely different pigeon English of West Africa—that weirdly-conceived "lingua franca" which will take a man from the Gambia to the Congo, not excepting the colonies of France and Germany. Its origin is wrapt in mystery. It must, of course, have been introduced imperceptibly, almost accidentally, by the earliest British merchants, for every few miles from end to end of the coast the native dialect, if not the entire language, changes, and the "general post" perpetually being played by the Europeans, due to the deadly climate and necessarily frequent furlough, renders the acquisition of a native language impossible except in very rare cases, and now that the white man has introduced the trade that entails travel, pigeon English is often the only medium through which natives of even neighboring tribes can communicate with one another.

What would, or could, be done without it it is hard to imagine. It has its rules, its vocabulary, even it syntax—all, of course, unwritten. Here and there it bears traces of Portuguese and other European words and phrases, but it is idle to examine it too closely. The only way to treat it is as what it is—a freak both of nature and philology. Were one positive, for instance, that a friend would have come to call during a few hours' inevitable absence, one would on returning say to one's boy, "Some white man done come look me?" "No, sah," would be the unexpected answer. "What! no white man come look me for sure?" one would repeat, incredulously, "Yes, sah," would be the answer. In English it would, of course, be "No, sir"; but, after all, the affirmative is the more logical. "Yes, no man did come." At the back of the black boy's mind two negatives made an affirmative, though if one were to tell him so in so many words, he would undoubtedly "fear too much that his master be criss-cross for head," i.e., be very afraid that his master was cracked.

To a tyro the most puzzling thing about this language is the fact that many ordinary English words are used with quite extraordinary meanings, e.g., "too much" means "very" ("he be sick too much"), while "pass plenty" is the equivalent for the English "too much," "water pass plenty for this glass," i.e., "there is too much water in this glass." Further similar vagaries are best illustrated by examples: "I lend them to Charles" means, for some unreasonable reason, "I borrowed it (or them) from Charles"; while "I trust 'em Charles" means "I lent it (or them) to Charles." Again, "find" means "search," "look for"; to find is "catch," to see is "look." This is a trick of phraseology which has maddening results for the uninitiated. Imagine after a long search for some missing article—and a prolonged search means exertion, and unrewarded exertion on the coast means perspiration, desperation, exasperation—imagine hearing one's boy say at last, "I find them thing, sah." "Good, pass it here," might be the unwary reply, "I find 'em, sah, but I no catch 'em," and if the boy be wise he will then slither out of reach "one time," the expressive synonym for "immediately." After this it is not surprising that "learn" and "teach" are—as, indeed, sometimes in real English—interchangeable.

"Why do you do that?" is "What's the matter," more onomatopoeically spelt "whassamatta—you do them thing?" "How do you know that?" is "Which way you savez them thing?" The word "know" is practically nonexistent; from "sabe," "savvy," "savez" you may take your choice of the spelling of its substitute. Its pronunciation is much like that of its source—the French "saves" — except that between the wings of the "v," so to speak, seems to be sandwiched the sound of a "b." "Dash"—of Portuguese origin—is the invariable word for "gift" or "give," e.g., "Which man dash you them thing?" "Flog" is almost always used for any kind of blow, even the action of patting a dog, and metaphorically for reprimand. "He vex too much, he flog me for mouth," only means "He was very annoyed, he scolded me well." "Hot" is the generic word for pain of all sorts. 'My head him hot me too much" is "I have a headache." "Chop," as in the East, means food of every sort and description, and is not confined to the exiguous and leathery "mutton" chops which grow on the local goat.

"Live" (alternatively "lib") is a word that occurs in almost every sentence. Frequently it merely replaces the verb to be—"He lib for house" (He is at home), "Chop live" (Dinner is ready), or it has more delicate senses, occasionally much like the French "Il vient de faire" (He has just done so and so), e.g., "He live for die" means "He has died recently," "He live for go" means "He has just gone," or else "He is just about to go," according to the context. "Proper" (often pronounced "ploper") indicates fulfilment in nearly every sense. "He live for die proper" (He is as dead as mutton).

TO EFFECT SETTLEMENT WITH CRANLEY ESTATE FOR $500 DECISION OF COMMITTEE

Legal Committee Had First Meeting—One Suit to be Defended—May Issue Pamphlets for Publicity Purposes—Other Matters.

The Legal Committee held its first meeting last night and dealt with several matters that required attention. It was decided to effect a settlement if possible, with the estate of the late Patrick Cranley, who died as a result of injuries sustained by falling off a sidewalk in Ashburnham. O'Connell & Gordon have been looking after the matter for the estate and issued a writ against the city for $2,000. The committee decided to offer $500 in settlement of the claim.

The question of introducing a by-law to prohibit dogs running at large was discussed, and on motion of Ald. Turner and Gillespie was decided to leave the matter over for another meeting. Galt's by-law on the question under discussion was read, and there was some criticism of it.

On the advice of the city solicitor it was decided to defend the action being brought against the city by G. W. Hatton, whose buggy was broken on account of his horse running away. The horse, it is claimed, was frightened by the city's cement mixer.

The claim of Mr. Mitchell, who has the Hilliard farm rented from the city, for damages on account of the smallpox and scarlet fever tents being placed on the property, was refereed to the city solicitor, who will take the matter up with the City Trust Commission.

The matter of having published a small pamphlet for distribution among excursionists coming to the city came in for considerable discussion. The proposition was regarded with favor by the members of the committee, and there were a number of suggestions as to what form the pamphlet should take. It was thought that a small pamphlet containing a map showing the principal points of interest in the city and how they can be reached, two or three cuts, and some information about Peterborough, would be about what was wanted. Ald. Turner said that ten thousand copies of this kind of a booklet could be secured for $150.00—a cent and a half per copy.

On motion of Ald. Gillespie and Phelan, the city clerk was instructed to inquire into the matter of issuing pamphlets, to secure estimates of the cost, etc., and to have a report prepared for the next meeting of the committee.

Those present were: Ald. Duffus, chairman; Ald. Gillespie, Phelan and Turner, and the city solicitor.

TRUANCY OFFICERS ARE NEEDED IN THE COUNTY

Says Inspector Lees — Frequent Changes of Teaching Staffs and Irregularity of Pupils Serious Obstacles to Progress in Country Schools.

When the County Council resumed yesterday afternoon, Mr. Sherman, of Victoria County, was present, and addressed the members with a view to establishing a claim of damages against the county on account of his horse going through Pigeon Lake bridge last fall. Mr. Sherman was driving home in the evening last fall when one of his horses was drowned and the other disabled. He asked the county to remunerate him for the horse that was drowned, which he valued at $175.

It appears that on the night in question the bridge was in good shape at seven o'clock in the evening. Soon after a big storm came up and parted the bridge, and Mr. Sherman's team drove into the opening.

The matter was referred to the Joint Committee to take up with Victoria county and the city of Peterborough.

School Inspector Richard Lees presented his report as follows:—

To the Warden and Council of the County of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—I beg respectfully to submit my report on the work of the schools for the past year.

During 1909 there were in operation 100 rural schools in five of which assistant teachers were employed. There were also one continuation school with two teachers making a total of 107 teachers in the rural schools. There were three Public schools and two continuation schools in villages with a total of 23 teachers.

As formerly, the two most serious obstacles to progress are frequent changes of teachers and irregularity of attendance on the part of the pupils. For this irregularity, there are various causes, but by far the most serious is indifference on the part of parents. Children are allowed out of school for the most trivial reasons and often for no reason at all. There is everywhere great need for a rigid application of the Truancy Act, which is at present practically a dead letter so far at least as the rural schools are concerned. The act gives to every township council the power to appoint one or more truant officers for the municipality, and in case this is not done by the council before February 1st, boards of trustees may appoint their own officers. The powers and duties of these officials are fully defined. It is earnestly to be desired that every township council in the county will exercise this privilege and appoint as truant officers men who can be trusted to perform efficiently and fearlessly the duties of their office.

The frequent changing of teachers is also a serious evil. It is to be hoped that when the new system of granting certificates is fully established, and there is a larger proportion of permanent certificates, this will, to some extent, disappear. The most important measure of advance, however, will have to come from the sections in the form of a determination to recognize merit and efficiency by a willingness to pay better salaries. As things are now arranged, the difference between the cost of securing an experienced, qualified teacher and one of the cheaper class without qualification, is very largely borne by the grants, so that the difference to the section is comparatively small. It is to be hoped that trustees and ratepayers will soon wake up to a realization of this fact.

The grants for the year have been liberal. The total amount exceeds slightly that received in 1908, and was $11,973.08.

During the year two buildings were erected, one in the new section, No. 14, Douro, and the other in No. — Chandos. The former is of cement blocks and the latter frame. They are both good buildings modern in design, and will meet the requirements of the sections for many years to come. A special grant of $150 was made by the minister from the assisted schools fund to assist the trustees of No. 5, Chandos. A number of other sections are contemplating building, and may do so this year.

The three continuation schools of the county have all increased to the standing of two teacher schools. The attendance at these schools now totals about 130, showing that they are being appreciated by the people for whose benefit they are maintained. They are doing excellent work and are worthy of the confidence of the communities in which they are located. The greatest difficulty encountered has been that of securing suitable qualified teachers.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
RICHRAD LEES,
Public School Inspector.

CHEMICAL ENGINE MAY BE PURCHASED FOR FIRE HALL

If Key Rate Can be Arranged So That the Small Householder Will Get the Benefit of It—Fire, Water and Light Committee's Annual Inspection of Fire Station.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met at the fire hall last night for the purpose of making their annual inspection and to consider what is to be purchased over and above the ordinary supplies. Chief Howard had prepared quite a lengthy requisition list.

The committee pursued a course of rigid economy, and only things absolutely necessary were granted.

The committee seemed favorably impressed with the idea of purchasing a chemical engine, but Chairman Morgan said he would not consent unless it could be shown that it was going to be of benefit to the workingman—the man owning the small house having as much right to fire protection as the owner of the big store or factory.

It was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the chairman to make further inquiries. It is possible that the Mayor, accompanied by one or two aldermen and the fire chief, may arrange a meeting with the Fire Underwriters in order that a straightforward and substantial bargain may be made regarding insurance rates. Ald. Morgan was in favor of making the purchase of the chemical engine if satisfactory arrangements could be made with the Underwriters whereby the small householder would have the benefit of the key rate.

The staff at the fire hall will be increased, but to what extent, has not been decided.

The purchase of supplies was decided on as follows:—

Detroit door opener, ten rubber coats, seven pair rubber boots, one span of horses, two tarpaulins, one dozen couplings, 25 line repeater for electrical switchboard, automatic springs for apparatus room doors, telephone cabinet, one half-dozen lanterns, material for alterations to stable, six mattresses, five pillows, linoleum for recreation room, oil-cloth for bath room, $25 for paint, ten comforters for beds, sleigh tracks for apparatus.

The two tarpaulins are new to the brigade's equipment. The chief asked for six, calling attention to the fact that they were invaluable when fire broke out in private residences, stores or other premises on which there were perishable goods, but the committee decided that two would be sufficient for the present. They will be 20 by 40 feet, and are used to throw over goods to prevent them being ruined or damaged by water. A short time ago the chief stated to the committee that if he were allowed to purchase the paint to be used on the exterior of the fire station, the men would do the work, and it would not interfere with their routine work. The idea met approval, and the committee acquiesced in the chief's request.

LICENSE QUESTION IN KINGSTON

Peterborough lops off five liquor licenses this year, and St. Catharines six. The lords of the council will be interested in noting this. It will help them in determining what they should do.—Kingston Whig

The Peterborough city council has lopped off five licenses out of eighteen and the St. Catharines council six out of sixteen. Which is merely a sign of the times. If a few were lopped off here it would do a great deal of good—not the least of all to the decent hotels and saloon-keepers who at the moment rather suffer through the reputation of some of the other places here.—Kingston Standard.

SETTING A BAD EXAMPLE

Our French-Canadian friends have inveighed against the "bigotry" of the Orangemen of Ontario, from time to time, but where can there be found more striking examples of racial madness and its accompaniment of bigotry than amongst the French-Canadians themselves, who are, as we have been showing for months out of their own mouths and out of their own journals, dead set upon the "rights of their race" as they call them, upon the inviolability of their language, and of everything else that implies but a separate existence and a separate French national life. Even so astute a man as Senator Cangrain, of Montreal, who is now "running" for mayor of Montreal, appeals directly to all the passions and prejudices of his race. The Irish-Catholic nominee for mayor of Montreal, for whom in this year of the Eucharistic Congress an English Protestant stepped aside, is opposed, out of all reason, by a French-Canadian, solely on the ground of his race. It is not only a bigotted but an abominable outcome of that absurd racial ambition for which history affords no warrant, and circumstances no excuse. The development of this chaotic and furious passion has been quick of late years, and as the time of opportunity has drawn nigh it has increased both in volume and intensity. What would we think of an English-speaking man who urged his language or nationality as his qualification for a position as a representative Canadian? We should think he had secret and unworthy ambition, and we should be right. What, then, can be expected? Is it to be supposed that the nationalists shall have great "nationalist" meetings, congresses, alliances, etc., etc., for the expressed and avowed object of furthering their racial separateness and independence without incurring the suspicion of their fellow-countrymen of another tongue? Riel tried that on once and it was not a success, but as we have recently seen the spirit of Riel still goes marching on. He is approved of by this race as never before, and some day this grasping, unreasonable ambition of the French may lead to a like disaster. There is much more in this greed "nationalist" movement than has usually been supposed. It is time for it to ease off and allow the rest of us the privilege of being Canadians also, even without having to speak French. That demagogues are at work is to be supposed, but the French people respond, and respond eagerly, with a definite and now unconcealed plan for the future. We are not alarmists, nor are we afraid, but the "movements in all directions" in recent years have given food for profound thought, if not disquiet.

SPLENDID YEAR AT ST. PAUL'S

Annual Business Meeting Showed Excellent Progress

The annual business meeting of St. Paul's church was held in the lecture hall, Wednesday, Jan. 26, at which there was a full representation of active members. The meeting was most enthusiastic and harmonious. Rev. Mr. Pogue opened the meeting with devotional exercises, after which on motion of Messrs. J. C. Shook and T. A. S. Hay, Mr. R. E. Wood was appointed chairman.

Mr. Wood reviewed briefly the work of the past year, which he pointed out was most satisfactory, from all standpoints. As the work of the pastor had increased so rapidly he was pleased to state that the Board of Managers had supplied the long felt need of a typewriter and an allowance for the engagement of a stenographer. The chairman then called the secretaries of the session and the Board of Managers to their duties. The minutes of the meeting held January 27th, 1909, were then read and confirmed.

The following reports were then read and adopted:—

Report of Session, Board of Managers, Sunday School, Missionary, Women's Foreign Missionary Society, Ladies' Aid, Young Peoples' Guild, Fraser Mission Band.

All the reports were most encouraging, showing that exceptional progress had been made in all departments. It was noteworthy to know that about 60 per cent. of the increase of the membership of the church came from the Sunday school. The untiring efforts of the pastor, superintendent and teachers were well rewarded by this splendid showing.

The Board of Managers, for a considerable time had been discussing the advisability of a lot, on which to erect a manse, and by a unanimous vote the Board were instructed to purchase the same. This is only another progressive step of a progressive church.

The retiring members of the Board of Managers, namely: Messrs. A. Hall, W. G. Ferguson, J. H. Connal and T. A. S. Hay, were re-elected.

After the Doxology had been sung the ladies served refreshments, which was a happy closing of the most interesting annual meeting held in years.

Mark St. Church

Rev. Robert Pogue, of St. Paul's church, will be the speaker at the evangelistic service at Mark street church to-night. The service will commence at 7.45 o'clock.

ANNUAL MEETING AT ST. ANDREW'S

Past Year Was Very Satisfactory -Reports of Departments Submitted

The seventy-sixth annual meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's was held in the lecture hall of the church. After devotional exercises led by the Rev. J. G. Potter, Mr. Edmison, K.C., was elected chairman of the meeting. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary, Mr. John McClelland, and were adopted.

All the reports were of the most encouraging nature. The session's reports was read by Mr. Richard Lees, clerk of the session, and congratulated the congregation on the harmony and good will prevailing among the people of the congregation. The loss sustained by the death of Mr. Wm. Fowler, was referred to in suitable terms. There are 254 families under pastoral oversight, and a membership of 517; 40 members being added during the year. The session fund showed receipts amounting to $50, and disbursements $57.80.

THE LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

Well merited praise was given to the Ladies' Aid Society for the excellent work they had accomplished during the year. The renovation of the manse and the building of the handsome colonial verandah had been their special task. Instead of the usual Thanksgiving dinner the congregation donated $120.45. The total receipts were $693.80, with expenditure of $693.41. Mrs. F. L. Robinson is the energetic president and Mrs. George Laing secretary.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society also reported a good year. Emphasis had been laid upon the study of conditions in the Orient, and a new line of work among scattered helpers had been undertaken by Mrs. Rankin Receipts for the year were $180. Total gifts, including clothing for the North-west, $200.60.

The Young Ladies' Mission Band reported great activity during the year, splendid meetings had been held, and profitable studies had been enjoyed. Total receipts were $64.74.

The willing workers had held regular meetings and also studied foreign mission conditions. Their gifts amounted to $10.

The Sunday school report showed progress. An excellent staff of officers and teachers and great harmony amongst the workers gave hope for the future progress. Special thanks are due to Miss King and Mrs. P. A. Kerr for the Christmas treat for the children.

The receipts for the year were $294.78, of which $154.70 were given to missions.

The Young Men's Guild reported an active life, and continued their interest in all the lines of church help, for which they have always been noted. Twenty-one dollars had sufficed to carry on the work for the year.

The Young People's Society had held meetings every week and took charge of the prayer meetings during the summer. There are 75 on the roll, with an average attendance of 30. Collections for the society's work amounted to $20.

The choir had enjoyed their work during the year. Everything had gone along most harmoniously, and the members all appreciated the interest in their success, as shown by Mrs. McClelland, organist, and Mr. Wright, the leader. Their cash receipts had been $102.75, with a balance of $24.70.

The Managers' report was then presented by Mr. A. McFarlane, the chairman of the Board, and showed a most successful year. There was a balance over expenditure, of $223.50, which, together with special gifts for that purpose, had reduced the floating debt from $1,600 to $809.

The statement is as follows:—

Messrs. Wm. Langford, Jr., and Peter A. Kerr were elected to the Board of Management, and Mr. Jos. Saunders was re-elected.

Mr. John McClelland was re-appointed on the Board of Nicholls Hospital, Trust and Charity Board.

Mr. Richard Lees was chosen on the Hall Trust.

The thanks of the congregation were extended to the Ladies' Aid Society and to the auditors for their diligence.

The meeting closed with the doxology and benediction by the pastor.

WEDDING BELLS

MITCHELL—RENWICK.

A very pretty and interesting event was celebrated on Wednesday, January 19th, 1910, at "Hillcrest Farm," Lang, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Renwick, when their daughter, Mary May, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. John A. Mitchell, a prosperous young farmer of Saskatchewan.

The ceremony took place in the spacious drawing room, which was tastefully decorated with smilax, carnations and ferns for the occasion. The Rev. D. D. McDonald of Keene performed the ceremony.

The bride looked lovely leaning on her father's arm as she entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss M. Miller of Keene, while Miss Bryce sang and played during the ceremony, "Oh, Perfect Love." Miss Isabella Renwick, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Mr. H. Abescombie of Lindsay.

The bride was attired in a becoming gown of white organdie and lace with the accustomed bridal veil and flowers and carried a bouquet of white roses and the bridesmaid, Miss I. Renwick, who was also becomingly attired, carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold watch, to the bridesmaid a pearl ring, and to the groomsman a pair of gold cuff links.

The bride's going-away costume was a French grey broadcloth with hat to match.

They will visit friends in a number of cities between here and Winnipeg, where they will leave from the latter place for their home in Central Butte, Saskatchewan.

Among the out of town invited guests were the following:—Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Brookdale, Man.; Mr. and Mrs. Lytle, Roland, Man.; Miss G. D. Mitchell, Emily; J. F. Loser, Nanton, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, Wainwright, Alta.; Mr. Pelky, Queen's, Kingston; Mr. Samuel Mitchell, "Grandview Farm," Emily; Misses Scott, Campbellford; Mr. Robins, Queen's, Kingston; Miss E. Mitchell, Emily; Capt. and Mrs. Hounsell, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Young, Selkirk, Man.; Mr. J. Renwick and wife, Regina; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Mitchell, Peterborough; Mrs. Boyd Fisher, Kelowna, B. C.; Mr. Zacharish Mitchell, "Cedardale Farm," Emily; Miss Harrison, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. F. Mitchell, Winnipeg; T. Miller, Toronto; John Renwick, California; Mr. and Mrs. Cotton, Peterborough; Albert Renwick, California; Miss Elsie Mitchell, Boston, Mass.; Misses Abercrombie, Lindsay, and others.

The presents were numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

Their many friends wish them health and prosperity in their new home in the west.

St. Andrew's Sunday School Concert in the School Room to-morrow (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock. A cantata arranged by Miss B. King and Mrs. Peter Kerr will be given, with other interesting numbers. Admission 10c.

STRATHCONAS AND WEST ENDS WERE THE WINNERS

In City League Matches — Commissioners Defeated Keene 12-2, and West Ends Beat T. A. S., 7-4.

Strathconas won handily from Keene last night in the first game of the City League weekly double-header by a 12—2 score and West Ends finished on top in the second with the T. A.S., winning by 7—4. Neither contest had any medals on it, although the second exhibition was the better contested. The half-time score were 8—2, for the Strathconas and 2—1 for the West Ends. Bill Rose was in charge of the first contest and McDougall, of the Keene team handled the bell in the T.A.S.—West Ends fixture. Both gave good satisfaction and made the teams play hockey all the time.

Keene had two new faces on the lineup, in Edwards and Wedlock, and the team was weak. Weir, McDougall and Lewis did the bulk of the work, but their style of play was not effective against the checking of their opponents. Dickson did not show his usual good form and very rarely attempted to rush. Dinsdale had a busy night. The shots came from close in and from all directions, but he saved his goal on more than one occasion by fast work. Derocher between the nets for the Straths gave a good exhibition of goal-tending. Several times he went out and blocked what appeared to be certain scores. The forward line worked well together and pulled off some nice plays. Dusty and Denison blocked steadily and the latter's rushing was prominent. Weatherston was moved back to cover in the second half and made good.

The teams were:

Strathconas.	Keene.

Derocher	Dinsdale

Denison	Dickson

Ray	Wedlock

Burritt	Weir

McMillan	Lewis
Left Wing
Weatherston	Edwards

THE PLAY.

Keene took the south end goal. Weir drew the puck and in a couple of seconds took it up into Strath's territory. Weatherston went down the boards, but Weir recovered as McMillan overskated. Ray lot away and the pass to Burritt was intercepted. Dickson stopped a combination between Burritt and Ray. The play was even. Derocher took care of McDougall's long shot from centre ice and Strath's line was called back on offside by Ray. Weir took the puck from Dusty, but missed the shot. Both teams were over skating the puck. Burritt got a chance but lifted too high.

McDougall shot wild after getting away. Dusty took a jaunt down the boards and scored from the side. Time 10 minutes.

Pete Weatherstone made it one better in one minute.

Derocher stopped one from Edwards. McDougall's lone rush was blocked at cover. Derocher stopped a shot from Lewis on a pass from McDougall and the play went to Keene goal. McDougall stopped Denison and Ray sidetracked Dickson.

Dusty secured the puck after McDougall had rushed, but his shot was wasted. McMillan beat Dinsdale for the next goal after five minutes.

Dusty rushed, passed to Burritt and the bell rang in a half a minute.

McMillan was penalized. Burritt missed a pass from Ray and a second later missed a shot, but was there on the next pass and scored in two minutes. Burritt took the next in twenty seconds, after Ray had secured the puck and passed.

McMillan came along with another in 25 seconds on a lift that bounded off Dickson's head.

Dinsdale got in front of another from McMillan. The Keene team were on the defensive and the Straths had the better of the play. McMillan passed McDougall, but Dinsdale stopped Buttitt's shot.

Lewis had a fine chance, but Derocher went out and spoiled the shot.

Finally Weir pulled the string in six minutes.

Keene took a momentary brace McDougall and Walker got away but couldn't beat the defence. Dusty rushed, passed to Burritt, but the shot went wide. Burritt picked up a pass and was called back. Wedlock started the combination that netted the next goal for Keene. Lewis beat Derocher. Time four minutes.

Burritt missed a nice opening in front of Dinsdale and the disc travelled northward.

Lewis stopped Dusty. Dinsdale blocked a hot one, but McMillan beat him for the next three minutes.

The Straths had a close shave. Denison forgot to pass on his rush and the half ended with the red and white team pressing.

Strathconas 8; Keene 2.

SECOND HALF.

Weatherstone wiggled through, but shot wide. Weir returned and Derocher went out and blocked. In two minutes Weatherstone tallied. Lewis and McDougall combined, but the puck went into the corner. Dusty rushed and Dinsdale blocked. Dickson and Wedlock combined, but could not score. Weir got away but was forced into the corner. Burritt missed a shot on a pass from Dusty. McDougal stopped Weatherstone. Lewis was called back. Weatherstone rushed, but there was no one to take the pass in front of Dinsdale. Lewis rushed, passed to Lewis, but the latter shot wide. Dusty rushed up the boards and beat Dinsdale on a shot from the side. Time, 17 minutes.

Burritt took the next on a pass from McMillan in 40 seconds.

Derocher blocked nicely a long shot from Lewis and a second later stopped a roller. Dusty secured the next counter from a scrimmage in 2 1-2 minutes.

Dusty hit the goal post after a lower. McDougall rushed, but could not beat the defence. A second later he took another try and passed to Weir. Derocher came out and took the puck on the shin-pads and the game finished two minutes ater.

SECOND GAME

The T. A. S.-West Ends struggle was interesting to watch and at times the players performed brilliantly. The losers lacked team work and did not play up to the form which their admirers hoped and expected. On the other hand, the Oldham outfit, secured most of their counters as a result of combination play, in which Seymour, Dobson and Crane largely figured. The work of these three players was always prominent. Halpin took care of a number of hot ones in clever style.

Giroux in the nets for the T. A. S. blocked in his usual effective manner. Hefferman and Quigley were inclined to roam from their positions and it gave the opposing line many chances to work in close on the nets. Hefferman broke up several two-man plays which looked good for a counter and rushed well. Coughlin and McNichol were always conspicuous by their good work.

The teams were:—

West Ends.	T. A. S.
Goal
Halpin	Giroux
Point
Munro	Hefferman
Cover
Seymour	Quigley
Rover
Crane	Coughlin
Centre
Dobson	Sabitino
Ring wing
Shortt	Morin
Left wing
Giroux	McNicholl

THE PLAY

West Ends pressed from the faceoff. McNicholl missed a pass from Sabitino. The West Ends nets had a narrow escape, but the situation was saved. Morin took a shot and the play went into east corner. Halpin warded off Sabitino's shot. McDonald was getting the offsides. Quigley drew a penalty for getting Seymour along the boards. McNicholl got away but Munro blocked. Shortt was called back on offside and Crane took offside pass from Dobson. Sabitino took shot and Munro blocked. T. A. S. were having a little the better of the play. Crane's shot went wide. Finally he got away from a scrimmage after 12 minutes and scored.

Crane and Dobson combined, the shot going over the nets. The players bunched somewhat. Seymour took a lone rush but lost the puck to Hefferman, who returned, but collided with Crane. Quigley's lift missed by inches.

Hefferman again stopped Seymour on his rush. Giroux sent Dobson's shot to the corner. McNicholl worked the puck down, but his shot was pie for Halpin. Giroux shot wide. Hefferman blocked lone shot from Crane. Seymour was benched and one minute later Crane joined him. Coughlin zig-zagged but couldn't pass defence. After ten minutes Sabitino put the puck behind Halpin.

Sabitino was called back. Seymour was chased for the second time. Munro stopped a dangerous two-man play. Giroux failed to make good on Shortt's pass. Morin went the fence route. Crane put his team ahead after seven minutes. Quigley stopped Seymour and took a shot but missed. Time was called shortly afterwards. West Ends 2, T.A.S. 1.

SECOND HALF

T. A. S. goal was assaulted from the face-off, but there was nothing doing. Giroux made a clever stop after Seymour had worked in close. McNicholl was ruled off.

Hefferman spoiled a nice combination play, but Dobson beat Giroux after Crane had taken the puck down. Time 3 1-2 minutes.

Crane too the next one minute later on a short from the side.

Dobson and Quigley embraced in the west corner and were sent to the fence to cool off.

Hefferman missed a shot after he had rushed from his position. Crane's shot went high and McNicholl could not go further than cover. Seymour took the next in 4 minutes. Hefferman's lone rush was spoiled. McNicholl shot wide. Hefferman lost the puck again to the West End defence. Coughlin scooped in the second score for his team after 6 minutes. Hefferman made Dobson pass wildly to Crane and Coughlin was called back. Shortt passed nicely to Crane but Giroux blocked the latter's shot. Dobson missed on a hard chance. Seymour secured the puck from Morin and passed to Crane but nothing resulted. Crane tripped Quigley and rested. Giroux beat his brother for the next on a lift after seven minutes.

Hefferman got Seymour and beat it to the penalty box. Seymour stopped Coughlin, rushed and passed to Crane, who scored in 1 1-2 minutes.

Giroux handled Crane's shot and Coughlin took the rubber up and scored. Time 2 minutes.

Shortt rushed nicely, but there was no one to take the pass. Quigley looked after Seymour. Coughlin visited the timekeepers for tripping. Morin shot wide and Giroux blocked a shot from his brother, who had taken the pass from Shortt. Halpin was called upon to look after one from Morin.

In four minutes, Coughlin secured the last score of the game.

FRED WHITCROFT IS CALLED A HUMORIST

Under the heading, "Fred Whitcroft a Humorist," the Ottawa Journal says:—

Fred Whitcroft is one of the fastest hockey players in the game today, and in the recent games between the Edmonton Challengers for the Stanley Cup and the Ottawas, he proved it to the entire satisfaction of the local fans.

Whitcroft may or may not be the fastest player in the National Hockey Association, but he holds the record in one department of the game at least. He has exceeded the speed limit this time.

By the time that the Edmonton boy had played one game with the westerners, his first of the season he definitely announced his retirement from the game next season.

Nor is it to be a Patti farewell Person thought. Whitcroft is as sure as sure that he won't be in uniform next year. He is just as certain of it as he was that Edmonton would lift the Cup from Ottawas, before the games came off. There was nothing to it but Whitcroft for the woolly next year.

"Yes I'm going to sign with Renfrew this year," said Whitcroft to the Journal recently. "And next year is going to see me out of hockey. That's right."

I love my doggook, but Oh, you last appearance.

Maybee.

LOCAL CURLERS LOST TO LINDSAY

Peterborough Started Well But Lindsay Won Out With a Strong Finish

Peterborough curlers won from Bobcaygeon but lost to Lindsay in the finals yesterday and are now out of the Tankard.

Lindsay was victorious by 21 shots. The ice was in fine condition. Peterborough led off at the start, and at one time were 10 shots to the good, but Lindsay finished strong. The scores:—

HOCKEY

A match was played last evening between St. John's Juniors and Stratton's specials, St. John's being the victors by a score of 13—7.

The teams lined up as follows:—

St. John's		Stratton's
Goal
Cecil Deney		H. Frost
Point
Cecil Brown		H. McConnell
Cover
A. Horsfield		R. Stratton
Right wing
F. Malley		R. Neill
Left wing
H. Crowe		G. Stuart
Centre
E. Smith		A. Austin
Rover
K. Brown		Wilfrid Stratton

The referee, Harold Parker, was satisfactory. The rink was kindly lent by R. Neill, one of the players. A good game was played by both sevens.

CURLING

The Lindsay Post says:—In the finals of the district championship tankard series, the Peterborough curling club defeated Bobcaygeon on the round this morning by 16 points. The game was interesting, as both rinks representing the two clubs played equally good curling. Peterborough at the close proved very fast and reliable, while Bobcaygeon seemed to be depending on the last few ends to win out, but alas, the Quakers were too fast. Jim. Connel, who skipped for Peterborough, was swamped under by E. J. Broad, G. H. Giroux, who skipped so successfully for Peterborough, defeated A. Davies by 21 points. The ice for the game was in splendid condition.

SHOTS ON GOAL

The second double-header in the church hockey league will be played at the Auditorium to-night, Knox vs. St. Andrew's and "All Saints" vs George street.

Quakers and C.G.E. Mercantile league has met for the second time this season at Brock street rink to-night. This league is becoming famous for furnishing excitement and as these two teams played a tie in the previous contest, there is sure to be interesting doings.

Peterborough fans will have an opportunity of seeing the fast Lindsay intermediates in action when they meet the locals here to-morrow night at Brock street rink. The visitors are bringing down a big delegation of rooters and Captain Stoddard's seven are expecting victory.

Deluded Hopes.

"Miss Birdie, do you know that you have robbed me of my peace of mind—that on your account I cannot sleep?" said young Spooner to his landlady's daughter.

"This is so sudden—you had better speak to my mother," simpered the young lady.

"Speak to your mother! I thought it was you who banged the piano until 1 o'clock every night!"

Siberia.

Siberia comprises 5,400,000 square miles, divided into the following regions: Western Siberia, comprising the governments of Tobolsk and Tomsk and the territories of Semipalatinsk, Akmolinsk and Semiryechshensk; eastern Siberia, the governments of Irkutsk and Yeniseisk and the territories of Transbaikal, Amur, Yakutsk, the littoral and one-half of the island of Sakhalin.

An Ungentle Hint.

To Mrs. McCarthy, busy with her washing and in no mood for chat, had come Mrs. Clancy, who noticed after an hour or two that it had become cloudy.

Said she, "Do it rain, Mrs. McCarthy?"

"It do that, Mrs. Clancy, but not that hard I couldn't get home if I was at your house."

A Slurred Effect.

"How do you pronounce 'Les Miserables?'"

"My method is to introduce such topics at dinner and do my pronouncing when I have a mouthful of spinach. It's very helpful to the accent."

AN INSURANCE PROBLEM

It is hard to make $1.00 do the work of $5.00, yet that is just what the majority of women have to do when death removes the husband.

Suppose you are earning $2,000 per year now, but You think you cannot afford to pay for Life Insurance. You find it difficult even now to make ends meet. Should you die to-morrow, what then? Even you have, say $4,000 of Life Insurance, it would only yield $200 per year at 5%. What is that to a family used to living on a $2,000 plan? Yet that is just what they must do. Have you done your duty in that respect? Remember Life Insurance must be obtained when it does not appear necessary.

Then come and let us show you what the Sun Life Insurance Co'y. of Canada can do for you.

We also represent first-class Fire, Accident, Guarantee, Plate Glass and Live Stock Insurance Companies.
